Re: Atmos Energy Corporation
Case No. 2013-00148

Dear Mr. Derouen:

Atmos Energy Corporation submits the affidavits of publication and tear sheets for the publication of the hearing notices. The Russellville News Democrat did not publish on the requested date. It has stated it will publish on Friday, November 29. The Danville Advocate Messenger has yet to provide the tear sheet or affidavit, but confirmed it has been published. The Greensburg Herald has published but does not send tear sheets or affidavits except on the first of each month. Attached is the correspondence from Atmos to the various newspapers attempting to obtain timely publication and verification.

I certify that the electronic documents are true and correct copies of the original documents to be filed.

If you have any questions about this filing, please contact me.

General Help Wanted 225

Put Your Freezer to Work
 Whether you have a stand-alone unit or yours is part of your refrigerator, your freezer is either costing a lot in wasted energy or is saving you a bundle in food costs. It has a lot to do with the style of freezer you have, the way you stock it and how you maintain it.

General Help Wanted 225

Use a thermometer. Get a refrigerator/freezer thermometer to check the temperature. The closer to 0 F, the better. Food kept at 0 F will last months longer than say 20 or 31 F.

General Help Wanted 225

Remove the air. Trapped air causes freezer burn. Make sure you select a container small enough so the contents fill it. You can remove a great deal of the air from a freezer bag without a fancy vacuum sealing machine. Seal all but enough space to slip in a drinking straw. Now inhale on that straw to pull all the air out of the bag. Quickly zip the last bit and pop it into the freezer.

General Help Wanted 225

Opt for a chest style freezer. If you're in the market for a freezer, opt for a chest type freezer with a manual defrost. Unlike an upright model where the contents get hit with a blast of warm air every time you open it, a chest freezer, because of its design, keeps the cold in when opened. Remember science class? Heat rises, but cold falls. Defrost it once a year when you clean it out and you'll be good to go. A chest style freezer would be an excellent investment for anyone looking to keep the cost of food at a minimum.

General Help Wanted 225

Fill 'er up. It takes a lot more electricity to keep an empty freezer at 0 F than a full one. So pack it as tightly as you can. If you don't have enough food to do that, fill empty milk cartons with water and freeze them. The square shape is better than round jugs because you can stack them like bricks. Bonus: You'll have plenty of fresh water in the event of a power outage.

General Help Wanted 225

Inventory. The worst thing for your electricity bill is to keep opening the freezer, especially if you have an upright model that allows the entire contents to get hit with a blast of warm air every time you open it. Post an inventory list on the door. As you use something, mark it off. Now you can "shop" the list, not stand there with the door open.

General Help Wanted 225

Cook for a day, eat for a month. It's an intense proposition, but if you are willing to work very hard just one day each month, you can make all of your dinner meals for an entire month -- and freeze them. Before you dismiss this as impossible, take a look at the method, recipes and instructions in Once-A-Month Cooking: A Proven System for Spending Less Time in the Kitchen and Enjoying Delicious, Homemade Meals Every Day, by Mary Beth Lagerborg and Mimi Wilson. They invented this process and coined the term more than 25 years ago. It's as terrific today as it was then, but now with so many more recipes, options and instructions.

ANNIE'S MAILBOX®

Dear Annie: I have been married for more than 20 years and have never been sexually attracted to my husband. He is a good provider, but there is no passion, no excitement, nothing. I have tried everything I can think of to make sex better, but he acts as if it's part of my wifely duties, which makes me sick.

I don't want to break up our home, but I'm in love with a passionate man who just rocks my world. He kisses me, and I forget my name. Our affair has lasted four years. Why can't I keep them both? -- Torn in Tulsa

Dear Torn: It seems you've been doing exactly that for four years, but obviously, it's not enough. Please stop living a dual life and figure out what you want. If there are young children, you owe it to them to work on your marriage. Get into joint counseling so your husband can work on his Neanderthal attitude toward women and so you can see whether passion can be ignited. If you believe sex is the most important aspect of a marriage, divorce your husband so you can be with Rocks Your World. But having it both ways isn't working, and you'll feel better when you deal with this more honestly.

Note: Bigar's Stars is based on the degree of your sun at birth. The sign name is simply a label astrologers put on a set of degrees for convenience. For best results, readers should refer to the dates following each sign.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY for Wednesday, Nov. 13, 2013:

This year you enter a new phase where you start feeling more and more upbeat. You might need to clear out or distance yourself from an overassertive relative or friend. You will feel much more optimistic and willing to open up as a result. Travel and/or meeting a foreigner will expand your mental awareness. If you are single, you could be dating Mr. or Ms. Right at the present time ... or very soon. If you are attached, make vacation plans that take you off the beaten path. ARIES can push your buttons.

up!
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

* Deal with a problem directly, which might involve dealing with an individual directly. Know the difference between assertiveness and aggressiveness. Veer toward the former. Tonight: Make it a cozy duo, even if it is just you hanging out with your best friend.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22)
 Others seem to keep coming to you with requests. The problem lies in that so many ask so much of you. Before you know it, you could become angry. Say "no" more often. Only you can balance your demands. Tonight: Accept an offer that might have you out on the town.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21)

 Pace yourself, and know when enough is enough. Yes, you have a lot of energy, a strong will and much endurance. In a sense, you are unstoppable when you decide to accomplish a goal or do something important for you. You refuse to see obstacles. Tonight: Be lazy.
