BRANDENBURG TELEPHONE COMPANY

METROPOLITAN PAGING SERVICE

CENTRAL OFFICE SWITCHING EQUIPMENT FOR RADIO COMMON CARRIER PAGING SYSTEMS

A. GENERAL

The Brandenburg Telephone Company will make available to Radio Common Carrier Customers (Hereafter known as RCC) blocks of telephone numbers for assignment to one-way paging receivers subject to the following conditions and limitations which they (The Brandenburg Telephone Co.) or an appropriate regulatory body deem to be in the interest of the telephone using public. (N)

(1) Number assignments will be made immediately if the currently installed equipment and scheduled equipment additions are adequate to meet both basic telephone service needs and RCC needs throughout the normal provisioning intervals in the central office selected.

(2) Where currently installed and scheduled equipment is not adequate to meet both anticipated basic telephone service and RCC needs, number assignment may be temporarily delayed pending additional equipment installation.

(3) In areas where the provision of numbers requires the installation of major quantities of new equipment, it may be necessary to defer the assignment of telephone numbers beyond the normal interval described above. In all instances, the telephone company may reserve sufficient quantities of telephone numbers to assure their ability to meet all anticipated exchange telephone service demands.

(4) In the event adequate capacity is not available as described above, alternative serving arrangements from other central offices may be provided subject to agreement of all parties.

(5) In multi-central office exchanges, the telephone company reserve the right to select the particular central office building and equipment unit from which to serve a specific RCC.

(6) A block of numbers will not be reserved for an individual RCC. An individual central office code will, in most cases, be shared by an RCC with other telephone company services and/or other RCCs. (N)

(7) The provision of telephone numbers to RCC is limited to no more than two numbers per paging receiver. This limitation is necessary to preclude excessive allocations of numbers for purposes other than the establishment of a communication path between communication terminal devices and to avoid the costs associated with creation of additional numbers. (N)

(8) Due to the nature of the service it would be of no benefit to RCC or the telephone company to list RCC assign numbers in the white or yellow pages of the telephone directory. Therefore, none will be permitted.

(9) Applications for service, deposit requirement, payment of bill, credit for out of service, disconnect for non-payment shall be handled in the manner described elsewhere in these tariffs.

(10) Central office facilities and blocks of telephone numbers provided by the telephone company for RCC shall be assigned by the telephone company and may be changed to meet the reasonable operating and service requirements of the telephone company. RCC shall not acquire any proprietary interest in numbers assigned for its use. Where such changes are to be made, the telephone company shall advise RCC in writing not less than sixty days in advance and will coordinate the changes with RCC.

B. INTERCEPT AND ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF CALLS BY RCC

(1) RCC shall provide a voice intercept announcement to the calling party when a call is directed to a number that is not assigned by RCC.

(2) RCC shall provide a voice announcement or distinctive tone signals to the calling party when a call intended to activate a signal in a paging receiver has been received and accepted by RCCs terminal. (N)

(3) RCC shall return to the central office over the loop trunk an answered condition when a call intended to activate a signal in a paging receiver has been received and accepted by RCC's terminal. (N)

(4) When RCC's terminal is not able to complete calls because of a malfunction in the terminal or other equipment, RCC shall divert the call to its operator, or provide a recorded announcement to the calling party advising that the call cannot be completed.

(5) RCC shall provide supervisory tones or voice announcements to the calling party on all calls, consistent with standard telephone industry practices.

C. TROUBLE REPORTING AND TESTING PROCEDURES

(1) Subscribers of RCC shall be instructed to report all cases of trouble to the RCC. RCC shall handle the trouble reporting and advise the telephone company.

(2) When the RCC reports a trouble condition, it will first have used its best efforts to isolate the trouble to the telephone company's facilities. It will also advise the telephone company of the usage sensitivity of the circuit and the need for expedited clearance.

(3) The telephone company and RCC will make cooperative tests, as appropriate, to eliminate the necessity for either party to dispatch repair forces needlessly to distant unattended locations merely to isolate the trouble.

(4) A charge shall apply when RCC requests a service call for repairs and the telephone company's facilities are not to be causing the trouble. That charge appears in Part II, Sheet 9A of this Tariff. (N)

A. APPLICATION OF TARIFF

1. This tariff applies to custom calling services furnished by the Brandenburg Telephone Company.

B. REGULATIONS

1. Definitions

a. Custom Calling Services are optional services offered in addition to regular exchange service to those subscribers served by central offices so arranged to provide such services. The number of Custom Calling Service features available depends upon the type of exchange central office providing the service and is subject to the availability of facilities.

b. Custom Calling Services include the following:

(1) Call Forwarding

An arrangement whereby incoming calls may be transferred to another telephone number by dialing a code and the telephone number of the service to which calls are to be transferred. Calls forwarded by this feature are subject to all applicable local and long distance charges. These calls are also subject to transmission limitations.

(2) Call Waiting

A subscriber who is using an exchange line arranged for Call Waiting is alerted, by means of a tone signal, when another caller is trying to reach that line. Depressing the receiver switchhook will "hold" the first call so that the waiting call can be answered. Alternation between calls is accomplished by depressing the receiver switchhook.

A. GENERAL

The Brandenburg Telephone Company will make available to CATV Systems space on the poles of The Brandenburg Telephone Company. The CATV system shall be considered to be a customer or subscriber of The Brandenburg Telephone Company and shall be subject to other parts and sections of this Tariff. (N)

CLASS SERVICES

A. APPLICATION OF TARIFF

1. This tariff applies to "CLASS Services" furnished by the Brandenburg Telephone Company.

B. REGULATIONS

1. Definitions (N)

a. CLASS services are optional services offered in addition to regular exchange service to those subscribers served by central offices so arranged to provide such services. The number of CLASS Service features available depends upon the type of exchange central office providing the service and is subject to the availability of facilities.

b. CLASS Services include the following:

(1) Teen Service

This service allows the assignment of two separate directory numbers (one primary and one secondary) to a single-party line. Incoming calls to separate directory numbers are identified by a distinctive ringing cadence. The teen service rate includes one directory listing for the primary directory number or the secondary number. Both numbers can be listed as well with tariffed additional listing charges applying. All billing is to the primary directory number.

Custom calling services are available with teen service at applicable tariff charges. Call waiting is available to both primary and secondary directory numbers. Distinctive call waiting tones indicate which directory number is being called. Call forward, which must be activated from the primary directory number, is available in two formats: all incoming calls can be forwarded to the call forward destination or calls only to the primary directory number can be forwarded while calls to the secondary number continue to ring at the base station. The call forward format is determined by service order. (N)

b. CLASS Services include the following: (continued)

(2) Automatic Callback

This service allows the subscriber, by entering the automatic callback activation code, to re-originate a call to the last-dialed directory number without having to redial the directory number. This can be accomplished regardless of whether the call was answered, unanswered or busy. If the called directory number is busy, automatic callback continues for 30 minutes, until cancelled, or until the called number is idle. When both lines are idle, the calling party receives a special ring. When the calling party picks up, the called party's line rings. Automatic Callback can be cancelled by dialing the automatic callback deactivation code.

(3) Automatic Recall

This service allows the subscriber, by entering the automatic recall code, to recall the last incoming call. The directory number plus time and date call was received is announced to the subscriber who can then choose whether or not to continue with the service. If the last incoming number is private, the subscriber will be informed that the number is private, but can still contine with the service. This can be accomplished regardless of whether the call was answered, unanswered or busy. If the called number is busy, automatic recall continues for 30 minutes, until cancelled, or until both lines are idle. The calling party receives a distinctive ring when both lines are idle. When the calling party picks up, the called party's line rings. Automatic recall is cancelled by entering the automatic recall deactivation code. (N)

(4) Calling Number Delivery

This service identifies the 10-digit directory number of the calling party to be displayed on a telephone set or adjunct display after the first ringing cycle. The date and time of the incoming call is also displayed. For calls from a multi-line hunt group, only the main telephone number will be delivered. If the calling telephone number is not available for delivery, an indication that it is a private number will be displayed to the called party. (See note below)

(5) Dialable Number Delivery

This service displays the directory number of the calling party to the subscriber as with Calling Number Delivery, however, rather than a 10-digit directory number being displayed, only the digits necessary for the subscriber to return the call are displayed along with the date and time. (See note below)

(6) Calling Name Delivery

This service displays the directory name associated with the incoming directory number as well as the date and time on the telephone set or adjunct unit after the first ringing cycle. The first 15 characters of the directory listed name will be displayed, beginning with last name. This service is offered in conjunction with Calling Number Delivery and Dialable Number Delivery. This feature cannot be offered as a stand alone feature due to the fact that several subscribers have the same name and it would be impossible to distinguish as to which subscriber placed the call. (See note below)

(6A) Caller ID On Call Waiting (N)

This service enables a customer to see the caller id information while on an existing call. For this service to work the customer must subscribe to call waiting and Calling Number Delivery or Dialable Number Delivery or Calling Name Delivery. Also their CPE would have to be capable of receiving this information. (N)

(7) Call Block

This service allows the subscriber to program a list of up to 31 directory numbers from which calls are to be rejected. The subscriber can also enter the last incoming call into the call block list without knowing the number. Call Block is activated and deactivated by use of the appropriate access codes. Programming is accomplished through the keypad. Rejected incoming calls are routed to an announcement informing the caller that the called party does not wish to receive the call.

(8) Distinctive Ringing/Call Waiting

This service allows the subscriber to program a list of up to 31 directory numbers from which incoming calls are identified by a distinctive ringing pattern. Anonymous Caller Rejection is activated and deactivated by use of the appropriate access codes. Programming is accomplished through the keypad.

Rejected incoming calls are routed to an announcement informing the caller that the called party does not wish to receive the call. Anonymous Caller Rejection can be overridden by an operator in case of emergency.

When this feature is activated before a call, a private status message will be sent instead of the number. This service will be available without pre-subscription.

(12) Calling Number/Name Delivery Blocking-Per Line

This feature enables a customer to make all calls with the delivery of their calling number marked as "private." The feature is applicable on all outgoing calls placed from the customer's line; however, if the pre-assigned activation code for Calling I.D. Blocking-Per Call is dialed on the line, the calling number/name may be delivered.

This service is only available upon request to the following entities and their employees/volunteers, for lines over which the official business of the agency is conducted including those at the residences of employees/volunteers where the head of the agency certifies to Telephone Company management a need for blocking upon health and safety concerns: (a) Non-profit, tax exempt, private and public social welfare agencies such as domestic violence intervention agencies, (b) federal, state and local law enforcement agencies.

A. APPLICATION OF TARIFF

1. This tariff applies to Integrated Services Digital Network "ISDN Services" furnished by the Brandenburg Telephone Company. (N)

B. REGULATIONS

1. Definitions

a. ISDN services are optional services offered in addition to regular exchange service to those subscribers served by central offices so arranged to provide ISDN services. ISDN Services and features available depends upon the type of exchange central office providing the service and is subject to the availability of facilities and facilities capable of transmitting digital signals.

b. ISDN transmissions cannot be completed to central offices that are connected by trunks that are not compatible to transmitting ISDN services.

c. ISDN transmissions cannot be completed to central offices that are not equipped to provide ISDN services.

d. The Telephone Company will provide ISDN services to the Network Interface Device (NID) normally located outside of the customer premise. It is the customer's responsibility to provision the circuit from there and provide Customer Premises Equipment (CPE) that is compatible.

e. ISDN Basic Rate Interface (BRI) will be provided where local loops do not exceed 14,000 feet in length or a maximum 34db as measured at the customers premises. Where these conditions cannot be met, the customer must subscribe to Individual Line Loop Extension.

f. Individual Line Loop Extension is required when service is requested beyond the nominal ISDN BRI loop length of 18K'. B. REGULATIONS (continued)

o. Packet switching is used to establish a connection between two data devices. However, a packet switched connection is "virtual" not dedicated. Instead of establishing a dedicated connection between two devices, routing information for a packet switched call resides in the network memory. Packet Switching (the D-Channel) of data will be available only from those exchanges that are connected to a Packet Switch Network.

p. Basic Rate Interface (BRI) operates over a two-wire facility and provides two B-channels and one D-channel (2B+D) for each facility. The two 64Kb/s B-channels operate along with a single 16Kb/s D-channel and 16Kb/s of overhead for a total transmission rate of 160 Kb/s. This allows a total of up to eight devices per line. Both B-channel devices can operate simultaneously, but the six D-channel devices must share the channel on a first come, first served basis.

q. Basic Rate Interface (BRI) operates over two-wire facilities the same as existing one-party business and one-party residence lines. Therefore, a one-party business or one-party residence rate (whichever is applicable) as shown in Part III of this Tariff shall apply.
