RE: Joint Application of Kentucky Power Company and Kentucky Association for Community Action, Inc. for the Establishment of a Home Energy Assistance Program
Case No. 2006-00373

Dear Ms. O'Donnell:

I am writing on behalf of the joint applicant, Kentucky Association for Community Action, Inc. ("KACA"), which I represent in this matter. On or about October 19, 2006, the Attorney General served on KACA's joint applicant, Kentucky Power Company, data requests. The first data request was for information related to the rationale for permitting KP customers who do not use electricity for their primary heat source, to be eligible for the assistance program.

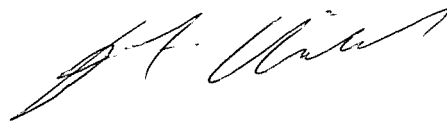

Even though the data request was not directed to my client, I would like to offer the following supplemental information in response to that data request, on behalf of KACA. Many customers of KP use bulk fuel sources or natural gas obtained from municipalities or other suppliers as their primary heating source. Bulk fuel includes coal, wood, and fuel oil. The cost of these bulk fuel sources, as well as the cost of natural gas, have increased dramatically in recent years; however, there is no heating assistance program that provides assistance to customers using these sources for primary heat. Some LIHEAP funds are available for these customers, but no utility sponsored program is in effect for these bulk fuels. Likewise, no utility sponsored program is available through the numerous suppliers of natural gas, other than Columbia Gas. However, very few KP customers are also customers of Columbia Gas.

Because these customers do not have access to a heating assistance program other than the KP program, it is reasonable to expend a portion of the assistance funds available to assist these customers with their electric bills. Keeping the lights and refrigerator on is nearly as important as keeping the heat on. KACA strongly supports allocating a portion of the KP heating assistance funds to those customers who do not use electricity as their primary heating source. If
