Issue: Choice of Test Year

Witness: Stephen Baron

1. Provide a comparison of the number of cooling degree days during the 12 months ended August 31, 1983, with the number of cooling degree days during the 12 months ended September 30, 1983.

2. Regarding the "significant revenue effect in LG&E's favor" resulting from its choice of test year (Baron Testimony, p. 5, line 24), has any determination been made as to what portion of that revenue is due to cyclic billing and what portion is due to weather differences?

3. Has Mr. Baron made any analysis of the amount of revenue recorded for electric sales in September, 1983, that was due solely to the $39.7 million rate increase granted in March, 1983? Provide the results, if any.

4. Has Mr. Baron made any attempt to determine what amount of the electric revenue recorded in September, 1982, was associated with sales made in August, 1982? Provide the results, if any, and the same information for September and August, 1983.
