COMMENTS: Public Service Commission:

I strongly encourage you to do what is best for the Citizens of Central Ky. yes, I oppose Kentucky America's plan to install a pipeline through the Elkhorn Valley and Ironworks Pike because of negative impacts. One being that it runs through a portion of my front yard. But, more importantly, I support, and hope you will too, the proposal from Louisville, why? Because this summer's drought has revealed the consequences of severe shortages in rainfall. If in the future droughts get worse, which climatologists believe they will, we will need access to the most abundant water source.
The Ohio river is obviously that source.
If a water line is to be installed, it behooves us to connect it to the most abundant source, the Ohio river. I have worked in soil and water at the University of Kentucky for an extensive period of time. This doesn't make me an expert in the area of water, but has educated me to the importance of the source of water. A connection to the Ohio river could cost us a little more in the long run, but we would be prepared for the possible worst conditions.
Thank you for considering my input.
