RE: Kirby property and proposed transmission line

As you consider the construction of this transmission line, I would like you to keep in mind one prominent thought: Plan the line as if you owned all the property and were not part of Eastern Kentucky Power Company.

If you kept that thought in your mind you would:

(a).not cause a devaluation of property that is quite apparent as being desirable land for future development for the city of Lancaster.

(b). have feelings for property held in high esteem by landowners for three generations.

(c). seek to place transmission lines along property lines, realizing that increased costs will be easily covered in the 50 years (or more) that the line will be in service.

(d). want to have positive relations with persons concerned with the project

If you think as yourself as being the property owner, I think you will have the right attitude and make the right decisions regarding the placement of this transmission line.
