Lebron James taking his talents to???

LOS ANGELES-Four vears after LeBron James sat in a director's chair across from Jim Gray and picked the Miami Heat as a nation held its breath/ stuck a finger down its throat, get ready for "The Decision: 2014!

James presumably wou't announce his in-tended destination on ESPN this time, having experienced roughly as many regrets about that as snubbed Cleveland Cavaliers owner Dan Gilbert did over his win-one-before-LeBron title guarane. In an ironic twist, Gilbert and James could team op again after James' agent informed the Heat Tuesday that his client would exercise the early termination option on his contract, making him an unrestricted free agent July I.

The Cavaliers are among a handful of teams that could potentially woo James away from Miami. though ultimately this may be much ado about bloffing. James won two championships and went to the Finals in each of his first four seasons with the Heat. That's going to be hard to top. Sure. Miami was overmatched during a five-game Finals beatdown by the San Antonio Spurs, the San Antonio Spirs, but James opting out and returning for less money could enable Heat Presi-dent Pat Riley to make the kind of shrewd moves it will take to make it rain confetti once again inside AmericanAirlines Arena.

Here's a look at Tames best options, followed by a predicted winner in what figures to be a whirlwind

I. Simply stay put The Heat is the only team that can offer a maximum fiveyear, $1277-million con-tract, but this was never about the money. James might be smartest if he convinces Dwyane Wade and Chris Bosh to also opt out and return on contracts paying them $15 million to $16 million each per year, giving the Heat enough financial leeway to significantly upgrade the margins of its roster. Among the team's biggest needs are a new point guard (Kyle Lowry, any-one?), a legitimate center (Spencer Hawes?) and a young knockdown shooter (Jodie Mecks?). Carmelo Anthony is not the answer; his arrival would only fur-ther diminish the Heat's

Oh, and by the way. It's time to make Bosh the No. 2 scoring option and re-duce Wade's role perhaps to sixth man.

2. Mnke it sweet home. Chicago. Derrick Rose and Joakim Noah are James' foakin Roan are James kind of guys, super-talent-ed grinders who put their team first. There's also the drawing power of Coach Tom Thibodeau who has a MacGyver-like ability to uation. Just imagine him with this kind of talent.

The downside is that the Bulls probably would have to jettison Carlos Boozer and Taj Gibson to clear enough salary cap space for James, leav-ing them with enection. ing them with question-able depth. Another worry would be Rose's kr which have limited him to a combined 49 games over the last two seasons

3. Hello (again). Cleve-land! James' wife, Savannah, nearly caused an Ins-tagram implosion over the weekend when she posted a photo with the caption "Akron" and a star where the city sits on a U.S. map.
"Home, sweet home!" she wrote. "The countdown is real! #330 " Turns out Savannah was alloding to her smumer vacation, not her husband's free-agency

Still the idea of joining forces with Kyrie Irving and the No. 1 pick in the draft (assuming the Cava-liers don't hotch the selection like last year) has to be somewhat aBuriog. Plus there's that whole redemp-tion thiog for an Ohio nalive who spent the first seven seasons of his career there hat never won a title.

4. Become the world's blegest bnoster Rocket. Houstoo might present James with the best core of players in James Harden. Dwight Howard and Chandler Parsons

But James might be put off by Harden's defense, Howard's smiley-face per-sonality and Parsons' pre-diction that James would leave Miami even before somanty and ratsons pre-diction that James would leave Miami even before the Finals. The Rockets also including Kobe Bry-

James says he's going on vacation with his family before making any decisions about his future. One of the biggest questions for the Miami Heat is about the future of its roster

Omer Asik and Jeremy Lin, a pair of reserves owed million apiece) in the final years of their contracts.

5. Take a trip to La-La Eand In 2010 the Clippers chased lawes in what seemed like a comical conriship. Who would have imagined that four years later the Lakers would be the L.A langh-ingstock in pursuit?

The Lakers' roster is so ant and .. Robert Sacre. There's also the chance that Anthony could join James here, though those odds seem about the same as General Manager Milch Kupchak winning Power-ball and Mega Millions in the same week.

Joining the Lakers might have been a more realistic possibility for James had Bryant not sucked up $48.5 million in salary over the next two years, creating precisely the kind of top heavy roster problems James is seeking to escape.

The Clippers have $73 million cummitted in salary for next season, according to salary cap ex-pert Larry Coon, meaning they would either have to gut their roster in trades to acquire James or com-plete a sign-and-trade deal involving Blake Griffin. The team would be open to those possibilities but doesn't expect either to materialize

And the winner is ...
Miami This decision will qualify as a rerum, even if it doesn't garuer any Nielsen tatings.

Godin rose above a crowd of defenders to crowd of defenders to meet a corner with his left shoulder and veteran goal-keeper Gianlnigi Buffon had no chance. Moments earlier, re-plays showed Suarez ap-parently bite the shoul-der of Italy defender Giosnever have heeu given.

"The red for Marchisio and not sending off Suarez were ridiculous," Chielli-ni said. "It was absolutely clear, There's even a mark" Chielliui said of the bite

It was only one of many ugly incidents in a highly physical "in or out" match

Marchisio was shown a direct red card for putting his boot into Egidio Arevalo's knee in the 59th. Also, Mario Balotelli picked np his second yellow card in two matches for a dangerous foul during the first half, and was benched for the second period.

BELO HORIZONTE. Brazil (AP) — Costa Ri-ca finished first in what many considered the World Cup's toughest group after a dour, score-less draw against England, Costa Rica only needed a draw to top Gronp D and played that way, setting up in a defensive 5-3-2 formation. The result gives Cos-ta Rica its best World Cup performance, winning a group that contained three former world champions.

"We will have to keep fighting," Costa Rica coach Jorge Luis Pinto said. "Whatever happens we are will no lo fight." willing to fight

England lost its first two matches to Italy and Uru-guay, while Costa Rica sur-prisingly won its first two. Uruguay also advanced

Comparing Netherlands, Argentina

Argentina holds advantage in numerous key areas; could be interesting

BY MATTIAS KAREN

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) When Argentina plays the Netherlands in the World Cup semifinals to-day (4 p.m. on ESPN), it will be a matchup of arguably the two best at-tacks in the tournament. No less than five of the world's best forwards could he on the field, which would normally which would normally raise expectations of a flurry of goals and end-to-end attacking football.

But there's too much at stake for either team to push forward relentlessly. meaning that the game in Sao Paulo is about much more than its star strikers.

Here is a look at how the teams measure op in every area of the field:

GOALKEEPERS:

Jasper Cillessen was relatively untested internationally going into the World Cup, having made his Netherlands debut last year. But the Ajax goal-keeper has heen solid, although not spectacular, in keeping two clean sheets and limiting defending champion Spain to just one goal from a penalty. But he still has a long way to go hefore joining the ranks of great Dutch goalies like Edwin van der Sur and Hans van Breukelen, and was substituted for Tim Krul for the quarterfinal penalty shoolout against Costa Rica.

Sergio Romero was only a backup for his club Monaco this past season but has been the Argentīna starter sluce 2009, and is vastly more ex-perienced than Cilless-en. While Argentina's strength is its attack the team needed a number of key saves by Rome-ro to keep Iran scoreless in a 1-0 win in the group stage. He has three clean sheets in Brazil, including in both knockont games. With Argentina's back four seen as the team's weakness, Romero has helped make sure the team only conceded three goals in five gaines. Advantage: Argentinu

DEFENSE:

Netherlauds coach Louis van Gaal surprised many by adopting a five-man defensive liue for this tournament, al-though in truth the two wingbacks have been pushing forward just as much as the midfielders. The strategy has been effective, though and will likely be used again to neutralize Argentina's explosive attack. Daley Blind has been one of the World Cup's hest defend-ers but may again have to fill in for the injured Nigel ile Jong in midfield. Dirk Knyt, normallya forward, has also looked vulnera-ble defensively in his new role as left back

role as left back Argentina's defense was seen as its main weakness going into the World Cup, but has grown increasingly solid as the tournament progressed.
Switzerland and Belgium were both held scoreless in the knockout stages — the Swiss through 120 minutes — although neither team features an attack as dangerons as the Netherlands. Pablo Za-baleta anchors the back four while his Manchester Cîry teammate Martin Demichelis may again get the nod after performing well against Belgium.

Advantage: Nether-

MIDFIELD:

Both teams are with-ont a key piece to their midfield, although the respective effects will be vastly different. Nigel de Jong has loug heen the Dotch taam's broiser, a tough tackler who shores up the defense and disrupts the other tuam's play — oftun by any means necessary. His absence because of a groin injury will likely give Lionel Messi more room to maneuver, which could easily prove decisive Another problem for the Dotch is that Wesley Sneijder — one of the best players at the 2010 World - has looked well past his prime in Brazil.

For Argentina, Angel Di Maria has been one of the team's best players going forward, constantly nsing his pace to take on defenders and help create chances for the forwards With Di Matia sidelined with a thigh injury, Eze-quiel Lavezzi will have to take on a bigger role on the wing. Argentina does have a strong foundation in the middle with Javier Mascherano playing in front of the back four and providing both leader-ship and hard tackles. Advantage; Argentina

ATTACK:

This is the area where hoth teams field world-class players. Dutch dno Rohiu van Persie and Arien Robben tore defenses apart in the group stage, scoring three goals each, but have been kept fairly quiet in the knockout rounds. Van Persie was also struggling with a stomach complaint on the eve of the game. An even bigger prob-lem for the Netherlands is that Argentina's front line is even more intimi-dating. With Lionel Messi playing alongside Gonzalo Higuain and the fit-again Sergio Aguero, Argentina has an at-tack that is unrivaled in international football Aguero may not start, though having missed the last two games with a thigh injury. While Argentina has won three of its games by 1-0 score-lines in Brazil, Messi has shown repeatedly that he can provide a winning oal when his tearn needs

Advantage: Argentina
