Lovan took over as President and C.E.O. of NKWD in 2001, making him the head of the largest water district in the state of Kentucky.

The district serves approximately 80,000 customer accounts in Campbell and Kenton Counties, portions of Boone, Grant and Pendleton Counties, and the Greater Cincinnati Northern Kentucky International Airport.

A Kentucky native, Lovan earned both a Bachelor of Science and Master of Science in Civil Engineering from the University of Kentucky. He began his career with the Kentucky Water Pollution Control Commission in the 1970s.

He worked previously with the National Clay Pipe Institute and worked in the consulting engineering business in Lexington. Prior to taking charge at NKWD, he spent 15 years as General Manager of a water/wastewater utility serving Thornton, Colorado, a large suburb of Denver.

Ghost hunter Patti Starr visits library

Do the lights in your house dim for no reason? Are there unexplained cloudy circles, also known as ghost orbs, in your photos?

If so, then you may be in the presence of a ghost according to Patti Starr, certified ghost hunter.

Learn more about the supernatural and hear about some of Starr's ghost hunting experiences at a free program on Thursday, June 14, at 7 p.m.

The program takes place at the Kenton County Public Library's William E. Durr Branch Library, located at 1992 Walton-Nicholson Road near Independence.

In her previous presentation at the library, Starr stated that while on a hunt things can appear spooky, it's after the hunt when the real ghosts appear.

In her hunts, Starr uses laser pointers, cameras, recorders and dowsing rods. She said that often when she goes back to listen to the audio of her hunt, she will hear something unusual on the tape.

Regardless of your beliefs in the supernatural, Starr offers a very intriguing look into the paranormal.

NFL Alumni golf classic planned

The Inaugural Founder's Cup NFL Alumni Charity Golf Classic to be held in Cincinnati will benefit First Step Home, which provides residential substance abuse treatment for women and their children, on Aug. 19-20 at the Western Hills Country Club.

Cincinnati Bengals Alumni Jim Breech will serve as the honorary chair for the golf classic, which is part of the NFL Alumni Charity Golf Tour, the largest series of charity amateur golf tournaments on the circuit with a national championship.

The prestigious national tournament is played from January to November every year, in more than 25 major markets, with the Super Bowl of Golf in a sunbelt resort the following spring.

The two-day NFL Alumni

Charity Golf Classic features an 18-hole scramble tournament on Aug. 20, beginning at 11 a.m. with registration and lunch followed by a shot-gun start at 12:30 p.m.

The pairings dinner will be held on Sunday, Aug. 19, 6-10 p.m., when foursomes find out the NFL alumni who will play with the group. All golfers will play on teams captained by the legends of professional football - committed players include Jim Breech and Anthony Munoz.

"This prestigious event is one of few sanctioned by the NFL Alumni, and we are thrilled that Cincinnati has been selected to host the annual charity golf classic tournament. After being involved with First Step Home for many years, I'm especially pleased that the charity golf event will help raise funds to support women and their children in treatment," said Jim Breech, former Cincinnati Bengals kicker and honorary chair of the event.

Inaugural Founder's Cup NFL Alumni Charity Golf Classic volunteer committee chair is Derrick Stevens, a resident of Covington. Committee members include Maureen Heekin, Hyde Park; Anna McCord, Northern Kentucky; Stacy Cole, Norwood; Stacy Sims, downtown; Roger Baldwin, Montgomery; and Marcia Yager, Kenwood.

"The involvement of the NFL Alumni will help raise awareness for First Step Home and increase the fundraising potential of our annual golf outing. We greatly appreciate this new partnership and look forward to working together to help women and their children receive treatment in our community," said Margo Spence, executive director of First Step Home.

Event sponsorships are still available. The two-day event includes the pairings dinner, 18-holes of golf with NFL alumni, raffle prizes and an awards ceremony. The cost is $250 for individual golfers and $1,500 for foursomes. For more information about sponsorships or to register, call Terry Schoenling at First Step Home at 513-961-4663 or register online at www.firststephome.org.

State offers tips on home improvements

Avoid unlicensed contractors

With summer home-improvement projects now under way, the state Office of Housing, Buildings and Construction urges Kentuckians to be wary when hiring contractors.

Anyone performing any plumbing, electric or heating, ventilation and air-conditioning (HVAC) services must be licensed by the state.

"Each certification requires documentation showing how long the license holder has spent in the trade and confirming that the contractor has passed the state examination," said Van Cook, executive director of OHBC.

Always ask to see a contractor's license, Cook said.

Once you have established that the contractor is licensed, the OHBC strongly recommends preparing a contract outlining the work to be done.

Here are other tips for home renovations:

• Ask to see a license card, which shows the expiration date.

• Make sure the contractor and any subcontractors have workers' compensation coverage. This would pay for medical and rehabilitation expenses and lost wages if a worker gets injured on the job. If the contractor does not have proper insurance, the injured worker might sue the homeowner. Also be sure the contractor has general liability coverage.

• Refuse an offer by contractors to have an unlicensed technician "file for the permit" it's against the law.

• Check the state Web site - www.ohbc.ky.gov - to verify licensed technicians.

The Office of Housing, Buildings and Construction is part of the Department of Public Protection in the Environmental and Public Protection Cabinet.
