ORDER

On March 8, 2023, Martin County Solar Project LLC (Martin County Solar) filed a motion requesting the Siting Board to determine if the transmission line that is planned for the project is considered an associated structure that does not require a separate application or if the Siting Board would require a separate application for a nonregulated transmission line pursuant to KRS 278.714.

The Siting Board has approved Martin County Solar's request to bifurcate the Construction Certificate, and there are now two separate projects: Martin County Solar and Martin County II Solar Project, LLC (Martin County Solar II). The two projects and the interconnection with the substation makes the consideration of whether a nonregulated transmission line application is required materially different than if there was one project. Based upon the motion, the Siting Board finds there is not sufficient information in the record of these proceedings to determine whether the transmission line would be considered an associated structure of the projects or an application for a nonregulated transmission line is necessary.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that Martin County Solar's motion to determine whether the transmission line planned for the project is an associated structure is denied.
