CASE NO. 2013-00199

---

NOTICE OF INADVERTENT FILING

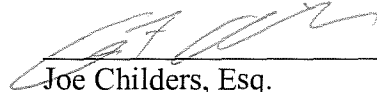

---

Intervenors Ben Taylor and Sierra Club (collectively “Environmental Intervenors”) hereby give notice to the Commission and the other parties that in their “Ben Taylor and Sierra Club’s Responses and Objections to Big Rivers Electric Corporation’s Request for Information (Public Version),” filed with the Commission on November 22, 2013, they inadvertently attached to their response to information request number 9 approximately 46 pages of electronic mail communications among counsel for the Environmental Intervenors, counsel for the Attorney General, and counsel for Intervenor Kentucky Industrial Utility Customers. These communications were divulged by the Environmental Intervenors without first making their fellow Intervenors aware that the communications would be filed in the public record and served to counsel for Big Rivers Electric Corporation, and therefore the disclosure of the electronic mail communications was inadvertent.

In addition, the Environmental Intervenors are concerned that the electronic mail communications which were disclosed in response to request number 9 may also be protected from such disclosure by Kentucky Rule of Evidence 503(b)(3), which makes certain communications “concerning a matter of common interest” protected by the attorney-client privilege. The communications among counsel for the Intervenors which were disclosed may be held to concern a matter of common interest. However, because the disclosure was made in the public record, and further because no matters of a substantive nature were disclosed in the electronic mail communications, the Environmental Intervenors do not now seek to withdraw the disclosure of the electronic mail communications.

Respectfully submitted,

Joe Childers, Esq.
