Dear Public Service Commission:

In deliberating whether Kentucky American Water Company should be granted the authority to build a new treatment plant and pipeline (Case No. 2007-00134), the PSC should consider whether giving virtual control of central Kentucky's water supply to a foreign-owned company about to be sold on the New York Stock Exchange is in the best interests of the people of Kentucky.

I submit that, given Kentucky American Water's track record and that of its parent company, American Water Works, it is foolhardy to divest the Commonwealth of its control of the Kentucky River.

Please, keep ownership of our water in the hands of Kentuckians!

Yours truly,

Lesley Great House
