RE: Case # 2008-00199

1. Based on the billing from April and May, where the thermostat was set on the same temp (77 degrees), I would estimate the usage should be in this approx range ($70.00 to $90.00)with temps being higher in June than the previous months
2. (a) We had set the thermostat at 77 somewhere around the first of April through the time it was sold. Previously it was set at 65 through the colder months (Jan, Feb, March)
 - (b) Yes
 - (c) In speaking with one of KU's reps, I was informed that the current owners bill was similar to the previous years billing for that season (July 07). Well below the amount that my empty house was billed for (June 07).
