DISTRIBUTION, ESTATE AND
Marian Watson. Ernest is retired from military service and a former pilot. He also worked for Lockheed Air Craft. His wife, Marian, is a retired nurse. They spend much of their time traveling around the country. About every year or two they come to Whitesburg to visit family.

Thanks to the efforts of all the hardworking volunteers, much was accomplished on the new addition which will house our walk-in freezer and expand our thrift store space. ECCO housed two SWAP groups, one from the Green Village Church of God in Chambersburg, Penn., and the other a Presbyterian church from Louisville. With the additional space we were able to house 21 volunteers.

When I dropped by they were all in the new all-purpose room. Stephanie played the keyboard as they sang. I don't know the name of the song, but the chorus was "they will know we are Christians by our love." Just quietly listening to those young voices at the end of a busy and sometimes hectic day was like a healing balm to my spirit. Building this new room has been a bit of a challenge, but at that moment I knew it was all worthwhile.

The Eolia Park Committee met at ECCO and we were happy to have Linda Curry and our magistrate Bob Lewis to join us. The committee voted to buy a leaf blower and two swings.

Thought for the day: "Kindness is the oil that takes the friction out of life."

News from the Ovenfork Senior Citizens Center by Jewel Maggard:

"Hi, Seniors. Hope everyone had a wonderful week praising Jesus for his goodness. It's so good how the Lord blesses us each day. It is such a blessing for me to receive a hug or smile from our seniors. It is such a joy to talk to them about the Lord.

"We were all so sad to hear about Hobert Elkins. He came
