BEFORE THE PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION

In the Matter of:

AT&T CORP.		)
V.	COMPLAINANT	)
MOUNTAIN RU COOPERATIVI	JRAL TELEPHONE E CORP. AND THACKER- EPHONE CO., INC.	) ) )	CASE NO. 2013-00392
	DEFENDANTS	)
	ORDER

On November 25, 2013, Mountain Rural Telephone Cooperative Corp. and Thacker-Grigsby Telephone Co., Inc. (collectively "Rural Carriers"), jointly filed an Answer to the complaint of AT&T Corp. In their Answer, the Rural Carriers also filed a counterclaim against AT&T Corp. and requested that the Commission order AT&T Corp. to immediately pay all delinquent tariffed access charges.

On February 3, 2014, the Commission issued an Order rejecting the counterclaim, finding that the filing of counterclaims was not permitted in a complaint proceeding before the Commission and that neither the Commission's regulations nor statutes permit or allow such a filing. The Commission further found that if the Rural Carriers sought relief from AT&T Corp., they could bring a separate action against AT&T Corp. by filing a complaint.

On February 19, 2014, the Rural Carriers filed a motion for reconsideration of the Commission's February 3, 2014 Order rejecting the counterclaim and requested that the counterclaim be accepted for filing. Contemporaneously with filing their motion to reconsider, the Rural Carriers also filed on that date a separate complaint which contained the same allegations and claims as set forth in their counterclaim. The Rural Carriers state that the Commission has allowed counterclaims in the past and request that the Commission accept the counterclaim as a complaint against AT&T Corp., and that AT&T Corp. be ordered to satisfy or answer. In the alternative, the Rural Carriers request that, to the extent that the Commission is adopting a new interpretation of its rule with respect to counterclaims, the Commission grants Rural Carriers deviation from the new rule and allow the filing of the counterclaim as of the date it was originally filed. The Rural Carriers state that deviation is proper due to the Commission's precedent of allowing counterclaims, and that administrative efficiency is better served by the filing of a counterclaim.

The Rural Carriers state that they filed their motion to reconsider to preserve the timeliness of their claims, although they realize that their motion might be moot because they have now filed a separate complaint against AT&T Corp. The Rural Carriers request that, in lieu of granting their motion for reconsideration, the Commission accept the complaint, consolidate it with this proceeding, and deem it filed as of November 25, 2013.

The Commission acknowledges that it has in certain limited instances allowed counterclaims to be filed in complaint cases, typically when the complaint proceeding is between two utilities which are both subject to the Commission's jurisdiction and the matters complained of in the complaint and counterclaim are subject to the Commission's jurisdiction. In this proceeding, both the Rural Carriers and AT&T Corp.

are utilities as defined by KRS 278.010(3) and both are subject to the Commission's jurisdiction. Moreover, the subject matter of AT&T Corp.'s complaint and that of the Rural Carrier's counterclaim directly impact the ability of a utility to deliver telecommunications traffic to its end users. The possibility of a telecommunications utility's blocking such traffic due to unpaid bills is an issue of great importance to the Commission and the public, is a matter that is subject to the Commission's jurisdiction, and is a drastic action that should not be taken without prior notice to the Commission.<sup>1</sup>

Here, the complainant and the defendants are jurisdictional utilities, the counterclaim seeks a declaration of right to discontinue service to the complainant due to delinquent bills, and such discontinuation of service would have an adverse impact on telecommunications customers and members of the public who are not parties to this proceeding. Based on the foregoing, the Commission finds that this is a special case and good cause has been shown to grant a deviation from our regulations governing formal complaints, 807 KAR 5:001, Section 20, to allow the filing of the counterclaim tendered by the Rural Carriers. We further find that our Order of February 3, 2014, rejecting the counterclaim should be revoked, and we deem the Rural Carriers' counterclaim to be filed as of November 25, 2013, which was the date it was tendered. The Commission also finds that a procedural schedule should be established for processing this case.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that:

1. The Commission's Order of February 3, 2014, is revoked.

 to file their counterclaim, which is accepted for filing as of November 25, 2013.

3. Within ten days of the date of this Order, AT&T Corp. shall file an answer to the Rural Carriers' counterclaim as set forth in their answer.

4. The complaint tendered on February 19, 2014, by the Rural Carriers naming AT&T Corp. as a defendant is rejected as moot.
