Subject: Case # 2017-00143

We have been studying the coverage maps for Bluegrass Cellular whom is requesting this tower installation. There are no coverage gaps represented on their coverage maps in the immediate area or to the north in southern Indiana. The closest gaps are quite a few miles to the southwest along 144 and quite a few miles south along New Bethel Road. That being said, the existing tower that is on Lawrence Eskridge Road is closer to these areas and the elevation is approximately 217 feet higher. That tower is at 817 feet verses the 600 foot elevation of the proposed sight. If they were to use this proposed sight, the larger hill would be between the proposed tower location and the gaps on the coverage gaps.

Based upon the information and reasoning that we've been given for seeking a tower location, wouldn't the higher and more central location better meet their needs and prevent building another tower unnecessarily?

Thank you,

Corey M. Biddle
