Dear Sir,

RECEIVED

PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

Please excuse this paper (I am penning pennies) I am over 85 years of age WW II VETERAN RETIRED FROM SENIOR MANAGEMENT OF OVER 42 YEARS I am a widower (lost MY WIFE OF 59 YEARS ^{600 B.W.})

I received S.S. I have an IRA PLAN - BEEN ON SINCE 65th BIRTHDAY
thus it is wearing I heat my home with gas however since 1980 I also use a wood burning stove to supplement, it is an fire place insert.

Now I'd like want a rate increase according to concurrent "big" need it as they can build generating plants in landown counties in Kentucky - also they need (according to them) to pay for moving a plant for the PREVA in Louisville - I can care less for an BEWA

A few ago I gave to local donations to help people and "get warm" you know I stopped it as I am getting shodder "fund" Now for the past few years I Pub
"makes us" give tax funds to help pay their gas & utilities
I have to pay a small amount for my electric meter and a small amount on my gas meter.

I am tired of being forced to pay the above.
I hope you are investigating the absurd gasoline prices
here in Louisville. HOPE FOR LOW "SICEM"

Next page please

However I remember the last 'depression' in the 20s - 30s & it was tough.

I honestly believe we are heading for another
'super depression' and I don't mean tragedy.

Food is going (a) up because rising. They know you have added to government for road construction, etc.

Ferrous & what ever M.S.D. are raising rates.
Gasoline is heading for $5.00 per gallon and more to come.

My goodness 'we' was used in few years.
It did not bring this M.S.A. down -

BUT GAS + OIL IS SURELY HITTING US^{RE} HARD!

Oh yes I am in poor health "on" 12 medications

" I have the medical insurance medication insurance and it helps I assume then well rise rates also.

I honestly believe you are a very good person and by Governor (Bob) Bluford

Thank for reading this letter.

Hope you can reply (answer)

By the way just how bad do you think this depression will be?

Very truly yours

E. Paul H. Jones
