Louisville Gas and Electric Company and Kentucky Utilities owned by Eon, a German company, versus the hard-working small farm and landowners in the counties of Jefferson, Bullitt, Meade, and Hardin Counties. Reference Public Service Commission Case Numbers 2005-00467 and 2005-00472.

I hope the Kentucky Public Service Commission and elected officials I have copied will take note of what is happening in these cases and watch these cases very closely. Consider the landowners, the beauty of the land of Kentucky, and the de-valuing of Kentucky property by this German own company. Please do not be a puppet for big business and instead defend your constituents.

This company has taken less than three months to consider the Commissions requests in the case 2005-00142 and is attempting to refile what appears to be the same case, or in the case of 2005-00472 some minor changes. The company appears to be hoping that the concerned individuals in the affected area will grow weary or run out of financial means to fight it, and you will rubber-stamp their request. Will you consider not letting this farce continue.

Even though I live outside of the great state of Kentucky, I have a emotional attachment to Kentucky. Is there anyway that I can be informed of the activity in these two cases and any other cases that might be filed by Louisville Gas and Electric Company and Kentucky Utilities in relation to the construction of transmissions facilities in these counties, but specifically in Hardin County.

Also, if there is any suggestion you can give the small farm and landowners to how to fight a multimillion dollar company without losing what they have worked so hard to get, please let me know.
