Ref: Case #97-253

This pertains to a facility for a monopole tower that will be 130 feet high. While this building is going to be constructed on commercial property, it is less than 20 to 30 yards from a very old residential section of Lexington, Kentucky.

As an investor of residential property, I own over 12 dwellings in this location. Also, I have talked to neighbors that own their own property, and they are very disappointed in this type of structure being built. It will be unsightly, and decrease the value of their property. Who wants to look out their window to see such a structure in very close proximity to their property?

There are several other locations in Lexington that could accommodate such a facility, yet not be as offensive. As owner of properties located on Waller Avenue with addresses of 221, 219, 217, 201, and 147, and 111 University Avenue, and on State Street 221, 209, 220, and 204, I strongly object to this tower being built.

Sincerely,

Ben C. Kaufmann, CLU, CFP, ChFC, CIC

IN RE: Public Notice/Public Service Commission of KY
Case No. 97-253

Dear Gentilepersons:

Please be advised that I represent Caroline B. Meier, the owner of property located at 1047 Crescent Avenue, Lexington, Kentucky 40503.

The real estate of my client is being adversely affected by the application of Kentucky CGSA, Inc. It is clear that this company is attempting to put up a cellular tower in an economically disadvantaged area. This will only further degenerate the real estate values of the real estate properties in that area, in fact, it is tantamount to an adverse taking the property for which compensation should be paid.

My client objects to the application of Kentucky CGSA, Inc. and employs the Public Service Commission of KY to deny the application.

Sincerely yours,

KURT J. MEIER
