parents. I am a single person & the only one living at my residence. I take 1 shower per day & wash 2 small loads of laundry per week. I don't plant flowers, therefore I do not water anything like that. I use minimal amounts of water (1 shower per day, 2 small loads of laundry per week & water for cooking when I am here which

It seems that after I call + complain, my bill is usually a little lower the next month or sometimes the same, then after that, they start getting higher again. Once when I was speaking with them on the phone, I told them that the more I'm not at home, the higher my bills get. And, I have done the dye testing + I have no leaks. My parents' bills are always approximately the same as mine or lower. There are 2 people in their household + she washes clothes every day.

I just find it hard to believe that 1 person living in a household + is gone most of the time, keeps getting bills that continually go up. The bill I paid in Sept. was $39.05, the bill I just received that is due Oct. 18 is $46.38. My bills should not even be $39. I really find it hard to believe that my meter is being read.

Final note - I know they have had an increase in their billing in the past, but even with that, my bill should not keep increasing + especially not get to the amount of my last bill mentioned above for someone who's hardly ever at home.

Thank You,
Wanda Sue Castle
