Joe, Kristin, and Shannon:

On February 17, 2012, Sierra Club filed a motion to compel disclosure. On February 22, 2012, Kentucky Power Company filed its response to the Sierra Club's motion to compel.

On February 24, 2012, Sierra Club filed a motion for an extension of time to file direct testimony, and on February 29, 2012, Kentucky Power Company filed its response to that motion. The February 24 motion and the February 29 response discussed the various communications between Sierra Club and Kentucky Power with regards to data sought to be compelled. Kentucky Power then filed a supplemental data response, and the Sierra Club filed its direct testimony on March 12, 2012.

Based on a review of these documents, it is unclear whether any portion of the Sierra Club's motion to compel has not been satisfied by Kentucky Power's responses. Please respond to this e-mail by the end of today by stating whether the Sierra Club believes: 1) its motion to compel has been satisfied; or 2) additional data is due from Kentucky Power and, if so, what specific data is due. If your motion has not been satisfied, Staff will convene an informal conference here on Friday at 11:00 a.m. to discuss this issue in more detail.

When responding to this e-mail, please include all other parties in your reply.

Thank you.
