On relying on LFUCG
12/22/07

To the PSC:

Concerning the KY AM pipeline proposal and treatment facility, one obvious is more clear now than ever. The plans to cover the truth of plans for this proposal during Lexington's battle for local ownership of the water company was ongoing.
A reward for the leader of the support for KY AM, Warren Rogers, obviously is the winner of this contract for the construction.
The support of political leaders within Lexington's Urban County Government is obvious as well, from the mayor to a substantial number of council members whose ability to ask questions, or the right questions, is apparent, too. Much worse, a number of them are coached to act and say what special interest instuct.
The overwhelming majority within LFUCG have shown mostly no courage during the attempt to educate the public, thus have failed their constituency miserably.
This means the welfare of the public, that is ratepayers, within Fayette County, as well as central Kentucky, is not to be trusted in the hands of Lexington's Mayor or Council unless there is an amazing change in honesty and attitude to reflect a serious and open concern for our welfare.
No more behind closed doors pressure and manipulation of decision making for the benefit of KY AM. Openness and debate with access to truth will benefit us all and our citizens.
I am a ratepayer, citizen and conscientious activist in this community and am disgusted at the lack of honesty and integrity at this level.
Sincerely,
don pratt, Lexington, KY
