Dated October 19, 2010

Question No. 1

Responding Witness: J. Clay Murphy

Q-1. Please provide the number of persons who are responsible for ensuring the reliable operation of the gas system of Louisville Gas and Electric Company ("LG&E").

A-1. In addition to the five employees in LG&E's Gas Supply Department, there are approximately 280 additional operating personnel (both employees and contractors) who are responsible for ensuring the reliable operation of the gas distribution system. These individuals work in the following departments: Gas Control, Gas Storage Operations, Gas Regulatory Compliance, and Gas Engineering. This response does not attempt to capture the number of all employees who, from time to time, may also perform reliability functions as part of their jobs.
