LOUISVILLE GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY’S RESPONSE TO COMPLAINANT’S MOTION TO STAY

Louisville Gas and Electric Company (“LG&E”), by counsel, states as follows for its Response to Complainant’s December 7, 2023 “Notice – Motion to Stay”:

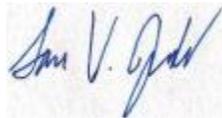

LG&E was never officially made a party to this case because the Public Service Commission (“Commission”) dismissed the Complaint with prejudice on December 1, 2023 for failure to state a prima facie case. Given that the dispute was no longer pending at the Commission after issuance of that final order, LG&E removed the “lock” that had been placed on Complainant’s account during the pendency of her billing dispute, and her account was disconnected for nonpayment on December 18, 2023.

LG&E was not aware of Complainant’s December 7 filing until an LG&E representative received Complainant’s December 18, 2023 email to the Commission regarding an alleged wrongful disconnection, which prompted LG&E to review the docket sheet for the closed case. In her December 7 filing, Complainant indicated that she intends to file an appeal of the Commission's December 1 Order. LG&E has reviewed the Franklin Circuit Court docket and has found no record that Complainant has effectuated any such appeal. As a courtesy, however, LG&E reconnected Complainant's service on December 18 because she has stated that she will appeal the December 1 Order and because her time to file that appeal has not yet expired.
