Case: Proposition of raising electric bills

COMMENTS: What on earth is AEP thinking!
People are struggling to pay the exhor-biting bills they are already receiving. Not to mention the elderly on a fixed income.
I guess the greedy big companies keep on gouging until they're blue.

Someone needs to call a halt to the inflated prices large companies are charging for their services. A monopoly has people over a barrel as it is. Credit Card companies + large car manufacturers are being slowly but surely reigned into reality. Why give a co. with the monopoly free reign to charge people who've never inflated prices they want because people have no choice or alternatives. What's the point of having them service of if we are afraid to turn on a light?
No more raises on prices that are already outlandish!
