In Re: 35% increase

To whom it may concern:

We've recently learned of your proposal to increase the electric rates by 35%. THIS IS PREPOSTEROUS!!

Who do you think has received a 35% pay or social security increase?

Young couples who are just trying to start a household surely can't afford the proposed increase. Just look at our current economy. AND senior citizens didn't even receive a cost of living increase this year. Do you REALLY think that people on fixed incomes can afford this?

I don't know how long it's been since you've received any increase BUT I do propose that you lower this amount significantly for the general public and not increase the senior population at all until they too have received some kind of extra compensations from social security.

Sincerely,
