Comments: I have no idea how any company can justify another rate increase just after getting a 15.5% increase 2 years ago. If they can't manage their affairs any better than that then maybe they need to be investigated. And if anyone on the commission votes to approve another rate increase then they need to be investigated as well. Last rate increase they went as far as to lie and claim that our electric bills would be cheaper even though they got 15.5% increase. That was a lie. You drive up and down the road and see KY Power trucks just sitting beside the road putting time in. Maybe they should fix their own house before they come after ours. How about all of those highly over-paid executives take a huge pay cut? They certainly are not wearing the type of pay check they are getting.

Comments: Hi KY PSC, Please vote no to any rate hike. The sale with Liberty didn't go through partially because of KY PSC and FERC concerns of a potential bill increase and now AEP is requesting to increase rates. They wanted to sale KY Power for not being able to profit. The shares have a low return for investor and they feel it should be doubled. They also continue to give out money to communities and charity which is great but it at the cost to us and that is not right. If they want to donate money then build it in the budget and not ask for rate hikes. They don't invest in their infrastructure and the President and Vice Presidents in Columbus HQ give each other bonuses while the local employees are paid the minimum. AEP should be advised re-evaluate internally and make the adjustments. They talk about inflation and cost but once the increase goes through it would benefit no one but their pockets for bonuses pay to people in HQ. We already have the highest bills and with the fluctuation on fuel adjustment. This makes our bills very unpredictable. One month can be 400 next 230 then shoots back up. The AMP program they offer will vary also based on the bill so it goes up as well. For the sake of Kentuckians please vote no to the rate hike.

State the nature of your concern: AEP is asking for another rate hike!! For the love of all please no. Eastern Ky has been hit so hard with the drug epidemic, flooding, and unemployment. My 77 year old mother still works in fast food just to pay the bills One income family here and we barely make it. This company just had a rate increase and it's killing everyone slowly. Please do not allow this
Have you contacted the utility about the problem: Yes
