Matter of: Supplemental Comments Re: Application of Jackson Energy,
Case No. 2013-0004

Dear Chairman Armstrong:

The Kentucky Solar Energy Society ("KySES") respectfully submits these comments to supplement those filed on or about April 21, 2013.

"Licensed" vs. "Qualified" Installer – It occurs to KySES that the phrase "qualified installer" might be better than "licensed installer" as proposed by Jackson Energy.

$50,000 Policy Limits – Insurance broker Joseph Altobellis kindly submitted comments dated April 22, 2013 at the request of KySES. In his April 23 letter, Mr. Altobellis stated that some homeowners' policies might have a policy limit of $50,000. Our members' previous conversations with Mr. Altobellis did not lead us to believe that any limits would be at $50,000, and KySES represented to the Commission that limits would not be lower than $100,000. In follow-up, Mr. Altobellis, informed the undersigned that a $50,000 policy limit might occasionally be found in rural areas with respect to modest dwellings. Such a policy would be very rare.

KySES thanks the Commission for considering these comments.
