RULES AND REGULATIONS

(g) Water Shortage Response Phases:

"Advisory" shall mean that conditions exist which indicate the potential for serious raw or treated water supply shortages.

"Alert" shall mean the raw or treated water supplies are consistently below seasonal averages, and if they continue to decline, may not be adequate to meet normal needs.

"Emergency" shall mean that raw or treated water supplies are below the level necessary to meet normal needs and that serious shortages exist in the area.

(h) "Rationing" shall mean that procedures must be established to provide for the equitable distribution of critically-limited raw or treated water supplies, in order to balance demand and limited available supply and to assure that sufficient water is available to preserve public health and safety.

Section 3. Applicability. The provisions of this plan shall apply to all retail and wholesale customers of the Farmdale Water District. When implemented, this plan becomes Farmdale Water District's Water Shortage Response Regulation.

Section 4. Entitlements. Entitlements shall be established for each customer by adjusting the base entitlement to reflect any known change in usage pattern

Section 5. Determination of Water Shortage. Water supply and usage shall be monitored on a continuous basis. Demand shall be projected from past records and adjusted for changes in new developments and weather conditions on a regular basis. (Note: a sample calculated page is attached as Appendix A to assist in determining average water levels. It is important that accurate water measurements be used.) Water shortages generally occur for two reasons, a reduction in available supplies, or a system failure. Each of these has a distinct influence on the nature and duration of the conservation program implemented. Official declaration of a water shortage stage and implementation of the measures necessary to curtail water use shall be approved by the Commissioners.
