ORDER

On January 10, 2017, the Commission entered an Order in the instant case that, among other things, granted Evergreen Sewage Disposal, Inc.'s ("Evergreen") request to amend its request to abandon its wastewater treatment plant to a request for approval to transfer ownership of the Evergreen sewage disposal system to Farmdale Sanitation District ("Farmdale").¹ In granting the relief, the Commission found that KRS 278.020(7) requires any application for approval or authorization for a change in control to be made to the Commission, in writing, verified by oath or affirmation, and in a form containing the information required by the Commission and, further, that consideration of the request for a transfer should be held in abeyance until Evergreen filed a verification of its application into the record.²

On January 18, 2017, Evergreen filed a verification of its application for a transfer of ownership to Farmdale into the record. The Commission finds that Evergreen's application for a transfer meets the minimum filing requirements, should be considered
