[REDACTED], this is the response I received from the legal firm of the folks putting up the tower in front of my father-in-law's home. I have voiced my opinion and made calls and emails with pictures to the firm. I guess it doesn't matter. They are going to do what they want to do regardless of what people think? They could easily move the tower a little to the West and it would be out our view from the side porch. But I guess they don't care.

Do you know the engineers name. Matt I think. He gave me his card. Do you have his number?

Good afternoon,

I just wanted to touch base and let you know we received your telephone call and email with pictures. We understand this will change your view. I wanted to communicate that our client is moving forward with the request as filed.

Thank you,

Elizabeth

Elizabeth, Here are some pictures that show how we will be looking directly at the tower when we are on our side porch where we hang out at gatherings. If the tower was moved to the west we would not see it. Of course, we would see it anywhere else around the property. Thank you.

Good afternoon,

When we spoke previously, the application had not been filed, which I know PSC shared with you when you called them. The application has been placed on file, last week. At this point, yes you would need to contact PSC with your concerns. I know it is a change in the view, but it will be visible from any location on the parcel.

Thank you,

Elizabeth

Elizabeth, there were several trucks out at the property today. They said they were just looking and nothing had been approved as of yet. Will we be given opportunity to make our concerns known before approval? Or do we have to be pro active with the PSC in KY? I talked to Matt Bates if you know him.

I see where they have staked it out. I know exactly where it is going. The problem is we will be looking right at it when on the side porch. I think there is a better place on Perry's place behind his rentals.

Hello Richard,

Thank you for your text. I have attached the site plans for the proposed tower. You will notice that the tower is set back substantially from KY 339. It is more than 700 feet from your father-in-law's home.

Please call if you have other questions.

Thank you,

Elizabeth
