1 alto menters

$50,000

This money is used to reimburse the cooperatives expenditures for energy efficiency programs, which includes the Touchstone Energy home program, the dual fuel incentive and the water heater exchange program. Kenergy is the only cooperative still active in the program and the money could be saved if Kenergy were to stop their programs.

Potential deferment

EAC 104 – Advertising / promotion expenses for distribution cooperatives - $126,000

This expenditure is used to reimburse cooperatives for advertising and promotion not related to energy efficiency or safety. Primarily image and community event advertising in the cooperatives service territories. Each cooperative has submitted a plan which details where this money will be spent throughout the year. In some cases commitments have been made which must be kept.

Potential deferment $75,000

EAC 105 - Public education and promotion - $87,900 Source 44, 500

This includes BREC promotional activities in the community through sporting events, newspaper in schools program, scholarships at cooperative annual meeting, logo items on clothing and documents promoting BREC. Spending in this area can be reduced dramatically this year.

Potential deferment

EAC 106 - Energy efficiency - $1,367,000

This EAC was expanded this year by $950,000 in anticipation of the comprehensive planning process beginning March 19th. Expenditures include energy efficiency advertising, energy efficiency expos and advertising campaign development.
