them with a safe haven. Through a statewide network of foster homes and residential centers, Sunrise offers a refuge for young people who have experienced physical, sexual or emotional abuse and neglect.

It is amazing to see the kids in our care change as we begin to meet their physical, emotional and spiritual needs. Kids must have love, stability, direction and structure to thrive, and in time we see these kids respond positively to our efforts.

Success comes when we see a child who struggled socially or academically because of the trauma endured at home, blossom into a young person full of potential. Success comes when a young child whose medical ailments caused by abuse or neglect breaking a cycle of abuse that has plagued a particular family for generations.

April is Child Abuse Prevention Month and we'd like to invite all Kentuckians to join in the effort to bring awareness to this tragedy that harms thousands of children in every part of our state. It's a great opportunity for you to partner with Sunrise or other child advocacy groups to help. You can find out more about Sunrise at www.sunrise.org, or to report child abuse, use the Kentucky Child Abuse Hotline at 1-800-752-6200.

is thrilled to be back on the KCTC stage for the first time since the 2009 production of Ursula in Bye, Bye Cytha is currently in the completion of her M.A. in Psychology and is working with Mid-Continenters.

Millizer's love for ballet began at age 5 when she witnessed her first professional performance. She landed her first role at age 15 as Juliet in Shakespeare's Romeo & Juliet. She knew it was her destiny to pursue her passion and has been performing and dedicated to the arts ever since.

Bloomington has been performing in several productions at WKCTC Fine Arts Center over the years. She was recently seen on this production as Ellie Forbush in the production of South Pacific and as Audrey in Little Women and Yume no Mikado.

By Hughes (Sister Mary Amnesia) has been performing in theaters since she was a child. She has enjoyed sharing the love of theatre with her children as a member of Market House Story Theatre. They tour our elementary schools, high school sophomores and been a member of for five years and has recently joined WKCTC's Community Chorus. This year, she is honored to be selected for the ACDA National Women's Honor Choir (Chicago) and as a finalist in The Classical Singer High School Competition (Los Angeles).

Grace Baldrige (Sister Mary Amnesia) was born on Hilton Head Island, South Carolina but was raised in Waterloo, Belgium. Grace attended St. John's International School where she participated in numerous theatre productions including Narnia, Hairspray, Grease and Godspell. In addition to theatre, Grace is an accomplished singer/songwriter and a standup comedian. She is currently a student at WKCTC and is very excited to be member of the cast of Nunsense.

Norman Wurgler (Director) is Professor of Music at

Mr. Wurgler's thirteenth main stage at the college. He is also the conductor of the College Community Chorus. Todd Birdsong, Technical Director and Designer, is the Technical Director for the Clemens Fine Arts Center and has designed countless shows at WKCTC, Market House Theatre, and Murray State University. Patt Lynch, Musical Director, taught music for 27 years in the Paducah Independent School System and is a member of the Paducah Symphony Chorus. Patt has been involved as music director at both WKCTC and Market House Theatre for many years. Phyllis Hammonds, Stage Manager, has appeared in many WKCTC produc-

of Arts degree in Studio Art and is a member of the College-Community Chorus and works in many capacities at the Clemens Fine Arts Center. Gail Robinson Butler, Producer, is the Director of the Clemens Fine Arts Center at WKCTC.

For information or to purchase tickets, visit artsinfofocus.org or call 270-534-3212. I hope to see you at the theatre!
