12. ACCURACY REQUIREMENT OF WATER METERS

(a) General. All meters used for measuring the quantity of water delivered to a Customer shall be in good mechanical condition and shall be adequate in size and design for the type of service which they measure.

(b) Repaired Meters. All meters removed from service for repairs or test in accordance with this regulation, shall be tested as specified herein prior to being placed in service.

(c) Determination of Accuracy. Meters shall be tested at the minimum test flow and at least two test flows in the normal test flow limits, one of which shall be not less than 75% of the rated maximum capacity of the meter and the other shall be at approximately 25% of the rated maximum capacity. No new meter shall be placed in service if it registers less than 95% of the water passed through it at the minimum test flow or over registers or under registers more than 1.5% in the normal test flow limits. No repaired or reconditioned meter shall be placed in service if it registers less than 80% of the water passed through it at the minimum test flow or over registers or under registers more than 1.5% in the normal test flow limits.

(d) As Found Tests. All meters tested in accordance with the rules for periodic, request or complaint tests, shall be tested in the condition as found in the Customer's service prior to any alteration or adjustment in order to determine the average meter error. This test shall consist of two rates of flow in the normal test flow range for that type of meter and the average meter error shall be the algebraic average of the errors of the two tests.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

If test results on a customer's meter show an average error greater than two percent (2%) fast or slow, or if a customer has been incorrectly billed for any other reason, except in an instance where a utility has filed a verified complaint with the appropriate law enforcement agency alleging fraud or theft by a customer, the utility shall immediately determine the period during which the error has existed, and shall recompute and adjust the customer's bill to either provide a refund to the customer or collect an additional amount of revenue from the underbilled customer. The utility shall readjust the account based upon the period during which the error is known to have existed. If the period during which the error existed cannot be determined with reasonable precision, the time period shall be estimated using such data as elapsed time since the last meter test, if applicable, and historical usage data for the customer. If that data is not available, the average usage of similar customer loads shall be used for comparison purposes in calculating the time period. If the customer and the utility are unable to agree on an estimate of the time period during which the error existed, the commission shall determine the issue. In all instances of customer overbilling, the customer's account shall be credited or the overbilled amount refunded at the discretion of the customer within thirty (30) days after final meter test results. A utility shall not require customer repayment of any underbilling to be made over a period shorter than a period coextensive with the underbilling.

At least once annually the Company will monitor the usage of each customer according to the following procedure:

1. The customer's annual usage for the most recent 12-month period will be compared with the annual usage for the 12 months immediately preceding that period.

3. If the annual usages differ by 40 percent or more and cannot be attributed to a readily identified common cause, the Company will compare the customer's monthly usage records for the 12-month period with the monthly usage for the same months of the preceding year.
4. If the cause for the usage deviation cannot be determined from analysis of the customer's meter reading and billing records, the Company will contact the customer by telephone or in writing to determine whether there have been changes such as different number of household members or work staff, additional or different appliances, changes in business volume, or known leaks in the customer's service line.
5. Where the deviation is not otherwise explained, the Company will test the customer's meter to determine whether it shows an average error greater than 2 percent fast or slow.
6. The Company will notify the customers of the investigation, its findings, and any refunds or backbilling in accordance with 807 KAR 5:006, Section 10 (4) and (5).

completion date of the water distribution main extension. The written agreement shall provide that the applicant shall have the right to rescind the written agreement at his or her option, if the projected final cost of the extension exceeds the preliminary estimate provided at the time of the written agreement's execution.

(c) Upon determining the final cost of the extension, the Association shall advise in writing each person who has executed a written agreement of his or her required contribution. This customer shall have thirty (30) days from the date of the notice to pay his or her contribution and tap-on fee. If any applicant who has executed a written agreement regarding the main extension elects to rescind his or her agreement or otherwise fails to comply with the terms of the written agreement, the Association may cease all extension efforts and terminate the proposed extension. In such event the Association shall refund all amounts collected from applicants for the proposed extension. Except as provided in Paragraph 3e of this Section, no required contribution is refundable unless Garrard County Water Association elects not to construct the proposed water distribution main extension.

(d) The required customer contribution of initial applicants shall be calculated as follows:

I. The cost of the proposed extension(s) shall be the estimated cost minus any local or state grant funds that may be acquired to lessen the cost of the extension(s).

- II. The total cost of the proposed extension(s) is then divided by the estimated number of feet of pipeline giving a cost per foot of the extension(s).
  - III. The cost per foot is then multiplied by fifty (50) feet to establish the company's required contribution per prospective customer to the extension(s). The company's required contribution is then multiplied by the estimated number of initial applicants to establish the total required company contribution.
  - IV. The total required company contribution is subtracted from the estimated extension(s) cost to establish the balance of costs to be financed.
  - V. The balance of costs to be financed is then divided by the number of estimated initial customers to establish the required customer contribution.
  - VI. If the required customer contribution exceeds $1,250.00 but is less than or equal to $4,000.00, then the company will assume the portion of required customer contribution that exceeds $1,250.00 as a voluntary contribution. If the required customer contribution exceeds $4,000.00 the company will assume $2,750.00 only and the prospective customer given the option of paying the excess over $4,000.00 or abandoning the proposed extension(s).

initial applicant's contribution. After the total amount of these subsequent customer contributions equals the total amount of the "voluntary contribution" that the company assumed at the time of the water main's construction, all subsequent customer contributions shall be refunded on a proportionate basis to each person who previously contributed to the cost of the water distribution main's construction. In no event will the company's contribution exceed $2,750.00 unless infrastructure improvements are desired by the Company along with the extension.

(f) In addition to payment of a required contribution, any person connecting to a water distribution main shall pay other required charges and fees, to include a tap fee.

(g) If Garrard County Water Association determines that a larger size line is needed for future growth or infrastructure improvements, the company will pay the difference between the cost for the line to service the extension and the larger size line needed for general system improvements.

4. Nothing contained herein shall be construed to prohibit the utility from making extension under different arrangements if such arrangements have received the prior approval of the Public Service Commission.
