¹ Boomerang currently has a promotional offering that provides additional broadband data to customers on its minimum service plan who were customers as of January 1, 2020 at no additional cost. As the amount of broadband data under the promotional offering exceeds that provided under the revised Lifeline minimum standard service plan, those customers will be given the option to continue receiving service under the promotional offering, which includes only 1,000 voice minutes, or taking service under the revised Lifeline minimum standard service plan. This promotional offering ends November 30, 2020. At that time, those customers who received service under the promotional offering will be placed on the revised Lifeline minimum standard service plan described above.
