REQUESTS FOR INFORMATION

Request No. 9

In its response to Request No. 3 of Sprint's First Requests for Information to Brandenburg Telephone Company, dated August 8, 2008, Brandenburg described the process it uses to jurisdictionalize traffic exchanged with other telecommunications carriers. Brandenburg Telephone states, "The CABS system utilized jurisdiction indicators in the LSSGR AMA records and checks them against the Terminating Point Master database ("TPM") to jurisdictionalize and rate the traffic." Please provide the field name and description for each of the specific "jurisdiction indicators" being referenced. Also describe the specific data retrieved from the TPM database and how it is utilized in the jurisdiction determination process.

Request No. 10

Please indicate if Brandenburg Telephone utilizes either the Jurisdiction Information Parameter (JIP) or Originating Local Routing Number (LRN) field in the process it uses to jurisdictionalize traffic exchanged with other telecommunications carriers as described in its response to Request No. 3 of Sprint's First Requests for Information to Brandenburg Telephone Company, dated August 8, 2008.

Request No. 11

Please indicate the correct jurisdictional category, either Interstate or Intrastate, under applicable federal laws and/or regulations for the following call scenario, as well as the jurisdictional category that would be assigned to the call by Brandenburg's process to jurisdictionalize traffic exchanged with other telecommunications carriers described in its response to Request No. 3 of Sprint's First Requests for Information to Brandenburg Telephone Company, dated August 8, 2008:

A CMRS subscriber with a handset that is assigned a Kentucky telephone number assigned in the Brandenburg service area places a call to a Kentucky destination with a Kentucky telephone number assigned in the Brandenburg service area while he/she is traveling outside of Kentucky.

Request No. 12

With regard to Request No. 11 above, please admit or deny that the call described is an interstate call?

Request No. 13

For the purpose of responding to this request, please consider the following scenario:

A Sprint CMRS subscriber who lives within the Brandenburg Telephone service territory, and has a wireless handset that is assigned a Kentucky telephone number with an NPA of 270 (the same as wireline numbers for the Brandenburg exchange), travels from the Brandenburg service territory to New York state. The CMRS subscriber call back to a landline customer located within the Brandenburg exchange with a landline telephone number with an NPA of 270.

- a. Is the call described an interstate call or an intrastate call?
- b. Under such circumstances, what jurisdiction (interstate or intrastate) would Brandenburg's process to jurisdictionalize traffic exchanged with other telecommunications carriers, described in its response to Request No. 3 of Sprint's First Requests for Information to Brandenburg Telephone Company, dated August 8, 2008, apply to that call?
- c. Upon what specific criteria would this determination be made?
- d. How would Sprint be billed for that call?
- e. Where does the call enter and leave the Sprint network?

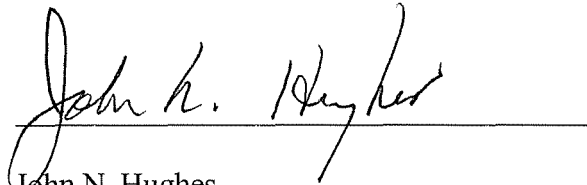

Request No. 14

Please provide a monthly historical analysis for the years 2005, 2006, 2007 and 2008 that identifies: 1) the percentage of the Brandenburg's minutes of use / traffic that are jurisdictionalized based on information retrieved from the TPM database as described in Brandenburg's response to Request No. 3 of Sprint's First Requests for Information to Brandenburg Telephone Company, dated August 8, 2008; and 2) the percentage of Brandenburg's minutes of use / traffic that are jurisdictionalized based on Percent of Interstate Usage (PIU) factors.

Request No. 15

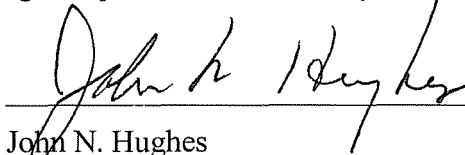

For the years 2005, 2006, 2007, and 2008, please provide all documents that support Brandenburg's unsupported claims that the quarterly PIU factors submitted by Sprint are invalid.
