Kettering named CEO of Columbia Pipeline Group

Provides continuity of leadership focus on key growth and system modernization strategies

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. -- NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced that Glen L. Kettering has been named executive vice president and group CEO for the company's Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG) business unit, effective April 1, 2014. Kettering, currently NiSource's Senior Vice President for Corporate Affairs, had also been serving as interim CEO for CPG since December 2013.

"Glen's extensive leadership experience and deep knowledge of the natural gas pipeline, storage and midstream industry make him an ideal choice to lead our Columbia Pipeline Group business," NiSource President and CEO Robert C. Skaggs Jr. said. "Our CPG business has a clearly defined plan, strong leadership, skilled teams, and a proven ability to execute. With Glen's continued guidance, I'm confident that our team at CPG will deliver on our commitments and execute on NiSource's growth strategy."

Skaggs noted that there are no other changes in the CPG leadership team, with strong senior leaders continuing in all key roles.

Kettering has served as senior vice president, Corporate Affairs for NiSource, since 2006, with responsibility for the company's Investor Relations, Corporate Communications and Federal Government Affairs functions. Kettering joined the law department of Columbia Gas Transmission in 1979 and has served in a variety of legal, regulatory, commercial and executive roles, including president of Columbia Gas Transmission and Columbia Gulf Transmission.

In conjunction with today's announcement, Skaggs also announced that:

- Karl Brack, currently vice president of Communication and Engagement Strategies, is assuming the role of senior vice president, Corporate Affairs, with responsibility for NiSource Corporate Communications, Philanthropy and Federal Government Affairs functions. Brack has been with the NiSource companies since 1987, serving in a variety of communications leadership roles in each of the corporation's primary business units. Brack will report to Skaggs and serve as a member of NiSource's Executive Council.
 - Randy Hulen, currently managing director of Investor Relations, has been promoted to vice president of Investor Relations, with responsibility for all NiSource investor outreach, communication and engagement activities. Hulen joined NiSource in 1994, and has broad experience in financial planning and analysis at both the corporate and business unit levels. He was named director of Investor Relations in 2003, and managing director in 2010. Hulen will report to Stephen P. Smith, NiSource executive vice president and CFO.

NiSource Reports First Quarter 2014 Earnings

- Results in line with 2014 earnings guidance
- Solid execution of growth, modernization and regulatory initiatives
- Expanding inventory of pipeline and midstream projects
- Record $2.2 billion capital investment program on track

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. - NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced net operating earnings from continuing operations (non-GAAP) of $258.4 million, or $0.82 per share, for the three months ended March 31, 2014, compared with $215.3 million, or $0.69 per share, for the same period in 2013. Operating earnings for the first quarter (non-GAAP) were $509.1 million compared to $427.9 million in the year-ago period.

On a GAAP basis, NiSource reported income from continuing operations of $266.4 million, or $0.85 per share, for the three months ended March 31, 2014, compared with $216.0 million, or $0.69 per share in the same period in 2013. Operating income was $533.7 million for the first quarter of 2014, compared with $428.9 million in the year-ago period. Schedules 1 and 2 of this news release contain a reconciliation of net operating earnings and operating earnings to GAAP.

“ Our Team delivered another quarter of solid performance and steady execution on NiSource’s expansive, infrastructure-focused investment strategy,” President and Chief Executive Officer Robert C. Skaggs, Jr. said. “Our utilities advanced key regulatory, legislative and long-term system enhancement programs, while our pipeline, storage and midstream business originated and executed on a robust inventory of growth and modernization projects. This continued focus on execution places us in a solid position to deliver net operating earnings in line with our guidance range of $1.61 to $1.71 per share for the year (non-GAAP).”

Columbia Pipeline Group continues execution on a growing number of infrastructure investments

NiSource's Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG) continues to make steady progress on its long-term infrastructure modernization programs, as well as its expanding inventory of midstream and core growth initiatives tied to the company's strong asset position in the Utica and Marcellus Shale production regions. CPG is on track to invest more than $800 million in 2014. Key year-to-date execution highlights for CPG include:

- Columbia Gas Transmission (Columbia Transmission) is on track with the second year of its long-term system modernization program. Under the program, CPG will invest approximately $300 million annually in improvements to system reliability, safety and flexibility. A settlement with the company's customers addresses the initial five years of an expected 10-15 year program that exceeds $4 billion in investment.
- NiSource Midstream executed a binding agreement for the approximately $120 million Washington County Gathering project. The project, anchored by a long-term agreement with a subsidiary of Range Resources Corporation, will consist of gathering pipelines and compression facilities to transport well-head production into a nearby Columbia Transmission pipeline. Construction is anticipated to begin in late 2014, with an in-service date during the second half of 2015.
- Millennium Pipeline completed a new $40 million compressor facility in Delaware County, N.Y., which went into service in March. NiSource owns a 47.5 percent interest in Millennium.
- CPG also remains on track with the execution of significant new supply- and market-driven growth projects, including the previously announced Warren County, West Side Expansion, Giles County and Line 1570 projects. These projects, which will provide total additional pipeline capacity of approximately 900 million cubic feet per day, are scheduled to be in service by the end of 2014. The approximately $275 million East Side project remains on budget and on schedule for completion in the third quarter of 2015.
- CPG continued advanced discussions with customers following the positive open season results for its Rayne XPress and Leach XPress projects. Together these projects are expected to provide additional transportation capacity of about 1.5 billion cubic feet per day, offering enhanced market access for Marcellus and Utica production via the Columbia Transmission and Columbia Gulf Transmission systems.
- Most recently, CPG completed a successful non-binding open season for its WB XPress project, which would involve the transportation of more than 1 billion cubic feet of Marcellus Shale production. Additional details on this project will be provided later this year.

"With an expanding mix of new and ongoing projects, as well as the systematic modernization of our core system, the CPG Team is strengthening the services we provide to our customers, assuring the continued reliability of our system and establishing the much-needed infrastructure for the ongoing development of shale energy supplies," Skaggs said.

NIPSCO advances key environmental, system reliability and modernization investments

NiSource's Indiana natural gas and electric business, Northern Indiana Public Service Co. (NIPSCO), remained on track with a broad agenda of system modernization, reliability and environmental improvements. Key NIPSCO execution highlights include:

- Two remaining flue gas desulfurization (FGD) projects at NIPSCO's coal-fired electric generating facilities remain on schedule and on budget. With projected completion dates of year-end 2014 and year-end 2015, the FGD investments are part of more than $850 million in environmental investments, including water quality and emission-control projects, recently completed and planned at NIPSCO's electric generating facilities.

- NIPSCO also has initiated the first year of investments under the company's electric system modernization program, approved in February by the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC). The $1.1 billion, seven-year program provides for the replacement and upgrade of underground circuits, transformers and poles, helping increase system reliability and deliver economic development benefits to the region. NIPSCO also has filed a complementary seven-year, $700 million natural gas modernization program, with a decision from the IURC expected as early as today.
- Progress also continued on two major NIPSCO electric transmission projects designed to enhance system flexibility and reliability. The Reynolds-Topeka project, a 100-mile, 345-kilovolt line, remains on schedule with right-of-way acquisition in process. The Greentown-Reynolds project, a roughly 70-mile, 765-kilovolt line, is a joint project with Pioneer Transmission. Public outreach on the Greentown-Reynolds line continues, with the anticipated route selection, and subsequent right-of-way acquisition, beginning later this year. The projects involve an investment of approximately $500 million for NIPSCO and are anticipated to be in service by the end of 2018.

"With more than $6 billion in investments planned over the next decade, NIPSCO's infrastructure investment programs, as well as the company's continued focus on customer service and economic development, are on track to provide significant benefits to customers and communities across our northern Indiana service territory," Skaggs said.

Gas distribution system modernization, regulatory and customer programs on track

The NiSource Gas Distribution (NGD) companies continue to execute against a long-term, inventory of more than $10 billion in infrastructure replacement and enhancement opportunities, paired with the development of complementary customer programs and regulatory initiatives. Year-to-date NGD execution highlights include:

- Following a record year of successfully implementing almost $800 million in gas distribution system replacement and modernization investments, NiSource's gas utilities are on track to invest approximately $815 million in system modernization and other capital investments during 2014.
- On April 23, the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio approved Columbia Gas of Ohio's (COH) annual infrastructure replacement and demand-side management rider. The rider provides for recovery of COH's well-established pipeline replacement program and customer energy efficiency program investments.
- On March 21, Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania (CPA) filed a rate case with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to support continuation of CPA's ongoing infrastructure modernization program. If approved as filed, the case would increase annual revenues by approximately $54 million. A decision is expected later this year.
- On February 28, the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities issued an order on the Columbia Gas of Massachusetts base rate case. The order provides for an annual revenue increase of approximately $19 million, and supports the company's current infrastructure modernization and replacement plans.

"Our gas distribution companies continue to steadily execute on a well-established agenda of long-term investments in system reliability, while introducing an array of programs designed to help our customers manage energy use,” Skaggs said.

Affirming 2014 earnings guidance, capital investments, financial commitments

In addition to affirming NiSource’s full-year earnings outlook of $1.61 to $1.71 per share (non-GAAP), Skaggs noted that the company is on track to execute on a record capital investment program of approximately $2.2 billion during 2014.

The company also continues to solidify its commitment to stable, investment grade credit ratings as Moody’s upgraded NiSource’s rating to Baa2 and Standard & Poor’s reaffirmed NiSource’s BBB- /stable rating during the first quarter. Fitch Ratings reaffirmed its rating in late 2013.

There will likely be differences between net operating earnings and GAAP earnings, but due to the unpredictability of weather and other factors, NiSource is continuing its practice of not providing GAAP earnings guidance.

First Quarter 2014 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource’s consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the three months ended March 31, 2014, were $509.1 million, compared to $427.9 million for the same period in 2013. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2014 and 2013 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource’s business segments for the three months ended March 31, 2014, are discussed below.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations reported operating earnings of $158.9 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $133.3 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $19.7 million primarily due to higher demand and commodity margin revenue as a result of growth projects and increased mineral rights royalty revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, decreased by $3.2 million primarily due to gains on conveyance of mineral interests, which was partially offset by an increase in employee and administrative costs, higher depreciation, and increased property taxes.

Equity earnings increased by $2.7 million primarily from increased earnings at Millennium Pipeline.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $74.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $64.9 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $18.0 million primarily due to an increase in off-system sales, higher environmental investment cost recovery and increased industrial margins. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in transmission upgrade revenue and lower residential and commercial margins.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $8.7 million due primarily to increased employee and administrative costs.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $280.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $233.3 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $54.1 million primarily attributable to increases in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of the rate settlement at Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania and the implementation of new rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program, higher residential and commercial usage, and an increase in off-system sales.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $7.3 million due primarily to increased employee and administrative costs, higher depreciation due to an increase in capital expenditures and increased other taxes. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in outside service costs.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $4.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014, compared to an operating earnings loss of $3.6 million for the comparable prior period.

Other Items

Interest expense increased by $10.5 million due to issuances of long-term debt in April and October 2013. These increases were partially offset by the maturity of long-term debt in March 2013.

Other, net reflected income of $4.5 million compared to income of $4.1 million in 2013.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 36.1 percent compared to 35.4 percent for the same period last year.

ITEM 5.02. DEPARTURE OF DIRECTORS OR CERTAIN OFFICERS; ELECTION OF DIRECTORS; APPOINTMENT OF CERTAIN OFFICERS; COMPENSATORY ARRANGEMENTS OF CERTAIN OFFICERS.

The Board of Directors of NiSource Inc. (the “Company”) has appointed Joseph W. Mulpas to succeed Jon D. Veurink as Vice President and Chief Accounting Officer effective May 13, 2014. As previously announced, Mr. Veurink will serve as chief financial officer for the Company’s Gas Distribution business segment effective May 13, 2014.

Previous to this appointment, Mr. Mulpas, age 42, served as Vice President with the Company’s Finance Department, a position he has held since March 17, 2014. Prior to joining the Company, Mr. Mulpas served as Assistant Controller-Corporate for FirstEnergy Corp. since November 2012, after serving as Vice President, Controller and Chief Accounting Officer for Maxum Petroleum, Inc. From May 2009 to June 2012, he served as Vice President, Controller and Chief Accounting Officer for DPL, Inc. Prior to his tenure with DPL, Inc., Mr. Mulpas was an Audit Partner with Deloitte & Touche LLP.

Mr. Mulpas’ annual base salary is $300,000. He will participate in the Company’s annual short-term incentive plan with a target bonus opportunity for 2014 of 50% of his annual base salary, and he was granted a long-term equity incentive award under the 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan with a value on the date of grant equal to $225,000 in the form of performance shares.

In connection with commencement of his new role, Mr. Mulpas has entered into a Change in Control and Termination Agreement with the Company. In the event the Company terminates his employment for any reason other than “good cause” or if he terminates his employment for “good reason”, in each case in connection with certain changes in control, Mr. Mulpas will be entitled to (i) a lump-sum payment equal to 24 times the sum of his monthly salary and one-twelfth of his target bonus as then in effect, (ii) a lump-sum payment equal to his prorated annual short-term incentive opportunity at the “target” level, (iii) a lump-sum payment equal to 130% of the costs of continuation coverage premiums under the Company’s welfare plans, and (iv) certain outplacement services. In addition, restrictions on any performance shares held by Mr. Mulpas will lapse upon the occurrence of any such change in control.

ITEM 5.07. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

On May 13, 2014, the Company held its Annual Meeting of Stockholders (the “Annual Meeting”). Set forth below are the matters acted upon by the stockholders of the Company at the Annual Meeting as described in the Company’s Proxy Statement filed on April 4, 2014, and the final voting results on each such matter.

Proposal 1: Election of Directors. The number of votes cast for and against each nominee, as well as the number of abstentions and broker non-votes, were as follows:

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. - NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced net operating earnings from continuing operations (non-GAAP) of $77.9 million, or $0.25 per share, for the three months ended June 30, 2014, compared with $72.8 million, or $0.23 per share, for the same period in 2013. Operating earnings for the second quarter (non-GAAP) were $219.1 million compared to $194.7 million in the year-ago period.

On a GAAP basis, NiSource reported income from continuing operations of $78.5 million, or $0.25 per share, for the three months ended June 30, 2014, compared with $72.4 million, or $0.23 per share, for the same period in 2013. Operating income for the second quarter was $219.6 million compared to $194.0 million in the year-ago period. Schedules 1 and 2 of this news release contain a reconciliation of net operating earnings and operating earnings to GAAP.

“ The NiSource team continues its solid execution of our infrastructure investment-driven business plan,” President and Chief Executive Officer Robert C. Skaggs, Jr. said. “During the second quarter, our system modernization and growth projects continued to progress along with a broad and steadily increasing inventory of new pipeline projects. With this strong and sustainable level of performance, we now expect to deliver net operating earnings from continuing operations at the upper half of our $1.61 to $1.71 per share 2014 guidance range.”

Columbia Pipeline Group originating new growth projects, continuing to execute modernization program

NiSource's Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG) continues to make steady progress on its growth, modernization and midstream programs tied to the company's strategic asset position in the Utica and Marcellus Shale production regions. With more than $1 billion of growth projects in progress, CPG remains on track to invest more than $825 million in 2014. Looking forward, CPG's growth project inventory continues to expand, driven by the prolific supply development activity in the shale regions, as well as market opportunities associated with LNG exports, gas-fired electric generation and growing industrial demand.

Key recent execution highlights for CPG include:

- CPG began engineering and planning for the approximately $50 million Utica Access project. This new project consists of the construction of facilities to transport Utica Shale gas for Eclipse Resources Corporation to liquid trading points on the Columbia Gas Transmission (Columbia Transmission) system in West Virginia. The 200-million-cubic-foot-per-day project is expected to be in service by the end of 2016.
- Columbia Transmission also reached an agreement to provide firm transportation to serve a natural gas-fired electric generation plant in Kentucky. The roughly 70-million-cubic-foot-per-day project is expected to involve an investment of about $25 million and begin service in mid-2016. Meanwhile, CPG's 250-million-cubic-foot-per-day Warren County project is ready for service to support Virginia Electric and Power Co.'s new gas-fired electric generation plant in Virginia.
- CPG's Leach and Rayne XPress projects are in advanced stages of development. These projects are expected to provide additional transportation capacity of about 1.5 billion and 800 million cubic feet per day on the Columbia Transmission and Columbia Gulf Transmission systems, respectively, offering enhanced market access for Marcellus and Utica production. Confirmed details on these projects are expected in the next several weeks.
- Development activities surrounding Columbia Transmission's WB XPress project are proceeding well. The project would involve the transportation of about 1.3 billion cubic feet of Marcellus Shale production to pipeline interconnects and East Coast markets. Additional details on this project will be provided within the next few months.
- Columbia Transmission also remains on track with the second year of its long-term system modernization program. Under the program, CPG is investing approximately $300 million annually in improvements to system reliability, integrity and flexibility. A settlement with the company's customers addresses the initial five years of an expected 10-15 year program that exceeds $4 billion in investment.
- NiSource Midstream Services (NMS) has completed the facilities supporting the first phase of its Hickory Bend project. In addition, NMS began executing its approximately $120 million Washington County Gathering project. The project, anchored by a long-term agreement with a subsidiary of Range Resources Corporation, will consist of gathering pipelines and compression facilities in western Pennsylvania to transport production into a nearby Columbia Transmission pipeline. This project is expected to be in-service during the second half of 2015.

- NMS also continued to expand its core assets and services to support growing Appalachian shale production. The company is in advanced discussions with customers to optimize and expand its Big Pine Gathering System to support Marcellus Shale production in Western Pennsylvania. In addition to fully subscribing the existing capacity, this incremental 175-million-cubic-feet-per-day project includes additional gathering pipeline and compression facilities that are expected to begin service in the second quarter of 2015.

“The CPG team continues to originate and advance significant customer-supported growth projects.” Skaggs said. “These new projects, which capitalize on our solid relationships and strategic position in the Marcellus and Utica producing regions, extend our already deep inventory of capital investment opportunities.”

NIPSCO on track with environmental, modernization and transmission projects

NiSource’s Indiana natural gas and electric business, Northern Indiana Public Service Co. (NIPSCO), remains on track with a broad agenda of system modernization, reliability and environmental improvements. Key execution highlights for NIPSCO include:

- On April 30, the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC) approved NIPSCO’s seven-year, $700 million natural gas modernization program. This program, which complements the in-progress $1.1 billion electric system modernization program approved in February, will address system modernization as well as system expansion in rural areas.
- Progress also continued on two major NIPSCO electric transmission projects designed to enhance region-wide system flexibility and reliability. The route has been selected for the Greentown-Reynolds project, a roughly 70-mile, 765-kilovolt line being constructed in a joint development agreement with Pioneer Transmission. Meanwhile, NIPSCO’s Reynolds-Topeka project, a 100-mile, 345-kilovolt line, remains on schedule with right-of-way acquisition and permitting in process. These projects involve an investment of approximately $500 million for NIPSCO and are anticipated to be in service by the end of 2018.
- Two remaining flue gas desulfurization (FGD) projects at NIPSCO’s coal-fired electric generating facilities remain on schedule and on budget. With projected completion dates of year-end 2014 and year-end 2015, the FGD investments are part of more than $850 million in environmental investments, including water quality and emission-control projects recently completed and planned at NIPSCO’s electric generating facilities.
- NIPSCO also filed a plan with the IURC to continue offering its electric energy efficiency programs, including the residential energy efficiency rebate, new construction and low-income weatherization programs that are set to expire at the end of 2014.

“The NIPSCO team continues to execute on a series of long-term environmental, system modernization and electric transmission programs,” Skaggs said. “These significant investments, coupled with the team’s continued focus on customer service and reliability, will produce benefits for customers and communities in northern Indiana, as well as NiSource shareholders.”

NiSource Gas Distribution advances regulatory agenda, legislative progress and infrastructure programs

The NiSource Gas Distribution (NGD) companies continue to execute against a long-term inventory of more than $10 billion in infrastructure replacement and enhancement opportunities. Key execution highlights for NGD include:

- On June 26, Massachusetts Gov. Deval Patrick signed legislation authorizing accelerated recovery of gas infrastructure modernization investments. Columbia Gas of Massachusetts (CMA) intends to file a construction plan with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities by Oct. 31, 2014 and expects to begin recovery of infrastructure investments made under the program on May 1, 2015.
- On April 30, Columbia Gas of Virginia (CGV) filed a rate case with the Virginia State Corporation Commission to recover investments associated with CGV's ongoing efforts to accommodate growth, as well as to modernize its gas distribution system. If approved as filed, the case would increase annual revenues by approximately $25 million. A decision is expected by the end of 2014.
- On March 21, Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania (CPA) filed a rate case with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to support continuation of CPA's ongoing infrastructure modernization program. If approved as filed, the case would increase annual revenues by approximately $54 million. A decision is expected later this year.
- NiSource's gas utilities remain on track to invest approximately $785 million in system modernization and other capital investments during 2014.

"Our gas distribution team once again executed on its well-established system modernization programs, and continued to advance complementary regulatory initiatives," Skaggs said. "This strategy is enhancing the safety and reliability of our systems, creating new energy efficiency tools for customers, and delivering value for our shareholders."

Earnings guidance, capital investments, financial commitments on track; Investor Day scheduled

In addition to noting that NiSource is projected to achieve earnings at the upper half of its full-year earnings outlook of $1.61 to $1.71 per share (non-GAAP), Skaggs confirmed that the company remains on track with its record $2.2 billion capital investment program during 2014.

NiSource remains committed to maintaining stable, investment grade credit ratings, while delivering sustainable long-term earnings and dividend growth.

Skaggs also announced that NiSource will host an Investor Day in New York City on Sept. 29, 2014. Skaggs and other members of NiSource's senior management team will discuss the company's investment growth strategy, its market outlook and other matters of interest to the financial community. A live webcast with accompanying presentations will be available on nsource.com.

There will likely be differences between net operating earnings and GAAP earnings, but due to the unpredictability of weather and other factors, NiSource is continuing its practice of not providing GAAP earnings guidance.

Second Quarter 2014 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the three months ended June 30, 2014, were $219.1 million, compared to $194.7 million for the same period in 2013. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2014 and 2013 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the three months ended June 30, 2014, are discussed below.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations reported operating earnings of $103.7 million for the three months ended June 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $88.8 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $22.2 million primarily due to higher demand margin revenue as a result of growth projects placed into service and increased mineral rights royalty revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $10.4 million primarily due to an increase in employee and administrative costs and higher depreciation. Equity earnings increased by $3.1 million primarily from increased earnings at Millennium Pipeline.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $59.8 million for the three months ended June 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $58.6 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $12.2 million primarily due to higher industrial, commercial, and residential margins, increased environmental investment cost recovery, and lower fuel handling costs. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in off-system sales.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $11.0 million due primarily to higher electric generation costs largely due to outages and maintenance and increased employee and administrative costs.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $62.5 million for the three months ended June 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $51.8 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $26.0 million primarily attributable to increases in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of the rate settlement at Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania and the implementation of new rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $15.3 million due primarily to increased outside service costs, higher depreciation due to an increase in capital expenditures, and increased employee and administrative costs.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $6.9 million for the three months ended June 30, 2014, compared to an operating earnings loss of $4.5 million for the comparable prior period.

Other Items

Interest expense increased by $7.1 million due to the issuance of long-term debt in October 2013.

Other, net reflected income of $7.5 million compared to income of $13.3 million in 2013 primarily attributable to a decrease in gains from insurance proceeds.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 33.7 percent compared to 31.3 percent for the same period last year. The 2.4 percent increase is primarily due to deferred tax adjustments recorded in 2013 related to state apportionment changes.

Six Month Period 2014 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the six months ended June 30, 2014, were $728.2 million, compared to $622.6 million for the same period in 2013. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2014 and 2013 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the six months ended June 30, 2014, are discussed below.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations reported operating earnings of $262.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $222.1 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $41.9 million primarily due to higher demand margin revenue as a result of growth projects placed into service and increased mineral rights royalty revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $7.2 million primarily due to an increase in employee and administrative costs, higher depreciation, and increased property taxes. These increases were partially offset by gains on conveyances of mineral interests. Equity earnings increased by $5.8 million primarily from increased earnings at Millennium Pipeline.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $134.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $123.5 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $30.2 million primarily due to increased industrial margins, higher environmental investment cost recovery, and an increase in off-system sales. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in transmission upgrade revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $19.7 million due primarily to higher employee and administrative costs and increased electric generation costs largely due to outages and maintenance.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $342.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $285.1 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $80.1 million primarily attributable to increases in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of the rate settlement at Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania and the implementation of new rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program. Additionally, there was increased residential and commercial usage, higher off-system sales, and increased customer count.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $22.6 million due primarily to higher depreciation due to an increase in capital expenditures, increased employee and administrative costs and higher other taxes.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $11.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2014, compared to an operating earnings loss of $8.1 million for the comparable prior period.

Other Items

Interest expense increased by $17.6 million due to issuances of long-term debt in April and October 2013. These increases were partially offset by the maturity of long-term debt in March 2013.

Other, net reflected income of $12.0 million compared to income of $17.4 million in 2013 primarily attributable to a decrease in gains from insurance proceeds.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 35.6 percent compared to 34.4 percent for the same period last year.

ITEM 1.01. ENTRY INTO A MATERIAL DEFINITIVE AGREEMENT

On August 20, 2014, NiSource Finance Corp. (“NiSource Finance”), as borrower, and NiSource Inc. (the “Company”), as guarantor, entered into a $750 million Term Loan Agreement (the “Agreement”) with the lenders party thereto, CoBank ACB, as Syndication Agent, and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as Administrative Agent, and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC and CoBank, ACB, as Joint Lead Arrangers and Joint Bookrunners. NiSource Finance borrowed the full $750 million on August 20, 2014. The term loan matures August 18, 2017 and bears interest at the option of the Company at:

- a rate equal to (A) the Alternate Base Rate (which is a floating rate equal to the highest of (i) the prime rate of interest announced by the Administrative Agent from time to time, (ii) the Federal Funds Effective Rate in effect from time to time + 0.50% and (iii) one-month LIBO rate + 1.0%) plus (B) an applicable margin (which applicable margin is currently 0 basis points), or
- a rate equal to (A) the 1, 2, 3 or 6-month LIBO rate plus (B) an applicable margin (which applicable margin is currently 100 basis points).

The Agreement includes one financial covenant, a maximum debt-to-capitalization covenant set at 70%, which is consistent with NiSource Finance’s existing $2 billion Amended and Restated Revolving Credit Agreement and $325 million Amended and Restated Credit Agreement.

NiSource Announces Plan to Separate Into Two Publicly Traded Companies

- Separation would result in two highly focused, premier energy infrastructure companies: a fully regulated natural gas and electric utilities company (NiSource), and a pure-play natural gas pipeline, midstream and storage company (Columbia Pipeline Group)
- Following the separation, both companies – NiSource and Columbia Pipeline Group – are expected to be investment grade, well-capitalized companies; with strategic clarity, robust long-term growth profiles and the ability to fund significant infrastructure project inventories
- Separation not expected to impact employment levels or commitments to communities; current headquarters and office locations to remain in place
- Separation expected to be tax-free and value-accretive for shareholders

Merrillville, Ind. — NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced that its Board of Directors has approved in principle plans to separate its natural gas pipeline and related businesses into a stand-alone publicly traded company. The transaction will result in two highly focused energy infrastructure companies: NiSource Inc., a fully regulated natural gas and electric utilities company, and Columbia Pipeline Group Inc. (CPG), a pure-play natural gas pipeline, midstream and storage company. The separation is expected to occur in mid-2015.

“Separating our regulated utilities and pipeline businesses is a significant and logical step in our proven long-term strategy that has delivered substantial value to investors and enhanced service for our customers,” NiSource President and CEO Robert C. Skaggs Jr. said. “As independent, highly focused, premier entities, both companies will benefit from the size and scale of their distinct assets and customer bases, will have enhanced strategic clarity and focus, and will be well capitalized, all enhancing their ability to successfully execute on their robust, long-term investment plans.

“By creating two dynamic companies that can execute on their distinct business strategies, we expect to further sharpen each company’s customer service focus, maintain strong levels of local employment and community involvement, thereby further positioning us to create immediate and long-term value for our shareholders,” said Skaggs.

Under the separation plan, NiSource shareholders would retain their current shares of NiSource stock and receive a pro-rata dividend of shares of CPG stock in a transaction that is expected to be tax-free to NiSource and its shareholders. The actual number of CPG shares that would be distributed to NiSource shareholders will be determined prior to closing, which is expected to take place in mid-2015.

Columbia Pipeline Group to feature strategic assets, $12-15 billion investment opportunity

CPG, which is expected to be listed on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE: COLP), will include Columbia Gas Transmission, Columbia Gulf Transmission, NiSource Midstream Services, and other current NiSource natural gas pipeline, storage and midstream holdings. In total, at separation the new public company will operate more than 15,000 miles of natural gas transmission pipelines, nearly 300 billion cubic feet of underground natural gas storage capacity, and a growing portfolio of midstream and related facilities.

The CPG system provides access to energy markets from the U.S. Southeast through the Northeast, as well as strategic asset positions throughout the Marcellus and Utica Shale production regions. The company has leveraged these assets to develop a deep inventory of supply- and market-driven growth projects, many of which are in advanced stages of development. These projects, when paired with the company's long-term system modernization program, represent a potential capital investment opportunity of $12-15 billion over the next 10 years, positioning the company to provide enhanced earnings and dividend growth driven by its projected net investment growth.

"As an independent company, CPG will be well-positioned to execute on a significant number of value-creating growth opportunities resulting from the expansion of natural gas drilling in its geographic territories, its landmark system modernization program as well as increased demand associated with liquefied natural gas exports and gas-fired electric generation – all of which is expected to benefit our customers, investors and other key stakeholders," Skaggs said. "We are committed to unlocking significant value and enabling even greater investment to fuel growth in the CPG business that would not have been possible without the CPG separation and associated MLP."

CPG financing expected to include capital raised by Master Limited Partnership

CPG anticipates that it will finance its capital investment plan through a combination of debt and equity. That financing is also expected to include capital raised by CPG's Master Limited Partnership, the proposed initial public offering of which was announced in a separate news release issued today.

NiSource to remain one of nation's largest natural gas and electric utility companies Upon completion of the planned separation, NiSource will remain one of the largest natural gas utility companies in the United States, serving more than 3.4 million customers in seven states under the Columbia Gas and NIPSCO brands. The company also will continue to provide electric distribution, generation and transmission services for approximately 450,000 NIPSCO electric customers in northern Indiana. The company will continue to be listed on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE: NI).

NiSource is expected to be well-positioned to provide stable long-term earnings and dividend growth of 4-6 percent annually following the planned separation. The company's growth profile is supported by stable revenue streams, contemporary rate designs and an inventory of approximately $30 billion in infrastructure investment opportunities spanning the next 20-plus years.

"As a pure-play utilities company, we expect NiSource will continue to be well capitalized, with significant customer and rate base scale, and a deep inventory of infrastructure investment opportunities," Skaggs said. "The company's strong foundation, supported by a proven track record of execution on core system enhancement, regulatory and legislative programs, should enable NiSource to continue delivering safe, reliable and efficient service to its customers, as well as sustainable growing value to shareholders."

Benefits of the transaction

Upon completion, the separation is expected to result in two well capitalized, premier energy infrastructure companies, with benefits for both companies' stakeholders, having the following anticipated strategic and financial attributes from and as of the date of separation:

NiSource		Columbia Pipeline Group
Pure-play, 100 percent regulated utilities company	Fit and Clarity	Pure-play natural gas pipeline, midstream and storage business with an MLP
Sharpened management focus on distinct strategic goals	Strategic Focus	Sharpened management focus on distinct strategic goals
$30+ billion over 20-plus years	Long-Term Investment Opportunities	$12-15 billion over 10 years
~$1.2 billion/year	Annual Capital Investments	~$1+ billion/year
Averaging 4-6%/year	Earnings and Dividend Growth	Expected to be driven by net investment growth
Expected to maintain investment grade with strong liquidity	Credit Ratings	Expected to maintain investment grade with strong liquidity
Appeals to investors seeking stable earnings and dividend growth in line with a pure-play regulated utilities company	Investor Alignment	Appeals to investors seeking earnings and dividend growth in line with a pure-play natural gas pipeline, midstream and storage business
Ability to effectively benchmark performance against its utility peers	Transparency	Ability to effectively benchmark performance against pipeline peers
No planned or expected layoffs, maintaining work locations and community support	Community/Employee Commitments	No planned or expected layoffs, maintaining work locations and community support

Following the planned separation, current NiSource shareholders who retain their NiSource and CPG shares are expected to receive separate common stock cash dividends from NiSource and CPG. Together, those dividends are expected to be maintained in total upon separation and grow thereafter.

Following the planned separation, CPG expects to establish a common stock dividend target driven by its projected net investment growth. NiSource expects to continue a dividend payout ratio that is competitive with its utility peers, with an initial anticipated average annual growth rate of about 4-6 percent, in line with expected earnings growth.

Financing and capital structure

Prior to the separation, NiSource plans to reduce its net debt with the proceeds from a one-time cash distribution from CPG. CPG plans to fund this payment to NiSource by issuing its own long-term debt.

Both NiSource and CPG are anticipated to have capital structures, balance sheets and financial policies consistent with investment-grade credit metrics.

Experienced, proven leadership, maintaining commitments to employees and communities

As part of the transition process, the NiSource Board of Directors plans to formally name CEOs for both publicly traded companies by the end of 2014, with executive teams to follow.

NiSource does not expect the separation to result in job reductions among its current workforce of approximately 8,800 employees. The company also does not anticipate any significant changes to the compensation or benefits offered to employees or retirees, and will honor all existing labor agreements.

NiSource will continue to be headquartered in Merrillville, Indiana, and CPG will be headquartered in Houston, Texas. Both NiSource and CPG are committed to maintaining current levels of community involvement, charitable giving and economic development support following the separation.

As part of the separation, CPG is expected to enter into a transition services agreement with NiSource for a limited period of time to facilitate the transition of certain services until permanent services are in place at CPG.

Conditions of the separation

The separation is subject to various conditions, including, among others, NiSource receiving a favorable legal opinion on the tax-free nature of the distribution and final NiSource board approval. NiSource shareholder approval of the transaction is not required. There is no assurance that the transaction will be completed in mid-2015 or at all.

Advisors

Lazard is acting as lead financial advisor, and Sidley Austin LLP is serving as legal advisor, to NiSource on the transaction. Barclays and Citigroup are also acting as financial advisors to NiSource.

Investor meeting and webcast tomorrow

NiSource's executive management will discuss the planned separation during an investor meeting and webcast to be conducted tomorrow, September 29, 2014, at 8.30 a.m. Eastern Time (7.30 a.m. Central Time). The conference will be carried live on www.nisource.com. Additionally, the company will post the investor presentation on its website tomorrow at approximately 7.00 a.m. Eastern Time (6.00 a.m. Central Time).

For those unable to participate in the live webcast, a replay will be available on NiSource's website, www.nisource.com.

NiSource Inc. to Form Natural Gas Pipeline, Midstream & Storage Master Limited Partnership

MERRILLVILLE, Ind.—NiSource Inc. (NYSE:NI) announced today that it plans to file a registration statement for an initial public offering of common units representing limited partner interests in a new master limited partnership to be named Columbia Pipeline Partners LP (the “MLP”). The MLP’s initial assets are expected to consist of a 14.6% interest in CPG OpCo LP, which will own substantially all of the natural gas transmission, midstream and storage assets of NiSource.

NiSource expects the MLP to file a registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission (“SEC”) tomorrow. Subject to market conditions, an offering of common units in the MLP would follow registration with the SEC.

NiSource, through its wholly owned subsidiary Columbia Energy Group, will own the general partner of the MLP, all of its incentive distribution rights, and a majority of its limited partner interests following completion of the initial public offering.

This news release shall not constitute an offer to sell or the solicitation of an offer to buy securities. Any offers, solicitations or offers to buy, or any sales of securities will be made in accordance with the registration requirements of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (“Securities Act”). This announcement is being issued in accordance with Rule 135 under the Securities Act.

This news release includes forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Those statements include statements regarding the intent, belief or current expectations of NiSource and its management. Although NiSource believes that its expectations are based on reasonable assumptions, it can give no assurance that its goals will be achieved. Readers are cautioned that the forward-looking statements are not guarantees of future performance and involve a number of risks and uncertainties, and that actual results could differ materially from those indicated by such forward-looking statements. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those indicated by such forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, the following: the risks and uncertainties that the MLP will not be formed, will not complete an offering of securities, will not raise the planned amount of capital even if an offering of securities is completed, and will not be able to complete its proposed actions on the timetable indicated. Furthermore, the structure, nature, purpose, and proposed assets and liabilities of the MLP may change materially from those depicted herein. No assurance can be given as to the value of the MLP, the price at which its securities may trade, or whether a liquid market for those securities will develop or be maintained. In addition, NiSource and the MLP will be subject to the risks normally attendant to their respective businesses, including those set forth in the “Risk Factors” section in NiSource’s most recent Form 10-K and subsequent reports on Form 10-Q, many of which are risks beyond their control. NiSource expressly disclaims a duty to update any of the forward-looking statements contained in this release.

NiSource Reports Third Quarter 2014 Earnings

- Net operating earnings on plan for quarter and expected at the upper half of 2014 guidance range
- Growth project inventory continues to expand at Columbia Pipeline Group
- Solid execution of modernization, regulatory initiatives at NiSource utilities
- Previously announced separation on track to occur in mid-2015

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. - NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced net operating earnings from continuing operations (non-GAAP) of $45.5 million, or $0.14 per share, for the three months ended September 30, 2014, compared with $57.1 million, or $0.18 per share, for the same period in 2013. Operating earnings for the third quarter (non-GAAP) were $180.3 million compared to $183.7 million in the year-ago period.

On a GAAP basis, NiSource reported income from continuing operations of $31.5 million, or $0.10 per share, for the three months ended September 30, 2014, compared with $49.5 million, or $0.16 per share, for the same period in 2013. Operating income for the third quarter was $157.8 million compared to $176.4 million in the year-ago period. Schedules 1 and 2 of this news release contain a reconciliation of net operating earnings and operating earnings to GAAP.

Earnings guidance, capital investments on track

NiSource President and CEO Robert C. Skaggs Jr. said the company's third quarter results were on plan and that it continues to expect to achieve earnings at the upper half of its full-year earnings outlook of $1.61 to $1.71 per share (non-GAAP), and that the company remains on track with its record $2.2 billion capital investment program during 2014.

"During the third quarter, NiSource's business units continued to produce strong financial results while driving solid, steady progress on a broad range of well-established, infrastructure-focused investment strategies," Skaggs said. "That performance has us on track to once again achieve our annual earnings outlook, while delivering on an extensive range of customer and stakeholder focused initiatives."

There will likely be differences between net operating earnings and GAAP earnings. Due to the unpredictability of weather and other factors, NiSource is continuing its practice of not providing GAAP earnings guidance.

Skaggs noted that details of the company's business and growth strategies were discussed during NiSource's Investor Day on September 29. A replay and copies of the Investor Day presentations are available at www.nisource.com.

Columbia Pipeline Group separation update

On September 28, NiSource announced that its Board of Directors approved, in principle, plans to separate its natural gas pipeline and related businesses into a stand-alone, publicly traded company. The separation would result in two highly focused energy infrastructure companies: NiSource Inc., a fully regulated natural gas and electric utilities company, and Columbia Pipeline Group Inc. (CPG), a pure-play natural gas pipeline, midstream and storage company. Both companies are expected to maintain investment grade credit ratings after the separation, which is expected to occur in mid-2015.

“Our team expects to execute the separation with no adverse impact on our ongoing operations or customer services,” Skaggs said. “As two pure-play, highly focused and well capitalized energy infrastructure companies, both entities will be better positioned to execute on their respective investment strategies and deliver enhanced long-term growth.”

The separation is subject to various conditions, including, among others, NiSource receiving a favorable legal opinion on the tax-free nature of the distribution and final NiSource board approval. NiSource shareholder approval of the transaction is not required.

In addition to the separation, Columbia Pipeline Partners LP (CPPL), a subsidiary of NiSource, filed a registration statement on Form S-1 with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission in connection with the proposed initial public offering of its common units.

Columbia Pipeline Group modernization, growth project inventory tops $12 billion

CPG continues to develop and execute on an extensive inventory of near- and long-term growth, modernization and midstream investment opportunities, many of which are tied to the company's strategic asset position in the Utica and Marcellus Shale production regions.

CPG expects to invest $12-$15 billion in modernization and growth projects over the next 10 years, with a number of major projects currently in active development. Key execution highlights for CPG include:

- By the end of the year, CPG will make a filing with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission to recover costs related to the second year of investments under its long-term system modernization program. The filing, which involves approximately $330 million in facilities placed in service by October 31, 2014, is anticipated to become effective in February 2015. A settlement with the company's customers addresses the initial five years of an expected 10-15 year program that exceeds $4 billion in investment.
- Just this month, CPG placed into service its West Side Expansion project. This approximately $200 million project, placed in service ahead of schedule and on budget, enabled a portion of Columbia Gulf Transmission's (Columbia Gulf) system to become fully bi-directional, among other system enhancements. Fully subscribed and anchored by long-term contracts, the project will transport approximately 500,000 dekatherms per day of Marcellus Shale production to Gulf Coast and southeast markets. The approximately $25 million Giles County growth project also was placed in service this month, which supports the conversion of a large end-user's coal boilers to natural gas. Columbia Gas of Virginia (CGV) also extended its distribution system by approximately four miles to support the customer conversion.

- In August, CPG confirmed details of its planned $1.75 billion investment in the Leach and Rayne XPress projects. The projects will create a major new pathway for delivering natural gas supplies to market, providing transportation capacity of about 1.5 billion cubic feet per day for Marcellus and Utica Shale gas on the Columbia Gas Transmission (Columbia Transmission) system and about 1 billion cubic feet per day on the Columbia Gulf system. The projects, expected to be placed into service by the end of 2017, include approximately 150 miles of new transmission pipeline and new compression facilities at multiple sites in Ohio and West Virginia.
- CPG's WB XPress project also is advancing and expected to clear remaining conditions precedent during the fourth quarter of this year. The approximately $870 million project would transport about 1.3 billion cubic feet of Marcellus Shale production on the Columbia Transmission system to pipeline interconnects and East Coast markets, including access to the Cove Point LNG export terminal. The project is expected to be placed in service during the fourth quarter of 2018.
- The company is encouraged by customer interest following the recently completed non-binding open season for the Mountaineer XPress project. The project's scope is currently being refined and discussions with potential shippers regarding capacity commitments are underway. The project would provide further transportation capacity out of the Marcellus and Utica Shale production basins.
- NiSource Midstream Services (NMS) has started work on its approximately $120 million Washington County Gathering project, which is anchored by a long-term agreement with a subsidiary of Range Resources Corporation. The project will consist of gathering pipelines and compression facilities in western Pennsylvania to transport production into a nearby Columbia Transmission pipeline. The project is expected to be in service in late 2015, with additional expansion expected as gas production grows.
- NMS also is expanding and optimizing its Big Pine Gathering System to support Marcellus Shale production in Western Pennsylvania. The approximately $65 million investment in facility enhancements, which will add an incremental approximately 175-million-cubic-feet-per-day of system capacity, are expected to begin service in the third quarter of 2015.

NIPSCO advancing its environmental, modernization and transmission projects

During the third quarter, NiSource's Indiana natural gas and electric business, Northern Indiana Public Service Co. (NIPSCO), continued to make progress on its agenda of system modernization, reliability and environmental improvements. Over the next 20-plus years, NIPSCO expects to invest approximately $10 billion in electric infrastructure projects and approximately $5 billion in natural gas infrastructure projects. Key execution highlights for NIPSCO include:

- The company began its investments as part of its seven-year natural gas modernization program approved earlier this year by the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission. This program, initially approved for approximately $710 million, is now expected to reach an investment level of $860 million and complements the in-progress $1.1 billion electric system modernization program.
- Progress also continued on two major NIPSCO electric transmission projects designed to enhance region-wide system flexibility and reliability. Right-of-way acquisition and permitting are underway for both projects. The Greentown-Reynolds project is a roughly 70-mile, 765-kilovolt line being constructed in a joint development agreement with Pioneer Transmission, and the Reynolds-Topeka project is a 100-mile, 345-kilovolt line. These projects involve an investment of approximately $500 million for NIPSCO and are anticipated to be in service by the end of 2018.

- Two remaining flue gas desulfurization (FGD) projects at NIPSCO's coal-fired electric generating facilities remain on plan. With projected completion dates of year-end 2014 and year-end 2015, the FGD investments are part of more than $850 million in environmental investments, including water quality and emission-control projects recently completed and planned at NIPSCO's electric generating facilities.

NiSource Gas Distribution executes on infrastructure programs, regulatory agenda

The NiSource Gas Distribution (NGD) companies continue to deliver strong results by investing in their infrastructure replacement and enhancement programs, aligned with complementary regulatory initiatives. Over the next 20-plus years, NiSource's natural gas utilities expect to invest approximately $20 billion in natural gas growth and modernization projects. Key execution highlights for NGD include:

- Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania (CPA) is awaiting a ruling by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission in its current base rate case. On September 5, the parties to the case jointly submitted a request to approve a settlement that provides for recovery of CPA's investments in its well-established infrastructure modernization program. If the settlement is approved as filed, annual revenues will increase by approximately $33 million. A decision is expected by the end of the year.
- CGV expects a decision by the first quarter of 2015 on its base rate case filed with the Virginia State Corporation Commission in April. The case seeks to recover costs related to significant capital investments CGV has made to improve its system and accommodate growth, as well as costs incurred related to a number of pipeline safety initiatives designed to improve the safety and reliability of its system. If approved as filed, the case would increase net annual revenues by approximately $25 million.
- Columbia Gas of Massachusetts (CMA) remains on track to file a priority pipe replacement plan and associated recovery for 2015 replacements with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities on October 31, which outlines a sustained system modernization program. Legislation authorizing accelerated recovery of gas infrastructure modernization investments took effect in Massachusetts earlier this year. CMA expects to begin recovery of 2015 planned infrastructure investments made under the program on May 1, 2015.
- On September 15, the Public Service Commission of Maryland approved a settlement in the Columbia Gas of Maryland (CMD) rate case filed on July 1. The settlement provides CMD an opportunity to earn a fair return on capital investments as part of its ongoing system modernization program. As a result of the settlement, annual revenues increased by approximately $1.1 million, effective September 29, 2014.

“Across our seven regulated utilities - NIPSCO and Columbia Gas - we now expect to invest approximately $30 billion in growth and modernization investments over the next 20-plus years,” Skaggs said. “With complementary customer programs and rate structures in place in all of our jurisdictions, we expect approximately 75 percent of this investment to be revenue producing. These programs are well-established and continue to deliver sustainable value for our customers, shareholders and other key stakeholders.”

Third Quarter 2014 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the three months ended September 30, 2014, were $180.3 million, compared to $183.7 million for the same period in 2013. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2014 and 2013 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the three months ended September 30, 2014, are discussed below.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations reported operating earnings of $94.4 million for the three months ended September 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $98.7 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $19.4 million primarily due to higher demand margin revenue as a result of growth projects placed into service, increased mineral rights royalty revenue and higher condensate revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $25.2 million primarily due to higher employee and administrative costs, the current period impact of the gain on the sale of storage assets in 2013, higher outside service costs and increased depreciation. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in software data conversion costs. Equity earnings increased by $1.5 million primarily from increased earnings at Millennium Pipeline.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $90.2 million for the three months ended September 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $90.5 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $11.5 million primarily due to higher industrial and residential margins and increased environmental investment cost recovery.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $11.8 million due primarily to increased employee and administrative costs, higher electric generation costs largely due to maintenance-related outages, and increased storm damage costs.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $1.0 million for the three months ended September 30, 2014, compared with an operating earnings loss of $0.5 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $16.9 million primarily attributable to increases in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of the implementation of new rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program and the new rates at Columbia Gas of Massachusetts.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $15.4 million due primarily to increased employee and administrative costs and higher depreciation as a result of an increase in capital expenditures. These increases were partially offset by lower environmental costs.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $5.3 million for the three months ended September 30, 2014, which is comparable to an operating earnings loss of $5.0 million for the comparable prior period.

Other Items

Interest expense increased by $5.9 million due to the issuance of long-term debt in October 2013 and the expiration of interest rate swaps in July 2014. These increases were partially offset by the maturity of long-term debt in July 2014.

Other, net reflected income of $9.2 million compared to income of $4.7 million in 2013 primarily attributable to current period transmission agreement income.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 43.1 percent compared to 32.6 percent for the same period last year. The increase in the three month effective tax rate is primarily due to a change in the estimated annual effective tax rate during the third quarter of 2014.

Nine Month Period 2014 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the nine months ended September 30, 2014, were $908.5 million, compared to $806.3 million for the same period in 2013. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2014 and 2013 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the nine months ended September 30, 2014, are discussed below.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations reported operating earnings of $357.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $320.8 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $61.3 million primarily due to higher demand margin revenue as a result of growth projects placed into service, increased mineral rights royalty revenue and higher condensate revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $32.4 million primarily due to higher employee and administrative costs, a prior year gain on the sale of storage assets, higher depreciation, increased outside service costs and higher property taxes. These increases were partially offset by gains on conveyances of mineral interests and a decrease in software data conversion costs. Equity earnings increased by $7.3 million primarily from increased earnings at Millennium Pipeline.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $224.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $214.0 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $41.7 million primarily due to increased industrial margins, higher environmental investment cost recovery, increased revenue as a result of two electric transmission projects authorized by the MISO, and higher off-system sales. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in transmission upgrade revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $31.5 million due primarily to higher employee and administrative costs and increased electric generation costs largely due to maintenance-related outages.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $343.6 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $284.6 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $97.0 million primarily attributable to an increase in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of the rate settlement at Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania and the implementation of new rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program. Additionally, there was increased residential, commercial and industrial usage and higher off-system sales.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $38.0 million due primarily to increased employee and administrative costs, higher depreciation due to an increase in capital expenditures, increased other taxes, higher outside service costs and an increase in uncollectibles. These increases were partially offset by lower environmental costs.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $16.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2014, compared to an operating earnings loss of $13.1 million for the comparable prior period.

Other Items

Interest expense increased by $23.5 million due the issuance of long-term debt in April and October 2013, partially offset by the maturity of long-term debt in March 2013 and July 2014.

Other, net reflected income of $21.2 million compared to income of $22.1 million in 2013.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 36.6 percent compared to 34.1 percent for the same period last year.

The planned appointments of CPG directors are contingent upon the re-election of members of the NiSource board of directors at the 2015 annual meeting of NiSource stockholders.

Forward-Looking Statements

This Current Report on Form 8-K contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of federal securities laws. These forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Examples of forward-looking statements in this report include statements and expectations regarding the Separation and the leadership of each of NiSource and CPG following the Separation. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated by the forward-looking statements in this report include, among other things, the timing to consummate the Separation; the risk that a condition to consummation is not satisfied; disruption to operations as a result of the proposed Separation or the proposed initial public offering of Columbia Pipeline Partners LP; the inability of one or more of the businesses to operate independently following the completion of the proposed Separation; weather; fluctuations in supply and demand for energy commodities; growth opportunities for NiSource’s businesses; increased competition in deregulated energy markets; the success of regulatory and commercial initiatives; dealings with third parties over whom NiSource has no control; actual operating experience of NiSource’s assets; the regulatory process; regulatory and legislative changes; changes in general economic, capital and commodity market conditions; and counter-party credit risk, and the matters set forth in the “Risk Factors” section in NiSource’s 2013 Form 10-K and subsequent NiSource filings of Form 10-Q, many of which are beyond the control of NiSource. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this report. NiSource expressly disclaims a duty to update any of the forward-looking statements contained in this report.

The Separation is subject to the satisfaction of a number of conditions, including the final approval of NiSource’s board of directors. There is no assurance that the Separation will in fact occur.

Post-separation leaders named for Columbia Pipeline Group, NiSource

- Bob Skaggs, Joe Hamrock expected to lead experienced teams at both companies
- Plans for CPG Board of Directors leadership announced

MERRILLVILLE, Ind . - NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today named key leaders expected to guide Columbia Pipeline Group Inc. (CPG) and NiSource following the planned separation of the two energy companies in mid-2015.

In September 2014, NiSource announced plans to separate its natural gas pipeline and related businesses into a stand-alone publicly traded company, CPG, with NiSource becoming a pure-play regulated natural gas and electric utilities company.

Key leadership appointments for CPG, expected to be effective at the time of separation, include:

- Robert C. Skaggs Jr., currently president and chief executive officer (CEO) of NiSource, is expected to become CEO of CPG.
- Stephen P. Smith, currently NiSource executive vice president (EVP) and chief financial officer (CFO), is expected to become EVP and CFO for CPG.
- Glen L. Kettering, currently EVP and group CEO for CPG, is expected to assume the new role of president of CPG. Other current members of the CPG senior leadership team also are expected to remain with CPG.

The company also announced expected key post-separation leadership appointments for NiSource:

- Joseph Hamrock, currently EVP and group CEO of NiSource's Gas Distribution business unit, will become CEO of NiSource.
 - Jim L. Stanley, EVP and group CEO for Northern Indiana Public Service Company (NIPSCO), is expected to serve in the new role of chief operating officer for NiSource, overseeing a variety of functions, including capital program management, major projects and customer and commercial operations.

- Violet G. Sistovaris , currently NiSource senior vice president (SVP) and chief information officer, is expected to become EVP for NIPSCO, with responsibility for Electric Operations and Regulatory, External Affairs and Communications functions. Among those reporting to Sistovaris will be NIPSCO President Kathleen O’Leary .
- A CFO for NiSource is expected to be named in early 2015, following completion of an internal and external candidate review.

“With proven, experienced leaders in place at both companies, NiSource and CPG will be well positioned to thrive and grow as independent entities,” Richard L. Thompson, NiSource Board of Directors Chairman, said. “As demonstrated by their strong leadership track records, Bob Skaggs, Joe Hamrock and their respective teams are ideally suited to provide the clarity of vision, depth of experience and strength of character needed to execute on the distinct and well-established growth strategies of both NiSource and CPG.”

As previously announced, NiSource’s corporate headquarters will continue to be in Merrillville, Indiana, while CPG will remain headquartered in Houston, Texas. Additional leadership appointments for both companies will be announced prior to the time of separation.

Expected post-separation CPG board appointments announced

NiSource also today announced plans for initial appointments to the Board of Directors of Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. (CPG) expected to take effect immediately prior to the planned separation of CPG from NiSource.

Prior to the separation, Robert C. Skaggs Jr. is expected to become Chairman of the Board for CPG. Other current members of NiSource’s Board of Directors expected to join the CPG Board include independent board members Sigmund L. Cornelius, Marty R. Kittrell, W. Lee Nutter, Deborah S. Parker and Teresa A. Taylor . None of these directors is expected to continue to serve on the NiSource Board following the separation.

Expected to continue serving on the NiSource Board following the separation are current independent NiSource board members Richard L. Thompson , who is expected to continue serving as Board Chairman, Richard A. Abdoo, Michael E. Jesanis, Aristides S. Candris and Carolyn Y. Woo . In addition, it is expected that Joe Hamrock will be named to the NiSource Board when he assumes CEO responsibilities for the company.

"We are privileged to have highly experienced and respected individuals prepared to serve on the respective Boards of both NiSource and CPG," Thompson noted. "These boards will each bring a depth of experience, a range of perspectives and a continuity of focus vital to the distinct opportunities and challenges of each company. I am confident these Boards will provide sound independent judgment and guidance to each company’s management teams as they work to build and grow these companies."

These plans are contingent upon the re-election of members of the NiSource Board at the company’s 2015 annual meeting. NiSource also plans to recruit additional members for each Board over the coming months.

Biographies of executives and directors named in this release are included below.

Executive Bios

Joseph Hamrock

Joe Hamrock serves as executive vice president and group CEO for NiSource's Gas Distribution segment, which includes local gas distribution companies in Kentucky, Maryland, Massachusetts, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Virginia. In this role, he has responsibility for all aspects of performance at NiSource's gas distribution operations. In coordination with leadership teams across each of these areas, he focuses on driving the company's long-term growth plan, premised on executing a steady stream of infrastructure improvements and growth investments, synchronized with complementary regulatory and customer program initiatives. Hamrock is a member of NiSource's executive management council, joining NiSource in May of 2012 after serving in a variety of senior executive positions with American Electric Power (AEP), including roles in engineering, transmission and distribution operations, customer service, marketing and information technology. Most recently he served as president and chief operating officer of AEP Ohio. He earned a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from Youngstown State University in Ohio and a master's degree in business administration from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in Cambridge, where he was a Sloan fellow. He is a registered professional engineer in Ohio, serves as a trustee for The NiSource Charitable Foundation, the United Way of Central Ohio, YSU STEM College Advisory Council, and the Mt. Carmel College of Nursing.

Glen L. Kettering

Glen Kettering serves as executive vice president and group CEO for Columbia Pipeline Group. He oversees all regulatory, operations and project management for the unit, and is responsible for execution of CPG's capital investment, modernization and growth strategies. Together, the CPG gas transmission, midstream and storage companies operate a 15,000-mile network of natural gas pipelines, 37 storage fields and serve some of the nation's largest and fastest-growing energy markets in the Northeast, Midwest and Mid-Atlantic regions. Before he was appointed CEO in April 2014, Kettering served as senior vice president, Corporate Affairs, where he was responsible for leading NiSource's investor relations, communications and federal government affairs functions. He joined the law department of Columbia Gas Transmission in 1979 and has served in a variety of legal, regulatory, commercial and executive roles, including President of Columbia Gas Transmission and Columbia Gulf Transmission. Kettering earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from West Virginia University and a doctor of jurisprudence degree from the West Virginia University College of Law. He is a member of the Energy Bar Association and the West Virginia State Bar. He also serves as a trustee of the NiSource Charitable Foundation.

Violet G. Sistovaris

Violet Sistovaris is senior vice president and chief information officer at NiSource Inc. She is responsible for providing leadership and direction to NiSource's supply chain services, information technology, real estate and facilities management. Prior to her current position, Sistovaris served as vice president, Customer Contact Centers, since November 2003. While in this position, she was responsible for directing the operation of NiSource's customer contact centers and managing contacts with the company's 3.7 million residential natural gas and electric customers served by NiSource's energy distribution companies. In addition to these responsibilities, Sistovaris's 20 years of experience at NiSource also include positions in the areas of human resources, executive recruiting and management development. Before joining NiSource in 1994, Sistovaris was vice president, Training & Development, at Centier Bank in Merrillville, Ind. Her banking experience centered in the areas of marketing, training and development and sales administration. Sistovaris has served on the board of directors for Opportunity Enterprises, in Valparaiso, Ind. She currently serves on the board of directors for the Girl Scouts of Greater Chicago and Northwest Indiana, where she serves as a member of the strategy committee, fund development committee, the STEM task force and serves as executive advisor to the technology committee. She is also the executive co-sponsor of NiSource's Women in Leadership initiative, designed to provide leadership development and build a pipeline of women leaders. She earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from Valparaiso University and a master's degree in business administration from Indiana University.

Robert C. (Bob) Skaggs Jr.

Bob Skaggs was named president of NiSource in 2004 and added the CEO responsibilities in 2005. Prior to that time, he was executive vice president, Regulated Revenue, for NiSource, responsible for developing regulatory strategies and leading external relations across all of the corporation's 10 energy distribution markets as well as its extensive interstate pipeline system. He also led regulated commercial activities including large customer and marketer relations and energy supply services, as well as federal governmental relations. Skaggs joined the law department of Columbia Gas Transmission in 1981 and served in various management positions until he became president of Columbia Gas of Ohio and Columbia Gas of Kentucky in 1996. Effective with the November 2000 merger of NiSource and Columbia Energy Group, he added the responsibilities of president of Bay State Gas and Northern Utilities. In December 2001, his role was further expanded to include the duties of president and CEO of the Columbia companies in Pennsylvania, Virginia and Maryland. He was promoted to executive vice president, Regulated Revenue, for NiSource in October 2003. Bob is a member of the National Safety Council's board of directors and serves on the board of trustees at Universities Research Association, Inc. He also is past chairman and current director of the American Gas Association's board of directors, and has served on the board of directors of the Southeastern Gas Association. He is a member of the Midwest Energy Association, the American Bar Association, the Energy Bar Association and the West Virginia Bar Association. He also is a trustee of the NiSource Charitable Foundation, and has served in leadership roles for a variety of charitable, community and civic efforts. He earned a bachelor's degree in economics from Davidson College, a law degree from West Virginia University College of Law and a master's degree in business administration from Tulane University.

Stephen P. Smith

Steve Smith is executive vice president and chief financial officer of NiSource Inc. He is responsible for the company's finance and shared services functions. Smith has more than 25 years of experience in financial leadership roles in the energy industry. He has held senior-level positions with American Electric Power Co. (AEP) and the Columbia Energy Group (CEG). At AEP, Smith served as senior vice president of Shared Services, where he had responsibility for Business Logistics, Human Resources, Information Technology and Telecommunications. From 2003 to 2007, he was senior vice president and treasurer for AEP, leading the Accounting, Budgeting, Planning, Risk Management, Strategy, Tax and Treasury functions. Before joining AEP, Smith served in a progression of finance and executive leadership roles at CEG and NiSource Corporate Services Company, where he managed shared services functions and oversaw the integration of corporate functions following the merger of NiSource and CEG. Smith earned a Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Chicago Graduate School of Business and a Bachelor of Science degree in Petroleum Engineering from the Colorado School of Mines. He serves as a Director and Audit Committee member of Natural Resource Partners, L.P., a publicly traded master limited partnership. Steve also is a Board Member of the Columbus Metropolitan Library Foundation and serves on its Finance & Audit Committee. He also serves as a trustee of the NiSource Charitable Foundation.

Jim L. Stanley

Jim Stanley is executive vice president and group CEO for NiSource's Indiana gas and electric utility, Northern Indiana Public Service Company (NIPSCO). In this role, Stanley oversees all regulatory, operations and project management, and is responsible for execution of the business unit's capital investment and growth strategies. NIPSCO serves more than 786,000 natural gas customers and 457,000 electric customers across the northern third of Indiana and is the largest natural gas distribution company and the second largest electric distribution company in the state. Stanley is a member of NiSource's executive management council, joining NiSource in October 2012. He comes to NiSource after serving in a variety of senior executive positions in the utility industry, most recently as senior vice president and chief distribution officer for Duke Energy's U.S. electric business. In this role, he had oversight of the electric distribution system for the company's five-state service area. Previously, he served as president of Duke Energy Indiana, the state's largest electric service provider. His 35-year career with PSI Energy, Cinergy and Duke Energy includes assignments in a variety of departments from accounting to human resources to operations management. Stanley has served in leadership roles in a number of Indiana community and business organizations, including the Central Indiana Corporate Partnership, the Indiana Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce, United Way of Central Indiana, Indiana Manufacturing Association and the Indiana Energy Association. He also serves as a trustee of the NiSource Charitable Foundation and a member of the executive advisory board of the Miller College of Business at Ball State University. Stanley attended Ball State University, where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting.

Board Member BiosRichard A. Abdoo

NiSource Director since 2008. Since May 2004, Mr. Abdoo has been President of R.A. Abdoo & Co. LLC, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, an environmental and energy consulting firm. Prior thereto, Mr. Abdoo was Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Wisconsin Energy Corporation from 1991 until his retirement in April 2004. He also served as President of Wisconsin Energy Corporation from 1991 to April 2003. Mr. Abdoo is also a director of A.K. Steel Corporation and ZBB Energy Corp. By virtue of his former positions as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of a large electric and gas utility holding company, as well as his current positions as director of one other energy-related company and a steel maker that is a major user of energy, Mr. Abdoo has expertise and experience with the issues facing the energy industry in general and public utilities in particular. As a former chief executive officer, Mr. Abdoo has a deep understanding about the issues facing executive management of a major corporation. Mr. Abdoo's credentials as a registered professional engineer in several states allow him to offer a unique technical perspective on certain issues under consideration by the NiSource Board. As a long-time champion of humanitarian and social causes, including on behalf of the Lebanese-American community, Mr. Abdoo brings expertise and understanding with respect to social issues confronting the Company. His commitment to and work on behalf of social causes earned him the Ellis Island Medal of Honor, presented to Americans of diverse origins for their outstanding contributions to their own ethnic groups and to American society.

Aristides S. Candris

NiSource Director since 2012. Dr. Candris was President and Chief Executive Officer of Westinghouse Electric Company, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, a unit of Tokyo-based Toshiba Corp., from July 2008 until his retirement in March 2012. During his 36 years of service at Westinghouse, Dr. Candris served in various positions, including Senior Vice President, Nuclear Fuel from September 2006 to July 2008. Dr. Candris was also on the board of Westinghouse until October 2012 and is a director of Kurion, Inc. Dr. Candris is a nuclear scientist and engineer, and has significant experience gained through leading a global nuclear power company. His knowledge of the electric industry gives him significant insight on the issues impacting the electric utility industry. His experience managing highly technical engineering operations is valuable as we build and maintain facilities to address increasing environmental regulations and make long-term strategic decisions on electric power generation. His technical and management skills are helpful as we build and modernize both our transmission and distribution systems. Dr. Candris' experience developing customer focused programs and attaining excellence in business processes and behaviors is insightful as we better meet the increasing expectations of customers and regulators. He serves on the Boards of Carnegie Mellon University and Transylvania University. He also serves on the Board of Directors for the World Nuclear Association and The Hellenic Initiative.

Sigmund L. Cornelius

NiSource Director since 2011. Since April 2014, Mr. Cornelius has been President and Chief Operating Officer of Freeport LNG, LLC. From October 2008 to January 2011, Mr. Cornelius served as Senior Vice President, Finance and Chief Financial Officer of ConocoPhillips, Houston, Texas, an integrated energy company. During his 30-year tenure at ConocoPhillips, Mr. Cornelius served in various positions, including Senior Vice President, Planning, Strategy and Corporate Affairs from September 2007 to October 2008; Regional President, Exploration & Production-Lower 48 from 2006 to September 2007; and President, Global Gas from 2004 to 2006. Mr. Cornelius served on the board of DCP Midstream L.P. from 2007 to 2008 and is also a director of USEC, Inc., Carbo Ceramics Inc., Western Refining, Inc. and Parallel Energy Inc. Mr. Cornelius has significant experience in the oil and natural gas industry, which enables him to provide valuable insight on issues impacting our pipeline business. He also has significant experience in exploration, production as well as the midstream business, which is valuable to us as we expand our presence in the Utica and Marcellus Shale gas plays. In addition, as the former Chief Financial Officer of a public company, he has extensive experience and skills in the areas of corporate finance, accounting, strategic planning and risk oversight.

Michael E. Jesanis

NiSource Director since 2008. Since July 2013, Mr. Jesanis has been a co-founder and Managing Director of HotZero, LLC, a firm formed to develop hot water district energy systems in New Hampshire. Mr. Jesanis has also, since November 2007, been a principal with Serrafix, Boston, Massachusetts, a firm providing energy efficiency consulting and implementation services, principally to municipalities. Mr. Jesanis also serves as an advisor to several startups in energy related fields. From July 2004 through December 2006, Mr. Jesanis was President and Chief Executive Officer of National Grid USA, a natural gas and electric utility, and a subsidiary of National Grid plc, of which Mr. Jesanis was also an Executive Director. Prior to that, Mr. Jesanis was Chief Operating Officer of National Grid USA from January 2001 to July 2004. Mr. Jesanis also is a director of Ameresco, Inc. By virtue of his former positions as President and Chief Executive Officer, Chief Operating Officer and, prior thereto, Chief Financial Officer of a major electric and gas utility holding company, as well as his current role with an energy efficiency consulting firm, Mr. Jesanis has broad and deep experience with regulated utilities. He has strong financial acumen and extensive managerial experience, having led modernization efforts in the areas of operating infrastructure improvements, customer service enhancements and management-team development. Mr. Jesanis also demonstrates a commitment to education as the former chair of the board of a college and a current trustee (and past chair of the audit committee) of a university. As a result of his former senior managerial roles and his non-profit board service, Mr. Jesanis also has particular expertise with board governance issues.

Marty R. Kittrell

NiSource Director since 2007. In February 2011, Mr. Kittrell retired as Executive Vice President & Chief Financial Officer of Dresser, Inc. ("Dresser"), Addison, Texas, after serving in that capacity since December 2007. Dresser, a worldwide leader in providing highly engineered products for the global energy industry, was acquired by General Electric in February 2011. Prior to joining Dresser, Mr. Kittrell was Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer of Andrew Corporation from October 2003 to December 2007. Mr. Kittrell is also a director of On Assignment, Inc. Mr. Kittrell brings to the Board over 25 years of experience as a Chief Financial Officer. He has served in the role of Chief Financial Officer at several public companies. As a result of this experience, he has significant expertise with financial reporting issues facing the Company, including Securities and Exchange Commission reporting, and Sarbanes-Oxley internal control design and implementation. His recent position with a company that supplies infrastructure products to the energy industry gives Mr. Kittrell a particular familiarity with the issues facing the Company's gas transmission and storage and gas distribution businesses. Mr. Kittrell also has extensive experience with mergers and acquisitions and capital markets transactions. He formerly practiced accounting with a national accounting firm and is an active member of the American Institute of CPAs, the National Association of Corporate Directors, and Financial Executives International. Mr. Kittrell also shows a commitment to education through his service on the board of trustees of a university.

W. Lee Nutter

NiSource Director since 2007. Prior to his retirement in 2007, Mr. Nutter was Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of Rayonier, Inc., Jacksonville, Florida, a leading supplier of high performance specialty cellulose fibers and owner of timberlands and other higher value land holdings. Mr. Nutter was a director of Rayonier, Inc. from 1996 to 2009. He is also a director of Republic Services Inc. and the non-executive Chairman of J.M. Huber Corporation. He is also a member of the Advisory Board at the University of Washington Foster School of Business. Mr. Nutter's former positions as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of a forest products company, and his current positions as director of one company engaged in waste management and another involved in the forest products and energy industries, give him a particular familiarity with the issues involved in managing natural resources. These issues include compliance with environmental laws and exercising responsible environmental stewardship. Mr. Nutter also has an extensive background and familiarity in human resource and compensation issues, which complements well his service as chair of the Company's Officer Nomination and Compensation Committee. In addition, as a former Chief Executive Officer, Mr. Nutter understands how to address the complex issues facing major corporations.

Deborah S. Parker

NiSource Director since 2007. Ms. Parker worked at Alstom Power, a business segment of Alstom, until 2014 where she served as Senior Vice President, Quality and Environmental, Health and Safety. From April 2008 until April 2011, Ms. Parker was President and Chief Executive Officer of International Business Solutions, Inc. ("IBS"), Washington, D.C., a provider of strategic planning and consulting services to profit and not-for-profit organizations. Before joining IBS, Ms. Parker was Executive Vice President and Chief Operations Officer of the National Urban League from July 2007 through April 2008. Prior thereto, Ms. Parker served in numerous operating positions, including Vice President of Global Quality at Ford Motor Company. During her tenure at Ford, Ms. Parker also served as Chief Executive Officer and Group Managing Director at Ford Motor Company of Southern Africa (Pty) Ltd. from September 2001 to December 2004. Ms. Parker brings a unique combination of community development and industrial management experience to the Board. As a Senior Vice President of quality, environmental, health and safety of a global power generation firm, she brings knowledge and understanding of operations, health and safety issues that are valuable to us as we execute on our commitment to increase our investment in environmental projects and focus on safety. As a former Chief Executive Officer of a consulting firm and Chief Operating Officer of a national civil rights organization dedicated to economic empowerment of historically underserved urban communities, Ms. Parker brings expertise and understanding with respect to the social and economic issues confronting the Company and the communities it serves. As a result of her 23-year career at a global manufacturing company, Ms. Parker has extensive experience managing industrial operations, including turning around several struggling business units, finding innovative solutions to management and union issues, implementing quality control initiatives and rationalizing manufacturing and inventory. This experience positions her well to provide valuable insights on the Company's operations and processes, as well as on social issues confronting the Company.

Teresa A. Taylor

NiSource Director since 2012. Ms. Taylor is currently Chief Executive Officer of Blue Valley Advisors, LLC. Ms. Taylor served as Chief Operating Officer of Qwest Communications, Inc. ("Qwest"), Denver, Colorado, from August 2009 to April 2011. Prior thereto, she was Executive Vice President, Business Markets Group from January 2008 to April 2009 and served as Executive Vice President and Chief Administrative Officer from December 2005 to January 2008. Ms. Taylor served in various positions with Qwest and the former US West since 1987. Ms. Taylor also is a director of T-Mobile USA, Inc. and First Interstate BancSystem, Inc. In her position as Chief Operating Officer, Ms. Taylor was responsible for the daily operations of a publicly traded telecommunications company. In this role, she led a senior management team responsible for field support, technical development, sales, marketing, customer support and information technology systems. During her 24-year tenure with Qwest and US West, she held various leadership positions responsible for strategic planning and execution, sales, marketing, product development, human resources, corporate communications and social responsibility. Ms. Taylor is keenly aware of the technical and managerial skills necessary to operate a customer service company in a complex regulatory and competitive business environment. This experience provides valuable insights to the Company as it operates in multiple regulatory environments and develops products and customer service programs to meet the expectations of our customers.

Richard L. Thompson

NiSource Director since 2004; Independent Chairman of the NiSource Board since May 2013. Prior to his retirement in 2004, Mr. Thompson was Group President, Caterpillar Inc., Peoria, Illinois, a leading manufacturer of construction and mining equipment, diesel and natural gas engines and industrial gas turbines. Mr. Thompson also is lead director of Lennox International, Inc. In his prior role as Group President of a large, publicly traded manufacturing company, Mr. Thompson had responsibility for its gas turbine and reciprocating engine business, as well as research and development activities. By virtue of this and prior positions, Mr. Thompson possesses significant experience in energy issues generally and gas turbine electric power generation and natural gas pipeline compression in particular. He is a graduate electrical engineer with experience in electrical transmission system design and generation system planning. This experience provides Mr. Thompson a valuable understanding of technical issues faced by the Company.

Carolyn Y. Woo

NiSource Director since 1998. Since January 2012, Dr. Woo has been President and Chief Executive Officer of Catholic Relief Services, the international humanitarian agency of the Catholic community in the United States. Prior thereto, Dr. Woo was Martin J. Gillen Dean and Ray and Milann Siegfried Professor of Entrepreneurial Studies, Mendoza College of Business, University of Notre Dame, Notre Dame, Indiana. Dr. Woo is also a director of AON Corporation and was a director of Circuit City, Inc. until 2009. Dr. Woo's current position as President and Chief Executive Officer of an international organization provides her with knowledge and experience in managing a large organization. Her experience as the dean of a major business school and her experience as a professor of entrepreneurship provided her a deep understanding of business principles and extensive expertise with management and strategic planning issues. Through her current and previous service on the boards of directors, audit committees and compensation committees of a number of public companies, including a global reinsurance and risk management consulting company, a pharmaceutical distribution company, an international automotive manufacturer, a financial institution and a major electronics retailer, Dr. Woo has developed an excellent understanding of corporate governance, internal control, financial and strategic analysis and risk management issues. Dr. Woo is a leader in the areas of corporate social responsibility and sustainability, which adds an important perspective to the Company. She is also a current and past board member of several non-profit organizations, including an international relief organization, a global business school accreditation organization, leadership development organizations and an educational organization. This commitment to social and educational organizations provides Dr. Woo with an additional important perspective on the various community and social issues confronting the Company in the various communities that the Company serves.

ITEM 1.01. ENTRY INTO A MATERIAL DEFINITIVE AGREEMENT

On December 5, 2014, NiSource Finance Corp. (“NiSource Finance”), as borrower, and NiSource Inc. (the “Company”), as guarantor, entered into a Third Amended and Restated Revolving Credit Agreement (the “Agreement”) with the lenders party thereto, Barclays Bank PLC, as Administrative Agent, Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC, as Syndication Agent, The Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi UFJ Ltd., Citibank, N.A. and JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as Co-Documentation Agents, and Barclays Bank PLC, Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC, The Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi UFJ, Ltd., Citigroup Global Markets, Inc. and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, as Joint Lead Arrangers and Joint Bookrunners. The Agreement will become effective if and when the Company completes the previously announced proposed separation of its natural gas pipeline and related businesses into a stand-alone publicly traded company, Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. (“CPG”), which is expected to occur in mid-2015 (the “CPG Separation”). At that time, the Agreement will amend NiSource Finance’s existing $2.0 billion Revolving Credit Agreement to reduce the facility by $500 million to $1.5 billion and to extend the term until the fifth anniversary of the effective date. Up to $250 million of the facility will be available in the form of standby letters of credit. The Agreement provides that revolving loans will bear interest at the option of the Company at:

- a rate equal to (A) the Alternate Base Rate (which is a floating rate equal to the highest of (i) the prime rate of interest announced by the Administrative Agent from time to time, (ii) the Federal Funds Rate in effect from time to time + 0.50% and (iii) one-month reserve adjusted Eurodollar rate + 1.0%) plus (B) an applicable margin (which applicable margin would be 27.5 basis points, based on the Company’s current ratings), or
- a rate equal to (A) the 1 week or 1, 2, 3 or 6-month Eurodollar rate plus (B) an applicable margin (which applicable margin would be 127.5 basis points, based on the Company’s current ratings).

Other than decreasing the size of the facility, extending the term and providing for the separation of CPG, the Agreement substantially restates the existing Second Amended and Restated Revolving Credit Agreement.

A copy of the Company’s press release is attached to this report as Exhibit 99.1 and is incorporated by reference to this Item 1.01.

ITEM 2.03. CREATION OF A DIRECT FINANCIAL OBLIGATION OR AN OBLIGATION UNDER AN OFF-BALANCE SHEET ARRANGEMENT OF A REGISTRANT

The information set forth under Item 1.01 of this Current Report on Form 8-K is incorporated by reference herein.

ITEM 8.01. OTHER EVENTS

On December 5, 2014, CPG, as borrower, entered into a Revolving Credit Agreement (the “CPG Agreement”) with the lenders party thereto, JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as Administrative Agent, Citibank, N.A., as Syndication Agent, Barclays Bank PLC, The Bank of Nova Scotia and BNP Paribas, as Co-Documentation Agents, and Barclays Bank PLC, Citigroup Global Markets, Inc., The Bank of Nova Scotia, BNP Paribas and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, as Joint Lead Arrangers and Joint Bookrunners. The CPG Agreement will become effective if and when the Company completes the CPG Separation. At that time, the CPG Agreement will become effective and CPG will have aggregate commitments from the lenders to make revolving loans of up to $1.5 billion at any time outstanding. The commitments will terminate and revolving loans will mature on the fifth anniversary of the effective date. Up to $250 million of the facility will be available in the form of standby letters of credit. The CPG Agreement provides that revolving loans will bear interest at the option of the Company at:

- a rate equal to (A) the Alternate Base Rate (which is a floating rate equal to the highest of (i) the prime rate of interest announced by the Administrative Agent from time to time, (ii) the Federal Funds Rate in effect from time to time + 0.50% and (iii) one-month reserve adjusted Eurodollar rate + 1.0%) plus (B) an applicable margin based on the credit ratings of CPG, or
- a rate equal to (A) the 1 week or 1, 2, 3 or 6-month Eurodollar rate plus (B) an applicable margin based on the credit ratings of CPG.

Commencing on the effective date, CPG will be subject to various customary covenants and restrictive provisions which will, among other things, limit CPG and its restricted subsidiaries’ ability to incur additional indebtedness, guarantees and liens; consolidate, merge or transfer all or substantially all of our assets; make certain investments or restricted payments; modify certain material agreements; engage in certain types of transactions with affiliates; dispose of assets; and prepay certain indebtedness, each of which covenants will be subject to customary and usual exceptions and baskets, including an exception to the limitation on restricted payments for distributions of available cash, as permitted by CPG's organizational documents.

The CPG Agreement also contains certain financial covenants that will require CPG to maintain (a) a consolidated total leverage ratio that does not exceed (i) 5.75 to 1.00 for the period of four consecutive fiscal quarters ("test period") ending December 31, 2015, (ii) 5.50 to 1.00 for any test period ending after December 31, 2015 and on or before December 31, 2017, and (iii) 5.00 to 1.00 for any test period ending after December 31, 2017, provided that after December 31, 2017 and during a Specified Acquisition Period (as defined in the CPG Agreement), the leverage ratio shall not exceed 5.50 to 1.00 and (b) until CPG has received an investment grade rating, a Consolidated Interest Coverage Ratio (as defined in the CPG Agreement) of no less than 3.00 to 1.00.

In addition, on December 5, 2014, Columbia Pipeline Partners LP ("CPPL"), a subsidiary of the Company and CPG, as borrower, entered into a Revolving Credit Agreement (the "CPPL Agreement") with the lenders party thereto, Wells Fargo Bank, National Association, as Administrative Agent, The Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi UFJ Ltd., as Syndication Agent, Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC and Royal Bank of Canada, as Co-Documentation Agents, and Wells Fargo Securities, LLC, The Bank of Tokyo-Mitsubishi UFJ Ltd., Credit Suisse Securities (USA) LLC and Royal Bank of Canada, as Joint Lead Arrangers and Joint Bookrunners. The CPPL Agreement will become effective if and when CPPL completes its proposed initial public offering of common units. At that time, the CPPL Agreement will become effective and CPPL will have aggregate commitments from the lenders to make revolving loans of up to $500 million at any time outstanding. The commitments will terminate and revolving loans will mature on the fifth anniversary of the effective date. Up to $50 million of the facility will be available in the form of standby letters of credit. The CPPL Agreement provides that revolving loans will bear interest at the option of the Company at:

- a rate equal to (A) the Alternate Base Rate (which is a floating rate equal to the highest of (i) the prime rate of interest announced by the Administrative Agent from time to time, (ii) the Federal Funds Rate in effect from time to time + 0.50% and (iii) one-month reserve adjusted Eurodollar rate + 1.0%) plus (B) an applicable margin based on the credit ratings of NiSource until such time as CPG has obtained credit ratings, and based on the credit ratings of CPG thereafter, or
- a rate equal to (A) the 1 week or 1, 2, 3 or 6-month Eurodollar rate plus (B) an applicable margin based on the credit ratings of NiSource until such time as CPG has obtained credit ratings, and based on the credit ratings of CPG thereafter.

The Company, as well as CPG and certain of its subsidiaries, will be guarantors of the indebtedness under the CPPL Agreement as of the effective date. The guaranty by the Company shall be automatically released at such time as CPG shall have obtained credit ratings from each of Moody's and S&P or upon completion of the CPG Separation, whichever occurs first.

Commencing on the effective date, CPPL will be subject to various covenants and restrictive provisions which will, among other things, limit CPPL and its restricted subsidiaries' ability to incur additional indebtedness, guarantees and liens; consolidate, merge or transfer all or substantially all of our assets; make certain investments or restricted payments; modify certain material agreements; engage in certain types of transactions with affiliates; dispose of assets; and prepay certain indebtedness, each of which covenants will be subject to customary and usual exceptions and baskets, including an exception to the limitation on restricted payments for distributions of available cash, as permitted by CPPL's organizational documents.

The CPPL Agreement also contains certain financial covenants that will require CPPL to maintain (a) a consolidated total leverage ratio that does not exceed (i) 5.75 to 1.00 for the period of four consecutive fiscal quarters ("test period") ending December 31, 2015, (ii) 5.50 to 1.00 for any test period ending after December 31, 2015 and on or before December 31, 2017, and (iii) 5.00 to 1.00 for any test period ending after December 31, 2017, provided that after December 31, 2017 and during a Specified Acquisition Period (as defined in the CPPL Agreement), the leverage ratio shall not exceed 5.50 to 1.00 and (b) until CPG has received an investment grade rating, a Consolidated Interest Coverage Ratio (as defined in the CPPL Agreement) of no less than 3.00 to 1.00.

- New $1.5 billion facility at Columbia Pipeline Group
- New $500 million facility at Columbia Pipeline Partners

MERRILLVILLE, Ind . - NiSource Inc. companies today closed on a combined $3.5 billion of revolving credit capacity in three, five-year facilities.

The majority of the capacity, $1.5 billion each at NiSource and Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., will become effective following the proposed separation of NiSource's natural gas pipeline business into a stand-alone publicly traded company. The post-separation NiSource facility will amend and replace the company's existing $2.0 billion revolving credit agreement. Both facilities will be used for working capital and other general corporate purposes.

"Having these credit facilities in place now helps ensure both companies are ready to operate independently upon separation and beyond," NiSource President and CEO Robert C. Skaggs Jr. said. "These facilities align with each company's anticipated liquidity needs and support the recapitalization plan we outlined in September."

The $500 million facility at Columbia Pipeline Partners LP will become effective if and when the partnership completes its proposed initial public offering of common units.

Details of the facilities, including lenders involved, can be found in the Form 8-K filed today with the U.S. Securities & Exchange Commission.

NiSource Reports 2014 Earnings

- Results exceed 2014 guidance range
- Infrastructure investment, regulatory programs driving continued growth
- Columbia Pipeline Partners IPO completed successfully
- Separation remains on track for mid-2015
- Projected long-term growth rates highlighted for both NiSource and Columbia Pipeline Group

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. - NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced net operating earnings from continuing operations (non-GAAP) of $542.5 million, or $1.72 per share, for the twelve months ended December 31, 2014, compared to net operating earnings from continuing operations (non-GAAP) of $493.9 million, or $1.58 per share in 2013 - representing an 8.9 percent year-over-year increase. Consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the twelve months ended December 31, 2014, were $1,270.3 million compared to $1,146.3 million in 2013.

On a GAAP basis, NiSource reported income from continuing operations for the twelve months ended December 31, 2014, of $530.7 million, or $1.68 per share, compared with $490.9 million, or $1.57 per share in 2013. Operating income was $1,262.4 million for the twelve months ended December 31, 2014, compared with $1,143.4 million in 2013. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2014 and 2013 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

For the three months ended December 31, 2014, NiSource's net operating earnings (non-GAAP) were $160.7 million, or $0.51 per share, compared with $148.7 million, or $0.47 per share for the same period in 2013. On a GAAP basis, income from continuing operations for the three months ended December 31, 2014, was $154.3 million, or $0.49 per share, compared with $153.0 million, or $0.49 per share, for the same period in 2013.

"2014 was truly a watershed year for NiSource, anchored by focused execution of our well-established infrastructure investments and the initiation of strategic and transformational growth plans," NiSource President & Chief Executive Officer Robert C. Skaggs, Jr. said. "Supported by a record $2.2 billion capital investment program, NiSource again delivered on our earnings commitments and, for the sixth consecutive year, produced total returns for shareholders that exceeded the performance of the major utility indices.”

In addition to the notable achievements in 2014, NiSource successfully completed the initial public offering (IPO) of common units in Columbia Pipeline Partners LP (NYSE: CPPL) on February 11, 2015. Columbia Pipeline Partners issued a press release outlining its pre-IPO financial results for 2014 this morning.

Columbia Pipeline Group separation plans on track

On September 28, 2014, NiSource announced that its Board of Directors approved, in principle, plans to separate its natural gas pipeline and related businesses into a stand-alone, publicly traded company, Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG).

The separation remains on schedule, with a preliminary Form 10 for CPG filed with the U.S. Securities & Exchange Commission on February 6, 2015. Key expected board members and executive team members for both companies were announced in late 2014 and early 2015. NiSource also entered into two $1.5 billion revolving credit facilities in December to support the liquidity needs of both NiSource and CPG following the separation. Both facilities will become effective at the time of the separation. In addition, Columbia Pipeline Partners entered into a $500 million facility effective with the completion of its initial public offering. The post-separation NiSource facility will amend and replace the company's existing $2.0 billion revolving credit agreement.

“We remain on track to complete the transition in mid-2015,” Skaggs said. “Following the separation, both companies are expected to move forward as independent, investment-grade, pure-play entities with experienced teams focused on executing - and elevating - multi-billion-dollar infrastructure investment plans.”

The recapitalization process associated with the separation is expected to take place in the second quarter of 2015. As outlined at NiSource’s September Investor Day, the recapitalization process will include CPG issuing its own long-term debt prior to the separation to fund a one-time cash distribution to NiSource, which will ultimately reduce NiSource’s net debt. NiSource shareholders would retain their current shares of NiSource stock and receive a pro-rata dividend of shares of CPG stock in a transaction that is expected to be tax-free to NiSource and its shareholders. The actual number of CPG shares that would be distributed to NiSource shareholders will be determined prior to closing.

Robust long-term investment and growth outlooks for both companies

NiSource’s natural gas and electric utilities have identified approximately $30 billion in infrastructure investment opportunities over the next 20-plus years. These investments, paired with complementary regulatory and customer programs, are expected to deliver long-term earnings and dividend growth averaging 4-6 percent per year. NiSource’s infrastructure investment inventory is focused on core utility modernization and expansion projects that provide tangible value to customers and communities. NiSource’s utility capital investments are expected to reach approximately $1.3 billion in 2015.

CPG has developed a significant portfolio of organic growth investment opportunities that complement its seminal customer-supported system modernization program. Those opportunities are expected to result in approximately $12-$15 billion in growth capital investment over the next 10 years. These infrastructure projects, many of which are already under way, are expected to drive significant increased net investment, resulting in anticipated annual adjusted EBITDA growth in the mid-to-upper-teens over the next several years. CPG's annual dividend growth is expected to be commensurate with this adjusted EBITDA growth. In 2015, CPG’s capital investments are expected to reach approximately $1.1 billion, up from approximately $850 million in 2014.

Beyond the projected long-term annual growth and 2015 capital investment rates provided above, NiSource is not providing full-year guidance due to the pending separation of NiSource and CPG. As the separation date moves closer, both companies plan to provide additional details on their respective performance expectations.

There will likely be differences between the projected non-GAAP long-term average annual growth rates presented above and their GAAP comparisons. Due to the unpredictability of weather and other factors, NiSource will not be providing projected long-term average annual GAAP growth rates.

Columbia Pipeline Group continues with core modernization program, transformational growth projects

During 2014, CPG further enhanced its strategic asset position in the Marcellus and Utica Shale production regions by placing in service several new market-driven facility expansions, originating several major growth projects and continuing to deliver on its system modernization program. Key execution highlights for CPG include:

- CPG placed more than $300 million in regulated system expansion projects in service in 2014, adding approximately 1.1 billion cubic feet of system capacity. A key project placed in service was the approximately $200 million West Side Expansion project. Fully subscribed with long-term contracts, the project involved making a portion of Columbia Gulf Transmission system bi-directional and capable of transporting 540 million cubic feet per day of Marcellus Shale production to Gulf Coast and southeast markets.
- In December, CPG filed to recover costs related to the second year of investments under the Columbia Gas Transmission long-term system modernization program. The filing with the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission (FERC) reflects approximately $320 million in facilities placed in service as of October 31, 2014. Recovery of these investments began on February 1, 2015. A settlement with the company's customers - approved in early 2013 - addresses the initial five years of an expected 10-15 year program that exceeds $4 billion in investment.
- Also in December, the FERC approved construction of CPG's East Side Expansion project. The project will provide approximately 315 million cubic feet per day of additional capacity for Marcellus Shale supplies to reach growing - and capacity constrained - northeastern and mid-Atlantic markets. The approximately $275 million project is expected to be placed in service in the third quarter of 2015.
- Progress continues on several other major growth projects, including CPG's approximately $1.8 billion combined investment in the Leach and Rayne XPress projects, which will provide additional market access for Marcellus and Utica Shale production. Other projects in various stages of execution include the $870 million WB XPress project, the $310 million Cameron Access project, the $50 million Utica Access project, the $30 million Chesapeake LNG Plant Upgrade project, and the $25 million Kentucky Power Plant Conversion project. Together these projects will add approximately 4 billion cubic feet of new capacity commitments across the CPG system, including access to LNG export facilities in Louisiana and Maryland.
- CPG also is in advanced commercial discussions with customers regarding the proposed Mountaineer XPress and Gulf XPress projects, which would provide further transportation capacity out of the Marcellus and Utica Shale production basins. The company expects to provide additional information about the scope and timeline of the projects in the first half of 2015.

- Columbia Midstream Group (CMG) , formerly NiSource Midstream Services, placed its $60 million natural gas liquids line project in service during the fourth quarter of 2014. The line is part of the Pennant Midstream, LLC 50/50 partnership with Harvest Pipeline, an affiliate of Hilcorp Energy, and connects the Hickory Bend Cryogenic Processing Plant to the UEO Kensington facility in northeast Ohio. Initial capacity is approximately 45,000 barrels of liquids per day with expansion potential up to 90,000 barrels per day. The partnership's Hickory Bend Processing Plant and gathering facilities went in service in the first half of 2014.
- CMG also is on schedule to place the first phase of its $120 million Washington County Gathering project and its approximately $65 million Big Pine Gathering System Expansion project in service before the end of 2015.

“CPG continues to execute on a wide variety of high-value projects, many of which are aimed at delivering efficient capacity for customers transporting natural gas supplies out of the Marcellus and Utica formations to liquid markets,” Skaggs said. “Our strategic footprint also provides us with significant opportunities to competitively optimize and expand our system to meet the growing needs of our customers, including competitively priced supply for local utilities, gas-fired power generation, and LNG exporters; and access to growing, high value markets for producers.”

NIPSCO places second scrubber in service, remains on plan with modernization, environmental and growth investments

During the fourth quarter of 2014, NiSource's Indiana natural gas and electric business, Northern Indiana Public Service Co. (NIPSCO), remained on track with a broad agenda of reliability, modernization, customer service and environmental improvements. Key execution highlights for NIPSCO include:

- In December, NIPSCO placed its final flue gas desulfurization (FGD) unit in service at its R.M. Schahfer Electric Generating Station. This unit, like the one placed in service during the fourth quarter of 2013, was delivered on time and on budget. A third FGD unit, this one at NIPSCO's Michigan City Generating Station, is on schedule to be placed in service by the end of 2015. These investments are part of more than $850 million in environmental projects completed or in progress that allow NIPSCO to continue generating electricity using low-cost, reliable and efficient facilities, while improving air quality.
- NIPSCO filed its 2015 investment plans with the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC) under the company's seven-year, nearly $2 billion electric and natural gas modernization programs . The company completed nearly $120 million of modernization projects in 2014 and plans to invest approximately $185 million in 2015.
- Progress also continued on two major NIPSCO electric transmission projects designed to enhance region-wide system flexibility and reliability. Right-of-way acquisition and permitting are under way for both projects. The Greentown-Reynolds project is an approximately 70-mile, 765-kilovolt line being constructed in a joint development agreement with Pioneer Transmission, and the Reynolds-Topeka project is a 100-mile, 345-kilovolt line. These projects involve an investment of approximately $500 million for NIPSCO and are anticipated to be in service by the end of 2018.

- Also during the quarter, NIPSCO received approval from the IURC to extend its Green Power Rate Program. The company also reached a settlement agreement to continue its Feed-in Tariff Program. The Green Power Rate program, introduced in early 2013, allows customers to designate a portion or all of their monthly electric usage to be attributable to power generated by renewable energy sources. The Feed-in Tariff program, originally introduced in 2012, allows customers to generate their own electricity via small-scale renewable resources and sell it back to the company.

Gas Distribution unit maintains execution focus with continued progress on modernization investments and regulatory initiatives

The NiSource Gas Distribution (NGD) companies continue to execute against their expanded infrastructure replacement and enhancement programs, complemented by a variety of customer programs and regulatory initiatives. Three recent regulatory execution highlights for NGD include:

- On November 12, 2014, the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission approved a settlement in Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania's (CPA) base rate case. The case provides for recovery of CPA's investments in its well-established infrastructure modernization program and will increase annual revenues by approximately $33 million. New rates went into effect on December 20, 2014.
- Columbia Gas of Virginia (CGV) reached a settlement on its base rate case in December 2014. The Hearing Examiner issued a recommendation to approve the settlement, and CGV expects a decision by the Virginia State Corporation Commission by the end of the first quarter of 2015. The case seeks to recover costs related to significant capital investments CGV has made to improve its system and accommodate growth, as well as costs incurred related to a number of initiatives designed to improve the safety and reliability of its system. If the settlement is approved as filed, the case would provide a base rate increase of approximately $25 million, including recovery of pipeline safety program costs.
- Columbia Gas of Massachusetts (CMA) filed its 2015 Gas System Enhancement Plan on October 31, 2014, under new legislation authorizing accelerated recovery of gas infrastructure modernization investments. If approved by the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities, cost recovery associated with the enhancement plan - which would increase annual revenues by approximately $2.6 million - would begin on May 1, 2015.

"NiSource's utilities remain focused on executing their robust infrastructure plans," Skaggs said. "This industry-leading platform for growth provides significant reliability, safety and environmental benefits to our existing and new customers, while also delivering shareholder returns through transparent recovery mechanisms."

Full-Year 2014 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the year ended December 31, 2014, were $1,270.3 million, compared to $1,146.3 million for the same period in 2013. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2014 and 2013 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the year ended December 31, 2014, are discussed below.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations reported operating earnings of $490.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $441.2 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $79.1 million primarily due to higher demand margin revenue as a result of growth projects placed into service and new firm contracts. Additionally, there was an increase in net revenues as a result of higher mineral rights royalty revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $40.3 million primarily due to higher employee and administrative costs, increased outside service costs, higher depreciation, a prior year gain on the sale of storage assets and increased property taxes. These increases were partially offset by gains on the conveyance of mineral interests and a decrease in software data conversion costs. Equity earnings increased by $10.7 million primarily from increased earnings at Millennium Pipeline.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $287.7 million for the year ended December 31, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $265.3 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $46.9 million primarily due to increased industrial margins and higher environmental investment cost recovery. Additionally, net revenues increased as a result of two electric transmission projects authorized by the Midcontinent Independent System Operator (MISO) and higher off-system sales. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in transmission upgrade revenue included in net revenues in the prior year.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $24.5 million due primarily to increased electric generation costs largely due to maintenance-related outages and higher employee and administrative costs.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $517.4 million for the year ended December 31, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $448.8 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $126.3 million primarily attributable to an increase in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of the 2013 rate settlement at Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, the new rates at Columbia Gas of Massachusetts, as well as, the implementation of new rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program. Additionally, there was increased residential, commercial and industrial usage, higher revenue due to an increase in residential and commercial customers and increased off-system sales.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $57.7 million due primarily to higher employee and administrative costs, increased depreciation due to higher capital expenditures, higher outside service costs, increased other taxes, and higher uncollectibles. These increases were partially offset by lower environmental costs.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $25.5 million for the year ended December 31, 2014, compared to an operating earnings loss of $9.0 million for the comparable prior period. The increased loss is primarily due to employee and administrative costs and consulting fees.

Other Items

Interest expense increased by $28.8 million due the issuance of long-term debt in April and October 2013 and the expiration of interest rate swaps in July 2014, partially offset by the maturity of long-term debt in March 2013 and July 2014.

Other, net reflected income of $22.3 million compared to income of $24.2 million in 2013.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 36.1 percent compared to 34.6 percent for the same period last year due to higher state income taxes, primarily an Indiana state income tax change.

Fourth Quarter 2014 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the three months ended December 31, 2014, were $361.8 million, compared to $340.0 million for the same period in 2013. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2014 and 2013 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the three months ended December 31, 2014, are discussed below.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations reported operating earnings of $133.7 million for the three months ended December 31, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $120.4 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $17.9 million primarily due to higher demand margin revenue as a result of growth projects placed into service and new firm contracts.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $8.0 million primarily due to an increase in outside service costs, higher employee and administrative costs and increased depreciation. These increases were partially offset by gains on the conveyance of mineral interests. Equity earnings increased by $3.4 million primarily from increased earnings at Millennium Pipeline.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $63.5 million for the three months ended December 31, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $51.3 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $5.1 million primarily due to increased environmental investment cost recovery and two electric transmission projects authorized by the MISO.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, decreased by $7.1 million due primarily to lower employee and administrative costs and decreased other taxes.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $173.8 million for the three months ended December 31, 2014, compared with operating earnings of $164.2 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $29.3 million primarily attributable to increases in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of new rates at Columbia Gas of Virginia and Columbia Gas of Massachusetts and the implementation of new rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $19.7 million due primarily to increased outside service costs, higher depreciation, and increased employee and administrative costs.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $9.2 million for the three months ended December 31, 2014, compared to operating earnings of $4.1 million for the comparable prior period. The change is primarily due to increased employee and administrative costs.

Other Items

Interest expense increased by $5.3 million due to the expiration of interest rate swaps in July 2014, decreased AFUDC (Allowance for Funds Used During Construction) balances and the issuance of long-term debt in August 2014, partially offset by the maturity of long-term debt in July 2014.

Other, net reflected income of $1.1 million compared to income of $2.1 million in 2013.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 35.0 percent compared to 35.8 percent for the same period last year.

ITEM 5.02. DEPARTURE OF DIRECTORS OR CERTAIN OFFICERS; ELECTION OF DIRECTORS; APPOINTMENT OF CERTAIN OFFICERS; COMPENSATORY ARRANGEMENTS OF CERTAIN OFFICERS

NiSource Inc. (the "Company") announced that it has appointed Donald Brown as an executive vice president in its Finance organization effective April 6, 2015. He is expected to be appointed chief financial officer of the Company, effective upon the completion of the previously announced separation of the Company and Columbia Pipeline Group. The separation is expected to be completed in mid-2015.

Prior to this appointment, Mr. Brown, age 43, served as vice president and chief financial officer at UGI Utilities, a division of UGI Corporation since 2010. From 2005 to 2010 he served as a director of Treasury Services at UGI Corporation and controller at UGI Utilities. Prior to joining UGI, he served in a variety of financial leadership and consulting roles at Constellation Energy, Progress Energy and Deloitte & Touche LLP.

As a result of his new appointment, Mr. Brown is being compensated pursuant to the terms of a letter agreement dated March 17, 2015, by and between Mr. Brown and the Company (the "Employment Agreement"). The Employment Agreement provides that Mr. Brown's annual base salary is $450,000 and that he will participate in the Company's performance-based annual short-term incentive plan with a target bonus opportunity for 2015 of 60% of his annual base salary, with a range of 25% to 95%. He will receive a signing bonus of $75,000, and he will be granted a long-term equity incentive award of restricted stock units under the 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan with a value on the date of grant equal to $750,000, which vests in 2018. He will also receive a one-time long-term equity incentive award of restricted stock units under such plan with a value on the date of grant equal to $510,000, one-third of which vests on the first anniversary of his employment, and the other two-thirds vests on the second anniversary of his employment. Mr. Brown will also be entitled to participate in the Company's benefit plans, the Executive Severance Policy and, subject to approval of the Officer Nomination and Compensation Committee, a change in control agreement on substantially the same terms as those for other Company senior executives.

The Company's press release dated March 24, 2015 is furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to this report and is incorporated herein by reference.

Donald Brown to join NiSource as finance executive vice president

Expected to be appointed as chief financial officer at the time of NiSource/Columbia Pipeline Group separation

MERRILLVILLE, Ind . - NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced that Donald Brown will join the company on April 6, 2015, as an executive vice president in the corporation's Finance organization. Brown is expected to be appointed chief financial officer (CFO) for NiSource, effective upon the completion of the previously announced separation of NiSource and Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG) into stand-alone, publicly traded companies. The separation is expected to be completed in mid-2015.

As announced last December, NiSource's current executive vice president (EVP) and CFO, Stephen P. Smith , is expected to become EVP and CFO at CPG at the time of the separation. Brown will report to Joseph Hamrock , EVP and group chief executive officer (CEO) of NiSource's Gas Distribution business unit. Hamrock is expected to become CEO of NiSource at the time of the separation.

"Donald brings an exceptional depth of public utility experience combined with a track record of disciplined financial management and execution," Hamrock said. "He joins an already solid and familiar team of finance and operational leaders that have consistently delivered on our customer and investor expectations during a period of significant growth and expansion."

"Donald's experience complements a proven and respected management team planned for NiSource, and his appointment is an important step to ensuring both CPG and NiSource are prepared to execute as independent companies," Richard L. Thompson , NiSource Board of Directors Chairman, said. "With strong executive teams now named for both companies, NiSource and CPG are poised to execute on their distinct, well-established strategies to deliver enhanced value for each company's customers, investors and other key stakeholders."

Brown most recently served as vice president and chief financial officer at UGI Utilities, a division of UGI Corporation. From 2005 to 2010 he served as a director of Treasury Services at UGI Corporation and controller at UGI Utilities. Prior to joining UGI, he served in a variety of financial leadership and consulting roles at Constellation Energy, Progress Energy and Deloitte.

Brown earned a Master of Business Administration degree from Duke University's Fuqua School of Business and a Bachelor of Science degree in economics from the University of Pennsylvania.

NiSource Reports First Quarter 2015 Earnings

- Consistent execution of core infrastructure investment strategy
- Columbia Pipeline Group separation on track for July 1, 2015
- Companies to highlight post-separation growth strategies on May 14, 2015

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. - NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced net operating earnings from continuing operations - controlling interest (non-GAAP) of $268.3 million, or $0.85 per share, for the three months ended March 31, 2015, compared with $258.4 million, or $0.82 per share, for the same period in 2014. Operating earnings for the first quarter (non-GAAP) were $528.7 million, compared to $509.1 million in the prior period.

On a GAAP basis, NiSource reported income from continuing operations - controlling interest of $268.4 million, or $0.85 per share, for the three months ended March 31, 2015, compared with $266.4 million, or $0.85 per share, for the same period in 2014. Operating income for the first quarter was $530.1 million, compared to $533.7 million in the prior period. Schedules 1 and 2 of this news release contain a reconciliation of net operating earnings and operating earnings to GAAP net income and operating income, respectively.

“Our core infrastructure-focused business strategies at our utilities and pipeline businesses continued to deliver solid financial and operational results,” NiSource President & Chief Executive Officer Robert C. Skaggs, Jr. said.

“NiSource teams are successfully delivering on significant growth and modernization projects, advancing a variety of important regulatory and customer programs, and implementing our plan to separate into two premier, independent companies.”

Columbia Pipeline Group separation on track for July 1, 2015

During the first quarter, NiSource continued to make progress on its planned separation of Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG) into a stand-alone, publicly traded company, which is expected to become effective on July 1, 2015. CPG is expected to begin trading the next day on the New York Stock Exchange under the ticker symbol “CPGX.”

In early April, the companies discussed their respective financial plans with the three major credit rating agencies. NiSource expects that CPG will be formally rated prior to its May debt recapitalization transaction and that NiSource's credit rating will be addressed at or just prior to the separation.

"We are solidly on track with our core separation strategies and key goals at both companies," Skaggs said. "Each company will be positioned to be premier in its respective business segment - well capitalized, with robust and transparent long-term growth plans, expected growing dividends and solid leadership - with the capacity and focus to deliver enhanced long-term growth."

The debt recapitalization process is expected to close in May 2015 and will include CPG issuing its own long-term debt to fund a one-time cash distribution to NiSource prior to the separation, which will be used, in large part, to reduce NiSource's net debt.

At the separation, NiSource shareholders will retain their current shares of NiSource stock and receive a pro-rata dividend of shares of CPG stock, expected to be at a 1-to-1 ratio. The actual number of CPG shares to be distributed to NiSource shareholders will be determined prior to closing. The transaction is expected to be tax-free to NiSource and its shareholders, and is subject to various conditions, including final approval by the NiSource board of directors.

Webcasts scheduled for May 14, 2015, to highlight independent company investment propositions

To highlight NiSource's and CPG's growth strategies following the planned separation, the companies are hosting webcasts on Thursday, May 14, 2015.

NiSource's post-separation executive team, led by announced Chief Executive Officer Joseph Hamrock, will present an update on the separation process, and provide an overview of its pure-play utility investment and customer proposition from 9:00 a.m. - 10:30 a.m. ET. A webcast of the event with accompanying presentations will be available at www.nisource.com. The webcast also will be archived at the NiSource website.

CPG's post-separation executive team, led by announced Chairman & Chief Executive Officer Bob Skaggs, will provide an overview of CPG's business strategy, highlighting its growth and infrastructure investment inventory, from 10:30 a.m. - noon ET. A webcast of the event with accompanying presentations will be available at www.nisource.com. The webcast also will be archived at the NiSource website.

First Quarter 2015 Highlights

Columbia Pipeline Group growth projects address market needs and complement long-term system modernization program

During the first quarter, CPG continued to strengthen its competitive market position in the Marcellus and Utica Shale production regions by advancing several major growth projects and executing on the company's long-term system modernization program. In total, CPG is on track to invest approximately $1.1 billion in these and other infrastructure projects during 2015.

- In January, CPG commenced the third year of the Columbia Gas Transmission long-term system modernization program. CPG expects to invest approximately $300 million in modernization investments during the year. Recovery of approximately $320 million of investments made in 2014 began on February 1, 2015. A settlement with the company's customers - approved in early 2013 - addresses the initial five years of an expected 10-15 year program that exceeds $4 billion in investment.

- On March 27, CPG launched binding open seasons for its proposed Mountaineer XPress (MXP) and Gulf XPress (GXP) projects. These projects, which have a critical mass of firm customer commitments in place, would provide significant new transportation capacity for Marcellus and Utica Shale production. MXP would provide up to 2.7 billion cubic feet per day of firm transportation capacity along the Columbia Gas Transmission system. GXP would provide nearly 900 million cubic feet per day of firm transportation capacity by adding compression and looping along the existing Columbia Gulf Transmission system. Together, both projects could involve an investment of approximately $2.6 billion. CPG is very encouraged by the results of the open season, which concluded April 23.
- CPG's East Side Expansion project remains on schedule to be placed in service in the fourth quarter of 2015. The $275 million project will provide approximately 315 million cubic feet per day of additional capacity for Marcellus Shale supplies to reach growing - and capacity constrained - northeastern and mid-Atlantic markets.
- Progress continues on several other major growth projects, including CPG's approximately $1.8 billion combined investment in the Leach and Rayne XPress projects, the $850 million WB XPress project, the $310 million Cameron Access project, the $50 million Utica Access project, the $30 million Chesapeake LNG Plant Upgrade project, and the $25 million Kentucky Power Plant Conversion project. Together, these projects will entail approximately 4 billion cubic feet of new capacity commitments across the CPG system, including access to LNG export facilities in Louisiana and Maryland.
- Columbia Midstream Group remains on budget and schedule with the first phase of its $120 million Washington County Gathering project and its approximately $65 million Big Pine Expansion project. Both are expected to be in service before the end of 2015.

NIPSCO on track with modernization, environmental and electric transmission investments

Northern Indiana Public Service Co. (NIPSCO), NiSource's Indiana natural gas and electric business, remains on track with a broad agenda of reliability, modernization, customer service and environmental investments.

- NIPSCO remains on schedule and on budget with its flue gas desulfurization (FGD) unit at its Michigan City Generating Station. The approximately $265 million project is expected to be placed in service by the end of this year. Another approximately $80 million in environmental investments also will be completed at NIPSCO's coal-fired generating facilities this year. These investments, supported with cost recovery, help improve air quality and ensure NIPSCO's generation fleet remains in compliance with current environmental regulations. These investments also help ensure that NIPSCO can continue offering low-cost, reliable and efficient generating capacity for its customers.
- During the first quarter, NIPSCO commenced 2015 investments under the company's seven-year, approximately $2 billion electric and natural gas modernization programs. The company plans to invest approximately $193 million ($124 million gas | $69 million electric) on modernization projects in 2015. The investments will help improve system reliability and safety while delivering economic development benefits to the region. NIPSCO remains committed to these investments while continuing to work through the legal process following a recent Indiana Court of Appeals decision.

- Progress also continued on two major NIPSCO electric transmission projects designed to enhance region-wide system flexibility and reliability. The Greentown-Reynolds project is an approximately 70-mile, 765-kilovolt line being constructed in a joint development agreement with Pioneer Transmission, and the Reynolds-Topeka project is a 100-mile, 345-kilovolt line. Right-of-way acquisition and permitting are under way for both projects and construction has begun on the Reynolds-Topeka line. These projects involve an investment of approximately $500 million for NIPSCO and are anticipated to be in service by the end of 2018.

Gas Distribution segment maintains execution focus with continued progress on modernization investments and regulatory initiatives

NiSource Gas Distribution companies continue to execute expanded infrastructure replacement and enhancement programs, complemented by a variety of customer programs and regulatory initiatives.

- NiSource expects to invest approximately $900 million during 2015 as part of more than $20 billion in long-term infrastructure investment opportunities for the company's gas distribution businesses. These investments help improve reliability and safety for customers and the community, provide additional customer access to natural gas service and reduce emissions. Through transparent recovery mechanisms, these investments also generate sustainable returns for shareholders.
- On March 19, Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania (CPA) filed a rate case with the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission to support continuation of CPA's infrastructure modernization and safety programs. If approved as filed, the case would increase annual revenues by approximately $46 million. A decision is expected later this year.
- Columbia Gas of Massachusetts (CMA) filed a base rate case on April 16, 2015, with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities (DPU). The case seeks to recover costs to support CMA's multi-year modernization plan to maintain the safety and reliability of natural gas service for customers. If approved as filed, the case would increase annual revenues by approximately $49 million. A decision is expected with rates in effect by March 1, 2016.
- A decision on CMA's 2015 Gas System Enhancement Plan is expected to be issued by the DPU later today. Cost recovery associated with the 2015 investments outlined in the current plan would begin on May 1, 2015, and increase annual revenues by approximately $2.6 million.
- Columbia Gas of Virginia's base rate case remains pending with the Virginia State Corporation Commission. A stipulated settlement with staff and intervening parties approved a revenue increase of approximately $25 million. A final order is expected later this year.
- On April 22, the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio approved Columbia Gas of Ohio's (COH) annual infrastructure replacement and demand-side management rider. The rider provides for recovery of COH's well-established pipeline replacement program and customer energy efficiency program investments.

First Quarter 2015 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the three months ended March 31, 2015, were $528.7 million, compared to $509.1 million for the same period in 2014. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2015 and 2014 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the three months ended March 31, 2015, are discussed below.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations reported operating earnings of $163.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $158.9 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $21.6 million primarily due to higher demand margin revenue as a result of growth projects placed into service and new firm contracts. This increase was partially offset by decreased mineral rights royalty revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $23.1 million primarily due to lower gains on the conveyance of mineral interests, higher employee and administrative costs and increased depreciation. Equity earnings increased by $5.6 million primarily from increased earnings at Millennium Pipeline and Pennant Midstream.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $67.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $74.2 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, decreased by $0.2 million primarily due to decreased off-system sales and lower industrial margins. These decreases were partially offset by lower fuel handling costs, higher revenue related to two electric transmission projects authorized by the Midcontinent Independent System Operator (MISO), and increased environmental investment cost recovery.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $6.8 million due primarily to higher employee and administrative costs and increased environmental expenses.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $305.8 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $280.1 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $42.8 million primarily attributable to increases in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of new rates at Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, Columbia Gas of Virginia and Columbia Gas of Massachusetts, as well as the implementation of new rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $17.1 million due primarily to increased employee and administrative costs, higher depreciation, and increased outside service costs.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $ 7.3 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015, compared with an operating loss of $4.1 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014. The increase is primarily due to higher employee and administrative costs.

Other Items

Interest expense, net was $111.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2015 compared to interest expense, net of $109.1 million for the prior period.

Other, net reflected income of $7.1 million compared to income of $4.5 million in 2014 primarily due to current period transmission agreement income.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 35.2 percent compared to 36.1 percent for the same period last year.

The Tender Offer will expire at 11:59 p.m., Eastern Time, on June 2, 2015, unless extended (such date and time, as the same may be extended, the “Expiration Time”). Holders of Notes must validly tender and not validly withdraw their Notes on or before 5:00 p.m., Eastern time, on May 18, 2015, unless extended (such date and time, as the same may be extended, the “Early Tender Deadline”) to be eligible to receive the applicable Total Consideration (as defined below) for their tendered Notes. After such time, the Notes may not be withdrawn except in certain limited circumstances where additional withdrawal rights are required by law.

The “Total Consideration” for each $1,000 principal amount of Notes of any series tendered and accepted for purchase pursuant to the Tender Offer will be determined in the manner described in the Offer to Purchase by reference to the applicable fixed spread specified for such series over the yield based on the bid-side price of the applicable U.S. Treasury Security specified for such series in the table above and on the front cover of the Offer to Purchase. Holders of Notes that are validly tendered and not validly withdrawn on or before the Early Tender Deadline and accepted for purchase will receive the applicable Total Consideration for such Notes, which includes an early tender payment of $30.00 per $1,000 principal amount of Notes accepted for purchase (the “Early Tender Premium”). Holders of Notes that are validly tendered after the Early Tender Deadline and on or before the Expiration Time and accepted for purchase will receive the applicable Tender Consideration for such Notes, which equals the applicable Total Consideration for such Notes minus the Early Tender Premium. Holders whose Notes are accepted for purchase pursuant to the Tender Offer will also receive accrued and unpaid interest on their purchased Notes from the last interest payment date for such Notes to, but excluding, the applicable settlement date.

The Tender Offer is not conditioned upon any minimum amount of Notes being tendered, and the Tender Offer may be amended, extended, terminated or withdrawn in whole or with respect to one or more series of Notes. The amounts of each series of Notes that are purchased on any settlement date will be determined in accordance with the Acceptance Priority Levels set forth on the table above and the front cover of the Offer to Purchase (the "Acceptance Priority Levels"), with 1 being the highest Acceptance Priority Level and 4 being the lowest Acceptance Priority Level. In addition, no more than $275,000,000 aggregate principal amount of the series of Notes with Acceptance Priority Level 1 and no more than $300,000,000 aggregate principal amount of the series of Notes with Acceptance Priority Level 2 will be purchased in the Tender Offer (each such aggregate principal amount, a "Tender Cap" with respect to the applicable series of Notes). NiSource will only accept for purchase Notes up to a combined aggregate principal amount of $750,000,000 (the "Maximum Amount"), subject to the applicable Tender Caps and Acceptance Priority Levels.

NiSource reserves the right to increase or decrease the Maximum Amount, increase, decrease or eliminate any Tender Cap, or change the Acceptance Priority Level with respect to any series of Notes. If Holders tender more Notes in the Tender Offer than they expect to be accepted for purchase by NiSource based on a lower Acceptance Priority Level and/or any applicable Tender Cap for the Notes being tendered, and NiSource subsequently accepts more than such Holders expected of such Notes tendered and not validly withdrawn on or before the Withdrawal Deadline, such Holders will not be able to withdraw any of their previously tendered Notes. Accordingly, Holders should not tender any Notes that they do not wish to be accepted for purchase.

Subject to the applicable Tender Caps, all Notes validly tendered and not validly withdrawn on or before the Early Tender Deadline having a higher Acceptance Priority Level will be accepted before any tendered Notes having a lower Acceptance Priority Level are accepted in the Tender Offer, and all Notes validly tendered after the Early Tender Deadline having a higher Acceptance Priority Level will be accepted before any Notes tendered after the Early Tender Deadline having a lower Acceptance Priority Level are accepted in the Tender Offer. However, Notes validly tendered and not validly withdrawn at or prior to the Early Tender Deadline will be accepted for purchase in priority to other Notes tendered after the Early Tender Deadline, even if such Notes tendered after the Early Tender Deadline have a higher Acceptance Priority Level than Notes tendered prior to the Early Tender Deadline.

Notes of a series subject to a Tender Cap may be subject to proration if the aggregate principal amount of the Notes of such series validly tendered and not validly withdrawn is greater than the applicable Tender Cap. Furthermore, if purchasing all of the tendered Notes of a series of Notes of an applicable Acceptance Priority Level on any settlement date would cause the Maximum Amount or applicable Tender Cap to be exceeded, the amount of that series of Notes purchased on that settlement date will be prorated based on the aggregate principal amount of that series of Notes tendered in respect of that settlement date such that the Maximum Amount or applicable Tender Cap will not be exceeded. Furthermore, if the Tender Offer is fully subscribed as of the Early Tender Deadline, Holders who validly tender Notes after the Early Tender Deadline will not have any of their Notes accepted for payment. If a series of Notes is fully subscribed up to the applicable Tender Cap as of the Early Tender Deadline, Holders who validly tender Notes of such series after the Early Tender Deadline will not have any of their Notes accepted for payment (absent any subsequent increase in the applicable Tender Cap).

Subject to applicable law, the Tender Offer may be amended, extended, terminated or withdrawn with respect to one or more series of Notes. If the Tender Offer is terminated with respect to any series of Notes without Notes of such series being accepted for purchase, Notes of such series tendered pursuant to the Tender Offer will promptly be returned to the tendering holders. Notes tendered pursuant to the Tender Offer and not purchased due to the priority acceptance procedures or due to proration will be returned to the tendering holders promptly following the Expiration Time or, if the Tender Offer is fully subscribed as of the Early Tender Deadline, promptly following the Early Tender Deadline.

The Tender Offer is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of certain conditions set forth in the Offer to Purchase, including, among other things, the payment of a special dividend to NiSource by Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., a business unit of NiSource that is expected to separate from NiSource and become a stand-alone publicly traded company, in accordance with the terms of the financing condition more fully described in the Offer to Purchase.

This press release is neither an offer to purchase nor a solicitation of an offer to sell securities. No offer, solicitation, purchase or sale will be made in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation, or sale would be unlawful. The Tender Offer is being made solely pursuant to terms and conditions set forth in the Offer to Purchase. This press release is being issued pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 134 under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC are serving as Dealer Managers for the Tender Offer. Questions regarding the Tender Offer may be directed to Goldman, Sachs & Co. at (800) 828-3182 (toll free) or (212) 902-6941 (collect) or to Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC at (800) 624-1808 (toll free) or (212) 761-1057 (collect). Forward-Looking Statements

This release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws. Those statements include statements regarding the intent, plans, belief or current expectation of NiSource and its management. Although NiSource believes that its expectations are based on reasonable assumptions, it can give no assurance that its goals will be achieved. Readers are cautioned that the forward-looking statements in this release are not guarantees of future performance and involve a number of risks and uncertainties and that actual results could differ materially from those indicated by such forward-looking statements. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those indicated by such forward-looking statements include, among other things, weather, fluctuations in supply and demand for energy commodities, growth opportunities for NiSource's businesses, increased competition in deregulated energy markets, the success of regulatory and commercial initiatives, dealings with third parties over whom NiSource has no control, actual operating experience of NiSource's assets, the regulatory process, regulatory and legislative changes, the impact of potential new environmental laws or regulations, the results of material litigation, changes in pension funding requirements, changes in general economic, capital and commodity market conditions, counterparty credit risk, the timing to consummate the proposed separation of Columbia Pipeline Group (the "Proposed Separation"); the risk that a condition to the Proposed Separation is not satisfied; disruption to operations as a result of the Proposed

Separation, the inability of one or more of NiSource's businesses to operate independently following the completion of the Proposed Separation and the matters set forth in the "Risk Factors" section of NiSource's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014, many of which are beyond NiSource's control. In addition, the relative contributions to profitability by each segment, and the assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements relating thereto, may change over time. NiSource expressly disclaims a duty to update any of the forward looking statements contained in this release.

NiSource announces intent for post-separation companies to increase combined dividends by 7.7 percent

Dividends to be payable to NiSource and Columbia Pipeline Group Shareholders

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. – The Board of Directors of NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced its intention for NiSource and Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG) to pay shareholders an initial combined quarterly common stock dividend of 28 cents per share following the previously announced separation of the two companies. The anticipated combined dividend represents a 7.7 percent increase over the current NiSource dividend.

The combined initial quarterly dividend per share is expected to be comprised of 15.5 cents and 12.5 cents for NiSource and CPG, respectively. Following the companies' separation, it is anticipated that NiSource will target a dividend growth rate of 4 to 6 percent annually and that CPG will target an average annual dividend growth rate of approximately 15 percent through 2020.

“The Board’s intention reaffirms one of our core separation commitments – to continue to grow our dividends as an initial key component of building sustainable shareholder value for both NiSource and Columbia Pipeline Group,” NiSource President & Chief Executive Officer Robert C. Skaggs Jr. said.

The actual dividends paid by NiSource and CPG will be declared by, and are subject to the approval of, their respective Boards following the separation. Post-separation dividends for the companies are expected to be paid on the normal NiSource dividend schedule.

Information on separation and NiSource share transfer

As previously announced, NiSource and CPG intend to separate into two independent companies effective July 1, 2015. CPG is expected to begin trading on its own on July 2, 2014, and listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol “CPGX.” NiSource shareholders will retain their current shares of NiSource stock and will receive a pro-rata dividend of shares of CPG stock at a 1-to-1 ratio. The transaction is expected to be tax-free to NiSource and its shareholders. The actual number of CPG shares to be distributed to NiSource shareholders will be determined prior to closing.

Forward-Looking Statements

This news release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of federal securities laws. These forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Examples of forward-looking statements in this release include statements and expectations regarding the timing of the separation, anticipated dividends by NiSource and CPG, as well as NiSource's and CPG's business following the separation and the leadership of NiSource and Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. following the separation. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the projections, forecasts, estimates and expectations discussed in this release include, among other things, the timing to consummate the transactions described herein; the risk that a condition to consummation is not satisfied; disruption to operations as a result of the proposed transactions; the inability of one or more of the businesses to operate independently following the completion of the proposed transactions; weather; fluctuations in supply and demand for energy commodities; growth opportunities for NiSource's and CPG's businesses; increased competition in deregulated energy markets; the success of regulatory and commercial initiatives; dealings with third parties over whom NiSource and CPG have no control; actual operating experience of NiSource's and CPG's assets; the regulatory process; regulatory and legislative changes; changes in general economic, capital and commodity market conditions; and counter-party credit risk, and the matters set forth in the "Risk Factors" sections in NiSource's 2014 Form 10-K and subsequent NiSource filings of Form 10-Q and in CPG's Form 10, many of which are beyond the control of NiSource and CPG. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this news release. NiSource expressly disclaims any duty to update any of the forward-looking statements contained in this release.

The potential distribution of CPG shares is subject to the satisfaction of a number of conditions, including the final approval of NiSource's Board of Directors. There is no assurance that such distribution will in fact occur.

Forward Looking Statements

This presentation contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of federal securities laws. These forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Examples of forward-looking statements in this presentation include statements and expectations regarding future dividends, operating earnings growth, earnings per share growth, capital investments, financing needs and plans, and investment opportunities. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the projections, forecasts, guidance, estimates and expectations discussed in this presentation include, among other things, the timing to consummate the transactions as described herein; the risk that a condition to consummation is not satisfied; disruption to operations as a result of the proposed transactions; the inability of one or more of the businesses to operate independently following the completion of the proposed transactions; weather; fluctuations in supply and demand for energy commodities; growth opportunities for NiSource's businesses; increased competition in deregulated energy markets; the success of regulatory and commercial initiatives; dealings with third parties over whom NiSource has no control; actual operating experience of NiSource's assets; the regulatory process; regulatory and legislative changes; changes in general economic, capital and commodity market conditions; and counter-party credit risk, and the matters set forth in the "Risk Factors" section of the Columbia Pipeline Partners LP ("CPPL") 2014 Form 10K and the matters set forth in the "Risk Factors" section in NiSource's 2014 Form 10-K, and the risk factors in the Columbia Pipeline Group ("CPG") Form 10, many of which are beyond the control of NiSource. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this presentation. NiSource expressly disclaims any duty to update any of the forward-looking statements contained in this presentation.

With regard to the potential distribution of CPG shares – it should be noted that distribution is subject to the satisfaction of a number of conditions, including the final approval of NiSource's Board of Directors. There is no assurance that such distribution will in fact occur.

Regulation G Disclosure Statement

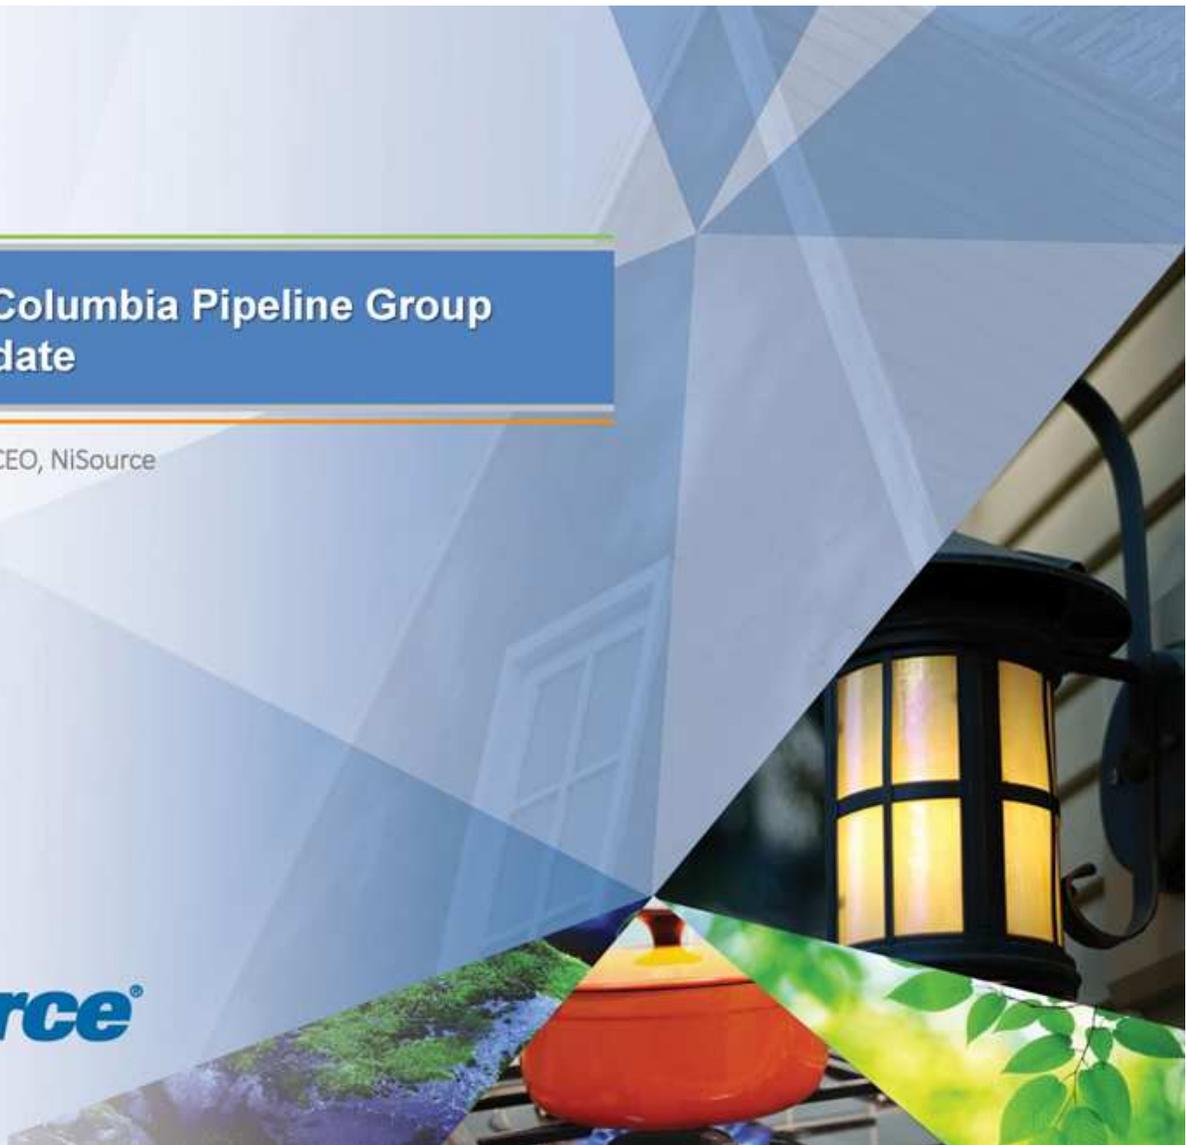

Today's presentation includes guidance with respect to net operating earnings from continuing operations, which is a non-GAAP financial measure as defined by the SEC's Regulation G. It should be noted that there will likely be differences between such net operating earnings and GAAP earnings due to various factors, including, but not limited to, weather, restructuring costs and accounting changes. NiSource is not able to estimate the impact of such factors on GAAP earnings and, as such, is not providing earnings guidance on a GAAP basis.

Forward-Looking Statements

This presentation contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of federal securities laws. These forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Examples of forward-looking statements in this presentation include statements and expectations regarding future dividends, development projects, the separation, operating earnings growth, EBITDA growth, earnings per share growth, capital investments, net investment/rate base growth, financing needs and plans, and investment opportunities. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the projections, forecasts, estimates and expectations discussed in this presentation include, among other things, changes in general economic conditions; competitive conditions in our industry; actions taken by third-party operators, processors and transporters; the demand for natural gas storage and transportation services; our ability to successfully implement our business plan; our ability to complete internal growth projects on time and on budget; the price and availability of debt and equity financing; the availability and price of natural gas to the consumer compared to the price of alternative and competing fuels; competition from the same and alternative energy sources; restrictions in our existing and any future credit facilities; capital market performance and other factors that may decrease the value of benefits plan assets; energy efficiency and technology trends; operating hazards and other risks incidental to transporting, storing and gathering natural gas; natural disasters, weather-related delays, casualty losses and other matters beyond our control; interest rates; labor relations; large customer defaults; changes in the availability and cost of capital; changes to tax status; the effects of existing and future laws and governmental regulations; the effects of future litigation; the qualification of the distribution of all of our common stock as a tax-free distribution; our ability to achieve the benefits that we expect to achieve as an independent, publicly traded company.; our dependence on NiSource to provide us with certain services following the distribution of all of our common stock; and the matters described in the "Risk Factors" sections of the Form 10 filed by Columbia Pipeline Group Inc. ("CPG") and Form 10-K filed by Columbia Pipeline Partners LP ("CPPL"), many of which are beyond the control of CPG and CPPL. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this presentation. Future earnings and other financial projections are illustrative only and do not constitute guidance by CPG and CPPL. CPG expressly disclaims any duty to update any of the forward-looking statements contained in this presentation.

The previously announced separation of CPG from NiSource is subject to the satisfaction of a number of conditions, including the final approval of NiSource's Board of Directors. There is no assurance that such separation will occur.

NiSource, Columbia Pipeline Group outline post-separation performance outlooks

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. – NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) and Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG) executives today outlined their respective post-separation business strategies and growth outlooks while confirming additional details of the planned separation.

- NiSource outlined 2016 financial guidance and confirmed a projected average annual 4-6 percent earnings per share and dividend growth rate
- CPG outlined 2015 financial guidance and defined a projected average annual growth rate through 2020 of ~20 percent EBITDA growth and ~15 percent dividend growth
- CPG investment grade credit ratings secured
- Debt recapitalization and refinancing in progress; separation on track for July 1, 2015

NiSource post-separation performance outlook

Following the separation, NiSource will remain one of the largest natural gas utility companies in the United States, serving more than 3.4 million customers in seven states under the Columbia Gas and NIPSCO brands. The company also will continue to provide electric distribution, generation and transmission services for approximately 450,000 NIPSCO electric customers in northern Indiana. NiSource will continue to be headquartered in Merrillville, Indiana, and plans to maintain current levels of community involvement, charitable giving and economic development support following the separation.

NiSource reiterated its commitment to investment grade credit ratings and that it expects to grow earnings and the dividend each by 4-6 percent annually. In 2016, NiSource expects to deliver non-GAAP earnings per share of $1.00-$1.10 with planned infrastructure enhancement opportunities reaching approximately $1.4 billion. Approximately 75 percent of these investments are expected to be focused on revenue-generating investments. The initial annualized dividend is expected to be $0.62 per share, and in aggregate with the expected CPG dividend outlined below, is 7.7 percent higher than the current NiSource dividend.

“As one of the only fully-regulated utilities of our size, supported by approximately $30 billion of expected long-term infrastructure enhancements, NiSource offers a compelling growth investment proposition with significant scale,” NiSource’s post-separation President and Chief Executive Officer (CEO) Joseph Hamrock said. “As our team executes on this well-established, stakeholder-supported and revenue-generating infrastructure strategy, we will continue to enhance safety, reliability and customer service.”

Columbia Pipeline Group post-separation performance outlook

After the separation, CPG will include Columbia Gas Transmission, Columbia Gulf Transmission, Columbia Midstream Group, its ownership in Columbia Pipeline Partners (NYSE: CPPL) (“CPPL”), and other current NiSource natural gas pipeline, storage and midstream holdings. In total, at separation the new public company will operate more than 15,000 miles of natural gas transmission pipelines, nearly 300 billion cubic feet of underground natural gas storage working capacity, and a growing portfolio of midstream and related facilities. CPG will be based in Houston and is expected to trade on the New York Stock Exchange under the ticker symbol “CPGX.”

Expected net investment in pipeline, storage and midstream assets is expected to grow from approximately $4.6 billion at the beginning of 2015 to approximately $13.5 billion at year-end 2020. Total capital expenditures from 2016 to 2020 are expected to reach approximately $8.4 billion, of which approximately $4 billion is planned to be funded by the issuance of CPPL equity. Total capital expenditures include maintenance capital of approximately $135 million a year.

The committed project inventory is expected to deliver CPG EBITDA (non-GAAP) of approximately $680 million, excluding separation costs, in 2015, with an average annual growth rate of approximately 20 percent through 2020. As previously announced, the initial annualized dividend is expected to be $0.50 per share, with a targeted average growth rate of approximately 15 percent per year from 2016 to 2020. CPG’s initial coverage from distributable cash flow is expected to be approximately 2.0x, but over time reach a level in line with other high-growth general partner peers.

“With our strategically located assets, a track record of execution, solid investment grade credit ratings and strong liquidity, CPG is positioned for transformational growth,” said Robert C. Skaggs Jr., who will become Chairman and CEO of CPG upon separation. “As we execute on our deep inventory of modernization and growth projects, which are underpinned by long-term, fee-based contracts, we expect to triple our net investment by 2020.”

Debt recapitalization, liquidity and separation update

Earlier this month, Moody’s, Standard & Poor’s and Fitch Ratings confirmed CPG’s investment grade credit ratings of Baa2, BBB- and BBB-, respectively. NiSource’s investment grade credit ratings are expected to be addressed at, or just prior to, the separation.

As part of the debt recapitalization and refinancing process, on May 5, NiSource initiated a tender offer of $750 million dollars in long-term debt, which is scheduled to close in early June. CPG is expected to issue $2.75 billion in long-term debt before the separation, which will be used to fund, in large part, a one-time cash distribution to NiSource and to pay down existing intercompany debt.

“With investment-grade credit ratings secured at CPG, the debt recapitalization process initiated, and solid liquidity platforms in place, we’re on track to complete the separation on July 1,” current NiSource President and CEO Skaggs said. “In early June, the Form 10 is expected to be declared effective by the SEC, and at that time, we’ll also announce and confirm the when-issued trading period, the record date and the distribution date for CPG shares.”

At the separation, NiSource shareholders will retain their current shares of NiSource stock and receive a pro-rata dividend of shares of CPG stock, expected to be at a 1-to-1 ratio. The actual number of CPG shares to be distributed to NiSource shareholders will be determined prior to closing.

The transaction is expected to be tax-free to NiSource and its shareholders, and is subject to various conditions, including final approval by the NiSource board of directors and the U.S. Securities & Exchange Commission (SEC) declaring CPG’s Form 10 Registration Statement effective.

Webcasts scheduled for 9:00 a.m. ET and 10:30 a.m. ET today

Later this morning, NiSource and CPG will host separate webcasts to further highlight the above growth strategies and respective business plans.

NiSource's post-separation executive team will present from 9:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m. ET today.

CPG's post-separation executive team will present from 10:30 a.m. – noon ET today.

Both webcasts, and their accompanying presentations, will be available at www.nisource.com. The webcasts also will be archived at the NiSource website.

Regulation G Disclosure Statement

This press release includes guidance for NiSource with respect to net operating earnings from continuing operations and EBITDA, which is a non-GAAP financial measure as defined by the SEC's Regulation G. It should be noted that there will likely be differences between such net operating earnings and GAAP equivalents due to various factors, including, but not limited to, weather, restructuring costs and accounting changes. NiSource is not able to estimate the impact of such factors on GAAP earnings and, as such, is not providing earnings guidance on a GAAP basis.

For a reconciliation of CPG's EBITDA outlook to GAAP for 2015, please see the NiSource Form 8K filed with the SEC on May 14, 2015.

Description

Press Release, dated May 19, 2015, issued by Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc.

Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. Announces Launch of $2.75 Billion Private Placement of Senior Notes

HOUSTON, Texas, May 19, 2015—Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. (the “Company”), a wholly owned subsidiary of NiSource Inc. (“NiSource”) (NYSE: NI) announced today that, subject to market conditions, it intends to offer $2.75 billion in aggregate principal amount of its senior unsecured notes in a private placement under Rule 144A and Regulation S of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the “Securities Act”), to eligible purchasers. The Company expects the senior notes will be issued in separate series. The notes are expected to initially be fully and unconditionally guaranteed on a senior unsecured basis by certain of the Company’s subsidiaries.

The Company intends to use the net proceeds from the private placement to pay off $1.0252 billion of intercompany debt between the Company and NiSource and to fund a $1.45 billion special dividend to NiSource in connection with its planned separation from NiSource . The Company intends to use the remaining net proceeds for general corporate purposes.

The notes and the related guarantees have not been registered under the Securities Act, or any state securities laws, and unless so registered, may not be offered or sold in the United States except pursuant to an exemption from, or in a transaction not subject to, the registration requirements of the Securities Act and applicable state securities laws. The Company plans to offer and sell the notes only to qualified institutional buyers pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act and to persons outside the United States pursuant to Regulation S under the Securities Act.

This press release is being issued pursuant to Rule 135c under the Securities Act, and shall not constitute an offer to sell, or the solicitation of an offer to buy, any of these securities, nor shall there be any sale of these securities in any state in which such offer, solicitation, or sale would be unlawful prior to registration or qualification under the securities laws of such states.

NiSource Announces Pricing for its Cash Tender Offer

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. - May 18, 2015 – NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) announced today the reference yield and total consideration for each series of notes subject to the previously announced cash tender offer (the “Tender Offer”) made by its finance subsidiary, NiSource Finance Corp. NiSource Finance is offering to purchase up to a combined aggregate principal amount of $750,000,000 of its 5.250% Notes due 2017, 6.400% Notes due 2018, 4.450% Notes due 2021, and 3.850% Notes due 2023 (the “Notes”).

The Tender Offer is being made pursuant to, and subject to the terms and conditions in, an Offer to Purchase, dated May 5, 2015 (the “Offer to Purchase”), which sets forth a description of the terms of the Tender Offer.

The reference yields for the Tender Offer were determined at 2:00 p.m., Eastern time, today. The consideration to be paid in the Tender Offer for each series of Notes is based on the applicable reference yield plus a fixed spread, as set forth in the table below. Holders who validly tender and do not validly withdraw Notes at or prior to the Early Tender Deadline (as defined below) that are accepted for purchase will receive the total consideration, which includes an early tender premium of $30.00 per $1,000 principal amount of Notes accepted for purchase (the “Early Tender Premium”). Holders whose Notes are accepted for purchase pursuant to the Tender Offer will also receive accrued and unpaid interest on their purchased Notes from the last interest payment date for such Notes to, but excluding, the applicable settlement date.

(1) Per $1,000 principal amount of Notes. Includes the Early Tender Premium.

(2) In addition, holders will receive accrued and unpaid interest to the settlement date.

The Tender Offer will expire at 11:59 p.m., Eastern time, on June 2, 2015, unless extended (such date and time, as the same may be extended, the “Expiration Time”). Holders of Notes must have validly tendered and not validly withdrawn their Notes on or before 5:00 p.m., Eastern time, on May 18, 2015 (the “Early Tender Deadline”) to be eligible to receive the Early Tender Premium for their tendered Notes. After such time, the Notes may not be withdrawn except in certain limited circumstances where additional withdrawal rights are required by law. Assuming the Tender Offer is not extended and the conditions to the Tender Offer are satisfied or waived, NiSource expects that settlement for Notes validly tendered and not validly withdrawn on or before the Early Tender Deadline and accepted for purchase will be on May 19, 2015.

NiSource Finance's obligation to accept for purchase, and to pay for, any Notes validly tendered (and not validly withdrawn) and accepted for purchase pursuant to the Tender Offer is conditioned upon the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions described in the Offer to Purchase under the heading "Terms of the Tender Offer—Conditions to the Tender Offer."

This press release is neither an offer to purchase nor a solicitation of an offer to sell securities. No offer, solicitation, purchase or sale will be made in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation, or sale would be unlawful. The Tender Offer is being made solely pursuant to terms and conditions set forth in the Offer to Purchase. This press release is being issued pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 134 under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

Goldman, Sachs & Co. and Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC are serving as Dealer Managers for the Tender Offer. Questions regarding the Tender Offer may be directed to Goldman, Sachs & Co. at (800) 828-3182 (toll free) or (212) 902-6941 (collect) or to Morgan Stanley & Co. LLC at (800) 624-1808 (toll free) or (212) 761-1057 (collect). Forward-Looking Statements

This release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the federal securities laws. Those statements include statements regarding the intent, plans, belief or current expectation of NiSource and its management. Although NiSource believes that its expectations are based on reasonable assumptions, it can give no assurance that its goals will be achieved. Readers are cautioned that the forward-looking statements in this release are not guarantees of future performance and involve a number of risks and uncertainties and that actual results could differ materially from those indicated by such forward-looking statements. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those indicated by such forward-looking statements include, among other things, weather, fluctuations in supply and demand for energy commodities, growth opportunities for NiSource's businesses, increased competition in deregulated energy markets, the success of regulatory and commercial initiatives, dealings with third parties over whom NiSource has no control, actual operating experience of NiSource's assets, the regulatory process, regulatory and legislative changes, the impact of potential new environmental laws or regulations, the results of material litigation, changes in pension funding requirements, changes in general economic, capital and commodity market conditions, counterparty credit risk, the timing to consummate the proposed separation of Columbia Pipeline Group (the "Proposed Separation"); the risk that a condition to the Proposed Separation is not satisfied; disruption to operations as a result of the Proposed Separation, the inability of one or more of NiSource's businesses to operate independently following the completion of the Proposed Separation and the matters set forth in the "Risk Factors" section of NiSource's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2014, many of which are beyond NiSource's control. In addition, the relative contributions to profitability by each segment, and the assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements relating thereto, may change over time. NiSource expressly disclaims a duty to update any of the forward looking statements contained in this release.

NiSource Announces Early Tender Results for Tender Offer, Increases Tender Cap for Priority 2 Notes

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. - May 19, 2015 – NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) announced today the early tender results as of 5:00 p.m., Eastern time, May 18, 2015 (the “Early Tender Deadline”) for the previously announced cash tender offer (the “Tender Offer”) made by its finance subsidiary, NiSource Finance Corp., for up to a combined aggregate principal amount of $750,000,000 of its 5.250% Notes due 2017, 6.400% Notes due 2018, 4.450% Notes due 2021, and 3.850% Notes due 2023 (the “Notes”). The consideration to be paid in the tender offer for each series of Notes was previously announced by separate release yesterday (the “pricing release”).

The principal amount of each series of Notes that were validly tendered and not validly withdrawn in the Tender Offer as of the Early Tender Deadline is set forth in the table below. NiSource Finance has amended the terms of the Tender Offer to increase the Tender Cap for the Priority 2 Notes from $300,000,000 to $323,973,000, and, as a result, no Priority 4 Notes will be accepted for purchase. All other terms of the Tender Offer, as previously announced, remain unchanged.

Title of Security	CUSIP Number	Aggregate Principal Amount Outstanding	Tender Cap	Acceptance Priority Level	Principal Amount Tendered	Principal Amount Accepted	Total Consideration ⁽¹⁾⁽²⁾
5.250% Notes due 2017	65473QAQ6	$450,000,000	$275,000,000	1	$ 239,579,000	$ 239,579,000	$ 1,097.50

(1) Per $1,000 principal amount of Notes. Includes the Early Tender Premium of $30.00 per $1,000 principal amount.

(2) In addition, holders will receive accrued and unpaid interest to the settlement date.

The settlement for the Notes validly tendered and not withdrawn on or before the Early Tender Deadline and accepted for purchase by NiSource Finance is expected to take place on May 19, 2015. Holders whose Notes were accepted for purchase will receive the consideration described in the pricing release. The principal amount of each series of Notes that is purchased on the settlement date will be determined in accordance with the acceptance priority levels, the applicable tender caps and the proration procedures described in the Offer to Purchase.

The Tender Offer is scheduled to expire at 11:59 p.m., Eastern time, June 2, 2015, unless extended (the “Expiration Time”). However, as NiSource Finance intends, subject to the terms and conditions of the Tender Offer, to accept for purchase the maximum amount of Notes on the settlement date, further tenders of Notes prior to the Expiration Time will not be accepted for purchase. The Tender Offer is not conditioned upon any minimum amount of Notes being tendered, and the Tender Offer may be amended, extended, terminated or withdrawn in whole or with respect to one or more series of Notes.

NiSource Finance's obligation to accept for purchase, and to pay for, any Notes validly tendered (and not validly withdrawn) and accepted for purchase pursuant to the Tender Offer is conditioned upon the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions described in the Offer to Purchase under the heading "Terms of the Tender Offer—Conditions to the Tender Offer."

This press release is neither an offer to purchase nor a solicitation of an offer to sell securities. No offer, solicitation, purchase or sale will be made in any jurisdiction in which such offer, solicitation, or sale would be unlawful. The Tender Offer is being made solely pursuant to terms and conditions set forth in the Offer to Purchase. This press release is being issued pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 134 under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended.

ITEM 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On May 22, 2015, Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. (“CPG”), a wholly owned subsidiary of NiSource Inc. (“NiSource”) (NYSE: NI), closed its previously announced private placement of $2.75 billion in aggregate principal amount of its senior notes, comprised of $500 million of 2.45% senior notes due 2018 (the “2018 Notes”), $750 million of 3.30% senior notes due 2020 (the “2020 Notes”), $1,000 million of 4.50% senior notes due 2025 (the “2025 Notes”) and $500 million of 5.80% senior notes due 2045 (the “2045 Notes” and, together with the 2018 Notes, 2020 Notes and 2025 Notes, the “Notes”). The Notes were issued at a discount, for net proceeds of approximately $2.721 billion after deducting the Initial Purchasers’ discount and estimated offering expenses of CPG. The private placement was completed pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, dated May 19, 2015 (the “Purchase Agreement”), by and among CPG and certain subsidiary guarantors named therein (the “Guarantors”) and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc. and Scotia Capital (USA) Inc., as representatives of the initial purchasers named therein (the “Initial Purchasers”).

Indenture

The Notes are governed by an Indenture, dated as of May 22, 2015 (the “Indenture”), entered into by CPG and the Guarantors with U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee (the “Trustee”).

The initial Guarantors are three wholly owned subsidiaries of CPG, Columbia Energy Group, CPG OpCo LP and CPG OpCo GP LLC. The Notes are fully and unconditionally guaranteed, jointly and severally, on a senior unsecured basis by all of the Guarantors. Each guarantee of CPG’s obligations under the Notes is a direct, unsecured and unsubordinated obligation of the applicable Guarantor and has the same ranking with respect to indebtedness of that Guarantor as the Notes have with respect to CPG’s indebtedness.

The Notes and the guarantees are (a) unsecured, (b) effectively junior in right of payment to any future secured indebtedness of CPG and the Guarantors, (c) equal in right of payment with any existing and future unsubordinated indebtedness of CPG and the Guarantors, and (d) senior in right of payment to any future subordinated indebtedness of CPG and the Guarantors.

The Indenture contains covenants that, among other things, limit the ability of CPG and certain of its subsidiaries to incur liens, to enter into sale and lease-back transactions and to enter into mergers, consolidations or transfers of all or substantially all of their assets. The Indenture also contains customary events of default.

The 2018 Notes will mature on June 1, 2018, the 2020 Notes will mature on June 1, 2020, the 2025 Notes will mature on June 1, 2025 and the 2045 Notes will mature on June 1, 2045. Interest on the Notes of each series will be payable semi-annually in arrears on June 1 and December 1, commencing on December 1, 2015.

If NiSource does not complete the distribution of all of CPG’s outstanding shares of common stock to NiSource’s stockholders (the “Distribution”) on or prior to October 2, 2015, CPG will be required to redeem all of the Notes of each series at a redemption price equal to 101% of the principal amount of the Notes to be redeemed (the “Mandatory Redemption Price”) plus accrued and unpaid interest to the redemption date. CPG may also redeem all of the Notes of each series at its option at the Mandatory Redemption Price plus accrued and unpaid interest to the redemption date if, prior to October 2, 2015, CPG determines in its sole discretion that the Distribution will not occur on or prior to that date.

Upon the occurrence of certain Change of Control Triggering Events (as defined in the Indenture), each holder of the Notes will have the right to require that CPG purchase all or a portion of such holder’s Notes of such series at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof plus any accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the date of purchase.

A copy of the Indenture is filed as Exhibit 4.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and is incorporated herein by reference. The foregoing discussion of the Indenture in this report is a summary and is qualified in its entirety by the terms of the Indenture.

The Notes were offered in the United States only to qualified institutional buyers in reliance on the exemption from registration provided by Rule 144A and outside the United States to non-U.S. persons in compliance with Regulation S.

Registration Rights Agreement

In connection with the private placement of the Notes, on May 22, 2015, CPG and the Guarantors entered into a Registration Rights Agreement (the “Registration Rights Agreement”) with the Initial Purchasers, pursuant to which CPG and the Guarantors agreed to file, and use their reasonable best efforts to cause to become effective, an exchange offer registration statement with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “Commission”) and to consummate an exchange offer within 360 days after the date of issuance of the Notes pursuant to which holders of each series of the Notes can exchange the Notes issued in the offering for registered notes having the same terms as the Notes. Under certain circumstances set forth in the Registration Rights Agreement, in lieu of a registered exchange offer, CPG and the Guarantors must file, and use reasonable best efforts to cause to become effective, a shelf registration statement for the resale of the Notes. If CPG fails to satisfy these obligations on a timely basis, the annual interest borne by the Notes will be increased by up to 0.50% per annum until the exchange offer is completed or the shelf registration statement is declared effective.

A copy of the Registration Rights Agreement is filed as Exhibit 4.2 to this Current Report on Form 8-K and is incorporated herein by reference. The foregoing discussion of the Registration Rights Agreement in this report is a summary and is qualified in its entirety by the terms of the Registration Rights Agreement.

Relationships

The Initial Purchasers and their respective affiliates have in the past performed commercial banking, investment banking, trust and advisory services for us from time to time for which they have received customary fees and reimbursement of expenses and may, from time to time, engage in transactions with and perform services for us in the ordinary course of their business for which they may receive customary fees and reimbursement of expenses. In addition, affiliates of some of the Initial Purchasers are lenders, and in some cases agents for the lenders, under CPG’s credit facility.

ITEM 2.03 Creation of a Direct Financial Obligation.

The information set forth under the heading “Indenture” in Item 1.01 of this Current Report on Form 8-K is incorporated by reference into this Item 2.03 of this Current Report on Form 8-K.

“Subsidiary” of any Person means: (a) any corporation, association or other business entity (other than a partnership) of which more than 50% of the total voting power of equity interests entitled, without regard to the occurrence of any contingency, to vote in the election of directors, managers, trustees or equivalent Persons thereof, is at the time of determination owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by such Person or one or more of the other Subsidiaries of such Person or a combination thereof; or (b) in the case of a partnership, more than 50% of the partners' equity interests, considering all partners' equity interests as a single class, is at such time of determination owned or controlled, directly or indirectly, by such Person or one or more of the other Subsidiaries of such Person or a combination thereof.

"Taxes" means any tax, duty, levy, impost, assessment or other governmental charge of whatever nature imposed or levied by an authority or agency therein or thereof having the power to tax, including any interest, penalties or other charges in respect thereof.

"TIA" or "Trust Indenture Act" means the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended (15 U.S.C. Sections 77aaa-77bbbb), as in effect on the Issue Date, except as provided in Section 8.03.

"Trustee" means the Person named as the "Trustee" in the first paragraph of this Indenture until a successor Person shall have become such pursuant to the applicable provisions of this Indenture, and thereafter "Trustee" shall mean the successor serving hereunder.

"U.S. Government Obligations" means direct obligations (or certificates representing an ownership interest in such obligations) of the United States of America for the payment of which the full faith and credit of the United States of America is pledged.

"U.S. Person" means a "U.S. person" as defined in Rule 902(k) under the Securities Act.

"Unrestricted Definitive Security" means a Definitive Security that does not bear and is not required to bear the Private Placement Legend.

"Unrestricted Global Security" means, with respect to any series of Securities, a permanent Global Security substantially in the form of Exhibit A1 hereto, in the case of the 2018 Notes, Exhibit A2 hereto, in the case of the 2020 Notes, Exhibit A3 hereto, in the case of the 2025 Notes, or Exhibit A4 hereto, in the case of the 2045 Notes, that bears the Global Security Legend and that has the "Schedule of Exchanges of Securities" attached thereto and that is deposited with the Securities Custodian and registered in the name of the Depository or its nominee, representing Securities that do not bear the Private Placement Legend.

"Voting Stock" of any specified Person as of any date means the Capital Stock of such Person that is at the time entitled to vote generally in the election of the Board of Directors of such Person.

SECTION 1.03. Incorporation by Reference of Trust Indenture Act.

Whenever this Indenture refers to a provision of the TIA, such provision is incorporated by reference in and made a part of this Indenture. The following TIA terms used in this Indenture have the following meanings:

“commission” means the SEC;

“indenture securities” means the Securities;

“indenture security holder” means a Holder;

“indenture to be qualified” means this Indenture;

“indenture trustee” or “institutional trustee” means the Trustee; and “obligor” on the indenture securities means the Company and each Guarantor.

All other terms used in this Indenture, and not otherwise defined herein, that are defined by the TIA, defined by a TIA reference to another statute or defined by an SEC rule under the TIA have the meanings so assigned to them. All references in this Indenture to “Sections” or “Articles” are to Sections or Articles, as applicable, of this Indenture, unless otherwise expressly indicated.

SECTION 1.04. Rules of Construction . Unless the context otherwise requires: (1) a term has the meaning assigned to it; (2) an accounting term not otherwise defined has the meaning assigned to it in accordance with GAAP; (3) “or” is not exclusive; (4) words in the singular include the plural, and in the plural include the singular; (5) words implying any gender shall apply to all genders; (6) the term “merger” includes a statutory compulsory share exchange and a conversion of a corporation into a limited liability company, a partnership or other entity and vice versa and (7) provisions apply to successive events and transactions.

ARTICLE II
THE SECURITIES

SECTION 2.01. Form and Dating .

(a) General . The Securities, any notations thereon relating to the Guarantees and the Trustee's certificate of authentication shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit A1 hereto, in the case of the 2018 Notes, Exhibit A2 hereto, in the case of the 2020 Notes, Exhibit A3 hereto in the case of the 2025 Notes, or Exhibit A4 hereto, in the case of the 2045 Notes, the terms of which are hereby incorporated into this Indenture. The Securities may have notations, legends or endorsements required by law, securities exchange rule, the Company's certificate of incorporation, bylaws, agreements to which the Company is subject, if any, or usage, provided that any such notation, legend or endorsement is in a form acceptable to the Company. Each Security shall be dated the date of its authentication. The Securities shall be in registered form without coupons and issued only in minimum denominations of $2,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. The terms and provisions contained in the Securities shall constitute, and are hereby expressly made, a part of this Indenture and, to the extent applicable, the Company, the Guarantors, and the Trustee, by their execution and delivery of this Indenture, expressly agree to such terms and provisions and to be bound thereby. However, to the extent any provision of any Security conflicts with the express provisions of this Indenture, the provisions of this Indenture (to the extent permitted by law) shall govern and be controlling.

(b) Global Securities . Securities issued in global form shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit A1 hereto, in the case of the 2018 Notes, Exhibit A2 hereto, in the case of the 2020 Notes, Exhibit A3 hereto, in the case of the 2025 Notes, or Exhibit A4 hereto, in the case of the 2045 Notes (including, in each case, the Global Security Legend thereon and the Schedule of Exchanges of Interests in the Global Security attached thereto). Securities issued in definitive form shall be substantially in the form of Exhibit A1 hereto, in the case of the 2018 Notes, Exhibit A2 hereto, in the case of the 2020 Notes, Exhibit A3 hereto, in the case of the 2025 Notes, or Exhibit A4 hereto, in the case of the 2045 Notes (but without the Global Security Legend thereon and without the Schedule of Exchanges of Interests in the Global Security attached thereto). Each Global Security shall represent such of the outstanding Securities as shall be specified therein, and each shall provide that it shall represent the aggregate principal amount of outstanding Securities from time to time endorsed thereon and that the aggregate principal amount of outstanding Securities represented thereby may from time to time be reduced or increased, as appropriate, to reflect exchanges and redemptions. Any endorsement of a Global Security to reflect the amount of any increase or decrease in the aggregate principal amount of outstanding Securities represented thereby shall be made by the Securities Custodian, in accordance with instructions given by the Holder thereof as required by Section 2.06.

(c) Regulation S Global Securities . Any Securities initially offered and sold in reliance on Regulation S shall be issued initially in the form of a Regulation S Temporary Global Security, which shall be deposited on behalf of the purchasers of the Securities represented thereby with the Securities Custodian, and registered in the name of the Depositary or the nominee of the Depositary for the accounts of designated agents holding on behalf of Euroclear or Clearstream, duly executed by the Company and authenticated by the Trustee as hereinafter provided. The Restricted Period will be terminated upon the receipt by the Trustee of a written certificate from the Depository, together with copies of certificates from Euroclear and Clearstream certifying that they have received certification of non-United States beneficial ownership of 100% of the aggregate principal amount of each Regulation S Temporary Global Note (except to the extent of any beneficial owners thereof who acquired an interest therein during the Restricted Period pursuant to another exemption from registration under the Securities Act and who will take delivery of a beneficial ownership interest in a 144A Global Note, all as contemplated by Section 2.06(b) hereof).

(d) Following the termination of the Restricted Period, beneficial interests in each Regulation S Temporary Global Note will be exchanged for beneficial interests in a Regulation S Permanent Global Note of the same series, pursuant to the Applicable Procedures. Simultaneously with the authentication of each Regulation S Permanent Global Note, the Trustee will cancel the Regulation S Temporary Global Note of the same series. The aggregate principal amount of each Regulation S Temporary Global Note and Regulation S Permanent Global Note may from time to time be increased or decreased by adjustments made on the records of the Trustee and the Depository or its nominee, as the case may be, in connection with transfers of interest as hereinafter provided.

(e) 144A Global Securities . Any Securities initially offered and sold in reliance on Rule 144A shall be issued initially in the form of a 144A Global Security, which shall be deposited on behalf of the purchasers of the Securities represented thereby with the Securities Custodian, and registered in the name of the Depository or the nominee of the Depository, duly executed by the Company and authenticated by the Trustee as hereinafter provided.

(f) Definitive Securities . Notwithstanding any other provision of this Article II, any issuance of Definitive Securities shall be at the Company's discretion, except in the specific circumstances set forth in Section 2.06(a).

(g) Euroclear and Clearstream Procedures Applicable . The provisions of the "Operating Procedures of the Euroclear System" and "Terms and Conditions Governing Use of Euroclear" and the "General Terms and Conditions" of Clearstream and "Customer Handbook" at Clearstream shall be applicable to transfers of beneficial interests in the Regulation S Global Securities that are held by Participants through Euroclear or Clearstream.

SECTION 2.02. Execution and Authentication . An Officer of the Company shall sign the Securities on behalf of the Company by manual or facsimile signature. The Company's seal may be (but shall not be required to be) impressed, affixed, imprinted or reproduced on the Securities and may be in facsimile form.

If an Officer of the Company whose signature is on this Indenture or a Security no longer holds that office at the time the Trustee authenticates such Security or at any time thereafter, the Security shall be valid nevertheless.

A Security shall not be entitled to any benefit under this Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose until authenticated by the manual signature of an authorized signatory of the Trustee or an authenticating agent, as the case may be, which signature shall be conclusive evidence that the Security has been authenticated under this Indenture.

The Trustee shall authenticate and deliver: (1) on the date hereof, Initial 2018 Securities for original issue in an aggregate principal amount of $500,000,000, Initial 2020 Securities for original issue in an aggregate principal amount of $750,000,000, Initial 2025 Securities for original issue in an aggregate principal amount of $1,000,000,000, and Initial 2045 Securities for original issue in an aggregate principal amount of $500,000,000, (2) if and when issued, Additional Securities of each series (which may be issued in either a registered or a private offering under the Securities Act) and (3) Exchange Securities of each series for issue only in an exchange offer pursuant to a Registration Rights Agreement, and only in exchange for Initial Securities or Additional Securities of the same series and in an equal principal amount, in each case upon a written order of the Company signed by an Officer of the Company. Such order shall specify the amount and series of the Securities to be authenticated and the date on which the issue of such Securities is to be authenticated and whether the Securities are to be in global or definitive form and whether they are to bear the Private Placement Legend. The Company may issue Additional Securities of each series under this Indenture subsequent to the Issue Date, provided that no Additional Securities may be issued at a price that would cause such Additional Securities to have “original issue discount” within the meaning of Section 1273 of the Code. In authenticating such Securities, the Trustee shall receive, and shall be entitled to conclusively rely upon, an Opinion of Counsel substantially to the effect that such Securities and the related Guarantees, when authenticated and delivered by the Trustee and issued by the Company and the Guarantors, respectively, in the manner and subject to any conditions specified in such Opinion of Counsel, will constitute valid and legally binding obligations of the Company and the Guarantors, as the case may be, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms, subject to bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent transfer, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws of general applicability relating to or affecting creditors’ rights and to general equity principles.

The aggregate principal amount of Securities of each series outstanding at any time may not exceed the aggregate principal amount of Securities of that series authorized for issuance by the Company pursuant to such written orders of the Company, except as provided in Section 2.07. Subject to the foregoing, the aggregate principal amount of Securities of any series that may be issued under this Indenture shall not be limited.

The Trustee may appoint one or more authenticating agents acceptable to the Company to authenticate Securities. Unless limited by the terms of such appointment, an authenticating agent may authenticate Securities whenever the Trustee may do so. Each reference in this Indenture to authentication by the Trustee includes authentication by such agent. An authenticating agent has the same rights as an Agent to deal with the Company, the Guarantors or any of their respective Affiliates.

SECTION 2.03. Registrar and Paying Agent . The Company shall maintain in the continental United States an office or agency where Securities of each series may be presented for registration of transfer or exchange (“Registrar”) and an office or agency in The City of New York where such Securities may be presented for payment (“Paying Agent”). The Registrar shall keep a register of the Securities of each series and of their transfer and exchange. The Company may appoint one or more co-registrars and one or more additional paying agents with respect to each series of Securities. The term “Registrar” includes any co-registrar and the term “Paying Agent” includes any additional paying agent.

The Company shall enter into an appropriate agency agreement with any Registrar or Paying Agent not a party to this Indenture. The agreement shall implement the provisions of this Indenture that relate to such Agent. The Company shall notify the Trustee of the name and address of any Agent not a party to this Indenture. The Company may change any Paying Agent or Registrar without notice to any Holder. If the Company fails to appoint or maintain another entity as Registrar or Paying Agent, the Trustee shall act as such. The Company or any of its Subsidiaries may act as Paying Agent or Registrar.

The Company initially appoints the Trustee as Registrar and Paying Agent for the Securities of each series at its Corporate Trust Office. The place of payment with respect to the Securities, in addition to the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee, shall be The City of New York, and the Company hereby appoints the Trustee as its Paying Agent in The City of New York, at its corporate trust office in such city, as specified in the definition of Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee in Section 1.01, the intention of the Company being that the Securities shall at all times be payable in The City of New York.

The immunities, protections and exculpations available to the Trustee under this Indenture shall also be available to each Agent and each authenticating agent, and the Company's obligations under Section 6.07 to compensate and indemnify the Trustee shall extend likewise to each Agent and each authenticating agent.

The Company initially appoints The Depository Trust Company ("DTC") to act as Depository with respect to each Global Security.

SECTION 2.04. Paying Agent to Hold Money in Trust. The Company shall require each Paying Agent other than the Trustee to agree in writing that the Paying Agent will hold in trust for the benefit of Holders of the applicable series of Securities or the Trustee all money held by the Paying Agent for the payment of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Securities of such series, whether such money shall have been paid to it by the Company or a Guarantor, and will notify the Trustee in accordance with Section 11.02 of any default by the Company or the Guarantors in making any such payment. While any such default continues, the Trustee may require a Paying Agent to pay all money held by it to the Trustee and to account for any funds disbursed. The Company at any time may require a Paying Agent to pay all money held by it to the Trustee and to account for any funds disbursed. Upon payment over to the Trustee and upon accounting for any funds disbursed, the Paying Agent (if other than the Company) shall have no further liability for the money. If the Company or a Subsidiary of the Company acts as Paying Agent, it shall segregate and hold in a separate trust fund for the benefit of the Holders all money held by it as Paying Agent.

SECTION 2.05. Holder Lists. The Trustee shall preserve in as current a form as is reasonably practicable the most recent list available to it of the names and addresses of Holders of each series of Securities and shall otherwise comply with TIA Section 312(a). If the Trustee is not the Registrar for a series of Securities, the Company shall furnish to the Trustee at least seven Business Days before each Interest Payment Date, and at such other times as the Trustee may request in writing, a list in such form and as of such date as the Trustee may reasonably require of the names and addresses of Holders of such series of Securities, and the Company shall otherwise comply with TIA Section 312(a).

SECTION 2.06. Transfer and Exchange .

(a) Transfer and Exchange of Global Securities . A Global Security may not be transferred as a whole except by the Depositary to a nominee of the Depositary, by a nominee of the Depositary to the Depositary or to another nominee of the Depositary, or by the Depositary or any such nominee to a successor Depositary or a nominee of such successor Depositary. Global Securities also may be exchanged or replaced, in whole, as provided in Section 2.07. Owners of beneficial interests in Global Securities of each series of Securities shall not be entitled to receive Definitive Securities unless:

(1) the Depositary notifies the Company that it is unwilling or unable to continue to act as Depositary or that it is no longer a clearing agency registered under the Exchange Act and, in either case, a successor Depositary is not appointed by the Company within 90 days after the date of such notice from the Depositary;

(2) the Company, at its option but subject to the Depositary's requirements, notifies the Trustee in conformity with Section 11.02 that it elects to cause the issuance of the Definitive Securities; provided that in no event shall any Regulation S Temporary Global Note be exchanged by the Company for Definitive Securities prior to (A) the expiration of the Restricted Period and (B) the receipt by the Registrar of any certificates required pursuant to Rule 903(b)(3)(ii)(B) under the Securities Act; or

(3) there has occurred and is continuing an Event of Default and the Depositary notifies the Trustee of its decision to exchange such Global Security for Definitive Securities.

Upon the occurrence of any of the events in clause (1), (2) or (3) above, Definitive Securities shall be issued in such names and authorized denominations as the Depositary shall instruct the Trustee and the Registrar in accordance with the Applicable Procedures. Neither the Company, the Guarantors, the Trustee nor the Registrar will be liable for any delay by the Depositary in identifying the owners of beneficial interests in a Global Security, and each of the Company, the Guarantors, the Trustee and the Registrar may conclusively rely on, and will be protected in relying on, instructions from the Depositary for all purposes of this Indenture.

(b) Transfer and Exchange of Beneficial Interests in the Global Securities . The transfer and exchange of beneficial interests in the Global Securities shall be effected through the Depositary, in accordance with the provisions of this Indenture and the Applicable Procedures. Transfers of beneficial interests in the Global Securities also shall require compliance with either subparagraph (1) or (2) below, as applicable, as well as one or more of the other following provisions of this Section 2.06, as applicable:

(1) Transfer of Beneficial Interests in the Same Global Security . Beneficial interests in any Restricted Global Security may be transferred to Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in the same Restricted Global Security in accordance with the transfer restrictions set forth in the Private Placement Legend and any Applicable Procedures; provided, however, that prior to the expiration of the Restricted Period, transfers of beneficial interests in any Regulation S Temporary Global Note may not be made to a U.S. Person or for the account or benefit of a U.S. Person (other than an Initial Purchaser). Beneficial interests in any Unrestricted Global Security may be transferred to Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in such Unrestricted Global Security. No written orders or instructions shall be required to be delivered to the Registrar to effect the transfers described in the preceding sentence of this Section 2.06(b)(1).

(2) All Other Transfers and Exchanges of Beneficial Interests in Global Securities. In connection with all transfers and exchanges of beneficial interests that are not subject to Section 2.06(b)(1) above, the transferor of such beneficial interest must deliver to the Registrar either:

(A) (i) a written order from a Participant or an Indirect Participant given to the Depositary in accordance with the Applicable Procedures directing the Depositary to credit or cause to be credited a beneficial interest in another Global Security in an amount equal to the beneficial interest to be transferred or exchanged; and

(ii) instructions given in accordance with the Applicable Procedures containing information regarding the Participant account to be credited with such increase; or

(B) (i) a written order from a Participant or an Indirect Participant given to the Depositary in accordance with the Applicable Procedures directing the Depositary to cause to be issued a Definitive Security in an amount equal to the beneficial interest to be transferred or exchanged; and

(ii) instructions given by the Depositary to the Registrar containing information regarding the Person in whose name such Definitive Security shall be registered to effect the transfer or exchange referred to in Section 2.06(b)(2)(B)(i) above; provided that in no event shall Definitive Securities be issued upon the transfer or exchange of beneficial interests in any Regulation S Temporary Global Security prior to (A) the expiration of the Restricted Period and (B) the receipt by the Registrar of any certificates required pursuant to Rule 903(b)(3)(ii)(B) under the Securities Act.

Upon consummation of a Registered Exchange Offer by the Company in accordance with Section 2.06(f), the requirements of this Section 2.06(b)(2) shall be deemed to have been satisfied upon receipt by the Registrar of the instructions contained in the Letter of Transmittal delivered by the Holder of such beneficial interests in the Restricted Global Securities (or transmitted to the Registrar via the Depositary's book-entry system). Upon satisfaction of all of the requirements for transfer or exchange of beneficial interests in Global Securities contained in this Indenture and the Securities or otherwise applicable under the Securities Act, the principal amount of each relevant Global Security shall be adjusted pursuant to Section 2.06(h).

(3) Transfer of Beneficial Interests to Another Restricted Global Security . A beneficial interest in any Restricted Global Security may be transferred to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in another Restricted Global Security if the transfer complies with the requirements of Section 2.06(b)(2) above and the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the transferee will take delivery in the form of a beneficial interest in a 144A Global Security, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof; and

(B) if the transferee will take delivery in the form of a beneficial interest in a Regulation S Global Security, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof.

(4) Transfer and Exchange of Beneficial Interests in a Restricted Global Security for Beneficial Interests in the Unrestricted Global Security . A beneficial interest in any Restricted Global Security may be exchanged by any holder thereof for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Security or transferred to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Security if the exchange or transfer complies with the requirements of Section 2.06(b)(2) above and:

(A) such exchange or transfer is effected pursuant to a Registered Exchange Offer in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement and the holder of the beneficial interest to be transferred, in the case of an exchange, or the transferee, in the case of a transfer, certifies in the applicable Letter of Transmittal (or via the Depository's book-entry system) that, among other things, it is not (i) a Person participating in the distribution of the Exchange Securities or (ii) an affiliate (as defined in Rule 144) of the Company and that any Exchange Securities to be acquired by such holder will be acquired in the ordinary course of its business;

(B) such transfer is effected pursuant to a Shelf Registration Statement in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement;

(C) such transfer is effected by an Exchanging Dealer pursuant to an Exchange Offer Registration Statement in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement; or

(D) the Registrar receives the following:

(i) if the holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Security, a certificate from such holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1)(a) thereof; or

(ii) if the holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security proposes to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Security, a certificate from such holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof;

and, in each such case set forth in this subparagraph (D), if the Registrar so requests or if the Applicable Procedures so require, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer is in compliance with the Securities Act and state “blue sky” laws and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend are no longer required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

If any such transfer is effected pursuant to subparagraph (B) or (D) above at a time when an Unrestricted Global Security has not yet been issued, the Company shall issue and, upon receipt of a written order in accordance with Section 2.02 hereof, the Trustee shall authenticate one or more Unrestricted Global Securities in an aggregate principal amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of beneficial interests transferred pursuant to subparagraph (B) or (D) above.

(5) Exchange or Transfer Prohibited. Beneficial interests in an Unrestricted Global Security cannot be exchanged for, or transferred to Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of, a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security.

(c) Transfer or Exchange of Beneficial Interests for Definitive Securities .

(1) Beneficial Interests in Restricted Global Securities to Restricted Definitive Securities . If any of the conditions set forth in Section 2.06(a) hereof have been met and if any holder of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for a Restricted Definitive Security or to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a Restricted Definitive Security, then, upon receipt by the Registrar of the following documentation:

(A) if the holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for a Restricted Definitive Security, a certificate from such holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (2) (a) thereof;

(B) if such beneficial interest is being transferred to a QIB in accordance with Rule 144A, a certificate to the effect set forth in Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof;

(C) if such beneficial interest is being transferred to a non-U.S. Person in an offshore transaction in accordance with Rule 904, a certificate to the effect set forth in Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof; or

(D) if such beneficial interest is being transferred pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act other than Rule 144A or Regulation S, a certificate to the effect set forth in Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3) thereof, then, upon satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Section 2.06(b)(2)(B), the Registrar shall cause the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Global Security to be reduced accordingly pursuant to Section 2.06(h), and the Company shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver to the Person designated in the instructions a Definitive Security in the appropriate form and principal amount. Any Definitive Security issued in exchange for a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security pursuant to this Section 2.06(c) shall be registered in such name or names and in such authorized denomination or denominations as the holder of such beneficial interest shall instruct the Registrar through instructions from the Depositary and the Participant or Indirect Participant. The Trustee shall deliver such Definitive Securities to the Persons in whose names such Securities are so registered. Any Definitive Security issued in exchange for a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(1) shall bear the Private Placement Legend and shall be subject to all restrictions on transfer contained therein. Notwithstanding Sections 2.06(c)(1)(A) and (C), a beneficial interest in a Regulation S Temporary Global Security may not be exchanged for a Definitive Security or transferred to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a Definitive Security prior to (A) the expiration of the Restricted Period and (B) the receipt by the Registrar of any certificates required pursuant to Rule 903(b)(3)(ii)(B) under the Securities Act, except in the case of a transfer pursuant to Rule 144A or Regulation S (other than a transfer pursuant to Rule 904).

(2) Beneficial Interests in Restricted Global Securities to Unrestricted Definitive Securities. If any of the conditions set forth in Section 2.06(a) hereof have been met, then a holder of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security may exchange such beneficial interest for an Unrestricted Definitive Security or may transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Security only if:

(A) such exchange or transfer is effected pursuant to a Registered Exchange Offer in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement and the holder of such beneficial interest, in the case of an exchange, or the transferee, in the case of a transfer, certifies in the applicable Letter of Transmittal (or via the Depositary's book-entry system) that, among other things, it is not (i) a Person participating in the distribution of the Exchange Securities or (ii) an affiliate (as defined in Rule 144) of the Company and that any Exchange Securities to be acquired by such holder will be acquired in the ordinary course of its business;

(B) such transfer is effected pursuant to a Shelf Registration Statement in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement;

(C) such transfer is effected by an Exchanging Dealer pursuant to an Exchange Offer Registration Statement in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement; or

(D) the Registrar receives the following:

(i) if the holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for an Unrestricted Definitive Security, a certificate from such holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1)(b) thereof; or

(ii) if the holder of such beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security proposes to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Security, a certificate from such holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof;

and, in each such case set forth in this subparagraph (D), if the Registrar so requests or if the Applicable Procedures so require, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer is in compliance with the Securities Act and state “blue sky” laws and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend are no longer required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

(3) Beneficial Interests in Unrestricted Global Securities to Unrestricted Definitive Securities . If any of the conditions set forth in Section 2.06(a) with respect to the issuance of Definitive Securities has been met and any holder of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Security proposes to exchange such beneficial interest for a Definitive Security or to transfer such beneficial interest to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a Definitive Security, then, upon satisfaction of the conditions set forth in Section 2.06(b)(2)(B), the Registrar shall cause the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Global Security to be reduced accordingly pursuant to Section 2.06(h), and the Company shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate and deliver to the Person designated in the instructions a Definitive Security in the appropriate principal amount. Any Definitive Security issued in exchange for a beneficial interest pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(3) shall be registered in such name or names and in such authorized denomination or denominations as the holder of such beneficial interest shall instruct the Registrar through instructions from the Depository and the Participant or Indirect Participant. The Trustee shall deliver such Definitive Securities to the Persons in whose names such Securities are so registered. Any Definitive Security issued in exchange for a beneficial interest pursuant to this Section 2.06(c)(3) shall not bear the Private Placement Legend.

(d) Transfer and Exchange of Definitive Securities for Beneficial Interests .

(1) Restricted Definitive Securities to Beneficial Interests in Restricted Global Securities . If any Holder of a Restricted Definitive Security proposes to exchange such Security for a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security or to transfer such Restricted Definitive Security to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security, then, upon receipt by the Registrar of the following documentation:

(A) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Security proposes to exchange such Security for a beneficial interest in a Restricted Global Security, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (2) (b) thereof;

(B) if such Restricted Definitive Security is being transferred to a QIB in accordance with Rule 144A, a certificate to the effect set forth in Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof;

(C) if such Restricted Definitive Security is being transferred to a non-U.S. Person in an offshore transaction in accordance with Rule 904, a certificate to the effect set forth in Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof; or

(D) if such Restricted Definitive Security is being transferred pursuant to an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act other than Rule 144A or Regulation S, a certificate to the effect set forth in Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (3) thereof, the Trustee shall cancel the Restricted Definitive Security, the Registrar shall increase or cause to be increased the aggregate principal amount of, in the case of clause (A) above, the appropriate Restricted Global Security, in the case of clause (B) above, the 144A Global Security, and in the case of clause (C) above, the Regulation S Global Security.

(2) Restricted Definitive Securities to Beneficial Interests in Unrestricted Global Securities . A Holder of a Restricted Definitive Security may exchange such Security for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Security or transfer such Restricted Definitive Security to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Security only if:

(A) such exchange or transfer is effected pursuant to a Registered Exchange Offer in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement and the Holder, in the case of an exchange, or the transferee, in the case of a transfer, certifies in the applicable Letter of Transmittal (or via the Depository's book-entry system) that, among other things, it is not (i) a Person participating in the distribution of the Exchange Securities or (ii) an affiliate (as defined in Rule 144) of the Company and that any Exchange Securities to be acquired by such holder will be acquired in the ordinary course of its business;

(B) such transfer is effected pursuant to a Shelf Registration Statement in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement;

(C) such transfer is effected by an Exchanging Dealer pursuant to an Exchange Offer Registration Statement in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement; or

(D) the Registrar receives the following:

(i) if the Holder of such Definitive Securities proposes to exchange such Securities for a beneficial interest in the Unrestricted Global Security, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1)(c) thereof; or

(ii) if the Holder of such Definitive Securities proposes to transfer such Securities to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in the Unrestricted Global Security, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof;

and, in each such case set forth in this subparagraph (D), if the Registrar so requests or if the Applicable Procedures so require, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer is in compliance with the Securities Act and state “blue sky” laws and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend are no longer required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

Upon satisfaction of the conditions of any of the subparagraphs in this Section 2.06(d)(2), the Trustee shall cancel the Definitive Securities and the Registrar shall increase or cause to be increased the aggregate principal amount of the Unrestricted Global Security.

(3) Unrestricted Definitive Securities to Beneficial Interests in Unrestricted Global Securities . A Holder of an Unrestricted Definitive Security may exchange such Security for a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Security or transfer such Definitive Security to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Security at any time. Upon receipt of a request for such an exchange or transfer, the Trustee shall cancel the applicable Unrestricted Definitive Security and the Registrar shall increase or cause to be increased the aggregate principal amount of one of the Unrestricted Global Securities.

If any such exchange or transfer from a Definitive Security to a beneficial interest in an Unrestricted Global Security is effected at a time when an Unrestricted Global Security has not yet been issued, the Company shall issue and, upon receipt of an Authentication Order in accordance with Section 2.02, the Trustee shall authenticate one or more Unrestricted Global Securities in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of Definitive Securities so transferred.

(e) Transfer and Exchange of Definitive Securities for Definitive Securities . Upon request by a Holder of Definitive Securities and such Holder's compliance with the provisions of this Section 2.06(e), the Registrar shall register the transfer or exchange of Definitive Securities. Prior to such registration of transfer or exchange, the requesting Holder shall present or surrender to the Registrar the Definitive Securities duly endorsed or accompanied by a written instrument of transfer in form satisfactory to the Registrar duly executed by such Holder or by its attorney, duly authorized in writing. In addition, the requesting Holder shall provide any additional certifications, documents and information, as applicable, required pursuant to the following provisions of this Section 2.06(e).

(1) Restricted Definitive Securities to Restricted Definitive Securities . Any Restricted Definitive Security may be transferred to and registered in the name of Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of a Restricted Definitive Security if the Registrar receives the following:

(A) if the transfer will be made pursuant to Rule 144A, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (1) thereof;

(B) if the transfer will be made pursuant to Rule 904, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (2) thereof; and

(C) if the transfer will be made pursuant to any other exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act, then the transferor must deliver a certificate in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications required by item (3) thereof.

(2) Restricted Definitive Securities to Unrestricted Definitive Securities . Any Restricted Definitive Security may be exchanged by the Holder thereof for an Unrestricted Definitive Security or transferred to a Person or Persons who take delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Security if:

(A) such exchange or transfer is effected pursuant to a Registered Exchange Offer in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement and the Holder, in the case of an exchange, or the transferee, in the case of a transfer, certifies in the applicable Letter of Transmittal (or via the Depository's book-entry system) that, among other things, it is not (i) a Person participating in the distribution of the Exchange Securities or (ii) a Person who is an affiliate (as defined in Rule 144) of the Company and that any Exchange Securities to be acquired by such holder will be acquired in the ordinary course of its business;

(B) any such transfer is effected pursuant to a Shelf Registration Statement in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement;

(C) any such transfer is effected by an Exchanging Dealer pursuant to an Exchange Offer Registration Statement in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement; or

(D) the Registrar receives the following:

(i) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Securities proposes to exchange such Securities for an Unrestricted Definitive Security, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit C hereto, including the certifications in item (1) (d) thereof; or

(ii) if the Holder of such Restricted Definitive Security proposes to transfer such Securities to a Person who shall take delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Security, a certificate from such Holder in the form of Exhibit B hereto, including the certifications in item (4) thereof; and, in each such case set forth in this subparagraph (D), if the Registrar so requests, an Opinion of Counsel in form reasonably acceptable to the Registrar to the effect that such exchange or transfer is in compliance with the Securities Act and state "blue sky" laws and that the restrictions on transfer contained herein and in the Private Placement Legend are no longer required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act.

(3) Unrestricted Definitive Securities to Unrestricted Definitive Securities . A Holder of Unrestricted Definitive Securities may transfer such Securities to a Person who takes delivery thereof in the form of an Unrestricted Definitive Security. Upon receipt of a request to register such a transfer, the Registrar shall register the Unrestricted Definitive Security pursuant to the instructions from the Holder thereof. Prior to such registration of transfer, the requesting Holder must present or surrender to the Registrar the Unrestricted Definitive Securities duly endorsed or accompanied by a written instrument of transfer in form satisfactory to the Registrar duly executed by such Holder or by its attorney, duly authorized in writing.

(f) Registered Exchange Offer . Upon the occurrence of a Registered Exchange Offer in accordance with the applicable Registration Rights Agreement, the Company shall issue and, upon receipt of a written order in accordance with Section 2.02, the Trustee shall authenticate:

(1) one or more Unrestricted Global Securities in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of the beneficial interests in the Restricted Global Securities tendered for acceptance by Persons that certify in the applicable Letters of Transmittal (or via the Depository's book-entry system), among other things, that (A) any Exchange Securities to be acquired by such Persons will be acquired in the ordinary course of business, (B) they are not participating in a distribution of the Exchange Securities and (C) they are not affiliates (as defined in Rule 144) of the Company, and accepted for exchange in the Registered Exchange Offer; and

(2) Unrestricted Definitive Securities in an aggregate principal amount equal to the principal amount of any Restricted Definitive Securities accepted for exchange in the Registered Exchange Offer.

Concurrently with the issuance of such Securities, the Registrar shall cause the aggregate principal amount of the applicable Restricted Global Securities to be reduced accordingly, and the Company shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate, and deliver to the Persons designated by the Holders of any Definitive Securities so accepted, Unrestricted Definitive Securities in the appropriate principal amount.

(g) Legends. The following legends shall appear on the face of all Global Securities and Definitive Securities issued under this Indenture unless specifically stated otherwise in the applicable provisions of this Indenture.

(1) Private Placement Legend.

(A) Except as permitted by subparagraph (B) below or as otherwise agreed between the Company and the Holder, each Global Security and each Definitive Security (and all Securities issued in exchange therefor or substitution thereof) shall bear a legend, until the Resale Restriction Termination Date, in substantially the following form:

THIS SECURITY HAS NOT BEEN REGISTERED UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT OF 1933, AS AMENDED (THE “SECURITIES ACT”), OR ANY SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY STATE OR OTHER JURISDICTION. NEITHER THIS SECURITY NOR ANY INTEREST OR PARTICIPATION HEREIN MAY BE REOFFERED, SOLD, ASSIGNED, TRANSFERRED, PLEDGED, ENCUMBERED OR OTHERWISE DISPOSED OF IN THE ABSENCE OF SUCH REGISTRATION OR UNLESS SUCH TRANSACTION IS EXEMPT FROM, OR NOT SUBJECT TO, THE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF THE SECURITIES ACT.

THE HOLDER OF THIS SECURITY BY ITS ACCEPTANCE HEREOF (1) REPRESENTS THAT (A) IT IS A “QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER” (AS DEFINED IN RULE 144A UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT (“RULE 144A”)), OR (B) IT IS A NON-U.S. PERSON AND IS ACQUIRING THIS SECURITY IN AN OFFSHORE TRANSACTION WITHIN THE MEANING OF REGULATION S UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT, PURSUANT TO RULE 904 OF REGULATION S, AND (2) AGREES TO OFFER, SELL OR OTHERWISE TRANSFER SUCH SECURITY, PRIOR TO THE RESALE RESTRICTION TERMINATION DATE, ONLY (A) TO COLUMBIA PIPELINE GROUP, INC. OR ANY OF ITS SUBSIDIARIES, (B) PURSUANT TO A REGISTRATION STATEMENT WHICH HAS BEEN DECLARED EFFECTIVE UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT, (C) FOR SO LONG AS THE SECURITIES ARE ELIGIBLE FOR RESALE PURSUANT TO RULE

144A, TO A PERSON IT REASONABLY BELIEVES IS A “QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER” AS DEFINED IN RULE 144A THAT PURCHASES FOR ITS OWN ACCOUNT OR FOR THE ACCOUNT OF A QUALIFIED INSTITUTIONAL BUYER TO WHOM NOTICE IS GIVEN THAT THE TRANSFER IS BEING MADE IN RELIANCE ON RULE 144A, (D) PURSUANT TO OFFERS AND SALES TO NON-U.S. PERSONS THAT OCCUR OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES WITHIN THE MEANING OF REGULATIONS UNDER THE SECURITIES ACT, PURSUANT TO RULE 904 OF REGULATIONS, OR (E) PURSUANT TO ANOTHER AVAILABLE EXEMPTION FROM THE REGISTRATION REQUIREMENTS OF THE SECURITIES ACT AND IN EACH CASE, THE SECURITIES LAWS OF ANY OTHER JURISDICTION, INCLUDING ANY STATE OF THE UNITED STATES, SUBJECT TO THE COMPANY’S AND THE TRUSTEE’S RIGHT PRIOR TO ANY SUCH OFFER, SALE OR TRANSFER TO REQUIRE THE DELIVERY OF AN OPINION OF COUNSEL SATISFACTORY TO EACH OF THEM AND/OR A CERTIFICATE OF TRANSFER OR EXCHANGE IN THE FORM PRESCRIBED IN THE INDENTURE. THIS LEGEND WILL BE REMOVED UPON THE REQUEST OF THE HOLDER AFTER THE RESALE RESTRICTION TERMINATION DATE.

BY ITS ACQUISITION AND HOLDING OF THIS SECURITY THE HOLDER THEREOF WILL BE DEEMED TO HAVE REPRESENTED, WARRANTED AND AGREED THAT EITHER (I) IT IS NOT AND WILL NOT BE FOR SO LONG AS IT HOLDS ANY SECURITY (OR INTEREST IN A SECURITY) AN EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN OR ARRANGEMENT SUBJECT TO THE FIDUCIARY RESPONSIBILITY REQUIREMENT OF TITLE I OF U.S. EMPLOYEE RETIREMENT INCOME SECURITY ACT OF 1974, AS AMENDED (“ERISA”), A “PLAN” OR ARRANGEMENT SUBJECT TO SECTION 4975 OF THE U.S. INTERNAL REVENUE CODE OF 1986, AS AMENDED (THE “CODE”), OR AN ENTITY WHOSE UNDERLYING ASSETS INCLUDE PLAN ASSETS BY REASON OF SUCH EMPLOYEE BENEFIT PLAN OR PLAN’S INVESTMENT IN THE ENTITY, OR A GOVERNMENTAL, NON-U.S., CHURCH OR OTHER PLAN WHICH IS SUBJECT TO ANY FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL, NON-U.S. OR OTHER LAWS OR REGULATIONS THAT ARE SUBSTANTIALLY SIMILAR TO SUCH PROVISIONS OF ERISA OR THE CODE (“SIMILAR LAWS”), OR (II) THE PURCHASE, HOLDING AND DISPOSITION OF THIS SECURITY WILL NOT CONSTITUTE A NON-EXEMPT PROHIBITED TRANSACTION UNDER SECTION 406 OF ERISA OR SECTION 4975 OF THE CODE OR, IN THE CASE OF A GOVERNMENTAL, NON-U.S., CHURCH OR OTHER PLAN, A SIMILAR VIOLATION UNDER ANY APPLICABLE SIMILAR LAWS.

(B) Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Global Security or Definitive Security issued pursuant to subparagraph (b)(4), (c)(2), (c)(3), (d)(2), (d)(3), (e)(2), (e)(3) or (f) of this Section 2.06 (and all Securities issued in exchange therefor or substitution thereof) shall not bear the Private Placement Legend.

(2) Global Security Legend . Each Global Security shall bear a legend in substantially the following form:

THIS GLOBAL SECURITY IS HELD BY THE DEPOSITARY (AS DEFINED IN THE INDENTURE GOVERNING THIS SECURITY) OR ITS NOMINEE IN CUSTODY FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE BENEFICIAL OWNERS HEREOF, AND IS NOT TRANSFERABLE TO ANY PERSON UNDER ANY CIRCUMSTANCES EXCEPT THAT (I) THE REGISTRAR MAY MAKE SUCH NOTATIONS HEREON AS MAY BE REQUIRED PURSUANT TO SECTION 2.06 OF THE INDENTURE, (II) THIS GLOBAL SECURITY MAY BE EXCHANGED IN WHOLE BUT NOT IN PART PURSUANT TO SECTION 2.06(a) OF THE INDENTURE AND (III) THIS GLOBAL SECURITY MAY BE DELIVERED TO THE TRUSTEE FOR CANCELLATION PURSUANT TO SECTION 2.11 OF THE INDENTURE.

UNLESS AND UNTIL IT IS EXCHANGED IN WHOLE OR IN PART FOR SECURITIES IN DEFINITIVE FORM, THIS SECURITY MAY NOT BE TRANSFERRED EXCEPT AS A WHOLE BY THE DEPOSITARY TO A NOMINEE OF THE DEPOSITARY OR BY A NOMINEE OF THE DEPOSITARY TO THE DEPOSITARY OR ANOTHER NOMINEE OF THE DEPOSITARY OR BY THE DEPOSITARY OR ANY SUCH NOMINEE TO A SUCCESSOR DEPOSITARY OR A NOMINEE OF SUCH SUCCESSOR DEPOSITARY. UNLESS THIS CERTIFICATE IS PRESENTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF THE DEPOSITARY TRUST COMPANY (55 WATER STREET, NEW YORK, NEW YORK) (“DTC”) TO THE COMPANY OR ITS AGENT FOR REGISTRATION OF TRANSFER, EXCHANGE OR PAYMENT, AND ANY CERTIFICATE ISSUED IS REGISTERED IN THE NAME OF CEDE & CO. OR SUCH OTHER NAME AS MAY BE REQUESTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF DTC (AND ANY PAYMENT IS MADE TO CEDE & CO. OR SUCH OTHER ENTITY AS MAY BE REQUESTED BY AN AUTHORIZED REPRESENTATIVE OF DTC), ANY TRANSFER, PLEDGE OR OTHER USE HEREOF FOR VALUE OR OTHERWISE BY OR TO ANY PERSON IS WRONGFUL INASMUCH AS THE REGISTERED OWNER HEREOF, CEDE & CO., HAS AN INTEREST HEREIN.

(3) Regulation S Temporary Global Security Legend . Each Regulation S Temporary Global Security shall bear a legend in substantially the following form:

THE RIGHTS ATTACHING TO THIS REGULATION S TEMPORARY GLOBAL SECURITY, AND THE CONDITIONS AND PROCEDURES GOVERNING ITS EXCHANGE FOR A REGULATION S PERMANENT GLOBAL SECURITY, ARE AS SPECIFIED IN THE INDENTURE (AS DEFINED HEREIN). NEITHER THE HOLDER NOR THE BENEFICIAL OWNERS OF THIS REGULATION S TEMPORARY GLOBAL SECURITY SHALL BE ENTITLED TO RECEIVE PAYMENT OF INTEREST HEREON.

(h) Cancellation or Adjustment of Global Securities . At such time as all beneficial interests in a particular Global Security have been exchanged for beneficial interests in another Global Security or for Definitive Securities, or a particular Global Security has been redeemed, repurchased or canceled, in each case, in whole and not in part, each such Global Security shall be returned to or retained and canceled by the Trustee in accordance with Section 2.11. At any time prior to such cancellation, if any beneficial interest in a Global Security is exchanged for or transferred to a Person who will take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in another Global Security or for Definitive Securities, the principal amount of Securities represented by such Global Security shall be reduced accordingly and an endorsement shall be made on such Global Security by the Trustee or by the Depositary at the direction of the Trustee to reflect such reduction; and if the beneficial interest is being exchanged for or transferred to a Person who will take delivery thereof in the form of a beneficial interest in another Global Security, such other Global Security shall be increased accordingly and an endorsement shall be made on such Global Security by the Trustee or by the Depositary at the direction of the Trustee to reflect such increase.

(i) General Provisions Relating to Transfers and Exchanges .

(1) To permit registrations of transfers and exchanges, the Company shall execute and the Trustee shall authenticate or cause to be authenticated Global Securities and Definitive Securities upon the Company's order or at the Registrar's request.

(2) No service charge shall be made to a holder of a beneficial interest in a Global Security or to a Holder of a Definitive Security for any registration of transfer or exchange, but the Company may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any transfer tax or similar governmental charge or other fee required by law and payable in connection therewith (other than any such transfer taxes or similar governmental charge or other fee payable upon exchange or transfer pursuant to Sections 2.10, 8.05 and 10.06).

(3) All Global Securities and Definitive Securities issued upon any registration of transfer or exchange of Global Securities or Definitive Securities shall be the valid obligations of the Company, evidencing the same debt, and entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture, as the Global Securities or Definitive Securities surrendered upon such registration of transfer or exchange.

(4) None of the Company, the Trustee or the Registrar shall be required (A) to issue, to register the transfer of or to exchange any Securities during a period beginning at the opening of business 15 days before the day of sending of a notice of redemption under Section 10.03 and ending at the close of business on such day or (B) to register the transfer of or to exchange any Securities so selected for redemption in whole or in part, except the unredeemed portion of any Security being redeemed in part.

(5) Prior to the due presentation for registration of transfer of any Security, the Company, the Guarantors, the Trustee, the Paying Agent or the Registrar may deem and treat the Person in whose name a Security is registered as the absolute owner of such Security for the purpose of receiving any payment on such Security and for all other purposes whatsoever, whether or not such Security is overdue, and none of the Company, the Guarantors, the Trustee, the Paying Agent or the Registrar shall be affected by notice to the contrary.

(6) The Trustee shall authenticate or cause to be authenticated Global Securities and Definitive Securities upon receipt of a written order of the Company signed by one of its Officers and in accordance with the other provisions of Section 2.02 to the extent applicable.

(7) All certifications, certificates and Opinions of Counsel required to be submitted to the Registrar pursuant to this Section 2.06 to effect a registration of transfer or exchange may be submitted by facsimile.

(8) The Trustee shall have no obligation or duty to monitor, determine or inquire as to compliance with any restrictions on transfer imposed under this Indenture or under applicable law with respect to any transfer of any interest in any Global Security or Definitive Security other than to require delivery of such certificates and other documentation or evidence as is expressly required by, and to do so if and when expressly required by the terms of, this Indenture, and to examine the same to determine substantial compliance as to conformity with the express requirements hereof.

(9) Neither the Trustee nor any Agent shall have any responsibility for any actions taken or not taken by the Depository.

SECTION 2.07. Replacement Securities . If a mutilated Security is surrendered to the Registrar or if the Holder of a Security claims that the Security has been lost, destroyed or wrongfully taken, the Company shall issue and the Trustee shall authenticate a replacement Security if the Trustee's requirements are met, such that the Holder (a) satisfies the Company or the Trustee within a reasonable time after such Holder has notice of such loss, destruction or wrongful taking and the Registrar does not register a transfer prior to receiving such notification, (b) makes such request to the Company or Trustee prior to the Security being acquired by a protected purchaser as defined in Section 8-303 of the Uniform Commercial Code (a "protected purchaser") and (c) satisfies any other reasonable requirements of the Trustee. Such Holder must furnish an indemnity bond that is sufficient in the judgment of the Trustee and the Company to protect the Company, the Trustee, any Agent or any authenticating agent from any loss which any of them may suffer if a Security is replaced. The Company and the Trustee may charge for their expenses in replacing a Security. If, after the delivery of such replacement Security, a protected purchaser of the original Security in lieu of which such replacement Security was issued presents for payment or registration such original Security, the Trustee shall be entitled to recover such replacement Security from the Person to whom it was delivered or any Person taking therefrom, except a protected purchaser, and shall be entitled to recover upon the security or indemnity provided therefor to the extent of any loss, damage, cost or expense incurred by the Trustee or the Company in connection therewith. Every replacement Security is a contractual obligation of the Company.

In case any such mutilated, destroyed, lost or wrongfully taken Security has become or is about to become due and payable, the Company in its discretion may, instead of issuing a new Security, pay such Security.

The provisions of this Section are exclusive and shall preclude (to the extent lawful) all other rights and remedies with respect to the replacement or payment of mutilated, destroyed, lost or wrongfully taken Securities.

SECTION 2.08. Outstanding Securities . The Securities outstanding at any time are all the Securities authenticated by the Trustee except for those canceled by it, those delivered to it for cancellation, those reductions in the interest in a Global Security effected by the Registrar hereunder and those described in this Section 2.08 as not outstanding; provided, however , that in determining whether the Holders of the requisite principal amount of outstanding Securities are present at a meeting of Holders of Securities for quorum purposes or have consented to or voted in favor of any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver, amendment or modification hereunder, Securities held for the account of the Company or any of its Affiliates shall be disregarded and deemed not to be outstanding, except that in determining whether the Trustee shall be protected in making such a determination or relying upon any such quorum, consent or vote, only Securities which a Responsible Officer of the Trustee actually knows to be so owned shall be so disregarded.

If a Security is replaced pursuant to Section 2.07, it ceases to be outstanding unless the Trustee receives proof satisfactory to it that the replaced Security is held by a protected purchaser.

If the principal amount of any Security is considered paid under Section 3.01, it ceases to be outstanding and interest on it ceases to accrue.

SECTION 2.09. [Reserved .]

SECTION 2.10. Temporary Securities . Until Definitive Securities are ready for delivery, the Company may prepare and the Trustee shall authenticate or cause to be authenticated temporary Securities. Temporary Securities shall be substantially in the form of Definitive Securities, but may have variations that the Company considers appropriate for temporary Securities. Without unreasonable delay, the Company shall prepare and the Trustee shall authenticate Definitive Securities in exchange for temporary Securities. Until so exchanged, temporary Securities shall in all respects be entitled to the same benefits under this Indenture as Definitive Securities.

SECTION 2.11. Cancellation . The Company or a Guarantor at any time may deliver Securities to the Trustee for cancellation. The Registrar and the Paying Agent shall forward to the Trustee any Securities surrendered to them for registration of transfer, exchange or payment. The Trustee shall cancel all Securities surrendered for registration of transfer, exchange, payment, replacement or cancellation. All canceled Securities held by the Trustee shall be disposed of in accordance with the usual disposal procedures of the Trustee. The Company may not issue new Securities to replace Securities that have been paid or that have been delivered to the Trustee for cancellation.

SECTION 2.12. Defaulted Interest . If the Company defaults in a payment of interest on the Securities, it shall pay the defaulted interest in any lawful manner plus, to the extent lawful, interest on the defaulted interest, in each case at the rate provided in the Securities and in the manner provided in Section 3.01. The Company may pay the defaulted interest to the Persons who are Holders on a subsequent special record date. At least 15 days before any special record date, the Company (or the Trustee, in the name of and at the expense of the Company) shall send to Holders a notice that states the special record date, the related payment date and the amount of such interest to be paid.

SECTION 2.13. Persons Deemed Owners . The Company, each Guarantor, the Trustee, any Agent and any authenticating agent may treat the Person in whose name any Security is registered as the owner of such Security for the purpose of receiving payments of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on such Security and for all other purposes. None of the Company, each Guarantor, the Trustee, any Agent or any authenticating agent shall be affected by any notice to the contrary.

SECTION 2.14. CUSIP Numbers . The Company in issuing the Securities may use “CUSIP,” “ISIN” or similar numbers (if then generally in use), and, if so, the Trustee shall use such numbers in notices of redemption as a convenience to Holders; provided, that any such notice may state that no representation is made as to the correctness of such numbers either as printed on the Securities or as contained in any notice of a redemption and that reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers printed on the Securities, and any such redemption shall not be affected by any defect in or omission of such numbers. The Company will promptly notify the Trustee in accordance with Section 11.02 of any change in any such number.

ARTICLE III COVENANTS

SECTION 3.01. Payment of Securities . The Company shall pay the principal of and premium, if any and interest on the Securities on the dates and in the manner provided in the Securities, this Indenture and, in the case of any Additional Interest, the applicable Registration Rights Agreement. Principal, premium, if any, and interest shall be considered paid on the date due if the Paying Agent, other than the Company or a Subsidiary of the Company, holds by 11:00 a.m., Eastern time, on that date money deposited by or on behalf of the Company designated for and sufficient to pay all principal, premium, if any Additional Interest, if any, and interest then due.

Further, to the extent lawful, the Company shall pay interest on overdue principal, premium, if any, and interest (without regard to any applicable grace period), from time to time on demand at the rate then in effect on the Securities.

All references in this Indenture, the Securities or the Guarantees to “interest” shall be deemed to include Additional Interest unless the context otherwise requires. The Company shall give the Trustee advance notice in accordance with Section 11.02 of the amount of any Additional Interest that may be payable with respect to the Securities.

SECTION 3.02. Maintenance of Office or Agency . So long as any of the Securities shall remain outstanding, the Company will, in accordance with Section 2.03, maintain an office or agency (which may be an office of the Trustee or an affiliate of the Trustee, or the Registrar) in the continental United States where the Securities may be surrendered for exchange or registration of transfer as provided in this Indenture, where notices and demands to or upon the Company in respect to the Securities may be served, and where the Securities may be presented or surrendered for payment. The Company may also from time to time designate one or more other offices or agencies in the continental United States where Securities may be presented or surrendered for any and all such purposes and may from time to time rescind such designations; provided, however , that no such designation or rescission shall in any manner relieve the Company of its obligation under Section 2.03 to maintain an office or agency in The City of New York where any Securities may be presented or surrendered for payment. The Company will give to the Trustee prompt notice in accordance with Section 11.02 of the location of any such office or agency and of any change of location thereof. In case the Company shall fail to maintain any such office or agency or shall fail to give such notice of the location or of any change in the location thereof, such surrenders, presentations and demands may be made and notices may be served at the office of the Trustee indicated in Section 11.02, and the Company hereby appoints the Trustee its agent to receive at the aforesaid office all such surrenders, presentations, notices and demands.

SECTION 3.03. SEC Reports; Financial Statements .

(a) The Company covenants and agrees, so long as any Securities are outstanding, to file with the Trustee copies, within 15 days after the Company is required to file the same with the SEC, of the annual reports and of the information, documents and other reports (or copies of such portions of any of the foregoing as the SEC may from time to time by rules and regulations prescribe) which the Company may be required to file with the SEC pursuant to Section 13 or Section 15(d) of the Exchange Act; or, if the Company is not required to file information, documents or reports pursuant to either of such sections, then to file with the Trustee and the SEC, in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed from time to time by the SEC, such of the supplementary and periodic information, documents and reports, if any, which may be required pursuant to Section 13 of the Exchange Act, in respect of a security listed and registered on a national securities exchange as may be prescribed from time to time in such rules and regulations. Delivery of such reports, information and documents to the Trustee is for informational purposes only, and the Trustee’s receipt of such shall not constitute constructive notice of any information contained therein or determinable from information contained therein, including the Company’s compliance with any of its covenants hereunder (as to which the Trustee is entitled to rely exclusively on Officer’s Certificates).

(b) At any time when the Company is not subject to Section 13 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act and the Securities are not freely transferable under the Securities Act, upon the request of a Holder, the Company and the Guarantors will promptly furnish or cause to be furnished the information specified under Rule 144A(d)(4) of the Securities Act to such Holder, or to a prospective purchaser of a Security designed by such Holder, in order to permit compliance with Rule 144A.

SECTION 3.04. Compliance Certificate . The Company and each Guarantor shall deliver to the Trustee, within 120 days after the end of each fiscal year of the Company, an Officer's Certificate complying with TIA Section 314(a)(4) and stating that in the course of performance by the signing Officer of his duties as such Officer, he would normally obtain knowledge of the keeping, observing, performing and fulfilling by the Company and such Guarantor, respectively, of their obligations under this Indenture, and further stating, as to the Officer signing such statement, that to the best of his knowledge, each of the Company and such Guarantor has kept, observed, performed and fulfilled each and every covenant contained in this Indenture and is not in default in the performance or observance of any of the terms, provisions and conditions hereof (or, if a Default or Event of Default shall have occurred, describing all such Defaults or Events of Default of which such Officer may have knowledge and what action the Company or such Guarantor, as the case may be, are taking or proposes to take with respect thereto).

SECTION 3.05. Existence . Subject to Article IV, each of the Company and the Guarantors will do or cause to be done all things necessary to preserve and keep in full force and effect its existence, under the laws of its jurisdiction of incorporation or formation.

SECTION 3.06. Waiver of Stay, Extension or Usury Laws . Each of the Company and the Guarantors covenant (to the extent that it may lawfully do so) that it will not at any time insist upon, or plead, or in any manner whatsoever claim or take the benefit or advantage of, any stay or extension law or any usury law or other law, which would prohibit or forgive the Company or the Guarantors from paying all or any portion of the principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Securities as contemplated herein, wherever enacted, now or at any time hereafter in force, or which may affect the covenants or the performance of this Indenture; and (to the extent that they may lawfully do so) each of the Company and the Guarantors hereby expressly waives all benefit or advantage of any such law, and covenants that it will not hinder, delay or impede the execution of any power herein granted to the Trustee, but will suffer and permit the execution of every such power as though no such law had been enacted.

SECTION 3.07. Limitation on Liens . While any of the Securities remains outstanding, the Company shall not, nor may it permit any Principal Subsidiary to, create, or permit to be created or to exist, any Lien of any kind upon any Principal Property of the Company or any Principal Subsidiary, or upon any equity interests of any Principal Subsidiary, whether such Principal Property is, or equity interests are, owned on or acquired after the date of this Indenture, to secure any Debt of the Company or any other Person, unless it shall make effective provision whereby the Securities then outstanding shall be secured by such Lien equally and ratably with any and all such Debt thereby secured so long as such Debt shall be so secured; provided, however, that nothing in this Section 3.07 shall be construed to prevent the Company or any Principal Subsidiary from creating, or from permitting to be created or to exist, any Liens with respect to:

(a) purchase money mortgages, or other purchase money Liens of any kind upon property acquired by the Company or any Principal Subsidiary after the date of this Indenture, or Liens of any kind existing on any property or any equity interests at the time of the acquisition thereof (including Liens that exist on any property or any equity interests of a Person that is consolidated with or merged with or into the Company or any Principal Subsidiary or that transfers or leases all or substantially all of its properties or assets to the Company or any Principal Subsidiary), or conditional sales agreements or other title retention agreements and leases in the nature of title retention agreements with respect to any property acquired after the date of this Indenture; provided, however, that no such Lien shall extend to or cover any other property of the Company or such Principal Subsidiary;

(b) Liens upon any property of the Company or any Principal Subsidiary or upon any equity interests of any Principal Subsidiary existing as of the Issue Date or upon the property or any equity interests of any Person, which Liens existed at the time such Person became a Subsidiary of the Company;

(c) pledges or deposits to secure: (i) any governmental charges or levies; (ii) obligations under worker's compensation laws, unemployment insurance and other social security legislation; (iii) performance in connection with bids, tenders, contracts (other than contracts for the payment of money) or leases to which the Company or any Principal Subsidiary is a party; (iv) public or statutory obligations of the Company or any Principal Subsidiary; and (v) surety, stay, appeal, indemnity, customs, performance or return-of-money bonds or pledges or deposits in lieu thereof;

(d) Liens created by or resulting from any litigation or proceeding that at the time is being contested in good faith by appropriate proceedings, including Liens relating to judgments thereunder as to which the Company or any Principal Subsidiary has not exhausted its appellate rights;

(e) Liens on deposits required by any Person (i) with whom the Company or any Principal Subsidiary enters into forward contracts, futures contracts, swap agreements or other commodities contracts (A) in the ordinary course of business and (B) in accordance with established risk management policies or practices or otherwise approved by the Board of Directors or a committee thereof and Liens in connection with leases (other than capital leases) made, or existing on property acquired, in the ordinary course of business;

(f) easements (including, without limitation, reciprocal easement agreements and utility agreements), zoning restrictions, rights-of-way, covenants, consents, reservations, encroachments, variations and other restrictions on the use of property or minor irregularities in title thereto, charges or encumbrances (whether or not recorded) affecting the use of real property and, which are incidental to, and do not materially impair the use of such property in the operation of the business of the Company and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, or the value of such property for the purpose of such business;

(g) Liens in favor of the United States of America, any State, any foreign country or any department, agency or instrumentality or political subdivision of any such jurisdiction, to secure partial, progress, advance or other payments pursuant to any contract or statute or to secure any Debt incurred for the purpose of financing all or any part of the purchase price or the cost of constructing or improving the property subject to such Liens, including, without limitation, Liens to secure Debt of the pollution control or industrial revenue bond type;

(h) Liens of any kind upon any property acquired, constructed, developed or improved by the Company or any Principal Subsidiary (whether alone or in association with others) after the date of this Indenture that are created prior to, at the time of, or within 12 months after such acquisition (or in the case of property constructed, developed, or improved, after the completion of such construction, development or improvement and commencement of full commercial operation of such property, whichever is later) to secure or provide for the payment of any part of the purchase price or cost thereof; provided, that in the case of such construction, development or improvement the Liens shall not apply to any property theretofore owned by the Company or any Principal Subsidiary other than theretofore unimproved real property;

(i) Liens in favor of the Company, one or more Principal Subsidiaries, one or more Guarantors or any of the foregoing in combination;

(j) the replacement, extension or renewal (or successive replacements, extensions or renewals), as a whole or in part, of any Lien, or of any agreement, referred to in the clauses above, or the replacement, extension or renewal of the Debt secured thereby (not exceeding the principal amount of Debt secured thereby, other than to provide for the payment of any underwriting or other fees related to any such replacement, extension or renewal, as well as any premiums owed on and accrued and unpaid interest payable in connection with any such replacement, extension or renewal); provided, that such replacement, extension or renewal is limited to all or a part of the same property that secured the Lien replaced, extended or renewed (plus improvements thereon or additions or accessions thereto); or

(k) any Lien not excepted by the foregoing clauses (a) through (j); provided, that immediately after the creation or assumption of such Lien the aggregate principal amount of Debt of the Company or any Principal Subsidiary secured by all Liens created or assumed under the provisions of this clause (k), together with the amount of all Attributable Debt in respect of the Sale-Leaseback Transactions incurred under the exception in clause (b) of Section 3.09 and existing at such time shall not exceed an amount equal to 15% of the Consolidated Net Tangible Assets for the fiscal quarter or fiscal year, as applicable, that was most recently completed prior to the creation or assumption of such Lien.

SECTION 3.08. Future Guarantees. The Company shall cause each Subsidiary (other than a Guarantor) that becomes a guarantor or co-obligor of the Company's Funded Debt, within 90 days of such guarantee or co-obligation, to execute and deliver to the Trustee a supplement to this Indenture substantially in the form of Exhibit D hereto, executed by such Subsidiary, under which such Subsidiary shall become a Guarantor of the Securities on the terms and subject to the release and other provisions, as set forth in Article IX of this Indenture.

SECTION 3.09. Limitations on Sale and Lease-Back Transactions . While the Securities remain outstanding, the Company shall not, nor may it permit any Principal Subsidiary to, engage in a Sale-Leaseback Transaction, unless:

(a) the Sale-Leaseback Transaction occurs within one year from the date of acquisition of the Principal Property subject thereto or the date of the completion of construction or commencement of full operations on such Principal Property, whichever is later, and the Company shall have elected to designate, as a credit against (but not exceeding) the purchase price or cost of construction of such Principal Property, an amount equal to all or a portion of the net sale proceeds from such Sale-Leaseback Transaction (with any such amount not being so designated to be applied as set forth in clause (c) below);

(b) the Company or such Principal Subsidiary would be entitled to incur Debt secured by a Lien on the Principal Property subject to the Sale-Leaseback Transaction in a principal amount equal to or exceeding the Attributable Debt with respect to such Sale-Leaseback Transaction without equally and ratably securing the Securities; or

(c) the Company or such Principal Subsidiary, within a 270-day period after such Sale-Leaseback Transaction, applies or causes to be applied an amount not less than the net sale proceeds from such Sale-Leaseback Transaction to (1) the prepayment, repayment, redemption or retirement of any unsubordinated Debt of the Company or any Subsidiary of the Company or (2) investment in another Principal Property.

SECTION 3.10. Change of Control Offer. Upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event with respect to a series of Securities, each Holder of Securities of that series shall have the right to require the Company to purchase all or any part (equal to $2,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof) of the Holder's Securities of such series at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but not including, the date of purchase; provided, however, that if such date of purchase is after the taking of a record of the Holders on a record date and on or prior to the related Interest Payment Date, the accrued and unpaid interest shall be payable to the Person in whose name the repurchased Securities are registered on such record date. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Company shall have no obligation to repurchase any Securities pursuant to this Section 3.10 to the extent that the Company shall have exercised its right to redeem the Securities of that series pursuant to Section 10.07.

For purposes of this Section 3.10, the term "Change of Control" means the occurrence of any one of the following:

(a) the sale, lease, transfer, conveyance or other disposition (other than by way of merger, amalgamation or consolidation), in one or a series of related transactions, of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company and the Subsidiaries taken as a whole to any "person" (as that term is used in Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act) other than to the Company or one or more of the Subsidiaries or a combination thereof or a Person controlled by the Company or one or more of the Subsidiaries or a combination thereof; or

(b) the consummation of any transaction (including without limitation, any merger, amalgamation or consolidation) the result of which is that any “person” (as that term is used in Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act) (other than any Subsidiary) becomes the “beneficial owner” (as defined in Rules 13d-3 and 13d-5 under the Exchange Act), directly or indirectly, of more than 50% of the outstanding Voting Stock of the Company, measured by voting power rather than number of shares.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, a transaction shall not be deemed to involve a “Change of Control” under clause (b) above if (i) the Company becomes a direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiary of a holding company and (ii)(A) the direct or indirect holders of the Voting Stock of such holding company immediately following such transaction are substantially the same as the holders of the Voting Stock of the Company immediately prior to such transaction or (B) immediately following such transaction no “person” (as that term is used in Section 13(d)(3) of the Exchange Act) (other than a holding company satisfying the requirements of this sentence) is the “beneficial owner” (as defined in Rules 13d-3 and 13d-5 under the Exchange Act), directly or indirectly, of more than 50% of the outstanding Voting Stock of such holding company, measured by voting power rather than number of shares.

For purposes of this Section 3.10, the term “Change of Control Triggering Event” means, with respect to a series of Securities, the ratings of the Securities of such series are lowered by at least two of the three Rating Agencies and the Securities of such series cease to be rated Investment Grade by at least two of the three Rating Agencies in any case on any date during the period (the “Trigger Period”) commencing on the date of the first public announcement by the Company of any Change of Control (or pending Change of Control) and ending 60 days following consummation of such Change of Control (which 60-day period will be extended for so long as the rating of the Securities of such series is under publicly announced consideration for a possible downgrade as a result of the Change of Control by any of the Rating Agencies). Notwithstanding the foregoing, no Change of Control Triggering Event will be deemed to have occurred in connection with any particular Change of Control unless and until such Change of Control has actually been consummated.

Within 60 days following the date upon which the Change of Control Triggering Event with respect to a series of Securities has occurred, or at the Company’s option, prior to any Change of Control but after the public announcement of the transaction that constitutes or may constitute the Change of Control, except to the extent that the Company shall have exercised its right to redeem the Securities of that series pursuant to Section 10.07, the Company shall send a notice (a “Change of Control Offer”) to each Holder of Securities of such series with a copy to the Trustee, which notice will govern the terms of the Change of Control Offer, stating:

(1) that a Change of Control Triggering Event with respect to the Securities of such series has occurred and that such Holder has the right to require the Company to purchase such Holder’s Securities of the series at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to the date of purchase (subject to the right of holders of record on a record date to receive interest on the relevant Interest Payment Date as provided in the first paragraph of this Section 3.10);

(2) the circumstances regarding such Change of Control Triggering Event;

(3) the purchase date (which shall be (i) no earlier than 30 days nor later than 60 days from the date such notice is sent, if sent after consummation of the Change of Control and (ii) on the date of the Change of Control, if such notice is sent prior to consummation of the Change of Control, in each case, other than as may be required by law) (such date, the “Change of Control Payment Date”); and

(4) the instructions that a Holder must follow in order to have its Securities of that series purchased.

Holders of Securities electing to have Securities purchased pursuant to a Change of Control Offer will be required to surrender their Securities of the applicable series, with the form entitled “Option of Holder to Elect Purchase” on the reverse of the Security completed, to the Paying Agent at the address specified in the notice, or transfer their Securities to the Paying Agent by book-entry transfer pursuant to the Applicable Procedures, prior to the close of business on the third Business Day prior to the Change of Control Payment Date.

On the Change of Control Payment Date, all Securities purchased by the Company under this Section shall be delivered to the Trustee for cancellation, and the Company shall pay the purchase price plus accrued and unpaid interest to the Holders entitled thereto.

The Company may make a Change of Control Offer in advance of a Change of Control and the Change of Control Payment Date, and its Change of Control Offer may be conditioned upon such Change of Control, if a definitive agreement is in place for the Change of Control at the time of making the Change of Control Offer.

If Holders of not less than 90% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities of a series validly tender and do not withdraw the Securities of such series in a Change of Control Offer and the Company, or any third party making a Change of Control Offer in lieu of the Company, as described below, purchases all of the Securities of such series validly tendered and not withdrawn by such Holders, the Company will have the right, upon not less than 20 nor more than 60 days’ prior notice, given in conformity with Section 11.02 not more than 30 days following such purchase pursuant to the Change of Control Offer described above, to redeem all Securities of such series that remain outstanding following such purchase at a Redemption Price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but not including, the Redemption Date (subject to the right of holders of record on the relevant record date to receive interest on the relevant Interest Payment Date).

The Company shall have no obligation to make a Change of Control Offer if a third party makes such an offer in the manner, at the times and otherwise in compliance with the requirements of this Section 3.10 for such an offer made by the Company, and such third party purchases all Securities properly tendered and not withdrawn under its offer.

The Company shall comply, to the extent applicable, with the requirements of Section 14(e) of the Exchange Act and any other securities laws or regulations in connection with the repurchase of Securities pursuant to a Change of Control Offer. To the extent that the provisions of any securities laws or regulations conflict with this Section 3.10, the Company shall comply with the applicable securities laws and regulations and will not be deemed to have breached its obligations by virtue thereof.

ARTICLE IV CONSOLIDATION, MERGER AND SALE

SECTION 4.01. Limitation on Mergers and Consolidations . The Company shall consolidate or amalgamate with or merge with or into any Person, or sell, lease, transfer, convey or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the Company's assets to any Person, whether in a single transaction or a series of related transactions, unless: (a) either (i) the Company shall be the surviving Person in the case of a merger or (ii) the resulting, surviving or transferee Person if other than the Company (the "Successor Company") shall be a partnership, limited liability company or corporation organized and existing under the laws of the United States, any state thereof or the District of Columbia and the Successor Company shall expressly assume, by an indenture supplemental hereto, executed and delivered to the Trustee, in form reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee, the due and punctual payment of the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on all of the Securities, and the due and punctual performance or observance of all the other obligations under the Indenture to be performed or observed by the Company; (b) immediately after giving effect to such transaction or series of transactions (and treating any Debt that becomes an obligation of the Successor Person or any Subsidiary of the Successor Person as a result of such transaction or series of transactions as having been incurred by the Successor Person or such Subsidiary at the time of such transaction or series of transactions), no Default or Event of Default would occur or be continuing; and (c) the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate and an Opinion of Counsel, each stating that such consolidation, amalgamation, merger, sale, conveyance, transfer, lease or other disposition and such supplemental indenture (if any) comply with this Section 4.01 and any other applicable provisions of the Indenture.

SECTION 4.02. Successors Substituted . In case of any consolidation, amalgamation or merger where the Company is not the continuing Person, or disposition of all or substantially all of the assets of the Company in accordance with Section 4.01, the Successor Company shall succeed to and be substituted for the Company with the same effect as if it had been named herein as the respective party to this Indenture, and the predecessor entity shall be released from all liabilities and obligations under this Indenture and the Securities, except that no such release will occur in the case of a lease of all or substantially all of the Company's assets. In case of any such consolidation, amalgamation, merger, sale, conveyance, transfer, lease or other disposition, such changes in phraseology and form (but not in substance) may be made in the Securities thereafter to be issued as may be appropriate.

ARTICLE V DEFAULTS AND REMEDIES

SECTION 5.01. Events of Default . "Event of Default" means, with respect to a series of Securities, any one of the following events (whatever the reason for such Event of Default and whether it shall be voluntary or involuntary or be effected by operation of law or pursuant to any judgment, decree or order of any court or any order, rule or regulation of any administrative or governmental body):

(i) default in the payment of the principal of or premium, if any, on any Security of such series either, at its Maturity, upon any redemption, by declaration or otherwise; or

(ii) default in the payment of interest upon any Security of such series when they become due and payable, and continuance of such default for a period of 30 days; or

(iii) default in the observance or performance, or breach, of any covenant of the Company or a Guarantor in any Security of such series or this Indenture applicable to such series of Securities (other than a covenant a default in whose performance or whose breach is elsewhere in this Section 5.01 specifically dealt with), and continuance of such default or breach for a period of 90 days after there has been given, in conformity with Section 11.02, to the Company and the Guarantors by the Trustee or to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee by the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities of such series a notice specifying such default or breach and requiring it to be remedied and stating that such notice is a "Notice of Default" hereunder; or

(iv) the entry by a court having jurisdiction in the premises of (A) a decree or order for relief in respect of the Company or a Guarantor in an involuntary case or proceeding under any applicable Bankruptcy Law or (B) a decree or order adjudging the Company or a Guarantor a bankrupt or insolvent, or approving as properly filed a petition seeking reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition of or in respect of the Company or a Guarantor under any applicable Bankruptcy Law, or appointing a custodian, receiver, receiver and manager, interim receiver, administrator, monitor, liquidator, assignee, trustee, sequestrator or other similar official of the Company or a Guarantor or of any substantial part of the property of the Company or a Guarantor, or ordering the winding up or liquidation of the affairs of the Company or a Guarantor, and the continuance of any such decree or order for relief or any such other decree or order unstayed and in effect for a period of 90 consecutive days; or

(v) the commencement by the Company or a Guarantor of a voluntary case or proceeding under any applicable Bankruptcy Law or of any other case or proceeding to be adjudicated a bankrupt or insolvent, or the consent by either of them to the entry of a decree or order for relief in respect of the Company or a Guarantor in an involuntary case or proceeding under any applicable Bankruptcy Law or to the commencement of any bankruptcy or insolvency case or proceeding against any of them, or the filing by any of them of a petition or answer or consent seeking reorganization or relief under any applicable Bankruptcy Law, or the consent by any of them to the filing of such petition or to the appointment of or taking possession by a custodian, receiver, receiver and manager, interim receiver, administrator, monitor, liquidator, assignee, trustee, sequestrator or similar official of the Company or a Guarantor or of any substantial part of the property of the Company or a Guarantor, or the making by either of them of an assignment for the benefit of creditors, or the admission by either of them in writing of its inability to pay its debts generally as they become due, or the taking of corporate action by the Company or the Guarantor in furtherance of any such action; or

(vi) a Guarantee by a Guarantor of the Securities of such series ceases to be in full force and effect or become unenforceable or invalid or are declared null and void (other than in accordance with the terms of such Guarantee) or a Guarantor denies or disaffirms its obligations under such Guarantee.

The Trustee shall not be deemed to know of a Default or Event of Default unless a Responsible Officer at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee has actual knowledge of such Default or Event of Default or the Trustee receives notice given in accordance with Section 11.02, at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee, of such Default or Event of Default with specific reference to such Default, the Securities and this Indenture.

When a Default is cured, or when an Event of Default is deemed cured pursuant to Section 5.04, such Default, or Event of Default, as the case may be, ceases.

SECTION 5.02. Acceleration . If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default specified in clause (iv) or (v) of Section 5.01) occurs and is continuing with respect to a series of Securities, the Trustee by notice to the Company and the Guarantors given in conformity with Section 11.02, or the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities of that series by notice to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee given in conformity with Section 11.02, may declare the principal of, premium, if any, and accrued and unpaid interest on all then outstanding Securities of that series to be due and payable immediately. Upon any such declaration the amounts due and payable on the Securities of such series, as determined in accordance with the final paragraph of this Section 5.02, shall be due and payable immediately. If an Event of Default specified in clause (iv) or (v) of Section 5.01 occurs, the principal of, premium, if any, and interest on all Securities then outstanding shall ipso facto become and be immediately due and payable without any declaration, notice or other act on the part of the Trustee or any Holder.

At any time after such an acceleration of a series of Securities has occurred and before a judgment for payment of the money due has been obtained by the Trustee as hereinafter in this Article V provided, the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities of that series, by notice to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee given in conformity with Section 11.02, may rescind and annul such acceleration and its consequences if:

(1) the Company or a Guarantor has paid or deposited with the Trustee a sum sufficient to pay:

(A) the principal of and premium, if any, on any Securities of that series which have become due otherwise than by such declaration of acceleration and any interest thereon then due at the rate or rates prescribed therefor in such Securities or in this Indenture,

(B) to the extent that payment of such interest is lawful, interest upon overdue interest at the rate or rates prescribed therefor in such Securities or in this Indenture, and

(C) all sums paid or advanced by the Trustee hereunder and the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee, its agents and counsel; and

(2) all Events of Default, other than the non-payment of the principal of Securities which have become due solely by such declaration of acceleration, have been cured or waived as provided in Section 5.04.

No such rescission shall affect any subsequent Event of Default or impair any right consequent thereon.

If the Maturity of the Securities is accelerated pursuant to this Section 5.02, 100% of the principal amount thereof and premium, if any, shall become due and payable plus accrued and unpaid interest to the date of payment.

SECTION 5.03. Other Remedies . If an Event of Default with respect to a series of Securities occurs and is continuing, the Trustee may pursue any available remedy to collect the payment of principal of, premium, if any, or interest on the Securities or to enforce the performance of any provision of the Securities of that series, the related Guarantees or this Indenture.

The Trustee may maintain a proceeding even if it does not possess any of the Securities or does not produce any of them in the proceeding. A delay or omission by the Trustee or any Holder in exercising any right or remedy accruing upon an Event of Default shall not impair the right or remedy or constitute a waiver of or acquiescence in the Event of Default. All remedies are cumulative to the extent permitted by law.

SECTION 5.04. Waiver of Existing Defaults . Subject to Sections 5.07 and 8.02, the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of any series then outstanding, by notice to the Trustee given in conformity with Section 11.02, may waive an existing Default or Event of Default with respect to that series and its consequences (including waivers obtained in connection with a tender offer or exchange offer for such Securities or a solicitation of consents in respect of such Securities, provided that in each case such offer or solicitation is made to all Holders of the Securities of that series then outstanding on equal terms), except (1) a continuing Default or Event of Default in the payment of the principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Securities of that series or (2) a continuing Default relating to that series in respect of a provision that under Section 8.02 cannot be amended without the consent of each Holder affected. Upon any such waiver, such Default shall cease to exist, and any Event of Default arising therefrom shall be deemed to have been cured for every purpose of this Indenture; but no such waiver shall extend to any subsequent or other Default or impair any right consequent thereon.

SECTION 5.05. Control by Majority . The Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of any series of Securities then outstanding may direct the time, method and place of conducting any proceeding for any remedy available to the Trustee with respect to that series or exercising any trust or power conferred on it hereunder with respect to that series. The Trustee, however, may refuse to follow any direction that conflicts with applicable law or this Indenture that the Trustee determines may be unduly prejudicial to the rights of other Holders, or that may involve the Trustee in personal liability; provided, however , that the Trustee may take any other action deemed proper by the Trustee that is not inconsistent with such direction. Prior to taking any action hereunder, the Trustee shall receive reasonable indemnification from such Holders satisfactory to it against all losses and expenses caused by taking or not taking such action subject to the Trustee's duty to act with the required standard of care during a default.

SECTION 5.06. Limitations on Suits . Subject to Section 5.07, a Holder of Securities of any series may pursue a remedy with respect to this Indenture (including the Guarantees) or the Securities of that series only if:

- (i) such Holder gives to the Trustee notice in conformity with Section 11.02 of a continuing Event of Default with respect to that series;
- (ii) the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of such series then outstanding make a written request to the Trustee to pursue the remedy;
- (iii) such Holder or Holders offer to furnish to the Trustee indemnity reasonably satisfactory to the Trustee against any loss, liability or expense;
- (iv) the Trustee does not comply with the request within 60 days after receipt of the request and the furnishing of such indemnity; and
- (v) during such 60-day period the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of such series then outstanding do not give the Trustee a direction inconsistent with the request.

A Holder may not use this Indenture to prejudice the rights of another Holder or to obtain a preference or priority over another Holder (it being understood that the Trustee does not have an affirmative duty to ascertain whether or not such action or forbearances are unduly prejudicial to such Holders).

SECTION 5.07. Rights of Holders to Receive Payment . Notwithstanding any other provision of this Indenture, the right of any Holder of a Security to receive payment of principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the Security, on or after the respective due dates expressed in the Security, or to bring suit against the Company or the Guarantors for the enforcement of any such payment on or after such respective dates, is absolute and unconditional and shall not be impaired or affected without the consent of such Holder.

SECTION 5.08. Collection Suit by Trustee . If an Event of Default specified in clause (i) or (ii) of Section 5.01 occurs with respect to a series of Securities and is continuing, the Trustee is authorized to recover judgment in its own name and as trustee of an express trust against the Company and the Guarantors (i) for the amount of principal of and premium, if any, and interest remaining unpaid on any Securities of such series and (ii) interest on overdue principal, premium, if any, and, to the extent lawful, interest on overdue interest, and such further amount as shall be sufficient to cover the reasonable and documented costs and expenses of collection, including the reasonable and documented compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee, its agents and counsel.

SECTION 5.09. Trustee May File Proofs of Claim . The Trustee is authorized to file such proofs of claim and other papers or documents and to take such actions, including participating as a member, voting or otherwise, of any committee of creditors, as may be necessary or advisable in order to have the claims of the Trustee (including any claim for the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee, its agents and counsel) and the Holders allowed in any judicial proceedings relative to the Company and the Guarantors or their respective creditors or properties and shall be entitled and empowered to collect, receive and distribute any money or other property payable or deliverable on any such claims and any Custodian in any such judicial proceeding is hereby authorized by each Holder to make such payments to the Trustee, and in the event that the Trustee shall consent to the making of such payments directly to the Holders, to pay to the Trustee any amount due to it for the reasonable compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee, its agents and counsel, and any other amounts due the Trustee under Section 6.07. To the extent that the payment of any such compensation, expenses, disbursements and advances of the Trustee, its agents and counsel, and any other amounts due the Trustee under Section 6.07 out of the estate in any such proceeding, shall be denied for any reason, payment of the same shall be secured by a lien on, and shall be paid out of, any and all distributions, dividends, money, securities and other properties which the Holders of the Securities may be entitled to receive in such proceeding whether in liquidation or under any plan of reorganization or arrangement or otherwise. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to authorize the Trustee to authorize or consent to or accept or adopt on behalf of any Holder any plan of reorganization, arrangement, adjustment or composition affecting the Securities or the rights of any Holder thereof, or to authorize the Trustee to vote in respect of the claim of any Holder in any such proceeding.

SECTION 5.10. Priorities . If the Trustee collects any money pursuant to this Article V, it shall pay out the money in the following order:

First: to the Trustee for amounts due under this Indenture;

Second: to Holders for amounts due and unpaid on the Securities for principal, premium, if any, and interest ratably, without preference or priority of any kind, according to the amounts due and payable on the Securities for principal, premium, if any, and interest, respectively; and Third: to the Company and the Guarantors.

The Trustee, upon prior notice to the Company and the Guarantors in conformity with Section 11.02, may fix a record date and payment date for any payment to Holders pursuant to this Article V. At least 15 days before such record date, the Trustee shall send to each Holder and the Company a notice that states the record date, the payment date and amount to be paid.

SECTION 5.11. Undertaking for Costs . In any suit for the enforcement of any right or remedy under this Indenture or in any suit against the Trustee for any action taken or omitted by it as a trustee, a court in its discretion may require the filing by any party litigant in the suit of an undertaking to pay the costs of the suit, and the court in its discretion may assess reasonable costs, including reasonable attorneys' fees, against any party litigant in the suit, having due regard to the merits and good faith of the claims or defenses made by the party litigant. This Section 5.11 does not apply to a suit by the Trustee, a suit by a Holder pursuant to Section 5.07, or a suit by a Holder or Holders of more than 10% in aggregate principal amount of the Securities then outstanding.

ARTICLE VI TRUSTEE

SECTION 6.01. Duties of Trustee .

(a) If an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, the Trustee shall exercise such of the rights and powers vested in it by this Indenture, and use the same degree of care and skill in such exercise, as a prudent person would exercise or use under the circumstances in the conduct of such person's own affairs.

(b) Except during the continuance of an Event of Default:

(i) the Trustee need perform only those duties that are specifically set forth in this Indenture and no others, and no implied covenants or obligations shall be read into this Indenture against the Trustee; and

(ii) in the absence of bad faith on its part, the Trustee may conclusively rely, as to the truth of the statements and the correctness of the opinions expressed therein, upon certificates or opinions furnished to the Trustee and conforming to the requirements of this Indenture. However, the Trustee shall examine such certificates and opinions to determine whether or not, on their face, they appear to conform to the requirements of this Indenture (but need not confirm or investigate the accuracy of mathematical calculations or other facts stated therein).

(c) The Trustee may not be relieved from liability for its own negligent action, its own negligent failure to act, or its own willful misconduct, except that:

(i) this paragraph does not limit the effect of paragraph (b) of this Section 6.01;

(ii) the Trustee shall not be liable for any error of judgment made in good faith by a Responsible Officer, unless it is proved that the Trustee was negligent in ascertaining the pertinent facts; and

(iii) the Trustee shall not be liable with respect to any action it takes or omits to take in good faith in accordance with a direction received by it pursuant to Section 5.05.

(d) Whether or not therein expressly so provided, every provision of this Indenture that in any way relates to the Trustee is subject to paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this Section 6.01.

(e) No provision of this Indenture shall require the Trustee to expend or risk its own funds or incur any liability. The Trustee may refuse to perform any duty or exercise any right or power unless it receives indemnity satisfactory to it against any loss, liability or expense.

(f) The Trustee shall not be liable for interest on any money received by it except as the Trustee may agree in writing with the Company. Money held in trust by the Trustee need not be segregated from other funds except to the extent required by law. All money received by the Trustee shall, until applied as herein provided, be held in trust for the payment of the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the Securities.

(g) In no event shall the Trustee be responsible or liable for special, indirect, punitive or consequential loss or damage of any kind whatsoever (including, but not limited to, loss of profit) irrespective of whether the Trustee has been advised of the likelihood of such loss or damage and regardless of the form of action.

SECTION 6.02. Rights of Trustee .

(a) The Trustee may rely conclusively on any resolution, certificate, statement, direction, consent, order, bond, note or other paper or document believed by it to be genuine and to have been signed or presented by the proper Person. The Trustee need not investigate any fact or matter stated in any such paper or document.

(b) Before the Trustee acts or refrains from acting, it may require an Officer's Certificate or an Opinion of Counsel or both. The Trustee shall not be liable for any action it takes or omits to take in good faith in reliance on such Officer's Certificate or Opinion of Counsel. The Trustee may consult with counsel of its selection and the advice of such counsel or any Opinion of Counsel shall be full and complete authorization and protection in respect of any action taken, suffered or omitted by it hereunder in good faith and in reliance thereon.

(c) The Trustee may act through agents or attorneys and shall not be responsible for the misconduct or negligence of any agent or attorney appointed with due care.

(d) The Trustee shall not be liable for any action it takes or omits to take in good faith which it believes to be authorized or within its rights or powers conferred upon it by this Indenture.

(e) Unless otherwise specifically provided in this Indenture, any demand, request, direction or notice from the Company or any Guarantor shall be sufficient if signed by an Officer of the Company or such Guarantor, as the case may be.

(f) The Trustee is not required to give any bond or surety with respect to the performance of its duties or the exercise of its powers under this Indenture.

(g) In the event the Trustee receives inconsistent or conflicting requests and indemnity from two or more groups of Holders of Securities of a series, each representing less than a majority in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities of such series, pursuant to the provisions of this Indenture, the Trustee may determine what action, if any, shall be taken.

(h) The Trustee's immunities and protections from liability and its right to indemnification in connection with the performance of its duties under this Indenture shall extend and be enforceable by the Trustee in each of its capacities hereunder and shall extend to the Trustee's officers, directors, agents, attorneys and employees. Such immunities and protections and right to indemnity, together with the Trustee's right to compensation and reimbursement, shall survive the Trustee's resignation or removal, the discharge of this Indenture and final payment of the Securities.

(i) The permissive right of the Trustee to take the actions permitted by this Indenture shall not be construed as an obligation or duty to do so.

(j) Except for information provided by the Trustee concerning the Trustee, the Trustee shall have no responsibility for any information in the Offering Memorandum or other disclosure material distributed with respect to the Securities, and the Trustee shall have no responsibility for compliance with any U.S. Federal or State securities or employee benefit plan laws in connection with the Securities.

(k) The Trustee may request that the Company or the Guarantors, as the case may be, deliver an Officer's Certificate setting forth the names of individuals or titles of officers authorized at such time to take specified actions pursuant to this Indenture, which Officer's Certificate may be signed by any person authorized to sign an Officer's Certificate, including any person specified as so authorized in any such certificate previously delivered and not superseded.

SECTION 6.03. Individual Rights of Trustee . The Trustee in its individual or any other capacity may become the owner or pledgee of Securities and may otherwise deal with the Company, the Guarantors or any of their Affiliates with the same rights it would have if it were not the Trustee. Any Agent may do the same with like rights. However, the Trustee is subject to Sections 6.10 and 6.11.

SECTION 6.04. Trustee's Disclaimer . The Trustee makes no representation as to the validity or adequacy of this Indenture, the Securities or the Guarantees, it shall not be accountable for the Company's use of the proceeds from the Securities or any money paid to the Company or upon the Company's direction under any provision hereof, it shall not be responsible for the use or application of any money received by any Paying Agent other than the Trustee and it shall not be responsible for any statement or recital herein or any statement in the Securities other than its certificate of authentication.

SECTION 6.05. Notice of Defaults . If a Default or Event of Default with respect to a series of Securities occurs and is continuing and it is actually known to a Responsible Officer of the Trustee, the Trustee shall send to Holders of such Securities a notice of such Default or Event of Default within 90 days after it occurs. Except in the case of a Default or Event of Default in payment of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on any Security, the Trustee may withhold the notice if and so long as it in good faith determines that withholding the notice is in the interests of Holders.

SECTION 6.06. Reports by Trustee to Holders . By June 1 of each year, beginning with June 1, 2016 the Trustee shall send to Holders a brief report dated no earlier than May 15 of such year that complies with TIA Section 313(a); provided, however , that if no event described in TIA Section 313(a) has occurred within the 12 months preceding the reporting date, no report need be transmitted. The Trustee also shall comply with TIA Section 313(b). The Trustee shall also deliver all reports as required by TIA Sections 313(c) and 313(d).

A copy of each report at the time it is sent to Holders shall be filed with the SEC and each securities exchange, if any, on which the Securities of any series are listed. The Company shall notify the Trustee in the manner provided in Section 11.02 if and when the Securities are listed on, or delisted from, any securities exchange.

SECTION 6.07. Compensation and Indemnity . The Company and the Guarantors jointly and severally agree to pay to the Trustee from time to time such compensation as agreed to by the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee, for its acceptance of this Indenture and its services hereunder. The Trustee's compensation shall not be limited by any law on compensation of a trustee of an express trust. The Company and the Guarantor jointly and severally agree to reimburse the Trustee upon request for all reasonable and documented disbursements, advances and expenses incurred by it. Such expenses shall include the reasonable compensation, disbursements and expenses of the Trustee's agents and counsel.

The Company and the Guarantors jointly and severally agree to indemnify the Trustee or any predecessor Trustee and their agents, employees, officers and directors for and to hold them harmless against any and all loss, liability, damage, claim, or expense (including reasonable and documented fees and expenses of counsel and taxes, other than taxes based upon, measured by or determined by the income of the Trustee) incurred by it arising out of or in connection with this Indenture or the administration of this trust, including the reasonable and documented costs and expenses of enforcing this Indenture against the Company and of defending itself against any claim (whether asserted by the Company, any Guarantor, any Holder or any other Person), except as set forth in the next paragraph. The Trustee shall notify the Company and the Guarantors promptly of any claim for which it may seek indemnity; however, failure to give such notice shall not relieve the Company or the Guarantors of their obligations. The Company shall defend the claim and the Trustee shall cooperate in the defense. The Trustee may have separate counsel, and the Company and the Guarantors shall pay the reasonable fees and expenses of such counsel. The Company need not pay for any settlement made without its consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld.

Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, neither the Company nor the Guarantors shall be obligated to reimburse any fee or expense or indemnify against any loss, liability, damage, claim or expense incurred by the Trustee through negligence or willful misconduct.

To secure the payment obligations of the Company and the Guarantors in this Section 6.07, the Trustee shall have a lien prior to the Securities on all money or property held or collected by the Trustee, except that held in trust to pay principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the Securities. Such lien shall survive the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture.

When the Trustee incurs expenses or renders services after an Event of Default specified in Section 5.01(iv) or (v) occurs, the expenses and the compensation for the services are intended to constitute expenses of administration under any Bankruptcy Law.

SECTION 6.08. Replacement of Trustee . A resignation or removal of the Trustee and appointment of a successor Trustee shall become effective only upon the successor Trustee's acceptance of appointment as provided in this Section 6.08.

The Trustee may resign and be discharged from the trust hereby created by so notifying the Company and the Guarantors. The Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities of all series, voting as a single class, may remove the Trustee by so notifying the Trustee and the Company. The Company may remove the Trustee if:

- (i) the Trustee fails to comply with Section 6.10;
- (ii) the Trustee is adjudged a bankrupt or an insolvent or an order for relief is entered with respect to the Trustee under any Bankruptcy Law;
- (iii) a Custodian or public officer takes charge of the Trustee or its property; or
- (iv) the Trustee otherwise becomes incapable of acting.

If the Trustee resigns or is removed or if a vacancy exists in the office of Trustee for any reason, the Company and the Guarantors shall promptly appoint a successor Trustee. Within one year after the successor Trustee takes office, the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of all series then outstanding, voting as a single class, may appoint a successor Trustee to replace the successor Trustee appointed by the Company.

If a successor Trustee does not take office within 30 days after the retiring Trustee resigns or is removed, the retiring Trustee, the Company or the Holders of at least 10% in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of all series then outstanding, voting as a single class, may petition any court of competent jurisdiction at the expense of the Company for the appointment of a successor Trustee.

If the Trustee fails to comply with Section 6.10, any Holder may petition any court of competent jurisdiction for the removal of the Trustee and the appointment of a successor Trustee.

A successor Trustee shall deliver a written acceptance of its appointment to the retiring Trustee and to the Company and the Guarantors. Thereupon, the resignation or removal of the retiring Trustee shall become effective, and the successor Trustee shall have all the rights, powers and duties of the Trustee under this Indenture. The successor Trustee shall send a notice of its succession to Holders. The retiring Trustee shall promptly transfer all property held by it as Trustee to the successor Trustee, subject to the lien provided for in Section 6.07. Notwithstanding replacement of the Trustee pursuant to this Section 6.08, the obligations of the Company and the Guarantors under Section 6.07 shall continue for the benefit of the retiring Trustee.

SECTION 6.09. Successor Trustee by Merger, etc. . Subject to Section 6.10, if the Trustee consolidates, merges or converts into, or transfers all or substantially all of its corporate trust business to, another business entity, such entity without any further act shall be the successor Trustee; provided, however , that in the case of a transfer of all or substantially all of its corporate trust business to another corporation, the transferee corporation expressly assumes all of the Trustee's liabilities hereunder.

In case any Securities shall have been authenticated, but not delivered, by the Trustee then in office, any successor by merger, conversion or consolidation to such authenticating Trustee may adopt such authentication and deliver the Securities so authenticated; and in case at that time any of the Securities shall not have been authenticated, any successor to the Trustee may authenticate such Securities either in the name of any predecessor hereunder or in the name of the successor to the Trustee; and in all such cases such certificates shall have the full force which it is anywhere in the Securities or in this Indenture provided that the certificate of the Trustee shall have.

SECTION 6.10. Eligibility; Disqualification . There shall at all times be a Trustee hereunder which shall be a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of the United States of America, any State thereof or the District of Columbia and authorized under such laws to exercise corporate trust power, shall be subject to supervision or examination by Federal or State (or the District of Columbia) authority and shall have, or be a Subsidiary of a bank or bank holding company having, a combined capital and surplus of at least $50 million as set forth in its most recent published annual report of condition.

This Indenture shall always have a Trustee that satisfies the requirements of TIA Sections 310(a)(1), 310(a)(2) and 310(a)(5). The Trustee is subject to and shall comply with the provisions of TIA Section 310(b) during the period of time required by this Indenture. Nothing in this Indenture shall prevent the Trustee from filing with the SEC the application referred to in the penultimate paragraph of TIA Section 310(b).

SECTION 6.11. Preferential Collection of Claims Against Company . The Trustee is subject to and shall comply with the provisions of TIA Section 311(a), excluding any creditor relationship listed in TIA Section 311(b). A Trustee who has resigned or been removed shall be subject to TIA Section 311(a) to the extent indicated therein.

ARTICLE VII
DISCHARGE OF INDENTURE

SECTION 7.01. Termination of Company's and Guarantors' Obligations .

(a) Satisfaction and Discharge of Indenture . This Indenture shall cease to be of further effect with respect to a series of Securities (except as provided in the last paragraph of this Section 7.01(a)), and the Trustee, on demand of the Company, shall execute proper instruments acknowledging the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture with respect to such series, when:

(1) either

(A) all outstanding Securities of such series theretofore authenticated and issued (other than destroyed, lost or wrongfully taken Securities that have been replaced or paid) have been delivered to the Trustee for cancellation; or

(B) all outstanding Securities of such series not theretofore delivered to the Trustee for cancellation:

(i) have become due and payable,

(ii) will become due and payable at their Stated Maturity within one year, or

(iii) will be scheduled for redemption by their terms within one year, and the Company, in the case of clause (i) or (ii) above or this clause (iii), has irrevocably deposited or caused to be irrevocably deposited with the Trustee as funds (immediately available to the Holders of such Securities in the case of clause (i)) in trust for such purpose an amount of cash or, in the case of clause (ii) or this clause (iii), U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof which, together with earnings thereon, will be sufficient, in the case of clause (i) or this clause (iii), in the opinion of a nationally recognized firm of certified public accountants expressed in a written certification thereof delivered to the Trustee, to pay and discharge the entire indebtedness on such Securities for principal, premium, if any, and interest to the date of such deposit (in the case of Securities which have become due and payable) or to the Stated Maturity or Redemption Date, as the case may be;

(2) the Company or any Guarantor has paid all other sums payable by them hereunder with respect to such series of Securities; and

(3) the Company has delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate stating that all conditions precedent to satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture with respect to such series of Securities have been complied with, together with an Opinion of Counsel to the same effect.

However, the Company's obligations in Sections 2.03, 2.06, 2.07, 3.02 and 7.01, the Company's and the Guarantors' obligations in Sections 6.07, 6.08 and 7.04 and the Trustee's and Paying Agent's obligations in Section 7.03 shall survive the satisfaction and discharge of this Indenture until the Securities of such series are no longer outstanding. Thereafter, only the Company's and the Guarantors' obligations in Section 6.07 and the Trustee's and Paying Agent's obligations in Section 7.03 shall survive with respect to such series of Securities. For the avoidance of doubt, it is understood that the Company may discharge its obligations with respect to one series of Securities without discharging its obligations with respect to any other series of Securities.

(b) Legal Defeasance . The Company and the Guarantors may, subject as provided herein, terminate by legal defeasance all of their obligations under this Indenture with respect to a series of Securities if:

(i) the Company or the Guarantors have irrevocably deposited or caused to be irrevocably deposited with the Trustee as trust funds in trust for the purpose of making the following payments dedicated solely to the benefit of the Holders of such series of Securities (A) cash in an amount, or (B) U.S. Government Obligations, or (C) a combination thereof, sufficient, in the opinion of a nationally recognized firm of certified public accountants expressed in a written certification thereof delivered to the Trustee, to pay, without consideration of the reinvestment of any such amounts and after payment of all taxes or other charges or assessments in respect thereof payable by the Trustee, the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on all Securities of such series on each date that such principal, premium, if any, or interest is due and payable and to pay all other sums payable by it hereunder with respect to such series of Securities; provided that the Trustee shall have been irrevocably instructed to apply such money or the proceeds of such U.S. Government Obligations to the payment of said principal, premium, if any, and interest with respect to the Securities of such series as the same shall become due;

(ii) the Company has delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate stating that all conditions precedent to such legal defeasance have been complied with, and an Opinion of Counsel to the same effect;

(iii) no Default or Event of Default with respect to such series of Securities shall have occurred and be continuing on the date of such deposit or, insofar as clauses (iv) and (v) of Section 5.01 are concerned, at any time during the period ending on the 91st day after the date of such deposit (it being understood that this condition shall not be deemed satisfied until the expiration of such period);

(iv) the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel from nationally recognized counsel acceptable to the Trustee to the effect that, based on a ruling of the Internal Revenue Service or a change in U.S. Federal income tax law occurring after the date of this Indenture, the Holders of Securities of such series will not recognize income, gain or loss for U.S. Federal income tax purposes as a result of the Company's exercise of its option under this Section 7.01(b) and will be subject to U.S. Federal income tax on the same amounts, in the same manner and at the same times as would have been the case if such option had not been exercised;

(v) such deposit and legal defeasance will not result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, any other agreement or instrument to which the Company or the Guarantors are a party or by which it is bound;

(vi) such deposit and legal defeasance shall not cause the Trustee to have a conflicting interest as defined in TIA Section 310 (b); and

(vii) the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that after the passage of 91 days following the deposit, the trust funds will not be subject to the effect of any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally.

In such event, payment of the Securities of such series may not be accelerated because of an Event of Default, Article IX and the other provisions of this Indenture shall cease to be of further effect (except as provided in the next succeeding paragraph), and the Trustee, on demand of the Company, shall execute proper instruments acknowledging such legal defeasance.

However, the Company's obligations in Sections 2.03, 2.06, 2.07, 3.02 and 7.01, the Company's and the Guarantors' obligations in Sections 6.07, 6.08 and 7.04 and the Trustee's and Paying Agent's obligations in Section 7.03 shall survive such legal defeasance with respect to such series of Securities until the Securities are no longer outstanding. Thereafter, only the Company's and the Guarantors' obligations in Section 6.07 and the Trustee's and Paying Agent's obligations in Section 7.03 shall survive with respect to such series of Securities. For the avoidance of doubt, it is understood that the Company may terminate by legal defeasance the obligations of the Company and the Guarantors with respect to one series of Securities without terminating their obligations with respect to the other series of Securities.

(c) Covenant Defeasance. The Company and the Guarantors may, subject as provided herein, be released from their respective obligations to comply with, and shall have no liability in respect of any term, condition or limitation, set forth in Sections 3.07, 3.08, 3.09 and 4.01 and in Article IX, and such omission to comply with any of Sections 3.07, 3.08, 3.09 and 4.01 and Article IX shall not constitute an Event of Default with respect to a series of Securities under Section 5.01 ("Covenant Defeasance"), with the remainder of this Indenture and such Securities unaffected thereby if:

of the reinvestment of any such amounts and after payment of all taxes or other charges or assessments in respect thereof payable by the Trustee, the principal of and premium, if any and interest on all Securities of such series on each date that such principal, premium, if any, or interest is due and payable and to pay all other sums payable by it hereunder with respect to such series of Securities; provided that the Trustee shall have been irrevocably instructed to apply such money or the proceeds of such U.S. Government Obligations to the payment of said principal, premium, if any, and interest with respect to the Securities as the same shall become due;

(ii) the Company has delivered to the Trustee an Officer's Certificate stating that all conditions precedent to the Covenant Defeasance contemplated by this provision have been complied with, and an Opinion of Counsel to the same effect;

(iii) no Default or Event of Default with respect to such series of Securities shall have occurred and be continuing on the date of such deposit or, insofar as clauses (iv) and (v) of Section 5.01 are concerned, at any time during the period ending on the 91st day after the date of such deposit (it being understood that this condition shall not be deemed satisfied until the expiration of such period);

(iv) the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel from nationally recognized counsel acceptable to the Trustee to the effect that the Holders of Securities of such series will not recognize income, gain or loss for U.S. Federal income tax purposes as a result of the Company's exercise of its option under this Section 7.01(c) and will be subject to U.S. Federal income tax on the same amounts, in the same manner and at the same times as would have been the case if such option had not been exercised;

(v) such Covenant Defeasance will not result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, any other agreement or instrument to which the Company or any of the Guarantors is a party or by which it is bound;

(vi) such Covenant Defeasance shall not cause the Trustee to have a conflicting interest as defined in TIA Section 310(b); and

(vii) the Company shall have delivered to the Trustee an Opinion of Counsel to the effect that after the passage of 91 days following the deposit, the trust funds will not be subject to the effect of any applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization or similar laws affecting creditors' rights generally.

(d) In order to have money available on a payment date to pay principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Securities, the U.S. Government Obligations shall be payable as to principal or interest on or before such payment date in such amounts as will provide the necessary money. U.S. Government Obligations shall not be callable at the issuer's option.

(e) The Company may exercise its option under Section 7.01(b) notwithstanding its prior exercise of its Covenant Defeasance option under Section 7.01(c).

(f) For the avoidance of doubt, it is understood that the Company may exercise its covenant defeasance option with respect to one series of Securities without affecting the obligations of the Company and the Guarantors with respect to the other series of Securities.

SECTION 7.02. Application of Trust Money . The Trustee or a trustee satisfactory to the Trustee and the Company shall hold in trust money or U.S. Government Obligations deposited with it pursuant to Section 7.01. It shall apply the deposited money and the money from U.S. Government Obligations through the Paying Agent and in accordance with this Indenture to the payment of principal of and premium, if any, and interest on Securities with respect to which the deposit was made.

SECTION 7.03. Repayment to Company or a Guarantor . The Trustee and the Paying Agent shall promptly pay to the Company or a Guarantor upon written request any excess money or securities held by them at any time. Subject to the requirements of any applicable abandoned property laws, the Trustee and the Paying Agent shall pay to the Company or a Guarantor upon written request any money held by them for the payment of principal of, premium, if any, or interest that remains unclaimed for two years after the date upon which such payment shall have become due; provided, however , that the Company shall have either caused notice of such payment to be sent to each Holder entitled thereto no less than 30 days prior to such repayment or within such period shall have published such notice in a financial newspaper of widespread circulation published in The City of New York. After payment to the Company, Holders entitled to the money must look to the Company for payment as unsecured general creditors unless an applicable abandoned property law designates another Person, and all liability of the Trustee and the Paying Agent with respect to such money shall cease.

SECTION 7.04. Reinstatement . If the Trustee or the Paying Agent is unable to apply any money or U.S. Government Obligations in accordance with Section 7.01 by reason of any legal proceeding or by reason of any order or judgment of any court or governmental authority enjoining, restraining or otherwise prohibiting such application, the obligations of the Company and the Guarantors under this Indenture and the relevant series of Securities shall be revived and reinstated as though no deposit had occurred pursuant to Section 7.01 until such time as the Trustee or the Paying Agent is permitted to apply all such money or U.S. Government Obligations in accordance with Section 7.01; provided, however , that if the Company or the Guarantors have made any payment of principal of or interest on any Securities because of the reinstatement of its obligations, the Company or such Guarantor, as the case may be, shall be subrogated to the rights of the Holders of such Securities to receive such payment from the money or U.S. Government Obligations held by the Trustee or the Paying Agent.

ARTICLE VIII AMENDMENTS

SECTION 8.01. Without Consent of Holders . The Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee may amend or supplement this Indenture or the Securities of any series or waive any provision hereof or thereof without the consent of any Holder:

(i) to convey, transfer, assign, mortgage or pledge to the Trustee as security for the Securities of such series any property or assets;

(ii) to evidence the succession of another Person to the Company, or successive successions, and the assumption by the successor Person of the covenants, agreements and obligations of the Company pursuant to Section 4.01 or 4.02;

(iii) to add to the covenants of the Company or the Guarantors such further covenants, restrictions, conditions or provisions as the Company or the Guarantors and the Trustee shall consider to be for the protection of the Holders of Securities of such series, to surrender any right or power herein conferred upon the Company or the Guarantors, and to make the occurrence, or the occurrence and continuance, of a default in any such additional covenants, restrictions, conditions or provisions an Event of Default with respect to such series of Securities permitting the enforcement of all or any of the several remedies provided in this Indenture, provided that in respect of any such additional covenant, restriction, condition or provision such amendment or supplement may provide for a particular period of grace after default (which period may be shorter or longer than that allowed in the case of other defaults) or may provide for an immediate enforcement upon such an Event of Default or may limit the remedies available to the Trustee upon such an Event of Default or may limit the right of the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of such series to waive such an Event of Default;

(iv) to cure any ambiguity or omission or to correct or supplement any provision contained herein or in any supplemental indenture which may be defective or inconsistent with any other provision contained herein or in any supplemental indenture, provided that no such action shall adversely affect the interests of the Holders of the Securities of such series;

(v) to provide for uncertificated Securities of such series in addition to or in place of certificated Securities of such series, provided that the uncertificated Securities are issued in registered form for purposes of Section 163(f) of the Code;

(vi) to provide for the issuance of Exchange Securities of such series and related Guarantees or Additional Securities of such series and related Guarantees in accordance with this Indenture;

(vii) to effect or maintain, or otherwise comply with the requirements of the SEC in connection with, the qualification of this Indenture under the TIA;

(viii) to reflect the addition of a new Guarantor or release of any Guarantor from its Guarantee of the Securities of such series, in the manner provided herein;

(ix) to effect any provision of this Indenture;

(x) to conform the text of this Indenture or the Securities to the “Description of the Notes” set forth in the Offering Memorandum to the extent such provision in the “Description of the Notes” was intended to be a verbatim, or substantially verbatim, recitation of provision in this Indenture or the Securities (which intent may be evidenced by an Officer’s Certificate to such effect); or

(xi) to make any other change that does not adversely affect the rights of any Holder.

Upon the request of the Company and the Guarantors and upon receipt by the Trustee of the documents described in Section 8.06, the Trustee shall join with the Company and the Guarantors in the execution of any supplemental indenture entered into effect any such amendment, supplement or waiver.

SECTION 8.02. With Consent of Holders . Except as provided in Section 8.01 or below in this Section 8.02, the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee may amend or supplement this Indenture or each series of the Securities with the consent (including consents obtained in connection with a tender offer or exchange offer for such Securities or a solicitation of consents in respect of such Securities, provided that in each case such offer or solicitation is made to all Holders of the Securities of such series then outstanding on equal terms) of the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of such series then outstanding affected thereby.

The Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of any series then outstanding may waive compliance in a particular instance by the Company or the Guarantors with any provision of this Indenture or the Securities of such series (including waivers obtained in connection with a tender offer or exchange offer for such Securities or a solicitation of consents in respect of such Securities, provided that in each case such offer or solicitation is made to all Holders of the Securities of such series then outstanding on equal terms).

Upon the request of the Company and the Guarantors and upon the filing with the Trustee of evidence of the consent of the Holders as aforesaid, and upon receipt by the Trustee of the documents described in Section 8.06, the Trustee shall join with the Company and the Guarantors in the execution of any supplemental indenture entered into to effect any such amendment, supplement or waiver. After an amendment, supplement or waiver under this Section 8.02 becomes effective, the Company shall send to the Holders of each Security of the series affected thereby a notice briefly describing the amendment, supplement or waiver. Any failure of the Company to send such notice, or any defect therein, shall not, however, in any way impair or affect the validity of any such amendment, supplement or waiver.

It shall not be necessary for the consent of the Holders under this Section 8.02 to approve the particular form of any proposed amendment, supplement or waiver, but it shall be sufficient if such consent approves the substance thereof.

Without the consent of each Holder of the series affected, an amendment, supplement or waiver under this Section 8.02 may not:

- (i) extend the final maturity of the principal of any of the Securities of such series;
- (ii) reduce the principal amount of any of the Securities of such series;
- (iii) reduce the rate or extend the time of payment of interest, including default interest, on any of the Securities of such series;
- (iv) reduce any amount payable on redemption of any of the Securities of such series;
- (v) change the currency in which the principal of or premium, if any, or interest on any of the Securities of such series is payable;
- (vi) impair the right to institute suit for the enforcement of any payment of principal of or premium, if any, or interest on any Security of such series pursuant to Sections 5.07 and 5.08, except as limited by Section 5.06;
- (vii) make any change in the percentage of principal amount of the Securities of such series necessary to waive compliance with or to modify certain provisions of this Indenture pursuant to Section 5.04 or 5.07 or this clause of this Section 8.02; or
- (viii) waive a continuing Default or Event of Default in the payment of principal of or premium, if any, if any, or interest, including default interest, on the Securities of such series.

The right of any Holder to participate in any consent required or sought pursuant to any provision of this Indenture (and the obligation of the Company to obtain any such consent otherwise required from such Holder) may be subject to the requirement that such Holder shall have been the Holder of record of the Securities as of a record date fixed by the Company in accordance with Section 8.04 of this Indenture.

SECTION 8.03. Compliance with Trust Indenture Act . Every amendment or supplement to this Indenture or the Securities shall comply in form and substance with the TIA as then in effect.

SECTION 8.04. Revocation and Effect of Consents . A consent to an amendment, a supplement or a waiver by a Holder is a continuing consent by the Holder and every subsequent Holder of a Security or portion of a Security that evidences the same debt as the consenting Holder's Security, even if notation of the consent is not made on any Security. However, any such Holder or subsequent Holder may revoke the consent as to its Security or portion of a Security if the Trustee receives written notice of revocation at any time prior to (but not after) the date the Trustee receives an Officer's Certificate certifying that the Holders of the requisite aggregate principal amount of Securities of the applicable series have consented (and not theretofore revoked such consent) to the amendment, supplement or waiver.

The Company may, but shall not be obligated to, fix a record date for the purpose of determining the Holders entitled to consent to any amendment, supplement or waiver or to take any other action with respect to the Securities under this Indenture. If a record date is fixed, then notwithstanding the provisions of the immediately preceding paragraph, those Persons who were Holders at the close of business on such record date (or their duly designated proxies), and only those Persons, shall be entitled to consent to such amendment, supplement or waiver or to revoke any consent previously given, whether or not such Persons continue to be Holders after such record date, and for this purpose the Securities then outstanding shall be computed as of such record date. No consent shall be valid or effective for more than 90 days after such record date unless consents from Holders of the aggregate principal amount of the Securities required hereunder for such amendment, supplement or waiver to be effective shall have also been given and not revoked within such 90-day period.

After an amendment, supplement or waiver becomes effective, it shall bind every Holder, unless it is of the type described in any of clauses (i) through (viii) of Section 8.02. In such case, the amendment, supplement or waiver shall bind each Holder who has consented to it and every subsequent Holder that evidences the same debt as the consenting Holder's Security.

SECTION 8.05. Notation on or Exchange of Securities . If an amendment or supplement changes the terms of a Security, the Trustee may require the Holder of the Security to deliver it to the Trustee. The Trustee may place an appropriate notation on the Security regarding the changed terms and return it to the Holder. Alternatively, if the Company or the Trustee so determines, the Company in exchange for the Security shall issue and the Trustee shall authenticate a new Security that reflects the changed terms. Failure to make the appropriate notation or to issue a new Security shall not affect the validity of such amendment or supplement.

SECTION 8.06. Trustee to Sign Amendments, etc . The Trustee shall sign any supplemental indenture authorized pursuant to this Article VIII if the supplemental indenture does not adversely affect the rights, duties, liabilities or immunities of the Trustee. If it does, the Trustee may, but need not, sign it. In signing or refusing to sign such supplemental indenture, the Trustee shall receive, and subject to Section 6.01, shall be fully protected in conclusively relying upon, an Opinion of Counsel and an Officer's Certificate, as conclusive evidence that all conditions precedent to such supplemental indenture have been complied with, that such supplemental indenture is authorized or permitted by this Indenture, that it is not inconsistent herewith, and that it will be valid and binding upon the Company and the Guarantors in accordance with its terms.

ARTICLE IX
GUARANTEES OF SECURITIES

SECTION 9.01. Unconditional Guarantees .

(a) Subject to this Article IX, for value received, the Guarantors hereby, jointly and severally, fully, irrevocably, unconditionally and absolutely guarantee to the Holders and to the Trustee the due and punctual payment of the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on the Securities and all other amounts due and payable under this Indenture and the Securities by the Company (including, without limitation, all costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and disbursements) incurred by the Trustee or the Holders in connection with the enforcement of this Indenture, the Securities and the Guarantees) (collectively, the “Indenture Obligations”), when and as such principal, premium, if any, and interest and such other amounts shall become due and payable, whether at the Stated Maturity, upon redemption or by declaration of acceleration or otherwise, according to the terms of the Securities and this Indenture. The guarantees by the Guarantors set forth in this Article IX are referred to herein as the “Guarantees.” Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Guarantors’ liability shall extend to all amounts that constitute part of the Indenture Obligations and would be owed by the Company under this Indenture and the Securities but for the fact that they are unenforceable, reduced, limited, impaired, suspended or not allowable due to the existence of a bankruptcy, reorganization or similar proceeding involving the Company. Each Guarantor agrees that this is a guarantee of payment and not a guarantee of collection.

(b) Failing payment when due of any amount guaranteed pursuant to the Guarantees, for whatever reason, the Guarantors will be, jointly and severally, obligated to pay the same immediately to the Trustee, without set-off or counterclaim or other reduction whatsoever (whether for taxes, withholding or otherwise). The Guarantees are intended to be general, unsecured, senior obligations of each Guarantor and to rank pari passu in right of payment with all indebtedness of such Guarantor that is not, by its terms, expressly subordinated in right of payment to the Guarantees of such Guarantor. Each Guarantor hereby agrees that its obligations hereunder shall be full, irrevocable, unconditional and absolute, irrespective of the validity, regularity or enforceability of the obligations and liabilities of any other obligor with respect to the Securities, the Guarantees or this Indenture, the absence of any action to enforce the same, any waiver or consent by any Holder with respect to any provisions hereof or thereof with respect to the same, the recovery of any judgment against the Company, or any other circumstance which might otherwise constitute a legal or equitable discharge or defense of such Guarantor.

Each Guarantor hereby agrees that in the event of a default in payment of the principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Securities of any series or any other amounts payable under this Indenture and such Securities by the Company, whether at the Stated Maturity, upon redemption or by declaration of acceleration or otherwise, legal proceedings may be instituted by the Trustee on behalf of the Holders or, subject to Section 5.06, by the Holders, on the terms and conditions set forth in this Indenture, directly against any Guarantor to enforce the Guarantees of such series without first proceeding against the Company.

(c) To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the obligations of a Guarantor under this Article IX shall be as aforesaid full, irrevocable, unconditional and absolute and shall not be impaired, modified, discharged, released or limited by any occurrence or condition whatsoever, including, without limitation, (i) any compromise, settlement, release, waiver, renewal, extension, indulgence or modification of, or any change in, any of the obligations and liabilities of any other obligor with respect to the Securities contained in any of the Securities or this Indenture, (ii) any impairment, modification, release or limitation of the liability of the Company, the Guarantors or any of their respective estates in bankruptcy, or any remedy for the enforcement thereof, resulting from the operation of any present or future provision of any applicable Bankruptcy Law, or other statute or from the decision of any court, (iii) the assertion or exercise by the Company, the Guarantors or the Trustee of any rights or remedies under any of the Securities or this Indenture or its delay in or failure to assert or exercise any such rights or remedies, (iv) the assignment or the purported assignment of any property as security for any of the Securities, including all or any part of the rights of the Company or the Guarantors under this Indenture, (v) the extension of the time for payment by the Company or the Guarantors of any payments or other sums or any part thereof owing or payable under any of the terms and provisions of any of the Securities or this Indenture or of the time for performance by the Company or the Guarantors of any other obligations under or arising out of any such terms and provisions or the extension or the renewal of any thereof, (vi) the modification or amendment (whether material or otherwise) of any duty, agreement or obligation set forth in this Indenture of any other obligor with respect to the Securities, (vii) the voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution, sale or other disposition of all or substantially all of the assets, marshaling of assets and liabilities, receivership, insolvency, bankruptcy, assignment for the benefit of creditors, reorganization, arrangement, composition or readjustment of, or other similar proceeding affecting, either of the Company or the Guarantors or any of its assets, or the disaffirmance of any of the Securities, the Guarantees or this Indenture in any such proceeding, (viii) the release or discharge of the Company or the Guarantors from the performance or observance of any agreement, covenant, term or condition contained in any of such instruments by operation of law, (ix) the unenforceability of any of the obligations of any of the other obligors under the Securities, the Guarantees or this Indenture, (x) any change in the name, business, capital structure, corporate or comparable existence, or ownership of the Company or the Guarantors, or (xi) any other circumstance which might otherwise constitute a defense available to, or a legal or equitable discharge of, a surety or the Guarantors.

(d) Each Guarantor hereby (i) waives diligence, presentment, demand of payment, notice of acceptance, filing of claims with a court in the event of the merger, insolvency or bankruptcy of the Company or such Guarantor, and all demands and notices whatsoever, (ii) acknowledges that any agreement, instrument or document evidencing the Guarantees may be transferred and that the benefit of its obligations hereunder shall extend to each holder of any agreement, instrument or document evidencing the Guarantees without notice to them and (iii) covenants that its Guarantees will not be discharged except by complete performance of the Guarantees or of the obligations guaranteed thereby. Each Guarantor further agrees that if at any time all or any part of any payment theretofore applied by any Person to the Guarantees is, or must be, rescinded or returned for any reason whatsoever, including, without limitation, the insolvency, bankruptcy or reorganization of such Guarantor, the Guarantees shall, to the extent that such payment is or must be rescinded or returned, be deemed to have continued in existence notwithstanding such application, and the Guarantees shall continue to be effective or be reinstated, as the case may be, as though such application had not been made.

(e) (i) Each Guarantor shall be subrogated to all rights of the Holders and the Trustee against the Company in respect of any amounts paid by such Guarantor pursuant to the provisions of this Indenture; provided, however, that such Guarantor shall not be entitled to enforce or to receive any payments arising out of, or based upon, such right of subrogation with respect to any of the Securities until all of the Securities and the Guarantees thereof shall have been paid in full or discharged.

(ii) Each Guarantor and, by its acceptance of Securities of any series, each Holder of such series of Securities hereby confirm that it is the intention of all such parties that the Guarantee of such Guarantor not constitute a fraudulent transfer or conveyance for purposes of Bankruptcy Law, the Uniform Fraudulent Conveyance Act, the Uniform Fraudulent Transfer Act or any similar federal or state law to the extent applicable to any Guarantee. To effectuate the foregoing intention, the Trustee, the Holders of such series and the Guarantors hereby irrevocably agree that the obligations of such Guarantor will be limited to the maximum amount which, after giving effect to all other contingent and fixed liabilities of such Guarantor, and after giving effect to any collections from or payments made by or on behalf of any other Guarantor in respect of the obligations of such other Guarantor under its Guarantee or pursuant to its contribution obligations under this Article IX, will result in the obligations of such Guarantor under its Guarantee not constituting a fraudulent conveyance or fraudulent transfer under federal or state law. Until such time as the Securities of such series are paid in full, each Guarantor hereby waives all rights of subrogation or contribution, whether arising by contract or operation of law (including, without limitation, any such right arising under Federal Bankruptcy Law) or otherwise by reason of any payment by it pursuant to the provisions of this Article IX. Each Guarantor that makes a payment or distribution under its Guarantee will be entitled to seek contribution from each other Guarantor in a pro rata amount based on the net assets of each Guarantor determined in accordance with GAAP, so long as the exercise of such right does not impair the rights of the Holders under the Guarantee.

(f) No failure to exercise and no delay in exercising, on the part of the Trustee or the Holders, any right, power, privilege or remedy under this Article IX and the Guarantees shall operate as a waiver thereof, nor shall any single or partial exercise of any rights, power, privilege or remedy preclude any other or further exercise thereof, or the exercise of any other rights, powers, privileges or remedies. The rights and remedies herein provided for are cumulative and not exclusive of any rights or remedies provided in law or equity. Nothing contained in this Article IX shall limit the right of the Trustee or the Holders to take any action to accelerate the Maturity of the Securities of either series pursuant to Article V or to pursue any rights or remedies hereunder or under applicable law.

(g) Subsequent to the date of this Indenture, in the event a Subsidiary (other than a Guarantor) is required by Section 3.08 to guarantee the Company's obligations under the Securities and this Indenture, the Company shall cause such Subsidiary to execute a supplement to this Indenture in accordance with Section 3.08, Section 8.01 and this Article IX, to the extent applicable.

SECTION 9.02. Execution and Delivery of Notation of Guarantees . To further evidence the Guarantees, each Guarantor hereby agrees that a notation of such Guarantee may be endorsed on each Security authenticated and delivered by the Trustee and that such notation shall be executed by either manual or facsimile signature of an Officer of such Guarantor. Each Guarantor hereby agrees that its Guarantees shall remain in full force and effect notwithstanding any failure to endorse on each Security a notation of the Guarantee.

If an Officer of a Guarantor whose signature is on this Indenture or a Security no longer holds that office at the time the Trustee authenticates such Security or at any time thereafter, such Guarantor's guarantee of such Security shall be valid nevertheless.

The delivery of any Security by the Trustee, after the authentication thereof hereunder, shall constitute due delivery of the Guarantees set forth in this Indenture on behalf of the Guarantors.

SECTION 9.03. Releases of Guarantors.

(a) If the Company satisfies and discharges this Indenture or exercises its legal or covenant defeasance option with respect to the Securities of any series, as set forth in Section 7.01 hereof, then any Guarantee will be released with respect to that series.

(b) If no Event of Default has occurred and is continuing under this Indenture, a Guarantor will be automatically and unconditionally released and discharged from its Guarantee:

(1) at any time after June 1, 2018, upon any sale, exchange or transfer, whether by way of merger or otherwise, to any Person that is not an Affiliate of the Company, of all of the Company's direct or indirect limited partnership, limited liability or other equity interests in the Guarantor; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not be prohibited, prior to June 1, 2018, upon delivery of notice by the Company to the Trustee given in conformity with Section 11.02 that such sale, exchange or transfer shall have been consummated in accordance with and permitted by, or waived pursuant to, the conditions set forth in the Credit Agreement or the Company's Funded Debt that is in existence at such time;

(2) automatically upon the merger of the Guarantor into the Company or any other Guarantor or the liquidation and dissolution of the Guarantor; or

(3) at any time after June 1, 2018 and following the delivery of notice by the Company to the Trustee given in conformity with Section 11.02, upon release of all guarantees or other obligations of the Guarantor with respect to any Funded Debt of the Company, except the Securities.

(c) Any Guarantor not released from its obligations under its Guarantee shall remain liable for the full amount of principal of, premium, if any, and interest on the Securities and for the other obligations of any Guarantor under this Indenture as provided in this Article IX.

(d) If at any time after June 1, 2018 and following the release of a Guarantor from its Guarantee of the Securities pursuant to clause (b)(3) of this Section, the Guarantor again guarantees or co-issues any of the Company's Funded Debt (other than obligations under this Indenture) then the Company will cause such Guarantor to again guarantee the Securities in accordance with Section 3.08 of this Indenture.

ARTICLE X
REDEMPTION

SECTION 10.01. Notices to Trustee . If the Company elects to redeem the Securities of a series pursuant to the redemption provisions of Section 3.10 or 10.07, it shall furnish to the Trustee, at least five days before notice of such redemption is to be given pursuant to Section 10.03 (unless a shorter period is acceptable to the Trustee), an Officer's Certificate setting forth the Redemption Date, the principal amount of such Securities to be redeemed and the Redemption Price (or the method of calculating the Redemption Price).

SECTION 10.02. Selection of Securities to be Redeemed . If less than all of the Securities of a series are to be redeemed, the Trustee shall select the Securities to be redeemed by such method in its sole discretion as it shall deem fair and appropriate (or, in the case of Securities represented by a Global Security, in accordance with the Applicable Procedures). The particular Securities to be redeemed shall be selected by the Trustee from the outstanding Securities not previously called for redemption.

The Trustee shall promptly notify the Company in writing of the Securities selected for redemption and, in the case of any Security selected for partial redemption, the principal amount thereof to be redeemed. Securities and portions of them selected shall be in minimum amounts of $2,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. Except as provided in the preceding sentence, provisions of this Indenture that apply to Securities called for redemption also apply to portions of Securities called for redemption.

SECTION 10.03. Notices to Holders of Optional Redemption .

(a) At least 20 days but not more than 60 days before an optional Redemption Date, the Company shall give in conformity with Section 11.02 a notice of optional redemption to each Holder whose Securities are to be redeemed pursuant to Section 3.10 or 10.07. The notice shall identify the Securities to be redeemed (including CUSIP, ISIN or similar numbers, if any) and shall state:

(i) the Redemption Date;

(ii) the Redemption Price (or the method of calculating the Redemption Price);

(iii) if any Security is being redeemed in part, the portion of the principal amount of such Security to be redeemed and that, after the Redemption Date, upon surrender of such Security, a new Security or Securities in principal amount equal to the unredeemed portion will be issued;

(iv) the name and address of the Paying Agent;

(v) that Securities called for redemption must be surrendered to the Paying Agent at the address specified in such notice to collect the Redemption Price;

(vi) that unless the Company defaults in making the redemption payment, interest on Securities called for redemption ceases to accrue on and after the Redemption Date and the only remaining right of the Holders is to receive payment of the Redemption Price upon surrender to the Paying Agent of the Securities; and

(vii) the aggregate principal amount of Securities being redeemed.

If any of the Securities to be redeemed is in the form of a Global Security, then the Company shall modify such notice to the extent necessary to accord with the procedures of the Depositary applicable to redemptions.

(b) At the Company's request, the Trustee shall give the notice required in Section 10.03(a) in the Company's name; provided, however, that the Officer's Certificate delivered pursuant to Section 10.01 also requests that the Trustee give such notice and sets forth the additional information to be stated in such notice as provided in Section 10.03(a).

SECTION 10.04. Effect of Notices of Redemption. Securities called for redemption will become due on the Redemption Date. On and after the Redemption Date, interest will cease to accrue on the Securities or portions of Securities called for redemption unless the Company defaults in the payment of the Redemption Price. Upon surrender to the Paying Agent of Securities called for redemption, such Securities shall be paid out at the Redemption Price, plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the Redemption Date; provided, however, that if the Redemption Date is after the taking of a record of the Holders on a record date and on or prior to the related Interest Payment Date, the accrued and unpaid interest shall be payable to the Person in whose name the redeemed Securities are registered on such record date. Failure to give notice or any defect in the notice to any Holder shall not affect the validity of the notice to any other Holder.

SECTION 10.05. Deposit of Redemption Price. At or prior to 11:00 a.m. New York City time on the Redemption Date, the Company shall deposit with the Trustee or with the Paying Agent immediately available funds sufficient to pay the Redemption Price of all Securities to be redeemed on that date, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but not including, the Redemption Date. The Trustee or the Paying Agent shall return to the Company any money not required for that purpose less the expenses of the Trustee as provided herein.

If the Company complies with the preceding paragraph, interest on the Securities or portions thereof to be redeemed (whether or not such Securities are presented for payment) will cease to accrue on the applicable Redemption Date. If any Security called for redemption shall not be so paid upon surrender because of the failure of the Company to comply with the preceding paragraph, then interest will be paid, to the extent lawful, on the unpaid principal or premium, if any, from the Redemption Date until such principal or premium, if any, is paid and on any interest not paid on such unpaid principal, in each case at the rate provided in the Securities and in Section 3.01.

SECTION 10.06. Securities Redeemed in Part. Upon surrender of a Security that is redeemed in part, the Company shall issue and the Trustee shall authenticate for the Holder, at the expense of the Company, a new Security equal in principal amount to the unredeemed portion of the Security surrendered.

SECTION 10.07. Optional Redemption . The Securities of a series may be redeemed at any time at the option of the Company and on such terms and subject to such conditions (including conditions precedent) as are specified in such Securities. For the avoidance of doubt, it is understood that the Company may redeem one series of Securities without redeeming any other series of Securities.

Any redemption pursuant to this Section 10.07 shall be made, to the extent applicable, pursuant to the provisions of Sections 10.01 through 10.06.

SECTION 10.08. Mandatory Redemption . Except for the Special Mandatory Redemption pursuant to Section 10.09 hereof, the Company is not required to make mandatory redemption or sinking fund payments with respect to the Securities.

SECTION 10.09. Special Mandatory Redemption .

(a) In the event that the Spin Off Distribution is not consummated on or prior to October 2, 2015, the Company shall be required to redeem all of the Securities, upon at least five but no more than ten Business Days' prior notice to the Holders given in conformity with Section 11.02 within five Business Days following October 2, 2015, at a Redemption Price for each series of Securities equal to 101% of aggregate principal amount of Securities to be redeemed (the "Mandatory Redemption Price"), plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but not including, the Redemption Date.

(b) The Company may, at its option, redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part, at the Mandatory Redemption Price, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but not including, the Redemption Date, if, prior to October 2, 2015, the Company determines in its sole discretion, that the Spin Off Distribution will not occur on or prior to that date, upon at least five but no more than ten Business Days' prior notice to the Holders given in conformity with Section 11.02 within five Business Days following October 2, 2015.

(c) Notice of mandatory redemption pursuant to this Section 10.09 (a) or (b) shall be delivered electronically (for Global Securities) or mailed, by first class mail, to each Holder whose Securities are to be redeemed at its registered address and shall state: (i) the Redemption Date; (ii) the Mandatory Redemption Price; (iii) the name and address of the Paying Agent; (iv) that Securities called for mandatory redemption must be surrendered to the Paying Agent at the address specified in the notice to collect the Mandatory Redemption Price; (v) that on the Redemption Date, the Mandatory Redemption Price shall become due and payable; and (vi) that, unless the Company defaults in making the redemption payment, the Securities of each series shall cease to bear interest on and after the Redemption Date and the only remaining right of the Holders is to receive payment of the Mandatory Redemption Price upon surrender to the Paying Agent of the Securities.

(d) Notice of any mandatory redemption shall be given by the Company or, at the Company's request and upon provision of such notice information at least five Business Days (unless the Trustee consents to a shorter period) prior to the date notice of mandatory redemption is to be given to the Holders, by the Trustee in the name and at the expense of the Company.

ARTICLE XI
MISCELLANEOUS

SECTION 11.01. Trust Indenture Act Controls . Any reference to a requirement under the TIA shall apply to this Indenture irrespective of whether or not this Indenture is then qualified thereunder. If any provision of this Indenture limits, qualifies or conflicts with another provision which is required to be included in this Indenture by the TIA (or in any other indenture qualified thereunder), the provision required by the TIA shall control.

SECTION 11.02. Notices . Any notice or other communication by the Company, the Guarantors or the Trustee to the others is duly given if in writing and delivered in person, by facsimile or by overnight air courier guaranteeing next day delivery or if mailed by first-class mail (registered or certified, return receipt requested), in each case to the other's address:

If to either the Company or any of the Guarantors, to it at:

c/o Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc.
5151 San Felipe St., Suite 2500
Houston, Texas 77056
Attention: Vice President & Deputy General Counsel, Corporate & Commercial
Facsimile: (713) 386-3490

With a copy (which shall not constitute notice) to:

Vinson & Elkins L.L.P.
1001 Fannin, Suite 2500
Houston, Texas 77002
Facsimile (713) 615-5883
Attention: Gillian Hobson

If to the Trustee:

U.S. Bank National Association
5555 San Felipe Street, Suite 1150
Houston, Texas 77056
Attention: Corporate Trust Services
Facsimile: (713) 235-9213

Each of the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee by notice to the others may designate additional or different addresses for subsequent notices or other communications.

All notices and other communications shall be deemed to have been duly given: at the time delivered by hand, if personally delivered; five Business Days after being deposited in the mail, postage prepaid, if mailed; when receipt acknowledged, if telecopied; and the next Business Day after timely delivery to the courier, if sent by overnight air courier guaranteeing next day delivery.

Any notice or other communication to a Holder shall be mailed by first-class mail, postage prepaid, to the Holder's address shown on the register kept by the Registrar; provided, however, if the Holder is the Depositary (or its nominee) any notice or other communication to such Holder shall be given in accordance with the Depositary's rules and procedures. Failure to give a notice or other communication to a Holder or any defect in it shall not affect its sufficiency with respect to other Holders.

If a notice or other communication is mailed or otherwise sent in the manner provided above within the time prescribed, it is duly given, whether or not the addressee receives it. Notwithstanding the foregoing, notices to the Trustee shall be effective only upon receipt.

If the Company or any of the Guarantors sends a notice or other communication to Holders, it shall send a copy to the Trustee at the same time.

All notices or other communications, including, without limitation, notices to the Trustee, the Company or the Guarantors by Holders, shall be in writing and in the English language.

In case by reason of the suspension of regular mail service, or by reason of any other cause, it shall be impossible to mail any notice or other communication required by this Indenture, then such method of notification as shall be made with the approval of the Trustee shall constitute a sufficient mailing of such notice.

SECTION 11.03. Communication by Holders with Other Holders. Holders may communicate pursuant to TIA Section 312(b) with other Holders with respect to their rights under this Indenture, the Securities or the Guarantees. The Company, the Guarantors, the Trustee, each Agent and anyone else shall have the protection of TIA Section 312(c).

SECTION 11.04. Certificate and Opinion as to Conditions Precedent. Upon any request or application by the Company or the Guarantors to the Trustee to take any action under this Indenture, the Company or the Guarantors shall, if requested by the Trustee, furnish to the Trustee, as applicable:

(i) an Officer's Certificate (which shall include the statements set forth in Section 11.05) stating that, in the opinion of the signers, all conditions precedent and covenants, if any, provided for in this Indenture relating to the proposed action have been complied with; and

(ii) an Opinion of Counsel (which shall include the statements set forth in Section 11.05) stating that, in the opinion of such counsel, all such conditions precedent and covenants have been complied with.

SECTION 11.05. Statements Required in Certificate or Opinion. Each certificate or opinion with respect to compliance with a condition or covenant provided for in this Indenture shall include:

- (i) a statement that the Person making such certificate or opinion has read such covenant or condition;
 - (ii) a brief statement as to the nature and scope of the examination or investigation upon which the statements or opinions contained in such certificate or opinion are based;
 - (iii) a statement that, in the opinion of such Person, he has made such examination or investigation as is necessary to enable him to express an informed opinion as to whether or not such covenant or condition has been complied with; and
 - (iv) a statement as to whether or not, in the opinion of such Person, such condition or covenant has been complied with.

SECTION 11.06. Rules by Trustee and Agents . The Trustee may make reasonable rules for action by or at a meeting of Holders. The Registrar or the Paying Agent may make reasonable rules and set reasonable requirements for its functions.

SECTION 11.07. Legal Holidays . If a payment date is a Legal Holiday at a place of payment, payment may be made at that place on the next succeeding day that is not a Legal Holiday, and no interest shall accrue for the intervening period. If a record date is a Legal Holiday, the record date shall not be affected.

SECTION 11.08. No Recourse Against Others . A director, officer, employee or stockholder of the Company or the Guarantors, as such, shall not have any liability for any obligations of the Company or the Guarantors under the Securities, the Guarantees or this Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of or by reason of such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting a Security waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release shall be part of the consideration for the issue of the Securities.

SECTION 11.09. Governing Law; Jury Trial Waiver . This Indenture, the Securities and the Guarantees shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York. EACH OF THE COMPANY, THE GUARANTORS, THE HOLDERS AND THE TRUSTEE HEREBY IRREVOCABLY WAIVES, TO THE FULLEST EXTENT PERMITTED BY APPLICABLE LAW, ANY AND ALL RIGHT TO TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY LEGAL PROCEEDING ARISING OUT OF OR RELATING TO THIS INDENTURE, THE SECURITIES OR THE TRANSACTION CONTEMPLATED HEREBY.

SECTION 11.10. Consent to Jurisdiction . Any legal suit, action or proceeding arising out of or based upon this Indenture, the Securities or the transactions contemplated hereby ("Related Proceedings") may be instituted in the competent federal courts of the United States of America located in the City of New York or the courts of the State of New York in each case located in the City of New York (collectively, the "Specified Courts"), and each party irrevocably submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of such courts in any such suit, action or proceeding. Service of any process, summons, notice or document by mail to such party's address set forth in Section 11.02 shall be effective service of process for any suit, action or other proceeding brought in any such court. The parties irrevocably and unconditionally waive any objection to the laying of venue of any suit, action or other proceeding in the Specified Courts and irrevocably and unconditionally waive and agree not to plead or claim in any such court that a Related Proceeding has been brought in an inconvenient forum.

SECTION 11.11. No Adverse Interpretation of Other Agreements . This Indenture may not be used to interpret another indenture, loan or debt agreement of the Company, the Guarantors or any other Subsidiary of the Company. Any such indenture, loan or debt agreement may not be used to interpret this Indenture.

SECTION 11.12. Successors . All agreements of the Company and the Guarantors in this Indenture and the Securities shall bind their respective successors. All agreements of the Trustee in this Indenture shall bind its successor.

SECTION 11.13. Severability . In case any provision in this Indenture or in the Securities shall be invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the validity, legality and enforceability of the remaining provisions shall not in any way be affected or impaired thereby.

SECTION 11.14. Counterpart Originals . The parties may sign any number of copies of this Indenture by manual or facsimile signature. Each signed copy shall be an original, but all of them together represent the same agreement. The exchange of copies of this Indenture and of signature pages by facsimile or PDF transmission shall constitute effective execution and delivery of this Indenture for all purposes. Signatures of the parties hereto transmitted by facsimile or PDF shall be deemed to be their original signatures for all purposes.

SECTION 11.15. USA Patriot Act . The parties hereto acknowledge that in accordance with Section 326 of the Uniting and Strengthening America by Providing Appropriate Tools Required to Intercept and Obstruct Terrorism Act of 2001 (Title III of Pub. L. 107-56, as amended) (the "USA Patriot Act"), the Trustee, like all financial institutions and in order to help fight the funding of terrorism and money laundering, is required to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person or legal entity that establishes a relationship or opens an account with the Trustee. The parties to this Indenture agree that they will provide the Trustee with such information as it may request in order for the Trustee to satisfy the requirements of the USA Patriot Act.

SECTION 11.16. Force Majeure . In no event shall the Trustee be liable for any failure or delay in the performance of its obligations hereunder arising out of or caused by, directly or indirectly, forces beyond its control, including, without limitation, strikes, work stoppages, accidents, acts of war or terrorism, civil or military disturbances, nuclear or natural catastrophes or acts of God, and interruptions, loss or malfunctions of utilities, communications or computer (software and hardware) services; it beyond understood that the Trustee shall use reasonable efforts which are consistent with accepted practices in the banking industry to resume performance as soon as practicable under the circumstances.

SECTION 11.17. Table of Contents, Headings, etc . The Table of Contents and headings of the Articles and Sections of this Indenture have been inserted for convenience of reference only, are not to be considered a part hereof and shall in no way modify or restrict any of the terms or provisions hereof.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF , the parties hereto have caused this Indenture to be duly executed as of the day and year first above written.

REVERSE OF SECURITY

COLUMBIA PIPELINE GROUP, INC.

2.45% SENIOR NOTE DUE 2018

This Security is one of a duly authorized issue of 2.45% Senior Notes due 2018 (the “Securities”) of Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”).

1. Interest . The Company promises to pay interest on the principal amount of this Security at a rate of 2.45% per annum until Maturity. The Company will pay interest semi-annually on June 1 and December 1 of each year (each an “Interest Payment Date”), beginning on December 1, 2015, or if any such day is not a Business Day, on the next succeeding Business Day. Interest on this Security will accrue from the most recent Interest Payment Date on which interest has been paid or, if no interest has been paid, from May 22, 2015; provided that if there is no existing Default in the payment of interest, and if this Security is authenticated between a record date referred to on the face hereof and the next succeeding Interest Payment Date, interest shall accrue from such next succeeding Interest Payment Date. Further, to the extent lawful, the Company shall pay interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on overdue principal, premium, if any, and interest (without regard to any applicable grace period), from time to time on demand at the rate then in effect on the Securities. Interest will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

2. Method of Payment . The Company will pay interest on this Security (except defaulted interest) to the Persons who are registered Holders of this Security at the close of business on the record date next preceding the Interest Payment Date, even if this Security is canceled after such record date and on or before such Interest Payment Date. The Holder must surrender this Security to a Paying Agent to collect payments of principal and premium, if any. The Company will pay the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on this Security in money of the United States of America that at the time of payment is legal tender for payment of public and private debts. Payments in respect of the Securities represented by a Global Security (including principal, premium, if any, and interest) will be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the accounts specified by The Depository Trust Company. The Company will make all payments in respect of a certificated Security (including principal, premium, if any, and interest) at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee or at the office or agency of the Paying Agent maintained for such purpose in The City of New York or, at its option, by mailing a check to the registered address of each Holder thereof; provided, however, that payments on a certificated Security will be made by wire transfer to a U.S. dollar account maintained by the payee with a bank in the United States if such Holder elects payment by wire transfer by giving written notice to the Trustee or the Paying Agent to such effect designating such account no later than 30 days immediately preceding the relevant due date for payment (or such other date as the Trustee may accept in its discretion).

3. Ranking and Guarantees . This Security is a senior unsecured obligation of the Company and is guaranteed pursuant to guarantees (the “Guarantees”) by the Guarantors. Reference is made to Article IX of the Indenture for the term relating to the Guarantees, including the release, termination and discharge thereof. The Guarantees are senior unsecured obligations of the Guarantors.

Exhibit A1-5

4. Optional Redemption; Mandatory Redemption; Purchases upon Change of Control Triggering Event .

(a) Prior to maturity date, this Security is redeemable, at the Company's option, at any time in whole, or from time to time in part, at a Redemption Price equal to the greater of (1) 100% of the principal amount of this Security to be redeemed; and (2) the sum of the present values of the remaining scheduled payments of principal and interest thereon (at the rate in effect on the date of calculation of the Redemption Price) (exclusive of interest accrued to the Redemption Date) discounted to the Redemption Date on a semi-annual basis (assuming a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months) at the Optional Redemption Treasury Yield, plus 25 basis points, plus, in either case, accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the Redemption Date.

"Independent Investment Banker" J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc., or Scotia Capital (USA) Inc. (and their respective successors), or, if each of such firms is unwilling or unable to select the applicable Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue, an independent investment banking institution of national standing appointed by the Company.

"Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue" means the U.S. Treasury security selected by an Independent Investment Banker as having a maturity comparable to the remaining term of this Security that would be utilized, at the time of selection and in accordance with customary financial practice, in pricing new issues of corporate debt securities of comparable maturity to this Security.

"Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Price" means, with respect to any Redemption Date and as determined by the Independent Investment Banker, (1) the average of Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations obtained by the Independent Investment Banker for the applicable Redemption Date, after excluding the highest and lowest of the Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations, or (2) if the Independent Investment Banker obtains fewer than four of such Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations, the average of all of such Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations.

"Optional Redemption Primary Treasury Dealer" means any primary U.S. Government securities dealer in the United States.

"Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer" means (1) each of J.P. Morgan Securities LLC and Scotia Capital (USA) Inc. (or their respective affiliates which are Primary Treasury Dealers), and a Primary Treasury Dealer selected by Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc. and any other Primary Treasury Dealer designated by, and not affiliated with J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc. and Scotia Capital (USA) Inc., or their respective successors, provided, however, that if any of the foregoing, or any of their respective designees, ceases to be a Primary Treasury Dealer, the Company will appoint another Primary Treasury Dealer as a substitute and (2) any other Primary Treasury Dealer selected by the Company.

“Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations” means, with respect to each Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer and any Redemption Date for this Security, the average, as determined by the Independent Investment Banker, of the bid and asked prices for the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue (expressed in each case as a percentage of its principal amount) quoted in writing to the Independent Investment Banker by the Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer at 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the third Business Day preceding such Redemption Date.

“Optional Redemption Treasury Yield” means, with respect to any Redemption Date applicable to this Security, the rate per annum equal to the semi-annual equivalent yield to maturity (computed by the Independent Investment Banker as of the third Business Day immediately preceding such Redemption Date) of the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue, assuming a price for the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue (expressed as a percentage of its principal amount) equal to the applicable Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Price for such Redemption Date.

(b) Except for the Special Mandatory Redemption described in the next paragraph, the Company is not required to make mandatory redemption or sinking fund payments with respect to this Security.

As set forth in Section 10.09 of the Indenture, in the event that the Spin Off Distribution is not consummated on or prior to October 2, 2015, the Company shall be required to redeem all of the Securities, upon at least five but no more than ten Business Days’ prior notice to the Holders given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture within five Business Days following October 2, 2015, at the Mandatory Redemption Price, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but excluding, the Redemption Date. The Company may, at its option, redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part, at the Mandatory Redemption Price, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but excluding, the Redemption Date, if, prior to October 2, 2015, the Company determines in its sole discretion, that the Spin Off Distribution will not occur on or prior to that date, upon at least five but no more than ten Business Days’ prior written notice to the Holders given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture within five Business Days following October 2, 2015.

(c) Upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event with respect to the Securities, the Holder shall have the right to require the Company to purchase all or any part (equal to $2,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof) of this Security, pursuant to a Change of Control Offer made in accordance with Section 3.10 of the Indenture, at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount hereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest hereon to, but not including, the Change of Control Payment Date (subject to the right of the holder of record of this Security on the relevant record date to receive interest on the relevant Interest Payment Date as provided in Section 3.10 of the Indenture), except to the extent that the Company shall have exercised its right to redeem this Security pursuant to the preceding paragraph (a).

(d) If Holders of not less than 90% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities validly tender and do not withdraw their Securities in a Change of Control Offer and the Company, or any third party making a Change of Control Offer in lieu of the Company, purchases all of the Securities validly tendered and not withdrawn by such holders, the Company shall have the right, upon not less than 20 nor more than 60 days' prior notice, given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture not more than 30 days following such purchase pursuant to such Change of Control Offer, to redeem this Security and all other Securities that remain outstanding following such purchase at a Redemption Price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but not including, the Redemption Date (subject to the right of the holder of record of this Security on the relevant record date to receive interest on the relevant Interest Payment Date as provided in Section 10.04 of the Indenture).

5. Paying Agent and Registrar . Initially, the Trustee will act as Paying Agent and Registrar. The Company may change any Paying Agent or Registrar without notice to any Holder. The Company or any of its Subsidiaries may act in any such capacity.

6. Indenture . The Company issued this Security under an Indenture dated as of May 22, 2015 (as amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the "Indenture") among the Company, the Guarantors, and U.S. Bank National Association (the "Trustee"). The terms of this Security include those stated in the Indenture and those made part of the Indenture by reference to the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended (15 U.S. Code Sections 77aaa-77bbb). This Security and the Guarantees are subject to all such terms, and Holders are referred to the Indenture and the Trust Indenture Act for a statement of such terms. To the extent any provision of this Security conflicts with the express provisions of the Indenture, the provisions of the Indenture shall govern and be controlling (to the extent permitted by law). The Securities are unsecured obligations of the Company. The Company initially has issued $500,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Securities. The Company may issue Additional Securities of the same series as this Security under the Indenture, provided that no such Additional Securities may be issued at a price that would cause such Additional Securities to have "original issue discount" within the meaning of Section 1273 of the Code. Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Security have the respective meanings given to such terms in the Indenture.

7. Denominations, Transfer, Exchange . The Securities are issuable only in registered form without coupons in minimum denominations of $2,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. The transfer of this Security may be registered and this Security may be exchanged only as provided in the Indenture. The Registrar and the Trustee may require a Holder, among other things, to furnish appropriate endorsements and transfer documents and to pay any transfer tax or similar governmental charge or other fee required by law and payable in connection therewith. The Registrar need not exchange or register the transfer of this Security during the period between a record date and the corresponding Interest Payment Date.

8. Persons Deemed Owners . The registered Holder of a Security shall be treated as its owner for all purposes.

9. Amendments and Waivers . Subject to certain exceptions and limitations, the Indenture or this Security may be amended or supplemented with the consent of the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities, and compliance in a particular instance by the Company or the Guarantors with any provision of the Indenture with respect to the Securities may be waived (other than certain provisions, including any continuing Default or Event of Default in the payment of the principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Securities) by the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities then outstanding in accordance with the terms of Section 8.02 of the Indenture. Without the consent of any Holder, the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee may amend or supplement this Security as provided in Section 8.01 of the Indenture.

The right of any Holder to participate in any consent required or sought pursuant to any provision of the Indenture (and the obligation of the Company to obtain any such consent otherwise required from such Holder) may be subject to the requirement that such Holder shall have been the Holder of record of this Security as of a record date fixed by the Company in accordance with the terms of the Indenture.

10. Defaults and Remedies . Events of Default with respect to this Security include: (i) default in the payment of the principal of or premium, if any, on any Security at its Maturity, and continuance of such default for a period of 10 days; or (ii) default in the payment of interest, upon any of the Securities when they become due and payable, and continuance of such default for a period of 30 days; or (iii) default in the performance or observance, or breach, of any covenant of the Company or the Guarantors in any Security or the Indenture (other than a covenant a default in whose performance or whose breach is elsewhere in Section 5.01 of the Indenture specifically dealt with), and continuance of such default or breach for a period of 90 days after there has been given, in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture, to the Company and the Guarantors by the Trustee or to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee by the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities a written notice specifying such default or breach and requiring it to be remedied and stating that such notice is a “Notice of Default” under the Indenture; or (iv) certain events specified in the Indenture relating to the bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization of the Company or a Guarantor; or (v) the Guarantees cease to be in full force and effect or become unenforceable or invalid or are declared null and void (other than in accordance with the terms of such Guarantees) or a Guarantor denies or disaffirms its obligations under such Guarantees.

If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default referred to in clause (iv) of the preceding paragraph) with respect to this Security occurs and is continuing, the Trustee by notice to the Company and the Guarantors, or by the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities by written notice to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee, may declare all of the then outstanding Securities to be due and payable immediately. If an Event of Default referred to in such clause (iv) occurs, acceleration of all amounts payable on the Securities shall be automatic. The amount due and payable upon the acceleration of any Security is equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus premium, if any, and accrued and unpaid interest to the date of payment. Holders may not enforce the Indenture or this Security except as provided in the Indenture. The Trustee does require indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it before it enforces the Indenture or this Security. Subject to certain limitations, Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities may direct the Trustee in its exercise of any trust or power. The Trustee may withhold from Holders notice of any continuing default with respect to the Securities (except a default in payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest) if it determines that withholding notice is in their interests. Each of the Company and the Guarantors must furnish an annual compliance certificate to the Trustee.

11. Discharge or Defeasance Prior to Maturity . The Indenture shall be satisfied and discharged with respect to this Security upon the payment of all of the Securities, and it may be satisfied and discharged (except for certain obligations) upon the irrevocable deposit with the Trustee of cash, or U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof sufficient for such payment. The Indenture also contains provisions for defeasance of (i) the entire indebtedness of the Company on the Securities and (ii) certain restrictive covenants and the related Events of Default with respect to this Security, subject to compliance by the Company with certain conditions set forth in the Indenture.

12. Trustee Dealings with the Company and the Guarantors . The Trustee in its individual or any other capacity may become the owner or pledgee of this Security and may otherwise deal with the Company, the Guarantors or any of their Affiliates with the same rights it would have if it were not the Trustee.

13. No Recourse Against Others . A director, officer, employee or stockholder of the Company or the Guarantors, as such, shall not have any liability for any obligations of the Company or the Guarantors under this Security, the Guarantees or the Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of or by reason of such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting this Security waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for the issuance of this Security.

14. Authentication . This Security shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose until authenticated by the manual signature of an authorized signatory of the Trustee, which signature shall be conclusive evidence that this Security has been authenticated under the Indenture.

15. CUSIP Numbers . Pursuant to a recommendation promulgated by the Committee on Uniform Security Identification Procedures, the Company has caused a CUSIP number to be printed on this Security as a convenience to the Holders of this Security. No representation is made as to the correctness of such number either as printed on this Security or as contained in any notice of a redemption and that reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers printed on this Security.

16. Abbreviations . Customary abbreviations may be used in the name of a Holder or an assignee, such as: TEN COM (= tenants in common), TEN ENT (= tenants by the entireties), JT TEN (= joint tenants with right of survivorship and not as tenants in common), CUST (= Custodian), and U/G/M/A (= Uniform Gifts to Minors Act).

17. [Additional Rights of Holders of Restricted Global Securities and Restricted Definitive Securities . In addition to the rights provided to Holders of Securities under the Indenture, Holders of Securities will have the rights set forth in the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of May 22, 2015, among the Company, the Guarantors and the other parties named on the signature pages thereof.] *

18. Governing Law . The Indenture, this Security and the Guarantees shall be governed by and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York.

The Company will furnish to any Holder upon written request and without charge a copy of the Indenture. Request may be made to it at:

REVERSE OF SECURITY

COLUMBIA PIPELINE GROUP, INC.

3.30% SENIOR NOTE DUE 2020

This Security is one of a duly authorized issue of 3.30% Senior Notes due 2020 (the “Securities”) of Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”).

1. Interest . The Company promises to pay interest on the principal amount of this Security at a rate of 3.30% per annum until Maturity. The Company will pay interest semi-annually on June 1 and December 1 of each year (each an “Interest Payment Date”), beginning on December 1, 2015, or if any such day is not a Business Day, on the next succeeding Business Day. Interest on this Security will accrue from the most recent Interest Payment Date on which interest has been paid or, if no interest has been paid, from May 22, 2015; provided that if there is no existing Default in the payment of interest, and if this Security is authenticated between a record date referred to on the face hereof and the next succeeding Interest Payment Date, interest shall accrue from such next succeeding Interest Payment Date. Further, to the extent lawful, the Company shall pay interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on overdue principal, premium, if any, and interest (without regard to any applicable grace period), from time to time on demand at the rate then in effect on the Securities. Interest will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

2. Method of Payment . The Company will pay interest on this Security (except defaulted interest) to the Persons who are registered Holders of this Security at the close of business on the record date next preceding the Interest Payment Date, even if this Security is canceled after such record date and on or before such Interest Payment Date. The Holder must surrender this Security to a Paying Agent to collect payments of principal and premium, if any. The Company will pay the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on this Security in money of the United States of America that at the time of payment is legal tender for payment of public and private debts. Payments in respect of the Securities represented by a Global Security (including principal, premium, if any, and interest) will be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the accounts specified by The Depository Trust Company. The Company will make all payments in respect of a certificated Security (including principal, premium, if any, and interest) at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee or at the office or agency of the Paying Agent maintained for such purpose in The City of New York or, at its option, by mailing a check to the registered address of each Holder thereof; provided, however, that payments on a certificated Security will be made by wire transfer to a U.S. dollar account maintained by the payee with a bank in the United States if such Holder elects payment by wire transfer by giving written notice to the Trustee or the Paying Agent to such effect designating such account no later than 30 days immediately preceding the relevant due date for payment (or such other date as the Trustee may accept in its discretion).

3. Ranking and Guarantees . This Security is a senior unsecured obligation of the Company and is guaranteed pursuant to guarantees (the “Guarantees”) by the Guarantors. Reference is made to Article IX of the Indenture for the term relating to the Guarantees, including the release, termination and discharge thereof. The Guarantees are senior unsecured obligations of the Guarantors.

Exhibit A2-5

4. Optional Redemption; Mandatory Redemption; Purchases upon Change of Control Triggering Event .

(a) Prior to the Par Call Date, this Security is redeemable, at the Company's option, at any time in whole, or from time to time in part, at a Redemption Price equal to the greater of (1) 100% of the principal amount of this Security to be redeemed; and (2) the sum of the present values of the remaining scheduled payments of principal and interest thereon (at the rate in effect on the date of calculation of the Redemption Price) that would be due if this Security matured on the Par Call Date (exclusive of interest accrued to the Redemption Date) discounted to the Redemption Date on a semi-annual basis (assuming a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months) at the Optional Redemption Treasury Yield, plus 30 basis points, plus, in any case, accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the Redemption Date. On or after the Par Call Date, this Security is redeemable, at the Company's option, at any time in whole, or from time to time in part, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount of this Security to be redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the Redemption Date.

"Independent Investment Banker" J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc., or Scotia Capital (USA) Inc. (and their respective successors), or, if each of such firms is unwilling or unable to select the applicable Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue, an independent investment banking institution of national standing appointed by the Company.

"Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue" means the U.S. Treasury security selected by an Independent Investment Banker as having a maturity comparable to the remaining term of this Security, calculated as if the maturity date of this Security were the Par Call Date (the "Remaining Life"), that would be utilized, at the time of selection and in accordance with customary financial practice, in pricing new issues of corporate debt securities of comparable maturity to the Remaining Life of this Security.

"Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Price" means, with respect to any Redemption Date and as determined by the Independent Investment Banker, (1) the average of Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations obtained by the Independent Investment Banker for the applicable Redemption Date, after excluding the highest and lowest of the Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations, or (2) if the Independent Investment Banker obtains fewer than four of such Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations, the average of all of such Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations.

"Optional Redemption Primary Treasury Dealer" means any primary U.S. Government securities dealer in the United States.

"Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer" means (1) each of J.P. Morgan Securities LLC and Scotia Capital (USA) Inc. (or their respective affiliates which are Primary Treasury Dealers), and a Primary Treasury Dealer selected by Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA),

Inc. and any other Primary Treasury Dealer designated by, and not affiliated with J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc. and Scotia Capital (USA) Inc., or their respective successors, provided, however, that if any of the foregoing, or any of their respective designees, ceases to be a Primary Treasury Dealer, the Company will appoint another Primary Treasury Dealer as a substitute and (2) any other Primary Treasury Dealer selected by the Company.

“Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations” means, with respect to each Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer and any Redemption Date for this Security, the average, as determined by the Independent Investment Banker, of the bid and asked prices for the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue (expressed in each case as a percentage of its principal amount) quoted in writing to the Independent Investment Banker by the Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer at 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the third Business Day preceding such Redemption Date.

“Optional Redemption Treasury Yield” means, with respect to any Redemption Date applicable to this Security, the rate per annum equal to the semi-annual equivalent yield to maturity (computed by the Independent Investment Banker as of the third Business Day immediately preceding such Redemption Date) of the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue, assuming a price for the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue (expressed as a percentage of its principal amount) equal to the applicable Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Price for such Redemption Date.

“Par Call Date” means May 1, 2020.

(b) Except for the Special Mandatory Redemption described in the next paragraph, the Company is not required to make mandatory redemption or sinking fund payments with respect to this Security.

As set forth in Section 10.09 of the Indenture, in the event that the Spin Off Distribution is not consummated on or prior to October 2, 2015, the Company shall be required to redeem all of the Securities, upon at least five but no more than ten Business Days’ prior notice to the Holders given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture within five Business Days following October 2, 2015, at the Mandatory Redemption Price, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but excluding, the Redemption Date. The Company may, at its option, redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part, at the Mandatory Redemption Price, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but excluding, the Redemption Date, if, prior to October 2, 2015, the Company determines in its sole discretion, that the Spin Off Distribution will not occur on or prior to that date, upon at least five but no more than ten Business Days’ prior written notice to the Holders given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture within five Business Days following October 2, 2015.

(c) Upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event with respect to the Securities, the Holder shall have the right to require the Company to purchase all or any part (equal to $2,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof) of this Security, pursuant to a Change of Control Offer made in accordance with Section 3.10 of the Indenture, at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount hereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest

hereon to, but not including, the Change of Control Payment Date (subject to the right of the holder of record of this Security on the relevant record date to receive interest on the relevant Interest Payment Date as provided in Section 3.10 of the Indenture), except to the extent that the Company shall have exercised its right to redeem this Security pursuant to the preceding paragraph (a).

(d) If Holders of not less than 90% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities validly tender and do not withdraw their Securities in a Change of Control Offer and the Company, or any third party making a Change of Control Offer in lieu of the Company, purchases all of the Securities validly tendered and not withdrawn by such holders, the Company shall have the right, upon not less than 20 nor more than 60 days' prior notice, given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture not more than 30 days following such purchase pursuant to such Change of Control Offer, to redeem this Security and all other Securities that remain outstanding following such purchase at a Redemption Price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but not including, the Redemption Date (subject to the right of the holder of record of this Security on the relevant record date to receive interest on the relevant Interest Payment Date as provided in Section 10.04 of the Indenture).

5. Paying Agent and Registrar . Initially, the Trustee will act as Paying Agent and Registrar. The Company may change any Paying Agent or Registrar without notice to any Holder. The Company or any of its Subsidiaries may act in any such capacity.

6. Indenture . The Company issued this Security under an Indenture dated as of May 22, 2015 (as amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the "Indenture") among the Company, the Guarantors, and U.S. Bank National Association (the "Trustee"). The terms of this Security include those stated in the Indenture and those made part of the Indenture by reference to the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended (15 U.S. Code Sections 77aaa-77bbb). This Security and the Guarantees are subject to all such terms, and Holders are referred to the Indenture and the Trust Indenture Act for a statement of such terms. To the extent any provision of this Security conflicts with the express provisions of the Indenture, the provisions of the Indenture shall govern and be controlling (to the extent permitted by law). The Securities are unsecured obligations of the Company. The Company initially has issued $750,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Securities. The Company may issue Additional Securities of the same series as this Security under the Indenture, provided that no such Additional Securities may be issued at a price that would cause such Additional Securities to have "original issue discount" within the meaning of Section 1273 of the Code. Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Security have the respective meanings given to such terms in the Indenture.

7. Denominations, Transfer, Exchange . The Securities are issuable only in registered form without coupons in minimum denominations of $2,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. The transfer of this Security may be registered and this Security may be exchanged only as provided in the Indenture. The Registrar and the Trustee may require a Holder, among other things, to furnish appropriate endorsements and transfer documents and to pay any transfer tax or similar governmental charge or other fee required by law and payable in connection therewith. The Registrar need not exchange or register the transfer of this Security during the period between a record date and the corresponding Interest Payment Date.

8. Persons Deemed Owners . The registered Holder of a Security shall be treated as its owner for all purposes.

9. Amendments and Waivers . Subject to certain exceptions and limitations, the Indenture or this Security may be amended or supplemented with the consent of the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities, and compliance in a particular instance by the Company or the Guarantors with any provision of the Indenture with respect to the Securities may be waived (other than certain provisions, including any continuing Default or Event of Default in the payment of the principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Securities) by the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities then outstanding in accordance with the terms of Section 8.02 of the Indenture. Without the consent of any Holder, the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee may amend or supplement this Security as provided in Section 8.01 of the Indenture.

The right of any Holder to participate in any consent required or sought pursuant to any provision of the Indenture (and the obligation of the Company to obtain any such consent otherwise required from such Holder) may be subject to the requirement that such Holder shall have been the Holder of record of this Security as of a record date fixed by the Company in accordance with the terms of the Indenture.

10. Defaults and Remedies . Events of Default with respect to this Security include: (i) default in the payment of the principal of or premium, if any, on any Security at its Maturity, and continuance of such default for a period of 10 days; or (ii) default in the payment of interest upon any of the Securities when they become due and payable, and continuance of such default for a period of 30 days; or (iii) default in the performance or observance, or breach, of any covenant of the Company or the Guarantors in any Security or the Indenture (other than a covenant a default in whose performance or whose breach is elsewhere in Section 5.01 of the Indenture specifically dealt with), and continuance of such default or breach for a period of 90 days after there has been given, in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture, to the Company and the Guarantors by the Trustee or to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee by the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities a written notice specifying such default or breach and requiring it to be remedied and stating that such notice is a “Notice of Default” under the Indenture; or (iv) certain events specified in the Indenture relating to the bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization of the Company or a Guarantor; or (vi) the Guarantees cease to be in full force and effect or become unenforceable or invalid or are declared null and void (other than in accordance with the terms of such Guarantees) or a Guarantor denies or disaffirms its obligations under such Guarantees.

If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default referred to in clause (iv) of the preceding paragraph) with respect to this Security occurs and is continuing, the Trustee by notice to the Company and the Guarantors, or by the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities by written notice to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee, may declare all of the then outstanding Securities to be due and payable immediately. If an Event of Default referred to in such clause (iv) occurs, acceleration of all amounts payable on the Securities shall be automatic. The amount due and payable upon the acceleration of any Security is equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus premium, if any, and accrued and unpaid interest to the date of payment. Holders may not enforce the Indenture or this Security except as provided in the Indenture. The Trustee does require indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it before it enforces the Indenture or this Security. Subject to certain limitations, Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities may direct the Trustee in its exercise of any trust or power. The Trustee may withhold from Holders notice of any continuing default with respect to the Securities (except a default in payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest) if it determines that withholding notice is in their interests. Each of the Company and the Guarantors must furnish an annual compliance certificate to the Trustee.

11. Discharge or Defeasance Prior to Maturity . The Indenture shall be satisfied and discharged with respect to this Security upon the payment of all of the Securities, and it may be satisfied and discharged (except for certain obligations) upon the irrevocable deposit with the Trustee of cash, or U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof sufficient for such payment. The Indenture also contains provisions for defeasance of (i) the entire indebtedness of the Company on the Securities and (ii) certain restrictive covenants and the related Events of Default with respect to this Security, subject to compliance by the Company with certain conditions set forth in the Indenture.

12. Trustee Dealings with the Company and the Guarantors . The Trustee in its individual or any other capacity may become the owner or pledgee of this Security and may otherwise deal with the Company, the Guarantors or any of their Affiliates with the same rights it would have if it were not the Trustee.

13. No Recourse Against Others . A director, officer, employee or stockholder of the Company or the Guarantors, as such, shall not have any liability for any obligations of the Company or the Guarantors under this Security, the Guarantees or the Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of or by reason of such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting this Security waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for the issuance of this Security.

14. Authentication . This Security shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose until authenticated by the manual signature of an authorized signatory of the Trustee, which signature shall be conclusive evidence that this Security has been authenticated under the Indenture.

15. CUSIP Numbers . Pursuant to a recommendation promulgated by the Committee on Uniform Security Identification Procedures, the Company has caused a CUSIP number to be printed on this Security as a convenience to the Holders of this Security. No representation is made as to the correctness of such number either as printed on this Security or as contained in any notice of a redemption and that reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers printed on this Security.

16. Abbreviations . Customary abbreviations may be used in the name of a Holder or an assignee, such as: TEN COM (= tenants in common), TEN ENT (= tenants by the entireties), JT TEN (= joint tenants with right of survivorship and not as tenants in common), CUST (= Custodian), and U/G/M/A (= Uniform Gifts to Minors Act).

17. [Additional Rights of Holders of Restricted Global Securities and Restricted Definitive Securities . In addition to the rights provided to Holders of Securities under the Indenture, Holders of Securities will have the rights set forth in the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of May 22, 2015, among the Company, the Guarantors and the other parties named on the signature pages thereof.] †

18. Governing Law . The Indenture, this Security and the Guarantees shall be governed by and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York.

The Company will furnish to any Holder upon written request and without charge a copy of the Indenture. Request may be made to it at:

REVERSE OF SECURITY

COLUMBIA PIPELINE GROUP, INC.

4.50% SENIOR NOTE DUE 2025

This Security is one of a duly authorized issue of 4.50% Senior Notes due 2025 (the “Securities”) of Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”).

1. Interest . The Company promises to pay interest on the principal amount of this Security at a rate of 4.50% per annum until Maturity. The Company will pay interest semi-annually on June 1 and December 1 of each year (each an “Interest Payment Date”), beginning on December 1, 2015, or if any such day is not a Business Day, on the next succeeding Business Day. Interest on this Security will accrue from the most recent Interest Payment Date on which interest has been paid or, if no interest has been paid, from May 22, 2015; provided that if there is no existing Default in the payment of interest, and if this Security is authenticated between a record date referred to on the face hereof and the next succeeding Interest Payment Date, interest shall accrue from such next succeeding Interest Payment Date. Further, to the extent lawful, the Company shall pay interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on overdue principal, premium, if any, and interest (without regard to any applicable grace period), from time to time on demand at the rate then in effect on the Securities. Interest will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

2. Method of Payment . The Company will pay interest on this Security (except defaulted interest) to the Persons who are registered Holders of this Security at the close of business on the record date next preceding the Interest Payment Date, even if this Security is canceled after such record date and on or before such Interest Payment Date. The Holder must surrender this Security to a Paying Agent to collect payments of principal and premium, if any. The Company will pay the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on this Security in money of the United States of America that at the time of payment is legal tender for payment of public and private debts. Payments in respect of the Securities represented by a Global Security (including principal, premium, if any, and interest) will be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the accounts specified by The Depository Trust Company. The Company will make all payments in respect of a certificated Security (including principal, premium, if any, and interest) at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee or at the office or agency of the Paying Agent maintained for such purpose in The City of New York or, at its option, by mailing a check to the registered address of each Holder thereof; provided, however, that payments on a certificated Security will be made by wire transfer to a U.S. dollar account maintained by the payee with a bank in the United States if such Holder elects payment by wire transfer by giving written notice to the Trustee or the Paying Agent to such effect designating such account no later than 30 days immediately preceding the relevant due date for payment (or such other date as the Trustee may accept in its discretion).

3. Ranking and Guarantees . This Security is a senior unsecured obligation of the Company and is guaranteed pursuant to guarantees (the “Guarantees”) by the Guarantors. Reference is made to Article IX of the Indenture for the term relating to the Guarantees, including the release, termination and discharge thereof. The Guarantees are senior unsecured obligations of the Guarantors.

Exhibit A3-5

4. Optional Redemption; Mandatory Redemption; Purchases upon Change of Control Triggering Event .

(a) Prior to the Par Call Date, this Security is redeemable, at the Company's option, at any time in whole, or from time to time in part, at a Redemption Price equal to the greater of (1) 100% of the principal amount of this Security to be redeemed; and (2) the sum of the present values of the remaining scheduled payments of principal and interest thereon (at the rate in effect on the date of calculation of the Redemption Price) that would be due if this Security matured on the Par Call Date (exclusive of interest accrued to the Redemption Date) discounted to the Redemption Date on a semi-annual basis (assuming a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months) at the Optional Redemption Treasury Yield, plus 35 basis points, plus, in any case, accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the Redemption Date. On or after the Par Call Date, this Security is redeemable, at the Company's option, at any time in whole, or from time to time in part, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount of this Security to be redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the Redemption Date.

"Independent Investment Banker" J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc., or Scotia Capital (USA) Inc. (and their respective successors), or, if each of such firms is unwilling or unable to select the applicable Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue, an independent investment banking institution of national standing appointed by the Company.

"Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue" means the U.S. Treasury security selected by an Independent Investment Banker as having a maturity comparable to the remaining term of this Security, calculated as if the maturity date of this Security were the Par Call Date (the "Remaining Life"), that would be utilized, at the time of selection and in accordance with customary financial practice, in pricing new issues of corporate debt securities of comparable maturity to the Remaining Life of this Security.

"Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Price" means, with respect to any Redemption Date and as determined by the Independent Investment Banker, (1) the average of Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations obtained by the Independent Investment Banker for the applicable Redemption Date, after excluding the highest and lowest of the Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations, or (2) if the Independent Investment Banker obtains fewer than four of such Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations, the average of all of such Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations.

"Optional Redemption Primary Treasury Dealer" means any primary U.S. Government securities dealer in the United States.

"Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer" means (1) each of J.P. Morgan Securities LLC and Scotia Capital (USA) Inc. (or their respective affiliates which are Primary Treasury Dealers), and a Primary Treasury Dealer selected by Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA),

Inc. and any other Primary Treasury Dealer designated by, and not affiliated with J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc. and Scotia Capital (USA) Inc., or their respective successors, provided, however, that if any of the foregoing, or any of their respective designees, ceases to be a Primary Treasury Dealer, the Company will appoint another Primary Treasury Dealer as a substitute and (2) any other Primary Treasury Dealer selected by the Company.

“Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations” means, with respect to each Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer and any Redemption Date for this Security, the average, as determined by the Independent Investment Banker, of the bid and asked prices for the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue (expressed in each case as a percentage of its principal amount) quoted in writing to the Independent Investment Banker by the Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer at 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the third Business Day preceding such Redemption Date.

“Optional Redemption Treasury Yield” means, with respect to any Redemption Date applicable to this Security, the rate per annum equal to the semi-annual equivalent yield to maturity (computed by the Independent Investment Banker as of the third Business Day immediately preceding such Redemption Date) of the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue, assuming a price for the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue (expressed as a percentage of its principal amount) equal to the applicable Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Price for such Redemption Date.

“Par Call Date” means March 1, 2025.

(b) Except for the Special Mandatory Redemption described in the next paragraph, the Company is not required to make mandatory redemption or sinking fund payments with respect to this Security.

As set forth in Section 10.09 of the Indenture, in the event that the Spin Off Distribution is not consummated on or prior to October 2, 2015, the Company shall be required to redeem all of the Securities, upon at least five but no more than ten Business Days’ prior notice to the Holders given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture within five Business Days following October 2, 2015, at the Mandatory Redemption Price, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but excluding, the Redemption Date. The Company may, at its option, redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part, at the Mandatory Redemption Price, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but excluding, the Redemption Date, if, prior to October 2, 2015, the Company determines in its sole discretion, that the Spin Off Distribution will not occur on or prior to that date, upon at least five but no more than ten Business Days’ prior written notice to the Holders given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture within five Business Days following October 2, 2015.

(c) Upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event with respect to the Securities, the Holder shall have the right to require the Company to purchase all or any part (equal to $2,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof) of this Security, pursuant to a Change of Control Offer made in accordance with Section 3.10 of the Indenture, at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount hereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest

hereon to, but not including, the Change of Control Payment Date (subject to the right of the holder of record of this Security on the relevant record date to receive interest on the relevant Interest Payment Date as provided in Section 3.10 of the Indenture), except to the extent that the Company shall have exercised its right to redeem this Security pursuant to the preceding paragraph (a).

(d) If Holders of not less than 90% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities validly tender and do not withdraw their Securities in a Change of Control Offer and the Company, or any third party making a Change of Control Offer in lieu of the Company, purchases all of the Securities validly tendered and not withdrawn by such holders, the Company shall have the right, upon not less than 20 nor more than 60 days' prior notice, given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture not more than 30 days following such purchase pursuant to such Change of Control Offer, to redeem this Security and all other Securities that remain outstanding following such purchase at a Redemption Price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but not including, the Redemption Date (subject to the right of the holder of record of this Security on the relevant record date to receive interest on the relevant Interest Payment Date as provided in Section 10.04 of the Indenture).

5. Paying Agent and Registrar . Initially, the Trustee will act as Paying Agent and Registrar. The Company may change any Paying Agent or Registrar without notice to any Holder. The Company or any of its Subsidiaries may act in any such capacity.

6. Indenture . The Company issued this Security under an Indenture dated as of May 22, 2015 (as amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the "Indenture") among the Company, the Guarantors, and U.S. Bank National Association (the "Trustee"). The terms of this Security include those stated in the Indenture and those made part of the Indenture by reference to the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended (15 U.S. Code Sections 77aaa-77bbb). This Security and the Guarantees are subject to all such terms, and Holders are referred to the Indenture and the Trust Indenture Act for a statement of such terms. To the extent any provision of this Security conflicts with the express provisions of the Indenture, the provisions of the Indenture shall govern and be controlling (to the extent permitted by law). The Securities are unsecured obligations of the Company. The Company initially has issued $1,000,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Securities. The Company may issue Additional Securities of the same series as this Security under the Indenture, provided that no such Additional Securities may be issued at a price that would cause such Additional Securities to have "original issue discount" within the meaning of Section 1273 of the Code. Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Security have the respective meanings given to such terms in the Indenture.

7. Denominations, Transfer, Exchange . The Securities are issuable only in registered form without coupons in minimum denominations of $2,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. The transfer of this Security may be registered and this Security may be exchanged only as provided in the Indenture. The Registrar and the Trustee may require a Holder, among other things, to furnish appropriate endorsements and transfer documents and to pay any transfer tax or similar governmental charge or other fee required by law and payable in connection therewith. The Registrar need not exchange or register the transfer of this Security during the period between a record date and the corresponding Interest Payment Date.

8. Persons Deemed Owners . The registered Holder of a Security shall be treated as its owner for all purposes.

9. Amendments and Waivers . Subject to certain exceptions and limitations, the Indenture or this Security may be amended or supplemented with the consent of the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities, and compliance in a particular instance by the Company or the Guarantors with any provision of the Indenture with respect to the Securities may be waived (other than certain provisions, including any continuing Default or Event of Default in the payment of the principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Securities) by the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities then outstanding in accordance with the terms of Section 8.02 of the Indenture. Without the consent of any Holder, the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee may amend or supplement this Security as provided in Section 8.01 of the Indenture.

The right of any Holder to participate in any consent required or sought pursuant to any provision of the Indenture (and the obligation of the Company to obtain any such consent otherwise required from such Holder) may be subject to the requirement that such Holder shall have been the Holder of record of this Security as of a record date fixed by the Company in accordance with the terms of the Indenture.

10. Defaults and Remedies . Events of Default with respect to this Security include: (i) default in the payment of the principal of or premium, if any, on any Security at its Maturity, and continuance of such default for a period of 10 days; or (ii) default in the payment of interest upon any of the Securities when they become due and payable, and continuance of such default for a period of 30 days; or (iii) default in the performance or observance, or breach, of any covenant of the Company or the Guarantors in any Security or the Indenture (other than a covenant a default in whose performance or whose breach is elsewhere in Section 5.01 of the Indenture specifically dealt with), and continuance of such default or breach for a period of 90 days after there has been given, in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture, to the Company and the Guarantors by the Trustee or to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee by the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities a written notice specifying such default or breach and requiring it to be remedied and stating that such notice is a “Notice of Default” under the Indenture; or (iv) certain events specified in the Indenture relating to the bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization of the Company or a Guarantor; or (vi) the Guarantees cease to be in full force and effect or become unenforceable or invalid or are declared null and void (other than in accordance with the terms of such Guarantees) or a Guarantor denies or disaffirms its obligations under such Guarantees.

If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default referred to in clause (iv) of the preceding paragraph) with respect to this Security occurs and is continuing, the Trustee by notice to the Company and the Guarantors, or by the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities by written notice to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee, may declare all of the then outstanding Securities to be due and payable immediately. If an Event of Default referred to in such clause (iv) occurs, acceleration of all amounts payable on the Securities shall be automatic. The amount due and payable upon the acceleration of any Security is equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus premium, if any, and accrued and unpaid interest to the date of payment. Holders may not enforce the Indenture or this Security except as provided in the Indenture. The Trustee does require indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it before it enforces the Indenture or this Security. Subject to certain limitations, Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities may direct the Trustee in its exercise of any trust or power. The Trustee may withhold from Holders notice of any continuing default with respect to the Securities (except a default in payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest) if it determines that withholding notice is in their interests. Each of the Company and the Guarantors must furnish an annual compliance certificate to the Trustee.

11. Discharge or Defeasance Prior to Maturity . The Indenture shall be satisfied and discharged with respect to this Security upon the payment of all of the Securities, and it may be satisfied and discharged (except for certain obligations) upon the irrevocable deposit with the Trustee of cash, or U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof sufficient for such payment. The Indenture also contains provisions for defeasance of (i) the entire indebtedness of the Company on the Securities and (ii) certain restrictive covenants and the related Events of Default with respect to this Security, subject to compliance by the Company with certain conditions set forth in the Indenture.

12. Trustee Dealings with the Company and the Guarantors . The Trustee in its individual or any other capacity may become the owner or pledgee of this Security and may otherwise deal with the Company, the Guarantors or any of their Affiliates with the same rights it would have if it were not the Trustee.

13. No Recourse Against Others . A director, officer, employee or stockholder of the Company or the Guarantors, as such, shall not have any liability for any obligations of the Company or the Guarantors under this Security, the Guarantees or the Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of or by reason of such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting this Security waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for the issuance of this Security.

14. Authentication . This Security shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose until authenticated by the manual signature of an authorized signatory of the Trustee, which signature shall be conclusive evidence that this Security has been authenticated under the Indenture.

15. CUSIP Numbers . Pursuant to a recommendation promulgated by the Committee on Uniform Security Identification Procedures, the Company has caused a CUSIP number to be printed on this Security as a convenience to the Holders of this Security. No representation is made as to the correctness of such number either as printed on this Security or as contained in any notice of a redemption and that reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers printed on this Security.

16. Abbreviations . Customary abbreviations may be used in the name of a Holder or an assignee, such as: TEN COM (= tenants in common), TEN ENT (= tenants by the entireties), JT TEN (= joint tenants with right of survivorship and not as tenants in common), CUST (= Custodian), and U/G/M/A (= Uniform Gifts to Minors Act).

17. [Additional Rights of Holders of Restricted Global Securities and Restricted Definitive Securities . In addition to the rights provided to Holders of Securities under the Indenture, Holders of Securities will have the rights set forth in the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of May 22, 2015, among the Company, the Guarantors and the other parties named on the signature pages thereof.] ‡

18. Governing Law . The Indenture, this Security and the Guarantees shall be governed by and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York.

The Company will furnish to any Holder upon written request and without charge a copy of the Indenture. Request may be made to it at:

REVERSE OF SECURITY

COLUMBIA PIPELINE GROUP, INC.

5.80% SENIOR NOTE DUE 2045

This Security is one of a duly authorized issue of 5.80% Senior Notes due 2045 (the “Securities”) of Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”).

1. Interest . The Company promises to pay interest on the principal amount of this Security at a rate of 5.80% per annum until Maturity. The Company will pay interest semi-annually on June 1 and December 1 of each year (each an “Interest Payment Date”), beginning on December 1, 2015, or if any such day is not a Business Day, on the next succeeding Business Day. Interest on this Security will accrue from the most recent Interest Payment Date on which interest has been paid or, if no interest has been paid, from May 22, 2015; provided that if there is no existing Default in the payment of interest, and if this Security is authenticated between a record date referred to on the face hereof and the next succeeding Interest Payment Date, interest shall accrue from such next succeeding Interest Payment Date. Further, to the extent lawful, the Company shall pay interest (including post-petition interest in any proceeding under any Bankruptcy Law) on overdue principal, premium, if any, and interest (without regard to any applicable grace period), from time to time on demand at the rate then in effect on the Securities. Interest will be computed on the basis of a 360-day year of twelve 30-day months.

2. Method of Payment . The Company will pay interest on this Security (except defaulted interest) to the Persons who are registered Holders of this Security at the close of business on the record date next preceding the Interest Payment Date, even if this Security is canceled after such record date and on or before such Interest Payment Date. The Holder must surrender this Security to a Paying Agent to collect payments of principal and premium, if any. The Company will pay the principal of and premium, if any, and interest on this Security in money of the United States of America that at the time of payment is legal tender for payment of public and private debts. Payments in respect of the Securities represented by a Global Security (including principal, premium, if any, and interest) will be made by wire transfer of immediately available funds to the accounts specified by The Depository Trust Company. The Company will make all payments in respect of a certificated Security (including principal, premium, if any, and interest) at the Corporate Trust Office of the Trustee or at the office or agency of the Paying Agent maintained for such purpose in The City of New York or, at its option, by mailing a check to the registered address of each Holder thereof; provided, however, that payments on a certificated Security will be made by wire transfer to a U.S. dollar account maintained by the payee with a bank in the United States if such Holder elects payment by wire transfer by giving written notice to the Trustee or the Paying Agent to such effect designating such account no later than 30 days immediately preceding the relevant due date for payment (or such other date as the Trustee may accept in its discretion).

3. Ranking and Guarantees . This Security is a senior unsecured obligation of the Company and is guaranteed pursuant to guarantees (the “Guarantees”) by the Guarantors. Reference is made to Article IX of the Indenture for the term relating to the Guarantees, including the release, termination and discharge thereof. The Guarantees are senior unsecured obligations of the Guarantors.

Exhibit A4-5

4. Optional Redemption; Mandatory Redemption; Purchases upon Change of Control Triggering Event .

(a) Prior to the Par Call Date, this Security is redeemable, at the Company's option, at any time in whole, or from time to time in part, at a Redemption Price equal to the greater of (1) 100% of the principal amount of this Security to be redeemed; and (2) the sum of the present values of the remaining scheduled payments of principal and interest thereon (at the rate in effect on the date of calculation of the Redemption Price) that would be due if this Security matured on the Par Call Date (exclusive of interest accrued to the Redemption Date) discounted to the Redemption Date on a semi-annual basis (assuming a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months) at the Optional Redemption Treasury Yield, plus 45 basis points, plus, in any case, accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the Redemption Date. On or after the Par Call Date, this Security is redeemable, at the Company's option, at any time in whole, or from time to time in part, at a Redemption Price equal to 100% of the principal amount of this Security to be redeemed plus accrued and unpaid interest to, but not including, the Redemption Date.

"Independent Investment Banker" J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc., or Scotia Capital (USA) Inc. (and their respective successors), or, if each of such firms is unwilling or unable to select the applicable Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue, an independent investment banking institution of national standing appointed by the Company.

"Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue" means the U.S. Treasury security selected by an Independent Investment Banker as having a maturity comparable to the remaining term of this Security, calculated as if the maturity date of this Security were the Par Call Date (the "Remaining Life"), that would be utilized, at the time of selection and in accordance with customary financial practice, in pricing new issues of corporate debt securities of comparable maturity to the Remaining Life of this Security.

"Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Price" means, with respect to any Redemption Date and as determined by the Independent Investment Banker, (1) the average of Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations obtained by the Independent Investment Banker for the applicable Redemption Date, after excluding the highest and lowest of the Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations, or (2) if the Independent Investment Banker obtains fewer than four of such Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations, the average of all of such Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations.

"Optional Redemption Primary Treasury Dealer" means any primary U.S. Government securities dealer in the United States.

"Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer" means (1) each of J.P. Morgan Securities LLC and Scotia Capital (USA) Inc. (or their respective affiliates which are Primary Treasury Dealers), and a Primary Treasury Dealer selected by Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA),

Inc. and any other Primary Treasury Dealer designated by, and not affiliated with J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc. and Scotia Capital (USA) Inc., or their respective successors, provided, however, that if any of the foregoing, or any of their respective designees, ceases to be a Primary Treasury Dealer, the Company will appoint another Primary Treasury Dealer as a substitute and (2) any other Primary Treasury Dealer selected by the Company.

“Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer Quotations” means, with respect to each Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer and any Redemption Date for this Security, the average, as determined by the Independent Investment Banker, of the bid and asked prices for the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue (expressed in each case as a percentage of its principal amount) quoted in writing to the Independent Investment Banker by the Optional Redemption Reference Treasury Dealer at 5:00 p.m., New York City time, on the third Business Day preceding such Redemption Date.

“Optional Redemption Treasury Yield” means, with respect to any Redemption Date applicable to this Security, the rate per annum equal to the semi-annual equivalent yield to maturity (computed by the Independent Investment Banker as of the third Business Day immediately preceding such Redemption Date) of the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue, assuming a price for the Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Issue (expressed as a percentage of its principal amount) equal to the applicable Optional Redemption Comparable Treasury Price for such Redemption Date.

“Par Call Date” means December 1, 2044.

(b) Except for the Special Mandatory Redemption described in the next paragraph, the Company is not required to make mandatory redemption or sinking fund payments with respect to this Security.

As set forth in Section 10.09 of the Indenture, in the event that the Spin Off Distribution is not consummated on or prior to October 2, 2015, the Company shall be required to redeem all of the Securities, upon at least five but no more than ten Business Days’ prior notice to the Holders given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture within five Business Days following October 2, 2015, at the Mandatory Redemption Price, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but excluding, the Redemption Date. The Company may, at its option, redeem the Securities in whole, but not in part, at the Mandatory Redemption Price, plus accrued and unpaid interest thereon to, but excluding, the Redemption Date, if, prior to October 2, 2015, the Company determines in its sole discretion, that the Spin Off Distribution will not occur on or prior to that date, upon at least five but no more than ten Business Days’ prior written notice to the Holders given in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture within five Business Days following October 2, 2015.

(c) Upon the occurrence of a Change of Control Triggering Event with respect to the Securities, the Holder shall have the right to require the Company to purchase all or any part (equal to $2,000 or an integral multiple of $1,000 in excess thereof) of this Security, pursuant to a Change of Control Offer made in accordance with Section 3.10 of the Indenture, at a purchase price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount hereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest

hereon to, but not including, the Change of Control Payment Date (subject to the right of the holder of record of this Security on the relevant record date to receive interest on the relevant Interest Payment Date as provided in Section 3.10 of the Indenture), except to the extent that the Company shall have exercised its right to redeem this Security pursuant to the preceding paragraph (a).

(d) If Holders of not less than 90% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities validly tender and do not withdraw their Securities in a Change of Control Offer and the Company, or any third party making a Change of Control Offer in lieu of the Company, purchases all of the Securities validly tendered and not withdrawn by such holders, the Company shall have the right, upon not less than 20 nor more than 60 days' prior notice, given in conformity with the Section 11.02 of the Indenture not more than 30 days following such purchase pursuant to such Change of Control Offer, to redeem this Security and all other Securities that remain outstanding following such purchase at a Redemption Price in cash equal to 101% of the principal amount thereof, plus accrued and unpaid interest, if any, to, but not including, the Redemption Date (subject to the right of the holder of record of this Security on the relevant record date to receive interest on the relevant Interest Payment Date as provided in Section 10.04 of the Indenture).

5. Paying Agent and Registrar . Initially, the Trustee will act as Paying Agent and Registrar. The Company may change any Paying Agent or Registrar without notice to any Holder. The Company or any of its Subsidiaries may act in any such capacity.

6. Indenture . The Company issued this Security under an Indenture dated as of May 22, 2015 (as amended, supplemented or otherwise modified from time to time, the "Indenture") among the Company, the Guarantors, and U.S. Bank National Association (the "Trustee"). The terms of this Security include those stated in the Indenture and those made part of the Indenture by reference to the Trust Indenture Act of 1939, as amended (15 U.S. Code Sections 77aaa-77bbb). This Security and the Guarantees are subject to all such terms, and Holders are referred to the Indenture and the Trust Indenture Act for a statement of such terms. To the extent any provision of this Security conflicts with the express provisions of the Indenture, the provisions of the Indenture shall govern and be controlling (to the extent permitted by law). The Securities are unsecured obligations of the Company. The Company initially has issued $500,000,000 aggregate principal amount of Securities. The Company may issue Additional Securities of the same series as this Security under the Indenture, provided that no such Additional Securities may be issued at a price that would cause such Additional Securities to have "original issue discount" within the meaning of Section 1273 of the Code. Capitalized terms used but not defined in this Security have the respective meanings given to such terms in the Indenture.

7. Denominations, Transfer, Exchange . The Securities are issuable only in registered form without coupons in minimum denominations of $2,000 and integral multiples of $1,000 in excess thereof. The transfer of this Security may be registered and this Security may be exchanged only as provided in the Indenture. The Registrar and the Trustee may require a Holder, among other things, to furnish appropriate endorsements and transfer documents and to pay any transfer tax or similar governmental charge or other fee required by law and payable in connection therewith. The Registrar need not exchange or register the transfer of this Security during the period between a record date and the corresponding Interest Payment Date.

8. Persons Deemed Owners . The registered Holder of a Security shall be treated as its owner for all purposes.

9. Amendments and Waivers . Subject to certain exceptions and limitations, the Indenture or this Security may be amended or supplemented with the consent of the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities, and compliance in a particular instance by the Company or the Guarantors with any provision of the Indenture with respect to the Securities may be waived (other than certain provisions, including any continuing Default or Event of Default in the payment of the principal of or premium, if any, or interest on the Securities) by the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Securities then outstanding in accordance with the terms of Section 8.02 of the Indenture. Without the consent of any Holder, the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee may amend or supplement this Security as provided in Section 8.01 of the Indenture.

The right of any Holder to participate in any consent required or sought pursuant to any provision of the Indenture (and the obligation of the Company to obtain any such consent otherwise required from such Holder) may be subject to the requirement that such Holder shall have been the Holder of record of this Security as of a record date fixed by the Company in accordance with the terms of the Indenture.

10. Defaults and Remedies . Events of Default with respect to this Security include: (i) default in the payment of the principal of or premium, if any, on any Security at its Maturity, and continuance of such default for a period of 10 days; or (ii) default in the payment of interest upon any of the Securities when they become due and payable, and continuance of such default for a period of 30 days; or (iii) default in the performance or observance, or breach, of any covenant of the Company or the Guarantors in any Security or the Indenture (other than a covenant a default in whose performance or whose breach is elsewhere in Section 5.01 of the Indenture specifically dealt with), and continuance of such default or breach for a period of 90 days after there has been given, in conformity with Section 11.02 of the Indenture, to the Company and the Guarantors by the Trustee or to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee by the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the outstanding Securities a written notice specifying such default or breach and requiring it to be remedied and stating that such notice is a “Notice of Default” under the Indenture; or (iv) certain events specified in the Indenture relating to the bankruptcy, insolvency or reorganization of the Company or a Guarantor; or (v) the Guarantees cease to be in full force and effect or become unenforceable or invalid or are declared null and void (other than in accordance with the terms of such Guarantees) or a Guarantor denies or disaffirms its obligations under such Guarantees.

If an Event of Default (other than an Event of Default referred to in clause (iv) of the preceding paragraph) with respect to this Security occurs and is continuing, the Trustee by notice to the Company and the Guarantors, or by the Holders of at least 25% in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities by written notice to the Company, the Guarantors and the Trustee, may declare all of the then outstanding Securities to be due and payable immediately. If an Event of Default referred to in such clause (iv) occurs, acceleration of all amounts payable on the Securities shall be automatic. The amount due and payable upon the acceleration of any Security is equal to 100% of the principal amount thereof plus premium, if any, and accrued and unpaid interest to the date of payment. Holders may not enforce the Indenture or this Security except as provided in the Indenture. The Trustee does require indemnity reasonably satisfactory to it before it enforces the Indenture or this Security. Subject to certain limitations, Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the then outstanding Securities may direct the Trustee in its exercise of any trust or power. The Trustee may withhold from Holders notice of any continuing default with respect to the Securities (except a default in payment of principal, premium, if any, or interest) if it determines that withholding notice is in their interests. Each of the Company and the Guarantors must furnish an annual compliance certificate to the Trustee.

11. Discharge or Defeasance Prior to Maturity . The Indenture shall be satisfied and discharged with respect to this Security upon the payment of all of the Securities, and it may be satisfied and discharged (except for certain obligations) upon the irrevocable deposit with the Trustee of cash, or U.S. Government Obligations or a combination thereof sufficient for such payment. The Indenture also contains provisions for defeasance of (i) the entire indebtedness of the Company on the Securities and (ii) certain restrictive covenants and the related Events of Default with respect to this Security, subject to compliance by the Company with certain conditions set forth in the Indenture.

12. Trustee Dealings with the Company and the Guarantors . The Trustee in its individual or any other capacity may become the owner or pledgee of this Security and may otherwise deal with the Company, the Guarantors or any of their Affiliates with the same rights it would have if it were not the Trustee.

13. No Recourse Against Others . A director, officer, employee or stockholder of the Company or the Guarantors, as such, shall not have any liability for any obligations of the Company or the Guarantors under this Security, the Guarantees or the Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of or by reason of such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting this Security waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for the issuance of this Security.

14. Authentication . This Security shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Indenture or be valid or obligatory for any purpose until authenticated by the manual signature of an authorized signatory of the Trustee, which signature shall be conclusive evidence that this Security has been authenticated under the Indenture.

15. CUSIP Numbers . Pursuant to a recommendation promulgated by the Committee on Uniform Security Identification Procedures, the Company has caused a CUSIP number to be printed on this Security as a convenience to the Holders of this Security. No representation is made as to the correctness of such number either as printed on this Security or as contained in any notice of a redemption and that reliance may be placed only on the other identification numbers printed on this Security.

16. Abbreviations . Customary abbreviations may be used in the name of a Holder or an assignee, such as: TEN COM (= tenants in common), TEN ENT (= tenants by the entireties), JT TEN (= joint tenants with right of survivorship and not as tenants in common), CUST (= Custodian), and U/G/M/A (= Uniform Gifts to Minors Act).

17. [Additional Rights of Holders of Restricted Global Securities and Restricted Definitive Securities . In addition to the rights provided to Holders of Securities under the Indenture, Holders of Securities will have the rights set forth in the Registration Rights Agreement, dated as of May 22, 2015, among the Company, the Guarantors and the other parties named on the signature pages thereof.] §

18. Governing Law . The Indenture, this Security and the Guarantees shall be governed by and construed in accordance with, the laws of the State of New York.

The Company will furnish to any Holder upon written request and without charge a copy of the Indenture. Request may be made to it at:

Re: 2.45% Senior Notes due 2018/3.30% Senior Notes due 2020/4.50% Senior Notes due 2025/5.80% Senior Notes due 2045

Reference is hereby made to the Indenture, dated as of May 22, 2015 (the "Indenture"), among Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., as issuer (the "Company"), the guarantors named therein (the "Guarantors") and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee. Capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the meanings given to them in the Indenture.

(the "Transferor") owns and proposes to transfer the Security[ies] or beneficial interest in such Security[ies] of the series specified in Annex A hereto, in the principal amount of $ (the "Transfer"), to (the "Transferee"), as further specified in Annex A hereto. In connection with the Transfer, the Transferor hereby certifies that:

[CHECK ALL THAT APPLY]

1. CHECK IF TRANSFEREE IS A QIB IN ACCORDANCE WITH RULE 144A. The Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 144A under the U.S. Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act"), and, accordingly, the Transferor hereby further certifies that the beneficial interest or Definitive Security is being transferred to a Person that the Transferor reasonably believes is purchasing the beneficial interest or Definitive Security for its own account, or for one or more accounts with respect to which such Person exercises sole investment discretion, and such Person and each such account is a "qualified institutional buyer" within the meaning of Rule 144A in a transaction meeting the requirements of Rule 144A, and such Transfer is in compliance with any applicable blue sky securities laws of any state of the United States. Upon consummation of the proposed Transfer in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the transferred beneficial interest or Definitive Security will be subject to the restrictions on transfer enumerated in the Private Placement Legend printed on the 144A Global Security or the Restricted Definitive Security and in the Indenture and the Securities Act.

Exhibit B-1

2. CHECK IF TRANSFEREE WILL TAKE DELIVERY PURSUANT TO REGULATION S. The Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 904 under the Securities Act and, accordingly, the Transferor hereby further certifies that (i) the Transfer is not being made to a person in the United States and (x) at the time the buy order was originated, the Transferee was outside the United States or such Transferor and any Person acting on its behalf reasonably believed and believes that the Transferee was outside the United States or (y) the transaction was executed in, on or through the facilities of a designated offshore securities market and neither such Transferor nor any Person acting on its behalf knows that the transaction was prearranged with a buyer in the United States, (ii) no directed selling efforts have been made in contravention of the requirements of Rule 904(b) of Regulation S under the Securities Act, (iii) the transaction is not part of a plan or scheme to evade the registration requirements of the Securities Act and (iv) if the Transfer is being made prior to the expiration of the Restricted Period, the Transfer is not being made to a U.S. Person or for the account or benefit of a U.S. Person (other than an Initial Purchaser). Upon consummation of the proposed transfer in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the transferred beneficial interest or Definitive Security will be subject to the restrictions on transfer enumerated in the Private Placement Legend printed on the Regulation S Global Security or the Restricted Definitive Security and in the Indenture and the Securities Act.

3. CHECK IF TRANSFEREE WILL TAKE DELIVERY PURSUANT TO ANY PROVISION OF THE SECURITIES ACT OTHER THAN RULE 144A OR REGULATION S. The Transfer is being effected in compliance with the transfer restrictions applicable to beneficial interests in Restricted Global Securities and Restricted Definitive Securities and pursuant to and in accordance with the Securities Act (other than Rule 144A or Regulation S) and any applicable "blue sky" securities laws of any state of the United States.

4. CHECK AND COMPLETE IF TRANSFEREE WILL TAKE DELIVERY OF A BENEFICIAL INTEREST IN AN UNRESTRICTED GLOBAL SECURITY OR OF AN UNRESTRICTED DEFINITIVE SECURITY:

(a) CHECK IF TRANSFER IS PURSUANT TO RULE 144. (i) The Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 144 under the Securities Act and in compliance with the transfer restrictions contained in the Indenture and any applicable blue sky securities laws of any state of the United States and (ii) the restrictions on transfer contained in the Indenture and the Private Placement Legend are not required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act. Upon consummation of the proposed Transfer in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the transferred beneficial interest or Definitive Security will no longer be subject to the restrictions on transfer enumerated in the Private Placement Legend printed on the Restricted Global Securities or Restricted Definitive Securities and in the Indenture.

(b) CHECK IF TRANSFER IS PURSUANT TO REGULATION S. (i) The Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in accordance with Rule 904 under the Securities Act and in compliance with the transfer restrictions contained in the Indenture and any applicable blue sky securities laws of any state of the United States and (ii) the restrictions on transfer contained in the Indenture and the Private Placement Legend are not required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act. Upon consummation of the proposed Transfer in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the transferred beneficial interest or Definitive Security will no longer be subject to the restrictions on transfer enumerated in the Private Placement Legend printed on the Restricted Global Securities or Restricted Definitive Securities and in the Indenture.

(c) CHECK IF TRANSFER IS PURSUANT TO OTHER EXEMPTION. (i) The Transfer is being effected pursuant to and in compliance with an exemption from the registration requirements of the Securities Act other than Rule 144 or Rule 904 and in compliance with the transfer restrictions contained in the Indenture and any applicable blue sky securities laws of any state of the United States and (ii) the restrictions on transfer contained in the Indenture and the Private Placement Legend are not required in order to maintain compliance with the Securities Act. Upon consummation of the proposed Transfer in accordance with the terms of the Indenture, the transferred beneficial interest or Definitive Security will not be subject to the restrictions on transfer enumerated in the Private Placement Legend printed on the Restricted Global Securities or Restricted Definitive Securities and in the Indenture.

This certificate and the statements contained herein are made for your benefit and the benefit of the Guarantors.

[FORM OF SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE TO BE DELIVERED BY SUBSEQUENT GUARANTORS]

SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE (this “ Supplemental Indenture ”), dated as of _____, among _____ (the “ Guaranteeing Subsidiary ”), a subsidiary of Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “ Company ”), the Company, the other Guarantors (as defined in the Indenture referred to herein) and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee under the Indenture referred to below (the “ Trustee ”),

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, the Company has heretofore executed and delivered to the Trustee an indenture (the “ Indenture ”), dated as of May 22, 2015 providing for the issuance of four series of its Senior Notes (the “ Notes ”);

WHEREAS, the Indenture provides that under certain circumstances the Guaranting Subsidiary shall execute and deliver to the Trustee a supplemental indenture pursuant to which the Guaranting Subsidiary shall become a Guarantor of the Notes on the terms and subject to the release and other provisions as set forth in Article IX of the Indenture; and

WHEREAS, pursuant to Section 8.01(viii) of the Indenture, the Trustee is authorized to execute and deliver this Supplemental Indenture.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto mutually covenant and agree for the equal and ratable benefit of the Holders of the Notes as follows:

1. CAPITALIZED TERMS . Capitalized terms used herein without definition shall have the meanings assigned to them in the Indenture.

2. AGREEMENT TO GUARANTEE . The Guaranting Subsidiary hereby agrees to provide to the Trustee and the Holders an unconditional guarantee of the due and punctual payment of all amounts due and payable under the Indenture and the Notes by the Company, on the terms and subject to the release and other provisions as set forth in Article IX of the Indenture.

4. NO RECOURSE AGAINST OTHERS . A director, officer, employee or stockholder of the Company or the Guarantors, as such, shall not have any liability for any obligations of the Company or the Guarantors under the Notes, the Guarantees or the Indenture or for any claim based on, in respect of or by reason of such obligations or their creation. Each Holder by accepting a Note waives and releases all such liability. The waiver and release are part of the consideration for issuance of the Notes.

5. NEW YORK LAW TO GOVERN. THE LAW OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK SHALL GOVERN AND BE USED TO CONSTRUE THIS SUPPLEMENTAL INDENTURE.

6. C O U N T E R P A R T S . The parties may sign any number of copies of this Supplemental Indenture. Each signed copy shall be an original, but all of them together represent the same agreement.

7. E F F E C T O F H E A D I N G S . The Section headings herein are for convenience only and shall not affect the construction hereof.

8. T H E T R U S T E E . The Trustee shall not be responsible in any manner whatsoever for or in respect of the validity or sufficiency of this Supplemental Indenture or for or in respect of the recitals contained herein, all of which recitals are made solely by the Guaranteeing Subsidiary and the other parties hereto.

Exhibit D-2

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Supplemental Indenture to be duly executed as of the date first above written.

REGISTRATION RIGHTS AGREEMENT

This Registration Rights Agreement (this “Agreement”) is made and entered into as of May 22, 2015, by and among Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), the guarantors listed on the signature pages hereto (collectively, the “Guarantors” and each a “Guarantor”), and J.P. Morgan Securities LLC, Mitsubishi UFJ Securities (USA), Inc., and Scotia Capital (USA) Inc., as representatives of the initial purchasers (the “Representatives”) listed on Schedule 1 to the Purchase Agreement (as defined below) (each an “Initial Purchaser” and, collectively, the “Initial Purchasers”), each of whom has agreed to purchase the Company’s 2.45% Senior Notes due 2018 (the “Initial 2018 Notes”), the Company’s 3.30% Senior Notes due 2020 (the “Initial 2020 Notes”), the Company’s 4.50% Senior Notes due 2025 (the “Initial 2025 Notes”) and the Company’s 5.80% Senior Notes due 2045 (the “Initial 2045 Notes,” and collectively with the Initial 2018 Notes, the Initial 2020 Notes and the Initial 2025 Notes, the “Initial Notes”), fully and unconditionally guaranteed by the Guarantors (the “Guarantees”) pursuant to the Indenture (as defined below). The Initial Notes and the Guarantees relating thereto are herein collectively referred to as the “Initial Securities.”

This Agreement is made pursuant to the Purchase Agreement, dated May 19, 2015 (the “Purchase Agreement”), by and among the Company, the Guarantors and the Representatives, (i) for the benefit of the Initial Purchasers and (ii) for the benefit of the holders from time to time of the Securities (as defined below) (including the Initial Purchasers).

In order to induce the Initial Purchasers to purchase the Initial Securities, the Company has agreed to provide the registration rights set forth in this Agreement. The execution and delivery of this Agreement is a condition to the obligations of the Initial Purchasers set forth in Section 6(l) of the Purchase Agreement.

The parties hereby agree as follows:

SECTION 1 DEFINITIONS

As used in this Agreement, the following capitalized terms shall have the following meanings:

Additional Interest : As defined in Section 5 hereof.

Additional Interest Payment Date: With respect to the Initial Securities, each Interest Payment Date.

Broker-Dealer: Any broker or dealer registered under the Exchange Act.

Business Day: Any day other than a Saturday, Sunday or U.S. federal holiday or a day on which banking institutions or trust companies located in New York, New York are authorized or obligated to be closed.

Closing Date: The date of this Agreement.

Commission: The Securities and Exchange Commission.

Consummate: A registered Exchange Offer shall be deemed “Consummated” for purposes of this Agreement upon the occurrence of (i) the filing and effectiveness under the Securities Act of the Exchange Offer Registration Statement relating to the Exchange Securities to be issued in the Exchange Offer, (ii) the maintenance of such Registration Statement continuously effective and the keeping of the Exchange Offer open for a period not less than the minimum period required pursuant to Section 3(b) hereof, and (iii) the delivery by the Company to the Registrar under the Indenture of Exchange Securities of each series in the same aggregate principal amount as the aggregate principal amount of Initial Securities of the same series that were validly tendered by Holders thereof pursuant to the Exchange Offer.

Exchange Act: The Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, including the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

Exchange 2018 Notes : The 2.45% Senior Notes due 2018, of the same series under the Indenture as the Initial 2018 Notes, to be issued to Holders in exchange for Transfer Restricted Securities pursuant to this Agreement.

Exchange 2020 Notes : The 3.30% Senior Notes due 2020, of the same series under the Indenture as the Initial 2020 Notes, to be issued to Holders in exchange for Transfer Restricted Securities pursuant to this Agreement.

Exchange 2025 Notes : The 4.50% Senior Notes due 2025, of the same series under the Indenture as the Initial 2025 Notes, to be issued to Holders in exchange for Transfer Restricted Securities pursuant to this Agreement.

Exchange 2045 Notes : The 5.80% Senior Notes due 2045, of the same series under the Indenture as the Initial 2045 Notes, to be issued to Holders in exchange for Transfer Restricted Securities pursuant to this Agreement.

Exchange Offer: An offer registered under the Securities Act by the Company and the Guarantors pursuant to a Registration Statement pursuant to which the Company and the Guarantors shall offer the Holders of all outstanding Transfer Restricted Securities of each series the opportunity to exchange all such outstanding Transfer Restricted Securities held by such Holders for Exchange Securities of the same series in an aggregate principal amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of the Transfer Restricted Securities tendered in such exchange offer by such Holders and with terms that are identical in all respects to the Transfer Restricted Securities (except that the Exchange Securities will not contain terms with respect to the interest rate step-up provision and transfer restrictions).

Exchange Offer Registration Statement: Any Registration Statement relating to an Exchange Offer, including the related Prospectus.

Exchange 2018 Securities: The Exchange 2018 Notes and the Guarantees relating thereto.

Exchange 2020 Securities: The Exchange 2020 Notes and the Guarantees relating thereto.

Exchange 2025 Securities: The Exchange 2025 Notes and the Guarantees relating thereto.

Exchange 2045 Securities: The Exchange 2045 Notes and the Guarantees relating thereto.

Exchange Securities: The Exchange 2018 Securities, the Exchange 2020 Securities, the Exchange 2025 Securities and the Exchange 2045 Securities.

Exempt Resales: The transactions in which the Initial Purchasers propose to sell the Initial Securities to certain “qualified institutional buyers,” as such term is defined in Rule 144A under the Securities Act, and to Persons in offshore transactions in reliance on Regulation S.

FINRA : Financial Industry Regulatory Authority, Inc.

Guarantees : As defined in the Indenture.

Holder: As defined in Section 2(b) hereof.

Indemnified Holder: As defined in Section 8(a) hereof.

Indenture: The Indenture, dated as of May 22, 2015, by and among the Company, the Guarantors and U.S. Bank National Association, as trustee (the “Trustee”), pursuant to which the Securities are to be issued, as such Indenture is amended or supplemented from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof.

Initial Notes: As defined in the preamble hereto, but only for so long as such securities constitute Transfer Restricted Securities.

Initial Placement: The issuance and sale by the Company of the Initial Securities to the Initial Purchasers pursuant to the Purchase Agreement.

Initial Purchasers: As defined in the preamble hereto.

Initial Securities: As defined in the preamble hereto.

Interest Payment Date: As defined in the Indenture and the Securities.

Person: An individual, partnership, limited liability company, corporation, trust, unincorporated organization or other legal entity, or a government or agency or political subdivision thereof.

Prospectus: The prospectus included in a Registration Statement, as amended or supplemented by any prospectus supplement and by all other amendments thereto, including post-effective amendments, and all material incorporated by reference into such prospectus.

Record Holder : With respect to any Interest Payment Date relating to the Securities on which Additional Interest is to be paid, each Person who is a Holder of Securities on the record date with respect to the Interest Payment Date on which such Additional Interest Payment Date shall occur.

Registration Default: As defined in Section 5 hereof.

Registration Statement: Any Exchange Offer Registration Statement or Shelf Registration Statement, which is filed pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement, in each case, including the Prospectus included therein, all amendments and supplements thereto (including post-effective amendments) and all exhibits and material incorporated by reference therein.

Securities: The Initial Securities and the Exchange Securities.

Securities Act: The Securities Act of 1933, as amended, including the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder.

Shelf Registration Statement: As defined in Section 4(a) hereof.

Transfer Restricted Securities: Each (i) Initial Security, until the earliest to occur of (a) the date on which such Initial Security is exchanged in the Exchange Offer for an Exchange Security of the same series and entitled to be resold to the public by the Holder thereof without complying with the prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act, (b) the date on which such Initial Security has been effectively registered under the Securities Act and disposed of in accordance with a Shelf Registration Statement, (c) if a Shelf Registration Statement is required to be filed in accordance with Section 4 hereof, one year from the effective date of such Shelf Registration Statement and (d) the date on which such Initial Security ceases to be outstanding and (ii) Exchange Security issued to a Broker-Dealer until the date on which such Security has been distributed by a Broker-Dealer pursuant to the “Plan of Distribution” contemplated by the Exchange Offer Registration Statement (including delivery of the Prospectus contained therein).

Trust Indenture Act: The Trust Indenture Act of 1939, including the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, as in effect on the date of the Indenture.

Underwritten Registration or Underwritten Offering: A registration in which securities of the Company and the Guarantors are sold to an underwriter for reoffering to the public.

SECTION 2 SECURITIES SUBJECT TO THIS AGREEMENT

(a) Transfer Restricted Securities. The securities entitled to the benefits of this Agreement are the Transfer Restricted Securities.

(b) Holders of Transfer Restricted Securities. A Person is deemed to be a holder of Transfer Restricted Securities (each, a “Holder”) whenever such Person owns Transfer Restricted Securities.

(c) Upon the release of a Guarantor's obligation on the Securities pursuant to Section 9.03 of the Indenture, the term "Exchange Securities" as used herein shall be deemed to exclude the Guarantee by such Guarantor pursuant to the Indenture and such Guarantor shall have no further obligations with respect to this Agreement.

SECTION 3 REGISTERED EXCHANGE OFFER

(a) Unless the Exchange Offer shall not be permissible under applicable law or Commission policy (after the procedures set forth in Section 6(a) hereof have been complied with), the Company and the Guarantors shall (i) file with the Commission a Registration Statement under the Securities Act relating to the Exchange Securities and the Exchange Offer, (ii) use their reasonable best efforts to cause such Registration Statement to become effective under the Securities Act, (iii) in connection with the foregoing, file (A) all pre-effective amendments to such Registration Statement as may be necessary in order to cause such Registration Statement to become effective, (B) if applicable, a post-effective amendment to such Registration Statement pursuant to Rule 430A under the Securities Act and (C) cause all necessary filings in connection with the registration and qualification of the Exchange Securities to be made under the state securities or blue sky laws of such jurisdictions as are necessary to permit Consummation of the Exchange Offer, and (iv) promptly after such Registration Statement is declared effective, commence the Exchange Offer. The Exchange Offer Registration Statement shall be on the appropriate form permitting registration of the Exchange Securities to be offered in exchange for the Transfer Restricted Securities and to permit resales of Securities held by Broker-Dealers as contemplated by Section 3(c) hereof.

(b) If an Exchange Offer Registration Statement is required pursuant to Section 3(a) above, the Company and the Guarantors shall use their reasonable best efforts to keep the Exchange Offer open for not less than 20 Business Days (or longer if required by applicable law) after the date notice of the Exchange Offer is mailed or otherwise delivered to the Holders. The Company and the Guarantors shall cause each Exchange Offer to comply with all applicable federal and state securities laws. No securities other than the Exchange Securities shall be included in the Exchange Offer Registration Statement. If an Exchange Offer Registration Statement is required pursuant to Section 3(a) above, the Company and the Guarantors shall use their reasonable best efforts to Consummate the Exchange Offer on or prior to the 360th calendar day following the Closing Date (or if such 360th day is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day).

(c) The Company shall indicate in a "Plan of Distribution" section contained in the Prospectus forming a part of any Exchange Offer Registration Statement that any Broker-Dealer who holds Initial Securities that are Transfer Restricted Securities and that were acquired for its own account as a result of market-making activities or other trading activities (other than Transfer Restricted Securities acquired directly from the Company), may exchange such Initial Securities pursuant to the Exchange Offer; however, such Broker-Dealer may be deemed to be an "underwriter" within the meaning of the Securities Act and must, therefore, deliver a prospectus meeting the requirements of the Securities Act in connection with any resales of the Exchange Securities received by such Broker-Dealer in the Exchange Offer, which prospectus delivery requirement may be satisfied by the delivery by such Broker-Dealer of the Prospectus contained in the Exchange Offer Registration Statement. Such “Plan of Distribution” section shall also contain all other information with respect to such resales by Broker-Dealers that the Commission may require in order to permit such resales pursuant thereto, but such “Plan of Distribution” shall not name any such Broker-Dealer or disclose the amount of Initial Securities held by any such Broker-Dealer except to the extent required by the Commission as a result of a change in policy after the date of this Agreement.

If an Exchange Offer Registration Statement is required pursuant to Section 3(a) above, the Company and the Guarantors shall use their reasonable best efforts to keep the Exchange Offer Registration Statement continuously effective, supplemented and amended as required by the provisions of Section 6(c) hereof to the extent necessary to ensure that it is available for resales of Securities acquired by Broker-Dealers for their own accounts as a result of market-making activities or other trading activities, and to ensure that it conforms with the requirements of this Agreement, the Securities Act and the policies, rules and regulations of the Commission as announced from time to time, for a period ending on the earlier of (i) 180 days from the date on which the Exchange Offer Registration Statement is declared effective and (ii) the date on which Broker-Dealers are no longer required to deliver a prospectus in connection with market-making or other trading activities.

The Company shall provide sufficient copies of the latest version of such Prospectus to Broker-Dealers promptly upon request at any time during such 180-day (or shorter as provided in the foregoing sentence) period in order to facilitate such resales.

SECTION 4 SHELF REGISTRATION

(a) Shelf Registration. If (i) the Company and the Guarantors are not required to file an Exchange Offer Registration Statement or to consummate the Exchange Offer for the Initial Securities because the Exchange Offer is not permitted by applicable law or Commission policy (after the procedures set forth in Section 6(a) hereof have been complied with), (ii) for any other reason the Exchange Offer for the Securities is not consummated within 360 calendar days following the Closing Date (or if such 360th day is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day), or (iii) with respect to any Holder of Transfer Restricted Securities (A) such Holder is prohibited by applicable law or Commission policy from participating in the Exchange Offer, or (B) such Holder may not resell the Exchange Securities acquired by it in the Exchange Offer to the public without delivering a prospectus and that the Prospectus contained in the Exchange Offer Registration Statement is not appropriate or available for such resales by such Holder, or (C) such Holder is a Broker-Dealer and holds Initial Securities acquired directly from the Company or one of its affiliates, then, upon such Holder’s request, the Company and the Guarantors shall

(x) cause to be filed, at their expense, a shelf registration statement pursuant to Rule 415 under the Securities Act, which may be an amendment to the Exchange Offer Registration Statement (in either event, the “Shelf Registration Statement”) as promptly as practicable (but in no event later than 90 days after such obligation to file arises), which Shelf Registration Statement shall provide for resales of all Transfer Restricted Securities the Holders of which shall have provided the information required pursuant to Section 4(b) hereof; and

(y) use their reasonable best efforts to cause such Shelf Registration Statement to be declared effective (or become automatically effective) under the Securities Act prior to the date that is 120 days after such obligation to file arises.

The Company and the Guarantors shall use their reasonable best efforts to keep any such Shelf Registration Statement continuously effective, supplemented and amended as required by the provisions of Sections 6(b) and (c) hereof to the extent necessary to ensure that it is available for resales of Initial Securities by the Holders of Transfer Restricted Securities entitled to the benefit of this Section 4(a), and to ensure that it conforms with the requirements of this Agreement, the Securities Act and the policies, rules and regulations of the Commission as announced from time to time, until the earlier of one year following the effective date of such Shelf Registration Statement or such time when all the Initial Securities covered by such Shelf Registration Statement have been sold pursuant to such Shelf Registration Statement or are freely tradeable by non-affiliates of the Company pursuant to Rule 144.

(b) Provision by Holders of Certain Information in Connection with the Shelf Registration Statement . No Holder of Transfer Restricted Securities may include any of its Transfer Restricted Securities in any Shelf Registration Statement pursuant to this Agreement unless and until such Holder furnishes to the Company in writing, within 20 Business Days after receipt of a request therefor, such information as the Company may reasonably request for use in connection with any Shelf Registration Statement or Prospectus or preliminary Prospectus included therein. Each Holder as to which any Shelf Registration Statement is being effected agrees to furnish promptly to the Company all information required to be disclosed in order to make the information previously furnished to the Company by such Holder true and correct in all material respects and not materially misleading.

SECTION 5 ADDITIONAL INTEREST

If (a) the Exchange Offer is not Consummated on or prior to the 360th calendar day following the Closing Date (or if such 360th day is not a Business Day, the next succeeding Business Day), (b) a Shelf Registration Statement applicable to the Securities is not filed or declared effective (or does not automatically become effective) on or prior to the applicable date specified in Section 4(a)(x) and (y) or (c) a Shelf Registration Statement applicable to the Securities is declared effective (or automatically becomes effective) as required but thereafter fails to remain effective or the Prospectus contained therein becomes unusable in connection with resales for more than 60 consecutive days (each such event referred to in clauses (a), (b) and (c) above, a "Registration Default"), the Company hereby agrees that, as liquidated damages, the interest rate borne by the Transfer Restricted Securities shall be increased by 0.25% per annum during the 90-day period immediately following the occurrence of any Registration Default and shall increase by 0.25% per annum at the end of each subsequent 90-day period, but in no event shall such increase exceed 0.50% per annum ("Additional Interest"), until the earlier of the completion of the Exchange Offer or the effectiveness of the Shelf Registration Statement (or such Shelf Registration Statement no longer being required to be effective or the Prospectus again becomes usable), after which the interest rate borne by the relevant Transfer Restricted Securities will be reduced to the original interest rate borne by such Transfer Restricted Securities. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if, after the date such Additional Interest ceases to accrue, another Registration Default occurs, Additional Interest will again commence accruing pursuant to the foregoing provisions.

The Additional Interest set forth above shall be the exclusive monetary remedy available to Holders for each Registration Default.

All obligations of the Company and the Guarantors set forth in the preceding paragraph that are outstanding with respect to any Transfer Restricted Security at the time such security ceases to be a Transfer Restricted Security shall survive until such time as all such obligations with respect to such security shall have been satisfied in full.

SECTION 6 REGISTRATION PROCEDURES

(a) Exchange Offer Registration Statement. In connection with each Exchange Offer, the Company and the Guarantors shall comply with all of the provisions of Section 6(c) hereof, shall use their reasonable best efforts to effect such exchange to permit the sale of Transfer Restricted Securities being sold in accordance with the intended method or methods of distribution thereof. As a condition to its participation in an Exchange Offer pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, each Holder of Transfer Restricted Securities shall furnish, upon the request of the Company, prior to the Consummation thereof, a written representation to the Company (which may be contained in the letter of transmittal contemplated by the Exchange Offer Registration Statement) to the effect that (A) it is not an affiliate of the Company, (B) it is acquiring the Exchange Securities in its ordinary course of business and (C) at the time of the commencement of the Exchange Offer, it has no arrangement with any Person to participate in the distribution (within the meaning of the Securities Act) of the Exchange Securities to be issued in the Exchange Offer. In addition, all such Holders of Transfer Restricted Securities shall otherwise cooperate in the Company's preparations for the Exchange Offer. Each Holder, including any Holder that is a Broker-Dealer, will be required to acknowledge and agree that any such Holder using the Exchange Offer to participate in a distribution of the securities to be acquired in the Exchange Offer (1) could not under Commission policy as in effect on the date of this Agreement rely on the position of the Commission enunciated in Morgan Stanley and Co., Inc. (available June 5, 1991) and Exxon Capital Holdings Corporation (available May 13, 1988), as interpreted in the Commission's letter to Shearman & Sterling dated July 2, 1993, and similar no-action letters, and (2) must comply with the registration and prospectus delivery requirements of the Securities Act in connection with a secondary resale transaction and that such a secondary resale transaction should be covered by an effective registration statement containing the selling security holder information required by Item 507 or 508, as applicable, of Regulation S-K if the resales are of Exchange Securities obtained by such Holder in exchange for Initial Securities acquired by such Holder directly from the Company.

(b) Shelf Registration Statement. In connection with the Shelf Registration Statement, the Company and the Guarantors shall comply with all the provisions of Section 6(c) hereof and shall use their reasonable best efforts to effect such registration to permit the sale of the Transfer Restricted Securities being sold in accordance with the intended method or methods of distribution thereof, and pursuant thereto the Company and the Guarantors will as expeditiously as practicable prepare and file with the Commission a Registration Statement relating to the registration on any appropriate form under the Securities Act, which form shall be available for the sale of the Transfer Restricted Securities in accordance with the intended method or methods of distribution thereof.

(c) General Provisions. In connection with any Registration Statement and any Prospectus required by this Agreement to permit the sale or resale of Transfer Restricted Securities (including, without limitation, any Registration Statement and the related Prospectus required to permit resales of Securities by Broker-Dealers), the Company and the Guarantors shall:

(i) use reasonable best efforts to keep such Registration Statement continuously effective and provide all requisite financial statements (including, if required by the Securities Act or any regulation thereunder, financial statements of the Guarantors) for the period specified in Section 3 or 4 hereof, as applicable; upon the occurrence of any event that would cause any such Registration Statement or the Prospectus contained therein (A) to contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact necessary to make the statement therein not misleading or (B) not to be effective and usable for resale of Transfer Restricted Securities during the period required by this Agreement, the Company shall file promptly an appropriate amendment to such Registration Statement, in the case of clause (A), correcting any such misstatement or omission, and, in the case of either clause (A) or (B), use its reasonable best efforts to cause such amendment to be declared effective and such Registration Statement and the related Prospectus to become usable for their intended purposes as soon as practicable thereafter;

(ii) prepare and file with the Commission such amendments and post-effective amendments to such Registration Statement as may be necessary to keep such Registration Statement effective for the applicable period set forth in Section 3 or 4 hereof, as applicable, or such shorter period as will terminate when all Transfer Restricted Securities covered by such Registration Statement have been sold; cause the Prospectus to be supplemented by any required Prospectus supplement, and as so supplemented to be filed pursuant to Rule 424 under the Securities Act, and to comply fully with the applicable provisions of Rules 424, 430A and 430B under the Securities Act in a timely manner; and comply with the provisions of the Securities Act with respect to the disposition of all securities covered by such Registration Statement during the applicable period in accordance with the intended method or methods of distribution by the sellers thereof set forth in such Registration Statement or supplement to the Prospectus;

(iii) advise the underwriter(s), if any, and any selling Holders named in any Shelf Registration Statement promptly and, if requested by such Persons, confirm such advice in writing, (A) when the Prospectus or any prospectus supplement or post-effective amendment has been filed, and, with respect to such Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto, when the same has become effective, (B) of any request by the Commission for amendments to the Registration Statement or amendments or supplements to the Prospectus or for additional information relating thereto, (C) of the issuance by the Commission of any stop order suspending the effectiveness of such Registration Statement under the Securities Act or of the suspension by any state securities commission of the qualification of the Transfer Restricted Securities for offering or sale in any jurisdiction, or the initiation of any proceeding for any of the preceding purposes, or (D) of the existence of any fact or the happening of any event that makes any statement of a material fact made in such Registration Statement, the Prospectus, any amendment or supplement thereto, or any document incorporated by reference therein untrue, or that requires the making of any additions to or changes in such Registration Statement or the Prospectus in order to make the statements therein not misleading; and if at any time the Commission shall issue any stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Registration Statement, or any state securities commission or other regulatory authority shall issue an order suspending the qualification or exemption from qualification of the Transfer Restricted Securities under state securities or blue sky laws, use their reasonable best efforts to obtain the withdrawal or lifting of such order at the earliest reasonably possible time;

(iv) furnish without charge to each selling Holder named in any Shelf Registration Statement and each of the underwriter(s), if any, before filing with the Commission, copies of such Registration Statement or any Prospectus included therein or any amendments or supplements to any such Registration Statement or Prospectus (including all documents incorporated by reference after the initial filing of such Registration Statement), which documents will be subject to the review and comment of such Holders and underwriter(s) in connection with such sale, if any, for a period of at least five Business Days, and the Company will not file any such Registration Statement or Prospectus or any amendment or supplement to any such Registration Statement or Prospectus (including all such documents incorporated by reference) to which a Holder of Transfer Restricted Securities covered by such Registration Statement or the underwriter(s), if any, shall reasonably object in writing within five Business Days after the receipt thereof (such objection to be deemed timely made upon confirmation of telecopy transmission within such period), it being understood that the objection of a selling Holder or underwriter, if any, shall be deemed to be reasonable only if such Registration Statement, amendment, Prospectus or supplement, as applicable, as proposed to be filed, contains an untrue statement of a material fact or omits to state a material fact necessary to make the statements therein not misleading;

(v) make available at reasonable times for inspection by the managing underwriter(s), if any, participating in any disposition pursuant to any Shelf Registration Statement and any attorney or accountant retained by any of the underwriter(s), all financial and other records, pertinent corporate documents and properties of the Company and the Guarantors and cause the Company's and the Guarantors' officers, directors and employees to supply all information reasonably requested by any such underwriter, attorney or accountant in connection with such Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto subsequent to the filing thereof and prior to its effectiveness and to participate in meetings with investors to the extent reasonably requested by the managing underwriter(s), if any;

(vi) if requested by any selling Holders or the underwriter(s), if any, promptly incorporate in any Shelf Registration Statement or Prospectus, pursuant to a supplement or post-effective amendment if necessary, such information as such selling Holders and underwriter(s), if any, may reasonably request to have included therein, including, without limitation, information relating to the “Plan of Distribution” of the Transfer Restricted Securities, information with respect to the principal amount of Transfer Restricted Securities being sold to such underwriter(s), the purchase price being paid therefor and any other terms of the offering of the Transfer Restricted Securities to be sold in such offering; and make all required filings of such Prospectus supplement or post-effective amendment as soon as reasonably practicable after the Company is notified of the matters to be incorporated in such Prospectus supplement or post-effective amendment;

(vii) if not then rated, cause the Transfer Restricted Securities covered by any Shelf Registration Statement to be rated with the appropriate rating agencies, if so requested by the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of Securities covered thereby or the underwriter(s), if any;

(viii) furnish to each selling Holder named in any Shelf Registration Statement and each of the underwriter(s), if any, without charge, at least one copy of such Registration Statement, as first filed with the Commission, and of each amendment thereto, including financial statements and schedules, and, upon their request, all documents incorporated by reference therein and all exhibits (including exhibits incorporated therein by reference);

(ix) deliver to each selling Holder named in any Shelf Registration Statement and each of the underwriter(s), if any, without charge, as many copies of the Prospectus contained therein (including each preliminary prospectus) and any amendment or supplement thereto as such Persons reasonably may request; the Company and the Guarantors hereby consent to the use of such Prospectus and any amendment or supplement thereto by each of the selling Holders and each of the underwriter(s), if any, in connection with the offering and the sale of the Transfer Restricted Securities covered by such Prospectus or any amendment or supplement thereto;

(x) in the case of a Shelf Registration Statement, enter into such agreements (including an underwriting agreement), and make such representations and warranties, and take all such other actions in connection therewith in order to expedite or facilitate the disposition of the Transfer Restricted Securities pursuant to such Registration Statement, all to such extent as may be reasonably requested by any Holder of Transfer Restricted Securities or underwriter in connection with any sale or resale pursuant to such Registration Statement; and, whether or not an underwriting agreement is entered into and whether or not the registration is an Underwritten Registration, the Company and the Guarantors shall:

(A) furnish to each selling Holder and each underwriter, if any, in such substance and scope as they may request and as are customarily made by issuers to underwriters in primary underwritten offerings, upon the date of the effectiveness of the Shelf Registration Statement:

(1) a certificate, dated the date of effectiveness of the Shelf Registration Statement, signed by (y) the President or any Vice President and (z) a principal financial or accounting officer of each of the Company and the Guarantors, confirming, as of the date thereof, the matters similar to those set forth in paragraphs (i), (ii) and (iii) of Section 6(d) of the Purchase Agreement as adjusted to reflect the Company and the Guarantors as of the date thereof and such other matters as such parties may reasonably request;

(2) an opinion, dated the date of effectiveness of the Shelf Registration Statement of counsel for the Company and the Guarantors, covering such matters as such parties may reasonably request, and in any event including a customary statement substantially to the effect that such counsel has participated in conferences with officers and other representatives of the Company and the Guarantors, representatives of the independent public accountants for the Company and the Guarantors, representatives of the underwriter(s), if any, and counsel to the underwriter(s), if any, in connection with the preparation of such Shelf Registration Statement and the related Prospectus and have considered the matters required to be stated therein and the statements contained therein, although such counsel has not independently verified the accuracy, completeness or fairness of such statements; and that such counsel advises that, on the basis of the foregoing, no facts came to such counsel's attention that caused such counsel to believe that the Shelf Registration Statement, at the time such Shelf Registration Statement or any post-effective amendment thereto became effective, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, or that the Prospectus contained in such Shelf Registration Statement as of its date, contained an untrue statement of a material fact or omitted to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. Without limiting the foregoing, such counsel may state further that such counsel assumes no responsibility for, and has not independently verified, the accuracy, completeness or fairness of the financial statements, notes and schedules and other financial data or reserves data included in any Shelf Registration Statement contemplated by this Agreement or the related Prospectus; and

(3) a customary comfort letter, dated the date of effectiveness of the Shelf Registration Statement, from the Company's independent accountants, in the customary form and covering matters of the type customarily requested to be covered in comfort letters to underwriters in connection with primary underwritten offerings;

(B) set forth in full or incorporate by reference in the underwriting agreement, if any, the indemnification provisions and procedures of Section 8 hereof with respect to all parties to be indemnified pursuant to said Section; and

(C) deliver such other documents and certificates as may be reasonably requested by such parties to evidence compliance with Section 6(c)(x)(A) hereof and with any customary conditions contained in the underwriting agreement or other agreement entered into by the Company or the Guarantors pursuant to this Section 6(c)(x), if any;

(xi) prior to any public offering of Transfer Restricted Securities pursuant to a Shelf Registration Statement, cooperate with the selling Holders, the underwriter(s), if any, and their respective counsel in connection with the registration and qualification of the Transfer Restricted Securities under the securities or blue sky laws of such jurisdictions as the selling Holders or underwriter(s) may request and do any and all other acts or things necessary or advisable to enable the disposition in such jurisdictions of the Transfer Restricted Securities covered by the Shelf Registration Statement; provided, however, that neither the Company nor any Guarantor shall be required to register or qualify as a foreign corporation where it is not then so qualified or to take any action that would subject it to the service of process in suits or to taxation in any jurisdiction where it is not then so subject;

(xii) shall issue, in accordance with the procedures of The Depository Trust Company or upon the written request of any Holder of Initial Securities covered by a Shelf Registration Statement, Exchange Securities of each series having an aggregate principal amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of Initial Securities of the same series surrendered to the Company by such Holder in exchange therefor or being sold by such Holder; such Exchange Securities to be registered in the name of such Holder or in the name of the purchasers of such Securities identified in accordance with the procedures of The Depository Trust Company or in writing by the Holder, as the case may be; in return, the Initial Securities held by such Holder shall be surrendered to the Company for cancellation;

(xiii) cooperate with the selling Holders and the underwriter(s), if any, to facilitate the timely preparation and delivery of certificates representing Transfer Restricted Securities to be sold and not bearing any restrictive legends; and enable such Transfer Restricted Securities to be in such denominations and registered in such names as the Holders or the underwriter(s), if any, may request at least two Business Days prior to any sale of Transfer Restricted Securities made by such Holders or underwriter(s);

(xiv) use their reasonable best efforts to cause the Transfer Restricted Securities covered by any Shelf Registration Statement to be registered with or approved by such other governmental agencies or authorities as may be necessary to enable the seller or sellers thereof or the underwriter(s), if any, to consummate the disposition of such Transfer Restricted Securities, subject to the proviso contained in Section 6(c)(xi) hereof;

(xv) if any fact or event contemplated by Section 6(c)(iii)(D) hereof shall exist or have occurred, prepare a supplement or post-effective amendment to such Registration Statement or related Prospectus or any document incorporated therein by reference or file any other required document so that, as thereafter delivered to the purchasers of Transfer Restricted Securities, the Prospectus will not contain an untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact necessary in order to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;

(xvi) provide a CUSIP number for all Securities not later than the effective date of any Registration Statement covering such Securities and provide the Trustee under the Indenture with certificates for such Securities which are in a form eligible for deposit with The Depository Trust Company and take all other action necessary to ensure that all such Securities are eligible for deposit with The Depository Trust Company;

(xvii) cooperate and assist in any filings required to be made with the FINRA and in the performance of any due diligence investigation by any underwriter (including any “qualified independent underwriter”) that is required to be retained in accordance with the rules and regulations of the FINRA;

(xviii) otherwise use their reasonable best efforts to comply with all applicable rules and regulations of the Commission, and make generally available to the Company’s security holders, as soon as practicable, a consolidated earnings statement meeting the requirements of Rule 158 (which need not be audited) for the twelve-month period (A) commencing at the end of any fiscal quarter in which Transfer Restricted Securities are sold to underwriters in a firm commitment or best efforts Underwritten Offering or (B) if not sold to underwriters in such an offering, beginning with the first month of the Company’s first fiscal quarter commencing after the effective date of the Shelf Registration Statement covering such Transfer Restricted Securities;

(xix) cause the Indenture to be qualified under the Trust Indenture Act not later than the effective date of the first Registration Statement required by this Agreement, and, in connection therewith, cooperate with the Trustee and the Holders of Securities to effect such changes to the Indenture as may be required for such Indenture to be so qualified in accordance with the terms of the Trust Indenture Act; and execute and use their reasonable best efforts to cause the Trustee to execute, all documents that may be required to effect such changes and all other forms and documents required to be filed with the Commission to enable such Indenture to be so qualified in a timely manner; and

(xx) provide promptly to each Holder upon request each document filed with the Commission pursuant to the requirements of Section 13 and Section 15 of the Exchange Act to the extent not publicly available on the Commission’s website.

In connection with a Shelf Registration Statement, each Holder agrees by acquisition of a Transfer Restricted Security that, upon receipt of any notice from the Company of the existence of any fact of the kind described in Section 6(c)(iii)(D) hereof, such Holder will forthwith discontinue disposition of Transfer Restricted Securities pursuant to the applicable Shelf Registration Statement until such Holder’s receipt of the copies of the supplemented or amended

Prospectus contemplated by Section 6(c)(xv) hereof, or until it is advised in writing (the “Advice”) by the Company that the use of the Prospectus may be resumed, and has received copies of any additional or supplemental filings that are incorporated by reference in the Prospectus. If so directed by the Company, each Holder will deliver to the Company (at the Company’s expense) all copies, other than permanent file copies then in such Holder’s possession, of the Prospectus covering such Transfer Restricted Securities that was current at the time of receipt of such notice. In the event the Company shall give any such notice, the time period regarding the effectiveness of such Shelf Registration Statement set forth in Section 3 or 4 hereof, as applicable, shall be extended by the number of days during the period from and including the date of the giving of such notice pursuant to Section 6(c)(iii)(D) hereof to and including the date when each selling Holder covered by such Shelf Registration Statement shall have received the copies of the supplemented or amended Prospectus contemplated by Section 6(c)(xv) hereof or shall have received the Advice; provided, however, that no such extension shall be taken into account in determining whether Additional Interest is due pursuant to Section 5 hereof or the amount of such Additional Interest, it being agreed that the Company’s option to suspend use of a Shelf Registration Statement for more than 60 consecutive days pursuant to this paragraph shall be treated as a Registration Default for purposes of Section 5 hereof.

SECTION 7 REGISTRATION EXPENSES

(a) All expenses incident to the Company’s and the Guarantors’ performance of or compliance with this Agreement will be borne by the Company and the Guarantors, jointly and severally, regardless of whether a Registration Statement becomes effective, including, without limitation: (i) all registration and filing fees and expenses (including filings made by any underwriter or Holder with the FINRA (and, if applicable, the fees and expenses of any “qualified independent underwriter” and its counsel that may be required by the rules and regulations of the FINRA)); (ii) all fees and expenses of compliance with federal securities and state securities or blue sky laws; (iii) all expenses of printing (including printing certificates, if any, for the Exchange Securities to be issued in the Exchange Offer and printing of Prospectuses), messenger and delivery services and telephone; (iv) all fees and disbursements of counsel for the Company, the Guarantors and, subject to Section 7(b) hereof, reasonable fees and disbursements of counsel for the Holders of Transfer Restricted Securities; (v) all application and filing fees in connection with listing the Exchange Securities on a securities exchange or automated quotation system pursuant to the requirements thereof; and (vi) all fees and disbursements of independent certified public accountants of the Company and the Guarantors (including the expenses of any special audit and comfort letters required by or incident to such performance).

The Company and the Guarantors will, in any event, bear their internal expenses (including, without limitation, all salaries and expenses of their officers and employees performing legal or accounting duties), the expenses of any annual audit and the fees and expenses of any Person, including special experts, retained by the Company or the Guarantors.

(b) In connection with any Shelf Registration Statement required by this Agreement, the Company and the Guarantors, jointly and severally, will reimburse the Initial Purchasers and the Holders of Transfer Restricted Securities registered pursuant to the Shelf Registration Statement, as applicable, for the reasonable fees and disbursements of not more than one counsel, who shall be Hunton & Williams LLP or such other counsel as may be chosen by the Holders of a majority in principal amount of the Transfer Restricted Securities for whose benefit such Shelf Registration Statement is being prepared.

SECTION 8 INDEMNIFICATION

(a) The Company and the Guarantors, jointly and severally, agree to indemnify and hold harmless (i) each Holder and (ii) each Person, if any, who controls (within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act) any Holder (any of the Persons referred to in this clause (ii) being hereinafter referred to as a “controlling person”) and (iii) the respective officers, directors, partners, employees, representatives and agents of any Holder or any controlling person (any Person referred to in clause (i), (ii) or (iii) may hereinafter be referred to as an “Indemnified Holder”), to the fullest extent lawful, from and against any and all losses, claims, damages, liabilities, judgments, actions and expenses (including, without limitation, and as incurred, reimbursement of all reasonable costs of investigating, preparing, pursuing, settling, compromising, paying or defending any claim or action, or any investigation or proceeding by any governmental agency or body, commenced or threatened, including the reasonable fees and expenses of counsel to any Indemnified Holder), joint or several, directly or indirectly caused by, related to, based upon, arising out of or in connection with (1) any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any Registration Statement (or any amendment or supplement thereto), or any omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein not misleading, or (2) any untrue statement or alleged untrue statement of a material fact contained in any Prospectus (or any amendment or supplement thereto), or any omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact necessary to make the statements therein, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, in each case except insofar as such losses, claims, damages, liabilities or expenses are caused by an untrue statement or omission or alleged untrue statement or omission that is made in reliance upon and in conformity with information relating to any of the Holders furnished in writing to the Company by any of the Holders expressly for use therein. This indemnity agreement shall be in addition to any liability which the Company or the Guarantors may otherwise have.

In case any action or proceeding (including any governmental or regulatory investigation or proceeding) shall be brought or asserted against any of the Indemnified Holders with respect to which indemnity may be sought against the Company or the Guarantors, such Indemnified Holder (or the Indemnified Holder controlled by such controlling person) shall promptly notify the Company and the Guarantors in writing; provided, however, that the failure to give such notice shall not relieve the Company or the Guarantors of their respective obligations pursuant to this Agreement. Such Indemnified Holder shall have the right to employ its own counsel in any such action and the fees and expenses of such counsel shall be paid, as incurred, by the Company and the Guarantors (regardless of whether it is ultimately determined that an Indemnified Holder is not entitled to indemnification hereunder). The Company and the Guarantors shall not, in connection with any one such action or proceeding or separate but substantially similar or related actions or proceedings in the same jurisdiction arising out of the same general allegations or circumstances, be liable for the reasonable fees and expenses of more than one separate firm of attorneys (in addition to any local counsel) at any time for such Indemnified Holders, which firm shall be designated by the Holders. The Company and the Guarantors shall be liable for any settlement of any such action or proceeding effected with the Company's and the Guarantors' prior written consent, which consent shall not be withheld unreasonably, and the Company and the Guarantors agree to indemnify and hold harmless any Indemnified Holder from and against any loss, claim, damage, liability or expense by reason of any settlement of any action effected with the written consent of the Company and the Guarantors. The Company and the Guarantors shall not, without the prior written consent of each Indemnified Holder, settle or compromise or consent to the entry of judgment in or otherwise seek to terminate any pending or threatened action, claim, litigation or proceeding in respect of which indemnification or contribution may be sought hereunder (whether or not any Indemnified Holder is a party thereto), unless such settlement, compromise, consent or termination (i) includes an unconditional release of each Indemnified Holder from all liability arising out of such action, claim, litigation or proceeding and (ii) does not include any statements as to or any findings of fault, culpability or failure to act by or on behalf of any Indemnified Holder.

(b) Each Holder of Transfer Restricted Securities agrees, severally and not jointly, to indemnify and hold harmless the Company, the Guarantors and their respective directors and officers who sign a Registration Statement, and any Person controlling (within the meaning of Section 15 of the Securities Act or Section 20 of the Exchange Act) the Company or the Guarantors, and the respective officers, directors, partners, employees, representatives and agents of each such Person, to the same extent as the foregoing indemnity from the Company and the Guarantors to each of the Indemnified Holders, but only with respect to claims and actions based on information relating to such Holder furnished in writing by such Holder expressly for use in any Registration Statement. In case any action or proceeding shall be brought against the Company, the Guarantors or their respective directors or officers or any such controlling person in respect of which indemnity may be sought against a Holder of Transfer Restricted Securities, such Holder shall have the rights and duties given the Company and the Guarantors, and the Company, the Guarantors, their respective directors and officers and such controlling person shall have the rights and duties given to each Holder by the preceding paragraph.

(c) If the indemnification provided for in this Section 8 is unavailable to an indemnified party under Section 8(a) or (b) hereof (other than by reason of exceptions provided in those Sections) in respect of any losses, claims, damages, liabilities, judgments, actions or expenses referred to therein, then each applicable indemnifying party, in lieu of indemnifying such indemnified party, shall contribute to the amount paid or payable by such indemnified party as a result of such losses, claims, damages, liabilities or expenses in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative benefits received by the Company and the Guarantors, on the one hand, and the Holders, on the other hand, from the Initial Placement (which in the case of the Company and the Guarantors shall be deemed to be equal to the total gross proceeds to the Company and the Guarantors from the Initial Placement), the amount of Additional Interest which did not become payable as a result of the filing of the Registration Statement resulting in such losses, claims, damages, liabilities, judgments actions or expenses, and such Registration Statement, or if such allocation is not permitted by applicable law, the relative fault of the Company and the Guarantors, on the one hand, and of the Holders, on the other hand, in connection with the statements or omissions which resulted in such losses, claims, damages, liabilities or expenses, as well as any other relevant equitable considerations. The relative fault of the Company and the Guarantors on the one hand and of the Indemnified Holder on the other shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or alleged untrue statement of a material fact or the omission or alleged omission to state a material fact relates to information supplied by the Company and the Guarantors, on the one hand, or by the Indemnified Holders, on the other hand, and the parties' relative intent, knowledge, access to information and opportunity to correct or prevent such statement or omission. The amount paid or payable by a party as a result of the losses, claims, damages, liabilities and expenses referred to above shall be deemed to include, subject to the limitations set forth in the second paragraph of Section 8(a) hereof, any legal or other fees or expenses reasonably incurred by such party in connection with investigating or defending any action or claim.

The Company, the Guarantors and each Holder of Transfer Restricted Securities agree that it would not be just and equitable if contribution pursuant to this Section 8(c) were determined by pro rata allocation (even if the Holders were treated as one entity for such purpose) or by any other method of allocation which does not take account of the equitable considerations referred to in the immediately preceding paragraph. The amount paid or payable by an indemnified party as a result of the losses, claims, damages, liabilities or expenses referred to in the immediately preceding paragraph shall be deemed to include, subject to the limitations set forth above, any legal or other expenses reasonably incurred by such indemnified party in connection with investigating or defending any such action or claim. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 8, none of the Holders (and their related Indemnified Holders) shall be required to contribute, in the aggregate, any amount in excess of the amount by which the total discount received by such Holder with respect to the Initial Securities exceeds the amount of any damages which such Holder has otherwise been required to pay by reason of such untrue or alleged untrue statement or omission or alleged omission. No Person guilty of fraudulent misrepresentation (within the meaning of Section 11(f) of the Securities Act) shall be entitled to contribution from any Person who was not guilty of such fraudulent misrepresentation. The Holders' obligations to contribute pursuant to this Section 8(c) are several in proportion to the respective principal amount of Initial Securities held by each of the Holders hereunder and not joint.

SECTION 9 RULE 144A

The Company and the Guarantors hereby agree with each Holder, that, at any time when the Company is not subject to Section 13 or 15 (d) of the Exchange Act and for so long as any Transfer Restricted Securities remain outstanding, they shall make available to any Holder or beneficial owner of Transfer Restricted Securities in connection with any sale thereof and any prospective purchaser of such Transfer Restricted Securities from such Holder or beneficial owner, the information required by Rule 144A(d)(4) under the Securities Act in order to permit resales of such Transfer Restricted Securities pursuant to Rule 144A under the Securities Act.

SECTION 10 PARTICIPATION IN UNDERWRITTEN REGISTRATIONS

No Holder may participate in any Underwritten Registration hereunder unless such Holder (a) agrees to sell such Holder's Transfer Restricted Securities on the basis provided in any underwriting arrangements approved by the Persons entitled hereunder to approve such arrangements and (b) completes and executes all reasonable questionnaires, powers of attorney, indemnities, underwriting agreements, lock-up letters and other documents required under the terms of such underwriting arrangements.

SECTION 11 SELECTION OF UNDERWRITERS

The Holders of Transfer Restricted Securities covered by the Shelf Registration Statement who desire to do so may sell such Transfer Restricted Securities in an Underwritten Offering. In any such Underwritten Offering, the investment banker(s) and managing underwriter(s) that will administer such offering will be selected by the Holders of a majority in aggregate principal amount of the Transfer Restricted Securities included in such offering; provided, however, that such investment banker(s) and managing underwriter(s) must be reasonably satisfactory to the Company.

SECTION 12 MISCELLANEOUS

(a) Remedies. The Company and the Guarantors hereby agree that monetary damages would not be adequate compensation for any loss incurred by reason of a breach by them of the provisions of this Agreement and hereby agree to waive the defense in any action for specific performance that a remedy at law would be adequate.

(b) No Inconsistent Agreements. The Company and the Guarantors will not, on or after the date of this Agreement, enter into any agreement with respect to their securities that is inconsistent with the rights granted to the Holders in this Agreement or otherwise conflicts with the provisions hereof. The rights granted to the Holders hereunder do not in any way conflict with and are not inconsistent with the rights granted to the holders of the Company's or any Guarantors' securities under any agreement in effect on the date hereof.

(c) Adjustments Affecting the Securities. The Company and the Guarantors will not take any action, or permit any change within their control to occur, with respect to the Securities that would materially and adversely affect the ability of the Holders to Consummate any Exchange Offer.

(d) Amendments and Waivers. The provisions of this Agreement may not be amended, modified or supplemented, and waivers or consents to or departures from the provisions hereof may not be given unless the Company has (i) in the case of Section 5 hereof and this Section 12(d)(i), obtained the consent of Holders of all outstanding Transfer Restricted Securities and (ii) in the case of all other provisions hereof, obtained the consent of Holders of a majority of the outstanding principal amount of Transfer Restricted Securities (excluding any Transfer Restricted Securities held by the Company or its Affiliates). Notwithstanding the foregoing, a waiver or consent to departure from the provisions hereof that relates exclusively to the rights of Holders whose securities are being tendered pursuant to an Exchange Offer and that does not affect directly or indirectly the rights of other Holders whose securities are not being tendered pursuant to such Exchange Offer may be given by the Holders of a majority of the outstanding principal amount of Transfer Restricted Securities being tendered or registered; provided, however, that, with respect to any matter that directly or indirectly affects the rights of any Initial Purchaser hereunder, the Company shall obtain the written consent of each such Initial Purchaser with respect to which such amendment, qualification, supplement, waiver, consent or departure is to be effective.

(e) Notices. All notices and other communications provided for or permitted hereunder shall be made in writing in the English language by hand-delivery, first-class mail (registered or certified, return receipt requested), telecopier, or air courier guaranteeing overnight delivery:

(i) if to a Holder, at the address set forth on the records of the Registrar under the Indenture, with a copy to the Registrar under the Indenture; and

(ii) if to the Company or the Guarantors:

All such notices and communications shall be deemed to have been duly given: at the time delivered by hand, if personally delivered; five Business Days after being deposited in the mail, postage prepaid, if mailed; when receipt acknowledged, if telecopied; and on the next Business Day, if timely delivered to an air courier guaranteeing overnight delivery.

Copies of all such notices, demands or other communications shall be concurrently delivered by the Person giving the same to the Trustee at the address specified in the Indenture.

(f) Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon the successors and assigns of each of the parties, including, without limitation, and without the need for an express assignment, subsequent Holders of Transfer Restricted Securities; provided, however, that this Agreement shall not inure to the benefit of or be binding upon a successor or assign of a Holder unless and to the extent such successor or assign acquired Transfer Restricted Securities from such Holder.

(g) Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts and by the parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when so executed shall be deemed to be an original and all of which taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement.

(h) Headings. The headings in this Agreement are for convenience of reference only and shall not limit or otherwise affect the meaning hereof.

(i) Governing Law. THIS AGREEMENT SHALL BE GOVERNED BY AND CONSTRUED IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE LAWS OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK, WITHOUT REGARD TO THE CONFLICTS OF LAW RULES THEREOF.

(j) Severability. In the event that any one or more of the provisions contained herein, or the application thereof in any circumstance, is held invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the validity, legality and enforceability of any such provision in every other respect and of the remaining provisions contained herein shall not be affected or impaired thereby.

(k) Entire Agreement. This Agreement is intended by the parties as a final expression of their agreement and intended to be a complete and exclusive statement of the agreement and understanding of the parties hereto in respect of the subject matter contained herein. There are no restrictions, promises, warranties or undertakings, other than those set forth or referred to herein with respect to the registration rights granted by the Company with respect to the Transfer Restricted Securities. This Agreement supersedes all prior agreements and understandings between the parties with respect to such subject matter.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties have executed this Agreement as of the date first written above.

Item 8.01 Other Events.

On June 2, 2015, the board of directors (the “Board”) of NiSource Inc. (“NiSource”) formally approved the previously announced separation (the “Separation”) of NiSource’s natural gas pipeline and related businesses into a stand-alone publicly traded company through the pro rata distribution (the “Distribution”) of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. (“CPG”) to NiSource stockholders, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of certain conditions. The Board set the record date for the Distribution as 5:00 p.m. Central time on June 19, 2015 (the “Record Date”). The Distribution is expected to occur after the close of trading on the New York Stock Exchange on July 1, 2015 (the “Distribution Date”). In the Distribution, each NiSource stockholder as of the Record Date will receive one share of CPG common stock for every one share of NiSource common stock held as of the Record Date. NiSource stockholders will receive cash in lieu of fractional shares of CPG common stock.

On June 2, 2015, NiSource issued a press release announcing that the Board formally approved the Separation, subject to the satisfaction or waiver of certain conditions.

NiSource currently expects that all conditions to the Separation and Distribution will be satisfied on or prior to the Distribution Date. However, the Separation and Distribution remain subject to the risks and uncertainties identified in the forward-looking statements section of the press release furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report on Form 8-K, which forward-looking statements section is incorporated herein by reference.

NiSource Board of Directors approves separation of Columbia Pipeline Group

- Record Date – June 19, 2015
- Distribution Date – July 1, 2015
- Columbia Pipeline Group expects to begin “regular way” trading on the NYSE on July 2, 2015

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. – NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) announced today that its Board of Directors approved the separation of Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG) from NiSource through a distribution of CPG common stock to NiSource shareholders. In connection with the Board’s approval, NiSource confirmed the distribution ratio, record date and distribution date for the separation.

As a result, the following will occur:

- The distribution of CPG common stock is expected to be made after the close of trading on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) on July 1, 2015 (the “distribution date”) to NiSource shareholders of record as of 5:00 p.m. Central Time on June 19, 2015 (the “record date”).
- On the distribution date, NiSource shareholders will receive one (1) share of CPG common stock for every one (1) share of NiSource common stock held as of the record date.
- Following the distribution, CPG will be an independent, publicly traded company (NYSE: CPGX), and NiSource will retain no ownership interest in CPG.

“Today’s announcement marks another important milestone in NiSource’s history and our commitment to building and enhancing shareholder value,” NiSource President & Chief Executive Officer Robert C. Skaggs, Jr. said. “As independent, highly focused, premier entities, both NiSource and CPG will benefit from the size and scale of their distinct assets and customer bases. And, both are positioned to deliver enhanced long-term growth supported by investment grade credit ratings, long-term infrastructure investment opportunities, growing dividends and solid leadership.”

801 East 86th Avenue
Merrillville, IN 46410

Houston, TX 77056

NiSource will remain one of the largest natural gas utility companies in the United States, serving more than 3.4 million customers in seven states under the Columbia Gas and NIPSCO brands. The company also will continue to provide electric distribution, generation and transmission services for approximately 450,000 NIPSCO electric customers in northern Indiana. NiSource will continue to be headquartered in Merrillville, Indiana, and plans to maintain current levels of community involvement, charitable giving and economic development support following the separation.

CPG, based in Houston, after separation will include Columbia Gas Transmission, Columbia Gulf Transmission, Columbia Midstream Group, its ownership in Columbia Pipeline Partners (NYSE: CPPL), and other natural gas pipeline, storage and midstream holdings currently owned by NiSource. In total CPG operates more than 15,000 miles of natural gas transmission pipelines, nearly 300 billion cubic feet of underground natural gas storage working capacity, and a growing portfolio of midstream and related facilities. Additional information about CPG can be found at www.columbiapipelinegroup.com.

As announced in December 2014, upon completion of the separation, Skaggs will become Chairman and CEO of CPG. Joseph Hamrock, currently executive vice president and group CEO of NiSource's Gas Distribution business unit, will be named NiSource President and CEO and appointed to its Board.

Expected to continue serving on the NiSource Board following the separation are current independent NiSource board members Richard L. Thompson, who is expected to continue serving as Board Chairman, Richard A. Abdo, Michael E. Jesanis, Aristides S. Candris and Carolyn Y. Woo.

Members of NiSource's current Board expected to join the CPG Board upon separation are independent board members Sigmund L. Cornelius, Marty R. Kittrell, W. Lee Nutter, Deborah S. Parker and Teresa A. Taylor. None of these expected CPG directors are expected to continue to serve on the NiSource Board following the separation.

Trading of NiSource and CPG shares

Shares of NiSource common stock will continue to trade "regular way" on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) under the symbol "NI" through and after the distribution date. Any holder of NiSource common stock who sells NiSource shares "regular way" after the record date or on or before the distribution date will also be selling their right to receive shares of CPG common stock in the distribution. It is anticipated that NiSource shares will also trade "ex-distribution" (without the right to receive shares of CPG common stock in the distribution) beginning on or about June 17, and continuing through the distribution date, under the symbol "NI WI." Investors should consult with their financial advisors about selling their shares of NiSource common stock on or after the record date and on or before the distribution date.

A "when issued" public trading market for CPG common stock is expected to begin on or about June 17 on the NYSE under the symbol "CPGX WI" and continue through the distribution date. On July 2, 2015, the expected first trading day after the distribution date, CPG will begin "regular way" trading on the NYSE under the symbol "CPGX."

Information about the separation

The distribution of CPG's shares will be made in book entry form, which means no physical share certificates will be issued. No action is required by NiSource shareholders in order to receive shares of CPG common stock in the distribution.

801 East 86th Avenue
Merrillville, IN 46410

5151 San Felipe
Houston, TX 77056

Prior to the distribution date, NiSource will mail information statements to all shareholders of NiSource common stock as of the record date. The information statement describes CPG, including the risks of owning CPG's common stock and other details regarding the distribution and is an exhibit to CPG's Registration Statement on Form 10, as amended, which CPG has filed with the SEC and is available at www.sec.gov.

The completion of the CPG distribution is subject to the satisfaction or waiver of a number of conditions, including the CPG stock being authorized for listing on the NYSE and certain other conditions described in the Information Statement included in the Form 10 and in the form of Separation and Distribution Agreement, which is filed as an exhibit to the Form 10. NiSource and CPG expect all conditions to the CPG distribution to be satisfied on or before the distribution date.

The CPG separation is expected to be tax-free to NiSource and its shareholders for U.S. federal income tax purposes. NiSource shareholders are encouraged to consult their tax advisors with respect any questions related to any tax consequences of the CPG separation.

Details regarding the investment propositions of both NiSource and CPG post-separation can be found in the webcast presentations completed on May 14, 2015. Both webcasts, and accompanying presentations, are available on www.nisource.com.

Forward-Looking Statements

This news release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of federal securities laws. These forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Examples of forward-looking statements in this release include statements and expectations regarding the timing of the separation, anticipated dividends by NiSource and CPG, as well as NiSource's and CPG's business following the separation and the leadership of NiSource and Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. following the separation. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the projections, forecasts, estimates and expectations discussed in this release include, among other things, the timing to consummate the transactions described herein; the risk that a condition to consummation is not satisfied; disruption to operations as a result of the proposed transactions; the inability of one or more of the businesses to operate independently following the completion of the proposed transactions; weather; fluctuations in supply and demand for energy commodities; growth opportunities for NiSource's and CPG's businesses; increased competition in deregulated energy markets; the success of regulatory and commercial initiatives; dealings with third parties over whom NiSource and CPG have no control; actual operating experience of NiSource's and CPG's assets; the regulatory process; regulatory and legislative changes; changes in general economic, capital and commodity market conditions; and counter-party credit risk, and the matters set forth in the "Risk Factors" sections in NiSource's 2014 Form 10-K and subsequent NiSource filings of Form 10-Q and in CPG's Form 10, many of which are beyond the control of NiSource and CPG. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this news release. NiSource expressly disclaims any duty to update any of the forward-looking statements contained in this release.

The potential distribution of CPG shares is subject to the satisfaction of a number of conditions. There is no assurance that such distribution will in fact occur.

Item 5.02. Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

As previously reported, on June 2, 2015, the board of directors (the “Board”) of NiSource Inc. (“NiSource”) formally approved the separation (the “Separation”) of NiSource’s natural gas pipeline and related businesses into a stand-alone publicly traded company through the pro rata distribution on July 1, 2015 of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. (“CPG”) to NiSource stockholders of record as of June 19, 2015, subject to certain conditions. The following events occurred and actions were taken in connection with the Separation.

(a), (d) Resignations and Elections of Directors

On June 2, 2015, effective and conditioned upon the occurrence of the Separation:

- the following members of the Board resigned: Sigmund L. Cornelius, Marty R. Kittrell, W. Lee Nutter, Deborah S. Parker, Robert C. Skaggs, Jr. and Teresa A. Taylor;
- the Board decreased the size of the Board from 11 directors to eight directors;
- the Board elected Joseph Hamrock and Deborah A. Henretta to the Board for a term continuing until the 2016 annual meeting of stockholders; and
- the Board appointed Ms. Henretta to serve as a member of the Compensation Committee and the Environmental, Safety and Sustainability Committee.

There is no arrangement or understanding between Mr. Hamrock or Ms. Henretta and any other person pursuant to which he or she was selected as a director of NiSource. Neither Mr. Hamrock nor Ms. Henretta has any direct or indirect material interest in any transaction or proposed transaction involving NiSource required to be reported under Item 404(a) of Regulation S-K.

Consistent with NiSource’s compensation practices for non-employee directors, Ms. Henretta will receive an annual retainer of $210,000, consisting of $90,000 in cash and an award of restricted stock units valued at $120,000 at the time of the award. As a full-time employee of NiSource, Mr. Hamrock will not receive any additional compensation for his service as a director.

On June 3, 2015, NiSource issued a press release announcing the election of Deborah Henretta as a director of the company. A copy of that press release is filed as an exhibit to this report and is incorporated herein by reference.

(b) Resignations of Officers

Effective and conditioned upon the occurrence of the Separation, Robert C. Skaggs, Jr. resigned from his position as Chief Executive Officer and President of NiSource, and he will become the Chief Executive Officer of CPG. In addition, effective and conditioned upon the occurrence of the Separation, the terms of Stephen P. Smith, Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer, and Glen L. Kettering, Executive Vice President and Group Chief Executive Officer, will expire, and they will become the Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer and the President of CPG, respectively.

(c) Appointment of Officers

Effective and conditioned upon the occurrence of the Separation, the Board appointed a new principal executive officer, principal operating officer and principal financial officer, as follows:

Joseph Hamrock	President and Chief Executive Officer (principal executive officer)
Jim L. Stanley	Chief Operating Officer (principal operating officer)
Donald E. Brown	Executive Vice President and Chief Financial Officer (principal financial officer)

None of Messrs. Hamrock, Stanley or Brown has any direct or indirect material interest in any transaction or proposed transaction involving NiSource required to be reported under Item 404(a) of Regulation S-K. There is no arrangement or understanding pursuant to which any of these persons was selected as an officer of NiSource, and there is no family relationship requiring disclosure under Item 401(d) of Regulation S-K.

Joseph Hamrock

Mr. Hamrock, age 52, currently serves as Executive Vice President and Group CEO for NiSource’s Gas Distribution segment, a position he has held since May 2012. Mr. Hamrock joined NiSource after serving in a variety of senior executive positions with American Electric Power Company – Ohio (“AEP Ohio”), including roles in engineering, transmission and distribution operations, customer service, marketing and information technology. Most recently, he served as President and Chief Operating Officer of AEP Ohio from January 2008 to May 2012. Prior thereto, Mr. Hamrock was Senior Vice President and Chief Information Officer in AEP Ohio's Shared Services organization from 2003 to 2007 and Senior Vice President – General Services from 2002 to 2003.

As a result of his new appointment, Mr. Hamrock will be compensated at an annual base salary of $800,000 and will participate in NiSource's performance-based annual short-term incentive plan with a target bonus opportunity for 2015 of 100% of his annual base salary, with a range of 40% to 160%. He will be granted a long-term equity incentive award of restricted stock units under the 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan with a value on the date of grant equal to $1,000,000, which vests February 2, 2018 and which is in addition to a similar award with a grant date value of $1,000,000 granted earlier this year. Mr. Hamrock will also be entitled to participate in NiSource's benefit plans and the Executive Severance Policy. In addition, the benefits under Mr. Hamrock's change in control agreement will be increased to provide for a lump sum payment equal to three (rather than two) times his annual base salary and target incentive bonus compensation and 130% of COBRA continuation premiums due for the three (rather than two) year period following termination.

Jim L. Stanley

Mr. Stanley, age 59, is currently Executive Vice President and Group CEO for NiSource's Indiana gas and electric utility, Northern Indiana Public Service Company (NIPSCO), a position he has held since October 2012. Mr. Stanley joined NiSource after serving in a variety of senior executive positions in the utility industry, most recently as Senior Vice President and Chief Distribution Officer from July 2012 to September 2012 and as Senior Vice President, Power Delivery from June 2010 to July 2012 for Duke Energy's U.S. electric business. In these roles, he had oversight of the electric distribution system for the company's five-state service area. Previously, he served from November 2006 to May 2010 as President of Duke Energy Indiana, the state's largest electric service provider. His 35-year career with PSI Energy, Cinergy and Duke Energy includes assignments in a variety of departments from accounting to human resources to operations management.

As a result of his new appointment, Mr. Stanley will be compensated at an annual base salary of $525,000 and will participate in NiSource's performance-based annual short-term incentive plan with a target bonus opportunity for 2015 of 75% of his annual base salary, with a range of 30% to 120%. He will be granted a long-term equity incentive award of restricted stock units under the 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan with a value on the date of grant equal to $200,000, which vests February 2, 2018 and which is in addition to a similar award with a grant date value of $800,000 granted earlier this year. Mr. Stanley will also be entitled to participate in NiSource's benefit plans and the Executive Severance Policy and a change in control agreement on substantially the same terms as those for other NiSource senior executives.

Donald E. Brown

Mr. Brown, age 43, is currently an Executive Vice President in the Finance Department of NiSource, a position he has held since March 2015. Prior to joining NiSource, Mr. Brown served as Vice President and Chief Financial Officer at UGI Utilities, a division of UGI Corporation since 2010. From 2005 to 2010 he served as a Director of Treasury Services at UGI Corporation and Controller at UGI Utilities. Prior to joining UGI, he served in a variety of financial leadership and consulting roles at Constellation Energy, Progress Energy and Deloitte & Touche LLP. A description of Mr. Brown's compensation was previously reported in a Current Report on Form 8-K filed March 25, 2015, which description is incorporated herein by reference.

(e) Material Compensatory Plans, Contracts and Arrangements

Adjustments to Performance Shares

In January 2013 and 2014, the Compensation Committee of the Board (the "Compensation Committee") approved grants of performance shares to senior executives of NiSource, including each of Robert C. Skaggs, Jr., Stephen P. Smith, Glen L. Kettering, Carrie J. Hightman and Joseph Hamrock (the "Named Executive Officers"). Vesting of the performance shares granted in 2013 was dependent on NiSource meeting certain performance measures over a three-year performance period from 2013 through 2015 and the executive's continued employment through February 29, 2016, and vesting of the performance shares granted in 2014 was dependent on NiSource meeting certain performance measures over a three-year performance period from 2014 through 2016 and the executive's continued employment through January 28, 2017. In each case, assuming the minimum performance level was met, vesting could range from 50% to 200% of the award depending on NiSource's performance over the relevant performance period, as certified by the Compensation Committee.

The financial plan on which the performance share grants were based did not contemplate the Separation, and on June 2, 2015, the Compensation Committee determined that it is appropriate to adjust the terms of those grants to reflect the Separation. Effective and conditioned upon the occurrence of the Separation, the Compensation Committee certified NiSource's performance for purposes of the performance shares granted in 2013 as being at the 188% vesting level and for purposes of one-half of each executive's performance shares granted in 2014 as being at the 170% vesting level. The remaining half of the performance shares granted in 2014 will be payable at the 100% level (target). Like all employee equity awards outstanding under the 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan, the performance shares, as so adjusted, will be converted in accordance with the plan into restricted stock units representing shares of NiSource common stock (or, for executives employed by CPG following the Separation, including Messrs. Skaggs, Smith and Kettering, CPG common stock) based on the relative market prices of NiSource, NiSource “when issued” and CPG “when issued” stock immediately preceding the Separation. Vesting of the restricted stock units will remain subject to the executive’s continued employment with NiSource (or, for executives employed by CPG following the Separation, including Messrs. Skaggs, Smith and Kettering, CPG) through the applicable date and to the other terms of the original performance share grant.

Assuming the Named Executive Officers remain employees of NiSource or CPG, as applicable, through February 29, 2016 (with respect to the 2013 grant) or January 28, 2017 (with respect to the 2014 grant), the Named Executive Officers will be entitled to receive shares of NiSource common stock as follows:

	2013 Performance	2014 Performance
	Share Grant	Share Grant
Mr. Skaggs	212,831	147,767
Mr. Smith	88,680	53,197
Mr. Kettering	35,472	19,702
Ms. Hightman	53,208	29,553
Mr. Hamrock	42,567	27,583

As noted above, each number of shares in the foregoing table will be converted into a number of restricted stock units representing NiSource or CPG common stock, as applicable, based on relative market prices immediately preceding the Separation. Since those prices are not yet known, the actual number of restricted stock units to be received by each Named Executive Officer cannot yet be determined.

CPG Share Grants

Effective and conditioned upon the occurrence of the Separation, the Human Resources and Compensation Committee of the CPG board of directors approved a grant of performance-based equity awards to select CPG executives, including each of Messrs. Skaggs, Smith and Kettering, to be made following the Separation. These performance-based awards will vest based on a relative total shareholder return measure over a three-year performance period. The Human Resources and Compensation Committee of the CPG board of directors approved a target dollar value of $2,000,000 for Mr. Skaggs and $750,000 for each of Messrs. Smith and Kettering. The target dollar values will be converted into a specific number of shares or units based on the CPG closing stock price on the first full day of trading following the Separation.

Deborah A. Henretta to join NiSource Board of Directors

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. – NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) announced today that its Board of Directors elected Deborah A. “Deb” Henretta to the Board, effective upon the separation of Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG) from NiSource, which is expected to happen on July 1, 2015.

Ms. Henretta currently serves as Group President of Global e-Commerce at the Procter & Gamble Co., including serving as Head of Global Beauty Care, a role she held since 2012. She has held various senior positions throughout several P&G sectors, including Division President of Global Baby/Toddler & Adult Care and Division Vice President of Fabric Conditioners and Bleach.

Richard L. Thompson, Chairman of the NiSource Board, said: “Deb will bring a wealth of customer experience expertise to the NiSource Board, having held senior leadership roles at one of the world’s leading consumer packaged goods companies. Her insights will add value as we work to sustain a premier, customer-focused utility company that’s engaged in the communities we serve.”

Ms. Henretta has been a director at Corning, Inc., since 2013. She is a member of the Board of Executive Advisors at Williams College of Business. She also serves on the Board of Trustees at St. Bonaventure University and Cincinnati Children’s Hospital Medical Center. Previously, she served as a Director of Sprint Corp., Gillette India Ltd., and Procter & Gamble Hygiene & Health Care Ltd.

She holds a master’s degree in advertising research from Syracuse University and a bachelor’s degree in communications from St. Bonaventure.

As previously announced, upon the separation of CPG from NiSource, Joseph Hamrock, who currently serves as Executive Vice President and Group CEO will become NiSource President and CEO, and will join the Board. The following current NiSource Board members will remain with NiSource after the separation: Richard L. Thompson, Richard A. Abdo, Michael E. Jesanis, Aristides S. Candris and Carolyn Y. Woo.

Item 5.04 Temporary Suspension of Trading Under Registrant's Employee Benefit Plans

On June 5, 2015, NiSource Inc. (the "Company"), in connection with the Company's proposed spin-off of its subsidiary, Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., sent a notice to its directors and executive officers informing them of a blackout period (the "Blackout Period") that is being imposed on participants in the NiSource Retirement Savings Plan (the "Plan") and notifying them of trading restrictions applicable to them during this Blackout Period. This notice was sent pursuant to Section 306 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 and Regulation BTR, which generally prohibits directors and executive officers of an issuer from engaging in transactions involving the issuer's equity securities acquired in connection with their service or employment as a director or executive officer during any pension plan blackout period.

Inquiries concerning the Notice or the Blackout Period, including the beginning and ending dates of the trading restrictions, may be directed without charge to:

Important Notice
To Directors and Executive Officers of
NiSource Inc.
Regarding the Regulation BTR
Blackout Period and Trading Restrictions

June 5, 2015

General Information. This notice is to inform you that the NiSource Retirement Savings Plan (the “401(k) Plan”) will have a blackout period during which 401(k) Plan participants will be unable to conduct transactions in NiSource Inc. (“NiSource”) common stock (“NiSource Stock”) within the 401(k) Plan. NiSource has previously announced that its Board of Directors approved the spin-off of its subsidiary, Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. (“CPG”), into an independent and separate publicly traded company. The blackout period is necessary in connection with the spin-off to enable the 401(k) Plan to update its records and accounting when shares of CPG are distributed to NiSource’s stockholders, including stockholders who hold NiSource Stock under the 401(k) Plan. Because you are a director or an executive officer of NiSource, you will also be prohibited during the blackout period from engaging in most transactions involving equity securities of NiSource that you acquired in connection with your service or employment as a director or executive officer of NiSource.

Impact on 401(k) Plan Participants. As a result of the spin-off and distribution of CPG common stock to NiSource stockholders, participants in the 401(k) Plan will be temporarily unable to direct or diversify investments in their individual accounts or obtain distributions from the 401(k) Plan if the transaction involves NiSource Stock. This period, during which participants will be unable to exercise these rights otherwise available under the 401(k) Plan, qualifies as a “blackout period” under the Securities and Exchange Commission’s Regulation BTR.

Restrictions on Directors and Executive Officers during the Blackout Period. During the blackout period, directors and executive officers of NiSource will be subject to trading restrictions imposed under Section 306(a) of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002 and Regulation BTR. Subject to limited exceptions, these restrictions generally prohibit, during the blackout period, the direct or indirect purchase, sale or other acquisition or transfer of any of NiSource’s equity securities that you acquired in connection with your service or employment as a director or executive officer of NiSource. Please note that, as previously communicated, all trading by NiSource’s directors and executive officers is already prohibited under NiSource’s Insider Trading Policy during the quarterly insider trading blackout period. Regulation BTR, however, also imposes additional penalties, such as criminal penalties and a requirement to disgorge all profits, on trades that occur during a Regulation BTR blackout period.

- Note that “equity securities” are defined broadly to include NiSource Stock and derivatives thereof, including without limitation stock options, performance shares, phantom units and restricted stock units.
- Covered transactions are not limited to those involving your direct ownership, but include any transaction in which you have a pecuniary interest (for example, transactions by your immediate family members living in your household).
- Among other things, these rules prohibit selling shares of NiSource Stock acquired pursuant to options granted to you in connection with your service as a director or employment as an executive officer, selling shares of common stock that were acquired after the vesting of restricted stock units or performance shares or selling shares to cover withholding taxes upon the vesting of restricted stock units or performance shares.
- These restrictions generally do not apply to the reinvestment of dividends under a pre-established broad-based stockholder dividend reinvestment plan, such as the NiSource Dividend Reinvestment and Stock Purchase Plan, or the acquisition of NiSource Stock pursuant to the NiSource Employee Stock Purchase Plan.

Length of the Blackout Period. The blackout period for the 401(k) Plan is expected to begin as of 4:00 p.m. EDT on July 1, 2015 and end during the week of July 5, 2015. We will notify you of any changes that affect the dates of the BTR blackout period.

Questions or Additional Information. The rules described above apply in addition to the other restrictions on trading activity under NiSource's Insider Trading Policy. In order to avoid any inadvertent violations of the blackout period restrictions, you should continue to direct questions about, and requests for pre-clearance of, your transactions in NiSource's securities to Samuel K. Lee, Assistant General Counsel and Assistant Secretary. In addition, during the blackout period, you may obtain, without charge, information about the blackout period, including whether the blackout period has begun or ended, by contacting Samuel K. Lee directly at (219) 647-4176 or in writing at 801 E. 86th Avenue, Merrillville, Indiana 46410.

Item 1.01. Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement.

On June 30, 2015, Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. (“CPG”), a wholly owned subsidiary of NiSource Inc. (“NiSource”), entered into a Separation and Distribution Agreement in connection with the previously announced separation (the “Separation”) of NiSource’s natural gas pipeline and related businesses into a stand-alone publicly traded company through the pro rata distribution of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of CPG to NiSource stockholders (the “Distribution”). Also in connection with the Separation, on June 30, 2015, CPG and NiSource entered into a Tax Allocation Agreement and an Employee Matters Agreement.

A description of the Separation and Distribution Agreement, the Tax Allocation Agreement and the Employee Matters Agreement is provided below. The summaries provided below are not purported to be complete and are qualified in their entirety by reference to the full text of the Separation and Distribution Agreement, the Tax Allocation Agreement and the Employee Matters Agreement attached hereto as Exhibits 2.1, 10.1 and 10.2, respectively.

Separation and Distribution Agreement

The Separation and Distribution Agreement contains the key provisions relating to the Separation. It also contains other provisions that govern certain aspects of CPG’s relationship with NiSource that will continue after the completion of the Separation.

Transfer of Assets and Assumption of Liabilities. The Separation and Distribution Agreement identifies assets and rights transferred, liabilities assumed and contracts assigned as part of the Separation.

The Distribution. The Separation and Distribution Agreement also governs the rights and obligations of the parties regarding the Distribution. Additionally, the Separation and Distribution Agreement provides that the Distribution was subject to several conditions, all of which were satisfied or waived by NiSource in its sole discretion.

Releases, Allocation of Liabilities and Indemnification. The Separation and Distribution Agreement provides for a full and complete release and discharge of all liabilities existing or arising from or based on facts existing prior to the Separation, between or among CPG or any of its affiliates, and NiSource or any of its affiliates (other than CPG), except as set forth in the Separation and Distribution Agreement.

CPG is liable for and has agreed to perform all liabilities with respect to its business, which are referred to as the “CPG liabilities.” Those liabilities include (i) all liabilities of CPG and its subsidiaries to the extent based upon or arising out of the business and operations of CPG and its subsidiaries, (ii) all liabilities of NiSource and its subsidiaries to the extent based upon or arising out of the business and operations of CPG and its subsidiaries, (iii) all liabilities based upon or arising out of financial instruments of CPG and its subsidiaries and (iv) all liabilities on CPG’s unaudited pro forma consolidated balance sheet as of March 31, 2015 and all liabilities incurred by CPG or NiSource of the type that would have been included on such balance sheet had they been incurred on or prior to the date thereof.

NiSource is liable for and has agreed to perform all liabilities with respect to its business, which are referred to as the “NiSource liabilities.” Those liabilities include, (i) all liabilities of NiSource and its subsidiaries to the extent based upon or arising out of the businesses retained by NiSource, (ii) all liabilities of CPG and its subsidiaries to the extent based upon or arising out of the businesses retained by NiSource and (iii) all liabilities based upon or arising out of financial instruments of NiSource and its subsidiaries that are not primarily related to CPG’s business under which CPG or any of its subsidiaries has any liability.

In addition, the Separation and Distribution Agreement contains cross-indemnities principally designed to place financial responsibility for the obligations and liabilities of CPG’s business with CPG and financial responsibility for the obligations and liabilities of NiSource’s retained businesses with NiSource. Specifically, subject to certain exceptions set forth in the Separation and Distribution Agreement, CPG has agreed to assume liability for, and to indemnify and hold harmless NiSource, its affiliates and its directors, officers and employees against, certain liabilities relating to CPG’s business and the Separation, including all liabilities relating to, arising out of or resulting from:

- the failure by CPG or any other person to pay, perform or otherwise promptly discharge any CPG liability;

- any CPG liability;
 - the CPG business (including any businesses or assets that have been divested prior to the Separation or thereafter) as conducted on, at any time prior to or at any time after the Distribution;
 - except to the extent provided in the Separation and Distribution Agreement, any claim that the information included in CPG's registration statement on Form 10, the Information Statement filed as an exhibit to such registration statement on Form 10 or CPG's registration statements on Form S-8 registering shares of common stock subject to equity-based awards (collectively, the "CPG Form S-8s") is or was false or misleading with respect to any material fact or omits or omitted to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;
 - the use by CPG after the Separation of the name "NiSource" or any variation thereof, or other trademarks, trade names, logos or identifiers using any of such names or otherwise owned by or licensed to NiSource;
 - the breach by CPG of any covenant or agreement set forth in any agreement entered into in connection with the Separation;
 - any item or matter for which reimbursement or indemnification is to be provided by CPG in accordance with the terms of the Employee Matters Agreement; and
 - any of CPG's financial instruments.

NiSource has agreed to indemnify and hold harmless CPG, its affiliates and directors, officers and employees from and against all liabilities relating to, arising out of or resulting from:

- the failure by NiSource or any other person to pay, perform or otherwise promptly discharge any NiSource liability;
- any NiSource liability;
- the businesses retained by NiSource (including any businesses or assets that have been divested prior to the Separation or thereafter) as conducted on, at any time prior to or at any time after the Distribution;
- solely with respect to information identified in the schedules to the Separation and Distribution Agreement as being supplied by or the responsibility of NiSource, any claim that the information included in CPG's registration statement on Form 10, the Information Statement filed as an exhibit to such registration statement on Form 10 or any of the CPG Form S-8s is or was false or misleading with respect to any material fact or omits or omitted to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;
- the breach by NiSource of any covenant or agreement set forth in any agreement entered into in connection with the Separation;
- any item or matter for which reimbursement or indemnification is to be provided by NiSource in accordance with the terms of the Employee Matters Agreement; and
- any of NiSource's financial instruments.

The Separation and Distribution Agreement also establishes procedures with respect to claims subject to indemnification and related matters. Indemnification with respect to taxes and employee benefits are governed by the Tax Allocation Agreement and the Employee Matters Agreement, respectively.

Access to Information . The Separation and Distribution Agreement provides that the parties will exchange certain information reasonably required to comply with requirements imposed on the requesting party by a government authority for use in any proceeding or to satisfy audit, accounting or similar requirements, for use in compensation, benefit or welfare plan administration or other bona fide business purposes, or to comply with its obligations under the Separation and Distribution Agreement or any ancillary agreement. In addition, the parties have agreed to use commercially reasonable efforts to make available to each other past and present directors, officers, other employees and agents as witnesses in any legal, administrative or other proceeding in which the other party may become involved, unless NiSource and CPG (or their respective subsidiaries) are adverse to each other in such proceeding.

Expenses . Except as expressly set forth in the Separation and Distribution Agreement or in any related agreement, following the Separation, each of NiSource and CPG will pay all third-party fees, costs and expenses paid or incurred by it in connection with the Separation.

Tax Allocation Agreement

The Tax Allocation Agreement governs the respective rights, responsibilities and obligations of NiSource and CPG with respect to certain tax liabilities and benefits, tax attributes, tax returns, tax contests and other related matters. In general, under the Tax Allocation Agreement, CPG is responsible for all taxes attributable to CPG's business, and CPG agrees to indemnify NiSource for these taxes. NiSource is responsible for all taxes to the extent such taxes are not attributable to CPG's business, and NiSource agrees to indemnify CPG to the extent NiSource is not responsible for these taxes. As CPG was a subsidiary of NiSource prior to the Distribution, CPG may be held liable for the full amount of any consolidated federal income taxes due with respect to the NiSource group for taxable periods ending on or prior to the Distribution. Although CPG will continue to have legal liability for these taxes following the Distribution, under the Tax Allocation Agreement, NiSource has agreed to indemnify CPG for amounts relating to this liability to the extent not attributable to CPG's business. Though binding as between NiSource and CPG, the Tax Allocation Agreement will not be binding on the Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS").

The Tax Allocation Agreement also contains restrictions on CPG's ability to take actions that could cause the Distribution to fail to qualify for tax-free treatment. These restrictions apply for the two-year period after the Distribution, unless (1) CPG obtains the consent of NiSource, a private letter ruling from the IRS or an unqualified opinion of a nationally recognized law or accounting firm that such action will not cause the Distribution to fail to qualify for tax-free treatment and (2) any such letter ruling or opinion, as the case may be, is acceptable to NiSource. Moreover, the Tax Allocation Agreement generally provides that CPG is responsible for any taxes and certain associated costs, expenses and damages imposed on NiSource as a result of the failure of the Distribution to qualify for tax-free treatment if such failure is attributable to certain actions taken by or in respect of CPG after the Distribution, regardless of whether the actions occur more than two years after the Distribution, NiSource consents to such actions or CPG obtains a favorable letter ruling or tax opinion. In addition, in the event the Distribution is determined to be taxable and neither CPG nor NiSource is at fault, CPG will be responsible for a portion of the taxes imposed on NiSource as a result of such determination.

Employee Matters Agreement

The Employee Matters Agreement provides for CPG's and NiSource's respective obligations to employees and former employees who are or were associated with CPG (including those employees who transferred employment from NiSource to CPG prior to the Separation) and for other employment and employee benefits matters. The Employee Matters Agreement also provides for sharing of specific employee and former employee information to enable NiSource and CPG to comply with their respective obligations.

Under the Employee Matters Agreement, CPG has generally assumed all liabilities and assets relating to employee benefits for current and former CPG employees, and NiSource has generally retained all liabilities and assets relating to employee benefits for current and former NiSource employees. Also, CPG has assumed all assets and liabilities related to benefits for current and former CPG employees in NiSource's defined contribution plans.

In addition, the Employee Matters Agreement addresses the treatment of outstanding NiSource equity awards in connection with the Separation. The post-Separation treatment of a person's award depends on the type of award and whether the person will be an employee of NiSource or CPG immediately following the Separation. For purposes of the summary explanation below, a "NiSource Holder" refers to an individual who is an employee or nonemployee director of NiSource immediately following the Separation, and a "CPG Holder" refers to an individual who is an employee or nonemployee director of CPG immediately following the Separation, regardless of the entity for which such individual provided services immediately prior to the Separation.

Restricted Stock Units . The treatment of NiSource Restricted Stock Units ("RSUs") that were outstanding on July 1, 2015 (the "Distribution Date") depends on the status of the holder. NiSource RSUs held on the Distribution Date by any employee of CPG immediately following the Separation and unvested NiSource RSUs held by any non-employee director of CPG immediately following the Separation will convert into CPG RSUs in a manner that preserves the value of the award following the Separation. NiSource RSUs held on the Distribution Date by any employee of NiSource immediately following the Separation and unvested NiSource RSUs held by any non-employee director of NiSource immediately following the Separation will be adjusted to preserve the value of the award following the Separation. Vested NiSource RSUs held by any individual who is a non-employee director of either CPG or NiSource immediately following the Separation were retained and such non-employee director will also receive CPG RSUs equal to the number of shares of CPG stock that such non-employee director would have received if such non-employee director owned the shares subject to the vested NiSource RSUs on the Distribution Date. Following the Distribution Date, the NiSource RSUs and CPG RSUs are subject to substantially the same terms and conditions as the original NiSource RSUs, except that the vesting of awards held by CPG Holders will be based on continued service with CPG.

Performance Share Awards . Similarly, the treatment of NiSource Performance Share Awards ("PSAs") that were outstanding on the Distribution Date will be adjusted or converted into CPG awards in a manner that preserves the intended value of such awards following the Separation. The treatment of outstanding NiSource PSAs will depend on the status of the holder as of the Distribution Date and the year in which the award was granted.

NiSource PSAs held by CPG Holders .

2013 Awards . Each NiSource PSA granted in 2013 and held by a CPG Holder on the Distribution Date will be replaced with a CPG RSU award, with the number of shares of NiSource common stock earned pursuant to such NiSource PSA to be based on actual performance results through the Distribution Date. The number of such NiSource shares will then be converted into substitute CPG RSUs in a manner that preserves the value of the award following the Separation. Such substitute CPG RSUs will vest on the last day of the performance period to which they relate based on the holder's service with CPG and will have the same terms and conditions as the corresponding NiSource PSA, except as otherwise described in this report.

2014 Awards . Each NiSource PSA granted in 2014 and held by a CPG Holder on the Distribution Date will be replaced with CPG RSUs. With respect to 50% of such NiSource PSA, the number of shares of NiSource common stock that are deemed to have been earned as of the Distribution Date will be equal to 50% of the target number of shares subject to such award. With respect to the remaining 50% of such NiSource PSA, the number of shares of NiSource common stock earned will be based on actual performance results through the Distribution Date. The number of such NiSource shares that are earned or deemed to have been earned will then be converted into substitute CPG RSUs in a manner that preserves the value of the award following the Separation. Such substitute CPG RSUs will vest on the last day of the performance period to which they relate based on the holder's service with CPG and will have the same terms and conditions as the corresponding NiSource PSA, except as otherwise described in this report.

NiSource PSAs held by NiSource Holders .

2013 Awards . Each NiSource PSA granted in 2013 and held by a NiSource Holder on the Distribution Date will be adjusted in a manner that preserves the value of the award following the Separation. The number of shares of NiSource common stock earned pursuant to the NiSource PSA will be based on actual performance results through the Distribution Date. The number of such NiSource shares that are earned will then be adjusted in a manner that preserves the value of the award following the Separation. Each adjusted award will vest on the last day of the performance period to which it relates based on the holder's continued service with NiSource and will have the same terms and conditions as currently effect, except as otherwise described in this report.

2014 Awards. Each NiSource PSA granted in 2014 and held by a NiSource Holder on the Distribution Date will be adjusted in a manner that preserves the value of the award following the Separation. With respect to 50% of such NiSource PSA, the number of shares of NiSource common stock that are deemed to have been earned will be equal to 50% of the target number of shares subject to such NiSource PSA. With respect to the remaining 50% of such NiSource PSA, the number of shares of NiSource common stock earned will be based on actual performance results through the Distribution Date. The number of such shares that are earned or deemed to have been earned will then be adjusted in a manner that preserves the value of the award following the Separation. Each adjusted award will vest on the last day of the performance period to which it relates and will have the same terms and conditions as currently in effect, except as otherwise described in this report.

Item 2.01. Completion of Acquisition or Disposition of Assets.

NiSource completed the Separation through the Distribution at 11:59 p.m. New York City time on July 1, 2015. Each NiSource stockholder was paid a pro rata dividend of one share of CPG common stock, par value $0.01 per share, for each share of NiSource common stock, par value $0.01 per share, held by such stockholder as of 5:00 p.m. Central Time on the record date of June 19, 2015. The Separation was completed without the payment of any consideration or the exchange of any shares by NiSource's stockholders. NiSource did not distribute any fractional shares of CPG common stock to NiSource stockholders. Fractional shares were aggregated into whole shares and sold in the open market. The net cash proceeds from the sales will be distributed pro rata to each holder who would otherwise have been entitled to receive a fractional share in the Distribution.

The Separation was completed pursuant to the Separation and Distribution Agreement described in Item 1.01 of this report. Such description is incorporated herein by reference.

The unaudited pro forma consolidated financial information of NiSource giving effect to the Separation, together with the related notes thereto, is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.2.

Item 2.05. Costs Associated With Exit or Disposal Activities.

On June 30, 2015, NiSource and CPG entered into the Separation and Distribution Agreement. The description of the Separation and Distribution Agreement contained in Item 1.01 of this report and the description of the Separation contained in Item 2.01 of this report are incorporated herein by reference. As of the date of this report, NiSource estimates the total, pre-tax costs associated with the Separation to be in the range of $170 to $180 million. These costs consist primarily of financial, legal and other Separation-related advisory fees and include approximately $97 million incurred as part of the retirement of indebtedness in connection with the Separation. Through June 30, 2015, NiSource has recognized all but approximately $5 million to $10 million of these costs in its financial statements. Substantially all of the costs recognized in the NiSource financial statements have been paid, and the remaining charges are expected to be paid during the remainder of fiscal 2015 and 2016.

Item 7.01. Regulation FD Disclosure.

On July 2, 2015, CPG will begin trading on the New York Stock Exchange as a fully independent public company under the symbol "CPGX." On July 2, 2015, CPG and NiSource issued a joint press release announcing the completion of the Separation. A copy of that press release is furnished as Exhibit 99.1 to this Current Report and is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 9.01. Financial Statements and Exhibits.

SEPARATION AND DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENT

This SEPARATION AND DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENT is made as of June 30, 2015 by and between NiSource Inc., a Delaware corporation (“NiSource”), and Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Columbia”), and, as of the date hereof, a wholly-owned subsidiary of NiSource.

WHEREAS, NiSource, through the Columbia Subsidiaries (as defined below), is engaged in the natural gas pipeline, midstream and storage business, as described more fully in the Form 10 Registration Statement (as defined below) (the “Transferred Business”);

WHEREAS, the board of directors of NiSource (the “NiSource Board”) has determined that it would be advisable and in the best interests of NiSource and its stockholders for NiSource to transfer to Columbia the Assets Transferred to Columbia (as defined below) on the terms contemplated by this Agreement;

WHEREAS, the board of directors of Columbia (the “Columbia Board”) has determined that it would be advisable and in the best interests of Columbia and its stockholders for Columbia to transfer to NiSource the Assets Transferred to NiSource (as defined below) on the terms contemplated by this Agreement;

WHEREAS, the NiSource Board has determined that it would be advisable and in the best interests of NiSource and its stockholders for NiSource to distribute on a pro rata basis to the holders of shares of NiSource common stock, par value $0.01 per share (“NiSource Shares”), without any consideration being paid by the holders of such NiSource Shares, all of the outstanding shares of Columbia common stock, par value $0.01 per share (“Columbia Shares”), owned by NiSource as of the Distribution Date (as defined below);

WHEREAS, it is the intention of the parties hereto that the Distribution (as defined below) qualify under Section 355 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 (the “Code”);

WHEREAS, it is the intention of the parties hereto that the Distribution qualify as tax-free to NiSource under Section 361(c) of the Code and that, except for cash received in lieu of any fractional Columbia Shares, the Distribution qualify as tax-free to NiSource stockholders under Section 355(a) of the Code; and

WHEREAS, it is appropriate and desirable to set forth the principal transactions required to effect the Transfers and the Distribution and certain other agreements that will govern the relationship of NiSource and Columbia following the Distribution.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual promises contained herein, the parties hereto hereby agree as follows:

ARTICLE I
DEFINITIONS

SECTION 1.1 Definitions. As used in this Agreement, the following terms shall have the meanings set forth in this Section 1.1:

“ Action ” means any action, claim, demand, suit, arbitration, inquiry, subpoena, discovery request, proceeding or investigation by or before any arbitral body or any court, grand jury or other Governmental Authority.

“ Affiliate ” means, with respect to any Person, any other Person that, at the time of determination, directly or indirectly Controls, is Controlled by or is under common Control with such Person. After the Distribution, Columbia and NiSource shall not be deemed to be under common Control for purposes hereof due solely to the fact that Columbia and NiSource have common stockholders.

“ Agent ” means Computershare Trust Company, N.A., the distribution agent appointed by NiSource to distribute Columbia Shares pursuant to the Distribution.

“ Agreement ” means this Separation and Distribution Agreement, as the same may be amended from time to time in accordance with its terms.

“ Assets Transferred to Columbia ” means the assets transferred or to be transferred to the Columbia Parties by the NiSource Parties and described on Schedule 1.1(A).

“ Assets Transferred to NiSource ” means the assets transferred or to be transferred to the NiSource Parties by the Columbia Parties and described on Schedule 1.1(B).

“ Assumed Actions ” means those Actions (a) in which any NiSource Party or any of its Affiliates is a defendant or the party against whom the claim or investigation is directed and (b) that primarily relate to the Columbia Business, including those Actions listed on Schedule 1.1(C).

“ Claims Administration ” means the processing of claims made under Policies, including the reporting of claims to the insurance carrier, management and defense of claims and providing for appropriate releases upon settlement of claims.

“ Claims Made Policies ” has the meaning set forth in Section 6.1(b).

“ Code ” has the meaning set forth in the recitals to this Agreement.

“ Columbia ” has the meaning set forth in the first paragraph of this Agreement.

“ Columbia Accounts ” has the meaning set forth in Section 2.12(a).

“ Columbia Amended and Restated Bylaws ” means the amended and restated bylaws of Columbia, the form of which has been filed as an exhibit to the Form 10 Registration Statement.

“ Columbia Balance Sheet ” means the unaudited pro forma consolidated balance sheet of the Columbia Parties as of March 31, 2015, included in the Information Statement.

“ Columbia Board ” has the meaning set forth in the recitals to this Agreement.

“ Columbia Business ” means all businesses and operations of the Columbia Parties, including any Former Businesses owned, in whole or in part, or operated, in whole or in part, by any of the Columbia Parties; provided, however, that, if a Former Business was owned or operated in part by any of the Columbia Parties, such Former Business shall be deemed to be a NiSource Business (and not a Columbia Business) if such Former Business was primarily operated or managed by or primarily associated with the NiSource Business as then conducted ; and; provided, further, that for the avoidance of doubt the business and operations of (a) Central Kentucky Transmission Company, a Delaware corporation, shall be deemed to be included in the “NiSource Business” and not in the “Columbia Business” for purposes of this Agreement and (b) Crossroads Pipeline Company, an Indiana corporation, shall be deemed to be included in the “Columbia Business” and not in the “NiSource Business” for purposes of this Agreement.

“ Columbia Financial Instruments ” means all credit facilities, guaranties, letters of credit and similar instruments primarily related to the Columbia Business under which any NiSource Party has any primary, secondary, contingent, joint, several or other Liability, including those set forth on Schedule 1.1(D).

- (viii) accounting terms used herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them by NiSource and its Subsidiaries, including Columbia, in its and their internal accounting and financial policies and procedures in effect immediately prior to the date of this Agreement;
- (ix) if there is any conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and a Transaction Agreement, the provisions of such Transaction Agreement shall control unless explicitly stated otherwise therein;
- (x) any portion of this Agreement obligating a party hereto to take any action or refrain from taking any action, as the case may be, shall mean that such party shall also be obligated to cause its relevant Subsidiaries to take such action or refrain from taking such action, as the case may be; and
- (xi) all references to dollar amounts shall be in respect of lawful currency of the United States.
- (c) The titles to Articles and headings of Sections contained in this Agreement have been inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not be deemed to be a part of or to affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement, and this Agreement and the Transaction Agreements shall be construed without regard to any presumption or rule requiring construction or interpretation against the party drafting an instrument or causing any instrument to be drafted.
- (d) The Exhibits and Schedules shall be construed with and as an integral part of this Agreement to the same extent as if the same had been set forth verbatim herein.

ARTICLE II
THE SEPARATION AND OTHER ACTIONS PRIOR TO THE DISTRIBUTION

In order to effect the transactions contemplated by Articles III and IV, the NiSource Parties and the Columbia Parties shall take the following actions prior to the Distribution:

SECTION 2.1 SEC and Other Securities Filings.

(a) Columbia and NiSource shall use their respective commercially reasonable efforts to cause the Form 10 Registration Statement and the Form S-8 Registration Statement to become effective as soon as reasonably practicable. As soon as practicable after the Form 10 Registration Statement becomes effective, NiSource shall mail the Information Statement to the holders of record of NiSource Shares as of the Record Date.

(b) NiSource and Columbia shall take all such action as may be necessary or appropriate under state and foreign securities or “blue sky” Laws in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(c) NiSource and Columbia shall seek to have approved an application for the listing on the NYSE, subject to official notice of issuance, of the Columbia Shares and the shares of Columbia common stock, par value $0.01 per share, that are subject to issuance under the Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. 2015 Omnibus Incentive Plan (the “LTIP Shares”).

(d) NiSource shall give the NYSE notice of the Record Date in compliance with Rule 10b-17 under the Exchange Act.

(e) NiSource and Columbia shall cooperate in preparing, filing with the SEC and causing to become effective any other registration statements or amendments or supplements thereto that are necessary or appropriate in order to effect the transactions contemplated hereby, or to reflect the establishment of, or amendments to, any employee benefit plans contemplated hereby or by the Employee Matters Agreement.

SECTION 2.2 Stock-Based Employee Benefit Plans. NiSource and Columbia shall take all actions as are necessary to approve the stock-based employee benefit plans of Columbia in order to satisfy the requirements of Rule 16b-3 under the Exchange Act and the applicable rules and regulations of the NYSE.

SECTION 2.3 Governmental Approvals and Consents; Third-Party Consents. NiSource and Columbia shall use their respective commercially reasonable efforts to obtain all Governmental Approvals and Consents and all Third-Party Consents that are required or appropriate in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

SECTION 2.4 Additional Approvals. NiSource shall cooperate with Columbia in effecting, and if so requested by Columbia, NiSource shall, as the sole stockholder of Columbia prior to the Distribution, ratify any actions that are reasonably necessary or desirable to be taken by Columbia to effectuate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement in a manner consistent with the terms hereof, including the preparation and implementation of appropriate plans, agreements and arrangements for employees of the Columbia Business and non-employee members of the Columbia Board.

SECTION 2.5 The Agent. NiSource shall enter into a distribution agent agreement with the Agent or otherwise provide instructions to the Agent regarding the Distribution, such that the Agent, in its capacity as NiSource’s distribution agent and Columbia’s transfer agent, may distribute the Columbia Shares in the manner described in Article III.

SECTION 2.6 Additional Actions Prior to the Distribution Date. NiSource and Columbia shall take the following actions prior to the Distribution Date:

(a) Transfer of Assets. Prior to the date hereof, the appropriate NiSource Party transferred to the appropriate Columbia Party all of such NiSource Party's right, title and interest in and to certain of the Assets Transferred to Columbia. To the extent it has not already done so, as soon as practicable following the Effective Time, NiSource, shall, or shall cause the appropriate NiSource Party to, use its commercially reasonable efforts to transfer to the appropriate Columbia Party all of such NiSource Party's right, title and interest in and to all of the Assets Transferred to Columbia not previously transferred thereto, in each case, as described and on the terms set forth in Schedule 1.1(A) (all such transfers, whether occurring before or after the Distribution Date, being collectively referred to herein as the "NiSource Transfer"). Prior to the date hereof, the appropriate Columbia Party transferred to the appropriate NiSource Party all of such Columbia Party's right, title and interest in and to certain of the Assets Transferred to NiSource. To the extent it has not already done so, as soon as practicable following the Effective Time, Columbia, shall, or shall cause the appropriate Columbia Party to, use its commercially reasonable efforts to transfer to the appropriate NiSource Party all of such Columbia Party's right, title and interest in and to all of the Assets Transferred to NiSource not previously transferred thereto, in each case, as described and on the terms set forth in Schedule 1.1(B) (all such transfers, whether occurring before or after the Distribution Date, are collectively referred to herein as the "Columbia Transfer" and together with the NiSource Transfer, the "Transfers").

(b) Columbia Board. The Columbia Board shall be reconstituted so that it consists of the persons who are identified in the Information Statement as being directors of Columbia at the Effective Time or, in the event of the death or inability or unwillingness of any of such persons to serve on the Columbia Board, such other persons as shall be designated by the NiSource Board. Each member of the reconstituted Columbia Board shall be designated as a Class I, Class II or Class III director.

(c) Columbia Charter and Bylaws. The Columbia Board shall approve and adopt the Columbia Restated Certificate of Incorporation and the Columbia Amended and Restated Bylaws, and NiSource, as sole stockholder of Columbia, shall approve and adopt the Columbia Restated Certificate of Incorporation. Columbia shall file the Columbia Restated Certificate of Incorporation with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware.

(d) Subdivision of Columbia Common Stock to Accomplish the Distribution. Effective upon the filing of the Columbia Restated Certificate of Incorporation with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware pursuant to Section 2.6(c), each Columbia Share then issued and outstanding shall, without any action on the part of the holder thereof, be subdivided and converted into that number of fully paid and non-assessable Columbia Shares issued and outstanding equal to the number necessary to effect the Distribution.

SECTION 2.7 Intercompany Accounts; Intercompany Debt. No later than two business days immediately preceding the Distribution Date, NiSource shall prepare an estimate of all Intercompany Loan Balances as of immediately prior to the Effective Time, on a net basis in the aggregate (the "Estimated Intercompany Balance"), and no later than one business day after the Distribution Date, (a) if the NiSource Parties owe the Estimated Intercompany Balance to the Columbia Parties, NiSource shall pay the Estimated Intercompany Balance to Columbia or (b) if the Columbia Parties owe the Estimated Intercompany Balance to the NiSource Parties, Columbia shall pay the Estimated Intercompany Balance to NiSource. Within 60 days after the Distribution Date, NiSource shall prepare and deliver to Columbia a final statement setting forth the actual Intercompany Loan Balances as of immediately prior to the Effective Time, on a net basis in the aggregate and taking into account the payment of the Estimated Intercompany Balance as if it had been paid immediately prior to the Effective Time (the “Final Intercompany Balance”), and no later than five business days after the delivery of such final statement to Columbia, (i) if the NiSource Parties owe the Final Intercompany Balance to the Columbia Parties, NiSource shall pay the Final Intercompany Balance to Columbia or (ii) if the Columbia Parties owe the Final Intercompany Balance to the NiSource Parties, Columbia shall pay the Final Intercompany Balance to NiSource. Any amount payable pursuant to clause (i) or (ii) of the immediately preceding sentence shall be paid, together with interest thereon at a rate of 2.0% per annum for the period beginning on the Distribution Date and ending on the date of such payment, in immediately available funds to the account designated in writing by the receiving Party.

SECTION 2.8 Termination of Certain Existing Intercompany Agreements. The Intercompany Agreements set forth on Schedule 2.8, and all related intercompany arrangements and course of dealings, whether or not in writing and whether or not binding, as in effect immediately prior to the Distribution (collectively, the “Terminated Intercompany Agreements”), shall be terminated and be of no further force and effect from and after the Effective Time; provided, however, that, for the avoidance of doubt, this Section 2.8 shall not terminate or affect this Agreement or any Transaction Agreement. If any Intercompany Agreement, intercompany arrangement or course of dealings is terminated pursuant to this Section 2.8 and, but for the mistake or oversight of either party hereto, would not have been listed on Schedule 2.8, then, at the request of NiSource or Columbia made within 12 months following the Distribution Date, the relevant Parties shall negotiate in good faith after the Distribution to determine whether, notwithstanding such termination, such Intercompany Agreement, intercompany arrangement or course of dealings should continue following the Effective Time and the terms and conditions upon which the Parties may continue with respect thereto.

SECTION 2.9 Financial Instruments.

(a) Columbia will, at its expense, take or cause to be taken all actions, and enter into (or cause the other Columbia Parties to enter into) such agreements and arrangements, as shall be necessary to effect the release of and substitution for any NiSource Party, not later than the Effective Time, from all primary, secondary, contingent, joint, several and other Liabilities in respect of Columbia Financial Instruments to the extent related to the Columbia Parties or the Columbia Business (it being understood that all such Liabilities in respect of Columbia Financial Instruments are Columbia Liabilities).

(b) NiSource will, at its expense, take or cause to be taken all actions, and enter into (or cause the other NiSource Parties to enter into) such agreements and arrangements, as shall be necessary to effect the release of and substitution for any Columbia Party, not later than the Effective Time, from all primary, secondary, contingent, joint, several and other Liabilities in respect of NiSource Financial Instruments to the extent not related to the Columbia Parties or the Columbia Business (it being understood that all such Liabilities in respect of NiSource Financial Instruments are NiSource Liabilities).

(c) The parties' obligations under this Section 2.9 will continue to be applicable to all Columbia Financial Instruments and NiSource Financial Instruments identified by NiSource or Columbia at any time prior to the fifth anniversary of the Effective Time.

SECTION 2.10 Resignations .

(a) NiSource will cause all of its employees and directors and all of the employees and directors of each other NiSource Party to resign, effective no later than the Effective Time, from all boards of directors or similar governing bodies of Columbia or any other Columbia Party on which they serve, and from all positions as officers of Columbia or any other Columbia Party in which they serve, except as otherwise specified on Schedule 2.10. Columbia will cause all of its employees and directors and all of the employees and directors of each other Columbia Party to resign, effective not later than the Effective Time, from all boards of directors or similar governing bodies of NiSource or any other NiSource Party on which they serve, and from all positions as officers of NiSource or any other NiSource Party in which they serve, except as otherwise specified on Schedule 2.10.

(b) NiSource will cause each of its employees and each of the employees of each other NiSource Party to revoke or withdraw their express written authority, if any, to act on behalf of any Columbia Party as an agent or representative therefor after the Effective Time. Columbia will cause each of its employees and each of the employees of each other Columbia Party to revoke or withdraw their express written authority, if any, to act on behalf of any NiSource Party as an agent or representative therefor after the Effective Time. All authority (other than express written authority) of any employee of any NiSource Party to act on behalf of any Columbia Party, or of any employee of any Columbia Party to act on behalf of any NiSource Party, shall automatically be revoked and withdrawn as of immediately prior to the Effective Time with no further act on the part of any of the NiSource Parties or Columbia Parties.

SECTION 2.11 Provision of Corporate Records . Without limitation of the parties' rights and obligations pursuant to Article IX, prior to or as promptly as reasonably practicable after the Distribution, in each case to the extent practicable and at the cost of the requesting party:

(a) Upon the request of Columbia, NiSource shall deliver to Columbia all corporate secretary books and records of the Columbia Parties. NiSource may retain copies of such records in the possession or control of any NiSource Party.

(b) Upon the request of NiSource, Columbia shall deliver to NiSource all corporate books and records of the NiSource Parties in the possession or control of any Columbia Party.

SECTION 2.12 Bank Accounts; Cash Balances.

(a) The parties hereto agree to take, or cause to be taken, at the Effective Time (or such earlier time as NiSource may determine), all actions necessary to amend all Contracts governing each bank and brokerage account owned by any Columbia Party (the “Columbia Accounts”) so that such Columbia Accounts, if currently linked (whether by automatic withdrawal, automatic deposit or any other authorization to transfer funds from or to, hereinafter “linked”) to any bank or brokerage account owned by any NiSource Party (the “NiSource Accounts”) are de-linked from the NiSource Accounts. From and after the Effective Time, no employee of any NiSource Party shall have any authority to access or control any Columbia Account.

(b) The parties hereto agree to take, or cause to be taken, at the Effective Time (or such earlier time as NiSource may determine), all actions necessary to amend all Contracts governing the NiSource Accounts so that such NiSource Accounts, if currently linked to a Columbia Account, are de-linked from the Columbia Accounts. From and after the Effective Time, no employee of any Columbia Party shall have any authority to access or control any NiSource Account.

(c) It is intended that, following consummation of the actions contemplated by Section 2.12(a) and Section 2.12(b), there will continue to be in place a centralized cash management system pursuant to which the Columbia Accounts will be managed centrally and funds collected will be transferred into one or more centralized accounts maintained by one or more of the Columbia Parties.

(d) It is intended that, following consummation of the actions contemplated by Section 2.12(a) and Section 2.12(b), there will continue to be in place a centralized cash management system pursuant to which the NiSource Accounts will be managed centrally and funds collected will be transferred into one or more centralized accounts maintained by one or more of the NiSource Parties.

(e) With respect to any outstanding checks issued by any Party prior to the Effective Time, such outstanding checks shall be honored following the Effective Time by the member of the applicable Party owning the account on which the check is drawn.

(f) As between the Parties all payments and reimbursements made or received after the Effective Time by any NiSource Party that relate to the Columbia Business, or by any Columbia Party that relate to the NiSource Business, shall be held by such Party in trust for the use and benefit of the Party entitled thereto and, promptly upon receipt by such Party of any such payment or reimbursement, such Party shall pay over the amount of such payment or reimbursement without right of set-off.

(g) The Parties agree that, prior to the Effective Time, any of the NiSource Parties may withdraw any and all cash or cash equivalents from the Columbia Accounts for the benefit of any NiSource Party and any such cash or cash equivalents so withdrawn shall be a NiSource asset notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein.

SECTION 2.13 Delivery of Instruments of Conveyance. In order to effectuate the transactions contemplated by this Article II, including the Transfers, NiSource and Columbia have executed and delivered and, shall execute and deliver, or cause to be executed and delivered (including, for the avoidance of doubt, in the case of Transfers effected following the Effective Time), such agreements, deeds, bills of sale, instruments of assumption, instruments of assignment, stock powers, certificates of title and other instruments of assignment, transfer, contribution, assumption, license and conveyance, together with any agreements entered into in connection therewith (collectively, the “Conveyancing Instruments”) as NiSource and Columbia shall reasonably deem necessary or appropriate to effect such transactions, including the Transfers.

SECTION 2.14 Transaction Agreements. At or prior to the Effective Time, NiSource and Columbia shall execute and deliver, or cause to be executed and delivered, as appropriate, each of the Transaction Agreements; provided, that in the case of the Transfers effected following the Effective Time, the applicable Conveyancing Instruments will be executed and delivered following the Effective Time.

SECTION 2.15 Columbia Borrowings and Dividends. In order to facilitate the Distribution, prior to the date hereof Columbia issued $2,750,000,000 (two billion seven hundred fifty million dollars) in principal amount of senior unsecured notes and used the net proceeds to pay intercompany debt owed to the NiSource Parties and to pay the Special Dividend to NiSource as holder of record of all outstanding Columbia Shares.

ARTICLE III THE DISTRIBUTION

SECTION 3.1 Record Date and Distribution Date. Subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, including Section 3.6 and Section 3.8, the NiSource Board shall, in its sole and absolute discretion, establish the Record Date and the Distribution Date and any necessary or appropriate procedures in connection with the Distribution.

SECTION 3.2 The Distribution. Subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions set forth in Section 3.7(b) and at the sole and absolute discretion of NiSource, on the Distribution Date, NiSource shall cause the Agent to distribute to each holder of record of NiSource Shares as of the Record Date by means of a pro rata dividend of one (1) Columbia Share for each NiSource Share held of record by such holder as of the Record Date (the “Distribution”); provided, however, that any fractional Columbia Shares shall be treated as provided in Section 3.4. The Distribution shall be effective at 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on the Distribution Date (the “Effective Time”).

SECTION 3.3 Delivery of Columbia Shares. Each Columbia Share distributed pursuant to Section 3.2 shall be validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable and free of preemptive rights. The Columbia Shares distributed shall be distributed as uncertificated shares registered in book-entry form through the direct registration system. No certificates therefor shall be distributed. NiSource shall cause the Agent to deliver an account statement to each holder of record of Columbia Shares reflecting such holder’s ownership interest in Columbia Shares.

SECTION 3.4 Fractional Shares. No fractional Columbia Shares will be distributed in the Distribution. NiSource will direct the Agent to determine the number of whole Columbia Shares and fractional Columbia Shares allocable to each holder of record of NiSource Shares as of the Record Date. Upon the determination by the Agent of such number of fractional Columbia Shares, as soon as practicable after the Distribution Date, the Agent, acting on behalf of the holders thereof, shall aggregate all such fractional shares and sell the whole shares obtained thereby for cash on the open market and shall thereafter promptly disburse to each such holder entitled thereto its ratable portion of the resulting cash proceeds, after making appropriate deductions of the amounts required to be withheld for United States federal income tax purposes, if any, and after deducting an amount equal to all brokerage fees and other costs attributed to the sale of fractional Columbia Shares pursuant to this Section 3.4.

SECTION 3.5 Unclaimed Shares. Any Columbia Shares or cash in lieu of fractional shares with respect to Columbia Shares that remain unclaimed by any holders of record of NiSource Shares one hundred eighty (180) days after the Distribution Date shall be delivered to Columbia, and Columbia shall hold such Columbia Shares for the account of such holders, and the parties hereto agree that all obligations to provide such Columbia Shares and cash, if any, in lieu of fractional share interests shall be obligations of Columbia, subject in each case to applicable escheat or other abandoned property Laws, and NiSource shall have no Liability with respect thereto.

SECTION 3.6 Distribution at NiSource's Discretion. The consummation of the transactions provided for in the foregoing provisions of this Article III shall only be effected after the Distribution has been declared by the NiSource Board and after all of the conditions set forth in Section 3.7 have been satisfied or waived. Notwithstanding the foregoing, at any time and from time to time prior to the Distribution, NiSource, in its sole and absolute discretion, may determine to abandon the Distribution or modify or change the terms of the Distribution, including by accelerating or delaying the timing of the consummation of all or part of the Distribution.

SECTION 3.7 Conditions to the Distribution. The obligation of NiSource to effect the Distribution is subject to the satisfaction or the waiver by NiSource, in its sole and absolute discretion, of each of the following conditions:

(a) Approval by the NiSource Board. This Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, including the declaration of the Distribution, shall have been duly approved by the NiSource Board in accordance with applicable Law and the Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation and Bylaws of NiSource.

(b) Financings; Special Dividend. The Columbia Financing Transactions shall have been consummated; the Special Dividend contemplated by Section 2.15 shall have been paid to NiSource; NiSource shall be satisfied in its sole discretion that, as of the Effective Time, no NiSource Party shall have any Liability under the Columbia Financing Transactions; and NiSource shall have entered into a new credit facility on such terms and for such amount as may be acceptable to NiSource.

(c) Transaction Agreements. The Transaction Agreements (excluding, in the case of the Transfers effected following the Effective Time, the applicable Conveyancing Instruments) shall have been duly executed and delivered by the parties thereto, and each Transaction Agreement shall be in full force and effect.

(d) Form 10 Registration Statement. The SEC shall have declared effective the Form 10 Registration Statement, and no stop order suspending the effectiveness of the Form 10 Registration Statement shall be in effect or, to the knowledge of either NiSource or Columbia, threatened by the SEC.

(e) Information Statement. The Information Statement shall have been mailed to holders of record of NiSource common stock.

(f) State and Foreign Securities and “Blue Sky” Laws Approvals. NiSource and Columbia shall have received all permits, registrations and consents required under the securities or “blue sky” Laws of states or other political subdivisions of the United States or of applicable foreign jurisdictions in connection with the Distribution.

(g) Approval of NYSE Listing Application. The NYSE shall have approved for listing, subject to official notice of issuance, the Columbia Shares and the LTIP Shares.

(h) Receipt of Tax Opinion. NiSource shall have received an opinion of Sidley Austin LLP (“Sidley”) (or other nationally recognized tax counsel), in form and substance satisfactory to NiSource, confirming, among other things, the tax-free status of the Distribution for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

(i) Receipt of Solvency Opinion. An independent firm acceptable to NiSource, in its sole and absolute discretion, shall have delivered one or more opinions to the NiSource Board confirming the solvency and adequacy of capital of NiSource and Columbia, which opinions shall be in form and substance satisfactory to NiSource, in its sole and absolute discretion, and shall not have been withdrawn or rescinded.

(j) Consents. NiSource and Columbia shall have received all material Governmental Approvals and Consents required to have been received prior to the Distribution and all material Third-Party Consents necessary to effect the Distribution and to permit the operation of the Columbia Business after the Distribution Date.

(k) No Legal Restraint. No order, injunction or decree issued by any court or agency of competent jurisdiction or other legal restraint or prohibition preventing consummation of the Distribution or any of the transactions contemplated hereby.

(l) Credit Ratings. NiSource and Columbia shall have each received credit ratings from the credit rating agencies that are satisfactory to NiSource in its sole and absolute discretion.

(m) No Other Events. No event or development shall have occurred or shall exist that, in the judgment of the NiSource Board, in its sole and absolute discretion, makes it inadvisable to effect the Distribution or the other transactions contemplated hereby.

SECTION 3.8 NiSource Right Not to Close or to Terminate. The conditions set forth in Section 3.7 are for the sole benefit of NiSource and shall not give rise to or create any duty on the part of NiSource or the NiSource Board to waive or not waive any such condition or to effect the Distribution, or in any way limit NiSource’s power of termination set forth in Section 10.15. Any determination made by NiSource prior to the Distribution concerning the satisfaction or waiver of any or all of the conditions set forth in Section 3.7 shall be conclusive and binding on the parties hereto.

ARTICLE IV
NO REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

SECTION 4.1 No Representations or Warranties . EXCEPT AS EXPRESSLY SET FORTH HEREIN OR IN ANY TRANSACTION AGREEMENT, NO NISOURCE PARTY OR COLUMBIA PARTY MAKES ANY REPRESENTATION OR WARRANTY OF ANY KIND WHATSOEVER, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, TO ANY COLUMBIA PARTY OR NISOURCE PARTY, AS APPLICABLE, OR ANY OTHER PERSON WITH RESPECT TO ANY OF THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY, OR THE BUSINESS, ASSETS, CONDITION OR PROSPECTS (FINANCIAL OR OTHERWISE) OF, OR ANY OTHER MATTER INVOLVING, EITHER THE NISOURCE BUSINESS OR THE COLUMBIA BUSINESS, OR THE SUFFICIENCY OF ANY ASSETS TRANSFERRED TO THE APPLICABLE PARTY, OR THE TITLE TO ANY SUCH ASSETS, OR THAT ANY REQUIREMENTS OF APPLICABLE LAW ARE COMPLIED WITH, WITH RESPECT TO THE DISTRIBUTION AND THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY. EACH OF THE NISOURCE PARTIES AND THE COLUMBIA PARTIES SHALL TAKE ALL OF THE BUSINESS, ASSETS AND LIABILITIES TRANSFERRED TO OR ASSUMED BY IT PURSUANT TO THIS AGREEMENT OR ANY TRANSACTION AGREEMENT ON AN “AS IS, WHERE IS” BASIS, AND ALL IMPLIED WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A SPECIFIC PURPOSE OR OTHERWISE ARE HEREBY EXPRESSLY DISCLAIMED.

ARTICLE V CERTAIN COVENANTS

SECTION 5.1 Non-Assignable Contracts .

(a) If and to the extent that any NiSource Party is unable to obtain any consent, approval or amendment necessary for the transfer or assignment to any Columbia Party of any Contract or other rights relating to the Columbia Business that would otherwise be transferred or assigned to such Columbia Party as contemplated by this Agreement or any Transaction Agreement, (i) such NiSource Party shall continue to be bound thereby and the purported transfer or assignment to such Columbia Party shall automatically be deemed deferred until such time as all legal impediments are removed and all necessary consents have been obtained and (ii) unless not permitted by the terms thereof or by Law, the Columbia Parties shall pay, perform and discharge fully all of the obligations of the NiSource Parties thereunder from and after the Distribution, or such earlier time as such transfer or assignment would otherwise have taken place, and indemnify the NiSource Parties for all Losses arising out of such performance by such Columbia Party. The NiSource Parties shall, without further consideration therefor, pay and remit to the applicable Columbia Party promptly all monies, rights and other consideration received in respect of such performance. The NiSource Parties shall exercise or exploit their rights and options under all such Contracts and other rights, agreements and documents referred to in this Section 5.1(a) only as reasonably directed by Columbia and at Columbia's expense. If and when any such consent, approval or amendment shall be obtained or such Contract or other right or agreement shall otherwise become transferable or assignable or be able to be novated, the applicable NiSource Party shall promptly assign or transfer and novate (to the extent permissible) all of its rights and obligations thereunder to the applicable Columbia Party without payment of further consideration, and the Columbia Party shall, without the payment of any further consideration therefor, assume such rights and obligations. To the extent that the transfer or assignment of any Contract or other right (or the proceeds thereof) pursuant to this Section 5.1(a) is prohibited by Law or the terms thereof, this Section 5.1(a) shall operate to create a subcontract with the applicable Columbia Party to perform each relevant Contract or other right, agreement or document at a subcontract price equal to the monies, rights and other considerations received by the NiSource Parties with respect to the performance by such Columbia Party.

(b) If and to the extent that any Columbia Party is unable to obtain any consent, approval or amendment necessary for the transfer or assignment to any NiSource Party of any Contract or other rights relating to the NiSource Business that would otherwise be transferred or assigned to such NiSource Party as contemplated by this Agreement or any Transaction Agreement, (i) such Columbia Party shall continue to be bound thereby and the purported transfer or assignment to such NiSource Party shall automatically be deemed deferred until such time as all legal impediments are removed and all necessary consents have been obtained and (ii) unless not permitted by the terms thereof or by Law, the NiSource Parties shall pay, perform and discharge fully all of the obligations of the Columbia Parties thereunder from and after the Distribution, or such earlier time as such transfer or assignment would otherwise have taken place, and indemnify the Columbia Parties for all Losses arising out of such performance by such NiSource Party. The Columbia Parties shall, without further consideration therefor, pay and remit to the applicable NiSource Party promptly all monies, rights and other consideration received in respect of such performance. The Columbia Parties shall exercise or exploit their rights and options under all such Contracts and other rights, agreements and documents referred to in this Section 5.1(b) only as reasonably directed by NiSource and at NiSource's expense. If and when any such consent, approval or amendment shall be obtained or such Contract or other right or agreement shall otherwise become transferable or assignable or be able to be novated, the applicable Columbia Party shall promptly assign or transfer and novate (to the extent permissible) all of its rights and obligations thereunder to the applicable NiSource Party without payment of further consideration, and the NiSource Party shall, without the payment of any further consideration therefor, assume such rights and obligations. To the extent that the transfer or assignment of any Contract or other right (or the proceeds thereof) pursuant to this Section 5.1(b) is prohibited by Law or the terms thereof, this Section 5.1(b) shall operate to create a subcontract with the applicable NiSource Party to perform each relevant Contract or other right, agreement or document at a subcontract price equal to the monies, rights and other considerations received by the Columbia Parties with respect to the performance by such NiSource Party.

SECTION 5.2 Shared Contracts

(a) Any Contract with a Third Party that relates to both the NiSource Business and the Columbia Business (each such Contract, a “Shared Contract”) shall be handled as contemplated by Section 5.2(d) unless NiSource determines, in its sole discretion, that it is desirable to partially assign such Shared Contract as contemplated by Section 5.2(b) or to amend such Shared Contract as contemplated by Section 5.2(c).

(b) If any Shared Contract can be partially assigned by its terms and NiSource determines, in its sole discretion, that it is so desirable with respect to such Shared Contract, NiSource shall assign such Shared Contract in part to Columbia, or another Columbia Party designated by Columbia, so that the Columbia Parties will be entitled to the benefits and rights relating to the Columbia Business and will assume their related portion of any Liabilities under such Shared Contract. If any such partial assignment requires the consent or approval of any Third Party or any other required action, the partial assignment of such Shared Contract shall be effected in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, if and when such consent or approval is obtained or such other required action has been taken.

(c) If NiSource determines, in its sole discretion, that it is so desirable with respect to any Shared Contract, NiSource and Columbia shall, and shall cause the applicable NiSource Parties and Columbia Parties to, cooperate and use commercially reasonable efforts to enter into an arrangement with the counterparty to such Shared Contract to amend such Shared Contract so as to delete all obligations therefrom (i) to the extent that such obligations relate to the NiSource Business, and enter into a new Contract with the applicable counterparty which solely relates to the Columbia Business, on substantially equivalent terms and conditions as are then in effect under such Shared Contract, or (ii) to the extent that such obligations relate to the Columbia Business, and enter into a new Contract with the applicable counterparty which solely relates to the NiSource Business, on substantially equivalent terms and conditions as are then in effect under such Shared Contract.

(d) With respect to each Shared Contract that is not partially assigned or amended as contemplated by Section 5.2(b) or Section 5.2(c), NiSource and Columbia shall, and shall cause the applicable NiSource Parties and Columbia Parties to, cooperate in any lawful and reasonable arrangement, to the extent so permitted under the terms of such Shared Contract and applicable Law:

(i) to provide the applicable NiSource Party the benefits and obligations of any such Shared Contract with respect to the NiSource Business, including subcontracting, licensing, sublicensing, leasing or subleasing to the NiSource Party any or all of the rights and obligations with respect to such Shared Contract with respect to the NiSource Business, including, to the extent applicable and appropriate, upon the request and at the sole cost and expense of NiSource, CPG or the applicable CPG Parties using commercially reasonable efforts and in a commercially reasonable time-frame to pursue breach of warranty claims under such Shared Contract with respect to the NiSource Business on the applicable NiSource Parties’ behalf where such right to pursue a breach is not passed on to NiSource. In any such arrangement, the NiSource Parties will, with respect to that portion of the Shared Contract relating to the NiSource Business, (A) bear the sole responsibility for completion of the work or provision of goods and services, (B) bear all Taxes with respect thereto or arising therefrom, (C) be solely entitled to all benefits thereof, economic or otherwise, including the receipt of all goods and services thereunder, (D) be solely responsible for any amounts due thereunder, any warranty or breach thereof, any repurchase, indemnity and service obligations thereunder and any damages related to termination of such Shared Contract, (E) promptly reimburse the reasonable costs and expenses of Columbia and the applicable Columbia Party related to such activities, (F) be entitled to continue to receive any correspondence or invoices delivered with respect to such Shared Contract and (G) be entitled to receive copies of all correspondence and invoices delivered to or by any Columbia Party with respect to such Shared Contract; and

(ii) to provide the applicable Columbia Party the benefits and obligations of any such Shared Contract with respect to the Columbia Business, including subcontracting, licensing, sublicensing, leasing or subleasing to the Columbia Party any or all of the rights and obligations with respect to such Shared Contract with respect to the Columbia Business including, to the extent applicable and appropriate, upon the request and at the sole cost and expense of CPG, NiSource or the applicable NiSource Parties using commercially reasonable efforts and in a commercially reasonable time-frame to pursue breach of warranty claims under such Shared Contract with respect to the CPG Business on the applicable CPG Parties' behalf where such right to pursue a breach is not passed on to CPG. In any such arrangement, the Columbia Parties will, with respect to that portion of the Shared Contract relating to the Columbia Business, (A) bear the sole responsibility for completion of the work or provision of goods and services, (B) bear all Taxes with respect thereto or arising therefrom, (C) be solely entitled to all benefits thereof, economic or otherwise, including the receipt of all goods and services thereunder, (D) be solely responsible for any amounts due thereunder, any warranty or breach thereof, any repurchase, indemnity and service obligations thereunder and any damages related to termination of such Shared Contract, (E) promptly reimburse the reasonable costs and expenses of NiSource and the applicable NiSource Party related to such activities and (F) be entitled to receive copies of all correspondence and invoices delivered to or by any NiSource Party with respect to such Shared Contract.

(e) With respect to each Shared Contract that is the subject of an arrangement contemplated by Section 5.2(d), NiSource, on behalf of itself and each of the NiSource Parties, shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless each of the Columbia Parties from and against any and all Expenses or Losses incurred or suffered by one or more of the Columbia Parties in connection with, relating to, arising out of or due to, directly or indirectly, that portion of the Shared Contract relating to the NiSource Business. With respect to each Shared Contract that is the subject of an arrangement contemplated by Section 5.2(d), Columbia, on behalf of itself and each of the Columbia Parties, shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless each of the NiSource Parties from and against any and all Expenses or Losses incurred or suffered by one or more of the NiSource Parties in connection with, relating to, arising out of or due to, directly or indirectly, that portion of the Shared Contract relating to the Columbia Business.

(f) No NiSource Party or Columbia Party shall be required to pay any consideration to any Third Party in connection with implementing the arrangements contemplated by this Section 5.2.

(g) The parties shall follow the procedures specified in Section 10.2 in the event of any dispute regarding the rights and obligations of the NiSource Parties or the Columbia Parties with respect to any Shared Contract that is the subject of an arrangement contemplated by Section 5.2(d).

SECTION 5.3 Further Assurances. (a) Each Party shall use its commercially reasonable efforts, after the Distribution Date, to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, all things reasonably necessary or advisable under applicable Laws to consummate or make effective the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and each of the Transaction Agreements; provided, however, that no Party shall be obligated under this Section 5.3 to pay any consideration, grant any concession or incur any Liability to any Third Party.

(b) If, as a result of mistake or oversight, any asset or Contract reasonably necessary to the conduct of the Columbia Business is not transferred to the applicable Columbia Party or is transferred to any NiSource Party, or any asset or Contract reasonably necessary to the conduct of the NiSource Business is not transferred to the applicable NiSource Party or is transferred to any Columbia Party, the parties hereto intend that such asset or Contract shall be transferred to the Party that requires such asset or Contract for the conduct of its business, and NiSource and Columbia shall negotiate in good faith after the Effective Time to determine the terms of such transfer (which terms shall, to the extent applicable, be consistent with those contemplated for the transfer of assets under Section 2.6), or alternatively whether, notwithstanding such intent, such asset or Contract should not be transferred to a Columbia Party or to a NiSource Party, as the case may be, or the terms and conditions upon which such asset or Contract shall be made available to a Columbia Party or to a NiSource Party, as the case may be. Unless expressly provided to the contrary in this Agreement or any Transaction Agreement, if, as a result of mistake or oversight, any Columbia Liability is retained or assumed by any NiSource Party, or any NiSource Liability is retained or assumed by any Columbia Party, the parties hereto intend that such Liability shall be transferred to the Party with respect to which such Liability primarily relates, and NiSource and Columbia shall negotiate in good faith after the Effective Time to determine the consideration for such transfer and assumption or alternatively whether, notwithstanding such intent, such Liability should not be transferred to a Columbia Party or to a NiSource Party, as the case may be, or the terms and conditions upon which any such Liability shall be transferred. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section 5.3(b), (i) no NiSource Party or Columbia Party shall be obligated under this Section 5.3(b) to pay any consideration, grant any concession or incur any Liability to any Third Party other than the Liability to be transferred and (ii) Section 5.2 (and not this Section 5.3(b)) shall apply with respect to any Shared Contract.

SECTION 5.4 Receipt of Misdirected Assets. In the event that at any time and from time to time after the Effective Time, any NiSource Party shall receive from a Third Party an asset of the Columbia Business (including any remittances from account debtors in respect of the Columbia Business), such NiSource Party shall promptly transfer such asset to the appropriate Columbia Party. In the event that at any time and from time to time after the Effective Time, any Columbia Party shall receive from a Third Party an asset of the NiSource Business (including any remittances from account debtors in respect of the NiSource Business), such Columbia Party shall promptly transfer such asset to the appropriate NiSource Party. Each party hereto shall cooperate with the other party and use its commercially reasonable efforts to set up procedures and notifications as are reasonably necessary or advisable to effectuate the transfers contemplated by this Section 5.4.

SECTION 5.5 Late Payments. Except as expressly provided to the contrary in this Agreement or in any Transaction Agreement, any amount not paid when due pursuant to this Agreement or any Transaction Agreement (and any amounts billed or otherwise invoiced or demanded in writing and properly payable that are not paid within 30 days of the date of such bill, invoice or other written demand) shall accrue interest at a rate per annum equal to the Prime Rate in effect on the applicable due date.

SECTION 5.6 No Hire.

(a) NiSource agrees that, without the prior written consent of Columbia's Senior Vice President of Human Resources, neither it nor any other NiSource Party will, directly or indirectly, hire any employee of any Columbia Party for a period commencing at the Effective Time and ending on the earlier of (i) 12 months following the Distribution Date or (ii) until six months after such employee's employment with any Columbia Party terminates, provided that no NiSource Party directly or indirectly suggested or directed that such employee terminate his or her employment.

(b) Columbia agrees that, without the prior consent of NiSource's Senior Vice President of Human Resources, neither it nor any other Columbia Party will, directly or indirectly, hire any employee of any NiSource Party for a period commencing at the Effective Time and ending on the earlier of (i) 12 months following the Distribution Date or (ii) until six months after such employee's employment with any NiSource Party terminates, provided that no Columbia Party directly or indirectly suggested or directed that such employee terminate his or her employment.

SECTION 5.7 Litigation. (a) As of the Effective Time, the Columbia Parties shall assume and thereafter, except as provided in Article VIII, be responsible for all Liabilities that may result from the Assumed Actions and all Losses and Expenses relating to the defense of the Assumed Actions incurred after the Distribution.

(b) NiSource agrees that, at all times from and after the Effective Time, if an Action relating primarily to the NiSource Business is commenced by a Third Party naming either a Columbia Party or both a NiSource Party and a Columbia Party as defendants thereto, then NiSource shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such Columbia Party to be removed and dismissed from such Action; provided, however, that if NiSource is unable to cause such Columbia Party to be removed and dismissed from such Action, NiSource and Columbia shall cooperate and consult to the extent necessary or advisable with respect to such Action.

(c) Columbia agrees that, at all times from and after the Effective Time, if an Action relating primarily to the Columbia Business is commenced by a Third Party naming either a NiSource Party or both a NiSource Party and a Columbia Party as defendants thereto, then Columbia shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to cause such NiSource Party to be removed and dismissed from such Action; provided, however, that if Columbia is unable to cause such NiSource Party to be removed and dismissed from such Action, NiSource and Columbia shall cooperate and consult to the extent necessary or advisable with respect to such Action.

(d) NiSource and Columbia agree that, at all times from and after the Effective Time, if an Action that does not relate primarily to the Columbia Business or the NiSource Business is commenced by a Third Party naming both a NiSource Party and a Columbia Party as defendants thereto, then NiSource and Columbia shall cooperate and consult to the extent necessary or advisable with respect to such Action.

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, Columbia shall (A) have the right to negotiate, settle and compromise each Action identified on Schedule 5.7(A) on behalf of both all Columbia Parties and all NiSource Parties and (B) be entitled to all amounts payable by any Third Parties in connection with any such Action. None of the NiSource Parties shall be responsible for the payment of any fees, costs or expenses incurred in connection with any Action identified on Schedule 5.7(A).

(f) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, NiSource shall (A) have the right to negotiate, settle and compromise each Action identified on Schedule 5.7(B) on behalf of both all NiSource Parties and all Columbia Parties and (B) be entitled to all amounts payable by any Third Parties in connection with any such Action. None of the Columbia Parties shall be responsible for the payment of any fees, costs or expenses incurred in connection with any Action identified on Schedule 5.7(B).

SECTION 5.8 Signs; Use of Names. (a) Except as provided in the Transaction Agreements and subject to Section 5.8(d), on or prior to 180 days after the Distribution Date, the parties hereto, at the expense of the NiSource Party or Columbia Party that owns the tangible assets, shall remove (or, if necessary, on an interim basis cover up) any and all exterior and interior signs and identifiers on assets or properties owned or held by any Columbia Party that show any affiliation with any NiSource Party or the NiSource Business, or on assets or properties owned or held by any NiSource Party that show an affiliation with any Columbia Party or the Columbia Business. Subject to Section 5.8(d), Columbia hereby grants to the NiSource Parties and NiSource hereby grants to the Columbia Parties for a period of 180 days following the Distribution Date, a non-exclusive, non-transferable, fully-paid and royalty-free license to use their respective corporate names (the “Marks”) on business cards, schedules, stationery, displays, signs, promotional materials, manuals, forms, computer software and other material used in their respective businesses as of the Effective Time. Notwithstanding the foregoing and subject to Section 5.8(d): (i) NiSource shall use reasonable efforts to change all references in its materials to the Columbia Parties or the Columbia Business as soon as practicable following the Effective Time; and (ii) Columbia shall use reasonable efforts to change all references in its materials to the NiSource Parties, the NiSource Business and the name and mark “NiSource” or any variations thereof (the “NiSource Mark”) as soon as practicable following the Effective Time.

(b) Except as provided in the Transaction Agreements, after 180 days following the Effective Time, without the prior written consent of NiSource, the Columbia Parties shall not use or display the NiSource Mark, or other trademarks, trade names, logos or identifiers owned by or licensed to a NiSource Party that have not been assigned or licensed to a Columbia Party; provided, however, that notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing contained in this Agreement shall prevent the Columbia Party from using NiSource's corporate name in public filings with Governmental Authorities, materials intended for distribution to the stockholders of either party hereto or any other communication in any medium that describes the relationship between the parties, including materials distributed to employees relating to the transition of employee benefit plans; and; provided, further, that the continuation of references to the Marks in telephone directories (and other similar Third Party or incidental uses that are not capable of being updated within the time period set forth above) for a period not to exceed one year following the Effective Time shall not be deemed a breach of this Section 5.8.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing requirements of this Section 5.8, no Party shall be required to change any name including the word "NiSource" or "Columbia" in any Contract with a Third Party, or in property records with respect to real or personal property, if an effort to change the name is commercially unreasonable; provided, however, that each Columbia Party on a prospective basis from and after the Distribution Date shall change the name in any new or amended Contract with a Third Party or property record.

(d) Columbia acknowledges that the rights of the Columbia Parties to use the name and mark "Columbia" or variations thereof (the "Columbia Mark") licensed under the Trademark License Agreement are limited to the Licensed Services (as defined in the Trademark License Agreement). Columbia further acknowledges that the NiSource Parties have retained the right to use the Columbia Mark on or in connection with business activities outside the scope of the Licensed Services, including the NiSource Business. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall: (i) apply to or be deemed to limit the use by the NiSource Parties of the Columbia Mark in connection with any business or activity outside the Licensed Services or (ii) prevent the NiSource Parties from using the corporate name of any Columbia Party in public filings with Governmental Authorities, materials intended for distribution to NiSource stockholders or any other communication in any medium that describes the relationship between the parties.

SECTION 5.9 Form S-8 Registration Statement. Columbia shall prepare and file with the SEC such amendments to the Form S-8 Registration Statement as may be necessary to keep the Form S-8 Registration Statement effective under the Securities Act and to keep registered the Columbia Shares subject to stock-based awards granted to current or former officers, employees and directors of the NiSource Parties for a period of not less than ten (10) years following the Distribution Date, provided that, Columbia's obligations pursuant to this Section 5.9 shall terminate on the date upon which there are no further securities covered thereby that may be issued pursuant to stock-based awards granted to current or former officers, employees and directors of the NiSource Parties pursuant to the terms of the applicable long-term incentive plan.

SECTION 5.10 Financial Instruments. After the Effective Time, (a) without the consent of the applicable NiSource Party, Columbia will not, and will not permit any Columbia Party to, renew, extend, modify, amend or supplement any Columbia Financial Instrument in any manner that would increase, extend or give rise to any Liability of any NiSource Party under such Columbia Financial Instrument and (b) without the consent of the applicable Columbia Party, NiSource will not, and will not permit any NiSource Party to, renew, extend, modify, amend or supplement any NiSource Financial Instrument in any manner that would increase, extend or give rise to any Liability of any Columbia Party under such NiSource Financial Instrument.

SECTION 5.11 Documentation of Transfers. Each Party shall use its commercially reasonable efforts, after the Distribution Date, to take, or cause to be taken, all actions, and to do, or cause to be done, all things reasonably necessary or advisable under applicable Laws to document transfers of easements, rights of way, rights of access and other related assets that occurred prior to the Distribution Date, in each case, without the payment of any additional consideration and on the terms and conditions under which the Parties operated immediately prior to the Distribution Date.

ARTICLE VI INSURANCE MATTERS

SECTION 6.1 Insurance.

(a) Coverage. Subject to the provisions of this Section 6.1, coverage of the Columbia Parties under all Policies shall cease as of the Effective Time. From and after the Effective Time, the Columbia Parties will be responsible for obtaining and maintaining all insurance coverages in their own right. All Policies will be retained by the NiSource Parties, together with all rights, benefits and privileges thereunder (including the right to receive any and all return premiums with respect thereto), except that Columbia will have the rights in respect of Policies to the extent described in Section 6.1(b).

(b) Rights under Shared Policies. After the Effective Time, the Columbia Parties will have no rights with respect to any Policies, except that (i) Columbia will have the right to assert claims (and NiSource will use commercially reasonable efforts to assist Columbia in asserting claims if so requested by Columbia in writing) for any loss, liability or damage with respect to the Columbia Business or the Assets Transferred to Columbia under Policies that include any Columbia Party or any or all of the Columbia Business or the Assets Transferred to Columbia within the definition of the named insured, additional named insured, additional insured or insured (excluding, for the avoidance of doubt, any group health and welfare insurance policies) (“Shared Policies”) which are “occurrence basis” insurance policies or are insurance policies written on a “claims made and claims reported” basis (collectively, “Occurrence Basis Policies”) arising out of insured incidents occurring from the date coverage thereunder first commenced until the Effective Time to the extent that the terms and conditions of any such Occurrence Basis Policies and agreements relating thereto so allow, (ii) Columbia will have the right to continue to prosecute claims with respect to the Columbia Business or the Assets Transferred to Columbia properly asserted under Occurrence Basis Policies prior to the Effective Time to the extent that the terms and conditions of any such Occurrence Basis Policies and agreements relating thereto so allow (and NiSource will use commercially reasonable efforts to assist Columbia in asserting claims if so requested by Columbia in writing) and (iii) Columbia will have the right to continue to prosecute claims with respect to the Columbia Business or the Assets Transferred to Columbia properly asserted with the insurer prior to the Effective Time (and NiSource will use commercially reasonable efforts to assist Columbia in asserting claims if so requested by Columbia in writing) under Shared Policies with third-party insurers which are insurance policies written on a “claims made” basis (“ Claims Made Policies ”) arising out of insured incidents occurring from the date coverage thereunder first commenced until the Effective Time to the extent that the terms and conditions of any such Claims Made Policies and agreements relating thereto so allow; provided, however, that in the case of clauses (i), (ii) and (iii), (A) all of the NiSource Parties’ reasonable Out-of-Pocket Expenses incurred in connection with their efforts to assist Columbia in asserting or continuing to prosecute the claims described above are promptly paid by Columbia following receipt by Columbia of an invoice for such expenses, (B) subject to Section 6.1(c) and Section 6.2(b), the NiSource Parties may, at any time, without liability or obligation to any Columbia Party, amend, commute, terminate, buy out, extinguish liability under or otherwise modify any Shared Policies (and such claims shall be subject to any such amendments, commutations, terminations, buy outs, extinguishments and modifications), (C) such claims will be subject to (and recovery thereon will be reduced by the amount of) any applicable deductibles, retentions or self-insurance provisions, and, with respect to any such applicable deductibles, retentions or self-insurance provisions that require a payment (except for reinsurance treaty obligations) by any NiSource Party in respect thereof, Columbia shall reimburse such NiSource Party for such payment, (D) such claims will be subject to (and recovery thereunder will be reduced by the amount of) any payment or reimbursement obligations (except for reinsurance treaty obligations) of any NiSource Party in respect thereof, (E) Columbia shall be responsible for and shall pay any claims handling expenses or residual Liability arising from such claims to the extent that, prior to the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties have not paid for or been allocated such claims handling expenses and (F) such claims will be subject to exhaustion of existing sublimits and aggregate limits as provided in Section 6.1(d). NiSource’s obligation to use commercially reasonable efforts to assist Columbia in asserting claims under applicable Shared Policies shall include using commercially reasonable efforts to assist Columbia to establish its right to coverage under such Shared Policies (so long as all of the NiSource Parties’ Out-of-Pocket Expenses in connection therewith are promptly paid by Columbia). No NiSource Party will bear any Liability for the failure of any third-party insurer to pay any claim under any Shared Policy.

(c) In the event that after the Effective Time any NiSource Party proposes to amend, commute, terminate, buy out, extinguish liability under or otherwise modify any Shared Policy under which any Columbia Party has or may in the future have rights to assert claims pursuant to Section 6.1(b) in a manner that would adversely affect any such rights of such Columbia Party, (i) NiSource will give Columbia prior notice thereof and consult with Columbia with respect to such action (it being understood that the decision to take any such action will be in the sole discretion of NiSource), (ii) NiSource will not take such action without the prior written consent of Columbia, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed, (iii) NiSource will pay to Columbia its equitable share (which shall be mutually agreed upon by NiSource and Columbia, acting reasonably, based on the amount of premiums paid by or allocated to the Columbia Business in respect of the applicable Shared Policy), if any, of any net proceeds actually received by NiSource from the insurer under the applicable Shared Policy as a result of such action by NiSource (after deducting NiSource’s reasonable costs and expenses incurred in connection with such action) and (iv) Columbia will pay to NiSource its equitable share (which shall be mutually agreed upon by NiSource and Columbia, acting reasonably, based on the amount of premiums paid by or allocated to the Columbia Business in respect of the applicable Shared Policy), if any, of any net premium owed by NiSource to the insurer under the applicable Shared Policy as a result of such action by NiSource.

(d) To the extent that the limits of any Shared Policy preclude payment in full of any Unrelated Claim filed by both a NiSource Party and a Columbia Party, the insurance proceeds available under such Shared Policy shall be paid to such NiSource Party or such Columbia Party on a FIFO Basis. In the event that both a NiSource Party and a Columbia Party file Related Claims under any Shared Policy, each of such NiSource Party and such Columbia Party shall receive a pro rata amount of the available insurance proceeds, based on the relationship the Loss incurred by each such Party bears to the total Loss to both such Parties from the occurrence or event underlying the Related Claims, as determined by a third-party adjuster mutually agreed upon by NiSource and Columbia.

SECTION 6.2 Maintenance of Insurance for Columbia; D&O Insurance. (a) Until the Effective Time, NiSource shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to maintain in effect all Policies to the extent that such Policies apply to the Columbia Business.

(b) For a period ending on the sixth anniversary of the Distribution Date, NiSource shall not voluntarily amend, commute, terminate, buy out, extinguish liability under or otherwise modify any Executive Risk Shared Policies in any manner that would materially adversely affect the rights of any Person who was insured thereunder as of immediately prior to the Effective Time and who is an employee or director of any Columbia Party as of the Effective Time without the prior written consent of Columbia, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

SECTION 6.3 Administration and Reserves. (a) From and after the Effective Time, the NiSource Parties will be responsible for the Claims Administration with respect to claims of the NiSource Parties under Shared Policies.

(b) From and after the Effective Time, (i) with respect to claims of the Columbia Parties that are, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably expected to result in a recovery of an amount that is less than or equal to the retention amount under the applicable Shared Policy, (x) the NiSource Parties will be responsible for the Claims Administration with respect to such claims, (y) the Columbia Parties shall provide the NiSource Parties commercially reasonable assistance for the prosecution of such claims and (z) the NiSource Parties will not enter into any related agreements or full and final settlements without the written consent of Columbia (which consent shall not be unreasonable withheld, conditioned or delayed) and (ii) with respect to claims of the Columbia Parties that are, individually or in the aggregate, reasonably expected to result in a recovery of an amount in excess of the retention amount under the applicable Shared Policy, (x) the Columbia Parties will be responsible for the Claims Administration with respect to such claims, (y) the NiSource Parties shall provide the Columbia Parties commercially reasonable assistance for the prosecution of such claims and (z) the Columbia Parties will not enter into any related agreements or full and final settlements without the written consent of NiSource (which consent shall not be unreasonable withheld, conditioned or delayed). NiSource and Columbia shall make a good faith effort to agree on the amount attributable to any claim under a Shared Policy to the extent such claim is less than or equal to a retention amount. If the Parties fail to agree on such amount within a 30-day period, a third-party adjudicator mutually agreed upon by NiSource and Columbia shall determine such amount.

(c) In the event that, after the Effective Time, any NiSource Party proposes to change the third-party administrator for any Shared Policy under which Columbia has or may in the future have rights to assert claims pursuant to Section 6.1(b), NiSource will not take such action without the prior written consent of Columbia, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed.

(d) Any insurance or casualty reserves of the NiSource Parties with respect to the Columbia Business shall remain with the NiSource Parties from and after the Effective Time.

(e) To the extent reasonably practicable, NiSource shall provide statutory reporting, where required, relating to any claims of the Columbia Parties under Shared Policies.

SECTION 6.4 Insurance Premiums. From and after the Effective Time, NiSource will pay all premiums, Taxes, assessments or similar charges (retrospectively-rated or otherwise) as required under the terms and conditions of the respective Shared Policies in respect of periods of coverage prior to the Effective Time, whereupon Columbia will upon the request of NiSource promptly reimburse NiSource for that portion of such additional premiums and other payments paid by NiSource as are reasonably determined by NiSource to be attributable to the Columbia Business. Notwithstanding the foregoing, to the extent that Columbia has previously paid a premium (or has been allocated a portion of a premium by NiSource) or satisfied a deductible amount under a Shared Policy, Columbia shall not be required to pay such premium pursuant to the foregoing sentence or satisfy such deductible again if Columbia makes a claim under such Shared Policy in accordance with this Article VI.

SECTION 6.5 Agreement for Waiver of Conflict and Shared Defense. In the event that a Shared Policy provides coverage for both a NiSource Party, on the one hand, and a Columbia Party, on the other hand, relating to the same occurrence, NiSource and Columbia agree to defend jointly and to waive any conflict of interest necessary to the conduct of that joint defense. Nothing in this Section 6.5 will be construed to limit or otherwise alter in any way the indemnity obligations of the Parties, including those created by this Agreement, by operation of Law or otherwise.

SECTION 6.6 Duty to Mitigate Settlements. To the extent that any Party is responsible for the Claims Administration for any claims under any Shared Policy after the Effective Time, such Party shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to mitigate the amount of any settlements of such claims.

SECTION 6.7 Non-Waiver of Rights to Coverage. An insurance carrier that would otherwise be obligated to pay any claim shall not be relieved of the responsibility with respect thereto, or, solely by virtue of the provisions of this Article VI, have any subrogation rights with respect thereto, it being expressly understood and agreed that no insurance carrier or any Third Party shall be entitled to a benefit (i.e. , a benefit such Person would not be entitled to receive had the Distribution not occurred or in the absence of the provisions of this Article VI) by virtue of the provisions hereof.

EXPENSES

SECTION 7.1 Expenses. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement or any Transaction Agreement, following the Effective Time (a) NiSource shall pay any then unpaid fees, costs and expenses incurred by it or any NiSource Party in connection with the preparation, execution, delivery and implementation of this Agreement, any Transaction Agreement, the Form 10 Registration Statement, the Form S-8 Registration Statement and the Distribution and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby and (b) Columbia shall pay any then unpaid fees, costs and expenses incurred by it or any Columbia Party in connection with the preparation, execution, delivery and implementation of this Agreement, any Transaction Agreement, the Form 10 Registration Statement, the Form S-8 Registration Statement and the Distribution and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby.

ARTICLE VIII
MUTUAL RELEASES; INDEMNIFICATION

SECTION 8.1 Release of Pre-Distribution Claims.

(a) Except as provided in Section 8.1(b) or on Schedule 8.1(A), effective as of the Effective Time,

(i) NiSource, on behalf of itself and each of the NiSource Parties and its and their respective successors and assigns, does hereby release and forever discharge each of the Columbia Parties and their respective successors and assigns and all Persons who at any time prior to the Effective Time have been Representatives of any Columbia Party (in each case, in their respective capacities as such), and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns, from any and all demands, Actions and Liabilities whatsoever, whether at law or in equity (including any right of contribution), whether arising under any Contract, by operation of Law or otherwise, existing or arising from any acts or events occurring or failing to occur or alleged to have occurred or to have failed to occur or any conditions existing or alleged to have existed on or before the Effective Time, including in connection with the transactions and all other activities to implement the Distribution and any of the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any of the Transaction Agreements; and

(ii) Columbia, on behalf of itself and each of the Columbia Parties and its and their respective successors and assigns, does hereby release and forever discharge each of the NiSource Parties and their respective successors and assigns and all Persons who at any time prior to the Effective Time have been Representatives of any NiSource Party (in each case, in their respective capacities as such), and their respective heirs, executors, administrators, successors and assigns, from any and all demands, Actions and Liabilities whatsoever, whether at law or in equity (including any right of contribution), whether arising under any Contract, by operation of Law or otherwise, existing or arising from any acts or events occurring or failing to occur or alleged to have occurred or to have failed to occur or any conditions existing or alleged to have existed on or before the Effective Time, including in connection with the transactions and all other activities to implement the Distribution and any of the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any of the Transaction Agreements.

(b) Nothing contained in Section 8.1(a) shall impair any right of any Person identified in Section 8.1(a), pursuant to this Agreement, any Transaction Agreement, any Employee Contract or any Intercompany Agreement prior to the date hereof that is not a Terminated Company Agreement. Nothing contained in Section 8.1(a) shall release or discharge any Person from:

(i) any Liability or obligation under this Agreement, any Transaction Agreement, any Employee Contract or any other Intercompany Agreement prior to the date hereof that is not a Terminated Company Agreement;

(ii) any Liability the release of which would result in the release of any Person other than a NiSource Party or a Columbia Party or their respective Representatives (in each case, in their respective capacities as such); or

(iii) any accounts payable due to any NiSource Party or any Columbia Party in the ordinary course of business.

In addition, nothing contained in Section 8.1(a) shall release any Party from honoring its existing obligations to indemnify any Person who was a Representative of such Party, at or prior to the Effective Time, to the extent such Person becomes a named defendant in any Action involving such Party, and was entitled to such indemnification pursuant to then existing obligations (including under any applicable charter, bylaw or similar provision); provided, however, that to the extent applicable, Section 8.2 and Section 8.3 shall determine whether any Party shall be required to indemnify the other in respect of such Liability.

(c) NiSource shall not, and shall cause the other NiSource Parties not to, make any claim or demand, or commence any Action asserting any claim or demand, including any claim of contribution or indemnification, against any Columbia Party or any other Person released pursuant to Section 8.1(a)(i), with respect to any Liability released pursuant to Section 8.1(a)(i); and Columbia shall not, and shall cause the other Columbia Parties not to, make, any claim or demand, or commence any Action asserting any claim or demand, including any claim of contribution or indemnification, against any NiSource Party or any other Person released pursuant to Section 8.1(a)(ii), with respect to any Liability released pursuant to Section 8.1(a)(ii).

(d) It is the intent of each of the parties hereto by virtue of the provisions of this Section 8.1 to provide for a full and complete release and discharge of all Liabilities existing or arising from all acts and events occurring or failing to occur or alleged to have occurred or to have failed to occur and all conditions existing or alleged to have existed on or before the Effective Time between any of the NiSource Parties, on the one hand, and any of the Columbia Parties, on the other hand (including any Contracts existing or alleged to exist between any of the Parties on or before the Effective Time), except as expressly set forth in this Section 8.1. At any time, at the reasonable request of either party hereto, the other party hereto shall execute and deliver, or cause to be executed and delivered, releases reflecting the provisions hereof.

SECTION 8.2 Indemnification by Columbia. Except as provided in Section 8.5, in the Transaction Agreements or in any of the Surviving Intercompany Agreements, Columbia shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless each of the NiSource Parties, each of their respective Representatives and each of the heirs, executors, successors and assigns of any of the foregoing (collectively, the “NiSource Indemnified Parties”), from and against any and all Expenses or Losses incurred or suffered by one or more of the NiSource Indemnified Parties in connection with, relating to, arising out of or due to, directly or indirectly, any of the following:

(a) the failure by any Columbia Party or any other Person to pay, perform or otherwise promptly discharge any Columbia Liability in accordance with its terms;

(b) any Columbia Liability;

(c) the Columbia Business as conducted (regardless of whether by NiSource and its Subsidiaries, including the Columbia Parties, or another Person) on, at any time prior to or at any time after the Effective Time;

(d) except to the extent provided in Section 8.3(d), any claim that the information included in the Form 10 Registration Statement or the Information Statement is or was false or misleading with respect to any material fact or omits or omitted to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;

(e) except to the extent provided in Section 8.3(e), any claim that the information included in the Form S-8 Registration Statement or the prospectus forming a part thereof is or was false or misleading with respect to any material fact or omits or omitted to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;

(f) the use by any Columbia Party after the Effective Time of the name NiSource or any variation thereof, or other trademarks, trade names, logos or identifiers using any of such names or otherwise owned by or licensed to any NiSource Party;

(g) the breach by any Columbia Party of any covenant or agreement set forth in this Agreement or any Conveyancing Instrument;

(h) any item or matter for which reimbursement or indemnification is to be provided by Columbia in accordance with Section 8.5 of the Employee Matters Agreement; and in each case, regardless of when or where the loss, claim, accident, occurrence, event or happening giving rise to the Expense or Loss took place, or whether any such loss, claim, accident, occurrence, event or happening is known or unknown, or reported or unreported and regardless of whether such loss, claim, accident, occurrence, event or happening giving rise to the Expense or Loss existed prior to, on or after the Effective Time or relates to, arises out of or results from actions, inactions, events, omissions, conditions, facts or circumstances occurring or existing prior to, on or after the Effective Time.

(i) any Columbia Financial Instrument,

SECTION 8.3 Indemnification by NiSource. Except as provided in Section 8.5, in the Transaction Agreements or in any of the Surviving Intercompany Agreements, NiSource shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless each of the Columbia Parties, each of their respective Representatives and each of the heirs, executors, successors and assigns of any of the foregoing (collectively, the “Columbia Indemnified Parties”), from and against any and all Expenses or Losses incurred or suffered by one or more of the Columbia Indemnified Parties in connection with, relating to, arising out of or due to, directly or indirectly, any of the following:

(a) the failure by any NiSource Party or any other Person to pay, perform or otherwise promptly discharge any NiSource Liability in accordance with its terms;

(b) any NiSource Liability;

(c) the NiSource Business as conducted (regardless of whether by NiSource and its Subsidiaries, including the Columbia Parties, or another Person) on, at any time prior to or at any time after the Effective Time;

(d) solely with respect to the information contained in the Form 10 Registration Statement or the Information Statement that is set forth on Schedule 8.3(D) (and to the extent provided therein), any claim that the information included in the Form 10 Registration Statement or the Information Statement is or was false or misleading with respect to any material fact or omits or omitted to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;

(e) solely with respect to the information contained in the Form S-8 Registration Statement or the prospectus forming a part thereof that is set forth on Schedule 8.3(E) (and to the extent provided therein), any claim that the information included in the Form S-8 Registration Statement or the prospectus forming a part thereof is or was false or misleading with respect to any material fact or omits or omitted to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading;

(f) the breach by any NiSource Party of any covenant or agreement set forth in this Agreement or any Conveyancing Instrument;

(g) any item or matter for which reimbursement or indemnification is to be provided by NiSource in accordance with Section 8.5 of the Employee Matters Agreement; and in each case, regardless of when or where the loss, claim, accident, occurrence, event or happening giving rise to the Expense or Loss took place, or whether any such loss, claim, accident, occurrence, event or happening is known or unknown, or reported or unreported and regardless of whether such loss, claim, accident, occurrence, event or happening giving rise to the Expense or Loss existed prior to, on or after the Effective Time or relates to, arises out of or results from actions, inactions, events, omissions, conditions, facts or circumstances occurring or existing prior to, on or after the Effective Time.

(h) any NiSource Financial Instrument,

SECTION 8.4 Applicability of and Limitation on Indemnification. Except as expressly provided herein, the indemnity obligation under this Article VIII shall apply notwithstanding any investigation made by or on behalf of any Indemnified Party and shall apply without regard to whether the Loss or Expense for which indemnity is claimed hereunder is based on strict liability, absolute liability or any other theory of liability or arises as an obligation for contribution.

SECTION 8.5 Adjustment of Indemnifiable Losses.

(a) The amount that either party hereto (an “Indemnifying Party”) is required to pay to any Person entitled to indemnification hereunder (an “Indemnified Party”) shall be reduced by any insurance proceeds and other amounts actually recovered by or on behalf of such Indemnified Party (net of charges related directly and solely to the related indemnifiable Expense or Loss and costs and expenses (including reasonable legal fees and expenses) incurred by the Indemnified Party in connection with seeking to collect and collecting such amounts) in reduction of the related Expense or Loss (such net amounts are referred to herein as “Indemnity Reduction Amounts”). Each of NiSource and Columbia shall use its reasonable best efforts to collect any proceeds under its respective available and applicable Third Party insurance policies to which it or any of its Subsidiaries is entitled prior to seeking indemnification or contribution under this Agreement, where allowed; provided, however, that any such actions by an Indemnified Party will not relieve the Indemnifying Party of any of its obligations under this Agreement, including the Indemnifying Party’s obligation to pay directly or reimburse the Indemnified Party for costs and expenses actually incurred by the Indemnified Party. If any Indemnity Reduction Amounts are received by or on behalf of an Indemnified Party in respect of an indemnifiable Expense or Loss for which indemnification is provided under this Agreement after the full amount of such indemnifiable Expense or Loss has been paid by an Indemnifying Party or after an Indemnifying Party has made a partial payment of such indemnifiable Expense or Loss and such Indemnity Reduction Amounts exceed the remaining unpaid balance of such indemnifiable Expense or Loss, then the Indemnified Party shall promptly remit to the Indemnifying Party an amount equal to the excess (if any) of (i) the amount theretofore paid by the Indemnifying Party in respect of such indemnifiable Expense or Loss over (ii) the amount of the indemnity payment that would have been due if such Indemnity Reduction Amounts in respect thereof had been received before the indemnity payment was made. The Indemnified Party agrees that the Indemnifying Party shall be subrogated to such Indemnified Party under any insurance policy.

(b) An insurer who would otherwise be obligated to pay any claim shall not be relieved of the responsibility with respect thereto, or, solely by virtue of the indemnification provisions hereof, have any subrogation rights with respect thereto, it being expressly understood and agreed that no insurer or any other Third Party shall be entitled to a “windfall” (i.e., a benefit it would not be entitled to receive in the absence of the indemnification provisions) by virtue of the indemnification provisions hereof.

(c) Indemnity payments under this Agreement shall be reported for Tax purposes in accordance with Section 8.2 of the Tax Allocation Agreement and shall be adjusted in accordance with Sections 8.3, 8.4 and 8.5 of the Tax Allocation Agreement.

SECTION 8.6 Procedures for Indemnification of Third-Party Claims.

(a) If any Third Party shall make any claim or commence any arbitration proceeding or suit (each such claim, proceeding or suit being a “Third-Party Claim”) against any one or more of the Indemnified Parties with respect to which an Indemnified Party intends to make any claim for indemnification against Columbia under Section 8.2 or against NiSource under Section 8.3, such Indemnified Party shall promptly, but in no event later than 10 days after receipt by the Indemnified Party of written notice of the Third-Party Claim, give written notice to the Indemnifying Party describing such Third-Party Claim in reasonable detail. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the failure of any Indemnified Party to provide notice in accordance with this Section 8.6(a) shall not relieve the related Indemnifying Party of its obligations under this Article VIII, except to the extent that such Indemnifying Party is actually prejudiced by such failure to provide notice.

(b) The Indemnifying Party shall have 30 days after receipt of the notice referred to in Section 8.6(a) to notify the Indemnified Party that it elects to conduct and control the defense of such Third-Party Claim. If the Indemnifying Party does not give the foregoing notice, the Indemnified Party shall have the right to defend, contest, settle or compromise such Third-Party Claim in the exercise of its exclusive discretion subject to the provisions of this Section 8.6, and the Indemnifying Party shall, upon request from any of the Indemnified Parties, promptly pay to such Indemnified Parties in accordance with the other terms of this Section 8.6(b) the amount of any Expense or Loss subject to indemnification hereunder resulting from such Third-Party Claim. If the Indemnifying Party gives the foregoing notice within such 30-day period, the Indemnifying Party shall have the right to undertake, conduct and control, through counsel reasonably acceptable to the Indemnified Party, and at the Indemnifying Party’s sole expense, the conduct and settlement of such Third-Party Claim, and the Indemnified Party shall cooperate with the Indemnifying Party in connection therewith; provided, however, that: (i) the Indemnifying Party shall use its reasonable best efforts to prevent any lien, encumbrance or other adverse charge to thereafter attach to any asset of any Indemnified Party; (ii) the Indemnifying Party shall use its reasonable best efforts to prevent any injunction against any Indemnified Party; (iii) the Indemnifying Party shall permit the Indemnified Party and any counsel chosen by the Indemnified Party and reasonably acceptable to the Indemnifying Party to monitor such conduct or settlement and shall provide the Indemnified Party and any such counsel with such information regarding such Third-Party Claim as either of them may reasonably request (which request may be general or specific), but the fees and expenses of such counsel chosen by the Indemnified Party (but not more than one separate counsel for all Indemnified Parties similarly situated) shall be borne by the Indemnified Party unless (A) the Indemnifying Party and the Indemnified Party shall have mutually agreed that the Indemnifying Party should pay for such counsel, (B) in the Indemnified Party’s reasonable judgment a conflict of interest exists in respect of such Third-Party Claim or (C) the Indemnifying Party shall have assumed responsibility for such Third-Party Claim without any reservations or exceptions; and (iv) the Indemnifying Party shall agree promptly to reimburse to the extent required under this Article VIII the Indemnified Party for the full amount of any Expense or Loss resulting from such Third-Party Claim.

(c) If the Indemnifying Party shall not have undertaken the conduct and control of the defense of any Third-Party Claim as provided in Section 8.6(b), the Indemnifying Party shall nevertheless be entitled through counsel chosen by the Indemnifying Party and reasonably acceptable to the Indemnified Party to monitor the conduct or settlement of such claim by the Indemnified Party, and the Indemnified Party shall provide the Indemnifying Party and such counsel with such information regarding such Third-Party Claim as either of them may reasonably request (which request may be general or specific), but all costs and expenses incurred in connection with such monitoring shall be borne by the Indemnifying Party.

(d) Subject to Section 8.6(e), no Indemnifying Party will consent to any settlement, compromise or discharge (including the consent to entry of any judgment) of any Third-Party Claim without the Indemnified Party's prior written consent (which consent will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed); provided, however, that if the Indemnifying Party assumes the defense of any Third-Party Claim, the Indemnified Party will agree to any settlement, compromise or discharge of such Third-Party Claim that the Indemnifying Party may recommend and that by its terms obligates the Indemnifying Party to pay the full amount of indemnifiable Expenses or Losses in connection with such Third-Party Claim and unconditionally and irrevocably releases the Indemnified Party and its Affiliates completely from all Liability in connection with such Third-Party Claim; provided further that the Indemnified Party may refuse to agree to any such settlement, compromise or discharge that (i) provides for injunctive or other nonmonetary relief affecting the Indemnified Party or any of its Affiliates or (ii) in the reasonable opinion of the Indemnified Party, would otherwise materially adversely affect the Indemnified Party or any of its Affiliates. Whether or not the Indemnifying Party shall have assumed the defense of a Third-Party Claim, the Indemnified Party will not (unless required by Law) admit any liability with respect to, or settle, compromise or discharge, such Third-Party Claim without the Indemnifying Party's prior written consent (which consent will not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed).

(e) If the Indemnified Party determines in its reasonable good faith judgment that the Indemnifying Party is not contesting such Third-Party Claim in good faith or is not settling such Third-Party Claim in accordance with this Section 8.6, the Indemnified Party shall have the right to undertake control of the defense of such Third-Party Claim upon five (5) days written notice to the Indemnifying Party and thereafter to defend, contest, settle or compromise such Third-Party Claim in the exercise of its exclusive discretion.

(f) For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section 8.6 are in furtherance of the provisions of Section 9.1 and shall not be deemed to in any way limit or otherwise modify the Parties' rights and obligations under Section 9.1.

(g) To the extent that, with respect to any claim governed by Tax Allocation Agreement, there is any inconsistency between the provisions of such Article and of this Section 8.6, the provisions of of the Tax Allocation Agreement shall control with respect to such claim.

SECTION 8.7 Procedures for Indemnification of Direct Claims. Any claim for indemnification on account of an Expense or a Loss made directly by the Indemnified Party against the Indemnifying Party and that does not result from a Third-Party Claim shall be reasonably promptly asserted by written notice from the Indemnified Party to the Indemnifying Party specifically claiming indemnification hereunder. Such Indemnifying Party shall have a period of 30 days after the receipt of such notice within which to respond thereto. If such Indemnifying Party does not respond within such 30-day period, such Indemnifying Party shall be deemed to have refused to accept responsibility to provide indemnification with respect to such claim. If such Indemnifying Party does not respond within such 30-day period or does respond within such 30-day period and rejects such claim in whole or in part, such Indemnified Party shall be free to pursue resolution as provided in Article X.

SECTION 8.8 Contribution. If the indemnification provided for in this Article VIII is judicially determined to be unavailable (other than in accordance with the terms of this Agreement, in which case this Section 8.8 shall not apply) to an Indemnified Party in respect of any Losses or Expenses referred to herein, then the Indemnifying Party, in lieu of indemnifying such Indemnified Party, shall contribute to the amount paid or payable by such Indemnified Party as a result of such Expense or Loss in such proportion as is appropriate to reflect the relative fault of the Columbia Indemnified Parties, on the one hand, and the NiSource Indemnified Parties, on the other hand, in connection with the conduct, statements or omissions that resulted in such Expense or Loss. The relative fault of any Columbia Indemnified Party, on the one hand, and of any NiSource Indemnified Party, on the other hand, in the case of any Expense or Loss arising out of or related to information contained in the Form 10 Registration Statement, the Information Statement, the Form S-8 Registration Statement (including the related prospectus) or other securities Law filing shall be determined by reference to, among other things, whether the untrue or alleged untrue statement of a material fact or the omission or alleged omission of a material fact relates to information supplied by the Columbia Business or a Columbia Indemnified Party, on the one hand, or by the NiSource Business or a NiSource Indemnified Party, on the other hand. The information on Schedule 8.3(D) and Schedule 8.3(E) shall be deemed supplied by the NiSource Business or the NiSource Indemnified Parties. All other information in the Form 10 Registration Statement, the Information Statement and the Form S-8 Registration Statement (including the related prospectus) shall be deemed supplied by the Columbia Business or the Columbia Indemnified Parties.

SECTION 8.9 Indemnification Obligations.

(a) The indemnity and contribution agreements contained in this Article VIII shall remain operative and in full force and effect, regardless of (i) any investigation made by or on behalf of any Indemnified Party, (ii) the knowledge by the Indemnified Party of Liabilities for which it might be entitled to indemnification or contribution under this Agreement and (iii) any termination of this Agreement after the Effective Time.

SECTION 8.10 Remedies Cumulative. Subject to the provisions of Article VII and Section 8.12, the remedies provided in this Article VIII shall be cumulative and shall not preclude assertion by an Indemnified Party of any other rights or the seeking of any and all other remedies against any Indemnifying Party.

SECTION 8.11 Survival. Unless a specific survival or other applicable period is expressly set forth herein, all covenants and agreements of the parties contained in this Agreement relating to indemnification shall survive the Effective Time indefinitely.

SECTION 8.12 Exclusivity of Tax Allocation Agreement. Except as otherwise expressly set forth in this Agreement, the Tax Allocation Agreement shall be the exclusive agreement among any of the Parties with respect to indemnification in respect of Tax matters.

ARTICLE IX
ACCESS TO INFORMATION AND SERVICES

SECTION 9.1 Agreement for Exchange of Information. (a) Subject to Section 9.1(b), Section 9.8 and any other applicable confidentiality obligations, at all times from and after the Distribution Date for a period of six years, as soon as reasonably practicable after written request: (i) NiSource shall afford to the Columbia Parties and their authorized accountants, counsel and other designated representatives reasonable access during normal business hours to, or, at Columbia's expense, provide copies of, all Information in the possession or under the control of NiSource immediately following the Distribution Date that relates to Columbia, the Columbia Business or the employees or former employees of the Columbia Business; and (ii) Columbia shall afford to the NiSource Parties and their authorized accountants, counsel and other designated representatives reasonable access during normal business hours to, or, at NiSource's expense, provide copies of, all Information in the possession or under the control of Columbia immediately following the Distribution Date that relates to NiSource, the NiSource Business or the employees or former employees of the NiSource Business; provided, however, that in the event that either NiSource or Columbia determines that any such provision of or access to Information would be commercially detrimental in any material respect, violate any Law or agreement or waive any attorney-client privilege, the work product doctrine or other applicable privilege, the Parties shall take all reasonable measures to permit the compliance with such obligations in a manner that avoids any such harm or consequence and; provided, further that, with respect to Information that is subject to a retention period that is longer than six years under the policies and procedures of NiSource as in effect on the Distribution Date, the rights and obligations of the parties hereto under the foregoing provisions of this Section 9.1(a) shall apply to such Information for such longer period.

(b) Either party hereto may request Information under Section 9.1(a) or Section 9.7: (i) to comply with reporting, disclosure, filing or other requirements imposed on the requesting party or any of its Affiliates (including under applicable securities or Tax Laws) by a Governmental Authority having jurisdiction over such requesting party or Affiliate thereof; (ii) for use in any other judicial, regulatory, administrative, Tax or other proceeding or anticipated proceeding or in order to satisfy audit, accounting, claims defense, regulatory filings, litigation, Tax or other similar requirements (other than in connection with any Action or anticipated Action in which any NiSource Party is adverse to any Columbia Party); (iii) for use in compensation, benefit or welfare plan administration or other bona fide business purposes; (iv) to comply with its obligations under this Agreement or any Transaction Agreement or (v) to comply with its obligations under the policies and procedures of NiSource concerning the retention of Information as in effect on the Distribution Date or as amended in accordance with Section 9.4.

(c) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, until the end of the first full Columbia fiscal year occurring after the Distribution Date (and for a reasonable period of time afterwards as required for each party hereto to prepare consolidated financial statements or complete a financial statement audit for the fiscal year during which the Distribution Date occurs), each party hereto shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to cooperate with the other party's Information requests to enable the other party to meet its timetable for dissemination of its earnings releases and financial statements and to enable such other party's auditors to timely complete their audit of the annual financial statements and review of the quarterly financial statements.

SECTION 9.2 Ownership of Information . Any Information owned by any Party that is provided to a requesting Party pursuant to Section 9.1 shall be deemed to remain the property of the providing Party. Unless specifically set forth herein, nothing contained in this Agreement shall be construed to grant or confer rights of license or otherwise in any such Information.

SECTION 9.3 Compensation for Providing Information . The party requesting Information pursuant to Section 9.1 agrees to reimburse the providing party for the reasonable Out-of-Pocket Expenses, if any, of gathering and copying such Information, to the extent that such Out-of-Pocket Expenses are incurred for the benefit of the requesting party.

SECTION 9.4 Retention of Records . To facilitate the possible exchange of Information pursuant to this Article IX after the Distribution Date, except as otherwise required or agreed in writing, or as otherwise provided in the Tax Allocation Agreement, the parties hereto agree to use commercially reasonable efforts to retain all Information in their respective possession or control on the Distribution Date in accordance with the policies and procedures of NiSource as in effect on the Distribution Date or such other policies and procedures as may reasonably be adopted by the applicable party after the Distribution Date subject to the notice provisions of this Section 9.4 . For a period of six years following the Distribution Date, prior to amending in any material respect its policies or legal hold procedures with respect to retention of Information held by such party as of the Effective Time, the party proposing to amend its policies or legal hold procedures shall use its commercially reasonable efforts to provide no less than 30 days' prior written notice to the other party, specifying the amendments proposed to be made, and if, prior to the scheduled date for implementation of such amended policies or legal hold procedures, the other party requests in writing that implementation of such amended policies or legal hold procedures be delayed, the other party shall defer implementation for an additional 30 days and shall discuss in good faith during such 30-day period the written concerns and objections of the other party. Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither party shall be required to delay implementation of any amendment to Information retention policies and legal hold procedures to the extent such amendments are required by applicable Law. After the expiration of such required retention period, if any NiSource Party or Columbia Party wishes to destroy or dispose of any such Information, prior to destroying or disposing of any of such Information, (i) NiSource or Columbia, on behalf of the Party that is proposing to destroy or dispose of any such Information, will provide no less than 30 days' prior written notice to the other party, specifying in reasonable detail the Information proposed to be destroyed or disposed of and (ii) if, prior to the scheduled date for such destruction or disposal, the recipient of such notice requests in writing that any of the Information proposed to be destroyed or disposed of be delivered to such requesting party, the Party which is proposing to destroy or dispose of such Information promptly will arrange for the delivery of the requested Information to a location specified by, and at the expense of, the requesting party.

SECTION 9.5 Limitation of Liability. No Party shall have any liability to any other Party (a) if any Information exchanged or provided pursuant to this Agreement that is an estimate or forecast, or that is based on an estimate or forecast, is found to be inaccurate, in the absence of gross negligence or willful misconduct by the Party providing such Information or (b) if any Information is destroyed despite using commercially reasonable efforts to comply with the provisions of Section 9.4.

SECTION 9.6 Production of Witnesses; Records; Cooperation. At all times from and after the Distribution Date, each party hereto shall use commercially reasonable efforts to make available, or cause to be made available, to the other party hereto (without cost (other than reimbursement of actual Out-of-Pocket Expenses) to, and upon prior written request of, the other party) its directors, officers, employees and other Representatives as witnesses, and any books, records or other documents within its control or which it otherwise has the ability to make available, to the extent that any such person (giving consideration to business demands of such directors, officers, employees and other Representatives) or books, records or other documents may reasonably be required by the other party in connection with any Action or any reasonably anticipated Action (except in the case of any Action or any reasonably anticipated Action in which any NiSource Party is adverse to any Columbia Party) in which the requesting party may from time to time be involved with respect to the Columbia Business, the NiSource Business or any transactions contemplated hereby; provided that the same shall not unreasonably interfere with the conduct of business by the party of which the request is made. The requesting party shall bear all Out-of-Pocket Expenses in connection therewith.

SECTION 9.7 Sharing of Knowledge. Subject to Section 9.1(b) and any limitations set forth in any Transaction Agreement and subject to Section 9.8 and any other applicable confidentiality obligations, for a period of two years following the Distribution Date, as soon as reasonably practicable after written request: (a) to the extent that information or knowledge with respect to the Columbia Business as of or prior to the Effective Time is available through discussions with employees of the NiSource Parties, NiSource shall make such employees reasonably available to Columbia to provide such information or knowledge and (b) to the extent that information or knowledge relating to the NiSource Business as of or prior to the Effective Time is available through discussions with employees of the Columbia Parties, Columbia shall make such employees reasonably available to NiSource to provide such information or knowledge; provided, however, that in the event that either NiSource or Columbia determines that any such provision of such information or knowledge would be commercially detrimental in any material respect, violate any Law or agreement or waive any attorney-client privilege, the work product doctrine or other applicable privilege, the parties hereto shall take all reasonable measures to permit the compliance with such obligations in a manner that avoids any such harm or consequence; and provided further that, to the extent specific information or knowledge-sharing provisions are contained in any of the Transaction Agreements, such other provisions (and not this Section 9.7) shall govern.

SECTION 9.8 Confidentiality. (a) From and after the Distribution Date, each of NiSource and Columbia shall hold, and shall cause their respective Subsidiaries, Affiliates and Representatives to hold, in strict confidence, with at least the same degree of care that applies to NiSource's confidential and proprietary information pursuant to policies in effect as of the Distribution Date or such other procedures as may reasonably be adopted by the receiving party after the Distribution Date, all Confidential Information of the disclosing party or any of its Affiliates obtained by such receiving party prior to the Distribution Date, accessed by such receiving party pursuant to Section 9.1 or furnished to such receiving party by or on behalf of the disclosing party or any of its Affiliates pursuant to this Agreement or, to the extent not addressed in a Transaction Agreement, any agreement contemplated hereby, shall not use such Confidential Information (except as contemplated by this Agreement, such Transaction Agreement or any agreement contemplated hereby) and shall not release or disclose such Confidential Information to any other Person, except its Representatives, who shall be bound by the provisions of this Section 9.8 or similar confidentiality obligations; provided, however, that NiSource and Columbia and their respective Representatives may disclose or use such information if, and only to the extent that, (i) a disclosure of such information is compelled by judicial or administrative process or, in the opinion of the receiving party's counsel, by other requirements of Law (in which case such party will provide, to the extent reasonably practicable under the circumstances, advance written notice to the other party of its intent to make such disclosure) or (ii) the receiving party can show that such information (A) has been published or has otherwise become available to the general public as part of the public domain without breach of this Agreement, (B) has been furnished or made known to the receiving party without any obligation to keep it confidential by a Third Party under circumstances that are not known to the receiving party to involve a breach of the Third Party's obligations to a Party or (C) was developed independently of information furnished or made available to the receiving party as contemplated under this Agreement (except, in the case of each of (A), (B) and (C), to the extent that notwithstanding the foregoing, use or disclosure thereof would be prohibited by applicable Law); and provided further that NiSource and Columbia may disclose, or permit disclosure of, Confidential Information to their respective auditors, attorneys, financial advisors, bankers and other appropriate Representatives who have a need to know such information and are informed of their obligation to hold such information confidential to the same extent as is applicable to the Parties and in respect of whose failure to comply with such obligations, the applicable Party will be responsible. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that any demand or request for disclosure of Confidential Information is made pursuant to clause (i) above, each party hereto, as applicable, shall promptly notify the other of the existence of such request or demand and shall provide the other a reasonable opportunity to seek an appropriate protective order or other remedy, which the parties hereto will cooperate in obtaining. In the event that such appropriate protective order or other remedy is not obtained, the party whose Confidential Information is required to be disclosed shall or shall cause the other applicable party to furnish, or cause to be furnished, only that portion of the Confidential Information that is legally required to be disclosed and shall take commercially reasonable steps to ensure that confidential treatment is accorded such information.

(b) Each of NiSource and Columbia, respectively, shall be responsible for any breach of this Section 9.8 by any of its Representatives to whom it has disclosed Confidential Information.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of this Section 9.8, each of NiSource and Columbia will be deemed to have satisfied its obligations under Section 9.8(a) with respect to preserving the confidentiality of the other party's Confidential Information as long as it takes the same degree of care that it takes to: (i) secure and maintain the confidentiality of its own similar information; (ii) protect its own similar information against anticipated threats or hazards; and (iii) protect against loss or theft or unauthorized access, copying, disclosure, loss, damage, modification or use of its own similar information.

(d) Each of NiSource and Columbia acknowledges that the disclosing party would not have an adequate remedy at law for the breach by the receiving party of any one or more of the covenants contained in this Section 9.8 and agrees that, notwithstanding Section 10.2, the disclosing party shall, in addition to the other remedies that may be available to it, be entitled to an injunction to prevent actual or threatened breaches of this Section 9.8 and to enforce specifically the terms and provisions of this Section 9.8 in any court of competent jurisdiction. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, the provisions of this Section 9.8 shall survive the Distribution Date indefinitely.

(e) This Section 9.8 shall not apply with respect to Confidential Information furnished to the receiving party or accessed by the receiving party pursuant to any Transaction Agreement, except to the extent that such Transaction Agreement incorporates the provisions of this Section 9.8 by reference.

(f) Notwithstanding the limitations set forth in this Section 9.8, with respect to financial and other information related to the Columbia Parties for the periods during which such Columbia Parties were Subsidiaries of NiSource, in addition to fulfilling its periodic reporting obligations with the SEC as required by applicable Law, NiSource shall be permitted to disclose such information in its earnings releases, investor calls, rating agency presentations and other similar disclosures.

SECTION 9.9 Privileged Matters. (a) Each of NiSource and Columbia agrees to maintain, preserve and assert all privileges, including privileges arising under or relating to the attorney-client relationship (which shall include the attorney-client and work product privileges), not heretofore waived, that relate to the Columbia Business or the NiSource Business for any period prior to the Distribution Date (each a “Privilege”). Each party hereto acknowledges and agrees that any costs associated with asserting any Privilege shall be borne by the party requesting that such Privilege be asserted. Each party hereto agrees that neither it nor any of its Affiliates shall waive any Privilege that could be asserted by the other party hereto or any of its Affiliates under applicable Law without the prior written consent of the other party (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed). The rights and obligations created by this Section 9.9 shall apply to all information relating to the NiSource Business or the Columbia Business as to which, but for the Distribution, any Party would have been entitled to assert or did assert the protection of a Privilege (“Privileged Information”), including (i) any and all information generated prior to the Distribution Date but which, after the Distribution, is in the possession of any Party and (ii) all information generated, received or arising after the Distribution Date that refers to or relates to Privileged Information generated, received or arising prior to the Distribution Date.

(b) Upon receipt by either party of any subpoena, discovery or other request that may call for the production or disclosure of Privileged Information or if any party obtains knowledge that any current or former director, officer or employee of NiSource, Columbia or any of their respective Affiliates has received any subpoena, discovery or other request that may call for the production or disclosure of Privileged Information of the other party or any of such other party’s

Affiliates, such party shall notify promptly the other party hereto of the existence of the request and shall provide the other party hereto a reasonable opportunity to review the information and to assert any rights it or any of its Affiliates may have under this Section 9.9 or otherwise to prevent the production or disclosure of Privileged Information. Each party hereto agrees that it will not produce or disclose, or permit any of its Affiliates to produce or disclose, any information that may be covered by a Privilege of the other party hereto or any of such other party's Affiliates under this Section 9.9 unless (i) the other party has provided its written consent to such production or disclosure (which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, conditioned or delayed) or (ii) a court of competent jurisdiction has entered a final, nonappealable order finding that the information is not entitled to protection under any applicable Privilege.

(c) NiSource's transfer of books and records and other information to Columbia, and NiSource's agreement to permit Columbia to possess Privileged Information existing or generated prior to the Distribution Date, are made in reliance on Columbia's agreement, as set forth in Section 9.8 and Section 9.9, to maintain the confidentiality of Privileged Information and to assert and maintain all applicable Privileges. The access to information being granted pursuant to Section 9.1, the agreement to provide witnesses and individuals pursuant to Section 9.6 and the transfer of Privileged Information to Columbia pursuant to this Agreement shall not be deemed a waiver of any Privilege that has been or may be asserted under this Section 9.9 or otherwise. Nothing in this Agreement shall operate to reduce, minimize or condition the rights granted to NiSource in, or the obligations imposed upon Columbia by, this Section 9.9. Columbia's transfer of books and records and other information to NiSource, and Columbia's agreement to permit NiSource to possess Privileged Information existing or generated prior to the Distribution Date, are made in reliance on NiSource's agreement, as set forth in Section 9.8 and Section 9.9, to maintain the confidentiality of Privileged Information and to assert and maintain all applicable Privileges. The access to information being granted pursuant to Section 9.1, the agreement to provide witnesses and individuals pursuant to Section 9.6 and the transfer of Privileged Information to NiSource pursuant to this Agreement shall not be deemed a waiver of any Privilege that has been or may be asserted under this Section 9.9 or otherwise. Nothing in this Agreement shall operate to reduce, minimize or condition the rights granted to Columbia in, or the obligations imposed upon NiSource by, this Section 9.9. For the avoidance of doubt, to the extent that books, records and other information remain in the possession of any of the NiSource Parties, such books, records and other information shall remain the property of NiSource, and NiSource shall retain the right to assert privilege over them.

(d) If any dispute arises between any NiSource Party and any Columbia Party regarding whether a privilege should be waived to protect or advance the interests of either the NiSource Parties or the Columbia Parties, each party hereto agrees that it shall (i) negotiate with the other party hereto in good faith, (ii) endeavor to minimize any prejudice to the rights of the other party hereto and (iii) not unreasonably withhold, condition or delay consent to any request for waiver by the other party hereto. Nevertheless, each Party is permitted to withhold its consent to the waiver of a privilege for the purpose of protecting its own legitimate interests.

(e) The transfer of all Information pursuant to this Agreement is made in reliance on the agreement of NiSource and Columbia set forth in Section 9.8 and this Section 9.9 to maintain the confidentiality of privileged Information and to assert and maintain all applicable privileges.

The parties agree that their respective rights to any access to Information, witnesses and other Persons, the furnishing of notices and documents and other cooperative efforts between the Parties contemplated by this Agreement, and the transfer of privileged Information between the Parties pursuant to this Agreement, shall not be deemed a waiver of any privilege that has been or may be asserted under this Agreement or otherwise.

SECTION 9.10 Attorney Representation. (a) Columbia, on behalf of itself and the other Columbia Parties, hereby acknowledges that Sidley is counsel to NiSource, and not counsel to any Columbia Party, in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Columbia acknowledges that Sidley has acted as counsel for NiSource and that, in the event of any Dispute (under Article VIII or otherwise), NiSource reasonably anticipates that Sidley will represent the NiSource Parties in such matters. Accordingly, to the extent required by applicable Law or otherwise, Columbia, on behalf of itself and each of the Columbia Parties, expressly (i) consents to Sidley's representation of any of the NiSource Parties in any post-Distribution matter in which the interests of any Columbia Party, on the one hand, and any NiSource Party, on the other hand, are adverse, whether or not such matter is one in which Sidley may have previously advised NiSource; (ii) consents to the disclosure by Sidley to NiSource of any information learned by Sidley in the course of its representation of NiSource, whether or not such information is subject to the attorney-client privilege or Sidley's duty of confidentiality and whether or not such disclosure is made before or after the Distribution; and (iii) irrevocably waives any right it may have to discover or obtain information or documentation relating to the representation of NiSource by Sidley, including in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any of the Transaction Agreements. Columbia further covenants, on behalf of itself and each of the Columbia Parties, that it shall not assert any claim against Sidley in respect of legal services provided to NiSource by Sidley, whether or not such services relate to the Columbia Business, the Assets Transferred to Columbia or the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any of the Transaction Agreements.

(b) NiSource, on behalf of itself and the other NiSource Parties, hereby waives any conflict of interest with respect to any attorney who is or becomes an employee of Columbia resulting from such person being an employee of NiSource or any of its Subsidiaries (including the Columbia Parties) or having provided legal services to NiSource or any of its Subsidiaries at any time prior to the Distribution and agrees to allow such attorney to represent the Columbia Parties in any transaction or dispute with respect to this Agreement, the Transaction Agreements, the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby and transactions between the Parties that commence following the Distribution Date. Columbia, on behalf of itself and the other Columbia Parties, hereby waives any conflict of interest with respect to any attorney who is or becomes an employee of NiSource resulting from such person being an employee of Columbia or any of its Subsidiaries or having provided legal services to Columbia or any of its Subsidiaries at any time prior to the Distribution and agrees to allow such attorney to represent the NiSource Parties in any transaction or dispute with respect to this Agreement, the Transaction Agreements and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby and transactions between the Parties that commence following the Distribution Date.

(c) In furtherance of the foregoing provisions of this Section 9.10, each NiSource Party and each Columbia Party will, upon request, execute and deliver a specific waiver as may be required in connection with a particular transaction or dispute under the applicable rules of professional conduct in order to effectuate the general waiver set forth above.

SECTION 9.11 Financial Information Certifications. (a) In order to enable the principal executive officer or officers, principal financial officer or officers and controller or controllers of NiSource to make the certifications required of them under Section 302 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, within 30 days following the end of any fiscal quarter during which Columbia was a Subsidiary of NiSource, and within 60 days following the end of any fiscal year during which Columbia was a Subsidiary of NiSource, Columbia shall provide a certification statement with respect to internal controls for corporate and shared services processes for such quarter, year or portion thereof to those certifying officers and employees of NiSource, which certification shall be in substantially the same form as had been provided by officers or employees of Columbia in certifications delivered prior to the Distribution Date (provided that such certification shall be made by Columbia rather than individual officers or employees), or as otherwise agreed upon between the parties hereto. Such certification statements shall also reflect any changes in certification statements necessitated by the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

(b) In order to enable the principal executive officer or officers, principal financial officer or officers and controller or controllers of Columbia to make the certifications required of them under Section 302 of the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, within 30 days following the end of any fiscal quarter during which Columbia was a Subsidiary of NiSource, and within 60 days following the end of any fiscal year during which Columbia was a Subsidiary of NiSource, NiSource shall provide a certification statement with respect to internal controls for corporate and shared services processes for such quarter, year or portion thereof to those certifying officers and employees of Columbia, which certification shall be in substantially the same form as had been provided by officers or employees of NiSource in certifications delivered to its principal executive officer, principal financial officer and controller prior to the Distribution Date (provided that such certification shall be made by NiSource rather than individual officers or employees), or as otherwise agreed upon between the parties hereto. Such certification statements shall also reflect any changes in certification statements necessitated by the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

ARTICLE X MISCELLANEOUS

SECTION 10.1 Entire Agreement. This Agreement and the Transaction Agreements, including the Schedules and Exhibits referred to herein and therein, and the documents delivered pursuant hereto and thereto, contain the entire understanding of the parties hereto with regard to the subject matter contained herein or therein, and supersede all prior agreements, negotiations, discussions, understandings, writings and commitments between any of the NiSource Parties, on the one hand, and any of the Columbia Parties, on the other hand, with respect to such subject matter hereof or thereof.

SECTION 10.2 Dispute Resolution; Mediation.

(a) Subject to Section 10.2(c) and except as otherwise expressly set forth in any Transaction Agreement, either party hereto seeking resolution of any dispute, controversy or claim arising out of or relating to this Agreement, or the validity, interpretation, breach or termination of this Agreement (each, a “Dispute”), shall provide written notice thereof to the other party hereto, and following delivery of such notice, the parties hereto shall attempt in good faith to negotiate a resolution of the Dispute. The negotiations shall be conducted by executives who have authority to settle the Dispute and who are at a higher level of management than the persons with direct responsibility for the subject matter of the Dispute. All such negotiations shall be confidential and shall be treated as compromise and settlement negotiations for purposes of applicable rules of evidence. If the parties hereto are unable for any reason to resolve a Dispute within 30 days after the delivery of such notice or if a party hereto reasonably concludes that the other party is not willing to negotiate as contemplated by this Section 10.2(a), the Dispute shall be submitted to mediation in accordance with Section 10.2(b).

(b) Any Dispute not resolved pursuant to Section 10.2(a) shall, at the written request of any party hereto (a “Mediation Request”), be submitted to non-binding mediation in accordance with the then current International Institute for Conflict Prevention and Resolution (“CPR”) Mediation Procedure (the “Procedure”), except as modified herein. The mediation shall be held in Chicago, Illinois. The parties shall have 20 days from receipt by a party (or parties) of a Mediation Request to agree on a mediator. If no mediator has been agreed upon by the parties within 20 days of receipt by a party (or parties) of a Mediation Request, then any party may request (on written notice to the other party), that CPR appoint a mediator in accordance with the Procedure. All mediation pursuant to this clause shall be confidential and shall be treated as compromise and settlement negotiations for purposes of applicable rules of evidence, and no oral or documentary representations made by the parties during such mediation shall be admissible for any purpose in any subsequent proceedings. No party hereto shall disclose or permit the disclosure of any information about the evidence adduced or the documents produced by any other party in the mediation proceedings or about the existence, contents or results of the mediation without the prior written consent of such other party except in the course of a judicial or regulatory proceeding or as may be required by Law or requested by a Governmental Authority or securities exchange. Before making any disclosure permitted by the preceding sentence, the party intending to make such disclosure shall, to the extent reasonably practicable, give the other party reasonable written notice of the intended disclosure and afford the other party a reasonable opportunity to protect its interests. If the Dispute has not been resolved within 60 days of the appointment of a mediator, or within 90 days after receipt by a party (or parties) of a Mediation Request (whichever occurs sooner), or within such longer period as the parties may agree to in writing, then any party may file an action on the Dispute in any court having jurisdiction in accordance with Section 10.4.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 10.2, (i) any party hereto may seek preliminary provisional or injunctive judicial relief without first complying with the procedures set forth in Section 10.2(a) and Section 10.2(b) if such action is reasonably necessary to avoid irreparable damage and (ii) either party hereto may initiate litigation before the expiration of the periods specified in Section 10.2(b) if such party has submitted a Mediation Request and the other party has failed, within 14 days after the appointment of a mediator, to agree upon a date for the first mediation session to take place within 30 days after the appointment of such mediator or such longer period as the parties may agree to in writing. The parties hereto agree that the remedies at law for any breach or threatened breach, including monetary damages, may be inadequate compensation for any loss and that any defense in any action for specific performance that a remedy at law would be adequate is waived by each of the parties hereto. Any requirements for the securing or posting of any bond with such remedy are waived by each of the parties hereto.

SECTION 10.3 Governing Law. This Agreement and all Disputes shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the internal Laws (as opposed to the conflicts of Law provisions) of the State of Delaware.

SECTION 10.4 Submission to Jurisdiction; Waiver of Jury Trial. Each of NiSource, on behalf of itself and each of the NiSource Parties, and Columbia, on behalf of itself and each of the Columbia Parties, hereby irrevocably (a) submits in any Dispute to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the jurisdiction of any court of the State of Illinois located in Chicago, Illinois, (b) waives any and all objections to jurisdiction that it may have under the Laws of the State of Illinois or the United States, (c) agrees that service of any process, summons, notice or document by U.S. registered mail to its respective address set forth in Section 10.11 shall be effective service of process for any litigation brought against it in any such court and (d) UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT IT MAY HAVE TO TRIAL BY JURY IN CONNECTION WITH ANY DISPUTE (AS DEFINED HEREIN).

SECTION 10.5 Amendment. This Agreement shall not be amended, modified or supplemented except by a written instrument signed by an authorized representative of each of NiSource and Columbia.

SECTION 10.6 Waiver. Any term or provision of this Agreement may be waived, or the time for its performance may be extended, by the party or parties entitled to the benefit thereof. Any such waiver shall be validly and sufficiently given for the purposes of this Agreement if, as to either party, it is in writing signed by an authorized representative of such party. The failure of either party to enforce at any time any provision of this Agreement shall not be construed to be a waiver of such provision, or in any way to affect the validity of this Agreement or any part hereof or the right of any party thereafter to enforce each and every such provision. No waiver of any breach of this Agreement shall be held to constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach.

SECTION 10.7 Partial Invalidity. Wherever possible, each provision hereof shall be construed in a manner as to be effective and valid under applicable Law, but in case any one or more of the provisions contained herein shall, for any reason, be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such provision shall be ineffective to the extent, but only to the extent of such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability without invalidating the remainder of such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision or provisions or any other provision hereof, unless such a construction would be unreasonable.

SECTION 10.8 Execution in Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original instrument, but both of which shall be considered one and the same agreement, and shall become binding when the counterparts have been signed by and delivered to each of the parties hereto. Delivery of an executed counterpart of a signature page to this Agreement by facsimile or pdf shall be as effective as delivery of a manually executed counterpart to this Agreement.

SECTION 10.9 Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their successors and permitted assigns; provided, however, that the rights and obligations of either party under this Agreement shall not be assignable by such party without the prior written consent of the other party. The successors and permitted assigns hereunder shall include any permitted assignee as well as the successors in interest to such permitted assignee (whether by merger, liquidation (including successive mergers or liquidations) or otherwise).

SECTION 10.10 Third-Party Beneficiaries. Except for Article VIII, Section 9.10 and Section 10.16, this Agreement is solely for the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns, and nothing herein express or implied shall give or be construed to give to any other Person any legal or equitable rights hereunder.

SECTION 10.11 Notices. All notices, requests, claims, demands and other communications required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed given or delivered (a) when delivered personally, (b) if transmitted by facsimile when confirmation of transmission is received, (c) if sent by electronic transmission when confirmation that the recipient has read the transmission (e.g. , a “read receipt”) is received, (d) if sent by registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, on the third business day after mailing or (e) if sent by nationally recognized overnight courier, on the first business day following the date of dispatch; and shall be addressed as follows:

If to NiSource prior to the Effective Time, to:

NiSource Inc.
801 East 86th Avenue
Merrillville, IN 46410
Attention: General Counsel

or to such other address as such party may indicate by a notice delivered to the other party in accordance herewith.

SECTION 10.12 Performance. NiSource will cause to be performed and hereby guarantees the performance of all actions, agreements and obligations set forth herein to be performed by any NiSource Party. Columbia will cause to be performed and hereby guarantees the performance of all actions, agreements and obligations set forth herein to be performed by any Columbia Party. This Agreement is being entered into by NiSource and Columbia on behalf of themselves and the members of their respective groups (the NiSource Parties and the Columbia Parties). This Agreement shall constitute a direct obligation of each such entity and shall be deemed to have been readopted and affirmed on behalf of any Person that becomes a Subsidiary of NiSource or Columbia on and after the Effective Time.

SECTION 10.13 Force Majeure. No party hereto shall be deemed in default of this Agreement to the extent that any delay or failure in the performance of its obligations under this Agreement results from any cause beyond its reasonable control and without its fault or negligence, including acts of God, acts of civil or military authority, embargoes, acts of terrorism, epidemics, war, riots, insurrections, fires, explosions, earthquakes, floods, unusually severe weather conditions, labor problems or unavailability of parts, or, in the case of computer systems, any failure in electrical or air conditioning equipment. In the event of any such excused delay, the time for performance shall be extended for a period equal to the time lost by reason of the delay. A party claiming the benefit of this provision shall, as soon as reasonably practicable after the occurrence of any such event, (a) notify the other party of the nature and extent of any such force majeure condition and (b) use due diligence to remove any such causes and resume performance under this Agreement as soon as reasonably feasible.

SECTION 10.14 No Public Announcement. Neither party hereto shall, without the prior written approval of the other party, make any press release or other public announcement concerning the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except as and to the extent that any such party shall be so obligated by Law or the rules of any regulatory body or stock exchange, in which case the other party shall be advised and the parties shall use their respective commercially reasonable efforts to cause a mutually agreeable release or announcement to be issued; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not preclude communications or disclosures necessary to implement the provisions of this Agreement or to comply with the accounting and SEC disclosure obligations or the rules of any stock exchange.

SECTION 10.15 Termination. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, this Agreement may be terminated and the Distribution abandoned at any time prior to the Effective Time by and in the sole discretion of the NiSource Board without the prior approval of any Person, including Columbia. In the event of such termination, this Agreement shall forthwith become void, and no party shall have any liability to any Person by reason of this Agreement. After the Effective Time, this Agreement may not be terminated except by an agreement in writing signed by each of the parties hereto.

SECTION 10.16 Limited Liability. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, no individual who is a stockholder or Representative of Columbia or NiSource, in such individual's capacity as such, shall have any liability in respect of or relating to the covenants or obligations of Columbia or NiSource, as applicable, under this Agreement or any Transaction Agreement or in respect of any certificate delivered with respect hereto or thereto, and, to the fullest extent legally permissible, each of Columbia and NiSource, for itself and its stockholders, directors, employees, officers and Affiliates, waives and agrees not to seek to assert or enforce any such liability that any such individual otherwise might have pursuant to applicable Law.

SECTION 10.17 Survival. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, all covenants, conditions and agreements of the parties hereto contained in this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and shall survive the Distribution Date.

SECTION 10.18 Authority. NiSource represents on behalf of itself and on behalf of the other NiSource Parties, and Columbia represents on behalf of itself and on behalf of the other NiSource Parties, as follows:

(a) each such Person has the requisite corporate power and authority and has taken all corporate action necessary in order to execute, deliver and perform this Agreement and each Transaction Agreement to which it is a party and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby; and

(b) this Agreement and each Transaction Agreement to which it is a party has been duly executed and delivered by it and constitutes a valid and binding agreement of it enforceable in accordance with the terms thereof.

Schedule 2.1(a) Preparation of Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns

TAX ALLOCATION AGREEMENT

This TAX ALLOCATION AGREEMENT (this “Agreement”) is made as of June 30, 2015, by and between NiSource Inc., a Delaware corporation (“NiSource”), and Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Columbia”), and, as of the date hereof, a wholly-owned subsidiary of NiSource. NiSource and Columbia are referred to herein as “Parties” or each individually as a “Party.”

WHEREAS, NiSource, through the Columbia Subsidiaries (as defined herein) is engaged in the natural gas pipeline, midstream and storage business, as described more fully in the Form 10 Registration Statement (as defined herein);

WHEREAS, the board of directors of NiSource (the “NiSource Board”) has determined that it would be advisable and in the best interests of NiSource and its stockholders for NiSource to transfer to Columbia the Assets Transferred to Columbia (as defined herein), as further described in the Separation and Distribution Agreement by and between NiSource and Columbia (the “Separation and Distribution Agreement”), dated June 30, 2015;

WHEREAS, the board of directors of Columbia has determined that it would be advisable and in the best interests of Columbia and its stockholders for Columbia to transfer to NiSource the Assets Transferred to NiSource (as defined herein), as further defined in the Separation and Distribution Agreement;

WHEREAS, the NiSource Board has determined that it would be advisable and in the best interests of NiSource and its stockholders for NiSource to distribute on a pro rata basis to the holders of shares of NiSource’ common stock, par value $0.01 per share (“NiSource Shares”), without any consideration being paid by the holders of such NiSource Shares, all of the outstanding shares of Columbia common stock, par value $0.01 per share (“Columbia Shares”), owned by NiSource as of the Distribution Date (as defined herein);

WHEREAS, for federal income tax purposes, the Distribution (as defined herein) is intended to qualify for tax-free treatment under Section 355 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the “Code”);

WHEREAS, it is the intention of the parties hereto that the Distribution qualify as tax-free to NiSource under Section 361(c) of the Code and that, except for cash received in lieu of any fractional Columbia Shares, the Distribution qualify as tax-free to NiSource stockholders under Section 355(a) of the Code; and

WHEREAS, in connection with the Distribution, the Parties desire to set forth their agreement with respect to tax matters for taxable periods prior to and including the Distribution Date, in line with the following: (i) Columbia is responsible for and shall pay all taxes attributable to the Columbia Business and will indemnify NiSource for these taxes, (ii) NiSource is responsible for and shall pay all taxes to the extent such taxes are not attributable to the Columbia Business and will indemnify Columbia for these taxes, (iii) the Parties will cooperate to efficiently settle Audits (as defined herein), (iv) the Parties are restricted from taking certain actions that could cause the Distribution or certain internal transactions undertaken in anticipation of the Distribution to fail to qualify for tax-free or tax-favored treatment, and each Party will be responsible for any taxes imposed as a result of the failure of the Distribution or the internal transactions to qualify for tax-favored treatment under the Code if such failure is attributable to certain post-distribution actions taken by that Party or in respect of that Party's shareholders, and (v) the Parties will cooperate fully and share information with respect to the tax matters covered herein.

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and the terms, conditions, covenants and provisions of this Agreement, each of the Parties mutually covenants and agrees as follows:

ARTICLE I

DEFINITIONS AND INTERPRETATION

SECTION 1.1 Definitions. As used in this Agreement, the following terms shall have the following meanings:

“ Active Business ” means the Controlled Business as defined in the Tax Opinions as it existed on the Distribution Date.

“ Active Business Entity ” means each of the entities conducting all or any part of the Active Business; provided, however, the following entities shall not be Active Business Entities: (i) Millennium Pipeline Company, L.L.C. and (ii) Hardy Storage Company, LLC.

“ Affiliate ” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.1 of the Separation and Distribution Agreement.

“ Agreement ” has the meaning set forth in the first paragraph of this Agreement.

“ Assets Transferred to Columbia ” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.1 of the Separation and Distribution Agreement.

“ Assets Transferred to NiSource ” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.1 of the Separation and Distribution Agreement.

“ Audit ” means any audit (including a determination of the status of qualified and non-qualified employee benefit plans), assessment of Taxes, other examination by or on behalf of any Taxing Authority (including notices), proceeding, or appeal of such a proceeding relating to Taxes, whether administrative or judicial, including proceedings relating to competent authority determinations initiated by a Party or any of its Subsidiaries.

“ Business Day ” means any day other than a Saturday, Sunday or a day on which banks are required to be closed in Chicago, Illinois.

“ Challenging Party ” has the meaning set forth in Section 9.2(d).

“ Claiming Party ” has the meaning set forth in Section 4.1(b).

“ Code ” has the meaning set forth in the recitals to this Agreement.

“ Columbia ” has the meaning set forth in the first paragraph of this Agreement.

“ Columbia Allocable Audit Portion ” means the amount of any additional Taxes due and payable that are attributable to a Pre-Distribution Tax Period or the portion of a Straddle Tax Period ending on the Distribution Date that are not reported on a Tax Return filed for such Pre-Distribution Tax Period or Straddle Tax Period to the extent such Taxes are attributable to any Columbia Party. The determination of the amount of Taxes due and payable that are attributable to the Columbia-NiSource Entities included in a consolidated, combined, unitary or other group shall be calculated, consistent with past practice, on a “pro rata” basis according to the separate return liabilities of each of the Columbia-NiSource Entities, as determined by taking into account solely the Tax Attributes of such Columbia-NiSource Entities, relative to the amounts (if any) of the separate return liabilities of all members of the relevant group.

“ Columbia Allocable Portion ” means, with respect to a Tax Return filed after the Distribution Date for either a Pre-Distribution Tax Period or Straddle Tax Period, the positive amount (if any) of Taxes due and payable, after taking into account all prior payments, including estimated payments, for such Pre-Distribution Tax Period or Straddle Tax Period attributable to any Columbia Party. The determination of the amount of Taxes due and payable that are attributable to the Columbia-NiSource Entities included in a consolidated, combined, unitary or other group for a given Tax Return shall be calculated, consistent with past practice, on a “pro rata” basis according to the separate return liabilities of the Columbia-NiSource Entities, as determined by taking into account solely the Tax Attributes of such Columbia-NiSource Entities, relative to the amounts (if any) of the separate return liabilities of all members of the relevant group.

“ Columbia Business ” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.1 of the Separation and Distribution Agreement.

“ Columbia-NiSource Entities ” mean each of the Columbia Parties that has filed or is required to file, with respect to itself, its predecessor or any of its assets, any Tax Return on a consolidated, combined, unitary, group, or other basis with any NiSource Party.

“ Columbia Non-Separated Issue ” has the meaning set forth in Section 9.2(b)(iii)(1).

“ Columbia OpCo ” means CPG OpCo LP, a Delaware limited partnership.

“ Columbia Parties ” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.1 of the Separation and Distribution Agreement.

“ Columbia Separated Issue ” has the meaning set forth in Section 9.2(b)(ii)(2) of this Agreement.

“ Columbia Shares ” has the meaning set forth in the recitals to this Agreement.

“ Columbia Subsidiaries ” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.1 of the Separation and Distribution Agreement.

“ Columbia Tainting Act ” has the meaning set forth in Section 5.1(a).

“Transaction Agreements” has the meaning set forth in Section 1.1 of the Separation and Distribution Agreement.

“Treasury Regulations” mean the final and temporary (but not proposed) income tax and administrative regulations promulgated under the Code, as such regulations may be amended from time to time (including corresponding provisions of succeeding regulations).

“Unqualified Tax Opinion” means an unqualified “will” opinion of Qualified Tax Counsel, which opinion is reasonably acceptable to NiSource, and upon which each of the Parties may rely to confirm that a transaction (or transactions) will not result in Distribution Taxes. Any such opinion must assume that transactions undertaken in connection with or pursuant to the Distribution, taken together, would have qualified for Tax-Free Status if the transaction (or transactions) in question did not occur.

“U.S.” means the United States.

SECTION 1.2 Interpretation .

(a) For purposes of this Agreement:

(i) the words “include,” “includes” and “including” shall be deemed to be followed by the words “without limitation;”

(ii) the word “or” is not exclusive;

(iii) the words “herein,” “hereunder,” “hereof,” “hereby,” “hereto” and words of similar import shall be deemed to be references to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular Section or other provision hereof; and

(iv) relative to the determination of any period of time, “from” means “from and including,” “to” means “to but excluding” and “through” means “through and including.”

(b) In this Agreement, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(i) words used in the singular include the plural and words used in the plural include the singular;

(ii) reference to any Person includes such Person's successors and assigns but, if applicable, only if such successors and assigns are permitted by this Agreement;

(iii) reference to any Person's "Affiliates" shall be deemed to mean such Person's Affiliates following the Distribution;

(iv) reference to any gender includes the other gender and the neutral gender;

(v) reference to any Article, Section, Exhibit or Schedule means such Article or Section of, or such Exhibit or Schedule to, this Agreement, as the case may be;

(vi) reference to any agreement, instrument or other document means such agreement, instrument or other document as amended, supplemented and modified from time to time to the extent permitted by the provisions thereof and by this Agreement;

(vii) reference to any Law (including statutes and ordinances) means such Law (including all rules and regulations promulgated thereunder) as amended, modified, codified or reenacted, in whole or in part, and in effect at the time of determining compliance or applicability;

(viii) accounting terms used herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them by NiSource and its Subsidiaries, including Columbia, in its and their internal accounting and financial policies and procedures in effect immediately prior to the date of this Agreement;

(ix) if there is any conflict between the provisions of this Agreement and the Separation and Distribution Agreement or any of the other Transaction Agreements, the provisions of this Agreement shall control with respect to all matters related to Taxes or Tax Returns of the NiSource Parties or the Columbia Parties unless explicitly stated otherwise herein or therein;

(x) any portion of this Agreement obligating a Party to take any action or refrain from taking any action, as the case may be, shall mean that such Party shall also be obligated to cause its relevant Subsidiaries to take such action or refrain from taking such action, as the case may be; and

(xi) all references to dollar amounts shall be in respect of lawful currency of the U.S.

(c) The titles to Articles and headings of Sections contained in this Agreement have been inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not be deemed to be a part of or to affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement, and this Agreement and the Transaction Agreements shall be construed without regard to any presumption or rule requiring construction or interpretation against the party drafting an instrument or causing any instrument to be drafted.

(d) The Exhibits and Schedules shall be construed with and as an integral part of this Agreement to the same extent as if the same had been set forth verbatim herein.

ARTICLE II

PREPARATION AND FILING OF TAX RETURNS

SECTION 2.1 Responsibility of Parties to Prepare and File Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns .

(a) General . To the extent not previously filed and subject to the rights and obligations of each of the Parties set forth herein, Schedule 2.1(a) sets forth the Parties (each, a “Preparing Party”) that are responsible for preparing or causing to be prepared all Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns. Unless otherwise provided in this Agreement, the Preparing Party is responsible for the costs and expenses associated with such preparation. The Party responsible, or whose Affiliate is responsible, for filing a Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or Straddle Period Income Tax Return under applicable Law shall timely file or cause to be timely filed such Income Tax Returns with the applicable Taxing Authority. Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns shall be prepared and filed in a manner (i) consistent with the past practice of the Parties and their Subsidiaries unless otherwise modified by a Final Determination or required by applicable Law; and (ii) consistent with (and the Parties and their Subsidiaries shall not take any position inconsistent with) the Tax Representation Letters and the Tax Opinions. No Party shall take any action inconsistent with the assumptions (including items of income, gain, deduction, loss and credit) made in determining all estimated or advance payments of Income Tax on or prior to the Distribution Date except as required by applicable Law.

(b) Tax Package . To the extent not previously provided, the Party other than the Preparing Party shall (at its own cost and expense), to the extent that a Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or a Straddle Period Income Tax Return includes items of that Party or its Subsidiaries, prepare and provide or cause to be prepared and provided to the Preparing Party a Tax Package relating to that Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or Straddle Period Income Tax Return. Such Tax Package shall be provided in a timely manner consistent with the past practices of the Parties and their Subsidiaries. In the event a Party does not fulfill its obligations pursuant to this Section 2.1(b), the Preparing Party shall be entitled, at the sole cost and expense of the other Party, to prepare or cause to be prepared the information required to be included in the Tax Package for purposes of preparing any such Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or Straddle Period Income Tax Return.

(c) Procedures Relating to the Review and Filing of Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns .

(i) In the case of Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns that include Taxes for which both the Preparing Party and the other Party are liable under this Agreement, to the extent not previously filed, no later than 30 days prior to the Due Date of each such Tax Return (reduced to 15 days for state or local Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns), the Preparing Party shall make available or cause to be made available drafts of the relevant portions of such Tax Return (together with all related work papers) to the other Party. The other Party shall have access to any and all data and information necessary for the preparation of all such Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns, and the Parties shall cooperate fully in the preparation and review of such Tax Returns. Subject to the preceding sentence, no later than 15 days after receipt of such Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns (reduced to 5 days for state or local Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns), the other Party shall have a right to object to such Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or Straddle Period Income Tax Return (or items with respect thereto) by written notice to the Preparing Party; such written notice shall contain such disputed item (or items) and the basis for its objection.

(ii) With respect to a Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or Straddle Period Income Tax Return made available by the Preparing Party to the other Party pursuant to Section 2.1(c)(i), if the other Party does not object by proper written notice described in Section 2.1(c)(i), such Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or Straddle Period Income Tax Return shall be deemed to have been accepted and agreed upon, and to be final and conclusive, for purposes of this Section 2.1(c)(ii). If a Party does object by proper written notice described in Section 2.1(c)(i), the Parties shall act in good faith to resolve any such dispute as promptly as practicable; provided, however, that, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, if the Parties have not resolved the disputed item or items by 5 days prior to the Due Date of such Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or Straddle Period Income Tax Return, such Tax Return shall be filed as prepared pursuant to this Section 2.1 (revised to reflect all initially disputed items that the Parties have agreed upon prior to such date).

(iii) In the event that a Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or Straddle Period Income Tax Return is filed that includes any disputed item for which proper notice was given pursuant to this Section 2.1(c) that was not finally resolved and agreed upon, such disputed item (or items) shall be resolved in accordance with Section 12.2. In the event that the resolution of such disputed item (or items) in accordance with Section 12.2 with respect to a Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or a Straddle Period Income Tax Return is inconsistent with such Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or Straddle Period Income Tax Return as filed, the Preparing Party (with cooperation from the other Party) shall, as promptly as practicable, amend such Tax Return to properly reflect the final resolution of the disputed item (or items). In the event that the amount of Taxes shown to be due and owing on a Pre-Distribution Income Tax Return or Straddle Period Income Tax Return is adjusted as a result of a resolution pursuant to Section 12.2, proper adjustment shall be made to the amounts previously paid or required to be paid in accordance with Article III in a manner that reflects such resolution.

(iv) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Section 2.1, in the case of any Income Tax Return for estimated Taxes (“Estimated Tax Return”) for a Pre-Distribution Tax Period that includes Taxes for which both the Preparing Party and the other Party are liable under this Agreement, to the extent not previously filed, as soon as practicable prior to the Due Date of each such Estimated Tax Return, the Preparing Party shall make available or cause to be made available drafts of the relevant portions of such Estimated Tax Return (together with all related work papers) to the other Party. The other Party shall have access to any and all data and information necessary for the preparation of the relevant portions of such Estimated Tax Returns, and the Parties shall cooperate fully in the preparation and review of such Estimated Tax Returns in a manner consistent with past practice. Subject to the preceding sentence, a Party shall have a right to object by written notice to the other Party (and such written notice shall contain such disputed item (or items) and the basis for the objection) and the principles of Section 2.1(c)(ii) shall apply to such Estimated Tax Return.

(v) For the avoidance of doubt, Section 2.1(c) shall only apply to Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns which could reasonably result in both Parties becoming responsible for a payment of Taxes pursuant to Article III or a payment to the other Party pursuant to Section 9.3.

SECTION 2.2 Responsibility of Parties to Prepare and File Post-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Non-Income Tax Returns. The Party or its Subsidiary responsible under applicable Law for filing a Post-Distribution Income Tax Return or a Non-Income Tax Return shall prepare and timely file or cause to be prepared and timely filed that Tax Return (at that Party's own cost and expense).

SECTION 2.3 Time of Filing Tax Returns; Manner of Tax Return Preparation. Unless otherwise required by a Taxing Authority pursuant to a Final Determination, the Parties shall prepare and file or cause to be prepared and filed all Tax Returns and take all other actions in a manner consistent with (and shall not take any position inconsistent with) the Distribution, the Tax Representation Letters and the Tax Opinions.

ARTICLE III

RESPONSIBILITY FOR PAYMENT OF TAXES

SECTION 3.1 Responsibility of NiSource for Taxes. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, NiSource shall be liable for and shall pay or cause to be paid the following Taxes:

(a) to the applicable Taxing Authority, any Taxes due and payable on all Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns that NiSource is required to file or cause to be filed with such Taxing Authority pursuant to Section 2.1; and

(b) to the applicable Taxing Authority, any Taxes due and payable on all Post-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Non-Income Tax Returns that NiSource is required to file or cause to be filed with such Taxing Authority pursuant to Section 2.2.

SECTION 3.2 Responsibility of Columbia for Taxes. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, Columbia shall be liable for and shall pay or cause to be paid the following Taxes:

(a) to the applicable Taxing Authority, any Taxes due and payable on all Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns that Columbia is required to file or cause to be filed with such Taxing Authority pursuant to Section 2.1;

(b) to the applicable Taxing Authority, any Taxes due and payable on all Post-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Non-Income Tax Returns that Columbia is required to file or cause to be filed with such Taxing Authority pursuant to Section 2.2; and

(c) to NiSource, the Columbia Allocable Portion computed with respect to the Columbia-NiSource Entities.

SECTION 3.3 Timing of Payments of Taxes. All Taxes required to be paid or caused to be paid by a Party to a Taxing Authority pursuant to this Article III shall be paid or caused to be paid by such Party on or prior to the Due Date of such Taxes. All amounts required to be paid by Columbia to NiSource pursuant to this Article III shall be paid or caused to be paid by Columbia to NiSource in accordance with Article VIII.

ARTICLE IV

REFUNDS, CARRYBACKS AND AMENDED TAX RETURNS

SECTION 4.1 Refunds.

(a) Each Party shall be entitled to Refunds that relate to Taxes for which it or any of its Subsidiaries is liable for hereunder. The determination of the amount of any Refund that is attributable to a Columbia-NiSource Entity included in a consolidated, combined, unitary or other group for a Pre-Distribution Tax Period or the portion of a Straddle Tax Period ending on the Distribution Date shall be calculated, consistent with past practice, on a “pro rata” basis, as determined by taking into account solely the Tax Attributes of such Columbia-NiSource Entity, relative to the amount of the pertinent Tax Attributes of all members of the relevant group.

(b) Notwithstanding Section 4.1(a), in the event a Party’s (or one of its Subsidiary’s) (a “Claiming Party”) entitlement to a Refund hereunder results in a Correlative Detriment to the other Party (or its Subsidiaries), any such Refund shall be paid to or retained by the other Party (or its Subsidiaries) that incurs such Correlative Detriment to the extent of such Correlative Detriment. A “Correlative Detriment” is an increase in a Tax that occurs as a result of the Tax position that is the basis for a claim for Refund or for a Final Determination. For the avoidance of doubt, a Correlative Detriment does not include an increase in Tax to the extent such increase is expected to be offset or recovered through additional deductions under Section 162 of the Code or a similar provision of Law in the current or one or more subsequent years or through additional amortization or depreciation deductions allowed under Sections 167, 168, or 197 of the Code or similar provisions of Law.

(c) Any Refund or portion thereof to which a Claiming Party is entitled pursuant to this Section 4.1 that is received or deemed to have been received as described below by the other Party (or its Subsidiaries) shall be paid by such other Party to the Claiming Party in immediately available funds in accordance with Article VIII. To the extent a Party (or its Subsidiaries) applies or causes to be applied an overpayment of Taxes as a credit toward or a reduction in Taxes otherwise payable (or a Taxing Authority requires such application in lieu of a Refund) and such Refund, if received, would have been payable by such Party to the Claiming Party pursuant to this Section 4.1, such Party shall be deemed to have actually received a Refund to the extent thereof on the date on which the overpayment is applied to reduce Taxes otherwise payable.

SECTION 4.2 Carrybacks. Each of the Parties shall be permitted (but not required) to carryback (or to cause its Subsidiaries to carryback) a Tax Attribute realized in a Post-Distribution Tax Period or a Straddle Tax Period to a Pre-Distribution Tax Period or a Straddle Tax Period only if such carryback is not reasonably expected to result in the other Party (or its Subsidiaries) being liable for additional Taxes. If a carryback could reasonably be expected to result in the other Party (or its Subsidiaries) being liable for additional Taxes, such carryback shall be permitted only if such Party consents to such carryback. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, any Party that has claimed (or caused one or more of its Subsidiaries to claim) a Tax Attribute carryback shall be liable for any Taxes that become due and payable as a result of the subsequent adjustment, if any, to the carryback claim.

SECTION 4.3 Amended Tax Returns.

(a) Notwithstanding Section 2.1, NiSource shall be entitled to prepare and file amended Pre-Distribution Income Tax Returns and Straddle Period Income Tax Returns from time to time in its sole discretion. Any Columbia Party that is responsible for preparing or causing to be prepared any other Tax Return pursuant to Schedule 2.1(a) shall be permitted to prepare and file an amendment of such Tax Return; provided, however, that such amended Tax Return shall be prepared in a manner (i) consistent with past practice unless otherwise modified by a Final Determination or required by applicable Law; and (ii) consistent with (and the Parties and their Subsidiaries shall not take any position inconsistent with) the Tax Representation Letters and the Tax Opinions. Notwithstanding anything to contrary contained herein, any amended Tax Return prepared by a Columbia Party shall be permitted only if the consent of NiSource is obtained (which consent may be granted or denied in NiSource's sole discretion).

(b) A Party that is entitled (or whose Subsidiary is entitled) to file an amended Tax Return for a Post-Distribution Tax Period shall be permitted to do so without the consent of the other Party.

(c) A Party that is entitled (or whose Subsidiary is entitled) to file an amended Tax Return shall not be relieved of any liability for payments pursuant to this Agreement notwithstanding that the Party consented to the filing of such amended Tax Return giving rise to such liability.

ARTICLE V

DISTRIBUTION TAXES

SECTION 5.1 Liability for Distribution Taxes. In the event that Distribution Taxes become due and payable to a Taxing Authority pursuant to a Final Determination, then, notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement:

(a) if such Distribution Taxes are attributable to a Tainting Act of any NiSource Party or to a transaction after the Distribution Date involving the Stock of a NiSource Party (a "NiSource Tainting Act"), and are not also attributable to a Tainting Act of any Columbia Party or to a transaction after the Distribution Date involving the Stock of a Columbia Party (a "Columbia Tainting Act"), then NiSource shall be responsible for any Distribution Tax-Related Losses;

(b) if such Distribution Taxes are attributable to a Columbia Tainting Act, and are not also attributable to a NiSource Tainting Act, then Columbia shall be responsible for any Distribution Tax-Related Losses;

(c) if such Distribution Taxes are attributable to both a NiSource Tainting Act and a Columbia Tainting Act, then such Distribution Taxes shall be equitably apportioned between the Parties based upon their relative fault; provided that in the event the Parties cannot agree regarding their relative fault, the matter shall be resolved in accordance with Sections 12.2 and 12.4; and

(d) if such Distribution Taxes are not attributable to a NiSource Tainting Act or a Columbia Tainting Act, then such Distribution Taxes shall be apportioned between the Parties based upon their Relative Values.

SECTION 5.2 Payment for Use of Tax Attributes.

(a) If Columbia would have been responsible under Section 5.1 for Distribution Taxes but for the use of Tax Attributes that are attributable to any NiSource Party, then Columbia shall pay to NiSource the amount of Distribution Taxes that did not become due and payable as a result of the use of such Tax Attributes.

(b) If NiSource would have been responsible under Section 5.1 for Distribution Taxes but for the use of Tax Attributes that are attributable to any Columbia Party, then NiSource shall pay to Columbia the amount of Distribution Taxes that did not become due and payable as a result of the use of such Tax Attributes.

(c) For purposes of this Section 5.2, the amount of Distribution Taxes shall be calculated by assuming that (i) no Tax Attribute or other item of income, loss, deduction or credit applies to reduce the amount of Distribution Taxes and (ii) Distribution Taxes are determined at the highest applicable rate of Tax.

SECTION 5.3 Definition of Tainting Act. For purposes of this Agreement, a “Tainting Act” is any act, or failure or omission to act, by any Party (or any of its Subsidiaries) following the Distribution that results in any NiSource Party or Columbia Party being responsible for such Distribution Taxes pursuant to a Final Determination, regardless of whether such act or failure to act (i) is covered by a Post-Distribution Ruling or Unqualified Tax Opinion, or (ii) occurs during or after the Restricted Period.

SECTION 5.4 Limits on Proposed Acquisition Transactions and Other Transactions During Restricted Period. During the Restricted Period, Columbia shall not, in a single transaction or Series of Transactions:

(a) enter into, approve, or allow to occur any Proposed Acquisition Transaction;

(b) merge or consolidate with any other Person, or liquidate or partially liquidate, or approve or allow to occur any merger, consolidation, liquidation, or partial liquidation of any Active Business Entity;

(c) approve or allow to occur the discontinuance, cessation, or sale or other transfer (to an Affiliate or otherwise) of, or a material change in, the Active Business;

(d) approve or allow to occur the issuance (including to an Affiliate that is not wholly-owned, directly or indirectly, by the transferor) of any Stock or an instrument convertible into Stock in Columbia, MLP GP, OpCo GP, Columbia OpCo or MLP;

(e) sell or otherwise directly or indirectly dispose of more than 30 percent of its consolidated gross or net assets, or approve or allow the sale or other disposition (to an Affiliate or otherwise) of more than 30 percent of the Stock or the consolidated gross or net assets of any Active Business Entity (in each case, excluding sales of assets in the ordinary course of business and measured based on fair market values as of the Distribution Date);

(f) amend its certificate of incorporation (or other organizational documents), or take any other action or approve or allow to occur the taking of any action, whether through a stockholder vote or otherwise, affecting the voting rights of the owners of its Stock or the Stock of MLP GP, OpCo GP, Columbia OpCo or MLP;

(g) purchase, directly or through any Affiliate, any of its outstanding Stock after the Distribution, other than through Stock purchases meeting the requirements of Section 4.05(1)(b) of Revenue Procedure 96-30 (without regard to the effect of Revenue Procedure 2003-48 on Revenue Procedure 96-30);

(h) take any action or fail to take any action, or permit any other Columbia Party to take any action or fail to take any action, that is inconsistent with any representation made or assumption in the Tax Representation Letters, or that is inconsistent with any opinion in the Tax Opinions; or

(i) take any action or permit any other Columbia Party to take any action that, individually or in the aggregate (taking into account other transactions described in this Section 5.4 or otherwise contemplated by the Parties) would be reasonably likely to jeopardize Tax-Free Status.

SECTION 5.5 Restricted Actions: Exceptions. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 5.4, during the Restricted Period and without prejudice to the obligations of Columbia under Section 5.1 :

(a) Columbia (or a direct or indirect, wholly-owned Subsidiary of Columbia) shall be permitted (i.e., without obtaining a Post-Distribution Ruling or an Unqualified Tax Opinion as described in clause (b) below) to dispose of Stock of MLP, MLP shall be permitted to issue Stock of MLP, Columbia OpCo shall be permitted to issue Stock of Columbia OpCo and Columbia (or a direct or indirect, wholly-owned Subsidiary of Columbia) shall be permitted to contribute or otherwise transfer Stock in Columbia OpCo to MLP during the Restricted Period, provided that following any such disposition, issuance, contribution or other transfer (i) Columbia (or a direct or indirect, wholly-owned Subsidiary of Columbia) continues to own all of the outstanding Stock of MLP GP and MLP GP continues to serve as the sole general partner of MLP, (ii) MLP (or a direct or indirect, wholly-owned Subsidiary of MLP) continues to own all of the outstanding Stock of OpCo GP and OpCo GP continues to serve as the sole general partner of Columbia OpCo, (iii) Columbia (or a direct or indirect, wholly-owned Subsidiary of Columbia) continues to own at least 55 percent of the fair market value (as reasonably determined by NiSource) of all of the outstanding Stock of Columbia OpCo, (iv) Columbia OpCo (or a direct or indirect, wholly-owned Subsidiary of Columbia OpCo) continues to own at least 70 percent of the Stock and the consolidated gross or net assets of any Active Business Entity (in each case, excluding sales of assets in the ordinary course of business and measured based on fair market values as of the Distribution Date); and (v) Columbia OpCo, each Subsidiary (if any) through which Columbia OpCo owns an interest in an Active Business Entity, and each Active Business Entity is, and will continue, to be classified as a partnership or disregarded as an entity separate from its owner for federal income tax purposes at all relevant times during the Restricted Period.

(b) Columbia shall be permitted to issue Stock satisfying Safe Harbor VIII (relating to acquisitions in connection with a person's performance of services) or Safe Harbor IX (relating to acquisitions by a retirement plan of an employer) of Treasury Regulation Section 1.355-7(d).

(c) MLP shall be permitted to issue Stock pursuant to the Columbia Pipeline Partners LP Long-Term Incentive Plan; provided that this Section 5.5(c) shall not apply to (i) the issuance of Stock that would be "excessive" when determined by reference to the services performed or (ii) the issuance of Stock to a person who is (alone or together with a "coordinating group") a "controlling shareholder" or a "ten-percent owner" of Columbia or MLP (in each case, within the meaning of Safe Harbor VIII of Treasury Regulation Section 1.355-7(d) as applied by taking into account the status of MLP as a partnership for federal income tax purposes).

(d) Columbia shall be permitted to issue shares of its common stock, in an amount not to exceed 2% of the number of issued and outstanding common stock of Columbia on the Distribution Date, pursuant to the Columbia Dividend Reinvestment and Stock Purchase Plan.

(e) Columbia shall be permitted to take or allow any other Restricted Action not described in clauses (a) through (d) above if, prior to taking or allowing any such Restricted Action, Columbia shall (1) have received written consent from NiSource, which consent may be withheld in the sole discretion of NiSource, (2) have received a favorable private letter ruling from the IRS that confirms that such Restricted Action will not, when considered together with any other relevant transactions, result in Distribution Taxes (a "Post-Distribution Ruling"), in form and substance satisfactory to NiSource in its discretion, which discretion shall be reasonably exercised in good faith solely to ensure that the Restricted Action does not result in the imposition on either Party, or responsibility for payment by either Party, of Distribution Taxes or (3) have received an Unqualified Tax Opinion that confirms that such Restricted Action will not result in Distribution Taxes, when considered together with any other relevant transactions, in form and substance satisfactory to NiSource in its discretion, which discretion shall be reasonably exercised in good faith solely to ensure that the Restricted Action does not result in the imposition on either Party, or responsibility for payment by either Party, of Distribution Taxes. Columbia shall provide a copy of the Post-Distribution Ruling or the Unqualified Tax Opinion described in this paragraph to NiSource as soon as practicable prior to taking or failing to take any Restricted Action. NiSource's evaluation and approval of such Post-Distribution Ruling or Unqualified Tax Opinion shall not be unreasonably withheld or delayed; provided, however, that NiSource's evaluation of such Post-Distribution Ruling or Unqualified Tax Opinion may consider, among other factors, the appropriateness of any underlying assumptions, representations, and covenants made in connection with such Post-Distribution Ruling or Unqualified Tax Opinion. Columbia shall bear all costs and expenses of securing any such Post-Distribution Ruling or Unqualified Tax Opinion and shall reimburse NiSource for all reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses that NiSource may incur in good faith in seeking to obtain or evaluate any such Post-Distribution Ruling or Unqualified Tax Opinion.

SECTION 5.6 Tax Representation Letters and Tax Opinions; Consistency. Each Party represents that the information and representations furnished by it (or its Subsidiaries) in or with respect to the Tax Representation Letters or the Tax Opinions are accurate and complete as of the Effective Time. Each Party covenants (1) to use its best efforts, and to cause its Subsidiaries to use their best efforts, to verify that such information and representations are accurate and complete as of the Effective Time; and (2) if, after the Effective Time, any NiSource Party or Columbia Party obtains information indicating, or otherwise becomes aware, that any such information or representations are or may be inaccurate or incomplete, to promptly inform the other Party. Except in accordance with Section 5.4 and Section 5.5, no Columbia Party shall take any action or fail to take any action, or permit any other Columbia Party to take any action or fail to take any action, that is or is reasonably likely to be inconsistent with the Tax Representation Letters or the Tax Opinions.

SECTION 5.7 Timing of Payment of Distribution Tax-Related Losses. All amounts required to be paid by one Party to the other Party pursuant to this Article V shall be paid or caused to be paid by one Party to the other Party in accordance with Article VIII.

ARTICLE VI

EMPLOYEE BENEFIT MATTERS

SECTION 6.1 Income Tax Deductions in Respect of Certain Equity Awards and Incentive Compensation.

(a) Entitlement to Deduction. For all Post-Distribution Tax Periods, solely the Party (or its Subsidiary) that currently employs the relevant individual or, if such individual is not currently employed by a Party, the Party (or its Subsidiary) that most recently employed such individual, at the time of the vesting, exercise, disqualifying disposition, payment or other relevant taxable event, as appropriate, in respect of the equity awards and other incentive compensation described in Article VI of the Employee Matters Agreement, shall be entitled to claim any Income Tax deduction arising after the Distribution Date in respect of such equity awards and other incentive compensation on its respective Tax Return.

(b) Withholding and Reporting. The Party (or its Subsidiary) that claims the deduction described in Section 6.1(a) shall be responsible for all applicable Taxes (including withholding and excise taxes) and shall satisfy, or shall cause to be satisfied, all applicable Tax reporting obligations in respect of the equity awards and other incentive compensation that gives rise to the deduction. The Parties shall cooperate (and shall cause their Subsidiaries to cooperate) so as to permit the Party (or Subsidiary thereof) claiming such deduction described in Section 6.1(a) to discharge any applicable Tax withholding and Tax reporting obligations, including the appointment of the Party claiming the deduction (or its Subsidiary) as the withholding and reporting agent if that Party (or any of its Subsidiaries) is not otherwise required or permitted to withhold and report under applicable Law.

INDEMNIFICATION

SECTION 7.1 Indemnification Obligations of NiSource. NiSource shall indemnify each of the Columbia Parties and hold them harmless from and against:

- (a) all Taxes and other amounts for which NiSource is responsible under this Agreement; and
- (b) all Taxes and reasonable out-of-pocket costs for advisors and other expenses attributable to a breach of any representation, covenant or obligation of NiSource under this Agreement.

SECTION 7.2 Indemnification Obligations of Columbia. Columbia shall indemnify each of the NiSource Parties and hold them harmless from and against:

- (a) all Taxes and other amounts for which Columbia is responsible under this Agreement; and
- (b) all Taxes and reasonable out-of-pocket costs for advisors and other expenses attributable to a breach of any representation, covenant or obligation of Columbia under this Agreement.

ARTICLE VIII

PAYMENTS

SECTION 8.1 Payments

(a) General. Unless otherwise provided in this Agreement, in the event that an Indemnifying Party is required to make a payment to an Indemnified Party pursuant to this Agreement, the Indemnified Party shall deliver written notice of the payments to the Indemnifying Party in accordance with Section 12.11, and the Indemnifying Party shall be required to make payment to the Indemnified Party within 10 Business Days after notice of such payment is delivered to the Indemnifying Party.

(b) Procedural Matters. The written notice delivered to the Indemnifying Party in accordance with Section 12.11 shall show the amount due and owing together with a schedule calculating in reasonable detail such amount (and shall include the relevant portion of any relevant Tax Return, statement, bill or invoice related to Taxes, costs, expenses or other amounts due and owing). All payments required to be made by one Party to the other Party pursuant to this Section 8.1 shall be made by electronic, same day wire transfer. Payments shall be deemed made when received. If the Indemnifying Party fails to make a payment to the Indemnified Party within the time period set forth in Section 8.1(a), such Indemnifying Party shall be considered to be in breach of its covenants and obligations established in this Section 8.1 and the Indemnifying Party shall pay to the Indemnified Party (i) interest that accrues (at a rate equal to the Prime Rate) on the amount of such payment from the time that such payment was due to the Indemnified Party until the date that payment is actually made to the Indemnified Party; and (ii) any costs or expenses (other than consequential damages) incurred by the Indemnified Party to secure such payment or to satisfy the Indemnifying Party's portion of the obligation giving rise to the indemnification payment.

(c) Right of Setoff. It is expressly understood that an Indemnifying Party is hereby authorized to set off and apply any and all amounts required to be paid to an Indemnified Party pursuant to this Section 8.1 against any and all of the obligations of the Indemnified Party to the Indemnifying Party arising under this Section 8.1 that are then either due and payable or past due, irrespective of whether such Indemnifying Party has made any demand for payment with respect to such obligations.

SECTION 8.2 Treatment of Payments under this Agreement and the Separation and Distribution Agreement. In the absence of any change in Tax treatment under the Code or other applicable Tax Law, any payments made by a Party under this Agreement or the Separation and Distribution Agreement shall be reported for Tax purposes by the payor and the recipient as distributions or capital contributions, as appropriate, occurring immediately before the Distribution (but only to the extent the payment does not relate to a Tax allocated to the payor in accordance with Section 1552 of the Code or the regulations thereunder or Treasury Regulation Section 1.1502-33(d) (or under corresponding principles of other applicable Tax Laws)) or as payments of assumed or retained liabilities, as appropriate.

SECTION 8.3 Tax Gross Up. If, notwithstanding the manner in which payments were reported, there is an Income Tax incurred by a Party as a result of its receipt of a payment pursuant to this Agreement or the Separation and Distribution Agreement, as applicable, such payment shall be appropriately adjusted so that the amount of such payment, reduced by the amount of Income Taxes payable with respect to the receipt thereof (but taking into account all Tax Benefits resulting from the payment of such Income Taxes), shall equal the amount of the payment that the Party receiving such payment would otherwise be entitled to receive pursuant to this Agreement or the Separation and Distribution Agreement, as applicable.

SECTION 8.4 Interest or Expenses. Anything herein to the contrary notwithstanding and except as otherwise required by applicable Law, to the extent the Indemnifying Party makes a payment of interest or other expense reimbursement to the Indemnified Party under this Agreement or the Separation and Distribution Agreement, the interest payment shall be treated as an expense under Section 162 or Section 163 of the Code, as applicable, to the Indemnifying Party (deductible to the extent provided by Law) and as income by the Indemnified Party (includible in income to the extent provided by Law). The amount of the payment of interest or other expense reimbursement shall not be adjusted under Section 8.3 to take into account any associated Tax Benefit to the Indemnifying Party or Tax detriment to the Indemnified Party.

SECTION 8.5 Payments Net of Tax Benefits. If not otherwise provided in this Agreement, the amounts payable under this Agreement or the Separation and Distribution Agreement by one Party to another Party shall be reduced by the amount of any Tax Benefit obtained by the Party receiving such payment on account of the event giving rise to such payment.

ARTICLE IX

AUDITS

SECTION 9.1 Notice. Within 10 Business Days after a Party or any of its Affiliates receives a written notice from a Taxing Authority of the existence of an Audit that may require indemnification pursuant to this Agreement, that Party shall notify the other Party of such receipt and send such notice to the other Party in accordance with Section 12.11. The failure of one Party to notify the other Party of an Audit shall not relieve such other Party of any liability or obligation that it may have under this Agreement, except to the extent that the Indemnifying Party's rights under this Agreement are materially prejudiced by such failure.

SECTION 9.2 Audit Administration.

(a) Administering Party. Subject to Sections 9.2(b) and 9.2(c):

(i) NiSource and its Subsidiaries shall administer and control all Pre-Distribution U.S. Income Tax Audits and any other Audits relating to, or that could give rise to, Distribution Taxes.

(ii) Audits other than those described in clause (a)(i) above shall be administered and controlled by the Party or Subsidiary thereof that is primarily liable under applicable Law to pay to the applicable Taxing Authority the Taxes resulting from such Audits.

(b) Administration and Control; Cooperation.

(i) Notwithstanding that NiSource shall have sole responsibility for administration and control (including settlement authority) over all Audits described in Section 9.2(a)(i), Columbia shall have the right to participate in such Audit pursuant to Section 9.2(c) and as otherwise contemplated by this Section 9.2(b), but only to the extent that such Audit relates to Taxes for which Columbia would be liable under Section 9.3(a)(i).

(ii) In the case of a Pre-Distribution U.S. Income Tax Audit involving Taxes for which each of NiSource and Columbia would be liable pursuant to Section 9.3(a) of this Agreement, the Parties agree to use reasonable best efforts to separate the issues for resolution, and to the extent such issues may be separated, the Party that would be liable for any Tax relating to a separated issue shall have sole responsibility for the administration and control (including settlement authority) of the separated issue, provided that—

(1) NiSource shall, in all events, have sole responsibility for the administration and control (including settlement authority) of any issues relating to Distribution Taxes.

(2) Columbia shall only have sole responsibility for the settlement of a separated issue if (x) the issue, as asserted by the Taxing Authority, would cause an individual payment obligation for Columbia of $200,000 (two hundred thousand dollars) or greater (including tax, interest and penalties) under this Agreement (a “ Columbia Separated Issue ”) and (y) all Columbia Separated Issues and Columbia Non-Separated Issues (as defined below) would cause an aggregate payment obligation for Columbia of $1,000,000 (one million dollars) or greater under this Agreement.

(3) NiSource shall have sole responsibility for the settlement of all separated issues, other than Columbia Separated Issues for which Columbia has sole settlement responsibility under Section 9.2(b)(ii)(2), except that NiSource shall accept or enter into a settlement of such issues at the reasonable request of Columbia unless: (x) the settlement relates to an issue the settlement of which would cause an individual payment obligation for NiSource of $200,000 (two hundred thousand dollars) or greater (including tax, interest and penalties) (a “ NiSource Separated Issue ”) and (y) the settlement of all NiSource Separated Issues and NiSource Non-Separated Issues (as defined below) would cause an aggregate payment obligation for NiSource of $1,000,000 (one million dollars) or greater.

(iii) To the extent that issues in a Pre-Distribution Income Tax Audit cannot be separated or to the extent an issue in an Audit relates to Distribution Taxes—

(1) NiSource shall not accept or enter into a settlement without the consent of Columbia (which shall not be unreasonably withheld) if: (x) the settlement relates to an issue the settlement of which would cause an individual payment obligation for Columbia of $200,000 (two hundred thousand dollars) or greater (including tax, interest and penalties) under this Agreement (a “ Columbia Non-Separated Issue ”); (y) Columbia has provided NiSource with Columbia’s responses to all information document requests or similar requests from the Taxing Authority with respect to all Columbia Non-Separated Issues and (z) all Columbia Non-Separated Issues and Columbia Separated Issues would cause an aggregate payment obligation for Columbia of $1,000,000 (one million dollars) or greater under this Agreement. In addition to the conditions above, if requested by NiSource, Columbia shall provide NiSource an opinion from Qualified Counsel concluding that Columbia more likely than not shall prevail on the Columbia Non-Separated Issues.

(2) NiSource shall accept or enter into a settlement at the reasonable request of Columbia unless: (x) the settlement relates to an issue the settlement of which would cause an individual payment obligation for NiSource of $200,000 (two hundred thousand dollars) or greater (including tax, interest and penalties) under this Agreement (a “ NiSource Non-Separated Issue ”); (y) NiSource has provided Columbia with NiSource’s responses to all information document requests or similar requests from the Taxing Authority with respect to all NiSource Non-Separated Issues and (z) the settlement of all NiSource Non-Separated Issues and NiSource Separated Issues would cause an aggregate payment obligation for NiSource of $1,000,000 (one million dollars) or greater. In addition to the conditions above, if requested by Columbia, NiSource shall provide Columbia an opinion from Qualified Counsel concluding that NiSource more likely than not shall prevail on the NiSource Non-Separated Issues.

(c) Participation Rights; Information Sharing.

(i) The Parties shall arrange for a meeting or conference call to be held on a monthly basis (or on such other basis as the Parties may agree) in order to facilitate regular communication on the status of any Audits described in Section 9.2(a)(i). The Parties may determine from time to time to have separate special meetings to discuss significant Audit issues.

(ii) Upon the reasonable request of Columbia or NiSource, as the case may be, NiSource and its Subsidiaries or Columbia and its Subsidiaries, shall make available relevant personnel to meet with the other Party, its Subsidiaries, or its independent auditor, in order to review the status of any Audits described in Section 9.2(a)(i).

(iii) Columbia shall have access to any written documentation in the possession of any NiSource Party that pertains to Taxes for which it may be liable for any Audits described in Section 9.2(a)(i) (including any written summaries of issues that any NiSource Party has developed in the context of evaluating financial reporting matters) and NiSource shall make such documentation available to Columbia in the offices of NiSource. Such access shall be provided at such times and in such manner as the Parties agree, but no less frequently than monthly. Copies of the documentation will be made available to Columbia at its sole cost and expense.

(iv) With respect to any Audits described in Section 9.2(a)(i), Columbia's participation rights shall include the right to attend all conferences and participate in all conversations with the Taxing Authority relating to both Columbia Separated Issues and Columbia Non-Separated Issues. NiSource shall provide on a timely basis to Columbia copies of all documents, including all correspondence with the Taxing Authority, which relates to a Columbia Separated Issue or Columbia Non-Separated Issue. In addition, NiSource shall provide Columbia all submissions to the Taxing Authority which relate to a Columbia Separated Issue or a Columbia Non-Separated Issue at least 2 Business Days in advance of submitting to the Taxing Authority to allow Columbia the opportunity to review and comment on the proposed submission.

(d) Costs and Expenses. Each Party (or its Subsidiaries) shall be responsible for its own costs and expenses (including all costs and expenses of calculating Taxes and other amounts payable and any reporting obligations that arise out of an Audit, such as the reporting of any Audit adjustments to the various U.S. states) incurred with respect to an Audit; provided, however, that (i) the costs and expenses incurred with respect to an Audit relating to Distribution Taxes shall be borne by the Party or Parties ultimately responsible for such Distribution Taxes and (ii) if a Party (the "Challenging Party") incurs costs and expenses related to the contest of an issue with respect to an Audit for which the other Party (the “Non-Challenging Party”) could be liable under this Agreement, and which the Taxing Authority has offered to settle, then the Challenging Party shall be permitted to recover from the Non-Challenging Party and the Non-Challenging Party shall pay such costs and expenses incurred by the Challenging Party to contest such issue in an amount equal to (i) the ratio of the Non-Challenging Party’s Benefit to the Total Benefit, multiplied by (ii) the costs and expenses incurred by the Challenging Party with respect to the issue; provided, however, that such amount shall not exceed the Non-Challenging Party’s Benefit (tax effected at the highest applicable Income Tax rate). For purposes of this Section 9.2(d), the “Total Benefit” shall be equal to excess of (i) the amount which the Taxing Authority was willing to accept in settlement of the issue (the “Initial Amount”) over (ii) the amount ultimately included in a Final Determination in respect to the issue (the “Final Amount”). For purposes of this Section 9.2(d), the “Non-Challenging Party’s Benefit” shall equal the excess of (but not below zero) (i) the Non-Challenging Party’s allocable portion of the Initial Amount, as determined under this Agreement over (ii) the Non-Challenging Party’s allocable portion of the Final Amount, as determined under this Agreement.

SECTION 9.3 Payment of Audit Amounts .

(a) Section 9.2(a)(i) Audits. In connection with any Final Determination with respect to an Audit described in Section 9.2(a)(i):

(i) Columbia shall be liable for and shall pay or cause to be paid to the applicable Taxing Authority or NiSource (as the case may be) an amount equal to the Columbia Allocable Audit Portion of the additional Taxes due and payable as a result of such Final Determination.

(ii) NiSource shall be liable for and shall pay or cause to be paid to the applicable Taxing Authority any remaining amount of the additional Taxes due and payable as a result of such Final Determination.

(iii) Notwithstanding the foregoing, for the avoidance of doubt, the Parties’ obligations with respect to any Distribution Taxes shall be governed by Section 5.1.

(b) Other Audits. In connection with any Final Determination with respect to an Audit other than an Audit described in Section 9.2(a)(i):

(i) NiSource shall be liable for and shall pay or cause to be paid to the applicable Taxing Authority the amount due and payable as a result of such Final Determination to the extent a NiSource Party is responsible for such amounts under applicable Law.

(ii) Columbia shall be liable for and shall pay or cause to be paid to the applicable Taxing Authority the amount due and payable as a result of such Final Determination to the extent a Columbia Party is responsible for such amounts under applicable Law.

(c) Adjustments to Refunds. Notwithstanding Section 9.3(a) or 9.3(b), if a Final Determination with respect to an Audit includes an adjustment to a Refund previously received by a Party (or its Subsidiary) in accordance with Section 4.1, such Party shall pay any Taxes that become due and payable as a result of such adjustment.

(d) Payment Procedures.

(i) Preliminary Determination. In connection with any Final Determination with respect to an Audit that results in an amount to be paid pursuant to Section 9.3(a), NiSource shall, within 30 Business Days following a final resolution of such Audit, submit in writing to Columbia a preliminary determination (calculated and explained in detail reasonably sufficient to enable Columbia to fully understand the basis for such determination and to permit Columbia to satisfy its financial reporting requirements) of the portion of such amount to be paid by each of the Parties pursuant to Section 9.3(a), as applicable.

(ii) Access to Data. NiSource shall have access to all data and information necessary to calculate such amounts and Columbia shall cooperate fully in the determination of such amounts.

(iii) Objection Rights. Within 20 Business Days following the receipt by Columbia of the information described in Section 9.3(d)(i), Columbia shall have the right to object only to the calculation of the amount of the payment (but not the basis for the payment) by written notice to NiSource; such written notice shall contain such disputed item or items and the basis for the objection. If Columbia does not object by proper written notice to NiSource within such 20 day period, the calculation of the amounts due and owing from Columbia shall be deemed to have been accepted and agreed upon, and final and conclusive, for purposes of this Section 9.3(d). If Columbia objects by proper written notice to NiSource within such time period, the Parties shall act in good faith to resolve any such dispute as promptly as practicable, and if any such dispute is not resolved within 30 days, such dispute shall be deemed not to have been resolved pursuant to Section 12.2(a) and shall be resolved in accordance with Section 12.2(b). Notwithstanding any pending dispute with respect to the Columbia Allocable Audit Portion, NiSource is responsible for paying to the applicable Taxing Authority under applicable Law amounts owed pursuant to a Final Determination and shall make such payments to such Taxing Authority prior to the due date for such payments. Columbia shall reimburse NiSource in accordance with Article VIII for the portion of such payments for which Columbia is liable (including interest thereon determined pursuant to Section 8.1(b) commencing from the date NiSource made the payment described in the preceding sentence), if any, pursuant to this Section 9.3.

SECTION 9.4 Correlative Adjustments. If an Audit described in Section 9.2(a)(i) results in a Final Determination that causes a Correlative Adjustment to one Party (or its Subsidiary) and a corresponding Tax Benefit to the other Party (or its Subsidiary), such other Party shall pay, without duplication of any other amounts payable under this Agreement, the amount of the Tax Benefit to the first Party.

SECTION 9.5 Obligation to Fund Refund Litigation. In the event NiSource determines it appropriate to deposit or pay any liability asserted by a Taxing Authority in connection with an Audit of Taxes due for a Pre-Distribution Tax Period or Straddle Tax Period, Columbia shall fund the Columbia Allocable Audit Portion of such deposit or payment (determined by assuming that the amount actually paid was an amount of additional Taxes due and payable).

ARTICLE X

COOPERATION AND EXCHANGE OF INFORMATION

SECTION 10.1 General Cooperation and Exchange of Information. The Parties shall each cooperate fully (and each shall cause its respective Subsidiaries to cooperate fully) and in a timely manner (considering the other Party's normal internal processing or reporting requirements) with all reasonable requests from the other Party, or from an agent, representative, or advisor to the other Party, in connection with the preparation and filing of Tax Returns, claims for Refund, Audits, determinations of Tax Attributes and the calculation of Taxes or other amounts required to be paid hereunder, and any applicable financial reporting requirements of a Party or any Subsidiary thereof, in each case, related or attributable to or arising in connection with Taxes or Tax Attributes of either Party or Subsidiary thereof. Such cooperation shall include:

- (a) the retention until the expiration of the applicable statute of limitations or, if later, until the expiration of all relevant Tax Attributes (in each case taking into account all waivers and extensions), and the provision upon request, of copies of Tax Returns of the Parties and their respective Subsidiaries for periods up to and including the Distribution Date, books, records (including information regarding ownership and Tax basis of property), documentation, and other information relating to such Tax Returns, including accompanying schedules, related work papers, and documents relating to rulings or other determinations by Taxing Authorities;
- (b) the execution of any document that may be necessary or reasonably helpful in connection with any Audit of either of the Parties or their respective Subsidiaries, or the filing of a Tax Return or Refund claim of the Parties or any of their respective Subsidiaries (including the signature of an officer of a Party or any Subsidiary thereof);
- (c) at the other Party's sole cost and expense, the use of the Party's reasonable best efforts to obtain any documentation and provide additional data, facts, insights or views as requested by the other Party that may be necessary or reasonably helpful in connection with any of the foregoing (including any information contained in Tax or other financial information databases);
- (d) at the other Party's sole cost and expense, the use of the Party's reasonable best efforts to obtain any Tax Returns (including accompanying schedules, related work papers, and documents), documents, books, records, or other data or information that may be necessary or helpful in connection with any Tax Returns or Audits of any of the other Party or any Subsidiary thereof;

Each Party shall make its and its Subsidiaries' employees and facilities available on a reasonable and mutually convenient basis in connection with the foregoing matters. Except as explicitly provided in this Agreement, no reimbursement shall be made for costs and expenses incurred by the Parties as a result of cooperating pursuant to this Section 10.1.

SECTION 10.2 Retention of Records. Subject to Section 10.1, if either of the Parties or their respective Subsidiaries intends to dispose of any documentation (including documentation that is being retained pursuant to IRS guidelines, such as Revenue Procedure 98-25 and Revenue Procedure 97-22) relating to the Taxes of the Parties or their respective Subsidiaries for which the other Party may be responsible pursuant to the terms of this Agreement (including Tax Returns, books, records, documentation, and other information, accompanying schedules, related work papers, and documents relating to rulings or other determinations by Taxing Authorities), such Party shall or shall cause written notice to the other Party describing the documentation to be destroyed or disposed of 60 Business Days prior to taking such action. The other Party may arrange to take delivery of the documentation described in the notice at its expense during the succeeding 60 day period.

SECTION 10.3 Confidentiality. For the avoidance of doubt, to the extent applicable, the obligations imposed pursuant to the Separation and Distribution Agreement (including those specified in Section 9.8 of the Separation and Distribution Agreement) with respect to confidentiality shall apply with respect to any information relating to Tax matters.

ARTICLE XI

ALLOCATION OF TAX ATTRIBUTES AND OTHER TAX MATTERS

SECTION 11.1 Allocation of Tax Attributes. Each Party shall make its own determination as to the existence and the amount of the Tax Attributes to which it is entitled after the Effective Time; provided, however, that such determination shall be made in a manner that is (a) reasonably consistent with the past practices of the Parties; (b) in accordance with the rules prescribed by applicable Law, including the Code and the Treasury Regulations; (c) consistent with the Tax Representation Letters and the Tax Opinions; and (d) reasonably determined by the Party to minimize the aggregate cash Tax liability of the Parties for all Pre-Distribution Tax Periods and the portion of all Straddle Tax Periods ending on the Distribution Date. Each Party agrees to provide the other Party with all of the information supporting the Tax Attribute determinations made by that Party pursuant to this Section 11.1.

SECTION 11.2 Third Party Tax Indemnities and Benefits.

(a) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, to the extent that pursuant to any agreement to which any Columbia Party is a party, any Columbia Party has the right to indemnification by any Person (other than any Columbia Party or NiSource Party) with respect to Taxes that arise or are attributable to a period (or portion thereof) ending on or prior to the Distribution Date, Columbia shall be responsible for such Taxes and shall be entitled to receive all Tax indemnities related thereto.

(b) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, to the extent that pursuant to any agreement to which any NiSource Party is a party, any NiSource Party has the right to indemnification by any Person (other than any Columbia Party or NiSource Party) with respect to Taxes that arise or are attributable to a period (or portion thereof) ending on or prior to the Distribution Date, NiSource shall be responsible for such Taxes and shall be entitled to receive all Tax indemnities related thereto.

SECTION 11.3 Allocation of Tax Items. All determinations (whether for purposes of preparing Tax Returns or for purposes of determining a Party's responsibility for Taxes under this Agreement) regarding the allocation of Tax items between the portion of a Straddle Tax Period that ends on the Distribution Date and the portion of such Straddle Tax Period that begins the day after the Distribution Date shall be made pursuant to the principles of Treasury Regulations Section 1.1502-76(b) or of a corresponding provision under the Laws of the applicable taxing jurisdiction; provided, however, that Tax items may be ratably allocated to the extent provided by and pursuant to the principles of Treasury Regulations Section 1.1502-76(b)(2)(ii). Any such allocation of Tax items shall initially be determined by NiSource. To the extent that Columbia disagrees with such determination, the dispute shall be resolved pursuant to the provisions of Section 12.2.

ARTICLE XII

MISCELLANEOUS

SECTION 12.1 Entire Agreement; Exclusivity. This Agreement, including the Schedules and Exhibits referred to herein contains the entire understanding of the Parties with regard to the subject matter contained herein, and supersedes all prior agreements, negotiations, discussions, understandings, writings and commitments between any of the NiSource Parties, on the one hand, and any of the Columbia Parties, on the other hand, with respect to all matters related to Taxes or Tax Returns of the NiSource Parties or the Columbia Parties. Except as specifically set forth in the Separation and Distribution Agreement or any other Transaction Agreement, all matters related to Taxes or Tax Returns of any of the NiSource Parties or the Columbia Parties shall be governed exclusively by this Agreement.

SECTION 12.2 Dispute Resolution; Mediation; Specific Performance.

(a) Subject to Section 12.2(c), either Party seeking resolution of any dispute, controversy or claim arising out of or relating to this Agreement, or the validity, interpretation, breach or termination of this Agreement (each, a "Dispute"), shall provide written notice thereof to the other Party, and following delivery of such notice, the Parties shall attempt in good faith to negotiate a resolution of the Dispute. The negotiations shall be conducted by executives who have authority to settle the Dispute and who are at a higher level of management than the persons with direct responsibility for the subject matter of the Dispute. All such negotiations shall be confidential and shall be treated as compromise and settlement negotiations for purposes of applicable rules of evidence. If the Parties are unable for any reason to resolve a Dispute within 30 days after the delivery of such notice or if a Party reasonably concludes that the other Party is not willing to negotiate as contemplated by this Section 12.2(a), the Dispute shall be submitted to mediation in accordance with Section 12.2(b).

(b) Any Dispute not resolved pursuant to Section 12.2(a) shall, at the written request of any Party (a “ Mediation Request ”), be submitted to non-binding mediation in accordance with the then current International Institute for Conflict Prevention and Resolution (“ CPR ”) Mediation Procedure (the “ Procedure ”), except as modified herein. The mediation shall be held in Chicago, Illinois. The parties shall have 20 days from receipt by a party (or parties) of a Mediation Request to agree on a mediator. If no mediator has been agreed upon by the parties within 20 days of receipt by a party (or parties) of a Mediation Request, then any party may request (on written notice to the other party), that the CPR appoint a mediator in accordance with the Procedure. All mediation pursuant to this clause shall be confidential and shall be treated as compromise and settlement negotiations for purposes of applicable rules of evidence, and no oral or documentary representations made by the parties during such mediation shall be admissible for any purpose in any subsequent proceedings. No Party shall disclose or permit the disclosure of any information about the evidence adduced or the documents produced by any other party in the mediation proceedings or about the existence, contents or results of the mediation without the prior written consent of such other party except in the course of a judicial or regulatory proceeding or as may be required by Law or requested by a governmental authority or securities exchange. Before making any disclosure permitted by the preceding sentence, the party intending to make such disclosure shall, to the extent reasonably practicable, give the other party reasonable written notice of the intended disclosure and afford the other party a reasonable opportunity to protect its interests. If the Dispute has not been resolved within 60 days of the appointment of a mediator, or within 90 days after receipt by a party (or parties) of a Mediation Request (whichever occurs sooner), or within such longer period as the parties may agree to in writing, then any party may file an action on the Dispute in any court having jurisdiction in accordance with Section 12.4.

(c) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 12.2, (i) any party may seek preliminary provisional or injunctive judicial relief without first complying with the procedures set forth in Section 12.2(a) and Section 12.2(b) if such action is reasonably necessary to avoid irreparable damage and (ii) either party may initiate litigation before the expiration of the periods specified in Section 12.2(b) if such party has submitted a Mediation Request and the other party has failed, within 14 days after the appointment of a mediator, to agree upon a date for the first mediation session to take place within 30 days after the appointment of such mediator or such longer period as the parties may agree to in writing.

(d) From and after the Distribution, in the event of any actual or threatened default in, or breach of, any of the terms, conditions and provisions of this Agreement, the Parties agree that the Party or Parties to this Agreement who are or are to be thereby aggrieved shall have the right to specific performance and injunctive or other equitable relief of its or their rights under this Agreement, in addition to any and all other rights and remedies at law or in equity, and all such rights and remedies shall be cumulative. The Parties agree that the remedies at law for any breach or threatened breach, including monetary damages, may be inadequate compensation for any loss and that any defense in any action for specific performance that a remedy at law would be adequate is waived by each of the Parties. Any requirements for the securing or posting of any bond with such remedy are waived by each of the parties hereto.

SECTION 12.3 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the internal Laws (as opposed to the conflicts of Law provisions) of the State of Delaware.

SECTION 12.4 Submission to Jurisdiction; Waiver of Jury Trial. Each of NiSource and Columbia, on behalf of itself and each of its Affiliates, hereby irrevocably (a) submits in any Dispute to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the jurisdiction of any court of the State of Illinois located in Chicago, Illinois, (b) waives any and all objections to jurisdiction that they may have under the Laws of the State of Illinois or the United States, (c) agrees that service of any process, summons, notice or document by U.S. registered mail to its respective address set forth in Section 12.11 shall be effective service of process for any litigation brought against it in any such court and (d) UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT IT MAY HAVE TO TRIAL BY JURY IN CONNECTION WITH ANY DISPUTE (AS DEFINED HEREIN).

SECTION 12.5 Amendment. This Agreement shall not be amended, modified or supplemented except by a written instrument signed by an authorized representative of each of NiSource and Columbia.

SECTION 12.6 Waiver. Any term or provision of this Agreement may be waived, or the time for its performance may be extended, by the party or parties entitled to the benefit thereof. Any such waiver shall be validly and sufficiently given for the purposes of this Agreement if, as to either party, it is in writing signed by an authorized representative of such party. The failure of either party to enforce at any time any provision of this Agreement shall not be construed to be a waiver of such provision, or in any way to affect the validity of this Agreement or any part hereof or the right of any party thereafter to enforce each and every such provision. No waiver of any breach of this Agreement shall be held to constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach.

SECTION 12.7 Partial Invalidity. Wherever possible, each provision hereof shall be construed in a manner as to be effective and valid under applicable Law, but in case any one or more of the provisions contained herein shall, for any reason, be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such provision shall be ineffective to the extent, but only to the extent of such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability without invalidating the remainder of such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision or provisions or any other provision hereof, unless such a construction would be unreasonable.

SECTION 12.8 Execution in Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original instrument, but both of which shall be considered one and the same agreement, and shall become binding when the counterparts have been signed by and delivered to each of the Parties. Delivery of an executed counterpart of a signature page to this Agreement by facsimile or .pdf shall be as effective as delivery of a manually executed counterpart to this Agreement.

SECTION 12.9 Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the Parties and their successors and permitted assigns; provided, however, that the rights and obligations of either party under this Agreement shall not be assignable by such party without the prior written consent of the other party. The successors and permitted assigns hereunder shall include any permitted assignee as well as the successors in interest to such permitted assignee (whether by merger, liquidation (including successive mergers or liquidations) or otherwise).

SECTION 12.10 Third-Party Beneficiaries. This Agreement is solely for the benefit of the Parties and their respective Subsidiaries, Affiliates, successors and permitted assigns, and nothing herein express or implied shall give or be construed to give to any other Person any legal or equitable rights hereunder.

SECTION 12.11 Notices. All notices, requests, claims, demands and other communications required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing and shall be deemed given or delivered (a) when delivered personally, (b) if transmitted by facsimile when confirmation of transmission is received, (c) if sent by electronic transmission when confirmation that the recipient has read the transmission (e.g., a “read receipt”) is received, (d) registered or certified mail, postage prepaid, return receipt requested, on the third Business Day after mailing or (e) if sent by nationally recognized overnight courier, on the first Business Day following the date of dispatch; and shall be addressed as follows:

or to such other address as such party may indicate by a notice delivered to the other party in accordance herewith.

SECTION 12.12 Performance. NiSource will cause to be performed and hereby guarantees the performance of all actions, agreements and obligations set forth herein to be performed by any NiSource Party. Columbia will cause to be performed and hereby guarantees the performance of all actions, agreements and obligations set forth herein to be performed by any Columbia Party. This Agreement is being entered into by NiSource and Columbia on behalf of themselves and the members of their respective groups (the NiSource Parties and the Columbia Parties). This Agreement shall constitute a direct obligation of each such entity and shall be deemed to have been readopted and affirmed on behalf of any Person that becomes a Subsidiary of NiSource or Columbia on and after the Effective Time.

SECTION 12.13 Termination . Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, this Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Distribution by and in the sole discretion of the NiSource Board without the prior approval of any Person. In the event of such termination, this Agreement shall forthwith become void, and no Party shall have any liability to any Person by reason of this Agreement. After the Effective Time, this Agreement may not be terminated except by an agreement in writing signed by each of the Parties.

SECTION 12.14 Limited Liability . Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, no individual who is a stockholder, director, employee, officer, agent or representative of Columbia or NiSource, in such individual's capacity as such, shall have any liability in respect of or relating to the covenants or obligations of Columbia or NiSource, as applicable, under this Agreement and, to the fullest extent legally permissible, each of Columbia and NiSource, for itself and its stockholders, directors, employees, officers and Affiliates, waives and agrees not to seek to assert or enforce any such liability that any such individual otherwise might have pursuant to applicable Law.

SECTION 12.15 Survival . Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, all covenants, conditions and agreements of the Parties contained in this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and shall survive the Distribution Date.

SECTION 12.16 No Circumvention . Each Party agrees not to directly or indirectly take any actions, act in concert with any Person who takes any action, or cause or allow any of its Subsidiaries to take any actions (including the failure to take any reasonable action) such that the resulting effect is to materially undermine the effectiveness of any of the provisions of this Agreement (including adversely affecting the rights or ability of any Party to successfully pursue indemnification or payment pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement).

SECTION 12.17 Changes in Law . If, due to any change in applicable Law or regulations or their interpretation by any governmental authority having jurisdiction subsequent to the date hereof, performance of any provision of this Agreement or any transaction contemplated hereby shall become impracticable or impossible, the Parties shall use their commercially reasonable best efforts to find and employ an alternative means to achieve the same or substantially the same result as that contemplated by such provision.

SECTION 12.18 Authority . Each of the Parties represents to the other Party that (a) it has the corporate power (corporate or otherwise) and authority to execute, deliver and perform this Agreement, (b) the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement by it have been duly authorized by all necessary corporate or other action, (c) it has duly and validly executed and delivered this Agreement, and (d) this Agreement is a legal, valid, and binding obligation, enforceable against it in accordance with its terms subject to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, reorganization, moratorium, or other similar Laws affecting creditors' rights generally and general equity principles.

SECTION 12.19 Tax Allocation Agreements. All Tax sharing, indemnification and similar agreements, written or unwritten, as between any of the NiSource Parties, on the one hand, and any of the Columbia Parties, on the other hand (other than this Agreement or in any other Transaction Agreement), shall automatically terminate or be amended as of the Distribution Date such that, after the Distribution Date, no NiSource Party that is a party to such Tax sharing, indemnification or similar agreement shall have any further rights or obligations under any such agreement with respect to any Columbia Party, and vice versa; provided, for the avoidance of doubt, that any such Tax sharing, indemnification or similar agreements shall remain in place to the extent such agreement thereafter relates solely to NiSource Parties or Columbia Parties, respectively.

SECTION 12.20 No Duplication; No Double Recovery. Nothing in this Agreement is intended to confer or impose upon any Party a duplicative right, entitlement, obligation, or recovery with respect to any matter arising out of the same facts and circumstances.

1.02 Rules of Construction .

(a) For purposes of this Agreement:

(1) the words “include,” “includes” and “including” shall be deemed to be followed by the words “without limitation;”

(2) the word “or” is not exclusive;

(3) the words “herein,” “hereunder,” “hereof,” “hereby,” “hereto” and words of similar import shall be deemed to be references to this Agreement as a whole and not to any particular Section or other provision hereof; and

(4) relative to the determination of any period of time, “from” means “from and including,” “to” means “to but excluding” and “through” means “through and including.”

(b) In this Agreement, unless the context clearly indicates otherwise:

(1) words used in the singular include the plural and words used in the plural include the singular;

(2) reference to any Person includes such Person’s successors and assigns but, if applicable, only if such successors and assigns are permitted by this Agreement;

(3) reference to any Person’s “Affiliates” shall be deemed to mean such Person’s Affiliates following the Distribution;

(4) reference to any gender includes the other gender and the neutral gender;

(5) reference to any Article, Section or Exhibit means such Article or Section of, or such Exhibit to, this Agreement, as the case may be;

(6) reference to any agreement, instrument or other document means such agreement, instrument or other document as amended, supplemented and modified from time to time to the extent permitted by the provisions thereof and by this Agreement;

(7) reference to any Law (including statutes and ordinances) means such Law (including all rules and regulations promulgated thereunder) as amended, modified, codified or reenacted, in whole or in part, and in effect at the time of determining compliance or applicability;

(8) accounting terms used herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them by NiSource and its Subsidiaries, including Columbia, in its and their internal accounting and financial policies and procedures in effect immediately prior to the date of this Agreement;

(9) if there is any conflict between the provisions of the Distribution Agreement and this Agreement, the provisions of this Agreement shall control with respect to the subject matter hereof;

(10) any portion of this Agreement obligating a party hereto to take any action or refrain from taking any action, as the case may be, shall mean that such party shall also be obligated to cause its relevant Subsidiaries to take such action or refrain from taking such action, as the case may be; and

(11) all references to dollar amounts shall be in respect of lawful currency of the United States.

(c) The titles to Articles and headings of Sections contained in this Agreement have been inserted for convenience of reference only and shall not be deemed to be a part of or to affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement, and this Agreement and the Transaction Agreements shall be construed without regard to any presumption or rule requiring construction or interpretation against the party drafting an instrument or causing any instrument to be drafted.

(d) The Exhibit shall be construed with and as an integral part of this Agreement to the same extent as if the same had been set forth verbatim herein.

ARTICLE II

ASSIGNMENT OF EMPLOYEES

As of the date immediately prior to the Distribution Date, the employment of the Transferred Employees by the NiSource Parties shall have terminated and been assigned and transferred to a Columbia Party. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained herein, nothing in this Agreement shall create any obligation on the part of any Columbia Party to continue the employment of any employee for any definite period following the Distribution Date or to change the employment status of any employee from “at will.”

ARTICLE III

PENSION, RETIREMENT AND DEFERRED COMPENSATION PLANS

3.01 Defined Contribution Plans.

(a) Establishment of the Columbia Retirement Savings Plan. Effective on or before the Distribution Date, Columbia shall adopt, establish and maintain a 401(k) profit sharing plan and trust for the benefit of employees of the Columbia Parties that is substantially similar to the NiSource RSP and is intended to be qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code and exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(a) of the Code (the “Columbia RSP”). As soon as practicable after the adoption of the Columbia RSP, or as otherwise required under Revenue Procedure 2007-44, Columbia shall submit an application to the IRS for a determination that the Columbia RSP is qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code and that the related Columbia RSP Trust is exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(a) of the Code, and shall take any actions not inconsistent with Columbia’s other general commitments contained in this Agreement and make any amendments necessary to receive such determination. As of the Distribution Date, each Business Employee employed by the Columbia Parties (and any survivor or beneficiary of a Deceased Business Employee who is entitled to a benefit under the NiSource RSP immediately prior to the Distribution Date) shall be eligible to participate in the Columbia RSP, which shall recognize the service of such Business Employee with NiSource and its Subsidiaries in accordance with Section 7.04.

(b) Transfer of Assets from NiSource, Inc. Retirement Savings Plan. On or as soon as administratively practicable after the Distribution Date, NiSource shall cause the NiSource RSP Trust to transfer to the Columbia RSP Trust assets having a value as of the applicable valuation date that is equal to the value of the account balances of, and accrued liabilities (including any outstanding loan balances) with respect to, all Business Employees and all survivors and beneficiaries of all Deceased Business Employees with an account balance under the NiSource RSP as of such valuation date. “Accrued liabilities” for these purposes shall include employer matching contributions and nondiscretionary employer profit sharing contributions deposited to the NiSource RSP Trust on a per payroll basis for any Business Employee that was accrued prior to the transfer of assets from the NiSource RSP Trust to the Columbia RSP Trust. Notwithstanding the foregoing, with respect to any discretionary profit sharing contributions payable to Business Employees for the 2015 calendar year and to be paid after the end of the 2015 calendar year, (i) NiSource and Columbia shall determine the amount of any employer profit sharing contribution, including the identification of Business Employees who satisfy the eligibility requirements for such profit sharing contribution under the Columbia RSP as of December 31, 2015 and who would have satisfied such requirements under the NiSource RSP but for the Distribution, (ii) NiSource shall make a cash payment to Columbia equal to the portion of such contribution that is associated with service for and compensation earned prior to the date of the Distribution, with such payment to be made on or before the due date for such contribution under the terms of the Code and the Columbia RSP and (iii) Columbia shall contribute to the Columbia RSP the full amount of such contribution. Columbia shall be solely responsible for and shall determine the amount of any discretionary profit sharing contribution payable to these Business Employees that is associated with service for and compensation earned from Columbia or an Affiliate for the period beginning on the Distribution Date and ending on December 31, 2015. In addition, on or as soon as administratively practicable after the Distribution Date, a pro rata share of all unallocated amounts (including but not limited to any forfeiture accounts, revenue sharing credit accounts or other unallocated accounts held under the NiSource RSP immediately prior to the Distribution Date) shall be transferred from the NiSource RSP Trust to the Columbia RSP Trust, determined based upon the ratio of the number of all Business Employees actively participating in the NiSource RSP immediately prior to the Distribution Date to the number of all employees actively participating in the NiSource RSP immediately prior to the Distribution Date. Assets transferred pursuant to this paragraph shall be in cash or in kind, including shares of securities, promissory notes evidencing outstanding plan loans, NiSource Shares or Columbia Shares, and such transfer shall be made in accordance with Section 414(l) of the Code. Liabilities under any qualified domestic relations orders (as defined in Section 414(p) of the Code) received with respect to any accounts transferred to the Columbia RSP shall be transferred to and assumed by the Columbia RSP at the time such assets attributable to such accounts are transferred. NiSource shall transfer to Columbia, and Columbia shall accept any promissory notes, including outstanding loan balances, of Business Employees in the NiSource RSP, and Columbia shall continue to process any plan loans transferred from the NiSource RSP to the Columbia RSP. All beneficiary designations made by Business Employees and by survivors and beneficiaries of Deceased Business Employees under the NiSource RSP shall, to the extent applicable, be transferred to, and be in full force and effect under, the Columbia RSP until such beneficiary designations are subsequently replaced or revoked by the Business Employee (or the survivor or beneficiary of the Deceased Business Employee) who made the beneficiary designation (or his legally recognized agent). Except as noted above with respect to profit sharing contribution liabilities relating to 2015, on and after the Distribution Date, Columbia shall assume and thereafter be solely responsible for all then existing and future employer liabilities related to such Business Employees and survivors and beneficiaries of Deceased Business Employees under the Columbia RSP and the administration thereof and the NiSource Parties shall have no liability whatsoever therefor.

(c) Liquidation of Company Stock Funds. Subject to the fiduciary and other requirements of ERISA, and any other applicable Laws, NiSource shall take such actions as are reasonably necessary to ensure that any liquidation of Columbia Shares held in the NiSource RSP after the Distribution Date is orderly and periodic. Subject to the exercise of its fiduciary duties or other requirements of ERISA and any other applicable Laws, as soon as administratively practicable after the Distribution Date, NiSource shall permit participants in the NiSource RSP to transfer the investment of their plan accounts out of the Columbia Share fund maintained under such plan and shall prohibit participants from transferring the investment of their plan accounts or electing the investment of new contributions into such Columbia Share fund, but shall not otherwise require the liquidation of any Columbia Shares from the NiSource RSP until the first anniversary of the Distribution Date or other such date determined by the NiSource Benefits Committee as the named fiduciary for the NiSource RSP. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing herein shall require the liquidation of Columbia Shares from the NiSource RSP. Subject to the fiduciary and other requirements of ERISA, and any other applicable Laws, Columbia shall take such actions as are reasonably necessary to ensure that any liquidation of NiSource Shares held in the Columbia RSP is orderly and periodic. Subject to the exercise of its fiduciary duties or other requirements of ERISA and any other applicable Laws, as soon as administratively practicable after the Distribution Date, Columbia shall permit participants in the Columbia RSP to transfer the investment of their plan accounts out of the NiSource Share fund maintained under such plan and shall prohibit participants from transferring the investment of their plan accounts or electing the investment of new contributions into such NiSource Share fund, but shall not otherwise require the liquidation of any NiSource Shares from the Columbia RSP until the first anniversary of the Distribution Date or other such date determined by the named fiduciary for the Columbia RSP. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing herein shall require the liquidation of NiSource Shares from the Columbia RSP.

3.02 Defined Benefit Pension Plans.

(a) Establishment of Columbia Pension Plan. Effective on or before the Distribution Date, Columbia shall adopt, establish and maintain a Pension Plan and a trust for the benefit of employees of the Columbia Parties (the “Columbia Pension Plan”). Whether in a unified plan document or multiple plan documents that make up a single Pension Plan, the Columbia Pension Plan will be substantially similar to each applicable NiSource Pension Plan that has a portion of assets and liabilities transferred pursuant to Section 3.02(b), and to the related trust(s). The Columbia Pension Plan is intended to be qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code and exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(a) of the Code. As soon as practicable after the adoption of the Columbia Pension Plan and trust, or as otherwise required under Revenue Procedure 2007-44, Columbia shall submit an application to the IRS for a determination that the Columbia Pension Plan is qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code and that the related trust is exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(a) of the Code, and shall take any actions not inconsistent with Columbia’s other general commitments contained in this Agreement and make any amendments necessary to receive such determination.

(b) Transfer of Assets and Liabilities. As of the Distribution Date, the Columbia Pension Plan shall assume all liabilities with respect to all Business Employees under the NiSource Pension Plans (and any survivor or beneficiary of a Deceased Business Employee who is entitled to a benefit under the NiSource Pension Plans immediately prior to the Distribution Date) and neither NiSource nor any of its Affiliates shall retain any such liabilities. On the Distribution Date, NiSource shall cause to be transferred from the NiSource Master Retirement Trust (the “NiSource DB Master Trust”) to the trust established for the Columbia Pension Plan (the “Columbia Pension Trust”) an initial amount of assets (the “Initial Transfer Amount”) in funds that are immediately available funds under the NiSource DB Master Trust, which such amount shall be equal to 75% of the amount the actuary engaged by the NiSource Pension Plans determines in good faith to be a reasonable estimate of the amount of assets to be transferred as of the Distribution Date for all Business Employees (and all survivors and beneficiaries of Deceased Business Employees) with accrued benefits under the NiSource Pension Plans in accordance with Section 414 (l) of the Code and Section 4044 of ERISA. As soon as administratively practicable after the Distribution Date, the actuary engaged by the NiSource Pension Plans shall determine the final amount of assets to be transferred as of the Distribution Date for all Business Employees (and all survivors and beneficiaries of Deceased Business Employees) with accrued benefits under the NiSource Pension Plans in accordance with Section 414(l) of the Code and Section 4044 of ERISA (the “Final Transfer Amount”). As soon as administratively practicable after the later to occur of (i) the date the Final Transfer Amount is determined and (ii) the expiration of the waiting period prescribed by Section 6058(b) of the Code, the NiSource Parties shall direct the trustee of the NiSource DB Master Trust to transfer the Final Transfer Amount in funds that are immediately available funds under the NiSource DB Master Trust to the trustee of the Columbia Pension Trust. The Final Transfer Amount shall be reduced (i) by the Initial Transfer Amount, (ii) as necessary to reflect benefit payments made from the NiSource DB Master Trust on behalf of any Business Employees (or any survivors or beneficiaries of Deceased Business Employees), which such payments are effective as of the Distribution Date or any other date between the Distribution Date and the Final Transfer Date, (iii) by any administrative expenses paid from the NiSource DB Master Trust prior to the Final Transfer Date in preparation for the administration of the Columbia Pension Plan and the transfer of the Final Transfer Amount to the Columbia Pension Trust and (iv) by the pro-rata portion of monthly investment expenses incurred by the NiSource Pension Plans attributable to the Final Transfer Amount for the period beginning on the Distribution Date and ending on the Final Transfer Date. From the actual date of delivery of the Initial Transfer Amount on the Distribution Date until the actual date of delivery of the Final Transfer Amount (the “Final Transfer Date”), the trustee of the NiSource DB Master Trust shall hold the Final Transfer Amount under the NiSource Pension Plans and the Final Transfer Amount shall be credited with earnings, from the Distribution Date to the Final Transfer Date, at a rate equal to the actual rate of return for the investments in the NiSource DB Master Trust for the period beginning on the Distribution Date and ending on the Final Transfer Date. Further, liabilities under any qualified domestic relations orders (as defined in Section 414(p) of the Code) received with regard to any benefits for such Business Employees shall be transferred to and assumed by the Columbia Pension Plan as of the Distribution Date. All beneficiary designations made by Business Employees and by survivors and beneficiaries of Deceased Business Employees under the NiSource Pension Plans shall, to the extent applicable, be transferred to, and be in full force and effect under, the Columbia Pension Plan until such beneficiary designations are replaced or revoked by the Business Employee (or the survivor or beneficiary of the Deceased Business Employee) who made the beneficiary designation (or his legally recognized agent).

3.03 Nonqualified Deferred Compensation Plans. Effective on or before the Distribution Date, Columbia shall adopt, establish and maintain nonqualified deferred compensation plans for the benefit of employees of the Columbia Parties (the “Columbia Deferred Compensation Plans”) and shall establish one or more grantor trusts to be a source of providing benefits thereunder (the “Columbia Rabbi Trusts”) that in each case shall be substantially similar to the NiSource Deferred Compensation Plans and the grantor trusts maintained by NiSource with respect to the NiSource Deferred Compensation Plans (the “NiSource Rabbi Trusts”). As of the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties shall assume and thereafter be solely responsible for all existing and future liabilities relating to Business Employees’ (and Deceased Business Employee survivors’ and beneficiaries’) (a) benefits accrued under the NiSource Deferred Compensation Plans prior to the Distribution Date and (b) benefits that accrue under the Columbia Deferred Compensation Plans on and after the Distribution Date. All beneficiary designations made by Business Employees and by survivors and beneficiaries of Deceased Business Employees under the NiSource Deferred Compensation Plans shall, to the extent applicable, be transferred to, and be in full force and effect under, the Columbia Deferred Compensation Plans until such beneficiary designations are replaced or revoked by the Business Employee (or the survivor or beneficiary of the Deceased Business Employee) who made the beneficiary designation. Following the Distribution Date, the NiSource Parties shall have no liability or obligation with respect to the benefits accrued by such Business Employees or by such survivors or beneficiaries of Deceased Business Employees under any of the NiSource Deferred Compensation Plans or with respect to any benefits accrued under the Columbia Deferred Compensation Plans. As soon as administratively practicable after the Distribution Date, NiSource shall cause the NiSource Rabbi Trusts to transfer to the Columbia Rabbi Trusts cash, life insurance policies or other assets having an aggregate fair market value equal to (i) the aggregate fair market value of all assets held in the NiSource Rabbi Trusts as of the Distribution Date multiplied by (ii) a percentage, the numerator of which shall be the lump sum present value of the benefits assumed by the Columbia Deferred Compensation Plans pursuant to this Section 3.03 and the denominator of which shall be the lump sum present value of all benefits accrued under the NiSource Deferred Compensation Plans immediately prior to the Distribution Date.

ARTICLE IV

WELFARE PLANS

4.01 Establishment of the Columbia Welfare Plans. Effective on or before the Distribution Date, Columbia shall adopt, establish and maintain Welfare Plans for the benefit of employees of the Columbia Parties that are substantially similar to the NiSource Welfare Plans (the “Columbia Welfare Plans”).

4.02 Coverage of Business Employees and Surviving Dependents. As of the Distribution Date, each Business Employee shall become eligible to participate in the Columbia Welfare Plans and each Surviving Dependent shall become eligible to participate in the Columbia Pipeline Group Consolidated Flex Medical Plan, subject to the terms of such plans. To the extent applicable to any Columbia Welfare Plans in which Business Employees or Surviving Dependents become eligible as of the Distribution Date that provide benefits similar to the benefits that had been provided to such persons under a NiSource Welfare Plan immediately prior to such date, Columbia shall cause the Columbia Welfare Plans to recognize all coverage and contribution elections made by the Business Employees and Surviving Dependents under the NiSource Welfare Plans in effect for the period immediately prior to the Distribution Date and shall apply such elections under the Columbia Welfare Plans for the remainder of the period or periods for which such elections are by their terms applicable. All beneficiary designations made by Business Employees and Surviving Dependents under the NiSource Welfare Plans shall, to the extent applicable, be transferred to, and be in full force and effect under, the Columbia Welfare

Plans until such beneficiary designations are replaced or revoked by the Business Employee or Surviving Dependent who made the beneficiary designation. With respect to each Business Employee and Surviving Dependent, each Columbia Welfare Plan shall provide that for purposes of determining eligibility to participate, vesting and calculation of, and entitlement to, benefits, service by the Business Employee or, in the case of a Surviving Dependent, the Deceased Business Employee, prior to the Distribution Date with a NiSource Party shall be treated as service with a Columbia Party. Columbia shall cause each Columbia Welfare Plan to waive any waiting periods, evidence of insurability requirements, and the application of any preexisting condition limitations with respect to each Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) and Surviving Dependent. Columbia shall cause each Columbia Welfare Plan to honor any deductible, co-payment and out-of-pocket maximums incurred by each Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) and Surviving Dependent under the NiSource Welfare Plans in which such Business Employee or Surviving Dependent participated immediately prior to the Distribution Date, if any, in satisfying any deductibles, co-payments or out-of-pocket maximums under the Columbia Welfare Plans in which such Business Employee or Surviving Dependent is eligible to participate after the Distribution Date in the same plan year in which any such deductibles, co-payments or out-of-pocket maximums were incurred. All amounts credited or applied to any annual or lifetime benefit limitation under a NiSource Welfare Plan with respect to a Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) or Surviving Dependent shall be credited or applied to the annual or lifetime benefit limitation for such Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) or Surviving Dependent under the corresponding Columbia Welfare Plan.

4.03 Welfare Plan Liabilities.

(a) Columbia Liabilities. Except as provided in clause (b) of this Section 4.03, the Columbia Parties and the Columbia Welfare Plans, as applicable, shall retain and be responsible for all claims for welfare benefits (and for any Liabilities arising as a result of such claims) incurred with respect to any Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) or Surviving Dependent on or after the Distribution Date under the Columbia Welfare Plans, and none of the NiSource Parties nor the NiSource Welfare Plans shall assume or retain any such Liabilities.

(b) NiSource Liabilities. Except as provided in Section 4.05, NiSource and the NiSource Welfare Plans shall continue to be responsible for all claims for welfare benefits (and for any Liabilities arising as a result of such claims) incurred with respect to any Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) or Surviving Dependent prior to the Distribution Date (except with respect to any claims for long-term or short-term disability benefits due and payable on and after the Distribution Date, but incurred prior to the Distribution Date), whether such claims have been paid or remain unpaid as of such date, and neither Columbia nor the Columbia Welfare Plans shall assume or retain any such Liabilities.

(c) Claims Incurred. Claims for group health plan benefits shall be considered to be incurred prior to the Distribution Date if the services related to such claims were provided prior to the Distribution Date. Claims for all other welfare benefits shall be considered to be incurred prior to the Distribution Date if the date of loss occurred prior to the Distribution Date.

4.04 COBRA and HIPAA Liabilities. From and after the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties and the Columbia Welfare Plans shall be responsible for the continuation coverage requirements under the Consolidated Omnibus Budget Reconciliation Act of 1985 and the portability requirements under the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 with respect to all Business Employees and their qualified beneficiaries.

4.05 Flexible Spending Accounts. As of the Distribution Date, each Business Employee shall become eligible to participate in a flexible spending account plan established by Columbia (the “Columbia FSA”), subject to the terms of such plan. Effective as of the Distribution Date, the Columbia FSA shall credit or debit the applicable account of each Business Employee who, as of the Distribution Date, was a participant in the flexible spending account plan maintained by NiSource (the “NiSource FSA”), with an amount equal to the balance of his or her account under the NiSource FSA as of the Distribution Date, and shall continue his or her elections thereunder. If the claims made against a Business Employee’s NiSource FSA account prior to the Distribution Date exceed the amounts credited to such account at the Distribution Date, Columbia shall reimburse NiSource for the amount of such difference. If the amounts credited to a Business Employee’s NiSource FSA account at the Distribution Date exceed the claims made against such account prior to the Distribution Date, NiSource shall reimburse Columbia for the amount of such difference. The Columbia FSA shall assume responsibility as of the Distribution Date for all outstanding dependent care and medical care claims under the NiSource FSA of each Business Employee and shall assume and perform the obligations from and after the Distribution Date. From and after the Distribution Date, NiSource shall provide Columbia with such information Columbia may reasonably request to enable it to verify any claims information pertaining to the NiSource FSA.

4.06 Retiree Welfare Plans.

(a) Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans. Effective on or before the Distribution Date, Columbia shall adopt, establish and maintain retiree Welfare Plans that are substantially similar to the NiSource Retiree Welfare Plans (the “Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans”).

(b) Coverage of Business Employees and Surviving Dependents. As of the Distribution Date, each Business Employee shall become eligible to participate in the Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans established by Columbia and each Surviving Dependent shall become eligible to participate in the Columbia Pipeline Group Consolidated Flex Medical Plan and the Columbia Pipeline Group Post-65 Retiree Medical Plan, subject to the terms of such plans. To the extent applicable to any Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans in which Business Employees or Surviving Dependents become eligible as of the Distribution Date that provide benefits similar to the benefits that had been provided to such persons under a NiSource Retiree Welfare Plan immediately prior to such date, Columbia shall cause the Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans to recognize all coverage and contribution elections made by the Business Employees and Surviving Dependents under the NiSource Retiree Welfare Plans in effect for the period immediately prior to the Distribution Date and shall apply such elections under the Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans for the remainder of the period or periods for which such elections are by their terms applicable. All beneficiary designations made by Business Employees and Surviving Dependents under the NiSource Retiree Welfare Plans shall, to the extent applicable, be transferred to, and be in full force and effect under, the Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans until such beneficiary designations are replaced or revoked by the Business Employee or Surviving Dependent who made the beneficiary designation. With respect to each Business Employee and Surviving Dependent, each Columbia Retiree Welfare Plan shall provide that for purposes of determining eligibility to participate, vesting and entitlement to benefits, service by the Business Employee or, in the case of a Surviving Dependent, the Deceased Business Employee, prior to the Distribution Date with a NiSource Party shall be treated as service with a Columbia Party. Columbia shall cause each Columbia Retiree Welfare Plan to waive any waiting periods, evidence of insurability requirements, and the application of any preexisting condition limitations with respect to each Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) and Surviving Dependent. Columbia shall cause each Columbia Retiree Welfare Plan to honor any deductible, co-payment and out-of-pocket maximums incurred by each Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) and Surviving Dependent under the NiSource Retiree Welfare Plans in which such Business Employee or Surviving Dependent participated immediately prior to the Distribution Date, if any, in satisfying any deductibles, co-payments or out-of-pocket maximums under the Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans in which such Business Employee or Surviving Dependent is eligible to participate after the Distribution Date in the same plan year in which any such deductibles, co-payments or out-of-pocket maximums were incurred. All amounts credited or applied to any annual or lifetime benefit limitation under a NiSource Retiree Welfare Plan with respect to a Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) or Surviving Dependent shall be credited or applied to the annual or lifetime benefit limitation for such Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) or Surviving Dependent under the corresponding Columbia Retiree Welfare Plan.

(c) Retiree Welfare Plan Liabilities.

(1) Columbia Liabilities. Except as provided in clause (2) of this Section 4.06(c), the Columbia Parties and the Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans, as applicable, shall retain and be responsible for all claims for retiree welfare benefits (and for any Liabilities arising as a result of such claims) incurred with respect to any Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) or Surviving Dependent on or after the Distribution Date under the Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans, and none of the NiSource Parties nor the NiSource Retiree Welfare Plans shall assume or retain any such Liabilities.

(2) NiSource Liabilities. NiSource and the NiSource Retiree Welfare Plans shall continue to be responsible for all claims for retiree welfare benefits (and for any Liabilities arising as a result of such claims) incurred with respect to any Business Employee (and, if applicable, such Business Employee's participating spouse and/or dependents) or Surviving Dependent prior to the Distribution Date, whether such claims have been paid or remain unpaid as of such date, and neither Columbia nor the Columbia Retiree Welfare Plans shall assume or retain any such Liabilities.

(3) Claims Incurred. Claims for retiree health benefits shall be considered to be incurred prior to the Distribution Date if the services related to such claims were provided prior to the Distribution Date. Claims for all other retiree welfare benefits shall be considered to be incurred prior to the Distribution Date if the date of loss occurred prior to the Distribution Date.

(d) Retiree Welfare Plan VEBA Trusts .

(1) Columbia Retiree VEBA Trusts. Effective on or before the Distribution Date, Columbia shall adopt, establish and maintain Columbia Life and Medical VEBA Trusts and Columbia Post-65 Retiree Medical VEBA Trusts that in each case shall be substantially similar to the NiSource Life and Medical VEBA Trusts and NiSource Post-65 Retiree Medical VEBA Trusts, as applicable, and are intended to be qualified under section 501(c)(9) of the Code. As soon as practicable after the adoption of the Columbia Life and Medical VEBA Trusts and the Columbia Post-65 Retiree Medical VEBA Trusts, Columbia shall submit applications for determination to the IRS for a determination that each Columbia Life and Medical VEBA Trust and Columbia Post-65 Retiree Medical VEBA Trust is qualified under Section 501(c)(9) of the Code and is exempt from federal income tax under Section 501(a) of the Code, and shall take any actions not inconsistent with Columbia's other general commitments contained in this Agreement and make any amendments necessary to receive such determination.

(2) Life and Medical VEBA Trusts. As soon as administratively practicable following the Distribution Date, the NiSource Parties shall cause the trustees of the NiSource Life and Medical VEBA Trusts to transfer to the Columbia Life and Medical VEBA Trusts the assets that are credited to each of the subaccounts thereunder that relate to the Business Employees.

(3) Post-65 Retiree Medical VEBA Trusts. As soon as administratively practicable following the Distribution Date, the NiSource Parties shall cause the trustees of the NiSource Post-65 Retiree Medical VEBA Trusts to transfer to the Columbia Post-65 Retiree Medical VEBA Trusts the assets that are credited to each of the subaccounts thereunder that relate to the Business Employees.

ARTICLE V

NON-ERISA BENEFIT ARRANGEMENTS

5.01 Columbia Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangements. Effective on or before the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties shall adopt, establish and maintain Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangements for the benefit of the Business Employees that shall be substantially similar to the NiSource Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangements.

5.02 Annual Bonuses. On or before March 15, 2016, the Columbia Parties shall pay to each Business Employee who is granted a Corporate Incentive Plan award issued under the NiSource Inc. 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan (a “CIP Award”), with respect to the 2015 performance period ending on the Distribution Date, a cash payment equal to the CIP Award earned by such Business Employee for such period pursuant to the terms of the NiSource Inc. Corporate Incentive Plan. Prior to the date of such payment, the NiSource Parties shall provide to Columbia documentation detailing the amount of the CIP Award payable to each Business Employee and shall make a cash payment to Columbia in an amount equal to the aggregate amount of such CIP Awards. Effective as of the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties shall establish an annual bonus program for the benefit of the Business Employees that provides for the payment of annual bonuses for the 2015 performance period that begins on the Distribution Date and for subsequent fiscal years that begin after the Distribution Date, and the Columbia Parties shall be solely responsible for the payment of all bonuses earned under such program.

5.03 Severance. On or before the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties shall assume, or enter into substantially similar change in control severance agreements with respect to, each change in control severance agreement between a NiSource Party and a Business Employee, and shall be solely responsible for all obligations of the NiSource Parties under such agreements. Effective on or before the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties shall establish severance policies for the benefit of Business Employees that are substantially similar to the severance policies maintained by NiSource immediately prior to the Distribution Date. Effective as of the Distribution Date, Columbia shall assume, and NiSource shall have no liability or obligation with respect to, the severance benefits provided to Business Employees. Following the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties shall be solely responsible for administering and paying all benefits under the applicable severance plans, policies or agreements with Business Employees, including Business Employees whose employment terminated prior to the Distribution Date for an eligible reason under such policies or in accordance with such agreements. It is not intended that any Business Employee will be eligible for termination or severance payments or benefits from any NiSource Party as a result of the transfer or change of employment from NiSource to any Columbia Party. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, in the event that any such termination or severance payments or benefits become payable on account of such transfer, change or the refusal of a Business Employee to accept employment with any Columbia Party, the Columbia Parties shall indemnify each of the NiSource Parties for the amount of such termination or severance payments or benefits.

ARTICLE VI

STOCK PLANS

6.01 Columbia Stock Plans. Effective on or before the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties shall adopt, establish and maintain Columbia Stock Plans that are substantially similar to the NiSource Stock Plans (the “Columbia Stock Plans”).

6.02 Restricted Stock Units.

(a) RSUs Held by Columbia Employees. NiSource and Columbia shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, including approval of the provisions of this Section 6.02(a) by the Columbia Board and the NiSource Compensation Committee pursuant to the terms of the applicable NiSource Stock Plan, the applicable Columbia Stock Plan and this Agreement, so that each NiSource RSU Award held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by any Columbia Employee shall be replaced with a substitute Columbia restricted stock unit award granted under the applicable Columbia Stock Plan (a “Substitute Columbia RSU Award”). The number of Columbia restricted stock units subject to the Substitute Columbia RSU Award will be equal to the number of NiSource restricted stock units subject to the NiSource RSU Award held by the participant at the close of business on the Distribution Date multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the NiSource Pre-Distribution Stock Price, and the denominator of which is the Columbia Post-Distribution Stock Price. Each Substitute Columbia RSU Award shall vest and be payable based on the holder’s employment or service with the Columbia Parties. Each Substitute Columbia RSU Award shall have substantially the same terms and conditions as the corresponding NiSource RSU Award, except as provided herein.

(b) RSUs Held by Columbia Non-Employee Directors. NiSource and Columbia shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, including approval of the provisions of this Section 6.02(b) by the Columbia Board and the NiSource Compensation Committee pursuant to the terms of the applicable NiSource Stock Plan, the applicable Columbia Stock Plan and this Agreement, so that each NiSource RSU Award held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by any non-employee director of Columbia (a “Columbia Non-Employee Director”) shall be treated as provided in clause (1) or (2) of this Section 6.02(b), as applicable.

(1) Unvested NiSource RSUs. Each NiSource RSU Award held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by a Columbia Non-Employee Director that is not yet vested as of the Distribution Date shall be replaced with a Substitute Columbia RSU Award. The number of Columbia restricted stock units subject to the Substitute Columbia RSU Award will be equal to the number of NiSource restricted stock units subject to the NiSource RSU Award held by the Columbia Non-Employee Director at the close of business on the Distribution Date multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the NiSource Pre-Distribution Stock Price, and the denominator of which is the Columbia Post-Distribution Stock Price. Each Substitute Columbia RSU Award shall vest and be payable based on the Columbia Non-Employee Director’s service with the Columbia Parties. Each Substitute Columbia RSU Award shall have substantially the same terms and conditions as the corresponding NiSource RSU Award, except as provided herein.

(2) Vested NiSource RSUs. Each NiSource RSU Award held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by a Columbia Non-Employee Director that is fully vested as of the Distribution Date shall be retained by the Columbia Non-Employee Director, and the Columbia Non-Employee Director shall receive an additional Columbia restricted stock unit award granted under the applicable Columbia Stock Plan (a “Supplemental Columbia RSU Award”). The Supplemental Columbia RSU Awards shall be fully and immediately vested as of the Distribution Date and shall be payable at the same time and under substantially the same terms and conditions as the related vested NiSource RSU Award. The number of Columbia restricted stock units subject to the Supplemental Columbia RSU Award shall be equal to the number of shares of Columbia stock that the Columbia Non-Employee Director would have received pursuant to the Distribution Agreement if the Columbia Non-Employee Director owned the shares of NiSource stock subject to the vested NiSource RSU Award.

(c) RSUs Held by Persons Other Than Columbia Employees, Columbia Non-Employee Directors or NiSource Non-Employee Directors. NiSource shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, including approval of the provisions of this Section 6.02(c) by the NiSource Compensation Committee pursuant to the terms of the applicable NiSource Stock Plan and this Agreement, so that each NiSource RSU Award held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by any person who is not a Columbia Employee, Columbia Non-Employee Director or non-employee director of NiSource shall be adjusted (an “Adjusted NiSource RSU Award”). The number of NiSource restricted stock units subject to the Adjusted NiSource RSU Award will be equal to the number of NiSource restricted stock units subject to the NiSource RSU Award held by the holder at the close of business on the Distribution Date multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the NiSource Pre-Distribution Stock Price, and the denominator of which is the NiSource Post-Distribution Stock Price. Each Adjusted NiSource RSU Award shall have substantially the same terms and conditions as the corresponding NiSource RSU Award, except as provided herein.

(d) RSUs Held by NiSource Non-Employee Directors. NiSource and Columbia shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, including approval of the provisions of this Section 6.02(d) by the Columbia Board and the NiSource Compensation Committee pursuant to the terms of the applicable NiSource Stock Plan, the applicable Columbia Stock Plan and this Agreement, so that each NiSource RSU Award held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by any non-employee director of NiSource (a “NiSource Non-Employee Director”) shall be treated as provided in clause (1) or (2) of this Section 6.02(d), as applicable.

(1) Unvested NiSource RSUs. With respect to each NiSource RSU Award held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by a NiSource Non-Employee Director that is not yet vested as of the Distribution Date, the NiSource Non-Employee Director shall receive an Adjusted NiSource RSU Award. The number of NiSource restricted stock units subject to the Adjusted NiSource RSU Award will be equal to the number of NiSource restricted stock units subject to the NiSource RSU Award held by the NiSource Non-Employee Director at the close of business on the Distribution Date multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the NiSource Pre-Distribution Stock Price, and the denominator of which is the NiSource Post-Distribution Stock Price. Each Adjusted NiSource RSU Award shall have substantially the same terms and conditions as the corresponding NiSource RSU Award, except as provided herein.

(2) Vested NiSource RSUs. Each NiSource RSU Award held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by a NiSource Non-Employee Director that is fully vested as of the Distribution Date shall be retained by the NiSource Non-Employee Director, and the NiSource Non-Employee Director shall receive a Supplemental Columbia RSU Award. The Supplemental Columbia RSU Awards shall be fully and immediately vested as of the Distribution Date and shall be payable at the same time and under substantially the same terms and conditions as the related vested NiSource RSU Award. The number of Columbia restricted stock units subject to the Supplemental Columbia RSU Award shall be equal to the number of shares of Columbia stock that the NiSource Non-Employee Director would have received pursuant to the Distribution Agreement if the NiSource Non-Employee Director owned the shares of NiSource stock subject to the vested NiSource RSU Award.

6.03 Performance Share Awards.

(a) Performance Share Awards Held by Columbia Employees.

(1) 2013 Performance Share Awards. NiSource and Columbia shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, including approval of the provisions of this Section 6.03(a)(1) by the Columbia Board and the NiSource Compensation Committee pursuant to the terms of the applicable NiSource Stock Plan, the applicable Columbia Stock Plan and this Agreement, so that each NiSource Performance Share Award granted under a NiSource Stock Plan in 2013 and held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by any Columbia Employee will be replaced with a Substitute Columbia RSU Award granted under the applicable Columbia Plan. The number of NiSource Shares earned pursuant to the NiSource Performance Share Award shall be determined by the NiSource Compensation Committee based on performance results through the Distribution Date. The number of such NiSource Shares that are earned shall then be converted into a Substitute Columbia RSU Award by multiplying the number of such earned NiSource Shares by a fraction, the numerator of which is the NiSource Pre-Distribution Stock Price and the denominator of which is the Columbia Post-Distribution Stock Price. Each Substitute Columbia RSU Award shall continue to vest based on the holder's service with the Columbia Parties, and shall have the same terms and conditions as the corresponding NiSource Performance Share Award, except as provided herein.

(2) 2014 Performance Share Awards. NiSource and Columbia shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, including approval of the provisions of this Section 6.03(a)(2) by the Columbia Board and the NiSource Compensation Committee pursuant to the terms of the applicable NiSource Stock Plan, the applicable Columbia Stock Plan and this Agreement, so that each NiSource Performance Share Award granted under a NiSource Stock Plan in 2014 and held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by any Columbia

Employee will be replaced with a Substitute Columbia RSU Award granted under the applicable Columbia Stock Plan. With respect to 50% of such NiSource Performance Share Award, the number of NiSource Shares that are deemed to have been earned as of the Distribution Date shall be equal to 50% of the target number of NiSource Shares subject to such NiSource Performance Share Award. With respect to the remaining 50% of such NiSource Performance Share Award, the number of NiSource Shares earned shall be determined by the NiSource Compensation Committee based on performance results through the Distribution Date. The number of such NiSource Shares that are earned or deemed to have been earned shall then be converted into a Substitute Columbia RSU Award by multiplying the number of such earned NiSource Shares by a fraction, the numerator of which is the NiSource Pre-Distribution Stock Price and the denominator of which is the Columbia Post-Distribution Stock Price. Each Substitute Columbia RSU Award shall continue to vest based on the holder's service with the Columbia Parties, and shall have the same terms and conditions as the corresponding NiSource Performance Share Award, except as provided herein.

(b) Performance Share Awards Held by Persons Other Than Columbia Employees.

(1) 2013 Performance Share Awards. NiSource shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, including approval of the provisions of this Section 6.03(b)(1) by the NiSource Compensation Committee pursuant to the terms of the applicable NiSource Stock Plan and this Agreement, so that each NiSource Performance Share Award granted under a NiSource Stock Plan in 2013 and held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by any person who is not a Columbia Employee will be adjusted and paid under the terms of the NiSource Stock Plan and applicable award agreement. The number of NiSource Shares earned pursuant to the NiSource Performance Share Award shall be determined by the NiSource Compensation Committee based on performance results through the Distribution Date. The number of such NiSource Shares that are earned shall then be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the NiSource Pre-Distribution Stock Price, and the denominator of which is the NiSource Post-Distribution Stock Price. Awards shall continue to vest based on the holder's continued service with the NiSource Parties.

(2) 2014 Performance Share Awards. NiSource shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, including approval of the provisions of this Section 6.03(b)(2) by the NiSource Compensation Committee pursuant to the terms of the applicable NiSource Stock Plan and this Agreement, so that each NiSource Performance Share Award granted under a NiSource Stock Plan in 2014 and held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by any person who is not a Columbia Employee will be adjusted and paid under the terms of the NiSource Stock Plan and applicable award agreement. With respect to 50% of such NiSource Performance Share Award, the number of NiSource Shares that are deemed to have been earned as of the Distribution Date shall be equal to 50% of the target number of NiSource Shares subject to such NiSource Performance

Share Award. With respect to the remaining 50% of such NiSource Performance Share Award, the number of NiSource Shares earned shall be determined by the NiSource Compensation Committee based on performance results through the Distribution Date. The number of such NiSource Shares that are earned or deemed to have been earned shall then be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the NiSource Pre-Distribution Stock Price, and the denominator of which is the NiSource Post-Distribution Stock Price. Each Adjusted NiSource RSU Award shall continue to vest based on the holder's continued service with the NiSource Parties.

6.04 Phantom Shares.

(a) Phantom Stock Units Held by Columbia Employees. NiSource and Columbia shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, so that each NiSource Phantom Stock Unit Award held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by any Columbia Employee shall be replaced with a substitute Columbia phantom stock unit award granted under the applicable Columbia Stock Plan (a "Substitute Columbia Phantom Stock Unit Award"). The number of Columbia phantom stock units subject to the Substitute Columbia Phantom Stock Unit Award will be equal to the number of NiSource phantom stock units subject to the NiSource Phantom Stock Unit Award held by the participant at the close of business on the Distribution Date multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the NiSource Pre-Distribution Stock Price, and the denominator of which is the Columbia Post-Distribution Stock Price. Each Substitute Columbia Phantom Stock Unit Award shall vest and be payable based on the holder's employment with the Columbia Parties. Each Substitute Columbia Phantom Stock Unit Award shall have the same terms and conditions as the corresponding NiSource Phantom Stock Unit Award, except as provided herein.

(b) Phantom Stock Units Held by Persons Other Than Columbia Employees. NiSource shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, so that each NiSource Phantom Stock Unit Award held at the close of business on the Distribution Date by any person who is not a Columbia Employee shall be adjusted (an "Adjusted NiSource Phantom Stock Unit Award"). The number of NiSource phantom stock units subject to the Adjusted NiSource Phantom Stock Unit Award will be equal to the number of NiSource phantom stock units subject to the NiSource Phantom Stock Unit Award held by the holder at the close of business on the Distribution Date multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the NiSource Pre-Distribution Stock Price, and the denominator of which is the NiSource Post-Distribution Stock Price. Each Adjusted NiSource Phantom Stock Unit Award shall have the same terms and conditions as the corresponding NiSource Phantom Stock Unit Award, except as provided herein.

6.05 Employee Stock Purchase Plans.

(a) Establishment of the Columbia Employee Stock Purchase Plan. On or before, but effective as of the close of business on, the Distribution Date, Columbia shall adopt, establish and maintain an employee stock purchase plan (the "Columbia ESPP") for the benefit of employees of the Columbia Parties that is substantially similar to the NiSource Inc. Employee Stock Purchase Plan (the "NiSource ESPP").

(b) Business Employees' NiSource ESPP Elections. Columbia shall cause the Columbia ESPP to recognize all elections made by the Business Employees under the NiSource ESPP in effect for the offering period beginning immediately prior to the Distribution Date and shall apply such elections under the Columbia ESPP for the remainder of the period or periods for which such elections are by their terms applicable. Columbia shall also take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate, so that each Business Employee's election under the NiSource ESPP will be adjusted to permit Business Employees to purchase only Columbia Shares in lieu of purchasing NiSource Shares.

6.06 Approval and Terms of Equity Awards. By approval of the Columbia Board and the NiSource Compensation Committee pursuant to Sections 6.01, 6.02, 6.03, 6.04 and 6.05, Columbia, as issuer of substitute and replacement awards provided hereunder, and NiSource, as sole shareholder of Columbia, shall adopt and approve, respectively, the issuance of the substitute and replacement awards provided for herein. Except as set forth above, the substitute Columbia equity awards shall be subject to the terms of the NiSource Stock Plan and applicable award agreements, except that references in such outstanding substitute and replacement Columbia awards to "Board" and "Committee" shall mean the Board, Compensation Committee or any other designated committee of Columbia (as applicable) and references to the "Company" shall mean Columbia. Notwithstanding the foregoing, substitute awards made under Columbia Stock Plans pursuant to Columbia's obligations under this Agreement shall take into account all employment and service with both NiSource and Columbia, and their respective Subsidiaries and Affiliates, for purposes of determining when such awards vest and terminate.

6.07 No Change in Control. The Distribution will not constitute a "change in control" for purposes of NiSource equity awards that are outstanding as of the Distribution Date.

ARTICLE VII

COMPENSATION MATTERS AND GENERAL BENEFIT MATTERS

7.01 Cessation of Participation in NiSource Plans and NiSource Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangements. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement or as required by the terms of any NiSource Plan or NiSource Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangement, or by applicable law, NiSource and Columbia shall take any and all action as shall be necessary or appropriate so that participation in NiSource Plans and NiSource Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangements by all Business Employees shall terminate as of the close of business on the Distribution Date and the Columbia Parties shall cease to be participating employers under the terms of such NiSource Plans and NiSource Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangements as of such time.

7.02 Assumption of Certain Employee Related Obligations. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, effective as of the close of business on the Distribution Date, Columbia shall assume, and no NiSource Party shall have any further liability for, the following agreements, obligations and liabilities, and Columbia shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless each of the NiSource Indemnified Parties from and against any and all Expenses or Losses incurred or suffered by one or more of the NiSource Indemnified Parties in connection with, relating to, arising out of or due to, directly or indirectly, any of the following:

(a) all agreements entered into between any NiSource Party and any Business Employee, independent contractor or other service provider providing services related to the Transferred Business; provided that if any such agreement constitutes a Shared Contract, the benefits, obligations and liabilities under such agreement shall be allocated between NiSource and Columbia in accordance with Section 5.2 of the Distribution Agreement;

(b) all collective bargaining agreements, collective agreements, trade union agreements or works council agreements entered into between any NiSource Party and any union, works council or other body to the extent they are related to the Business Employees;

(c) all wages, salary, incentive compensation, commissions and bonuses payable to Business Employees on or after the Distribution Date, without regard to when such wages, salary, incentive compensation, commissions or bonuses are or may have been earned;

(d) all moving expenses and obligations related to relocation, repatriation, transfers or similar items incurred by or owed to any Business Employee;

(e) all immigration-related, visa, work application or similar rights, obligations and liabilities to the extent they are related to any Business Employees;

(f) all agreements entered into between (i) any NiSource Party, Columbia Party or a Former Business owned, in whole or in part, by any of the Columbia Parties and (ii) any former director of a Columbia Party or a Former Business owned, in whole or in part, by any of the Columbia Parties ("Former Columbia Directors") providing for ongoing benefits and/or compensation for such Former Columbia Directors or such Former Columbia Directors' spouses (e.g., ongoing payments of any director fees or ongoing payments related to Medicare Supplement Insurance coverage);

(g) all offer letters and letter agreements entered into between (i) any NiSource Party, Columbia Party or a Former Business owned, in whole or in part, by any of the Columbia Parties and (ii) any Business Employee providing for ongoing benefits and/or compensation for such Business Employee (e.g., enhanced severance benefits or ongoing financial and tax planning assistance); and

(h) all liabilities and obligations whatsoever of the Transferred Business with respect to claims made by or with respect to Business Employees, or any other to the extent their employment duties related to the Transferred Business, relating to any employee benefit plan, program or policy not otherwise retained or assumed by NiSource pursuant to this Agreement, including such liabilities relating to actions or omissions of or by the Columbia Parties or any officer, director, employee or agent thereof prior to the Distribution Date.

7.03 Restrictive Covenants in Employment and Other Agreements. To the extent permitted under applicable law, following the Distribution, the Columbia Parties shall be considered to be successors to the NiSource Parties for purposes of all agreements containing restrictive covenants (including confidentiality and non-competition provisions) between any NiSource Party and any Business Employee executed prior to the Distribution Date such that each NiSource Party and each Columbia Party shall all enjoy the rights and benefits under such agreements, with respect to their respective business operations; provided, however, that (a) in no event shall any NiSource Party be permitted to enforce any restrictive covenants against any Business Employees in their capacity as employees of any Columbia Party and (b) in no event shall any Columbia Party be permitted to enforce the restrictive covenant agreements against any NiSource employees in their capacity as employees of any NiSource Party.

7.04 Past Service Credit. With respect to all Business Employees, as of the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties shall recognize all service recognized under the comparable NiSource Plans and NiSource Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangements for purposes of determining eligibility, participation, vesting and calculation of benefits under comparable plans and programs maintained by the Columbia Parties, provided that there shall be no duplication of benefits for Business Employees under such Columbia Party plans and programs. NiSource will provide to Columbia copies of any records available to NiSource to document such service, plan participation and membership and cooperate with Columbia to resolve any discrepancies or obtain any missing data for purposes of determining benefit eligibility, participation, vesting and calculation of benefits with respect to the Business Employees. With respect to retaining, destroying, transferring, sharing, copying and permitting access to all such information, NiSource and Columbia shall each comply with all applicable Laws, regulations and internal policies and each party shall indemnify and hold harmless the other party from and against any and all Liability, claims, actions and damages that arise from a failure (by the indemnifying party) to so comply with all applicable Laws, regulations and internal policies applicable to such information.

7.05 Accrued Vacation Days Off. Effective as of the Distribution Date, the Columbia Parties shall recognize and assume all liability for all vacation, holiday, sick leave and personal days off, including banked vacation, accrued by Business Employees as of the Distribution Date, and the Columbia Parties shall credit each Business Employee with such days off accrual.

7.06 Leaves of Absence. The Columbia Parties shall continue to apply all leave of absence policies as in effect immediately prior to the Distribution to inactive Business Employees who are on an approved leave of absence as of the Distribution Date. Leaves of absence taken by Business Employees prior to the Distribution Date shall be deemed to have been taken as employees of Columbia.

7.07 NiSource Assets. Except as otherwise set forth herein, NiSource shall retain all reserves, bank accounts, trust funds or other balances maintained with respect to NiSource Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangements.

7.08 Further Cooperation; Personnel Records; Data Sharing. The parties shall provide each other such records and information as reasonably necessary or appropriate to carry out their obligations under law, under this Agreement or for the purposes of administering their respective plans and policies, including information relating to the vesting, exercise and employment status of persons holding equity compensation awards in the common stock of the other party. Each party shall be responsible for the accuracy of records and information provided to the other party pursuant to this Section 7.08 and shall indemnify such other party for any losses caused by inaccurate information that it has provided. Subject to applicable law, all information and records regarding employment and personnel matters of Business Employees shall be accessed, retained, held, used, copied and transmitted after the Distribution Date by Columbia in accordance with all Laws and policies relating to the collection, storage, retention, use, transmittal, disclosure and destruction of such records. Access to such records after the Distribution Date will be provided to NiSource in accordance with Article IX of the Distribution Agreement. Notwithstanding the foregoing, NiSource shall retain reasonable access to those records necessary for NiSource's continued administration of any plans or programs on behalf of Business Employees after the Distribution Date, and Columbia shall retain reasonable access to those records necessary for Columbia's administration of any equity award or other compensation or benefit payable or administered by the Columbia Parties after the Distribution Date, provided that such access shall be limited to individuals who have a job-related need to access such records. NiSource shall also retain copies of all confidentiality and non-compete agreements with any Business Employee in which NiSource has a valid business interest. With respect to retaining, destroying, transferring, sharing, copying and permitting access to all such information, NiSource and Columbia shall each comply with all applicable Laws, regulations and internal policies, and each party shall indemnify and hold harmless the other party from and against any and all liability, claims, actions and damages that arise from a failure (by the indemnifying party) to so comply with all applicable Laws, regulations and internal policies applicable to such information.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

8.01 Employment and Plan Rights. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, the Parties expressly acknowledge and agree that (a) this Agreement is not intended to create an employment-related contract between any of the NiSource Parties or the Columbia Parties, on the one hand, and any employee or service provider, on the other, nor may any current or former employee or service provider rely on this Agreement as the basis for any breach of any employment-related contract claim against any of the NiSource Parties or Columbia Parties, (b) nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed or construed to require any of the NiSource Parties or Columbia Parties to continue to employ any particular employee or service provider for any period before or after the Distribution Date, (c) nothing in this Agreement shall be deemed or construed to limit the right of the NiSource Parties or Columbia Parties to terminate the employment of any employee or service provider at any time before or after the Distribution Date and (d) nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as establishing or amending any Pension Plan, Welfare Plan or Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangement, or any other plan, policy, agreement or arrangement for the benefit of any employee or any other person.

8.02 Labor Relations. To the extent required by applicable law or any Contract or arrangement with a labor union, works council or similar employee organization, Columbia shall provide notice, engage in consultation and take any similar action which may be required on its part in connection with the Distribution and shall fully indemnify each NiSource Party against any Liabilities arising from its failure to comply with such requirements.

8.03 Confidentiality. Each Party agrees that any information conveyed or otherwise received by or on behalf of a Party in conjunction herewith is confidential and is subject to the terms of the confidentiality provisions set forth in Section 9.8 of the Distribution Agreement.

8.04 Administrative Complaints/Litigation. Except as otherwise provided in this Agreement, following the Distribution Date, Columbia shall assume, and be solely liable for, the handling, administration, investigation and defense of actions, including ERISA, occupational safety and health, employment standards, union grievances, wrongful dismissal, discrimination or human rights and unemployment compensation claims, asserted at any time against NiSource or Columbia by any Business Employee (including any dependent or beneficiary of any Business Employee), or any other person to the extent such actions or claims arise out of or relate to employment or the provision of services (whether as an employee, contractor, consultant or otherwise) to or with the Transferred Business. Any Losses arising from such actions shall be deemed Assumed Actions under the Distribution Agreement.

8.05 Reimbursement and Indemnification. The parties hereto agree to reimburse each other, within 30 days of receipt from the other party of appropriate verification, for all costs and expenses which each may incur on behalf of the other as a result of any of the Welfare Plans, Pension Plans and Non-ERISA Benefit Arrangements and, as contemplated by Section 5.03, any termination or severance payments or benefits. All liabilities retained, assumed or indemnified against by Columbia pursuant to this Agreement shall be subject to indemnification under Section 8.2 of the Distribution Agreement and all liabilities retained, assumed or indemnified against by NiSource pursuant to this Agreement shall be subject to indemnification under Section 8.3 of the Distribution Agreement, and all such liabilities shall be subject to the indemnification procedures set forth in Article VIII of the Distribution Agreement.

8.06 Entire Agreement. This Agreement, including any schedules hereto and the sections of the Distribution Agreement referenced herein, constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the subject matter contained herein, and supersedes all prior agreements, negotiations, discussions, understandings, writings and commitments between any of the NiSource Parties, on the one hand, and any of the Columbia Parties, on the other hand, with respect to such subject matter contained herein.

8.07 Dispute Resolution. The parties agree that any dispute, controversy or claim between them with respect to the matters covered hereby shall be governed by and resolved in accordance with Section 10.2 of the Distribution Agreement.

8.08 Governing Law. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the internal Laws (as opposed to the conflicts of Law provisions) of the State of Delaware.

8.09 Submission to Jurisdiction; Waiver of Jury Trial. Each of NiSource, on behalf of itself and each of the NiSource Parties, and Columbia, on behalf of itself and each of the Columbia Parties, hereby irrevocably (a) submits in any Dispute to the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States District Court for the Northern District of Illinois and the jurisdiction of any court of the State of Illinois located in Chicago, Illinois, (b) waives any and all objections to jurisdiction that it may have under the Laws of the State of Illinois or the United States, (c) agrees that service of any process, summons, notice or document by U.S. registered mail to its respective address set forth in Section 10.11 of the Distribution Agreement shall be effective service of process for any litigation brought against it in any such court and (d) UNCONDITIONALLY WAIVES ANY RIGHT IT MAY HAVE TO TRIAL BY JURY IN CONNECTION WITH ANY DISPUTE (AS DEFINED IN THE DISTRIBUTION AGREEMENT).

8.10 Amendment. This Agreement shall not be amended, modified or supplemented except by a written instrument signed by an authorized representative of each of NiSource and Columbia.

8.11 Waiver. Any term or provision of this Agreement may be waived, or the time for its performance may be extended, by the party or parties entitled to the benefit thereof. Any such waiver shall be validly and sufficiently given for the purposes of this Agreement if, as to any party, it is in writing signed by an authorized representative of such party. The failure of either party to enforce at any time any provision of this Agreement shall not be construed to be a waiver of such provision, or in any way to affect the validity of this Agreement or any part hereof or the right of any party thereafter to enforce each and every such provision. No waiver of any breach of this Agreement shall be held to constitute a waiver of any other or subsequent breach.

8.12 Partial Invalidity. Wherever possible, each provision hereof shall be construed in a manner as to be effective and valid under applicable Law, but in case any one or more of the provisions contained herein shall, for any reason, be held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such provision shall be ineffective to the extent, but only to the extent of such invalidity, illegality or unenforceability without invalidating the remainder of such invalid, illegal or unenforceable provision or provisions or any other provision hereof, unless such a construction would be unreasonable.

8.13 Execution in Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original instrument, but both of which shall be considered one and the same agreement, and shall become binding when the counterparts have been signed by and delivered to each of the parties hereto. Delivery of an executed counterpart of a signature page to this Agreement by facsimile or .pdf shall be as effective as delivery of a manually executed counterpart to this Agreement.

8.14 Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties and their successors and permitted assigns; provided, however, that the rights and obligations of either party under this Agreement shall not be assignable by such party without the prior written consent of the other party. The successors and permitted assigns hereunder shall include any permitted assignee as well as the successors in interest to such permitted assignee (whether by merger, liquidation (including successive mergers or liquidations) or otherwise).

8.15 No Third-Party Beneficiaries. No Business Employee or other current or former employee of the NiSource Parties or Columbia Parties (or his/her spouse, dependent or beneficiary), or any other person not a party to this Agreement, shall be entitled to assert any claim hereunder. The provisions of this Agreement are solely for the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective successors and permitted assigns, and nothing herein express or implied shall give or be construed to give to any other Person any legal or equitable rights hereunder.

8.16 Notices. All notices or other communications under this Agreement shall be in writing and shall be deemed to be duly given when delivered or mailed in accordance with the terms of Section 10.11 of the Distribution Agreement.

8.17 Performance. NiSource will cause to be performed and hereby guarantees the performance of all actions, agreements and obligations set forth herein to be performed by any NiSource Party. Columbia will cause to be performed and hereby guarantees the performance of all actions, agreements and obligations set forth herein to be performed by any Columbia Party. This Agreement is being entered into by NiSource and Columbia on behalf of themselves and the members of their respective groups (the NiSource Parties and the Columbia Parties). This Agreement shall constitute a direct obligation of each such entity and shall be deemed to have been readopted and affirmed on behalf of any Person that becomes a Subsidiary of NiSource or Columbia on and after the Effective Time.

8.18 Force Majeure. No party shall be deemed in default of this Agreement to the extent that any delay or failure in the performance of its obligations under this Agreement results from any cause beyond its reasonable control and without its fault or negligence, including acts of God, acts of civil or military authority, embargoes, acts of terrorism, epidemics, war, riots, insurrections, fires, explosions, earthquakes, floods, unusually severe weather conditions, labor problems or unavailability of parts, or, in the case of computer systems, any failure in electrical or air conditioning equipment. In the event of any such excused delay, the time for performance shall be extended for a period equal to the time lost by reason of the delay. A party claiming the benefit of this provision shall, as soon as reasonably practicable after the occurrence of any such event, (a) notify the other party of the nature and extent of any such force majeure condition and (b) use due diligence to remove any such causes and resume performance under this Agreement as soon as reasonably feasible.

8.19 No Public Announcement. Neither party hereto shall, without the prior written approval of the other party, make any press release or other public announcement concerning the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except as and to the extent that any such party shall be so obligated by Law or the rules of any regulatory body or stock exchange, in which case the other party shall be advised and the parties shall use their respective commercially reasonable efforts to cause a mutually agreeable release or announcement to be issued; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not preclude communications or disclosures necessary to implement the provisions of this Agreement or to comply with the accounting and SEC disclosure obligations or the rules of any stock exchange.

8.20 Limited Liability. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement, no Person who is a stockholder, director, employee, officer, agent or Representative of Columbia or NiSource, in such individual's capacity as such, shall have any liability in respect of or relating to the covenants or obligations of Columbia or NiSource, as applicable, under this Agreement or any Transaction Agreement or in respect of any certificate delivered with respect hereto or thereto, and, to the fullest extent legally permissible, each of Columbia and NiSource, for itself and its stockholders, directors, employees, officers and Affiliates, waives and agrees not to seek to assert or enforce any such liability that any such individual otherwise might have pursuant to applicable Law.

8.21 Effect if Distribution Does Not Occur. Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, if the Distribution Agreement is terminated prior to the Distribution, this Agreement shall be of no further force and effect.

8.22 Miscellaneous . Except as otherwise expressly set forth in this Agreement, the provisions of Article X of the Separation and Distribution Agreement shall apply mutatis mutandis to this Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the parties hereto have caused this Agreement to be executed by their authorized representatives as of the date first above written.

NEWS RELEASE

July 2, 2015

NiSource, Columbia Pipeline Group complete separation

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. & HOUSTON – NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) and Columbia Pipeline Group (NYSE: CPGX) (“CPG”) announced today that the separation of the two companies was completed successfully through a distribution of all the common stock of CPG held by NiSource to NiSource shareholders.

Under the terms of the distribution, effective at 11:59 p.m., New York City time, on July 1, 2015, NiSource shareholders were distributed one (1) share of CPG stock for every one (1) share of NiSource common stock they held as of 5:00 p.m. CT on June 19, 2015, the record date.

Beginning with today’s market open, CPG will begin “regular way” trading on the NYSE as an independent public company under the symbol “CPGX.”

As of the separation, NiSource, based in Merrillville, Indiana, remains one of the largest natural gas utility companies in the United States, serving more than 3.5 million customers in seven states under the Columbia Gas and NIPSCO brands. The company also provides electric distribution, generation and transmission services for approximately 500,000 NIPSCO electric customers in northern Indiana. NiSource will continue to be listed on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE: NI). Additional information about NiSource can be found at www.nisource.com.

“As a pure-play utility company, NiSource offers a fully regulated platform for growth with a storied track record of execution on stakeholder-supported system enhancement opportunities, which are expected to exceed $30 billion over the next 20-plus years,” said NiSource President and Chief Executive Officer Joseph Hamrock. “This straightforward and well-established plan is underpinned by a deep commitment to safety, customer service, environmental sensitivity and employee engagement.”

CPG, based in Houston, includes Columbia Gas Transmission, Columbia Gulf Transmission, Columbia Midstream Group, its ownership interest in Columbia Pipeline Partners LP (NYSE: CPPL), and other natural gas pipeline, storage and midstream holdings previously owned by NiSource. In total CPG operates more than 15,000 miles of natural gas transmission pipelines, nearly 300 billion cubic feet of underground natural gas storage working capacity, and a growing portfolio of midstream and related facilities. Additional information about CPG can be found at www.cpg.com.

“As an independent company, we are committed to unlocking significant value and enabling even greater growth investment,” said CPG Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Robert C. Skaggs, Jr. “We are actively executing on a significant number of transformational growth opportunities, as well as our landmark long-term system modernization program. These investments are expected to drive robust adjusted EBITDA and dividend growth and triple CPG’s net investment by 2020.”

About NiSource

This news release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of federal securities laws. These forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Examples of forward-looking statements in this release include statements and expectations regarding NiSource's and CPG's business, performance and growth following the separation. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the projections, forecasts, estimates and expectations discussed in this release include, among other things; disruption to operations as a result of the separation; the inability of one or more of the businesses to operate independently following the completion of the separation; weather; fluctuations in supply and demand for energy commodities; growth opportunities for NiSource's and CPG's businesses; increased competition in deregulated energy markets; the success of regulatory and commercial initiatives; dealings with third parties over whom NiSource and CPG has no control; actual operating experience of NiSource's and CPG's assets; the regulatory process; regulatory and legislative changes; changes in general economic, capital and commodity market conditions; and counter-party credit risk, and the matters set forth in the "Risk Factors" section in NiSource's 2014 Form 10-K as well as CPG's Form 10 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, many of which are beyond the control of NiSource and CPG. Readers are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date of this news release. Each of NiSource and CPG expressly disclaims any obligation to update, amend or clarify any of the forward-looking statements contained in this release to reflect events, new information or circumstances occurring after the date of this release except as required by applicable law.

Introduction to the Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited)

On July 1, 2015, NiSource Inc. (“NiSource”) completed the separation of Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. (“CPG”) (NYSE: CPGX) to NiSource stockholders (the “Separation”). CPG is a Delaware corporation formed by NiSource to own, operate and develop a portfolio of pipelines, storage and related midstream assets. The Separation was completed through a special stock dividend, which consisted of a distribution of one share of CPG common stock for every one share of NiSource common stock.

The Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) of NiSource have been derived from its historical consolidated financial statements and should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in NiSource’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2014, and NiSource’s Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the three months ended March 31, 2015. The Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) are being presented to give effect to the Separation. Effective with the filing of NiSource’s Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the three and nine months ended September 30, 2015, CPG will be reported as discontinued operations.

The Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet (unaudited) assumes the Separation occurred on March 31, 2015. The Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Income Statements (unaudited) assume the Separation occurred on January 1, 2012. These pro forma financial statements are for illustrative purposes only and do not reflect what NiSource’s financial position and results of operations would have been had the Separation occurred on the dates indicated above and are not necessarily indicative of NiSource’s future financial position and future results of operations. The pro forma adjustments are based on available information and certain assumptions management believes are factually supportable and are expected to have a continuing impact on NiSource’s results of operations. The actual adjustments that would have been made had the Separation occurred on the dates indicated above may have differed from the pro forma adjustments.

The adjustments to reflect the Separation of CPG include:

- CPG’s issuance of $2,750.0 million of debt securities and subsequent cash payment to NiSource of $2,528.0 million from net proceeds.
- Repayment of approximately $2,256.5 million of long-term debt, the loss on extinguishment of debt and the elimination of interest expense and other financing costs.
- Separation of CPG through a distribution to NiSource stockholders of all of the outstanding shares of common stock of CPG.
- Reclassification of cost of gas from natural gas storage and transportation provided by CPG to NiSource affiliates, previously eliminated in consolidation, as third-party transactions as such services will continue after the Separation.
- Adjustments for one-time costs incurred in the Separation.
- Reclassification of affiliated payable balances as non-affiliate.
- Adjustments of tax balances to reflect the Separation.

Refer to the Notes to Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for further information on significant pro forma adjustments and assumptions.

Notes to Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements

Financing Adjustments

(a) In May 2015, Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. (“CPG”) completed the issuance of $2,750 million of senior notes. CPG received approximately $2,721.0 million from the offering net of issuance costs and discounts. CPG made a cash payment to NiSource Inc. (“NiSource”) of approximately $2,528.0 million from the proceeds of the offering. Proceeds from the cash payment from CPG to NiSource were used by NiSource for debt retirement.

(b) Represents the elimination of interest expense and other financing costs related to approximately $2,256.5 million of debt retired post-Separation at NiSource. Interest expense was calculated using NiSource’s weighted average rate of long-term debt.

In May 2015, NiSource settled its two bank term loans in the amount of $1,075.0 million and executed a tender offer for $750.0 million of its 5.250% Notes due 2017, 6.400% Notes due 2018 and 4.450% Notes due 2021. Additionally, NiSource anticipates using the cash proceeds to repay $230.0 million of private placement debt maturing in November 2015 and $201.5 million of senior unsecured debt due to mature in March 2016. In conjunction with the retired debt, NiSource paid premiums of $91.7 million, accrued interest of $7.9 million, and recognized charges of $2.3 million, $1.9 million and $1.3 million related to the write-off of unamortized debt issuance costs, dealer manager fees and unamortized discount, respectively. The impact of these charges within retained earnings reflects the application of a blended statutory tax rate of 40 percent.

Distribution Adjustments

(c) On July 1, 2015, NiSource completed the Separation. Amounts presented are the adjustments to remove the historical balances and results of operations for the natural gas pipeline and related businesses from NiSource’s consolidated financial statements. Balances are net of affiliated transactions.

Other Pro Forma Adjustments

(d) Represents the reclassification of cost of gas from natural gas storage and transportation provided by CPG to NiSource affiliates, previously eliminated in consolidation, as third-party transactions. Such services are expected to continue after the Separation.

(e) Reflects adjustments for one-time costs incurred in the Separation. These costs have been eliminated from the income statement as the charges are nonrecurring. Charges accrued have been included as an adjustment in the balance sheet. We expect to incur additional charges after the Separation; however, such amounts have not been included as pro forma adjustments as the amounts are not objectively determinable or factually supportable.

(f) Represents the tax effect of the pro forma adjustments to income using a blended statutory rate of 40 percent for all periods.

(g) Reclassification of affiliated payable balances with CPG to non-affiliated.

Following the Separation, we anticipate changes to operating expenses associated with shared corporate services functions. No pro forma adjustments have been made for these expenses as an estimate of the changes to these expenses is not objectively determinable.

In connection with the Separation, we entered into the Separation and Distribution Agreement and several other agreements with CPG to effect the Separation and provide a framework for our relationship with CPG after the distribution. These other agreements include:

- Transition Services Agreements;
- Tax Allocation Agreement; and
- Employee Matters Agreement.

No adjustments have been made related to these agreements as any such adjustments would be considered not objectively determinable or, for income statement purposes, nonrecurring in nature.

Kevin T. Kabat to join NiSource Board of Directors

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. – NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced that on July 3, 2015 its Board of Directors elected Kevin T. Kabat to the Board. He will also serve on the Board’s Audit and Finance committees.

Mr. Kabat currently serves as chief executive officer of Fifth Third Bancorp, a position he has held since April 2007, and vice chairman. Before becoming CEO, he served as president since 2006 after leading both retail and affiliate banking. He was previously vice chairman and president of Old Kent Bank, which was acquired by Fifth Third Bancorp in 2001.

“We’re pleased to have Kevin join the NiSource Board of Directors,” said NiSource Board Chairman Richard L. Thompson. “As an executive responsible for the strategic direction of one of the nation’s most-respected financial services companies, he brings valuable financial and customer insights as we work to sustain NiSource as a premier electric and natural gas utility committed to disciplined execution of a robust, long-term infrastructure investment program that supports enhanced reliability, safety and customer service.”

Mr. Kabat has been a director at Unum Group since 2008. He is a member of the board at the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland, the Financial Services Roundtable and the Cincinnati Art Museum. Kabat previously served on the Board of Directors of Davenport University, Lacks Industries, Clark Retirement Community, Grand Rapids Foundation, ADAC Plastics, Right Place Inc., Spectrum Hospital, the Consumer Bankers Association, Michigan Business Roundtable and United Way of Greater Cincinnati.

He holds a master’s degree in industrial/organizational psychology from Purdue University and a bachelor’s degree in behavioral science from John’s Hopkins University.

NiSource Reports Second Quarter 2015 Earnings

Financial results in line with expectations
 Credit rating upgraded by Standard & Poor's, outlook raised by Fitch Ratings
 Successfully completed the separation of Columbia Pipeline Group on July 1, 2015
 Dividend, earnings growth outlook reaffirmed

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. - NiSource Inc. (N SE: NI) today announced net operating earnings per share - controlling interest (non-GAAP) of $56.8 million , or $0.18 per share, for the three months ended June 30, 2015, compared with $77.9 million, or $0.25 per share for the same period in 2014. Operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the second quarter were $212.1 million , compared to $219.1 million in the prior period.

Second quarter net operating earnings - controlling interest (non-GAAP) were lower primarily due to additional interest expense related to Columbia Pipeline Group's (CPG) long-term debt issuance prior to its separation from NiSource and the impact of non-controlling interest in Columbia Pipeline Partners, which was formed in February 2015.

On a GAAP basis, NiSource reported a loss from continuing operations - controlling interest of $36.1 million , or $0.11 per share, for the three months ended June 30, 2015, compared with income of $78.5 million , or $0.25 per share, for the same period in 2014. Operating income for the second quarter was $165.1 million , compared to $219.6 million in the prior period. Schedules 1 and 2 of this news release contain a reconciliation of net operating earnings and operating earnings to GAAP net income and operating income, respectively.

On July 1, 2015, NiSource successfully completed the separation of CPG through a distribution of all of the common stock of CPG held by NiSource to NiSource shareholders. CPG is now an independent public company trading on the N SE under the symbol CPG . NiSource maintains no ownership interest in CPG or Columbia Pipeline Partners following this separation. The financial information presented today includes CPG reportable segment results, as CPG remained part of NiSource through June 30, 2015. Beginning with the third quarter, CPG will be reported as discontinued operations in NiSource financial results.

Now that the separation is complete, the foundation is set for NiSource to execute on our pure-play utility growth strategy which will enhance services to our customers and communities, and is expected to deliver sustainable earnings and dividend growth, said NiSource President and Chief Executive Officer Joseph Hamrock. With solid, investment-grade credit ratings, $30 billion of identified long-term gas and electric system enhancement opportunities, and constructive regulatory environments across our seven states, our path forward is clear.

Hamrock reaffirmed that NiSource expects to deliver non-GAAP net operating earnings per share of $1.00-$1.10 in 2016 with planned infrastructure enhancement investments reaching approximately $1.4 billion. NiSource continues to project long-term earnings and dividend growth of 4-6 percent annually.

On July 2, NiSource declared a quarterly dividend of 15.5 cents per share, consistent with the company's intention, announced in May, to increase the combined (NiSource and CPG) dividend.

In June, NiSource received confirmation of its post-separation investment-grade credit ratings. Standard & Poor's upgraded NiSource's credit rating to BBB from BBB-, Fitch Ratings revised its outlook on NiSource to BBB- (positive) from BBB- (stable), and Moody's reaffirmed its rating of NiSource at Baa2.

NiSource's utilities continue execution of core infrastructure investment programs supported by complementary regulatory and customer initiatives.

NiSource remains on track to invest approximately $1.3 billion during 2015 as part of its $30 billion of long-term regulated utility infrastructure investment opportunities across its natural gas and electric utilities. Approximately 75 percent of these investments are expected to be revenue-generating investments, which help improve reliability and safety, enhance customer service and reduce emissions - all while generating sustainable long-term growth.

Gas Distribution Operations

Columbia Gas of Massachusetts (CMA) has reached a settlement agreement in principle with the Massachusetts Attorney General in its base rate case. The settlement agreement is expected to be finalized and filed for approval with the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities (DPU) in August 2015. The case seeks to recover costs to support CMA's multi-year modernization plan to maintain the safety and reliability of natural gas service for customers.

- Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania's (CPA) base rate case is progressing on schedule and remains pending before the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission. Filed in March, the case supports the continuation of CPA's infrastructure modernization and safety programs. If approved as filed, the case would increase annual revenues by approximately $46 million. A decision is expected by the end of this year.

On June 30, the hearing examiner in Columbia Gas of Virginia's pending base rate case recommended specific fixed customer charges for each rate class, addressing the final outstanding issue in the case. The commission had previously found that the stipulated annual revenue increase of $25.2 million is reasonable. A final order in the case is expected later this year.

As announced previously, CMA received DPU approval of its 2015 Gas System Enhancement Plan on April 30. Cost recovery associated with the 2015 investments outlined in the plan began on May 1, and is projected to increase annual revenues by approximately $2.6 million.

Electric Operations

On May 26, Northern Indiana Public Service Company (NIPSCO) , the Indiana Office of Utility Consumer Counselor and some of NIPSCO's largest industrial customers reached a settlement agreement that resolved all concerns raised by the parties in an Indiana Court of Appeals proceeding surrounding the company's long-term Electric Infrastructure Modernization Plan. As part of the agreement, NIPSCO will file a base rate case, followed by a new seven-year plan in the fourth quarter.

NIPSCO remains on schedule and on budget with its flue gas desulfurization (FGD) unit at its Michigan City Generating Station. The approximately $265 million project is expected to be placed in service by the end of this year. This investment, supported with cost recovery, improves air quality and helps ensure NIPSCO's generation fleet remains in compliance with current environmental regulations. It also helps ensure that NIPSCO can continue offering low-cost, reliable and efficient generating capacity for its customers.

Progress also continued on two major electric transmission projects designed to enhance region-wide system flexibility and reliability. The Greentown-Reynolds project is an approximately 65-mile, 765-kilovolt line being constructed in a joint development agreement with Pioneer Transmission, and the Reynolds-Topeka project is a 100-mile, 345-kilovolt line. Right-of-way acquisition and permitting are under way for both projects and substation construction has begun on both projects. These projects involve an investment of approximately $500 million for NIPSCO and are anticipated to be in service by the end of 2018.

Second Quarter 2015 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the three months ended June 30, 2015, were $212.1 million, compared to $219.1 million for the same period in 2014. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2015 and 2014 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the three months ended June 30, 2015, are discussed below.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $55.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $62.5 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $17.3 million primarily attributable to increases in regulatory and service programs, including the implementation of rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program, as well as the impact of new rates at Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania and Columbia Gas of Virginia.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $24.2 million due primarily to increased employee and administrative costs, higher depreciation, increased outside services costs and higher other taxes.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $56.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $59.8 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, decreased by $1.8 million primarily due to decreased industrial, residential and commercial usage, partially offset by increased environmental investment cost recovery.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $1.4 million due primarily to higher depreciation, partially offset by lower electric generation costs.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations reported operating earnings of $108.6 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $103.7 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $20.5 million primarily due to higher demand margin revenue as a result of growth projects placed into service and new firm contracts, partially offset by lower mineral rights royalty revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $18.2 million primarily due to higher outside services costs, increased employee and administrative costs and higher depreciation. These increases in operating expenses were partially offset by higher gains on the conveyance of mineral interests. Equity earnings increased by $2.6 million primarily from higher earnings at Pennant Midstream.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $ 8.7 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015, compared with an operating earnings loss of $6.9 million for the three months ended June 30, 2014.

Other Items

Interest expense, net was $117.1 million for the three months ended June 30, 2015 compared to interest expense, net of $109.1 million for the prior period. The increase in interest expense is due primarily to CPG's issuance of long-term debt in May 2015 as part of the recapitalization, the expiration of interest rate swaps in July 2014, and the term loan agreed to in August 2014. These increases were partially offset by the maturity of long-term debt in July 2014 and the execution of NiSource's tender offer in May 2015.

Other, net reflected income of $6.5 million compared to income of $7.5 million in 2014.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 35.5 percent compared to 33.7 percent for the same period last year.

Six Month Period 2015 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the six months ended June 30, 2015, were $740.8 million, compared to $728.2 million for the same period in 2014. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2015 and 2014 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the six months ended June 30, 2015, are discussed below.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $361.4 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $342.6 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $60.1 million primarily attributable to increases in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of new rates at Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania, Columbia Gas of Virginia and Columbia Gas of Massachusetts, as well as the implementation of rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $41.3 million due primarily to increased employee and administrative costs, higher depreciation, increased outside services costs and higher other taxes.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $123.8 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $134.0 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, decreased by $2.0 million primarily due to decreased off-system sales and lower industrial usage. These decreases were partially offset by higher revenue from two electric transmission projects authorized by the Midcontinent Independent System Operator (MISO), lower fuel handling costs and increased environmental investment cost recovery.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $8.2 million due primarily to higher depreciation.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations reported operating earnings of $271.6 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $262.6 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $42.1 million primarily due to higher demand margin revenue as a result of growth projects placed into service and new firm contracts. This increase was partially offset by decreased mineral rights royalty revenue.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $41.3 million primarily due to higher employee and administrative costs, increased outside service costs, higher depreciation and lower gains on the conveyances of mineral interests. Equity earnings increased by $8.2 million primarily from increased earnings at Pennant Midstream and Millennium Pipeline.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $16.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015, compared with an operating earnings loss of $11.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2014. The increase in operating earnings loss is primarily due to higher employee and administrative costs.

Other Items

Interest expense, net was $228.1 million for the six months ended June 30, 2015 compared to interest expense, net of $218.2 million for the prior period. The increase in interest expense is due primarily to CPG's issuance of long-term debt in May 2015 as part of the recapitalization, the expiration of interest rate swaps in July 2014 and the term loan agreed to in August 2014. These increases were partially offset by the maturity of long-term debt in July 2014 and the execution of NiSource's tender offer in May 2015.

Other, net reflected income of $13.6 million compared to income of $12.0 million in 2014.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 35.3 percent compared to 35.6 percent for the same period last year.

Regulation G Disclosure Statement

This press release includes guidance for NiSource with respect to net operating earnings from continuing operations, which is a non-GAAP financial measure as defined by the SEC's Regulation G. It should be noted that there will likely be differences between such net operating earnings and GAAP equivalents due to various factors, including, but not limited to, weather, restructuring, environmental and separation related costs and expenses and accounting changes. NiSource is not able to estimate the impact of such factors on GAAP earnings and, as such, is not providing earnings guidance on a GAAP basis.

Omnibus Plan Amendment

Effective October 20, 2015, the Compensation Committee (the “Committee”) of the Board of Directors of NiSource Inc. (the “Company”) approved the Second Amendment (the “Amendment”) to the NiSource Inc. 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan (the “Plan”). The Amendment revises the Plan’s minimum vesting terms by imposing a general one-year minimum vesting period for awards granted under the Plan, with the exception of pro-rata vesting in the event of a participant’s termination of service due to death, disability, or retirement. The Amendment also provides that awards granted under the Plan will become fully vested upon a change in control if the Committee reasonably determines, in good faith, prior to a change in control, that the successor will not assume outstanding awards or grant substitute awards that are of substantially the same economic value and have substantially the same vesting and payment terms as outstanding awards. Otherwise, assumed or substituted awards do not become fully vested unless there is an involuntary termination of service without cause or a voluntary termination for good reason in connection with the change in control.

The foregoing description of the changes effected by the Amendment is qualified in its entirety by the Amendment, which is filed as Exhibit 10.1 to this current report on Form 8-K and is incorporated herein by reference.

Revised Change in Control and Termination Agreement

Also effective October 20, 2015, the Committee approved a revised form of the Change in Control and Termination Agreement (the “Revised Agreement”) with its executive officers. Under the Revised Agreement, the “net benefits” provision was clarified to provide that, in the event of a change in control, the executive’s total change in control payments will be capped at one dollar less than the amount that would trigger an excise tax, unless the total payments due, after being reduced for federal, state, local, and other taxes, would be greater than the after-tax value of the capped amount (i.e., the capped amount reduced for such taxes described above), in which case the executive will receive the total payments due (without any tax gross-up).

The foregoing description of the changes effected by the Revised Agreement is qualified in its entirety by reference to the Revised Agreement that is filed as Exhibit 10.2 to this current report on Form 8-K and is incorporated herein by reference.

10.2	NiSource Inc. Form of Change in Control and Termination Agreement

SECOND AMENDMENT TO THE
NISOURCE INC.
2010 OMNIBUS INCENTIVE PLAN

BACKGROUND

- A. NiSource Inc. (the “Company”) maintains the NiSource Inc. 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan (the “Plan”).
- B. The Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors of NiSource Inc. (the “Committee”) desires to amend the Plan, as previously amended on October 21, 2013, with respect to (i) minimum vesting terms for Awards and (ii) vesting upon a Change in Control.
- C. Section 20.1 of the Plan gives the Company the ability to amend the Plan.

PLAN AMENDMENT

Effective October 20, 2015, the Plan is amended in the manner described below.

- 1. The following is added after the second sentence in Section 6.1:

Notwithstanding the foregoing, Options shall be subject to a Period of Restriction that lapses no earlier than the first anniversary of the date of grant of the Option, except that an Award Agreement may provide that a pro rata portion of such Options shall vest upon termination of Service due to death, disability, or Retirement. Except as otherwise provided in an Award Agreement, such pro rata portion of the Options that vest shall be determined using a fraction, where the numerator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months elapsed between the date of grant of the Options and the date the Participant terminates Service, and the denominator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months between the date of grant of the Options and the date the Period of Restriction otherwise would have lapsed.

- 2. The following is added after the second sentence in Section 7.1:

Notwithstanding the foregoing, SARs shall be subject to a Period of Restriction that lapses no earlier than the first anniversary of the date of grant of the SAR, except that an Award Agreement may provide that a pro rata portion of such SARs shall vest upon termination of Service due to death, disability, or Retirement. Except as otherwise provided in an Award Agreement, such pro rata portion of the SARs that vest shall be determined using a fraction, where the numerator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months elapsed between the date of grant of the SARs and the date the Participant terminates Service, and the denominator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months between the date of grant of the SARs and the date the Period of Restriction otherwise would have lapsed.

3. The following is added after the last sentence in Section 8.2:

Notwithstanding the foregoing, each Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Unit grant shall be subject to a Period of Restriction that lapses no earlier than the first anniversary of the date of grant of such Award, except that an Award Agreement may provide that a pro rata portion of such Restricted Stock or Restricted Stock Units shall vest upon termination of Service due to death, disability, or Retirement. Except as otherwise provided in an Award Agreement, such pro rata portion of the Restricted Stock and Restricted Stock Units that vest shall be determined using a fraction, where the numerator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months elapsed between the date of grant of the Restricted Stock or Restricted Stock Units and the date the Participant terminates Service, and the denominator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months between the date of grant of the Restricted Stock or Restricted Stock Units and the date the Period of Restriction otherwise would have lapsed.

4. The following is added after the last sentence in Section 9.2:

Notwithstanding the foregoing, each grant of Performance Shares shall be subject to a Period of Restriction that lapses no earlier than the first anniversary of the date of grant of such Award, except that an Award Agreement may provide that a pro rata portion of such Performance Shares payable based on achievement of the performance criteria shall vest upon termination of Service due to death, disability, or Retirement. Except as otherwise provided in an Award Agreement, such pro rata portion of the Performance Shares that vest shall be determined using a fraction, where the numerator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months elapsed between the date of grant of the Performance Shares and the date the Participant terminates Service, and the denominator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months between the date of grant of the Performance Shares and the date the Period of Restriction otherwise would have lapsed. Subject to the terms of an applicable Award Agreement or any other agreement between a Participant and the Company, such pro rata portion of the Performance Shares shall vest only to the extent that the performance-based vesting conditions in the Award Agreement have been satisfied, except that in the event that the Participant has terminated Service due to death with more than 12 months remaining in the performance period, such pro rata portion of the Performance Shares shall be deemed to have achieved target level performance.

5. The following is added after the last sentence in Section 10.2:

Notwithstanding the foregoing, each grant of Performance Units shall be subject to a Period of Restriction that lapses no earlier than the first anniversary of the date of grant of such Award, except that an Award Agreement may provide that a pro rata portion of such Performance Units payable based on achievement of the performance criteria shall vest upon termination of Service due to death, disability, or Retirement. Except as otherwise provided in an Award Agreement, such pro rata portion of the Performance Units that vest shall be determined using a fraction, where the numerator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months elapsed between the date of grant of the Performance Units and the date the Participant terminates Service, and the denominator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months between the date of grant of the Performance Units and the date the Period of Restriction otherwise would have lapsed. Subject to the terms of an applicable Award Agreement or any other agreement between a Participant and the Company, such pro rata portion of the Performance Units shall vest only to the extent that the performance-based vesting conditions in the Award Agreement have been satisfied, except that in the event that the Participant has terminated Service due to death with more than 12 months remaining in the performance period, such pro rata portion of the Performance Units shall be deemed to have achieved target level performance.

6. Sections 16.1 is deleted in its entirety and replaced with the following:

Section 16.1 Effect of a Change in Control.

(a) Upon a Change in Control, no cancellation, termination, acceleration of exercisability or vesting, lapse of any Period of Restriction or settlement or other payment shall occur with respect to any outstanding Award, if the Committee (as constituted immediately prior to the consummation of the transaction constituting the Change in Control) reasonably determines, in good faith, prior to the Change in Control that such outstanding Awards shall be honored or assumed, or new rights substituted (such honored, assumed or substituted Award being hereinafter referred to as an "Alternative Award") by the new Employer, provided that any Alternative Award must:

(i) be based on shares of common stock that are traded on a registered U.S. securities exchange;

(ii) provide the Participant (or each Participant in a class of Participants) with rights and entitlements substantially equivalent to or better than the rights, terms and conditions applicable under such Award, including, but not limited to, an identical or better exercise or vesting schedule and identical or better timing and methods of payment;

(iii) have substantially equivalent economic value to such Award (determined at the time of the Change in Control); and

(iv) have terms and conditions which provide that in the event that the Participant suffers an involuntary termination of Service by the Company other than for Cause or a voluntary termination for Good Reason within two years following the Change in Control, any conditions on the Participant's rights under, or any restrictions on transfer or exercisability applicable to, each such Award held by such Participant shall be waived or shall lapse, as the case may be, and any performance-based restrictions shall be deemed to have been achieved at target level performance. For purposes of Article 16 of this Plan, "Good Reason" shall be interpreted in a manner consistent with the guidance under Code Section 409A and shall be deemed to exist if, and only if:

(A) there is a significant diminution in the nature or the scope of the Participant's authorities or duties;

(B) there is a significant reduction in the Participant's monthly rate of base salary, benefits, and the Participant's opportunity to earn a bonus under an incentive bonus compensation plan maintained by Company;

(C) the Company changes by 50 miles or more the principal location at which the Participant is required to perform services as of the date of a Change in Control; or

(D) the Company or any successor materially breaches any Award Agreement or Alternative Award with the Participant granted in accordance with this Plan.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event a Participant terminates Service for Good Reason hereunder, the Participant shall give the Company at least 30 days prior written notice specifying in detail the Good Reason conditions. If the Company cures such conditions, any subsequent termination of employment by the Participant will not be considered to be made for Good Reason.

(b) All outstanding Awards for which Alternative Awards are not granted in accordance with this section shall become fully exercisable; all restrictions thereon shall terminate; any performance-based restrictions shall be deemed to have been achieved at target level performance; and such Awards shall be immediately payable, except to the extent that later payment is necessary to comply with Code Section 409A.

(c) If the Company has terminated the Service of a Participant other than for Cause, or if the Participant has terminated Service for Good Reason, during the year before the consummation of a Change in Control but after a third party and/or the Company had taken steps reasonably calculated to effect such Change in Control, and the Participant reasonably demonstrates that such termination of Service was in connection with or in anticipation of the Change in Control, then: all of the Participant's outstanding Awards shall become fully exercisable; all restrictions thereon shall terminate; any performance-based restrictions shall be deemed to have been achieved at target level performance; and such Awards shall be payable within 60 days after the later of the Participant's termination of Service or the Change in Control, except to the extent that later payment is necessary to comply with Code Section 409A.

7. The remainder of the Plan shall remain unchanged.

NISOURCE INC.
FORM OF
CHANGE IN CONTROL AND TERMINATION AGREEMENT

NiSource Inc., a Delaware corporation (“Employer”), which as used herein shall mean NiSource Inc. and all of its Affiliates, and [NAME] (“Executive”) hereby enter into a Change in Control and Termination Agreement as of [DATE] (the “Effective Date”), which Agreement is hereinafter set forth (“Agreement”).

WITNESSETH

WHEREAS, Employer considers the ability to attract and retain talented management to be part of its corporate strategy and necessary in protecting and enhancing the interests of the Employer and its shareholders. As part of this strategy, Employer desires to retain Executive in its employment notwithstanding any actual or threatened Change in Control; and

WHEREAS, Executive and Employer desire to enter into this Agreement pertaining to the terms of Executive’s employment in the event of any actual or threatened Change in Control;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and promises contained herein, and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt of which is hereby acknowledged, the parties agree as follows:

1. Term. This Agreement shall begin on the Effective Date and shall continue in effect until the date which is 12 months after the date on which either Employer or Executive has given written notice to the other party of its or his election to have this Agreement terminate (“Term”).

2. Definitions. For purposes of this Agreement:

(a) “Affiliate” or “Associate” shall have the meaning set forth in Rule 12b-2 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934.

(b) “Base Salary” shall mean Executive’s monthly base salary at the rate in effect on the date of a reduction for purposes of paragraph (g) of this Section, or on the date of a termination of employment under circumstances described in subsections 3(a) or (b) below, whichever is higher; provided, however, that such rate shall in no event be less than the highest rate in effect for Executive at any time during the Term.

(c) "Beneficiary" shall mean the person or entity designated by Executive, by written instrument delivered to Employer, to receive the benefits payable under this Agreement in the event of his death. If Executive fails to designate a Beneficiary, or if no Beneficiary survives Executive, such death benefits shall be paid:

- (i) to his surviving spouse; or
- (ii) if there is no surviving spouse, to his living descendants per stirpes; or
- (iii) if there is neither a surviving spouse nor descendants, to his duly appointed and qualified executor or personal representative.

(d) "Bonus" shall mean Executive's target annual incentive bonus compensation for the calendar year in which the date of a termination of employment under circumstances described in subsection 3(a) below occurs, under the NiSource Inc. Corporate Incentive Plan or such other incentive bonus compensation plan then maintained by Employer ("Annual Incentive Plan"); provided, however, that such target annual incentive bonus compensation shall in no event be less than the highest target annual incentive bonus compensation of Executive under any such Annual Incentive Plan for any calendar year commencing during the Term.

(e) A "Change in Control" shall be deemed to take place on the occurrence of any of the following events:

(1) The acquisition by an entity, person or group (including all Affiliates or Associates of such entity, person or group) of beneficial ownership, as that term is defined in Rule 13d-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, of capital stock of NiSource Inc. entitled to exercise more than 30% of the outstanding voting power of all capital stock of NiSource Inc. entitled to vote in elections of directors ("Voting Power");

(2) The effective time of (i) a merger or consolidation of NiSource Inc. with one or more other corporations unless the holders of the outstanding Voting Power of NiSource Inc. immediately prior to such merger or consolidation (other than the surviving or resulting corporation or any Affiliate or Associate thereof) hold at least 50% of the Voting Power of the surviving or resulting corporation (in substantially the same proportion as the Voting Power of NiSource Inc. immediately prior to such merger or consolidation), or (ii) a transfer of a Substantial Portion of the Property, of NiSource Inc. other than to an entity of which NiSource Inc. owns at least 50% of the Voting Power; or

(3) The election to the Board of Directors of NiSource Inc. (the "Board") of candidates who were not recommended for election by the Board, if such candidates constitute a majority of those elected in that particular election (for this purpose, recommended directors will not include any candidate who becomes a member of the Board as a result of an actual or threatened election contest or proxy or consent solicitation on behalf of anyone other than the Board or as a result of any appointment, nomination, or other agreement intended to avoid or settle a contest or solicitation). Notwithstanding the foregoing, a Change in Control shall not be deemed to take place by virtue of any transaction in which Executive is a participant in a group effecting an acquisition of NiSource Inc. and, after such acquisition, Executive holds an equity interest in the entity that has acquired NiSource Inc.

(f) "Good Cause" shall be deemed to exist if, and only if Employer notifies Executive, in writing, within 60 days of its knowledge that one of the following events occurred:

- (1) Executive engages in acts or omissions constituting dishonesty, intentional breach of fiduciary obligation or intentional wrongdoing or malfeasance, in each case that results in substantial harm to Employer; or
- (2) Executive is convicted of a criminal violation involving fraud or dishonesty.

(g) "Good Reason" shall be deemed to exist if, and only if;

- (1) a significant diminution in the nature or the scope of Executive's authorities or duties;
- (2) there is a significant reduction in Executive's monthly rate of Base Salary and his opportunity to earn a bonus under an incentive bonus compensation plan maintained by Employer or his benefits;
- (3) Employer changes by 50 miles or more the principal location at which Executive is required to perform services as of the date of a Change in Control; or
- (4) Employer or any successor materially breaches this Agreement.

(h) "Pension Plan" shall mean any Retirement Plan that is a defined benefit plan as defined in Section 3(35) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA").

(i) "Retirement Plan" shall mean any qualified or nonqualified supplemental employee pension benefit plan, as defined in Section 3(2) of ERISA, currently or hereinafter made available by Employer in which Executive is eligible to participate.

(j) "Severance Period" shall mean the period beginning on the date Executive's employment with Employer terminates under circumstances described in subsection 3(a) and ending on the date [X] months thereafter.

(k) "Substantial Portion of the Property of NiSource Inc." shall mean 50% of the aggregate book value of the assets of NiSource Inc. and its Affiliates and Associates as set forth on the most recent balance sheet of NiSource Inc., prepared on a consolidated basis, by its regularly employed, independent, certified public accountants.

(l) "Welfare Plan" shall mean any health and dental plan, disability plan, survivor income plan or life insurance plan, as defined in Section 3(1) of ERISA, currently or hereinafter made available by Employer in which Executive is eligible to participate.

3. Benefits Upon Termination of Employment .

(a) The following provisions will apply if a Change in Control occurs during the Term, and at any time during the 24 months after the Change in Control occurs (whether during or after the expiration of the Term), the employment of Executive with Employer is terminated Employer for any reason other than Good Cause, or Executive terminates his employment with Employer for Good Reason. In addition, the following provisions also will apply if (i) a Change in Control occurs during the Term, (ii) Employer has terminated Executive's employment other than for Good Cause during the year prior to the Change in Control but after a third party and/or Employer had taken steps reasonably calculated to effect a Change in Control and (iii) it is reasonably demonstrated by Executive that such termination of employment was in connection with or in anticipation of a Change in Control.

(1) Employer shall pay Executive an amount equal to [X] times the sum of (a) Executive's Base Salary plus (b) one-twelfth of his Bonus. Such amount shall be paid to Executive in a lump sum within 60 days following the later of Executive's termination of employment or a Change in Control.

(2) Employer shall pay Executive an amount equal to the pro rata portion of Executive's target annual incentive bonus compensation for the calendar year under the Annual Incentive Plan then maintained by Employer, that is applicable to the period commencing on the first day of such calendar year and ending on the date of termination. Such bonus amount shall be paid to Executive in a lump sum within 30 days after his date of termination of employment.

(3) Executive shall receive any and all benefits accrued through the date of termination of employment under any Retirement Plan, Welfare Plan or other plan or program in which he participates at the date of termination of employment. The amount, form and time of payment of such benefits will be determined by the terms of such Retirement Plan, Welfare Plan and other plan or program. Further, Executive's employment shall be deemed to have terminated by reason of retirement without regard to vesting limitations in all such plans and other plans or programs not subject to the qualification requirements of Section 401(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986 as amended ("Code"), under circumstances that have the most favorable result for Executive thereunder for all purposes of such Plans and other plans or programs. Any such payments shall be paid to Executive in a lump sum within 30 days after his date of termination of employment, or if a payment is not permitted at termination of employment under the terms of the applicable plan or program, within 30 days after the earliest permitted payment date under the plan or program, in accordance with Code Section 409A.

(4) If upon the date of termination of Executive's employment Executive holds any awards granted under the NiSource Inc. 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan or any predecessor or successor plan (the "Omnibus Plan"), including options with respect to stock of Employer, restricted stock, restricted stock units, performance shares, performance units, and any other stock-based award, all such awards will become vested, exercisable, and payable in accordance with the terms of the Omnibus Plan and applicable award agreement in effect on the date of such termination.

(5) In lieu of a contribution by Employer to, or a reimbursement to Executive for, any coverage premiums and any other expenses payable by Executive during the Severance Period under all Welfare Plans maintained by Employer in which he and his spouse and other dependents were participating immediately prior to the date of his termination, Employer will pay to Executive an amount equal to 130% of such coverage premiums and expenses otherwise payable during the Severance Period. Such amount shall be paid to Executive in a lump sum within 60 days following Executive's termination of employment.

(6) Executive shall receive outplacement services for a period commencing on the date of termination of employment and continuing until the earlier to occur of the Executive accepting other employment or 12 months after the date of termination, in an amount not to exceed $25,000.

(7) During the Severance Period, Executive shall not be entitled to reimbursement for fringe benefits, including without limitation, dues and expenses related to club memberships, automobile expenses, expenses for professional services and other similar perquisites.

(b) If the employment of Executive with Employer is terminated by Employer or Executive other than under circumstances set forth in subsection 3(a), Executive's Base Salary shall be paid through the date of his termination, and Employer shall have no further obligation to Executive or any other person under this Agreement. Such termination shall have no effect upon Executive's other rights, including but not limited to, rights under the Retirement Plans and the Welfare Plans.

(c) Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, (1) in the event Employer shall terminate the employment of Executive for Good Cause hereunder, Employer shall give Executive at least thirty (30) days prior written notice specifying in detail the reason or reasons for Executive's termination, and (2) in the event Executive terminates his employment for Good Reason hereunder, Executive shall give Employer at least 30 days prior written notice specifying in detail the Good Reason conditions. If Employer cures such conditions, any subsequent termination of employment by Executive will not be considered to be made for Good Reason.

(d) This Agreement shall have no effect, and Employer shall have no obligations hereunder, if Executive's employment terminates for any reason at any time other than (i) during the 24 months following a Change in Control; or (ii) as otherwise specifically set forth in Subsection 3(a).

(e) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, in the event that a determination is made that any payment or distribution by Employer or its Affiliates to or for the benefit of Executive (1) hereunder, or (2) pursuant to any plan, program or policy of Employer in connection with, on account of, or as a result of, such Change in Control (all such payments and benefits being hereinafter referred to as the "Total Payments") will be subject to the excise tax imposed by Code Section 4999 or any successor section thereof, or any interest or penalties are incurred by Executive with respect to such excise tax (such excise tax, together with any such interest and penalties, collectively referred to as the "Excise Tax"), Executive shall receive from Employer the Total Payments, unless (a) the after-tax amount that would be retained by Executive (after taking into account all federal, state and local income and other taxes payable by Executive and the amount of any Excise Tax payable by Executive) if Executive were to receive the Total Payments has a lesser aggregate value than (b) the after-tax amount (after taking into account all federal, state, and local income and other taxes otherwise payable by Executive) that would be retained by Executive if the payments and distributions that comprise the Total Payments and that otherwise would have been made to Executive instead were reduced in the manner specified below, to the extent necessary so that no portion of the Total Payments is subject to Excise Tax (the "Reduced Amount"), in which case Executive shall be entitled only to the Reduced Amount. For this purpose, Executive shall be deemed to be in the highest marginal rate of federal, state and local taxes. In the event that the Executive is paid the Reduced Amount, the reduction of the Total Payments shall be determined in a manner that has the least economic cost to the Executive. If the economic cost is equivalent, the Total Payments will be reduced in the inverse order of when the Total Payments would have been made to the Executive until the Reduced Amount is achieved.

4. Setoff. No payments or benefits payable to or with respect to Executive pursuant to this Agreement shall be reduced by any amount Executive or his spouse or Beneficiary, or any other beneficiary under the Pension Plans, may earn or receive from employment with another employer or from any other source, except as expressly provided in subsection 3(a)(6).

5. Death. If Executive's employment with Employer terminates under circumstances described in subsections 3(a) or (b), then upon Executive's subsequent death, all unpaid amounts payable to Executive under subsections 3(a)(1), (2) or (3) or 3(b), or Section 4, if any, shall be paid to his Beneficiary.

6. No Solicitation of Representatives and Employees. Executive agrees that he shall not, during the Term or the Severance Period, directly or indirectly, in his individual capacity or otherwise, induce, cause, persuade, or attempt to do any of the foregoing in order to cause, any representative, agent or employee of Employer to terminate such person's employment relationship with Employer, or to violate the terms of any agreement between said representative, agent or employee and Employer.

7. Confidentiality. Executive acknowledges that preservation of a continuing business relationship between Employer and their respective customers, representatives, and employees is of critical importance to the continued business success of Employer and that it is the active policy of Employer to guard as confidential certain information not available to the public and relating to the business affairs of Employer. In view of the foregoing, Executive agrees that he shall not during the Term and at any time thereafter, without the prior written consent of Employer, disclose to any person or entity any such confidential information that was obtained by Executive in the course of his employment by Employer. This section shall not be applicable if and to the extent Executive is required to testify in a legislative, judicial or regulatory proceeding pursuant to an order of Congress, any state or local legislature, a judge, or an administrative law judge or is otherwise required by law to disclose such information.

8. Forfeiture. If Executive shall at any time violate any obligation of his under Sections 6 or 7 in a manner that results in significant damage to the Employer or its business, he shall immediately forfeit his right to any benefits under this Agreement, and Employer shall thereafter have no further obligation hereunder to Executive or his spouse, Beneficiary or any other person.

9. Executive Assignment. No interest of Executive, his spouse or any Beneficiary, or any other beneficiary under the Pension Plans, under this Agreement, or any right to receive any payment or distribution hereunder, shall be subject in any manner to sale, transfer, assignment, pledge, attachment, garnishment, or other alienation or encumbrance of any kind, nor may such interest or right to receive a payment or distribution be taken, voluntarily or involuntarily, for the satisfaction of the obligations or debts of, or other claims against, Executive or his spouse, Beneficiary or other beneficiary, including claims for alimony, support, separate maintenance, and claims in bankruptcy proceedings.

10. Benefits Unfunded. All rights under this Agreement of Executive and his spouse, Beneficiary or other beneficiary under the Pension Plans, shall at all times be entirely unfunded, and no provision shall at any time be made with respect to segregating any assets of Employer for payment of any amounts due hereunder. None of Executive, his spouse, Beneficiary or any other beneficiary under the Pension Plans shall have any interest in or rights against any specific assets of Employer, and Executive and his spouse, Beneficiary or other beneficiary shall have only the rights of a general unsecured creditor of Employer.

11. Waiver. No waiver by any party at any time of any breach by the other party of, or compliance with, any condition or provision of this Agreement to be performed by such other party shall be deemed a waiver of any other provisions or conditions at the same time or at any prior or subsequent time.

12. Litigation Expenses. Following the occurrence of Change in Control, Employer shall pay Executive's reasonable attorneys' fees and legal expenses in connection with any judicial proceeding to enforce this Agreement, or to construe or determine the validity of this Agreement or otherwise in the event Executive is successful in one material claim in such litigation. Such reimbursement shall occur by March 15 of the calendar year after the calendar year in which such reimbursement obligation as finally determined.

13. Continuing Indemnification and Advancement of Expenses. Following the occurrence of a Change in Control, to the full extent permitted by law, Employer shall indemnify Executive against any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, arising by reason of Executive's status as a director, officer, employee and/or agent of Employer. In addition, to the extent permitted by law, Employer shall advance or reimburse any expenses, including reasonable attorney's fees, Executive incurs in investigating and defending any actual or threatened action, suit or proceeding for which Executive may be entitled to indemnification under this Section 13. Executive agrees to repay any expenses paid or reimbursed by Employer if it is ultimately determined that Executive is not legally entitled to be indemnified by Employer.

14. Applicable Law. This Agreement shall be construed and interpreted pursuant to the laws of Indiana.

15. Entire Agreement. This Agreement contains the entire Agreement between the Employer and Executive and supersedes any and all previous agreements; written or oral; between the parties relating to the subject matter hereof. For the avoidance of doubt, if Executive becomes entitled to the benefits under this Agreement, Executive shall not be eligible for any duplicative benefits under any other agreement, offer letter, plan, program or policy. No amendment or modification of the terms of this Agreement shall be binding upon the parties hereto unless reduced to writing and signed by Employer and Executive.

16. No Employment Contract. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be construed to be an employment contract between Executive and Employer or provide Executive with the right to continued Employment with Employer.

17. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original.

18. Severability. In the event any provision of this Agreement is held illegal or invalid, the remaining provisions of this Agreement shall not be affected thereby.

19. Successors. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure to the benefit of the parties hereto and their respective heirs, representatives and successors.

20. Employment with an Affiliate. For purposes of this Agreement, (A) employment or termination of employment of Executive shall mean employment or termination of employment with Employer and all Affiliates, (B) Base Salary and Bonus shall include remuneration received by Executive from Employer and all Affiliates, and (C) the terms Pension Plan, Retirement Plan and Welfare Plan maintained or made available by Employer shall include any such plans of any Affiliate of Employer.

21. Notice. Notices required under this Agreement shall be in writing and sent by registered mail, return receipt requested, to the following addresses or to such other address as the party being notified may have previously furnished to the other party by written notice:

If to Employer:	NiSource Inc. 801 E. 86th Avenue Merrillville, Indiana 46410 Attention: Robert D. Campbell
If to Executive:	[NAME ADDRESS]

22. 409A Savings Clause. Employer and Executive intend that this Agreement be interpreted in a manner that is compliant with Code Section 409A so that Executive does not incur additional taxes or penalties under Code Section 409A. If and to the extent that any payment or benefit under this Agreement is determined by Employer to constitute “non-qualified deferred compensation” subject to Code Section 409A and is payable to Executive by reason of Executive’s termination of employment, then (a) such payment or benefit shall be made or provided to Executive only upon a “separation from service” as defined for purposes of Code Section 409A under applicable regulations and (b) if Executive is a “specified employee” (within the meaning of Code Section 409A and as determined by Employer), such payment or benefit shall not be made or provided before the date that is six months after the date of Executive’s separation from service (or Executive’s earlier death). Any amount not paid in respect of the six month period specified in the preceding sentence will be paid to Executive in a lump sum after the expiration of such six month period. Any such payment or benefit shall be treated as a separate payment for purposes of Code Section 409A to the extent Code Section 409A applies to such payments. Further, to the extent any such payment is to be made because of a termination for Good Reason or Change in Control under this Agreement, such Good Reason or Change in Control event shall be interpreted in a manner consistent with the definition of “good reason” or “change in control” for purposes of Code Section 409A.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, Executive has hereunto set his hand, and Employer has caused these presents to be executed in its name on its behalf, all on the day of [DATE].

NiSource Reports Third Quarter 2015 Earnings

- Solid results, in line with expectations, reinforce strength of pure-play utility business plan
- Earnings growth driven by disciplined execution of infrastructure and environmental investments
- Ongoing investments provide long-term safety and reliability benefits to customers and communities
- Columbia Pipeline Group separation successfully completed; CPG results now classified as discontinued operations

MERRILLVILLE, Ind. - NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced net operating earnings (non-GAAP) of $18.5 million, or $0.06 per share, for the three months ended Sept. 30, 2015, compared with a loss of $8.7 million, or $0.03 per share, for the same period in 2014. Operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the third quarter were $115.8 million, compared to $84.7 million in the same prior year period.

On a GAAP basis, NiSource reported income from continuing operations of $14.8 million, or $0.05 per share, for the three months ended Sept. 30, 2015, compared with a loss of $17.2 million, or $0.05 per share, for the same period in 2014. Operating income for the third quarter was $109.7 million, compared to $71.1 million in the same prior year period. Schedules 1 and 2 of this news release contain a reconciliation of net operating earnings and operating earnings to GAAP net income and operating income, respectively.

On July 1, 2015, NiSource successfully completed the separation of Columbia Pipeline Group (CPG) through a distribution of all of the common stock of CPG held by NiSource to NiSource shareholders. As a result, CPG financial results for all periods are classified as discontinued operations.

“Our solid results during our first quarter as a pure-play utility company demonstrate that we’re well-positioned for sustainable long-term growth powered by steady and consistent earnings drivers,” said NiSource President and CEO Joseph Hamrock. “Our ongoing infrastructure and environmental investments deliver value for our customers and the communities we serve by enhancing safety and reliability and benefitting our environment.”

Third Quarter 2015 Highlights

During the third quarter, NiSource remained on track to invest approximately $1.3 billion in 2015 as part of its $30 billion of long-term regulated utility infrastructure investment opportunities. It also made significant progress in advancing regulatory and customer programs in several key states.

Gas Distribution Operations

- On Oct. 7, 2015, Columbia Gas of Massachusetts (CMA) received approval of its base rate case settlement by the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities. The settlement with the Massachusetts Attorney General supports CMA's continued effort to modernize its pipeline infrastructure and transform its operations to continue to serve customers safely and reliably. The approved settlement provides for increased annual revenues of $32.8 million beginning Nov. 1, 2015, with an additional $3.6 million annual increase starting Nov. 1, 2016.
- Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania (CPA) has reached a settlement with parties to its base rate case pending before the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission. Under terms of the settlement, CPA's annual revenues would increase by approximately $28 million, an outcome which supports continued infrastructure replacement, pipeline safety upgrades and enhanced employee training. The settlement also includes a tariff supporting the expansion of natural gas service into unserved areas. A decision on the settlement from the Pennsylvania commission, with new rates in effect, is expected by the end of the year.
- On Aug. 21, 2015, Columbia Gas of Virginia (CVA) received final commission approval of its 2014 base rate case. The commission reaffirmed the $25.2 million annual revenue increase. The approved case supports continued capital investments by CVA to improve its system and accommodate customer growth, as well as initiatives to enhance safety and reliability.
- On Oct. 23, 2015, CVA received regulatory approval of its application for a five-year extension of its infrastructure replacement program under the SAVE Act (Steps to Advance Virginia's Energy Plan). The company plans to invest $150 million on its infrastructure modernization programs from 2016-2020. The approval provides for timely recovery of such investments through an annual tracker mechanism.
- Northern Indiana Public Service Co. (NIPSCO) continued executing on its seven-year, $817 million natural gas system modernization program. NIPSCO filed its semi-annual tracker update on Aug. 31, 2015 and expects to make its next filing in spring 2016.

Electric Operations

- Consistent with a May 26, 2015 settlement NIPSCO reached with the Indiana Office of Utility Consumer Counselor and NIPSCO's largest industrial customers, the company filed a rate case and is expected to file a new seven-year electric infrastructure modernization plan with the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC). The May 26 settlement remains pending before the IURC.
- NIPSCO's first electric rate case in five years was filed with the IURC on Oct. 1, 2015. The case seeks to update rates to reflect the current costs of generating and distributing power, plus ongoing investments which are delivering substantial benefits to customers including programs that have reduced the duration of power outages by 40 percent. The request also seeks to create a bill payment assistance program for low-income electric customers during the summer cooling season. A decision by the IURC is expected in the third quarter of 2016.

- NIPSCO's Michigan City flue gas desulfurization unit is set to be placed in service by the end of the year - on schedule and on budget. The approximately $255 million project, supported with cost recovery, improves air quality and helps ensure NIPSCO's generation fleet remains in compliance with current environmental regulations. It also helps ensure that NIPSCO can continue offering low-cost, reliable and efficient generating capacity for its customers.
- Progress also continued on two major electric transmission projects designed to enhance region-wide system flexibility and reliability. Right-of-way acquisition and permitting are under way for both projects and substation construction has begun on both projects. These projects involve an investment of approximately $500 million for NIPSCO and are anticipated to be in service by the end of 2018.

2016 Guidance, Growth Commitments, Reaffirmed

NiSource CEO Joseph Hamrock reaffirmed that NiSource expects to deliver non-GAAP net operating earnings per share of $1.00 to $1.10 in 2016.

As previously disclosed, NiSource expects to make approximately $1.4 billion in planned infrastructure enhancement investments in 2016 as part of its $30 billion in infrastructure investment opportunities, which should support the company's projected long-term earnings and dividend growth projections of 4-6% annually.

NiSource remains committed to maintaining solid, investment grade credit ratings. Standard & Poor's rates NiSource at BBB+, Fitch Ratings' outlook on NiSource is BBB- (positive) and Moody's rates NiSource at Baa2. As of Sept. 30, 2015, NiSource maintained $1.6 billion in net available liquidity.

Third Quarter 2015 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the three months ended Sept. 30, 2015, were $115.8 million, compared to $84.7 million for the same period in 2014. Operating earnings (non-GAAP) for NiSource's business segments for the three months ended Sept. 30, 2015, are discussed below. Refer to Schedule 2 for a reconciliation of operating earnings (non-GAAP) to GAAP operating income.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $21.6 million for the three months ended Sept. 30, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $1.0 million for the same prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $18.5 million primarily attributable to the implementation of rates under Columbia Gas of Ohio's (COH) approved infrastructure replacement program, as well as the impact of new rates at CVA and CPA.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, decreased by $2.1 million from the comparable 2014 period.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $101.6 million for the three months ended Sept. 30, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $90.2 million for the same prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, decreased by $0.8 million from the comparable 2014 period.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, decreased by $12.2 million from the comparable 2014 period primarily as a result of lower employee and administrative costs.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $7.4 million for the three months ended Sept. 30, 2015, compared with an operating earnings loss of $6.5 million for the three months ended Sept. 30, 2014.

Other Items

Interest expense, net was $94.9 million for the three months ended Sept. 30, 2015 compared to interest expense, net of $94.7 million for the same prior year period.

Other, net reflected income of $5.8 million compared to income of $5.7 million in the comparable 2014 period.

Income taxes were $8.2 million for the three months ended Sept. 30, 2015 compared to $4.4 million for the same prior year period.

Nine Month Period 2015 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 2015, were $583.2 million, compared to $550.7 million for the same period in 2014. Operating earnings (non-GAAP) for NiSource's business segments for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 2015, are discussed below. Refer to Schedule 2 for a reconciliation of operating earnings (non-GAAP) to GAAP operating income.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $383.0 million for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $343.6 million for the same prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $78.6 million primarily attributable to increases in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of new rates at CPA and CVA and the implementation of rates under COH's approved infrastructure replacement program.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $39.2 million due primarily to increased employee and administrative costs, higher depreciation and increased property taxes.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $225.4 million for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $224.2 million for the same prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, decreased by $2.8 million from the comparable 2014 period.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, decreased by $4.0 million from the comparable 2014 period.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $25.2 million for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 2015, compared with an operating earnings loss of $17.1 million for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 2014. The increase in operating earnings loss is primarily due to higher employee and administrative costs.

Other Items

Interest expense, net was $285.9 million for the nine months ended Sept. 30, 2015 compared to interest expense, net of $287.4 million for the same prior year period.

Other, net reflected income of $11.6 million compared to income of $13.4 million in 2014.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 35.5 percent compared to 36.1 percent for the same period last year.

Regulation G Disclosure Statement

This press release includes NiSource's financial results with respect to net operating earnings from continuing operations and operating earnings, which are non-GAAP financial measures as defined by the SEC's Regulation G. The Company includes such measures because management believes they permit investors to view the Company's performance using the same tools that management uses and to better evaluate the Company's ongoing business performance. It should be noted that there will likely be differences between these non-GAAP financial measures and GAAP equivalents due to various factors, including, but not limited to, weather, restructuring, environmental, the impact of asset sales and asset impairments, and separation related costs and expenses and accounting changes. NiSource is not able to estimate the impact of such factors on GAAP earnings and, as such, is not providing earnings guidance on a GAAP basis.

Forward-Looking Statements

This news release contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of federal securities laws. These forward-looking statements are subject to various risks and uncertainties. Examples of forward-looking statements in this release include statements and expectations regarding NiSource's business, performance and growth. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the projections, forecasts, estimates and expectations discussed in this release include, but are not limited to, NiSource's debt obligations and ability to comply with related covenants, changes in NiSource's credit rating, growth opportunities for NiSource's businesses, changes in general economic and market conditions, regulatory rate reviews and proceedings, increased competition in deregulated energy markets, compliance with environmental laws, fluctuations in weather, climate change, natural disasters, acts of terrorism and other catastrophic events, economic conditions in certain industries, fluctuations in the price of energy commodities, counterparty credit risk, any impairment of goodwill and definite-lived intangible assets, changes in taxation or accounting principles, accidents and other operating risks, aging infrastructure, disruptions in information technology and cyber-attacks, NiSource's ability to achieve the intended benefits of the separation and other matters set forth in the "Risk Factors" section in NiSource's 2014 Form 10-K and other filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, many of which are beyond the control of NiSource. In addition, the relative contributions to profitability by each segment, and the assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements relating thereto, may change over time. NiSource expressly disclaims any duty to update, supplement or amend any of its forward-looking statements contained in this release, whether as a result of new information, subsequent events or otherwise, except as required by applicable law.

ITEM 5.03 Amendments to Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws; Change in Fiscal Year.

Effective as of December 17, 2015, the board of directors (the “Board”) of NiSource Inc. (the “Company”) adopted an amendment and restatement of the Company’s bylaws (the “Amended and Restated Bylaws”). The Amended and Restated Bylaws (i) address developments in public company governance and amendments to the Delaware General Corporation Law since the Company last amended its bylaws in 2010, (ii) clarify certain corporate procedures and (iii) make certain other enhancements and technical changes.

The Amended and Restated Bylaws contain new provisions that:

- Update and enhance notice requirements for stockholder proposals (other than stockholder proposals under Rule 14a-8 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) and director nominations, requiring any proposing or nominating stockholder, or if applicable, the nominating stockholder’s nominee(s), to, among other things:
 - Provide the same information with respect to the nominating stockholder’s nominee(s) as that required to be provided by persons nominated by the Board;
 - Disclose to the Company derivative holdings and arrangements with any other person in connection with the proposal or nomination;
 - Make a representation regarding whether such stockholder will deliver a proxy statement to a number of stockholders sufficient to approve the stockholder’s proposal or elect the stockholder’s nominee(s); and
 - Agree that the stockholder’s nominee(s) will comply with the Company’s policies.
- Modify the voting standard for contested director elections such that directors are elected by a plurality of the votes cast in the election of directors rather than a plurality that are present, in person or by proxy, at the meeting (no changes were made to the majority voting standard applicable in uncontested elections); and
- In the event that the Chairman of the Board ceases to be independent, provide for an optional Lead Director (similar to the Company’s current independent Chairman of the Board), who is independent and would preside at all meetings of the Board at which the Chairman of the Board is not present, preside over the executive sessions of the independent directors and serve as a liaison between the Chairman of the Board and the Board.

In addition, the Amended and Restated Bylaws contain new provisions that:

- Address the issuance and transfer of uncertificated shares;
- Clarify when notice of stockholder meetings is deemed to be given;
- Clarify that “abstentions” and “broker non-votes” are not counted as a vote cast either “for” or “against” a nominee in an uncontested election;
- Clarify the procedures for adjourning stockholder meetings and that a quorum, once established, shall not be broken by the withdrawal of enough votes to leave less than a quorum;
- Address the appointment of an inspector of election for stockholder meetings;
- Address the authority of certain persons to vote shares of Company stock on behalf of entities and certain other stockholders;
- Clarify that directors who are full-time employees of the Company will not receive any compensation for their services as a director;
- Address the organization and operations of the Board and Board committees, including notice of Board meetings;
- Address transactions with the Company in which directors or officers of the Company have a direct or an indirect interest;
- Clarify that either the Board or the Chief Executive Officer may remove officers at any time with or without cause and that the Board may remove officers at a meeting or by unanimous written consent;
- Clarify that the Company cannot vote shares of treasury stock;
- Address the authority to take certain actions on the Company’s behalf with respect to voting securities owned by the Company; and
- Clarify that stockholders may amend the Amended and Restated Bylaws by majority vote and need not obtain approval of the total number of authorized directors in order to approve amendments to certain provisions of the Amended and Restated Bylaws.

In addition, the Amended and Restated Bylaws update the Company’s bylaws, including to permit electronic notice of stockholder meetings, permit the Board to act by written consent by electronic transmission and reflect the officer positions following the separation of Columbia Pipeline Group, Inc. from the Company. The Amended and Restated Bylaws also delete provisions that applied when the Company had a classified Board and provisions that restated and/or conflicted with the provisions of the Company’s Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation.

The foregoing description of the changes effected by the Amended and Restated Bylaws is qualified by reference to the Amended and Restated Bylaws, which are filed as Exhibit 3.1 to this current report on Form 8-K and are incorporated herein by reference.

NISOURCE INC.

AMENDED AND RESTATED

BYLAWS

As Amended through December 17, 2015

NISOURCE INC.

ARTICLE I

SEAL

The corporate seal shall have inscribed thereon the name of the Corporation, the year of its organization and the words “Corporate Seal, Delaware.” The seal may be used by causing it or a facsimile thereof to be impressed or affixed or otherwise reproduced.

ARTICLE II

OFFICES; BOOKS AND RECORDS

- (a) Registered Office. The Corporation shall maintain a registered office in the State of Delaware.
- (b) Other Offices. The location of the Corporation’s principal office shall be at 801 East 86th Avenue, in the Town of Merrillville, County of Lake, in the State of Indiana. The Corporation may, in addition to its principal office in the State of Indiana, establish and maintain an office or offices in such other states and places as the Board of Directors may from time to time find necessary or desirable.
- (c) Books and Records. The books, documents, and papers of the Corporation, except as may be otherwise required by the laws of the State of Delaware, may be kept outside of the said State at such places as the Board of Directors may from time to time designate.

ARTICLE III

CAPITAL STOCK

- (a) Certificated and Uncertificated Shares. The interest of each stockholder of the Corporation may be evidenced by certificates for shares of stock in such form as the appropriate officers of the Corporation may from time to time prescribe or be uncertificated. The certificates of stock shall be signed, countersigned and registered in such manner as the Board of Directors may by resolution prescribe, which resolution may permit all or any of the signatures on such certificates to be in facsimile. In case any officer, transfer agent or registrar who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed upon a certificate has ceased to be such officer, transfer agent or registrar before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the Corporation with the same effect as if such person were such officer, transfer agent or registrar at the date of issue.
 - (b) DRS Eligibility. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these amended and restated bylaws of the Corporation (as amended from time to time in accordance with the provisions hereof, these “Bylaws”), at all times that the Corporation’s stock is listed on a stock exchange, the shares of the stock of the Corporation shall comply with all direct registration system eligibility requirements established by such exchange, including any requirement that shares of the Corporation’s stock be eligible for issue in book-entry form. All issuances and transfers of shares of the Corporation’s stock shall be entered on the books of the Corporation with all information necessary to comply with such direct registration system eligibility requirements, including the name and address of the person to whom the shares of stock are issued, the number of shares of stock issued and the date of issue. The Board of Directors shall have the power and authority to make such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary or proper concerning the issue, transfer and registration of shares of stock of the Corporation in both the certificated and uncertificated form.
 - (c) Transfer. The shares of the stock of the Corporation shall be transferred on the books of the Corporation, in the case of certificated shares of stock, by the holder thereof in person or by the holder’s attorney duly authorized in writing, upon surrender for cancellation of certificates for at least the same number of shares, with an assignment and power of transfer endorsed thereon or attached thereto, duly executed, with such proof of the authenticity of the signature as the Corporation or its agents may reasonably require; and, in the case of uncertificated shares of stock, upon receipt of proper transfer instructions from the registered holder of the shares or by such person's attorney duly authorized in writing, and upon compliance with appropriate procedures for transferring shares in uncertificated form. No transfer of stock shall be valid as against the Corporation for any purpose until it shall have been entered in the stock records of the Corporation by an entry showing from and to whom transferred.

(d) Record Owners. The person in whose name shares of stock stand on the books of the Corporation shall be deemed the owner thereof for all purposes as regards the Corporation, and the Corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in such shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise required by law.

(e) Transfer and Registration. The Board of Directors may make such rules and regulations as it may deem expedient, not inconsistent with these Bylaws, concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificated and uncertificated shares of the capital stock of the Corporation. It may appoint one or more transfer agents or one or more registrars or both, and may require all certificates of stock to bear the signature of either or both.

(f) Record Date. In order that the Corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of stockholders or any adjournment thereof, or entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights, or entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any other change, conversion or exchange of stock or for the purpose of any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the Board of Directors, and which shall not be more than 60 nor less than ten days before the date of such meeting, nor more than 60 days prior to any other action. If in any case involving the determination of stockholders for any purpose other than notice of or voting at a meeting of stockholders the Board of Directors shall not fix such a record date, the record date for determining stockholders for such purpose shall be the close of business on the day on which the Board of Directors shall adopt the resolution relating thereto. A determination of stockholders entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of stockholders, shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, that the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting.

(g) Loss, Destruction or Mutilation of Certificates. In case of loss, destruction or mutilation of any certificate of stock, another may be issued in its place upon proof of such loss, destruction or mutilation and upon the giving to the Corporation of a bond sufficient to indemnify the Corporation, its transfer agents and registrars, against any claim that may be made against it or them on account of the alleged loss or destruction of any such certificate or the issuance of such new certificate; provided, however, that a new certificate may be issued without requiring any bond when, in the judgment of the Board of Directors, it is proper so to do.

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETINGS

(a) Place of Meetings. All meetings of the stockholders of the Corporation shall be held at such place, either within or without the State of Delaware, as the Board of Directors shall determine. The place at which any given meeting shall be held shall be distinctly specified in the notice of such meeting.

(b) Annual Meetings. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation, for the election of directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting in accordance with these Bylaws, shall be held on such date and at such time as may be fixed by resolution of the Board of Directors.

(c) Special Meetings. Special meetings of stockholders of the Corporation may be called only by the Board of Directors pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of the Entire Board (as defined below) or upon written request of stockholders holding no less than 25% percent of the shares of common stock issued and outstanding. Any such written request shall include the proposed purpose or purposes of the meeting and be accompanied by the information required by this Article IV, including with respect to the requesting stockholders, each proposal to be presented by the requesting stockholders and, if any such proposal involves the election of directors, each person to be nominated by the requesting stockholders for election as a director of the Corporation. Such written request and accompanying information shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Corporation at its principal executive office. In the event a special meeting is properly requested pursuant to this Section (c), then either a majority of the Board of Directors, or the Chairman of the Board, or the President shall cause a special meeting of stockholders to be called for a date not more than 120 days after the Secretary of the Corporation receives the requisite written request and accompanying information. Business transacted at a special meeting shall be limited to the purpose(s) stated in the notice of the meeting. The Board of Directors shall have the authority in its discretion to include in the notice of a special meeting requested by stockholders matters in addition to those proposed by the requesting stockholders. The term “ Entire Board ” as used in these Bylaws means the total number of authorized directors the Corporation would have if there were no vacancies.

(d) Notice. Unless otherwise required by law or the certificate of incorporation of the corporation, as amended and restated from time to time (the “ Certificate of Incorporation ”), written notice of the annual and of all special meetings of the stockholders shall be given either personally, by mail or by electronic transmission (if permitted under the circumstances by the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, as amended (the “ DGCL ”)) to each stockholder entitled to vote at such meeting as of the record date for determining stockholders entitled to notice of the meeting. Every notice of a meeting of stockholders shall state the place, date and time of the meeting and, in the case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called and the means of remote communications, if any, by which stockholders and proxy holders may be deemed present in person and vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be given when deposited in the United States mail with postage thereon prepaid, addressed to the stockholder at the stockholder’s address as it appears on the stock transfer books of the Corporation. If notice is given by means of electronic transmission, such notice shall be deemed to be given at the times provided in the DGCL. Any stockholder may waive notice of any meeting before or after the meeting. The attendance of a stockholder at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice at such meeting, except where a stockholder attends such meeting for the express purpose of objecting, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting was not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be specified in any waiver of notice unless so required by law. Except for an adjournment exceeding 30 days or if, after the adjournment, a new record date for the determination of stockholders entitled to vote at the adjourned meeting is fixed for the adjourned meeting, notice of any adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation shall not be required to be given if the time and place thereof, and the means of remote communication, if any, by which stockholders and proxy holders may be deemed to be present in person and vote at such adjourned meeting, are announced at the meeting which is adjourned.

(e) Adjournments. Any meeting of stockholders of the Corporation may be adjourned from time to time to reconvene at the same or some other place by holders of a majority of the voting power of the Corporation’s capital stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote thereat, present in person or represented by proxy, though less than a quorum, or by any officer entitled to preside at or to act as secretary of such meeting. At the adjourned meeting, the Corporation may transact any business that might have been transacted at the original meeting.

(f) List of Stockholders Entitled to Vote. It shall be the duty of the officer who shall have charge of the stock ledger of the Corporation to prepare and make, at least ten days before every meeting of stockholders of the Corporation, a complete list of the stockholders entitled to vote at said meeting, provided, however, that if the record date for determining the stockholders entitled to vote is less than ten (10) days before the meeting date, the list shall reflect the stockholders entitled to vote as of the tenth (10th) day before the meeting date, arranged in alphabetical order, showing their addresses of record and the number of shares registered in the name of each stockholder. Such list shall be open to the examination of any stockholder, for any purpose germane to the meeting, for a period of at least ten days prior to the meeting: (i) on a reasonably accessible electronic network, provided that the information required to gain access to such list is provided with the notice of the meeting, or (ii) during ordinary business hours, at the principal place of business of the Corporation. In the event that the meeting is to be held at a place other than the Corporation’s principal place of business, then the list shall be produced and kept at the time and place of the meeting during the whole time thereof, and may be inspected by any stockholder who is present. If the meeting is to be held solely by means of remote communication, then the list shall also be open to the examination of any stockholder during the whole time of the meeting on a reasonably accessible electronic network, and the information required to access such list shall be provided with the notice of the meeting.

(g) Quorum. The holders of a majority of the stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote thereat, present in person or represented by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at all meetings of the stockholders for the transaction of any business except as otherwise provided by law or by the Certificate of Incorporation. Where a separate vote by a class or classes or series is required, a majority of the voting power of the shares of such class or classes or series present in person or represented by proxy shall constitute a quorum entitled to take action with respect to such vote. If a quorum shall not be present or represented at any meeting of the stockholders, either the chairperson of the meeting or the stockholders entitled to vote thereat present in person or by proxy shall have power to adjourn the meeting from time to time in the manner provided in Section (e) of this Article IV, until a quorum shall be present or represented. A quorum, once established, shall not be broken by the withdrawal of enough votes to leave less than a quorum. At any such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally called.

(h) Voting of Stock of Certain Holders. Shares of stock of the Corporation standing in the name of another corporation or entity, domestic or foreign, and entitled to vote may be voted by such officer, agent or proxy as the bylaws or other internal regulations of such corporation or entity may prescribe or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of directors or comparable body of such corporation or entity may determine. Shares of stock of the Corporation standing in the name of a deceased person, a minor, an incompetent or a debtor in a case under Title 11, United States Code, and entitled to vote may be voted by an administrator, executor, guardian, conservator, debtor-in-possession or trustee, as the case may be, either in person or by proxy, without transfer of such shares into the name of the official or other person so voting. A stockholder whose shares of stock of the Corporation are pledged shall be entitled to vote such shares, unless on the transfer records of the Corporation such stockholder has expressly empowered the pledgee to vote such shares, in which case only the pledgee, or the pledgee's proxy, may vote such shares.

(i) Treasury Stock. Shares of stock of the Corporation belonging to the Corporation, or to another corporation a majority of the shares entitled to vote in the election of directors of which are held by the Corporation, shall not be voted at any meeting of stockholders of the Corporation and shall not be counted in the total number of outstanding shares for the purpose of determining whether a quorum is present. Nothing in this Section (i) of Article IV shall limit the right of the Corporation to vote shares of stock of the Corporation held by it in a fiduciary capacity.

(j) Proxies. Each stockholder entitled to vote at a meeting of stockholders may authorize another person or persons to act for such stockholder by proxy, but no proxy shall be valid after three years from the date of its execution, unless a longer time is expressly provided therein.

(k) No Consent of Stockholders in Lieu of Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken by the stockholders of the Corporation must be effected at a duly called annual or special meeting of stockholders of the Corporation and may not be effected by any consent in writing by such stockholders.

(l) Nature of Business at Meetings of Stockholders. At any annual or special meeting of stockholders, the proposal of business to be considered by the stockholders and persons nominated for election as directors by stockholders shall be entertained only if advance written notice thereof has been timely given in proper form in accordance with the requirements of Section (m) of this Article IV (in the case of such proposals) or Section (o) of this Article IV (in the case of such nominations) and such proposals or nominations are otherwise proper for consideration under applicable law and the Certificate of Incorporation and these Bylaws. Notice of any proposal to be presented by any stockholder or of the name of any person to be nominated by any stockholder for election as a director of the Corporation at any meeting of stockholders shall be delivered in proper written form to the Secretary of the Corporation at its principal executive office not less than 90 nor more than 120 days prior to the first anniversary of the date of the preceding year's annual meeting; provided, however, that if the annual meeting is convened more than 30 days before or more than 60 days after such anniversary date, or if no annual meeting was held in the preceding year, notice by the stockholder to be timely must be so received no more than 120 days prior to such annual meeting nor less than the later of (i) 90 days prior to such annual meeting and (ii) 10 days after the day on which public disclosure of the date of the meeting was made. In no event shall an adjournment of an annual or a special meeting, or a postponement of an annual or a special meeting for which notice has been given, or the public disclosure thereof, commence a new time period for the giving of a stockholder's notice as described above. The person presiding at the meeting, in addition to making any other determinations that may be appropriate to the conduct of the meeting, shall determine whether such notice has been duly given and shall direct that proposals and nominees not be considered if such notice has not been given.

(m) Form of Notice for Stockholder Proposals. To be in proper written form, a stockholder's notice to the Secretary of any proposal of business to be presented by such stockholder for consideration by the stockholders at an annual or special meeting of stockholders must set forth (i) as to each matter each Proposing Party (as defined below) proposes to bring before the meeting, a brief description of the business desired to be brought before the meeting and the reasons for conducting such business at the meeting, (ii) the name and address of each Proposing Party, (iii)(A) the class or series and number of shares of capital stock (if any) of the Corporation that are, directly or indirectly, owned beneficially or of record by each Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person (as defined below), (B) any option, warrant, convertible security, stock appreciation right or similar right with an exercise or conversion privilege or a settlement payment or mechanism at a price related to any class or series of shares of the Corporation or with a value derived in whole or in part from the value of any class or series of shares of the Corporation, any derivative or synthetic arrangement having the characteristics of a long position in any class or series of shares of the Corporation, or any contract, derivative, swap or other transaction or series of transactions designed to produce economic benefits and risks that correspond substantially to the ownership of any class or series of shares of the Corporation, including due to the fact that the value of such contract, derivative, swap or other transaction or series of transactions is determined by reference to the price, value or volatility of any class or series of shares of the Corporation, whether or not such instrument, contract or right shall be subject to settlement in the underlying class or series of shares of the Corporation, through the delivery of cash or other property, or otherwise, and without regard to whether the holder thereof may have entered into transactions that hedge or mitigate the economic effect of such instrument, contract or right, or any other direct or indirect opportunity to profit or share in any profit derived from any increase or decrease in the value of shares of the Corporation (any of the foregoing, a "Derivative Instrument") directly or indirectly owned beneficially by each Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person, (C) any proxy, contract, arrangement, understanding or relationship pursuant to which any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person has a right to vote any class or series of shares of the Corporation, (D) any Short Interest (as defined below) held by or involving any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person, (E) any rights to dividends on the shares of the Corporation owned beneficially by any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person that are separated or separable from the underlying shares of the Corporation, (F) any proportionate interest in shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments held, directly or indirectly, by a general or limited partnership in which any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person is a general partner or, directly or indirectly, beneficially owns an interest in a general partner of such general or limited partnership, (G) any performance-related fees (other than an asset-based fee) that any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person is entitled to based on any increase or decrease in the value of shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments, if any, including any such interests held by members of such Proposing Party's or such Stockholder Associated Person's immediate family sharing the same household and (H) any direct or indirect interest of any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person in any contract with the Corporation or any affiliate of the Corporation (including any employment agreement, collective bargaining agreement or consulting agreement), (which information described in this clause (iii) shall be supplemented by such stockholder not later than ten (10) days after the record date for the meeting to disclose such information as of the record date); (iv) a description of all arrangements or understandings between any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person and any other person or persons (including their names) in connection with the proposal of such business by such Proposing Party and any material interest of any Proposing Party and any Stockholder Associated Person in such business; (v) a representation that such stockholder intends to appear in person or by proxy at the annual or special meeting to bring such business before the meeting; (vi) a Business Solicitation Representation (as defined below); and (vii) any other information relating to each Proposing Party that would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filings required to be made in connection with solicitations of proxies for stockholder proposals pursuant to Section 14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder (the "Exchange Act") or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder (the "Proxy Rules").

(n) Definitions. For purposes of these Bylaws, (i) "Business Solicitation Representation" shall mean, with respect to any Proposing Party, a representation as to whether or not such Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person will deliver a proxy statement and form of proxy to the holders of at least the percentage of the Corporation's voting shares required under applicable law to adopt such proposed business or otherwise to solicit proxies from stockholders in support of such proposal; (ii) "proposing party" shall mean each stockholder proposing to bring before a meeting of the stockholders any matter and each beneficial owner on whose behalf such matter is proposed; (iii) "public disclosure" shall mean disclosure in a press release reported by the Dow Jones News Service, Associated Press or comparable national news service or in a document publicly filed by the Corporation with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Section 13, 14 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act; (iv) "Stockholder Associated Person" shall mean, with respect to any Proposing Party or any Nominating Party (as defined below), (A) any person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, under common control with or acting in concert with such Proposing Party or Nominating Party (as applicable) or (B) any member of the immediate family of such Proposing Party or Nominating Party (as applicable) sharing the same household; and (v) "Short Interest" shall mean any agreement, arrangement, understanding, relationship or otherwise, including any repurchase or similar so-called "stock borrowing" agreement or arrangement, involving any Proposing Party or any Nominating Party, as applicable, or any Stockholder Associated Person of any Proposing Party or Nominating Party, as applicable, directly or indirectly, the purpose or effect of which is to mitigate loss to, reduce the economic risk (of ownership or otherwise) of any class or series of shares of the Corporation by, manage the risk of share price changes for, or increase or decrease the voting power of, such Proposing Party or such Nominating Party, as applicable, or any Stockholder Associated Person of any Proposing Party or Nominating Party, as applicable, with respect to any class or series of shares of the Corporation, or which provides, directly or indirectly, the opportunity to profit or share in any profit derived from any decrease in the price or value of any class or series of shares of the Corporation.

(o) Form of Notice for Nominations. To be in proper written form, a stockholder's notice to the Secretary of the name of a person to be nominated by such stockholder for election as a director of the Corporation at an annual or special meeting of stockholders must set forth (i) as to each person whom the stockholder proposes to nominate for election as a director by the stockholders (A) the name, age, business address and residence address of such person; (B) the principal occupation or employment of such person; (C) the class or series and number of shares of capital stock (if any) of the Corporation that are, directly or indirectly, owned beneficially or of record by such person; and (D) any other information relating to such person that would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filings required to be made in connection with solicitations of proxies for election of directors required pursuant to the Proxy Rules; (ii) the name and address of the stockholder giving the notice and the beneficial owner, if any, on whose behalf such nomination is made (each, a "Nominating Party"), (iii) as to each Nominating Party (A) the class or series and number of shares of capital stock of the Corporation that are, directly or indirectly, owned beneficially or of record by each Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person, (B) any Derivative Instrument directly or indirectly owned beneficially by each Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person, (C) any proxy, contract, arrangement, understanding or relationship pursuant to which any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person has a right to vote any class or series of shares of the Corporation, (D) any Short Interest held by or involving any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person, (E) any rights to dividends on the shares of the Corporation owned beneficially by any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person that are separated or separable from the underlying shares of the Corporation, (F) any proportionate interest in shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments held, directly or indirectly, by a general or limited partnership in which any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person is a general partner or, directly or indirectly, beneficially owns an interest in a general partner of such general or limited partnership, (G) any performance-related fees (other than an asset-based fee) that any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person is entitled to based on any increase or decrease in the value of shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments, if any, including any such interests held by members of such Nominating Person's or such Stockholder Associated Person's immediate family sharing the same household and (H) any direct or indirect interest of any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person in any contract with the Corporation or any affiliate of the Corporation (including any employment agreement, collective bargaining agreement or consulting agreement), (which information described in this clause (iii) shall be supplemented by such stockholder not later than ten (10) days after the record date for the meeting to disclose such information as of the record date); (iv) a description of all arrangements or understandings between any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person and each proposed nominee or any other person or persons (including their names) pursuant to which the nomination(s) are to be made, (v) a representation that such stockholder intends to appear in person or by proxy at the meeting to nominate the persons named in its notice, (vi) a representation (a "Nominee Solicitation Representation") as to whether or not such Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person will deliver a proxy statement and form of proxy to a number of holders of the Corporation's voting shares reasonably believed by such Nominating Party to be sufficient to elect its nominee or nominees or otherwise to solicit proxies from stockholders in support of such nominations, (vii) a written questionnaire with respect to the background and qualification of each proposed nominee and the background of any other person or entity on whose behalf the nomination is being made (which questionnaire shall be provided by the Secretary upon written request), (viii) a written representation and agreement (in the form provided by the Secretary upon written request) that such person (x) is not and will not become a party to (A) any agreement, arrangement or understanding with, and has not given any commitment or assurance to, any person or entity as to how such person, if elected as a director of the Corporation, will act or vote on any issue or question (a "Voting Commitment") that has not been disclosed to the Corporation or (B) any Voting Commitment that could limit or interfere with such person's ability to comply, if elected as a director of the Corporation, with such person's fiduciary duties under applicable law and (y) in such person's individual capacity and on behalf of any person or entity on whose behalf the nomination is being made, would be in compliance, if elected as a director of the Corporation, and will comply with all applicable publicly disclosed corporate governance, conflict of interest, confidentiality and stock ownership and trading policies and guidelines of the Corporation, and (ix) any other information relating to each Nominating Party that would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filings required to be made in connection with solicitations of proxies for election of directors pursuant to the Proxy Rules. Such notice must be accompanied by a written consent of each proposed nominee to being named as a nominee and to serve as a director if elected. The Corporation may require any proposed nominee to furnish such other information as it may reasonably require to determine the eligibility of such proposed nominee to serve as a director of the Corporation.

(p) Improper Business. No business shall be conducted at the annual meeting of stockholders of the Corporation except business brought before the annual meeting in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Article IV. If the chairperson of an annual meeting determines that business was not properly brought before the annual meeting in accordance with the foregoing procedures, the chairperson shall declare to the meeting that the business was not properly brought before the meeting, and such business shall not be transacted. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Article IV, unless otherwise required by law, if the stockholder (or a qualified representative of the stockholder) does not appear at the annual or special meeting of stockholders of the Corporation to present a nomination or proposal, such nomination or proposal, as applicable, may, at the sole discretion of the chairperson, be disregarded, notwithstanding that proxies in respect of such vote may have been received by the Corporation. For purposes of this Article IV, to be considered a qualified representative of the stockholder, a person must be a duly authorized officer, manager or partner of such stockholder or must be authorized by a writing executed by such stockholder or an electronic transmission delivered by such stockholder to act for such stockholder as proxy at the meeting of stockholders, and such person must produce such writing or electronic transmission, or a reliable reproduction of the writing or electronic transmission, at the meeting of stockholders.

(q) Exchange Act. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Article IV, a stockholder shall also comply with all applicable requirements of the Exchange Act with respect to the matters set forth in such sections. Nothing in such sections shall be deemed to affect any rights of stockholders to request inclusion of proposals in the Corporation's proxy statement pursuant to Rule 14a-8 under the Exchange Act.

(r) Inspectors of Election. In advance of any meeting of stockholders of the Corporation, the Chairman of the Board, the Chief Executive Officer or the Board of Directors, by resolution shall appoint one or more inspectors to act at the meeting and make a written report thereof. One or more other persons may be designated as alternate inspectors to replace any inspector who fails to act. If no inspector or alternate is able to act at a meeting of stockholders, the chairperson of the meeting shall appoint one or more inspectors to act at the meeting. Unless otherwise required by applicable law, inspectors may be officers, employees or agents of the Corporation. Each inspector, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of inspector, shall take and sign an oath faithfully to execute the duties of inspector with strict impartiality and according to the best of such inspector's ability. The inspector shall have the duties prescribed by law and shall take charge of the polls and, when the vote is completed, shall make a certificate of the result of the vote taken and of such other facts as may be required by applicable law.

ARTICLE V

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

(a) Duties and Powers; Election. The management of business and affairs of the Corporation shall be under the direction of a Board of Directors. Directors shall be elected by a plurality of the votes cast in the election of directors. However, in any election of directors in which only the holders of common stock are entitled to vote and in which the only nominees are those recommended by the Board of Directors, a nominee may only be elected if the votes cast in favor of such nominee exceed the votes cast against such nominee with “abstentions” and “broker non-votes” not counted as a vote cast either “for” or “against” that nominee’s election.

(b) Resignations of Directors. Any director of the Corporation may resign at any time by giving notice in writing or by electronic transmission to the Chairman of the Board, the Chief Executive Officer or the Secretary. Such resignation shall take effect upon receipt unless it is specified to be effective at some other time or upon the occurrence of some other event, and unless otherwise specified in such notice, the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.

(c) Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors may be held without notice at such places, whether within or without the State of Delaware, and at such times as the Board shall from time to time determine. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the Chief Executive Officer or the Chairman or, if both are incapacitated or unable to call such meetings, by any member of the Board of Directors. Such meetings shall be held at such places and at such times as the person calling the meeting shall specify.

(d) Notice. Notice of all special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be given to each director by at least 24 hours’ service of the same by facsimile, electronic mail, telephone, overnight courier, letter or personal delivery. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be given two business days after it is deposited in the United States mail with first class postage prepaid; if sent by overnight courier, such notice shall be deemed to be given one business day after it is deposited with the overnight courier; and notice by facsimile, electronic mail, telephone or personal delivery shall be deemed given when the notice is transmitted. Notice of any special meeting of the Board of Directors shall state the place and time of the meeting, but need not state the purposes thereof unless required by law. Any director may waive notice of any meeting before or after the meeting. A meeting of the Board of Directors or of any Board committee may be held at any time without notice, if all of the directors are present or if those not present waive notice of the meeting. The attendance of a director at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where the director attends the meeting for the express purpose of objecting at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Notice of regular meetings of the Board need not be given. In the absence of written instructions from a director designating some other address, notice shall be sufficiently given if addressed to such director at such director’s usual business address.

(e) Quorum. A majority of the Entire Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board of Directors, and the act of a majority of the directors present at any meeting at which there is a quorum shall be the act of the Board of Directors. If a quorum shall not be present at any meeting of the Board of Directors, the directors present at the meeting may adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than announcement at the meeting of the time and place of the adjourned meeting, until a quorum shall be present.

(f) Compensation. Each director of the Corporation shall be entitled to receive such fixed sum per meeting of the Board of Directors or committee thereof attended, or such annual sum, or both, as the Board shall from time to time determine, together with such director’s reasonable expenses of attendance at such meeting. Directors who are full-time employees of the Corporation shall not receive any compensation for their service as director.

(g) Chairman of the Board. The Board of Directors may from time to time, but in no event less frequently than annually, elect from among its members a Chairman of the Board. Except as otherwise provided by law or Section (h) or (i) of this Article V, the Chairman of the Board shall, if present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders and at all meetings of the Board of Directors. The Chairman of the Board shall have such other powers and duties as may from time to time be assigned by the Board of Directors.

(h) Lead Director. The Board of Directors may elect a Lead Director. The Lead Director shall be one of the directors who has been determined by the Board of Directors to be “independent directors” (any such director, an “Independent Director”). The Lead Director shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors at which the Chairman of the Board is not present, preside over the executive sessions of the Independent Directors, serve as a liaison between the Chairman of the Board and the Board of Directors and shall have such other responsibilities, and shall perform such duties, as may from time to time be assigned to the Lead Director by the Board of Directors. The Lead Director shall be elected by a majority of the Independent Directors.

(i) Organization. At each meeting of the Board of Directors, the Chairman of the Board, or in the Chairman's absence, the Lead Director, or in the Chairman's and Lead Director's absence, a director chosen by a majority of the directors present, shall act as chairman. The Secretary shall act as secretary at each meeting of the Board of Directors. In case the Secretary shall be absent from any meeting of the Board of Directors, an assistant secretary shall perform the duties of secretary at such meeting, and in the absence from any such meeting of the Secretary and all assistant secretaries, the chairman of the meeting may appoint any person to act as secretary of the meeting.

(j) Actions of the Board by Written Consent. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all the members of the Board of Directors or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing or by electronic transmission, and the writing or writings or electronic transmission are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Directors or committee.

(k) Telephonic Meetings. Members of the Board of Directors, or any committee thereof, may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors or such committee by means of a conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other, and participation in a meeting pursuant to this Section (k) of Article V shall constitute presence in person at such meeting.

ARTICLE VI

COMMITTEES

(a) General. The Board of Directors may from time to time, in its discretion, designate, and appoint from the directors, committees of one or more persons which shall have and may exercise such lawfully delegable powers and duties conferred or authorized by the resolutions of designation and appointment. The Board of Directors shall have power at any time to change the members of any such committee, to fill vacancies, and to discharge any such committee. Each committee shall keep regular minutes and report to the Board of Directors when required.

(b) Quorum. Unless the Board of Directors shall provide otherwise, the presence of one-third of the total membership of any committee of the Board of Directors, but no less than two members, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of such committee, and the act of a majority of those present shall be necessary and sufficient for the taking of any action thereat.

ARTICLE VII

OFFICERS

(a) General. The officers of the Corporation shall be the Chief Executive Officer, the President, the Secretary, and the Treasurer, who shall be elected by the Board of Directors, and may include the Chief Financial Officer, the Controller and such additional Assistant Secretaries, Assistant Treasurers, Vice Presidents and other officers as may from time to time be elected or appointed by the Board of Directors or, with the exception of the Chief Executive Officer, appointed by the Chief Executive Officer. Any two or more of the aforementioned offices may be held by the same person except those of President and Secretary.

(b) Term; Vacancies. Subject to Section (c) of this Article VII, each officer of the Corporation shall hold office until such officer's successor shall have been duly elected and shall have qualified or until such officer's earlier death, resignation or removal. All vacancies in such offices by resignation, death or otherwise may be filled by the Board of Directors or, with the exception of the Chief Executive Officer, by the Chief Executive Officer. In the case of absence or inability to act of any officer of the Corporation, and of any person herein authorized to act in such officer's place, the Board of Directors may from time to time delegate the powers or duties of such officer to any other officer or any director or other person whom they may select.

(c) Resignation and Removal. Any officer may resign upon notice given in writing or electronic transmission to the Chief Executive Officer or the Secretary. Such resignation shall be effective upon receipt unless it is specified to be effective at some other time or upon the occurrence of some other event. Any officer of the Corporation may be removed, either with or without cause, at any time, by the Board of Directors or, in the case of each officer of the Corporation other than the Chief Executive Officer, by the Chief Executive Officer.

(d) Chief Executive Officer. The Chief Executive Officer shall have general and active supervision and direction over the business and affairs of the Corporation and over its several officers; subject, however, to the control of the Board of Directors. The Chief Executive Officer or an officer designated by the Chief Executive Officer shall make a report on the state of the business of the Corporation at each annual meeting of stockholders. The Chief Executive Officer shall perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors.

(e) President and Vice Presidents. The President and any Vice Presidents (including any Senior Vice Presidents and Executive Vice Presidents) shall perform such duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Chief Executive Officer or the Board of Directors.

(f) Treasurer. The Treasurer shall have charge and be responsible for keeping full and accurate accounts of receipts and disbursements in books belonging to the Corporation, depositing all moneys and other valuables in the name and to the credit of the Corporation, in such depositories as may be directed by the Board of Directors, disbursing the funds of the Corporation as may be ordered by the Board of Directors or the Chief Executive Officer taking proper vouchers therefor and rendering to the Chief Executive Officer and the directors whenever they may require it an account of all of the Treasurer's transactions as Treasurer and of the financial condition of the Corporation. The Treasurer shall also perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer or the Board of Directors. If required by the Board of Directors, the Treasurer shall give the Corporation a bond in a form and in a sum with surety satisfactory to the Board of Directors for the faithful performance of the duties of the office of Treasurer and the restoration to the Corporation in the case of the officer's death, resignation or removal from office, of all books, papers, vouchers, money and other property of whatever kind in the officer's possession belonging to the Corporation.

(g) Assistant Treasurers. At the request of the Treasurer, or in the Treasurer's absence or inability to act, the Assistant Treasurer or, if there be more than one, the Assistant Treasurer designated by the Treasurer, shall perform the duties of the Treasurer and when so acting shall have the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions of the Treasurer. The Assistant Treasurers shall perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to them by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, the Treasurer or the Board of Directors.

(h) Chief Financial Officer. The Chief Financial Officer shall be the principal financial officer of the Corporation. The Chief Financial Officer shall render such accounts and reports as may be required by the Board of Directors or any committee thereof. The financial records, books and accounts of the Corporation shall be maintained subject to the Chief Financial Officer's direct or indirect supervision. The Chief Financial Officer shall perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Chief Executive Officer or the Board of Directors.

(i) Controller. The Controller shall exercise general supervision of the accounting staff of the Corporation. The Controller shall perform such duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer or the Board of Directors.

(j) Secretary. The Secretary shall attend all meetings of the Board of Directors and of the stockholders and record all votes and the minutes of all proceedings in a book to be kept for that purpose. The Secretary shall keep in safe custody the seal of the Corporation and, whenever authorized by the Board, affix the seal to any instrument or other document requiring the same. The Secretary shall see that proper notice is given of all meetings of the stockholders of the Corporation and of the Board of Directors and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Chief Executive Officer or the Board of Directors.

(k) Assistant Secretaries. At the request of the Secretary, or in the Secretary's absence or inability to act, the Assistant Secretary or, if there be more than one, the Assistant Secretary designated by the Secretary, shall perform the duties of the Secretary and when so acting shall have all the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions of the Secretary. The Assistant Secretaries shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be assigned to them by the Chief Executive Officer, the Secretary or the Board of Directors.

(l) Other Officers. Such other officers as the Board of Directors or the Chief Executive Officer may choose shall perform such duties and have such powers as from time to time may be assigned to them by the Board of Directors or the Chief Executive Officer. The Board of Directors may delegate to any other officer of the Corporation the power to choose such other officers and to prescribe their respective duties and powers.

ARTICLE VIII

CONTRACTS, CHECKS, NOTES, ETC.

(a) Contracts, Checks, Etc. All contracts and agreements authorized by the Board of Directors shall, unless otherwise directed by the Board of Directors, or unless otherwise required by law, be signed by any one of the following officers: the Chief Executive Officer, the President, any Vice President, the Treasurer, the Secretary, any Assistant Treasurer or any Assistant Secretary, any other person authorized by a resolution of the Board of Directors, and any other person authorized by the Chief Executive Officer, as evidenced by a written instrument of delegation. Any such authorization by the Board of Directors or the Chief Executive Officer shall remain in effect until rescinded by action of the Board of Directors or (in the case of a delegation by the Chief Executive Officer) by the Chief Executive Officer and, where it identifies the authorized signatory by office rather than by name, shall not be rescinded solely by virtue of a change in the person holding that office or a temporary vacancy in that office. All checks, drafts, notes, bonds, bills of exchange and orders for the payment of money (including orders for repetitive or non-repetitive electronic funds transfers) may be signed by any one of the Chief Executive Officer, the President, any Vice President, the Treasurer, any Assistant Treasurer or the Controller or in such manner as shall from time to time be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors. Further, the Treasurer is authorized to designate to the Corporation's banks, in writing, individuals employed in the NiSource Corporate Services Company, who need not be officers or employees of the Corporation, to give in the name of the Corporation telephonic, telegraphic, or electronic transfer instructions for the payment of money, which may, with respect to routine items, include instructions as to the amount to be transferred, to any bank, pursuant to previously issued written orders, signed by officers of the Corporation in any manner provided above, which designate the recipients of such amounts and which identify what shall be treated as routine items.

(b) Accounts. Anything in Section (a) of this Article VIII to the contrary notwithstanding, the officers of the Corporation may open in the name of the Corporation special accounts appropriately designated in which shall be deposited funds of the Corporation transferred from the Corporation's other accounts by its checks signed in accordance with the requirements of Section (a) of this Article VIII, but from which special accounts funds may be disbursed by check, draft or other instrument of the Corporation designated as drawn against such special account and signed by the single signature of any one of the executive officers of the Corporation authorized by Section (a) of this Article VIII to sign checks, drafts and other instruments of the Corporation or signed by the single signature of any other person expressly authorized by the Board of Directors to sign checks, drafts and other instruments disbursing funds from such special accounts.

(c) Evidence of Indebtedness. Anything in Section (a) of this Article VIII to the contrary notwithstanding, (i) bonds, notes, debentures and other evidence of indebtedness of the Corporation issued under an indenture may be executed in the name of the Corporation by the facsimile signature, printed, engraved or otherwise used thereon, of the Chief Executive Officer, the President, any Vice President, the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer of the Corporation, and the corporate seal affixed thereto or impressed, printed, engraved or otherwise reproduced thereon may be attested by the facsimile signature of the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary of the Corporation, provided that the indenture requires the same to be authenticated by the trustee under such indenture, and (ii) interest coupons attached to any such bond, note, debenture or other evidence of indebtedness may be executed on behalf of the Corporation by the facsimile signature of the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer of the Corporation.

(d) Voting Securities Owned by the Corporation. Powers of attorney, proxies, waivers of notice of meeting, consents and other instruments relating to securities owned by the Corporation may be executed in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation by the Chief Executive Officer or any other officer authorized to do so by the Board of Directors, and any such officer may, in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation, take all such action as any such officer may deem advisable to vote in person or by proxy at any meeting of security holders of any corporation in which the Corporation may own securities and at any such meeting shall possess and may exercise any and all rights and power incident to the ownership of such securities and which, as the owner thereof, the Corporation might have exercised and possessed if present. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, from time to time confer like powers upon any other person or persons.

(e) Interested Directors and Officers. No contract or transaction between the Corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the Corporation and any other corporation, partnership, association or other organization in which one or more of the Corporation's directors or officers are directors or officers or have a financial interest, shall be void or voidable solely for this reason, or solely because the director or officer is present at or participates in the meeting of the Board of Directors or committee thereof that authorizes the contract or transaction, or solely because any such director's or officer's vote is counted for such purpose if: (i) the material facts as to the director's or officer's relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the Board of Directors or the committee and the Board of Directors or committee in good faith authorizes the contract or transaction by the affirmative vote of a majority of the disinterested directors, even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum; (ii) the material facts as to the director's or officer's relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the stockholders entitled to vote thereon and the contract or transaction is specifically approved in good faith by vote of the stockholders; or (iii) the contract or transaction is fair as to the Corporation as of the time it is authorized, approved or ratified by the Board of Directors, a committee thereof or the stockholders. Common or interested directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at a meeting of the Board of Directors or of a committee that authorizes the contract or transaction.

ARTICLE IX

FISCAL YEAR

The fiscal year of the Corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year.

ARTICLE X

AMENDMENT OF BYLAWS

These Bylaws may be amended, added to, rescinded or repealed at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of the stockholders, provided notice of the proposed change was given in the notice of the meeting or, in the case of a meeting of the Board of Directors, in a notice given not less than two days prior to the meeting; provided, however, in order for the Board of Directors to amend, add to, rescind or repeal any provision contained in Section (c), (k), (l), (m), (n), (o) or (p) of Article IV or Section (a) of Article V of these Bylaws or this proviso to this Article X of these Bylaws, the affirmative vote of a majority of the Entire Board shall be required.

ITEM 5.03. Amendments to Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws; Change in Fiscal Year.

On January 29, 2016, the board of directors (the “Board”) of NiSource Inc. (the “Company”) adopted an amendment and restatement of the Company’s bylaws (the “Amended and Restated Bylaws”) to implement proxy access. Article IV, Section (s) has been added to permit a stockholder or group of up to 20 stockholders owning 3% or more of the Company’s capital stock entitled to vote in the election of directors continuously for at least three years to nominate and include in the Company’s proxy materials for an annual meeting of stockholders, director candidates constituting up to the greater of two or 20% of the Board, provided that the stockholder (or group) and each nominee satisfy the requirements specified in the Amended and Restated Bylaws. The amendment is effective immediately.

The foregoing description of the changes effected by the Amended and Restated Bylaws is qualified by reference to the Amended and Restated Bylaws, which are filed as Exhibit 3.1 to this current report on Form 8-K and are incorporated herein by reference.

ARTICLE I

SEAL

The corporate seal shall have inscribed thereon the name of the Corporation, the year of its organization and the words “Corporate Seal, Delaware.” The seal may be used by causing it or a facsimile thereof to be impressed or affixed or otherwise reproduced.

ARTICLE II

OFFICES; BOOKS AND RECORDS

- (a) Registered Office. The Corporation shall maintain a registered office in the State of Delaware.
- (b) Other Offices. The location of the Corporation’s principal office shall be at 801 East 86th Avenue, in the Town of Merrillville, County of Lake, in the State of Indiana. The Corporation may, in addition to its principal office in the State of Indiana, establish and maintain an office or offices in such other states and places as the Board of Directors may from time to time find necessary or desirable.
- (c) Books and Records. The books, documents, and papers of the Corporation, except as may be otherwise required by the laws of the State of Delaware, may be kept outside of the said State at such places as the Board of Directors may from time to time designate.

ARTICLE III

CAPITAL STOCK

- (a) Certificated and Uncertificated Shares. The interest of each stockholder of the Corporation may be evidenced by certificates for shares of stock in such form as the appropriate officers of the Corporation may from time to time prescribe or be uncertificated. The certificates of stock shall be signed, countersigned and registered in such manner as the Board of Directors may by resolution prescribe, which resolution may permit all or any of the signatures on such certificates to be in facsimile. In case any officer, transfer agent or registrar who has signed or whose facsimile signature has been placed upon a certificate has ceased to be such officer, transfer agent or registrar before such certificate is issued, it may be issued by the Corporation with the same effect as if such person were such officer, transfer agent or registrar at the date of issue.
- (b) DRS Eligibility. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in these amended and restated bylaws of the Corporation (as amended from time to time in accordance with the provisions hereof, these “Bylaws”), at all times that the Corporation’s stock is listed on a stock exchange, the shares of the stock of the Corporation shall comply with all direct registration system eligibility requirements established by such exchange, including any requirement that shares of the Corporation's stock be eligible for issue in book-entry form. All issuances and transfers of shares of the Corporation's stock shall be entered on the books of the Corporation with all information necessary to comply with such direct registration system eligibility requirements, including the name and address of the person to whom the shares of stock are issued, the number of shares of stock issued and the date of issue. The Board of Directors shall have the power and authority to make such rules and regulations as it may deem necessary or proper concerning the issue, transfer and registration of shares of stock of the Corporation in both the certificated and uncertificated form.

(c) Transfer. The shares of the stock of the Corporation shall be transferred on the books of the Corporation, in the case of certificated shares of stock, by the holder thereof in person or by the holder's attorney duly authorized in writing, upon surrender for cancellation of certificates for at least the same number of shares, with an assignment and power of transfer endorsed thereon or attached thereto, duly executed, with such proof of the authenticity of the signature as the Corporation or its agents may reasonably require; and, in the case of uncertificated shares of stock, upon receipt of proper transfer instructions from the registered holder of the shares or by such person's attorney duly authorized in writing, and upon compliance with appropriate procedures for transferring shares in uncertificated form. No transfer of stock shall be valid as against the Corporation for any purpose until it shall have been entered in the stock records of the Corporation by an entry showing from and to whom transferred.

(d) Record Owners. The person in whose name shares of stock stand on the books of the Corporation shall be deemed the owner thereof for all purposes as regards the Corporation, and the Corporation shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in such shares on the part of any other person, whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, except as otherwise required by law.

(e) Transfer and Registration. The Board of Directors may make such rules and regulations as it may deem expedient, not inconsistent with these Bylaws, concerning the issue, transfer and registration of certificated and uncertificated shares of the capital stock of the Corporation. It may appoint one or more transfer agents or one or more registrars or both, and may require all certificates of stock to bear the signature of either or both.

(f) Record Date. In order that the Corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of stockholders or any adjournment thereof, or entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights, or entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any other change, conversion or exchange of stock or for the purpose of any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the Board of Directors, and which shall not be more than 60 nor less than ten days before the date of such meeting, nor more than 60 days prior to any other action. If in any case involving the determination of stockholders for any purpose other than notice of or voting at a meeting of stockholders the Board of Directors shall not fix such a record date, the record date for determining stockholders for such purpose shall be the close of business on the day on which the Board of Directors shall adopt the resolution relating thereto. A determination of stockholders entitled to notice of, or to vote at, a meeting of stockholders, shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, that the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting.

(g) Loss, Destruction or Mutilation of Certificates. In case of loss, destruction or mutilation of any certificate of stock, another may be issued in its place upon proof of such loss, destruction or mutilation and upon the giving to the Corporation of a bond sufficient to indemnify the Corporation, its transfer agents and registrars, against any claim that may be made against it or them on account of the alleged loss or destruction of any such certificate or the issuance of such new certificate; provided, however, that a new certificate may be issued without requiring any bond when, in the judgment of the Board of Directors, it is proper so to do.

ARTICLE IV

STOCKHOLDERS' MEETINGS

(a) Place of Meetings. All meetings of the stockholders of the Corporation shall be held at such place, either within or without the State of Delaware, as the Board of Directors shall determine. The place at which any given meeting shall be held shall be distinctly specified in the notice of such meeting.

(b) Annual Meetings. The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation, for the election of directors and for the transaction of such other business as may properly come before the meeting in accordance with these Bylaws, shall be held on such date and at such time as may be fixed by resolution of the Board of Directors.

(c) Special Meetings. Special meetings of stockholders of the Corporation may be called only by the Board of Directors pursuant to a resolution adopted by a majority of the Entire Board (as defined below) or upon written request of stockholders holding no less than 25% percent of the shares of common stock issued and outstanding. Any such written request shall include the proposed purpose or purposes of the meeting and be accompanied by the information required by this Article IV, including with respect to the requesting stockholders, each proposal to be presented by the requesting stockholders and, if any such proposal involves the election of directors, each person to be nominated by the requesting stockholders for election as a director of the Corporation. Such written request and accompanying information shall be delivered to the Secretary of the Corporation at its principal executive office. In the event a special meeting is properly requested pursuant to this Section (c), then either a majority of the Board of Directors, or the Chairman of the Board, or the President shall cause a special meeting of stockholders to be called for a date not more than 120 days after the Secretary of the Corporation receives the requisite written request and accompanying information. Business transacted at a special meeting shall be limited to the purpose(s) stated in the notice of the meeting. The Board of Directors shall have the authority in its discretion to include in the notice of a special meeting requested by stockholders matters in addition to those proposed by the requesting stockholders. The term “Entire Board” as used in these Bylaws means the total number of authorized directors the Corporation would have if there were no vacancies.

(d) Notice. Unless otherwise required by law or the certificate of incorporation of the corporation, as amended and restated from time to time (the “Certificate of Incorporation”), written notice of the annual and of all special meetings of the stockholders shall be given either personally, by mail or by electronic transmission (if permitted under the circumstances by the General Corporation Law of the State of Delaware, as amended (the “DGCL”)) to each stockholder entitled to vote at such meeting as of the record date for determining stockholders entitled to notice of the meeting. Every notice of a meeting of stockholders shall state the place, date and time of the meeting and, in the case of a special meeting, the purpose or purposes for which the meeting is called and the means of remote communications, if any, by which stockholders and proxy holders may be deemed present in person and vote at such meeting. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be given when deposited in the United States mail with postage thereon prepaid, addressed to the stockholder at the stockholder’s address as it appears on the stock transfer books of the Corporation. If notice is given by means of electronic transmission, such notice shall be deemed to be given at the times provided in the DGCL. Any stockholder may waive notice of any meeting before or after the meeting. The attendance of a stockholder at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice at such meeting, except where a stockholder attends such meeting for the express purpose of objecting, at the beginning of the meeting, to the transaction of any business because the meeting was not lawfully called or convened. Neither the business to be transacted at, nor the purpose of, any annual or special meeting of stockholders need be specified in any waiver of notice unless so required by law. Except for an adjournment exceeding 30 days or if, after the adjournment, a new record date for the determination of stockholders entitled to vote at the adjourned meeting is fixed for the adjourned meeting, notice of any adjourned meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation shall not be required to be given if the time and place thereof, and the means of remote communication, if any, by which stockholders and proxy holders may be deemed to be present in person and vote at such adjourned meeting, are announced at the meeting which is adjourned.

(e) Adjournments. Any meeting of stockholders of the Corporation may be adjourned from time to time to reconvene at the same or some other place by holders of a majority of the voting power of the Corporation's capital stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote thereat, present in person or represented by proxy, though less than a quorum, or by any officer entitled to preside at or to act as secretary of such meeting. At the adjourned meeting, the Corporation may transact any business that might have been transacted at the original meeting.

(f) List of Stockholders Entitled to Vote. It shall be the duty of the officer who shall have charge of the stock ledger of the Corporation to prepare and make, at least ten days before every meeting of stockholders of the Corporation, a complete list of the stockholders entitled to vote at said meeting, provided, however, that if the record date for determining the stockholders entitled to vote is less than ten (10) days before the meeting date, the list shall reflect the stockholders entitled to vote as of the tenth (10th) day before the meeting date, arranged in alphabetical order, showing their addresses of record and the number of shares registered in the name of each stockholder. Such list shall be open to the examination of any stockholder, for any purpose germane to the meeting, for a period of at least ten days prior to the meeting: (i) on a reasonably accessible electronic network, provided that the information required to gain access to such list is provided with the notice of the meeting, or (ii) during ordinary business hours, at the principal place of business of the Corporation. In the event that the meeting is to be held at a place other than the Corporation's principal place of business, then the list shall be produced and kept at the time and place of the meeting during the whole time thereof, and may be inspected by any stockholder who is present. If the meeting is to be held solely by means of remote communication, then the list shall also be open to the examination of any stockholder during the whole time of the meeting on a reasonably accessible electronic network, and the information required to access such list shall be provided with the notice of the meeting.

(g) Quorum. The holders of a majority of the stock issued and outstanding and entitled to vote thereat, present in person or represented by proxy, shall constitute a quorum at all meetings of the stockholders for the transaction of any business except as otherwise provided by law or by the Certificate of Incorporation. Where a separate vote by a class or classes or series is required, a majority of the voting power of the shares of such class or classes or series present in person or represented by proxy shall constitute a quorum entitled to take action with respect to such vote. If a quorum shall not be present or represented at any meeting of the stockholders, either the chairperson of the meeting or the stockholders entitled to vote thereat present in person or by proxy shall have power to adjourn the meeting from time to time in the manner provided in Section (e) of this Article IV, until a quorum shall be present or represented. A quorum, once established, shall not be broken by the withdrawal of enough votes to leave less than a quorum. At any such adjourned meeting at which a quorum shall be present or represented any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally called.

(h) Voting of Stock of Certain Holders. Shares of stock of the Corporation standing in the name of another corporation or entity, domestic or foreign, and entitled to vote may be voted by such officer, agent or proxy as the bylaws or other internal regulations of such corporation or entity may prescribe or, in the absence of such provision, as the board of directors or comparable body of such corporation or entity may determine. Shares of stock of the Corporation standing in the name of a deceased person, a minor, an incompetent or a debtor in a case under Title 11, United States Code, and entitled to vote may be voted by an administrator, executor, guardian, conservator, debtor-in-possession or trustee, as the case may be, either in person or by proxy, without transfer of such shares into the name of the official or other person so voting. A stockholder whose shares of stock of the Corporation are pledged shall be entitled to vote such shares, unless on the transfer records of the Corporation such stockholder has expressly empowered the pledgee to vote such shares, in which case only the pledgee, or the pledgee's proxy, may vote such shares.

(i) Treasury Stock. Shares of stock of the Corporation belonging to the Corporation, or to another corporation a majority of the shares entitled to vote in the election of directors of which are held by the Corporation, shall not be voted at any meeting of stockholders of the Corporation and shall not be counted in the total number of outstanding shares for the purpose of determining whether a quorum is present. Nothing in this Section (i) of Article IV shall limit the right of the Corporation to vote shares of stock of the Corporation held by it in a fiduciary capacity.

(j) Proxies. Each stockholder entitled to vote at a meeting of stockholders may authorize another person or persons to act for such stockholder by proxy, but no proxy shall be valid after three years from the date of its execution, unless a longer time is expressly provided therein.

(k) No Consent of Stockholders in Lieu of Meeting. Any action required or permitted to be taken by the stockholders of the Corporation must be effected at a duly called annual or special meeting of stockholders of the Corporation and may not be effected by any consent in writing by such stockholders.

(l) Nature of Business at Meetings of Stockholders. At any annual or special meeting of stockholders, the proposal of business to be considered by the stockholders and persons nominated for election as directors by stockholders shall be entertained only if advance written notice thereof has been timely given in proper form in accordance with the requirements of Section (m) of this Article IV (in the case of such proposals) or Section (o) of this Article IV (in the case of such nominations) and such proposals or nominations are otherwise proper for consideration under applicable law and the Certificate of Incorporation and these Bylaws. Any stockholder who wishes to include nominations for the election of directors in the Corporation's proxy statement for an annual meeting of stockholders must comply with Section (s) of this Article IV. Notice of any proposal to be presented by any stockholder or of the name of any person to be nominated by any stockholder for election as a director of the Corporation at any meeting of stockholders shall be delivered in proper written form to the Secretary of the Corporation at its principal executive office not less than 90 nor more than 120 days prior to the first anniversary of the date of the preceding year's annual meeting; provided, however, that if the annual meeting is convened more than 30 days before or more than 60 days after such anniversary date, or if no annual meeting was held in the preceding year, notice by the stockholder to be timely must be so received no more than 120 days prior to such annual meeting nor less than the later of (i) 90 days prior to such annual meeting and (ii) 10 days after the day on which public disclosure of the date of the meeting was made. In no event shall an adjournment of an annual or a special meeting, or a postponement of an annual or a special meeting for which notice has been given, or the public disclosure thereof, commence a new time period for the giving of a stockholder's notice as described above. The person presiding at the meeting, in addition to making any other determinations that may be appropriate to the conduct of the meeting, shall determine whether such notice has been duly given and shall direct that proposals and nominees not be considered if such notice has not been given.

(m) Form of Notice for Stockholder Proposals. To be in proper written form, a stockholder's notice to the Secretary of any proposal of business to be presented by such stockholder for consideration by the stockholders at an annual or special meeting of stockholders must set forth (i) as to each matter each Proposing Party (as defined below) proposes to bring before the meeting, a brief description of the business desired to be brought before the meeting and the reasons for conducting such business at the meeting, (ii) the name and address of each Proposing Party, (iii)(A) the class or series and number of shares of capital stock (if any) of the Corporation that are, directly or indirectly, owned beneficially or of record by each Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person (as defined below), (B) any option, warrant, convertible security, stock appreciation right or similar right with an exercise or conversion privilege or a settlement payment or mechanism at a price related to any class or series of shares of the Corporation or with a value derived in whole or in part from the value of any class or series of shares of the Corporation, any derivative or synthetic arrangement having the characteristics of a long position in any class or series of shares of the Corporation, or any contract, derivative, swap or other transaction or series of transactions designed to produce economic benefits and risks that correspond substantially to the ownership of any class or series of shares of the Corporation, including due to the fact that the value of such contract, derivative, swap or other transaction or series of transactions is determined by reference to the price, value or volatility of any class or series of shares of the Corporation, whether or not such instrument, contract or right shall be subject to settlement in the underlying class or series of shares of the Corporation, through the delivery of cash or other property, or otherwise, and without regard to whether the holder thereof may have entered into transactions that hedge or mitigate the economic effect of such instrument, contract or right, or any other direct or indirect opportunity to profit or share in any profit derived from any increase or decrease in the value of shares of the Corporation (any of the foregoing, a “Derivative Instrument”) directly or indirectly owned beneficially by each Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person, (C) any proxy, contract, arrangement, understanding or relationship pursuant to which any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person has a right to vote any class or series of shares of the Corporation, (D) any Short Interest (as defined below) held by or involving any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person, (E) any rights to dividends on the shares of the Corporation owned beneficially by any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person that are separated or separable from the underlying shares of the Corporation, (F) any proportionate interest in shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments held, directly or indirectly, by a general or limited partnership in which any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person is a general partner or, directly or indirectly, beneficially owns an interest in a general partner of such general or limited partnership, (G) any performance-related fees (other than an asset-based fee) that any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person is entitled to based on any increase or decrease in the value of shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments, if any, including any such interests held by members of such Proposing Party’s or such Stockholder Associated Person’s immediate family sharing the same household and (H) any direct or indirect interest of any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person in any contract with the Corporation or any affiliate of the Corporation (including any employment agreement, collective bargaining agreement or consulting agreement), (which information described in this clause (iii) shall be supplemented by such stockholder not later than ten (10) days after the record date for the meeting to disclose such information as of the record date); (iv) a description of all arrangements or understandings between any Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person and any other person or persons (including their names) in connection with the proposal of such business by such Proposing Party and any material interest of any Proposing Party and any Stockholder Associated Person in such business; (v) a representation that such stockholder intends to appear in person or by proxy at the annual or special meeting to bring such business before the meeting; (vi) a Business Solicitation Representation (as defined below); and (vii) any other information relating to each Proposing Party that would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filings required to be made in connection with solicitations of proxies for stockholder proposals pursuant to Section 14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder (the “Exchange Act”) or the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder (the “Proxy Rules”).

(n) Definitions. For purposes of these Bylaws, (i) “Business Solicitation Representation” shall mean, with respect to any Proposing Party, a representation as to whether or not such Proposing Party or any Stockholder Associated Person will deliver a proxy statement and form of proxy to the holders of at least the percentage of the Corporation's voting shares required under applicable law to adopt such proposed business or otherwise to solicit proxies from stockholders in support of such proposal; (ii) "proposing party" shall mean each stockholder proposing to bring before a meeting of the stockholders any matter and each beneficial owner on whose behalf such matter is proposed; (iii) "public disclosure" shall mean disclosure in a press release reported by the Dow Jones News Service, Associated Press or comparable national news service or in a document publicly filed by the Corporation with the Securities and Exchange Commission pursuant to Section 13, 14 or 15(d) of the Exchange Act; (iv) "Stockholder Associated Person" shall mean, with respect to any Proposing Party or any Nominating Party (as defined below), (A) any person directly or indirectly controlling, controlled by, under common control with or acting in concert with such Proposing Party or Nominating Party (as applicable) or (B) any member of the immediate family of such Proposing Party or Nominating Party (as applicable) sharing the same household; and (v) "Short Interest" shall mean any agreement, arrangement, understanding, relationship or otherwise, including any repurchase or similar so-called "stock borrowing" agreement or arrangement, involving any Proposing Party or any Nominating Party, as applicable, or any Stockholder Associated Person of any Proposing Party or Nominating Party, as applicable, directly or indirectly, the purpose or effect of which is to mitigate loss to, reduce the economic risk (of ownership or otherwise) of any class or series of shares of the Corporation by, manage the risk of share price changes for, or increase or decrease the voting power of, such Proposing Party or such Nominating Party, as applicable, or any Stockholder Associated Person of any Proposing Party or Nominating Party, as applicable, with respect to any class or series of shares of the Corporation, or which provides, directly or indirectly, the opportunity to profit or share in any profit derived from any decrease in the price or value of any class or series of shares of the Corporation.

(o) Form of Notice for Nominations. To be in proper written form, a stockholder's notice to the Secretary of the name of a person to be nominated by such stockholder for election as a director of the Corporation at an annual or special meeting of stockholders must set forth (i) as to each person whom the stockholder proposes to nominate for election as a director by the stockholders (A) the name, age, business address and residence address of such person; (B) the principal occupation or employment of such person; (C) the class or series and number of shares of capital stock (if any) of the Corporation that are, directly or indirectly, owned beneficially or of record by such person; and (D) any other information relating to such person that would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filings required to be made in connection with solicitations of proxies for election of directors required pursuant to the Proxy Rules; (ii) the name and address of the stockholder giving the notice and the beneficial owner, if any, on whose behalf such nomination is made (each, a "Nominating Party"), (iii) as to each Nominating Party (A) the class or series and number of shares of capital stock of the Corporation that are, directly or indirectly, owned beneficially or of record by each Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person, (B) any Derivative Instrument directly or indirectly owned beneficially by each Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person, (C) any proxy, contract, arrangement, understanding or relationship pursuant to which any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person has a right to vote any class or series of shares of the Corporation, (D) any Short Interest held by or involving any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person, (E) any rights to dividends on the shares of the Corporation owned beneficially by any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person that are separated or separable from the underlying shares of the Corporation, (F) any proportionate interest in shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments held, directly or indirectly, by a general or limited partnership in which any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person is a general partner or, directly or indirectly, beneficially owns an interest in a general partner of such general or limited partnership, (G) any performance-related fees (other than an asset-based fee) that any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person is entitled to based on any increase or decrease in the value of shares of the Corporation or Derivative Instruments, if any, including any such interests held by members of such Nominating Person's or such Stockholder Associated Person's immediate family sharing the same household and (H) any direct or indirect interest of any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person in any contract with the Corporation or any affiliate of the Corporation (including any employment agreement, collective bargaining agreement or consulting agreement), (which information described in this clause (iii) shall be supplemented by such stockholder not later than ten (10) days after the record date for the meeting to disclose such information as of the record date); (iv) a description of all arrangements or understandings between any Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person and each proposed nominee or any other person or persons (including their names) pursuant to which the nomination(s) are to be made, (v) a representation that such stockholder intends to appear in person or by proxy at the meeting to nominate the persons named in its notice, (vi) a representation (a "Nominee Solicitation Representation") as to whether or not such Nominating Party or any Stockholder Associated Person will deliver a proxy statement and form of proxy to a number of holders of the Corporation's voting shares reasonably believed by such Nominating Party to be sufficient to elect its nominee or nominees or otherwise to solicit proxies from stockholders in support of such nominations, (vii) a written questionnaire with respect to the background and qualification of each proposed nominee and the background of any other person or entity on whose behalf the nomination is being made (which questionnaire shall be provided by the Secretary upon written request), (viii) a written representation and agreement (in the form provided by the Secretary upon written request) that such person (x) is not and will not become a party to (A) any agreement, arrangement or understanding with, and has not given any commitment or assurance to, any person or entity as to how such person, if elected as a director of the Corporation, will act or vote on any issue or question (a "Voting Commitment") that has not been disclosed to the Corporation or (B) any Voting Commitment that could limit or interfere with such person's ability to comply, if elected as a director of the Corporation, with such person's fiduciary duties under applicable law and (y) in such person's individual capacity and on behalf of any person or entity on whose behalf the nomination is being made, would be in compliance, if elected as a director of the Corporation, and will comply with all applicable publicly disclosed corporate governance, conflict of interest, confidentiality and stock ownership and trading policies and guidelines of the Corporation, and (ix) any other information relating to each Nominating Party that would be required to be disclosed in a proxy statement or other filings required to be made in connection with solicitations of proxies for election of directors pursuant to the Proxy Rules. Such notice must be accompanied by a written consent of each proposed nominee to being named as a nominee and to serve as a director if elected. The Corporation may require any proposed nominee to furnish such other information as it may reasonably require to determine the eligibility of such proposed nominee to serve as a director of the Corporation.

(p) Improper Business. No business shall be conducted at the annual meeting of stockholders of the Corporation except business brought before the annual meeting in accordance with the procedures set forth in this Article IV. If the chairperson of an annual meeting determines that business was not properly brought before the annual meeting in accordance with the foregoing procedures, the chairperson shall declare to the meeting that the business was not properly brought before the meeting, and such business shall not be transacted. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Article IV, unless otherwise required by law, if the stockholder (or a qualified representative of the stockholder) does not appear at the annual or special meeting of stockholders of the Corporation to present a nomination or proposal, such nomination or proposal, as applicable, may, at the sole discretion of the chairperson, be disregarded, notwithstanding that proxies in respect of such vote may have been received by the Corporation. For purposes of this Article IV, to be considered a qualified representative of the stockholder, a person must be a duly authorized officer, manager or partner of such stockholder or must be authorized by a writing executed by such stockholder or an electronic transmission delivered by such stockholder to act for such stockholder as proxy at the meeting of stockholders, and such person must produce such writing or electronic transmission, or a reliable reproduction of the writing or electronic transmission, at the meeting of stockholders.

(q) Exchange Act. Notwithstanding the provisions of this Article IV, a stockholder shall also comply with all applicable requirements of the Exchange Act with respect to the matters set forth in such sections. Nothing in such sections shall be deemed to affect any rights of stockholders to request inclusion of proposals in the Corporation's proxy statement pursuant to Rule 14a-8 under the Exchange Act.

(r) Inspectors of Election. In advance of any meeting of stockholders of the Corporation, the Chairman of the Board, the Chief Executive Officer or the Board of Directors, by resolution shall appoint one or more inspectors to act at the meeting and make a written report thereof. One or more other persons may be designated as alternate inspectors to replace any inspector who fails to act. If no inspector or alternate is able to act at a meeting of stockholders, the chairperson of the meeting shall appoint one or more inspectors to act at the meeting. Unless otherwise required by applicable law, inspectors may be officers, employees or agents of the Corporation. Each inspector, before entering upon the discharge of the duties of inspector, shall take and sign an oath faithfully to execute the duties of inspector with strict impartiality and according to the best of such inspector's ability. The inspector shall have the duties prescribed by law and shall take charge of the polls and, when the vote is completed, shall make a certificate of the result of the vote taken and of such other facts as may be required by applicable law.

(s) Proxy Access for Director Nominees.

(i) Definitions. For purposes of this Section (s), the following terms shall have the following meanings:

- (A) “ Compensation Arrangement ” shall mean any direct or indirect compensatory, payment or other financial agreement, arrangement or understanding with any person or entity other than the Corporation, including, without limitation, any agreement, arrangement or understanding with respect to any direct or indirect compensation, reimbursement or indemnification in connection with candidacy, service or action as a nominee or as a director.
- (B) “ Eligible Stockholder ” shall mean a person who has either (x) been a record holder of the shares of common stock of the Corporation used to satisfy the eligibility requirements in Section (s)(iv) continuously for the required three-year period or (y) provides to the Secretary of the Corporation, within the time period referred to in Section (s)(v), evidence of its continuous Ownership of such shares for such three-year period from one or more securities intermediaries.
- (C) “ Maximum Number ” shall mean that number of directors constituting the greater of (x) two or (y) 20% of the total number of directors of the Corporation on the last day on which a Nomination Notice may be submitted pursuant to this Section (s) (rounded down to the nearest whole number), which number shall be reduced as set forth in Section (s)(iii)(A).
- (D) “ Minimum Number ” shall mean 3% of the number of outstanding shares of common stock of the Corporation as of the most recent date for which such amount is given in any filing by the Corporation with the Securities and Exchange Commission prior to the submission of the Nomination Notice.

- (E) “ Nominating Stockholder ” shall mean any Eligible Stockholder or group of up to 20 stockholders (a “ Nominator Group ”) that, collectively as a group, satisfy the requirements to qualify as an Eligible Stockholder, that (1) has (individually and collectively, in the case of a Nominator Group) satisfied all applicable conditions and complied with all applicable procedures set forth in this Section (s) (including, without limitation, the timely submission of a Nomination Notice that meets the requirements set forth in this Section (s)), and (2) has nominated a Stockholder Nominee.
- (F) “ Nomination Notice ” shall mean all information and documents that a Nominating Stockholder is required to submit to the Secretary of the Corporation pursuant to Section (s)(vi) .
- (G) “ Own , ” “ Owned ” or “ Owning ” shall mean those outstanding shares of the Corporation’s capital stock entitled to vote on the election of directors of the Corporation with respect to which a stockholder possesses both:
- (1) the full voting and investment rights pertaining to the shares; and
 - (2) the full economic interest in (including the opportunity for profit and risk of loss on) such shares; provided, that the number of shares calculated in accordance with clauses (1) and (2) shall not include any shares:

- (i) sold by such stockholder or any of its affiliates in any transaction that has not been settled or closed, including any short sale;
- (ii) borrowed by such stockholder or any of its affiliates for any purposes or purchased by such stockholder or any of its affiliates pursuant to an agreement to resell; or
- (iii) subject to any option, warrant, forward contract, swap, contract of sale, other derivative or similar agreement entered into by such stockholder or any of its affiliates, whether any such instrument or agreement is to be settled with shares or with cash based on the notional amount or value of shares of outstanding capital stock of the Corporation, in any such case which instrument or agreement has, or is intended to have, or if exercised by either party thereto would have, the purpose or effect of reducing in any manner, to any extent or at any time in the future, such stockholder’s or affiliates’ full right to vote or direct the voting of any such shares, and/or hedging, offsetting or altering to any degree gain or loss arising from the full economic Ownership of such shares by such stockholder or affiliate, other than any such arrangements solely involving a national or multi-national multi-industry market index.

A stockholder shall “Own” shares held in the name of a nominee or other intermediary so long as the stockholder retains the right to instruct how the shares are voted with respect to the election of directors and possesses the full economic interest in the shares. A stockholder’s Ownership of shares shall be deemed to continue during any period in which the stockholder has loaned such shares or delegated any voting power over such shares by means of a proxy, power of attorney or other instrument or arrangement which in either case is revocable at any time by the stockholder; provided, however, in the event of a loan, such shares are actually recalled prior to the end of the period in question. The terms “Owned,” “Owning” and other variations of the word “Own” shall have correlative meanings. Whether shares constitute shares Owned shall be decided by the Board of Directors in its reasonable determination, which determination shall be conclusive and binding on the Corporation and its stockholders.

- (H) “Stock Exchange Rules” shall mean the rules of any stock exchange on which the Corporation’s securities are traded.
- (I) “Stockholder Nominee” shall mean any person nominated for election pursuant to this Section (s).
- (ii) Proxy Access at Annual Meeting. Subject to the provisions of this Section (s), if expressly requested in the relevant Nomination Notice, the Corporation shall include in its proxy statement for any annual meeting of stockholders:
 - (A) the name of any Stockholder Nominee, which shall also be included on the Corporation’s form of proxy and ballot;
 - (B) disclosure about the Stockholder Nominee and the Nominating Stockholder required under the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission or other applicable law to be included in the proxy statement;
 - (C) any statement included by the Nominating Stockholder in the Nomination Notice for inclusion in the proxy statement in support of the Stockholder Nominee’s election to the Board of Directors (subject, without limitation, to Section (s)(vii)), if such statement does not exceed 500 words; and
 - (D) any other information that the Corporation or the Board of Directors determines, in its discretion, to include in the proxy statement relating to the nomination of the Stockholder Nominee, including, without limitation, any statement in opposition to the nomination, information relating to any Compensation Arrangement and/or Voting Commitment, and any of the information provided pursuant to this Section (s).

For the avoidance of doubt, the provisions of this Section (s) shall not apply to a special meeting of stockholders, and the Corporation shall not be required to include a director nominee of a stockholder or group of stockholders in the Corporation’s proxy statement or form of proxy or ballot for any special meeting of stockholders.

- (iii) Maximum Number of Stockholder Nominees.
 - (A) The Corporation shall not be required to include in the proxy statement for an annual meeting of stockholders more Stockholder Nominees than the Maximum Number. In the event that one or more vacancies for any reason occurs on the Board of Directors after the deadline set forth in Section (s)(v) but before the date of the annual meeting and the Board of Directors resolves to reduce the size of the Board of Directors in connection therewith, the Maximum Number shall be calculated based on the number of directors in office as so reduced. The Maximum Number for a particular annual meeting shall be reduced by:

- (1) Stockholder Nominees whose nominations for election at such annual meeting are subsequently withdrawn;
 - (2) Stockholder Nominees who the Board of Directors itself decides to nominate for election at such annual meeting; and
 - (3) the number of incumbent directors or director candidates (including, without limitation, candidates who are not Stockholder Nominees) that in either case will be included in the Corporation's proxy statement for an annual meeting of stockholders as an unopposed (by the Corporation) nominee pursuant to any agreement, arrangement or other understanding with any stockholder or group of stockholders.
- (B) Any Nominating Stockholder submitting more than one Stockholder Nominee for inclusion in the Corporation's proxy materials pursuant to this Section (s) shall rank such Stockholder Nominees based on the order that the Nominating Stockholder desires such Stockholder Nominees to be selected for inclusion in the Corporation's proxy materials. In the event that the number of Stockholder Nominees submitted by Nominating Stockholders pursuant to this Section (s) exceeds the Maximum Number, the highest ranking Stockholder Nominee who meets the requirements of this Section (s) from each Nominating Stockholder will be selected for inclusion in the Corporation's proxy materials until the Maximum Number is reached, going in order of the amount (largest to smallest) of shares of capital stock of the Corporation that each Nominating Stockholder disclosed as Owned in its respective Nomination Notice submitted to the Corporation. This selection process will continue with the next highest ranked nominees as many times as necessary, following the same order each time, until the Maximum Number is reached.

(iv) Eligible Stockholders.

- (A) An Eligible Stockholder or Nominator Group may submit a nomination in accordance with this Section (s) only if the person or group (in the aggregate) has continuously Owned at least the Minimum Number (as adjusted for any stock splits, stock dividends or similar events) of shares of the Corporation's capital stock entitled to vote on the election of directors of the Corporation throughout the three-year period preceding and including the date of submission of the Nomination Notice, and continues to Own at least the Minimum Number of shares through the date of the annual meeting. The following shall be treated as one Eligible Stockholder or one member of a Nominator Group if such Eligible Stockholder or member of a Nominator Group shall provide together with the Nomination Notice documentation that demonstrates compliance with the following criteria:
- (1) funds under common management and investment control;

- (2) funds under common management and funded primarily by the same employer; or
- (3) a “family of investment companies” or a “group of investment companies” (each as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended).

For the avoidance of doubt, in the event of a nomination by a Nominator Group, any and all requirements and obligations for a given Eligible Stockholder (including, without limitation, each and every fund or company that comprises the Nominator Group) that are set forth in this Section (s), including the minimum holding period, shall apply to each member of such Nominator Group; provided, however, that the Minimum Number shall apply to the Ownership of the Nominator Group in the aggregate. Should any stockholder withdraw from a Nominator Group at any time prior to the annual meeting of stockholders, the Nominator Group shall only be deemed to Own the shares held by the remaining members of the group.

- (B) No stockholder shall be permitted to be in more than one Nominator Group, and if any stockholder appears as a member of more than one Nominator Group, or as a member of a Nominator Group and as a Nominating Stockholder without any such group, such stockholder shall be deemed to be a member of only the Nominator Group that has the largest Ownership position as reflected in the Nomination Notice and is not permitted to act as a Nominating Stockholder separate from such Nominator Group.
- (v) Timely Nomination Notice. To nominate a Stockholder Nominee pursuant to this Section (s), the Nominating Stockholder must submit the Nomination Notice to the Secretary of the Corporation:
- (A) not earlier than the close of business on the 150th day and not later than the close of business on the 120th day prior to the one-year anniversary of the date (as stated in the Corporation’s proxy materials relating to that annual meeting) that the Corporation first mailed its proxy statement for the annual meeting of the previous year, except where information or documents are required to be provided after the date the Nomination Notice is first submitted, as set forth in this Section (s); or
 - (B) if (and only if) the annual meeting is scheduled to be held on a date that is not within thirty (30) days before or after the anniversary date of the immediately preceding annual meeting of the stockholders, the Nomination Notice to be timely must be so delivered or received not later than the close of business on the tenth (10th) day following the earlier of the date on which notice or public disclosure of the date of the meeting was given or made by the Corporation, and in no event shall the adjournment or postponement of an annual meeting, or the announcement thereof, commence a new time period (or extend any time period) for the giving of the Nomination Notice.
- (vi) Nomination Notice. The Nomination Notice shall consist of, collectively, the following information, documents and agreements which shall, for avoidance of doubt, be compiled, completed and submitted by the Nominating Stockholder or its representatives at its own cost:

- (A) documentary evidence in the form of one or more written statements from the record holder of the shares (and from each intermediary through which the shares are or have been held during the requisite three-year holding period, provided that each such intermediary must be a participant in the Depository Trust Company or an affiliate of a participant in the Depository Trust Company) verifying and certifying that, as of a date within seven calendar days prior to the date of the Nomination Notice, the Nominating Stockholder Owns, and has continuously Owned for the preceding three years, the Minimum Number of shares, and the Nominating Stockholder's agreement to provide, within five business days after the record date for the annual meeting, documentary evidence in the form of written statements from the record holder and intermediaries verifying and certifying the Nominating Stockholder's continuous Ownership of the Minimum Number of shares through the record date;
- (B) an undertaking to provide immediate notice if the Nominating Stockholder ceases to Own the Minimum Number of shares prior to the date of the annual meeting;
- (C) a copy of the Schedule 14N (or any successor form) relating to the Stockholder Nominee, completed and filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission by the Nominating Stockholder as applicable, in accordance with Securities and Exchange Commission rules;
- (D) the written consent of each Stockholder Nominee to being named in the Corporation's proxy statement, form of proxy and ballot as a nominee and to serving as a director if elected;
- (E) a written notice of the nomination of such Stockholder Nominee that includes the following additional information, agreements, representations and warranties by the Nominating Stockholder (including, for the avoidance of doubt, each member of a Nominator Group):
 - (1) the information that would be required to be set forth in a stockholder's notice of nomination pursuant to Section (o)(i)-(iv) and (ix) of this Article IV;
 - (2) to the extent not included in the response to paragraph (1) above, a detailed description of all direct and indirect material compensation and other monetary agreements, arrangements and understandings during the past three years, and any other material relationships, between or among the Nominating Stockholder, on the one hand, and each Stockholder Nominee, on the other hand, including, without limitation, all information that would be required to be disclosed pursuant to Item 404 of Regulation S-K (or its successor Item) if the Nominating Stockholder were the "registrant" for purposes of such item and the Stockholder Nominee, were a director or executive officer of such registrant;
 - (3) a detailed description of all communications by such Nominating Stockholder with any other stockholder or beneficial owner of any securities of the Corporation regarding such Stockholder Nominee;

- (4) the details of any relationship that existed within the past three years and that would have been described pursuant to Item 6(e) of Schedule 14N (or any successor item) if it existed on the date of submission of the Schedule 14N;
- (5) a representation and warranty that the Nominating Stockholder did not acquire, and is not holding, securities of the Corporation for the purpose or with the effect of influencing or changing control of the Corporation;
- (6) a representation and warranty that the Nominating Stockholder has not nominated and will not nominate for election to the Board of Directors at the annual meeting any person other than such Nominating Stockholder's Stockholder Nominee(s);
- (7) a representation and warranty that the Nominating Stockholder has not engaged in and will not engage in a "solicitation" within the meaning of Rule 14a-1(l) under the Exchange Act with respect to the annual meeting, other than with respect to such Nominating Stockholder's Stockholder Nominee(s) or any nominee of the Board of Directors;
- (8) a representation and warranty that the Nominating Stockholder has not engaged in and will not engage in, other than with respect to such Nominating Stockholder's Stockholder Nominee(s) or any nominee of the Board of Directors, (1) an exempt solicitation as described in Rule 14a-2(b) under the Exchange Act, or (2) any communication, as described in Rule 14a-1(l)(2)(iv) under the Exchange Act, stating how the Nominating Stockholder intends to vote at the annual meeting and the reasons therefor;
- (9) a representation and warranty that the Nominating Stockholder will not use or distribute any proxy card other than the Corporation's proxy card in soliciting stockholders in connection with the election of a Stockholder Nominee at the annual meeting;
- (10) a representation and warranty that the Stockholder Nominee's candidacy or, if elected, membership on the Board of Directors would not violate applicable state or federal law or Stock Exchange Rules;
- (11) a representation and warranty that the Stockholder Nominee: (A) qualifies as independent under the Stock Exchange Rules; and (B) is not and has not been subject to any event specified in Rule 506(d)(1) of Regulation D (or any successor rule) under the Securities Act of 1933 or Item 401(f) of Regulation S-K (or any successor rule) under the Exchange Act, without reference to whether the event is material to an evaluation of the ability or integrity of the Stockholder Nominee;
- (12) a representation and warranty that the Nominating Stockholder satisfies the eligibility requirements set forth in Section (s)(iv) ;

- (13) a representation and warranty that the Nominating Stockholder will continue to satisfy the eligibility requirements described in Section (s)(iv) through the date of the annual meeting;
 - (14) details of any position of the Stockholder Nominee as an officer or director of any competitor, as defined for purposes of Section 8 of the Clayton Antitrust Act of 1914, of the Corporation, within the three years preceding the submission of the Nomination Notice;
 - (15) if desired, a statement for inclusion in the proxy statement in support of the Stockholder Nominee's election to the Board of Directors, provided that such statement shall not exceed 500 words and shall fully comply with Section 14 of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations thereunder; and
 - (16) in the case of a nomination by a Nominator Group, the designation by all group members of one group member that is authorized to act on behalf of all group members with respect to matters relating to the nomination, including withdrawal of the nomination;
- (F) an executed agreement (which form of agreement shall be provided by the Secretary of the Corporation upon written request), which must be submitted within ten days of the Nominating Stockholder's first submission of the Nomination Notice, pursuant to which the Nominating Stockholder (including each member of a Nominator Group) agrees:
- (1) to comply with all applicable laws, rules and regulations in connection with the nomination, solicitation and election;
 - (2) to file any written solicitation or other communication with the Corporation's stockholders relating to one or more of the Corporation's directors or director nominees or any Stockholder Nominee with the Securities and Exchange Commission, regardless of whether any such filing is required under any rule or regulation or whether any exemption from filing is available for such materials under any rule or regulation;
 - (3) to assume all liability stemming from any action, suit or proceeding concerning any actual or alleged legal or regulatory violation arising out of any communication by the Nominating Stockholder or the Stockholder Nominee nominated by such Nominating Stockholder with the Corporation, its stockholders or any other person, including, without limitation, the Nomination Notice;
 - (4) to indemnify and hold harmless (jointly with all other members of a Nominator Group, if applicable) the Corporation and each of its directors, officers and employees individually against any liability, loss, damages, expenses or other costs (including attorneys' fees) incurred in connection with any action, suit or proceeding (whether threatened, pending or completed), whether legal, judicial administrative or investigative, against the Corporation or any of its directors, officers or employees arising out of or relating to a failure or alleged failure of the Nominating Stockholder or Stockholder Nominee to comply with, or any breach or alleged breach of, its, or his or her, as applicable, obligations, agreements or representations under or pursuant to this Section (s), or otherwise arising out of any nomination, solicitation or other activity by any Eligible Stockholder or any member of Nominator Group in connection with its efforts pursuant to this Section (s);

- (5) to promptly (and in any event within 48 hours of discovering such misstatement or omission) notify the Corporation and any other recipient of any misstatement or omission if information included in the Nomination Notice, or any other communication by the Nominating Stockholder (including with respect to any member of a Nominator Group) with the Corporation, its stockholders or any other person in connection with the nomination or election ceases to be true and accurate in all material respects (or omits a material fact necessary to make the statements made not misleading), and promptly notify the Corporation and any other recipient of the information that is required to correct the misstatement or omission; and
 - (6) in the event that the Nominating Stockholder (including any member of a Nominator Group) has failed to continue to satisfy the eligibility requirements described in Section (s)(iv), to promptly notify the Corporation.
- (G) a written questionnaire with respect to the background and qualification of each Stockholder Nominee and the background of the Nominating Stockholder (including each member of a Nominator Group) (which questionnaire shall be provided by the Secretary of the Corporation upon written request); which must be submitted within ten days of the Nominating Stockholder's first submission of the Nomination Notice; and
- (H) an executed agreement (which form of agreement shall be provided by the Secretary of the Corporation upon written request), which must be submitted within ten days of the Nominating Stockholder's first submission of the Nomination Notice, by the Stockholder Nominee:
- (1) to provide to the Corporation such other information as it may reasonably request;
 - (2) that the Stockholder Nominee has read and agrees, if elected, to serve as a member of the Board of Directors, to adhere to all applicable publicly disclosed corporate governance, conflict of interest, confidentiality and stock ownership and trading policies and guidelines of the Corporation; and
 - (3) that the Stockholder Nominee is not and will not become a party to (i) any Voting Commitment or Compensation Arrangement that has not been disclosed to the Corporation or (ii) any Voting Commitment that could limit or interfere with such person's ability to comply, if elected as a director of the Corporation, with such person's fiduciary duties under applicable law.

The information and documents required by this Section (s)(vi) shall be provided with respect to and executed by the Nominating Stockholder (and each member of a Nominator Group), and provided with respect to the persons specified in Instructions 1 and 2 to Items 6(c) and (d) of Schedule 14N (or any successor item) in the case of a Nominating Stockholder or any member of a Nominator Group. The Nomination Notice shall be deemed submitted on the date on which all the information and documents referred to in this Section (s)(vi) (other than such information and documents required to be provided after the date the Nomination Notice is first submitted) have been delivered to or, if sent by mail, received by the Secretary of the Corporation.

(vii) Exclusion or Disqualification of Stockholder Nominees.

- (A) If, after the deadline for submitting a Nomination Notice as set forth in Section (s)(v), a Nominating Stockholder becomes ineligible or withdraws its nomination or a Stockholder Nominee becomes ineligible or unwilling to serve on the Board of Directors, whether before or after the mailing of the definitive proxy statement, the Corporation:
- (1) shall not be required to include in its proxy statement or on any ballot or form of proxy the Stockholder Nominee or any successor or replacement nominee proposed by the Nominating Stockholder or by any other Nominating Stockholder; and
 - (2) may otherwise communicate to its stockholders, including without limitation by amending or supplementing its proxy statement or ballot or form of proxy, that the Stockholder Nominee will not be included as a Stockholder Nominee in the proxy statement or on any ballot or form of proxy and will not be voted on at the annual meeting.
- (B) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section (s), the Corporation may omit from its proxy materials any Stockholder Nominee, and any information concerning such Stockholder Nominee (including a Nominating Stockholder's statement in support), and in such case no vote on such Stockholder Nominee will occur (notwithstanding that proxies in respect of such vote may have been received by the Corporation), and the Nominating Stockholder may not, after the last day on which a Nomination Notice would be timely, cure in any way any defect preventing the nomination of the Stockholder Nominee, if:
- (1) the Corporation receives a notice that a stockholder intends to nominate a candidate for director at the annual meeting pursuant to the advance notice requirements set forth in Section (o) of this Article IV;
 - (2) the Nominating Stockholder has engaged in a "solicitation" within the meaning of Rule 14a-1(I) under the Exchange Act with respect to the annual meeting, other than with respect to such Nominating

Stockholder's Stockholder Nominee(s) or any nominee of the Board of Directors;

- (3) the Nominating Stockholder has engaged in, other than with respect to such Nominating Stockholder's Stockholder Nominee(s) or any nominee of the Board of Directors, (1) an exempt solicitation as described in Rule 14a-2(b) under the Exchange Act, or (2) any communication, as described in Rule 14a-1(1)(2)(iv) under the Exchange Act, stating how the Nominating Stockholder intends to vote at the annual meeting and the reasons therefor;
 - (4) the Nominating Stockholder or the designated lead group member of a Nominator Group, as applicable, or any qualified representative thereof, does not appear at the annual meeting to present the nomination submitted in accordance with this Section (s);
 - (5) the Board of Directors, acting in good faith, determines that such Stockholder Nominee's nomination or election to the Board of Directors would result in the Corporation violating or failing to be in compliance with these Bylaws or the Certificate of Incorporation or any applicable law, rule or regulation to which the Corporation is subject, including the Stock Exchange Rules;
 - (6) the Stockholder Nominee has been, within the past three years, an officer or director of a competitor, as defined for purposes of Section 8 of the Clayton Antitrust Act of 1914, as amended; or
 - (7) the Nominating Stockholder has failed to continue to satisfy the eligibility requirements described in Section (s)(iv), any of the representations and warranties made in the Nomination Notice ceases to be true and accurate in all material respects (or omits a material fact necessary to make the statement made not misleading), the Stockholder Nominee becomes unwilling or unable to serve on the Board of Directors or any violation or breach occurs of any of the obligations, agreements, representations or warranties of the Nominating Stockholder or the Stockholder Nominee under this Section (s).
- (C) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section (s), the Corporation may omit from its proxy statement, or may supplement or correct, any information, including all or any portion of the statement in support of the Stockholder Nominee included in the Nomination Notice, if:
- (1) such information is not true in all material respects or omits a material statement necessary to make the statements made not misleading;
 - (2) such information directly or indirectly impugns the character, integrity or personal reputation of, or directly or indirectly makes charges concerning improper, illegal or immoral conduct or associations, without factual foundation, with respect to any individual, corporation, partnership, association or other entity, organization or governmental authority;

- (3) the inclusion of such information in the proxy statement would otherwise violate the Securities and Exchange Commission proxy rules or any other applicable law, rule or regulation; or
 - (4) the inclusion of such information in the proxy statement would impose a material risk of liability upon the Corporation.
- (D) The Corporation may solicit against, and include in the proxy statement its own statement relating to, any Stockholder Nominee.
- (viii) Interpretation. The Board of Directors (and any other person or body authorized by the Board of Directors, including, without limitation, the Chairman of the relevant annual meeting) shall have the power and authority to interpret this Section (s) and to make any and all determinations necessary or advisable to apply this Section (s) to any persons, facts or circumstances, including the power to determine (A) whether one or more stockholders or beneficial owners qualifies as an Eligible Stockholder or Nominator Group, as applicable, (B) whether a Nomination Notice complies with this Section (s), (C) whether a Stockholder Nominee satisfies the qualifications and requirements in this Section (s), and (D) whether any and all requirements of this Section (s) have been satisfied. Any such interpretation or determination adopted in good faith by the Board of Directors (or any other person or body authorized by the Board of Directors, including, without limitation, the Chairman of the relevant annual meeting) shall be binding on all persons, including the Corporation and its stockholders (including any beneficial owners). The Chairman of the meeting shall, if the facts warrant, determine and declare to the meeting that a nomination was not made in accordance with the foregoing procedures, and the defective nomination shall be disregarded.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

- (a) Duties and Powers; Election. The management of business and affairs of the Corporation shall be under the direction of a Board of Directors. Directors shall be elected by a plurality of the votes cast in the election of directors. However, in any election of directors in which only the holders of common stock are entitled to vote and in which the only nominees are those recommended by the Board of Directors, a nominee may only be elected if the votes cast in favor of such nominee exceed the votes cast against such nominee with “abstentions” and “broker non-votes” not counted as a vote cast either “for” or “against” that nominee’s election.
- (b) Resignations of Directors. Any director of the Corporation may resign at any time by giving notice in writing or by electronic transmission to the Chairman of the Board, the Chief Executive Officer or the Secretary. Such resignation shall take effect upon receipt unless it is specified to be effective at some other time or upon the occurrence of some other event, and unless otherwise specified in such notice, the acceptance of such resignation shall not be necessary to make it effective.
- (c) Meetings. Regular meetings of the Board of Directors may be held without notice at such places, whether within or without the State of Delaware, and at such times as the Board shall from time to time determine. Special meetings of the Board of Directors may be called at any time by the Chief Executive Officer or the Chairman or, if both are incapacitated or unable to call such meetings, by any member of the Board of Directors. Such meetings shall be held at such places and at such times as the person calling the meeting shall specify.

(d) Notice. Notice of all special meetings of the Board of Directors shall be given to each director by at least 24 hours' service of the same by facsimile, electronic mail, telephone, overnight courier, letter or personal delivery. If mailed, such notice shall be deemed to be given two business days after it is deposited in the United States mail with first class postage prepaid; if sent by overnight courier, such notice shall be deemed to be given one business day after it is deposited with the overnight courier; and notice by facsimile, electronic mail, telephone or personal delivery shall be deemed given when the notice is transmitted. Notice of any special meeting of the Board of Directors shall state the place and time of the meeting, but need not state the purposes thereof unless required by law. Any director may waive notice of any meeting before or after the meeting. A meeting of the Board of Directors or of any Board committee may be held at any time without notice, if all of the directors are present or if those not present waive notice of the meeting. The attendance of a director at any meeting shall constitute a waiver of notice of such meeting, except where the director attends the meeting for the express purpose of objecting at the beginning of the meeting to the transaction of any business because the meeting is not lawfully called or convened. Notice of regular meetings of the Board need not be given. In the absence of written instructions from a director designating some other address, notice shall be sufficiently given if addressed to such director at such director's usual business address.

(e) Quorum. A majority of the Entire Board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at all meetings of the Board of Directors, and the act of a majority of the directors present at any meeting at which there is a quorum shall be the act of the Board of Directors. If a quorum shall not be present at any meeting of the Board of Directors, the directors present at the meeting may adjourn the meeting from time to time, without notice other than announcement at the meeting of the time and place of the adjourned meeting, until a quorum shall be present.

(f) Compensation. Each director of the Corporation shall be entitled to receive such fixed sum per meeting of the Board of Directors or committee thereof attended, or such annual sum, or both, as the Board shall from time to time determine, together with such director's reasonable expenses of attendance at such meeting. Directors who are full-time employees of the Corporation shall not receive any compensation for their service as director.

(g) Chairman of the Board. The Board of Directors may from time to time, but in no event less frequently than annually, elect from among its members a Chairman of the Board. Except as otherwise provided by law or Section (h) or (i) of this Article V, the Chairman of the Board shall, if present, preside at all meetings of the stockholders and at all meetings of the Board of Directors. The Chairman of the Board shall have such other powers and duties as may from time to time be assigned by the Board of Directors.

(h) Lead Director. The Board of Directors may elect a Lead Director. The Lead Director shall be one of the directors who has been determined by the Board of Directors to be "independent directors" (any such director, an "Independent Director"). The Lead Director shall preside at all meetings of the Board of Directors at which the Chairman of the Board is not present, preside over the executive sessions of the Independent Directors, serve as a liaison between the Chairman of the Board and the Board of Directors and shall have such other responsibilities, and shall perform such duties, as may from time to time be assigned to the Lead Director by the Board of Directors. The Lead Director shall be elected by a majority of the Independent Directors.

(i) Organization. At each meeting of the Board of Directors, the Chairman of the Board, or in the Chairman's absence, the Lead Director, or in the Chairman's and Lead Director's absence, a director chosen by a majority of the directors present, shall act as chairman. The Secretary shall act as secretary at each meeting of the Board of Directors. In case the Secretary shall be absent from any meeting of the Board of Directors, an assistant secretary shall perform the duties of secretary at such meeting, and in the absence from any such meeting of the Secretary and all assistant secretaries, the chairman of the meeting may appoint any person to act as secretary of the meeting.

(j) Actions of the Board by Written Consent. Any action required or permitted to be taken at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of any committee thereof may be taken without a meeting, if all the members of the Board of Directors or committee, as the case may be, consent thereto in writing or by electronic transmission, and the writing or writings or electronic transmission are filed with the minutes of proceedings of the Board of Directors or committee.

(k) Telephonic Meetings. Members of the Board of Directors, or any committee thereof, may participate in a meeting of the Board of Directors or such committee by means of a conference telephone or other communications equipment by means of which all persons participating in the meeting can hear each other, and participation in a meeting pursuant to this Section (k) of Article V shall constitute presence in person at such meeting.

ARTICLE VI

COMMITTEES

(a) General. The Board of Directors may from time to time, in its discretion, designate, and appoint from the directors, committees of one or more persons which shall have and may exercise such lawfully delegable powers and duties conferred or authorized by the resolutions of designation and appointment. The Board of Directors shall have power at any time to change the members of any such committee, to fill vacancies, and to discharge any such committee. Each committee shall keep regular minutes and report to the Board of Directors when required.

(b) Quorum. Unless the Board of Directors shall provide otherwise, the presence of one-third of the total membership of any committee of the Board of Directors, but no less than two members, shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business at any meeting of such committee, and the act of a majority of those present shall be necessary and sufficient for the taking of any action thereat.

ARTICLE VII

OFFICERS

(a) General. The officers of the Corporation shall be the Chief Executive Officer, the President, the Secretary, and the Treasurer, who shall be elected by the Board of Directors, and may include the Chief Financial Officer, the Controller and such additional Assistant Secretaries, Assistant Treasurers, Vice Presidents and other officers as may from time to time be elected or appointed by the Board of Directors or, with the exception of the Chief Executive Officer, appointed by the Chief Executive Officer. Any two or more of the aforementioned offices may be held by the same person except those of President and Secretary.

(b) Term; Vacancies. Subject to Section (c) of this Article VII, each officer of the Corporation shall hold office until such officer's successor shall have been duly elected and shall have qualified or until such officer's earlier death, resignation or removal. All vacancies in such offices by resignation, death or otherwise may be filled by the Board of Directors or, with the exception of the Chief Executive Officer, by the Chief Executive Officer. In the case of absence or inability to act of any officer of the Corporation, and of any person herein authorized to act in such officer's place, the Board of Directors may from time to time delegate the powers or duties of such officer to any other officer or any director or other person whom they may select.

(c) Resignation and Removal. Any officer may resign upon notice given in writing or electronic transmission to the Chief Executive Officer or the Secretary. Such resignation shall be effective upon receipt unless it is specified to be effective at some other time or upon the occurrence of some other event. Any officer of the Corporation may be removed, either with or without cause, at any time, by the Board of Directors or, in the case of each officer of the Corporation other than the Chief Executive Officer, by the Chief Executive Officer.

(d) Chief Executive Officer. The Chief Executive Officer shall have general and active supervision and direction over the business and affairs of the Corporation and over its several officers; subject, however, to the control of the Board of Directors. The Chief Executive Officer or an officer designated by the Chief Executive Officer shall make a report on the state of the business of the Corporation at each annual meeting of stockholders. The Chief Executive Officer shall perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Board of Directors.

(e) President and Vice Presidents. The President and any Vice Presidents (including any Senior Vice Presidents and Executive Vice Presidents) shall perform such duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Chief Executive Officer or the Board of Directors.

(f) Treasurer. The Treasurer shall have charge and be responsible for keeping full and accurate accounts of receipts and disbursements in books belonging to the Corporation, depositing all moneys and other valuables in the name and to the credit of the Corporation, in such depositories as may be directed by the Board of Directors, disbursing the funds of the Corporation as may be ordered by the Board of Directors or the Chief Executive Officer taking proper vouchers therefor and rendering to the Chief Executive Officer and the directors whenever they may require it an account of all of the Treasurer's transactions as Treasurer and of the financial condition of the Corporation. The Treasurer shall also perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer or the Board of Directors. If required by the Board of Directors, the Treasurer shall give the Corporation a bond in a form and in a sum with surety satisfactory to the Board of Directors for the faithful performance of the duties of the office of Treasurer and the restoration to the Corporation in the case of the officer's death, resignation or removal from office, of all books, papers, vouchers, money and other property of whatever kind in the officer's possession belonging to the Corporation.

(g) Assistant Treasurers. At the request of the Treasurer, or in the Treasurer's absence or inability to act, the Assistant Treasurer or, if there be more than one, the Assistant Treasurer designated by the Treasurer, shall perform the duties of the Treasurer and when so acting shall have the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions of the Treasurer. The Assistant Treasurers shall perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned to them by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer, the Treasurer or the Board of Directors.

(h) Chief Financial Officer. The Chief Financial Officer shall be the principal financial officer of the Corporation. The Chief Financial Officer shall render such accounts and reports as may be required by the Board of Directors or any committee thereof. The financial records, books and accounts of the Corporation shall be maintained subject to the Chief Financial Officer's direct or indirect supervision. The Chief Financial Officer shall perform such other duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Chief Executive Officer or the Board of Directors.

(i) Controller. The Controller shall exercise general supervision of the accounting staff of the Corporation. The Controller shall perform such duties as from time to time may be assigned by the Chief Executive Officer, the Chief Financial Officer or the Board of Directors.

(j) Secretary. The Secretary shall attend all meetings of the Board of Directors and of the stockholders and record all votes and the minutes of all proceedings in a book to be kept for that purpose.

The Secretary shall keep in safe custody the seal of the Corporation and, whenever authorized by the Board, affix the seal to any instrument or other document requiring the same. The Secretary shall see that proper notice is given of all meetings of the stockholders of the Corporation and of the Board of Directors and shall perform such other duties as may be prescribed from time to time by the Chief Executive Officer or the Board of Directors.

(k) Assistant Secretaries. At the request of the Secretary, or in the Secretary's absence or inability to act, the Assistant Secretary or, if there be more than one, the Assistant Secretary designated by the Secretary, shall perform the duties of the Secretary and when so acting shall have all the powers of and be subject to all the restrictions of the Secretary. The Assistant Secretaries shall perform such other duties as may from time to time be assigned to them by the Chief Executive Officer, the Secretary or the Board of Directors.

(l) Other Officers. Such other officers as the Board of Directors or the Chief Executive Officer may choose shall perform such duties and have such powers as from time to time may be assigned to them by the Board of Directors or the Chief Executive Officer. The Board of Directors may delegate to any other officer of the Corporation the power to choose such other officers and to prescribe their respective duties and powers.

ARTICLE VIII

CONTRACTS, CHECKS, NOTES, ETC.

(a) Contracts, Checks, Etc. All contracts and agreements authorized by the Board of Directors shall, unless otherwise directed by the Board of Directors, or unless otherwise required by law, be signed by any one of the following officers: the Chief Executive Officer, the President, any Vice President, the Treasurer, the Secretary, any Assistant Treasurer or any Assistant Secretary, any other person authorized by a resolution of the Board of Directors, and any other person authorized by the Chief Executive Officer, as evidenced by a written instrument of delegation. Any such authorization by the Board of Directors or the Chief Executive Officer shall remain in effect until rescinded by action of the Board of Directors or (in the case of a delegation by the Chief Executive Officer) by the Chief Executive Officer and, where it identifies the authorized signatory by office rather than by name, shall not be rescinded solely by virtue of a change in the person holding that office or a temporary vacancy in that office. All checks, drafts, notes, bonds, bills of exchange and orders for the payment of money (including orders for repetitive or non-repetitive electronic funds transfers) may be signed by any one of the Chief Executive Officer, the President, any Vice President, the Treasurer, any Assistant Treasurer or the Controller or in such manner as shall from time to time be determined by resolution of the Board of Directors. Further, the Treasurer is authorized to designate to the Corporation's banks, in writing, individuals employed in the NiSource Corporate Services Company, who need not be officers or employees of the Corporation, to give in the name of the Corporation telephonic, telegraphic, or electronic transfer instructions for the payment of money, which may, with respect to routine items, include instructions as to the amount to be transferred, to any bank, pursuant to previously issued written orders, signed by officers of the Corporation in any manner provided above, which designate the recipients of such amounts and which identify what shall be treated as routine items.

(b) Accounts. Anything in Section (a) of this Article VIII to the contrary notwithstanding, the officers of the Corporation may open in the name of the Corporation special accounts appropriately designated in which shall be deposited funds of the Corporation transferred from the Corporation's other accounts by its checks signed in accordance with the requirements of Section (a) of this Article VIII, but from which special accounts funds may be disbursed by check, draft or other instrument of the Corporation designated as drawn against such special account and signed by the single signature of any one of the executive officers of the Corporation authorized by Section (a) of this Article VIII to sign checks, drafts and other instruments of the Corporation or signed by the single signature of any other person expressly authorized by the Board of Directors to sign checks, drafts and other instruments disbursing funds from such special accounts.

(c) Evidence of Indebtedness. Anything in Section (a) of this Article VIII to the contrary notwithstanding, (i) bonds, notes, debentures and other evidence of indebtedness of the Corporation issued under an indenture may be executed in the name of the Corporation by the facsimile signature, printed, engraved or otherwise used thereon, of the Chief Executive Officer, the President, any Vice President, the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer of the Corporation, and the corporate seal affixed thereto or impressed, printed, engraved or otherwise reproduced thereon may be attested by the facsimile signature of the Secretary or an Assistant Secretary of the Corporation, provided that the indenture requires the same to be authenticated by the trustee under such indenture, and (ii) interest coupons attached to any such bond, note, debenture or other evidence of indebtedness may be executed on behalf of the Corporation by the facsimile signature of the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer of the Corporation.

(d) Voting Securities Owned by the Corporation. Powers of attorney, proxies, waivers of notice of meeting, consents and other instruments relating to securities owned by the Corporation may be executed in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation by the Chief Executive Officer or any other officer authorized to do so by the Board of Directors, and any such officer may, in the name of and on behalf of the Corporation, take all such action as any such officer may deem advisable to vote in person or by proxy at any meeting of security holders of any corporation in which the Corporation may own securities and at any such meeting shall possess and may exercise any and all rights and power incident to the ownership of such securities and which, as the owner thereof, the Corporation might have exercised and possessed if present. The Board of Directors may, by resolution, from time to time confer like powers upon any other person or persons.

(e) Interested Directors and Officers. No contract or transaction between the Corporation and one or more of its directors or officers, or between the Corporation and any other corporation, partnership, association or other organization in which one or more of the Corporation's directors or officers are directors or officers or have a financial interest, shall be void or voidable solely for this reason, or solely because the director or officer is present at or participates in the meeting of the Board of Directors or committee thereof that authorizes the contract or transaction, or solely because any such director's or officer's vote is counted for such purpose if: (i) the material facts as to the director's or officer's relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the Board of Directors or the committee and the Board of Directors or committee in good faith authorizes the contract or transaction by the affirmative vote of a majority of the disinterested directors, even though the disinterested directors be less than a quorum; (ii) the material facts as to the director's or officer's relationship or interest and as to the contract or transaction are disclosed or are known to the stockholders entitled to vote thereon and the contract or transaction is specifically approved in good faith by vote of the stockholders; or (iii) the contract or transaction is fair as to the Corporation as of the time it is authorized, approved or ratified by the Board of Directors, a committee thereof or the stockholders. Common or interested directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at a meeting of the Board of Directors or of a committee that authorizes the contract or transaction.

ARTICLE IX

FISCAL YEAR

The fiscal year of the Corporation shall begin on the first day of January in each year.

ARTICLE X

AMENDMENT OF BYLAWS

These Bylaws may be amended, added to, rescinded or repealed at any meeting of the Board of Directors or of the stockholders, provided notice of the proposed change was given in the notice of the meeting or, in the case of a meeting of the Board of Directors, in a notice given not less than two days prior to the meeting; provided, however, in order for the Board of Directors to amend, add to, rescind or repeal any provision contained in Section (c), (k), (l), (m), (n), (o) or (p) of Article IV or Section (a) of Article V of these Bylaws or this proviso to this Article X of these Bylaws, the affirmative vote of a majority of the Entire Board shall be required.

NiSource reports 2015 earnings
 reflecting sustained growth in a dynamic year

- Continued focus on creating customer value through well-established infrastructure modernization programs
- 2016 net operating earnings (non-GAAP) per share guidance reaffirmed at $1.00-$1.10
- Planned infrastructure investments of approximately $1.4 billion in 2016

MERRILLVILLE, Ind . - NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced net operating earnings (non-GAAP) of $298.8 million, or $0.94 per share, for the twelve months ended Dec. 31, 2015, compared to $256.4 million, or $0.81 per share, in 2014. Operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the twelve months ended Dec. 31, 2015 were $832.1 million, compared to $777.8 million in 2014.

On a GAAP basis, NiSource reported income from continuing operations for the twelve months ended Dec. 31, 2015 of $198.6 million, or $0.63 per share, compared with $256.2 million, or $0.81 per share, in 2014. Operating income was $799.9 million for the twelve months ended Dec. 31, 2015, compared with $789.1 million in 2014. Schedules 1 and 2 of this news release contain a reconciliation of net operating earnings and operating earnings to GAAP net income and operating income, respectively.

For the three months ended Dec. 31, 2015, NiSource's net operating earnings (non-GAAP) were $99.6 million, or $0.31 per share, compared with $79.6 million, or $0.25 per share, for the same period in 2014. On a GAAP basis, income from continuing operations for the three months ended Dec. 31, 2015 was $64.4 million, or $0.20 per share, compared with $79.5 million, or $0.25 per share, for the same period in 2014.

As outlined in our third quarter update, on July 1, 2015 NiSource successfully completed the separation of Columbia Pipeline Group Inc. (CPG) (NYSE: CPGX) through a distribution of all of the common stock of CPG held by NiSource to NiSource shareholders. CPG financial results for all periods are classified as discontinued operations.

"2015 was a dynamic year of exciting change and progress for NiSource," said NiSource President and CEO Joseph Hamrock . "Our teams executed for our customers through our investment-driven utility business plan while maintaining the commitments outlined throughout the separation of Columbia Pipeline Group. We finished 2015 continuing to build momentum with an eye toward continued growth and enhanced performance in 2016.”

NiSource invested a record $1.37 billion across its gas and electric utilities in 2015. Since outlining its $30 billion in identified long-term regulated utility infrastructure investments, the company has now executed against approximately $2 billion of those investments. NiSource expects to invest $1.4 billion in capital during 2016 to continue to modernize and improve its system across all seven states.

Significant NiSource milestones achieved in 2015 included:

- J.D. Power recognizing NiSource utilities for customer satisfaction, with Columbia Gas of Pennsylvania (CPA) an award winner for the second straight year, and Columbia Gas of Virginia (CVA) named one of the most improved brands in the nation.
- Replacing 361 miles of priority pipe, including removing the last known cast iron pipe from the CVA system, and continuing to enhance safety and reliability for customers.
- Completing significant regulatory initiatives that support enhanced safety, reliability, training and customer programs. This includes successful rate settlements in Massachusetts, Pennsylvania and Virginia; extension of CVA’s modernization program; approval of the first year of Columbia Gas of Massachusetts’ (CMA) Gas System Enhancement Plan; and continued execution of Columbia Gas of Ohio’s (COH) modernization program.
- Completion of the last of three flue gas desulfurization (FGD) units at Northern Indiana Public Service Co.’s (NIPSCO) coal-generation facilities, the culmination of $850 million in investments over approximately five years that have improved air quality and help ensure NIPSCO’s generation fleet remains in compliance with current environmental regulations.
- Full deployment of automated meter reading (AMR) devices across our nearly 4 million natural gas and electric customers, completing a six-year project. This new meter technology enhances customer service and safety and reduces costs.

Fourth Quarter 2015 Highlights

During the fourth quarter of 2015, NiSource continued to advance its business plan by executing on its customer focused infrastructure investments and regulatory programs.

Gas Distribution Operations

- On Dec. 3, 2015, the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission approved a settlement in CPA's base rate case. The settlement maintains CPA's ability to continue replacing and upgrading its natural gas distribution system. The approved rate adjustment went into effect on Dec. 18, 2015 and will increase the company’s annual revenues by approximately $28 million. The settlement also included new incentives that will significantly reduce costs for customers converting to natural gas.
- On Nov. 1, 2015, CMA implemented new rates under its previously approved base rate case settlement. The settlement supports CMA’s continued effort to modernize its pipeline infrastructure and transform its operations to continue to serve customers safely and reliably. The approved settlement provides for increased annual revenues of $32.8 million starting Nov. 1, 2015, with an additional $3.6 million annual increase starting Nov. 1, 2016.
- NIPSCO continued executing on its seven-year, $817 million natural gas system modernization program. The company filed its semi-annual tracker and program update on Aug. 31, 2015, and expects an order from the Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission (IURC) in the first quarter of 2016.

Electric Operations

- On Dec. 16, 2015, the IURC approved a settlement between NIPSCO, the Indiana Office of Utility Consumer Counselor and NIPSCO's largest industrial customers which resolved all outstanding issues raised by parties in an Indiana Court of Appeals proceeding related to the company's previous long-term electric infrastructure modernization plan.
- On Dec. 31, 2015, NIPSCO filed a new $1.3 billion, seven-year electric infrastructure modernization plan with the IURC. The plan is focused on electric transmission and distribution investments made for safety, reliability, and system modernization. NIPSCO expects an order on its seven-year plan in the third quarter of 2016.
- NIPSCO remains on schedule with its electric base rate case filed on Oct. 1, 2015 with the IURC. The case seeks to update rates to reflect the current costs of generating and distributing power, plus ongoing investments which are delivering substantial benefits to customers, including programs that have reduced the duration of power outages by 40 percent. An IURC decision is expected in the third quarter of 2016.
- Progress also continued on two major electric transmission projects designed to enhance region-wide system flexibility and reliability. Right-of-way acquisition, permitting and substation construction are under way for both projects. Line and tower construction is expected to begin in 2016. These projects involve an investment of approximately $450 million for NIPSCO and are anticipated to be in service by the end of 2018.

"Our well-established utility investment programs continued to produce high value for our customers and investors in 2015," Hamrock said. "Now in our first full year as a pure utility company, we're deeply committed to leadership in safety and service to our customers and communities as core drivers of sustained and growing value."

2016 Guidance, Financial & Growth Commitments Reaffirmed

Hamrock reaffirmed that NiSource expects to deliver non-GAAP net operating earnings per share of $1.00 to $1.10 in 2016. As outlined above, NiSource also expects to make approximately $1.4 billion in planned infrastructure enhancement investments during the year. This 2016 earnings and investment guidance provides the starting point for NiSource's long-term annual earnings per share and dividend growth projections of 4-6 percent annually.

NiSource remains committed to maintaining solid, investment grade credit ratings. Standard & Poor's rates NiSource at BBB+, Moody's rates NiSource at Baa2, and Fitch rates NiSource at BBB- with a positive outlook. As of Dec. 31, 2015, NiSource maintained $1.2 billion in net available liquidity, consisting of cash and available capacity under credit facilities.

Full-Year 2015 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the year ended Dec. 31, 2015, were $832.1 million, compared to $777.8 million for the same period in 2014. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2015 and 2014 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the year ended Dec. 31, 2015, are discussed below.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $567.8 million for the year ended Dec. 31, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $517.4 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $105.5 million primarily attributable to an increase in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of new rates at CPA, CMA and CVA and the implementation of rates under COH's approved infrastructure replacement program.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $55.1 million due primarily to higher employee and administrative costs, increased depreciation and higher property taxes. Additionally, 2015 included increased outside service costs and higher environmental expenses.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $279.5 million for the year ended Dec. 31, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $287.7 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $1.8 million from the comparable 2014 period.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $10.0 million due primarily to increased depreciation due to higher capital expenditures placed in service.

Corporate and Other Operations reported an operating earnings loss of $15.2 million for the year ended Dec. 31, 2015, compared to an operating earnings loss of $27.3 million for the comparable prior period. The change is primarily attributable to lower corporate insurance costs in 2015.

Other Income (Deductions)

Interest expense in 2015 increased by $0.7 million compared to the prior year period.

Other, net reflected income of $17.4 million compared to income of $13.4 million in 2014.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 36.3 percent compared to 37.7 percent for the same period last year.

Fourth Quarter 2015 Operating Earnings - Segment Results (non-GAAP)

NiSource's consolidated operating earnings (non-GAAP) for the three months ended Dec. 31, 2015, were $248.9 million, compared to $227.1 million for the same period in 2014. Refer to Schedule 2 for the items included in 2015 and 2014 GAAP operating income but excluded from operating earnings.

Operating earnings for NiSource's business segments for the three months ended Dec. 31, 2015, are discussed below.

Gas Distribution Operations reported operating earnings of $184.8 million for the three months ended Dec. 31, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $173.8 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $26.9 million primarily attributable to increases in regulatory and service programs, including the impact of new rates at CPA and CMA, as well as the implementation of rates under COH's approved infrastructure replacement program.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $15.9 million due primarily to increased environmental expenses and higher depreciation. Additionally, 2015 included increased employee and administrative costs.

Electric Operations reported operating earnings of $54.1 million for the three months ended Dec. 31, 2015, compared with operating earnings of $63.5 million for the prior year period. Net revenues, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $4.6 million primarily due to increased environmental investment cost recovery and higher revenues resulting from two electric transmission projects.

Operating expenses, excluding the impact of trackers, increased by $14.0 million due primarily to higher outside service costs, increased depreciation and higher other taxes.

Corporate and Other Operations reported operating earnings of $10.0 million for the three months ended Dec. 31, 2015, compared to an operating earnings loss of $10.2 million for the comparable prior period. The change is primarily due to decreased employee and administrative costs and lower corporate insurance costs in 2015.

Other Income (Deductions)

Interest expense increased by $2.2 million in the last quarter of 2015 compared to the prior year period.

Other, net reflected income of $5.8 million compared to no income or loss in 2014.

The effective tax rate of net operating earnings was 37.9 percent compared to 41.0 percent for the same period last year. The change in the effective tax rate was primarily due to state apportionment changes and permanent items as the result of re-measurement following the separation of CPG.

Regulation G Disclosure Statement

This press release includes financial results and guidance for NiSource with respect to net operating earnings and operating earnings, which are non-GAAP financial measures as defined by the SEC's Regulation G. The company includes such measures because management believes they permit investors to view the company's performance using the same tools that management uses and to better evaluate the Company's ongoing business performance. With respect to such guidance, it should be noted that there will likely be differences between such measures and GAAP equivalents due to various factors, including, but not limited to, fluctuations in weather, environmental laws, the impact of asset sales, separation-related costs, and certain income tax items. NiSource is not able to estimate the impact of such factors on GAAP earnings and, as such, is not providing earnings guidance on a GAAP basis.

ITEM 5.02 Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On March 22, 2016, the Board of Directors of NiSource Inc. (“NiSource”) appointed Wayne S. DeVeydt as a director of NiSource for a term continuing until the 2016 annual meeting of the stockholders and until his successor has been duly elected or appointed and qualified. There is no arrangement or understanding between Mr. DeVeydt and any other person pursuant to which he was selected as a director of NiSource. Mr. DeVeydt does not have any direct or indirect material interest in any transaction or proposed transaction involving NiSource required to be reported under Item 404(a) of Regulation S-K. As of the date hereof, the Board of Directors has not determined any committee appointments for Mr. DeVeydt.

Consistent with NiSource’s compensation practices for non-employee directors, Mr. DeVeydt will receive an annual retainer of $210,000, consisting of $90,000 in cash and an award of restricted stock units valued at $120,000 at the time of the award.

On March 24, 2016, NiSource issued a press release announcing the appointment of Mr. DeVeydt as a director of the company. A copy of that press release is filed as an exhibit to this report and is incorporated herein by reference.

Wayne S. DeVeydt to Join NiSource Board of Directors

MERRILLVILLE, Ind . - NiSource Inc. (NYSE: NI) today announced that on March 22, 2016 its Board of Directors elected Wayne S. DeVeydt to the Board.

DeVeydt currently serves as executive vice president and chief financial officer at Indiana-based Anthem, Inc., a position he's held since 2007. Prior to his role as Anthem's CFO, he served as senior vice president and chief accounting officer at Anthem and before that was a partner at PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP.

"Wayne brings a strong complement of financial and leadership acumen to our already-experienced Board of Directors," said NiSource Board Chairman Richard L. Thompson . "Wayne's experience in a regulated industry, including significant experience in capital markets, corporate governance, risk management and strategic planning will be a great asset as NiSource executes on its robust long-term utility investment programs that continue to deliver enhanced value for customers and shareholders."

DeVeydt is a board member of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the Cancer Support Community, Central Indiana. He is also a member of the Boys & Girls Clubs of America Board of Governors. He previously served as a board member for the YMCA of Greater Indianapolis and The Children's Museum of Indianapolis.

DeVeydt received a bachelor's degree in accounting from the University of Missouri in St. Louis.

As part of NiSource's commitment to contemporary governance practices, shareholders elect members of the NiSource Board of Directors for one-year terms at the company's annual shareholders meeting. All current directors, including DeVeydt, will be up for re-election at this year's NiSource annual shareholders meeting.

ITEM 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

On March 31, 2016, NiSource Finance Corp. (“NiSource Finance”), as borrower, and NiSource Inc. (the “Company”), as guarantor, entered into a $500 million Term Loan Agreement (the “Agreement”) with the lenders party thereto, PNC Bank, National Association, as Administrative Agent, JPMorgan Chase Bank, N.A., as Syndication Agent, and Mizuho Bank, Ltd., as Documentation Agent. Under the Agreement, NiSource Finance may borrow up to $500 million at any time or from time to time before September 30, 2016. The term loans mature March 31, 2019 and bear interest at the option of the Company at:

- a rate equal to (A) the Alternate Base Rate (which is a floating rate equal to the highest of (i) the prime rate of interest announced by the Administrative Agent from time to time, (ii) the Federal Funds Effective Rate in effect from time to time + 0.50% and (iii) the one-month LIBO rate + 1.0%) plus (B) an applicable margin (which applicable margin is currently 0 basis points, based on the Company’s current ratings), or
- a rate equal to (A) the 1, 2, 3 or 6-month LIBO rate plus (B) an applicable margin (which applicable margin is currently 95 basis points, based on the Company’s current ratings).

Until September 30, 2016, NiSource Finance will also pay an unused fee of 17.5 basis points (based on the Company’s current ratings) on any portion of the $500 million commitment that is not borrowed.

The Agreement includes one financial covenant, a maximum debt-to-capitalization covenant set at 70%, which is consistent with NiSource Finance’s existing $1.5 billion Third Amended and Restated Revolving Credit Agreement.

The accompanying Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for NiSource (the “Company”) reflect all normal recurring adjustments that are necessary, in the opinion of management, to present fairly the results of operations in accordance with GAAP in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in NiSource’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013 . Income for interim periods may not be indicative of results for the calendar year due to weather variations and other factors.

The Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) have been prepared pursuant to the rules and regulations of the SEC. Certain information and note disclosures normally included in annual financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP have been condensed or omitted pursuant to those rules and regulations, although NiSource believes that the disclosures made are adequate to make the information not misleading.

2. Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In April 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-08, Presentation of Financial Statements (Topic 205) and Property, Plant, and Equipment (Topic 360): Reporting Discontinued Operations and Disclosures of Disposals of Components of an Entity. ASU 2014-08 changes the criteria for reporting a discontinued operation. Under the new pronouncement, a disposal of a part of an organization that has a major effect on its operations and financial results is a discontinued operation. NiSource is required to adopt ASU 2014-08 prospectively for all disposals or components of its business classified as held for sale during fiscal periods beginning after December 15, 2014. NiSource is currently evaluating what impact, if any, adoption of ASU 2014-08 will have on its Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) and Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited).

3. Earnings Per Share

Basic EPS is computed by dividing income available to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding for the period. The weighted average shares outstanding for diluted EPS includes the incremental effects of the various long-term incentive compensation plans. The numerator in calculating both basic and diluted EPS for each period is reported net income. The computation of diluted average common shares follows:

(in thousands)	Three Months Ended
	March 31,
	2014	2013
Denominator
Basic average common shares outstanding	314,222	311,120
Dilutive potential common shares:
Stock options	59	156
Shares contingently issuable under employee stock plans	399	276
Shares restricted under stock plans	442	523
Diluted Average Common Shares	315,122	312,075

4. Gas in Storage

Both the LIFO inventory methodology and the weighted average cost methodology are used to value natural gas in storage. Gas Distribution Operations price natural gas storage injections at the average of the costs of natural gas supply purchased during the year. For interim periods, the difference between current projected replacement cost and the LIFO cost for quantities of gas temporarily withdrawn from storage is recorded as a temporary LIFO liquidation credit or debit within the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited). Due to seasonality requirements, NiSource expects interim variances in LIFO layers to be replenished by year-end. NiSource had a temporary LIFO liquidation debit of $10.3 million and zero as of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 , respectively, for certain gas distribution companies recorded within “Prepayments and other,” on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited).

On September 1, 2013, NiSource sold the commercial and industrial natural gas portfolio of its unregulated natural gas marketing business. The sale included the physical contracts and associated financial hedges that comprise the portfolio, as well as the gas inventory and customer deposits of the business. The sale resulted in an after tax loss of $1.5 million which was recorded during the third quarter of 2013.

During 2012, NiSource began marketing to sell the service plan and leasing business lines of its Retail Services business. The sale of the business lines closed in January 2013 resulting in gain from the disposition of discontinued operations of $36.4 million, net of taxes, which was recorded during the first quarter of 2013.

There were no assets and liabilities of discontinued operations and held for sale on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited) at March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013.

Results from discontinued operations are provided in the following table. These results are primarily from a settlement at NiSource's former exploration and production subsidiary, CER, NiSource's Retail Services business, and NiSource's unregulated natural gas marketing business.

(in millions)	Three Months Ended March 31,
	2014	2013

(Loss) Income from Discontinued Operations - net of taxes	$ (0.2)	$ 8.1
Gain on Disposition of Discontinued Operations - net of taxes	$ —	$ 36.4

6. Asset Retirement Obligations

Certain costs of removal that have been, and continue to be, included in depreciation rates and collected in the service rates of the rate-regulated subsidiaries are classified as "Regulatory liabilities" on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited).

Changes in NiSource's liability for asset retirement obligations for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013 are presented in the table below:

(in millions)	2014	2013
Balance as of January 1,	$ 174.4	$ 160.4

7. Regulatory Matters

Gas Distribution Operations Regulatory Matters

Significant Rate Developments . On April 30, 2013, Indiana Governor Pence signed Senate Enrolled Act 560 into law. Among other provisions, this legislation provides for cost recovery outside of a base rate proceeding for new or replacement electric and gas transmission, distribution, and storage projects that a public utility undertakes for the purposes of safety, reliability, system modernization, or economic development. Provisions of the TDSIC statute require that, among other things, requests for recovery include a seven year plan of eligible investments. Once the plan is approved by the IURC, 80 percent of eligible costs can be recovered using a periodic rate adjustment mechanism. The cost recovery mechanism is referred to as a TDSIC mechanism. Recoverable costs include a return on, and of, the investment, including AFUDC, post in service carrying charges, operation and maintenance expenses, depreciation, and property taxes. The remaining 20 percent of recoverable costs are to be deferred for future recovery in the public utility's next general rate case. The periodic rate adjustment mechanism is capped at an annual increase of no more than two percent of total retail revenues. On October 3, 2013, NIPSCO filed its gas TDSIC seven-year plan of eligible investments for a total of approximately $710 million with the IURC. An order is expected by the second quarter of 2014.

On November 25, 2013, Columbia of Ohio filed a Notice of Intent to file an application to adjust rates associated with its IRP and DSM Riders. Columbia of Ohio filed its Application on February 28, 2014, requesting authority to increase revenues by approximately $25.5 million . The parties have settled all issues, and on April 7, 2014 filed a stipulation providing for a revenue increase of approximately $25.5 million . On April 23, 2014, Columbia of Ohio received approval of its annual infrastructure replacement and demand-side management rider request from the PUCO. New rates are effective April 30, 2014.

On April 16, 2013, Columbia of Massachusetts submitted a filing with the Massachusetts DPU requesting an annual revenue requirement increase of $30.1 million . Pursuant to the procedural schedule for this case, on September 3, 2013, Columbia of Massachusetts filed its updated revenue requirement of $29.5 million and on October 16, 2013, filed an updated cost of service for $30.0 million . A final revenue requirement update of $29.9 million was filed on December 16, 2013. On February 28, 2014 the Massachusetts DPU issued an order granting an annual revenue requirement increase of $19.3 million effective March 1, 2014, and the compliance filing associated with the order has been approved. Columbia of Massachusetts currently has two Motions for Reconsideration and Clarification pending before the Massachusetts DPU with regard to specific findings in the order.

On September 16, 2013, Columbia of Massachusetts filed its Peak Period Gas Adjustment Factor ("GAF") for the period November 1, 2013 through April 30 2014, and its Peak Period 2012-2013 GAF Reconciliation. On January 17, 2014, Columbia of Massachusetts filed a revision to the GAF effective February 1, 2014, and on February 18, 2014, Columbia of Massachusetts filed its second revision to the GAF effective March 1, 2014, to eliminate Columbia of Massachusetts's projected Peak Period under-collection of $50 million . On February 28, 2014, the Massachusetts DPU approved the revision subject to further review and reconciliation, but deferred recovery of $25 million of the projected under-collection to November 2014 - April 2015, and thus, this deferred amount will be incorporated into the proposed GAF to be submitted in Columbia of Massachusetts's 2014-2015 Peak Period GAF filing.

On March 21, 2014, Columbia of Pennsylvania filed a base rate case with the Pennsylvania PUC, seeking a revenue increase of approximately $54.1 million annually. The case is driven by Columbia of Pennsylvania's capital investment program which exceeds $180 million in both 2014 and 2015 as well as new pipeline safety-related operation and maintenance expenditures. Columbia of Pennsylvania seeks Pennsylvania PUC approval to implement additional rates to recover costs that are projected to be incurred after the implementation of those new rates, as authorized by the Pennsylvania General Assembly with the passage of Act 11 of 2012. Columbia of Pennsylvania's filing seeks to implement rates in December 2014 under which Columbia of Pennsylvania would immediately begin to recover costs that are projected for the twelve-month period ending December 31, 2015. The case is currently in discovery, and a final order from the Pennsylvania PUC is expected in the fourth quarter of 2014.

Cost Recovery and Trackers . A significant portion of the distribution companies' revenue is related to the recovery of gas costs, the review and recovery of which occurs via standard regulatory proceedings. All states require periodic review of actual gas procurement activity to determine prudence and to permit the recovery of prudently incurred costs related to the supply of gas for customers. NiSource distribution companies have historically been found prudent in the procurement of gas supplies to serve customers.

Certain operating costs of the NiSource distribution companies are significant, recurring in nature, and generally outside the control of the distribution companies. Some states allow the recovery of such costs via cost tracking mechanisms. Such tracking mechanisms allow for abbreviated regulatory proceedings in order for the distribution companies to implement charges and recover appropriate costs. Tracking mechanisms allow for more timely recovery of such costs as compared with more traditional cost recovery mechanisms. Examples of such mechanisms include GCR adjustment mechanisms, tax riders, gas energy efficiency programs, and bad debt recovery mechanisms.

Comparability of Gas Distribution Operations line item operating results is impacted by regulatory trackers that allow for the recovery in rates of certain costs such as bad debt expenses. Increases in the expenses that are subject to trackers result in a corresponding increase in net revenues and therefore have essentially no impact on total operating income results.

Certain of the NiSource distribution companies have completed rate proceedings involving infrastructure replacement or are embarking upon regulatory initiatives to replace significant portions of their operating systems that are nearing the end of their useful lives. Each LDC's approach to cost recovery may be unique, given the different laws, regulations and precedent that exist in each jurisdiction.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations Regulatory Matters

Significant Rate Developments. On January 30, 2014, Columbia Transmission received FERC approval of its December 2013 filing to recover costs associated with the first year of its comprehensive system modernization program. During 2013, Columbia Transmission completed more than 30 individual projects representing a total investment of about $300 million . The program includes replacement of aging pipeline and compressor facilities, enhancements to system inspection capabilities, and improvements in real-time analytics and control systems. Recovery of the 2013 investments began on February 1, 2014.

The second year of the program includes planned modernization investments of approximately $300 million . Columbia Transmission and its customers have agreed to the initial five years of the comprehensive modernization program, with an opportunity to mutually extend the agreement.

Cost Recovery Trackers. A significant portion of the regulated transmission and storage companies' revenue is related to the recovery of their operating costs, the review and recovery of which occurs via standard regulatory proceedings with the FERC under section 4 of the Natural Gas Act. However, certain operating costs of the NiSource regulated transmission and storage companies are significant and recurring in nature, such as fuel for compression and lost and unaccounted for gas. The FERC allows for the recovery of such costs via cost tracking mechanisms. These tracking mechanisms allow the transmission and storage companies' rates to fluctuate in response to changes in certain operating costs or conditions as they occur to facilitate the timely recovery of its costs incurred. The tracking mechanisms involve a rate adjustment that is filed at a predetermined frequency, typically annually, with the FERC and is subject to regulatory review before new rates go into effect. Other such costs under regulatory tracking mechanisms include third-party pipeline transportation, electric compression, certain environmental, and certain operational purchases and sales of natural gas.

Electric Operations Regulatory Matters

Significant Rate Developments . On July 19, 2013, NIPSCO filed its electric TDSIC, further discussed above, with the IURC. The filing included the seven-year plan of eligible investments for a total of approximately $1.1 billion with the majority of the spend occurring in years 2016 through 2020. On February 17, 2014, the IURC issued an order approving NIPSCO's seven-year plan of eligible investments. The Order also granted NIPSCO ratemaking relief associated with the eligible investments through a rate adjustment mechanism. NIPSCO anticipates filing its first semi-annual tracker petition in the third quarter of 2014. On March 10, 2014 the OUCC filed a Petition for Reconsideration with the IURC which is still pending. In addition, two parties have filed Notices of Appeal with the Indiana Court of Appeals to appeal the IURC's ruling.

On November 12, 2013, several industrial customers, including INDIEC, filed a complaint at the FERC regarding the 12.38% base ROE used to set the MISO Transmission Owners' transmission rates and requesting a reduction in the base ROE to 9.15% . The complaint further requests that FERC limit the capital structure of MISO Transmission Owners to no more than 50% common equity for ratemaking purposes and that FERC eliminate incentive adders for membership in a RTO. NIPSCO joined in an answer defending the 12.38% base ROE and motion to dismiss the complaint filed on behalf of a group of MISO Transmission Owners on January 6, 2014. NIPSCO is unable to estimate the impact of this complaint or the timing of any potential impact at this time.

Cost Recovery and Trackers . A significant portion of NIPSCO's revenue is related to the recovery of fuel costs to generate power and purchased power. These costs are recovered through a FAC, a standard, quarterly, "summary" regulatory proceeding in Indiana.

Certain operating costs of the Electric Operations are significant, recurring in nature, and generally outside the control of NIPSCO. The IURC allows for recovery of such costs via cost tracking mechanisms. Such tracking mechanisms allow for abbreviated regulatory proceedings in order for NIPSCO to implement charges and recover appropriate costs. Tracking mechanisms allow for more timely recovery of such costs as compared with more traditional cost recovery mechanisms. Examples of such mechanisms include electric energy efficiency programs, MISO non-fuel costs and revenues, resource capacity charges, and environmental related costs.

NIPSCO has approval from the IURC to recover certain environmental related costs through an ECT. Under the ECT, NIPSCO is permitted to recover (1) AFUDC and a return on the capital investment expended by NIPSCO to implement environmental compliance plan projects through an ECRM and (2) related operation and maintenance and depreciation expenses once the environmental facilities become operational through an EERM. On January 31, 2014, NIPSCO filed ECR-23 which included $583.5 million of net capital expenditures for the period ending December 31, 2013. An order is expected by the second quarter of 2014.

8. Risk Management Activities

NiSource is exposed to certain risks relating to its ongoing business operations. The primary risks managed by using derivative instruments are commodity price risk and interest rate risk. Derivative natural gas contracts are entered into to manage the price risk associated with natural gas price volatility and to secure forward natural gas prices. Interest rate swaps are entered into to manage interest rate risk or fair value risk associated with NiSource's borrowings. NiSource designates some of its commodity forward contracts as cash flow hedges of forecasted purchases of commodities and designates its interest rate swaps as fair value hedges of fixed-rate borrowings.

Accounting Policy for Derivative Instruments. Unrealized and realized gains and losses are recognized each period as components of AOCI, regulatory assets and liabilities or earnings depending on the designation of the derivative instrument and regulatory accounting treatment. For subsidiaries that utilize derivatives for cash flow hedges, the effective portions of the gains and losses are recorded to AOCI and are recognized in earnings concurrent with the disposition of the hedged risks. If a forecasted transaction corresponding to a cash flow hedge is no longer probable to occur, the accumulated gains or losses on the derivative are recognized currently in earnings. For fair value hedges, the gains and losses are recorded in earnings each period together with the change in the fair value of the hedged item. As a result of the rate-making process, the rate-regulated subsidiaries generally record gains and losses as regulatory liabilities or assets and recognize such gains or losses in earnings when both the contracts settle and the physical commodity flows. These gains and losses recognized in earnings are then subsequently recovered or passed back to customers in revenues through rates. When gains and losses are recognized in earnings, they are recognized in revenues or cost of sales for derivatives that correspond to commodity risk activities and are recognized in interest expense for derivatives that correspond to interest-rate risk activities.

For its commodity price risk programs, NiSource has elected not to net the fair value amounts of its derivative instruments or the fair value amounts recognized for its right to receive or obligation to pay cash collateral arising from those derivative instruments recognized at fair value, which are executed with the same counterparty under a master netting arrangement. NiSource discloses amounts recognized for the right to reclaim cash collateral within "Restricted cash" and amounts recognized for the obligation to return cash collateral within "Other accruals" on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited).

Commodity price risk program derivatives consist of NYMEX gas options, NYMEX gas futures and FTRs. Contracted gross volumes are as follows:

	March 31, 2014	December 31, 2013
Commodity Price Risk Program:
Gas price volatility program derivatives (MMDth)	13.9	17.0
Price Protection Service program derivatives (MMDth)	0.3	0.7
DependaBill program derivatives (MMDth)	0.1	0.2
Electric energy program FTR derivatives (mw)	—	1,248.0

Interest Rate Risk Activities . NiSource recognizes that the prudent and selective use of derivatives may help it to lower its cost of debt capital and manage its interest rate exposure. NiSource Finance has entered into various “receive fixed” and “pay floating” interest rate swap agreements which modify the interest rate characteristics of a portion of its outstanding long-term debt from fixed to variable rate. These interest rate swaps also serve to hedge the fair market value of NiSource Finance’s outstanding debt portfolio. As of March 31, 2014 , NiSource had $7.7 billion of outstanding fixed rate debt, of which $500 million is subject to fluctuations in interest rates as a result of the fixed-to-variable interest rate swap transactions. These interest rate swaps are designated as fair value hedges. NiSource had no net gain or loss recognized in earnings due to hedging ineffectiveness for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013 .

On July 22, 2003, NiSource Finance entered into fixed-to-variable interest rate swap agreements in a notional amount of $500 million with four counterparties which will expire on July 15, 2014 . NiSource Finance receives payments based upon a fixed 5.40% interest rate and pays a floating interest amount based on U.S. 6-month BBA LIBOR plus an average of 0.78% per annum. There was no exchange of premium at the initial date of the swaps.

Contemporaneously with the issuance on September 16, 2005 of $1 billion of its 5.25% and 5.45% notes, maturing September 15, 2017 and 2020, respectively, NiSource Finance settled $900 million of forward starting interest rate swap agreements with six counterparties. NiSource paid an aggregate settlement payment of $35.5 million which is being amortized from AOCI to interest expense over the term of the underlying debt, resulting in an effective interest rate of 5.67% and 5.88% , respectively. As of March 31, 2014 , AOCI includes $7.8 million related to forward starting interest rate swap settlement, net of tax. These derivative contracts are accounted for as a cash flow hedge.

As of March 31, 2014 , NiSource holds a 47.5% interest in Millennium. As NiSource reports Millennium as an equity method investment, NiSource is required to recognize a proportional share of Millennium’s OCI. NiSource’s proportionate share of the remaining unrecognized loss associated with settled interest rate swaps was $17.4 million and $17.7 million , net of tax, as of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 , respectively. Millennium is amortizing the losses related to these terminated interest rate swaps into earnings using the effective interest method through interest expense as interest payments are made. NiSource records its proportionate share of the amortization as Equity Earnings in Unconsolidated Affiliates in the Condensed Statements of Consolidated Income (unaudited).

These amounts will be amortized to income over future periods of up to twelve months as specified in a regulatory order.

NiSource's derivative instruments measured at fair value as of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 do not contain any credit-risk-related contingent features.

Certain NiSource affiliates have physical commodity purchase agreements that contain "ratings triggers" that require increases in collateral if the credit rating of NiSource or certain of its affiliates are rated below BBB- by Standard & Poor's or below Baa3 by Moody's. These agreements are primarily for the physical purchase or sale of natural gas and electricity. The collateral requirement from a downgrade below the ratings trigger levels would amount to approximately $0.9 million. In addition to agreements with ratings triggers, there are some agreements that contain "adequate assurance" or "material adverse change" provisions that could result in additional credit support such as letters of credit and cash collateral to transact business.

NiSource had $5.3 million and $5.9 million of cash on deposit with brokers and MISO for collateral requirements associated with open derivative positions reflected within "Restricted cash" on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited) as of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively.

Price risk management assets and liabilities include commodity exchange-traded and non-exchange-based derivative contracts. Exchange-traded derivative contracts are based on unadjusted quoted prices in active markets and are classified within Level 1. These financial assets and liabilities are secured with cash on deposit with the exchange; therefore nonperformance risk has not been incorporated into these valuations. Certain non-exchange-traded derivatives are valued using broker or over-the-counter, on-line exchanges. In such cases, these non-exchange-traded derivatives are classified within Level 2. Non-exchange-based derivative instruments include swaps, forwards, and options. In certain instances, these instruments may utilize models to measure fair value. NiSource uses a similar model to value similar instruments. Valuation models utilize various inputs that include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, other observable inputs for the asset or liability, and market-corroborated inputs, i.e., inputs derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means. Where observable inputs are available for substantially the full term of the asset or liability, the instrument is categorized in Level 2. Certain derivatives trade in less active markets with a lower availability of pricing information and models may be utilized in the valuation. When such inputs have a significant impact on the measurement of fair value, the instrument is categorized in Level 3. Credit risk is considered in the fair value calculation of derivative instruments that are not exchange-traded. Credit exposures are adjusted to reflect collateral agreements which reduce exposures. As of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, there were no material transfers between fair value hierarchies. Additionally, there were no changes in the method or significant assumptions used to estimate the fair value of NiSource's financial instruments.

Price risk management assets also include fixed-to-floating interest-rate swaps, which are designated as fair value hedges, as a means to achieve NiSource's targeted level of variable-rate debt as a percent of total debt. NiSource uses a calculation of future cash inflows and estimated future outflows related to the swap agreements, which are discounted and netted to determine the current fair value. Additional inputs to the present value calculation include the contract terms, as well as market parameters such as current and projected interest rates and volatility. As they are based on observable data and valuations of similar instruments, the interest-rate swaps are categorized in Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy. Credit risk is considered in the fair value calculation of the interest rate swap.

Available-for-sale securities are investments pledged as collateral for trust accounts related to NiSource's wholly-owned insurance company. Available-for-sale securities are included within "Other investments" in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited). Securities classified within Level 1 include U.S. Treasury debt securities which are highly liquid and are actively traded in over-the-counter markets. NiSource values corporate and mortgage-backed debt securities using a matrix pricing model that incorporates market-based information. These securities trade less frequently and are classified within Level 2. Total gains and losses from available-for-sale securities are included in other comprehensive income (loss). The amortized cost, gross unrealized gains and losses, and fair value of available-for-sale debt securities at March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 were:

	Amortized Cost	Gross Unrealized Gains	Gross Unrealized Losses	Fair Value
March 31, 2014 (in millions)
Available-for-sale debt securities
U.S. Treasury	$ 27.0	$ 0.2	$ (0.4)	$ 26.8
Corporate/Other	93.0	1.2	(0.9)	93.3
Total Available-for-sale debt securities	$ 120.0	$ 1.4	$ (1.3)	$ 120.1

Available-for-sale debt securities
U.S. Treasury	$ 30.3	$ 0.3	$ (0.5)	$ 30.1
Corporate/Other	91.5	1.1	(1.3)	91.3
Total Available-for-sale debt securities	$ 121.8	$ 1.4	$ (1.8)	$ 121.4

For the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, the net realized gain on the sale of available-for-sale U.S. Treasury debt securities was $0.1 million and $0.2 million, respectively. For the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, the net realized gain on sale of available-for-sale Corporate/Other bond debt securities was $0.1 million and $0.2 million, respectively.

The cost of maturities sold is based upon specific identification. At March 31, 2014, approximately $2.6 million of U.S. Treasury debt securities have maturities of less than a year while the remaining securities have maturities of greater than one year. At March 31, 2014, approximately $4.4 million of Corporate/Other bonds have maturities of less than a year while the remaining securities have maturities of greater than one year.

There are no material items in the fair value reconciliation of Level 3 assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013.

Non-recurring Fair Value Measurements. There were no significant non-recurring fair value measurements recorded during the three months ended March 31, 2014.

In January 2013, NiSource sold the service plan and leasing business lines of its Retail Services business. The disposed business lines were included in the Columbia Distribution Operations reporting unit and the NIPSCO Gas Distribution Operations reporting unit. Goodwill associated with the disposed business lines was included in the carrying amount of the business lines in determining the gain on disposal. The amount of the goodwill included in the carrying amount was based on the relative fair values of the business lines disposed of and the portion of the reporting units that were retained. The fair value of the disposed business lines was determined by using the selling price of the business lines. The fair value of the reporting units that were retained was determined by a weighted average of income and market approaches. This approach was similar to the process undertaken to calculate the fair value of the reporting units for the goodwill impairment test conducted on May 1, 2012. These approaches are further discussed in NiSource's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2012 and yield fair values considered to be at Level 3 of the fair value hierarchy. The respective fair value of the disposed business lines was divided by the fair value of the reporting units to which the disposed business lines belonged. These percentages were then applied to those goodwill balances to determine their allocations. As a result of these procedures, NiSource recorded a disposal of goodwill of approximately $11.0 million during the first quarter of 2013. This amount is included within the "Gain on Disposition of Discontinued Operations - net of taxes" on the Condensed Statements of Consolidated Income (unaudited).

B. Other Fair Value Disclosures for Financial Instruments. The carrying amount of cash and cash equivalents, restricted cash, notes receivable, customer deposits and short-term borrowings is a reasonable estimate of fair value due to their liquid or short-term nature. NiSource's long-term borrowings are recorded at historical amounts unless designated as a hedged item in a fair value hedge.

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instruments for which it is practicable to estimate fair value.

Long-term Debt. The fair values of these securities are estimated based on the quoted market prices for the same or similar issues or on the rates offered for securities of the same remaining maturities. Certain premium costs associated with the early settlement of long-term debt are not taken into consideration in determining fair value. These fair value measurements are classified as Level 2 within the fair value hierarchy. For the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, there were no changes in the method or significant assumptions used to estimate the fair value of the financial instruments.

The carrying amount and estimated fair values of financial instruments were as follows:

(in millions)	Carrying Amount as of March 31, 2014	Estimated Fair Value as of March 31, 2014	Carrying Amount as of Dec. 31, 2013	Estimated Fair Value as of Dec. 31, 2013
Long-term debt (including current portion)	$ 8,169.0	$ 8,944.1	$ 8,135.3	$ 8,697.3

10. Transfers of Financial Assets

Transfers of accounts receivable are accounted for as secured borrowings resulting in the recognition of short-term borrowings on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited). The maximum amount of debt that can be recognized related to NiSource's accounts receivable programs is $515 million.

All accounts receivables sold to the commercial paper conduits are valued at face value, which approximates fair value due to their short-term nature. The amount of the undivided percentage ownership interest in the accounts receivables sold is determined in part by required loss reserves under the agreements. Below is information about the accounts receivable securitization agreements entered into by NiSource's subsidiaries.

Columbia of Ohio is under an agreement to sell, without recourse, substantially all of its trade receivables, as they originate, to CGORC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Columbia of Ohio. CGORC, in turn, is party to an agreement with BTMU and BNS under the terms of which it sells an undivided percentage ownership interest in its accounts receivable to commercial paper conduits sponsored by BTMU and BNS. This agreement was last renewed on October 18, 2013. The maximum seasonal program limit under the terms of the new agreement remains at $240 million. The current agreement expires on October 17, 2014, and can be further renewed if mutually agreed to by all parties. As of March 31, 2014, $240.0 million of accounts receivable had been transferred by CGORC. CGORC is a separate corporate entity from NiSource and Columbia of Ohio, with its own separate obligations, and upon a liquidation of CGORC, CGORC's obligations must be satisfied out of CGORC's assets prior to any value becoming available to CGORC's stockholder.

NIPSCO is under an agreement to sell, without recourse, substantially all of its trade receivables, as they originate, to NARC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of NIPSCO. NARC, in turn, is party to an agreement with PNC and Mizuho under the terms of which it sells an undivided percentage ownership interest in its accounts receivable to commercial paper conduits sponsored by PNC and Mizuho. This agreement was last renewed on August 28, 2013. The maximum seasonal program limit under the terms of the new agreement remains at $200 million . The current agreement expires on August 27, 2014 , and can be further renewed if mutually agreed to by all parties. As of March 31, 2014 , $200.0 million of accounts receivable had been transferred by NARC. NARC is a separate corporate entity from NiSource and NIPSCO, with its own separate obligations, and upon a liquidation of NARC, NARC's obligations must be satisfied out of NARC's assets prior to any value becoming available to NARC's stockholder.

Columbia of Pennsylvania is under an agreement to sell, without recourse, substantially all of its trade receivables, as they originate, to CPRC, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Columbia of Pennsylvania. CPRC, in turn, is party to an agreement with BTMU under the terms of which it sells an undivided percentage ownership interest in its accounts receivable to a commercial paper conduit sponsored by BTMU. The maximum seasonal program limit under the terms of the agreement is $75 million . The agreement with BTMU was renewed on March 11, 2014, having a current scheduled termination date of March 10, 2015 , and can be further renewed if mutually agreed to by both parties. As of March 31, 2014 , $75.0 million of accounts receivable had been transferred by CPRC. CPRC is a separate corporate entity from NiSource and Columbia of Pennsylvania, with its own separate obligations, and upon a liquidation of CPRC, CPRC's obligations must be satisfied out of CPRC's assets prior to any value becoming available to CPRC's stockholder.

The following table reflects the gross and net receivables transferred as well as short-term borrowings related to the securitization transactions as of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 for Columbia of Ohio, NIPSCO and Columbia of Pennsylvania:

(in millions)	March 31, 2014		December 31, 2013
Gross Receivables	$	811.7	$	610.9
Less: Receivables not transferred		296.7		345.8
Net receivables transferred	$	515.0	$	265.1
Short-term debt due to asset securitization	$	515.0	$	265.1

Columbia of Ohio, NIPSCO and Columbia of Pennsylvania remain responsible for collecting on the receivables securitized and the receivables cannot be sold to another party.

11. Goodwill

NiSource considered whether there were any events or changes in circumstances subsequent to the annual test that would reduce the fair value of any of the reporting units below their carrying amounts and necessitate another goodwill impairment test. No such indicators were noted that would require a subsequent goodwill impairment testing during the first quarter of 2014.

During the first quarter of 2013, as part of the sale of the service plan and leasing business lines of its Retail Services business, NiSource allocated $10.0 million of goodwill from Columbia Distribution Operations to the sale and allocated $ 1.0 million of goodwill from NIPSCO Gas Distribution Operations to the sale. Refer to Note 5 "Discontinued Operations and Assets and Liabilities Held for Sale" for more information.

12. Income Taxes

NiSource's interim effective tax rates reflect the estimated annual effective tax rates for 2014 and 2013 , adjusted for tax expense associated with certain discrete items. The effective tax rates for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013 were 37.9% and 35.4% , respectively. These effective tax rates differ from the Federal tax rate of 35% primarily due to the effects of tax credits, state income taxes, utility rate-making, and other permanent book-to-tax differences. The 2.5% increase from 2013 to 2014 is primarily due to the impact of the Indiana rate change, see below for further information.

On March 25, 2014, the governor of Indiana signed into law Senate Bill 1, which among other things, lowers the corporate income tax rate from 6.5% to 4.9% over six years beginning on July 1, 2015. The reduction in the tax rate will impact deferred income taxes and tax related regulatory assets and liabilities recoverable in the rate-making process. In addition, other deferred tax assets and liabilities, primarily deferred tax assets related to the Indiana net operating loss carry forward, will be reduced to reflect the lower rate at which these temporary differences and tax benefits will be realized. In the first quarter of 2014, NiSource recorded tax expense of $7.1 million to reflect the effect of this rate change. This expense is largely attributable to the remeasurement of the Indiana net operating loss at the 4.9% rate. The majority of NiSource's tax temporary differences are related to NIPSCO's utility plant. The remeasurement of these temporary differences at 4.9% was recorded as a reduction of a regulatory asset.

On March 7, 2013, the Congressional Joint Committee on Taxation took no exception to the conclusions reached by the IRS in its 2008-2010 audit examination. Therefore, in the first quarter of 2013, NiSource recognized a federal income tax receivable of $15.9 million that was related to the 2008 and 2009 tax years and increases in net operating loss carryforwards of $0.6 million that was related to uncertain tax positions in the 2010-2012 tax years. NiSource received payments of $75.1 million in March 2013 and $70.6 million in April 2013 of principal and interest from the IRS related to the audit examination. The recognition of the receivables and net operating loss carryforwards did not materially affect tax expense or net income.

On January 2, 2013, the President signed into law the American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 ("ATRA"). ATRA, among other things, extended retroactively the research credit under Internal Revenue Code section 41 until December 31, 2013, and also extended and modified 50% bonus depreciation for 2013. In general, 50% bonus depreciation will be available for property placed in service before January 1, 2014, or in the case of certain property having longer production periods, before January 1, 2015. NiSource recorded the effects of ATRA in the first quarter of 2013. The retroactive extension of the research credit did not have a significant effect on net income.

There were no material changes recorded in the first quarter of 2014 to NiSource's uncertain tax positions as of December 31, 2013 .

13. Pension and Other Postretirement Benefits

NiSource provides defined contribution plans and noncontributory defined benefit retirement plans that cover its employees. Benefits under the defined benefit retirement plans reflect the employees' compensation, years of service and age at retirement. Additionally, NiSource provides health care and life insurance benefits for certain retired employees. The majority of employees may become eligible for these benefits if they reach retirement age while working for NiSource. The expected cost of such benefits is accrued during the employees' years of service. Current rates of rate-regulated companies include postretirement benefit costs, including amortization of the regulatory assets that arose prior to inclusion of these costs in rates. For most plans, cash contributions are remitted to grantor trusts.

For the three months ended March 31, 2014 , NiSource has contributed $0.7 million to its pension plans and $9.2 million to its other postretirement benefit plans.

The following table provides the components of the plans' net periodic benefits cost for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013 :

Three Months Ended March 31, (in millions)	Pension Benefits		Other Postretirement Benefits
	2014	2013	2014	2013
Components of Net Periodic Benefit Cost
Service cost	$ 8.7	$ 9.4	$ 2.3	$ 3.0
Interest cost	27.3	24.3	8.2	8.1
Expected return on assets	(45.3)	(42.4)	(9.1)	(7.6)
Amortization of transition obligation	—	—	—	0.1
Amortization of prior service cost (credit)	—	0.1	(0.6)	(0.2)
Recognized actuarial loss	11.9	20.7	—	2.8
Settlement loss	—	20.7	—	—
Total Net Periodic Benefit Costs	$ 2.6	$ 32.8	$ 0.8	$ 6.2

In 2013, NiSource pension plans had lump sum payouts exceeding the plan's 2013 service cost plus interest cost and, therefore, settlement accounting was required.

In general, a VIE is an entity that (1) has an insufficient amount of at-risk equity to permit the entity to finance its activities without additional financial subordinated support provided by any parties, (2) whose at-risk equity owners, as a group, do not have power, through voting rights or similar rights, to direct activities of the entity that most significantly impact the entity's economic performance or (3) whose at-risk owners do not absorb the entity's losses or receive the entity's residual return. A VIE is required to be consolidated by a company if that company is determined to be the primary beneficiary of the VIE.

NiSource consolidates those VIEs for which it is the primary beneficiary. NiSource considers quantitative and qualitative elements in determining the primary beneficiary. Qualitative measures include the ability to control an entity and the obligation to absorb losses or the right to receive benefits.

NiSource's analysis includes an assessment of guarantees, operating leases, purchase agreements, and other contracts, as well as its investments and joint ventures. For items that have been identified as variable interests, or where there is involvement with an identified VIE, an in-depth review of the relationship between the relevant entities and NiSource is made to evaluate qualitative and quantitative factors to determine the primary beneficiary, if any, and whether additional disclosures would be required under the current standard.

NIPSCO has a service agreement with Pure Air, a general partnership between Air Products and Chemicals, Inc. and First Air Partners LP, under which Pure Air provides scrubber services to reduce sulfur dioxide emissions for Units 7 and 8 at the Bailly Generating Station. NiSource has made an exhaustive effort to obtain information needed from Pure Air to determine the status of Pure Air as a VIE. However, NIPSCO has not been able to obtain this information and as a result, it is unclear whether Pure Air is a VIE and if NIPSCO is the primary beneficiary. NIPSCO will continue to request the information required to determine whether Pure Air is a VIE. NIPSCO has no exposure to loss related to the service agreement with Pure Air and payments under this agreement were $5.4 million and $5.6 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively.

15. Short-Term Borrowings

On September 30, 2013, NiSource Finance amended its existing revolving credit facility with a syndicate of banks led by Barclays Capital to expand capacity to $2.0 billion and extend the termination date to September 28, 2018. The purpose of the facility is to fund ongoing working capital requirements including the provision of liquidity support for NiSource's $1.5 billion commercial paper program, provide for issuance of letters of credit, and also for general corporate purposes. At March 31, 2014, NiSource had no outstanding borrowings under this facility.

NiSource Finance's commercial paper program has a program limit of up to $1.5 billion with a dealer group comprised of Barclays, Citigroup, Credit Suisse, RBS and Wells Fargo. Commercial paper issuances are supported by available capacity under NiSource's $2.0 billion unsecured revolving credit facility. At March 31, 2014, NiSource had $297.5 million of commercial paper outstanding.

As of March 31, 2014, NiSource had $30.5 million of stand-by letters of credit outstanding of which $14.3 million were under the revolving credit facility. At December 31, 2013, NiSource had $31.6 million of stand-by letters of credit outstanding of which $14.3 million were under the revolving credit facility.

Transfers of accounts receivable are accounted for as secured borrowings resulting in the recognition of short-term debt on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited) in the amount of $515.0 million and $265.1 million as of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively. Refer to Note 10, "Transfers of Financial Assets," for additional information.

(in millions)	March 31, 2014	December 31, 2013
Commercial Paper weighted average interest rate of 0.55% and 0.70% at March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively.	$ 297.5	$ 433.6
Accounts receivable securitization facility borrowings	515.0	265.1
Total short-term borrowings	$ 812.5	$ 698.7

Given their turnover is less than 90 days, cash flows related to the borrowings and repayments of the items listed above are presented net in the Condensed Statements of Consolidated Cash Flows (unaudited).

NiSource Inc.

16. Share-Based Compensation

The stockholders approved and adopted the NiSource Inc. 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan (the “Omnibus Plan”), at the Annual Meeting of Stockholders held on May 11, 2010. The Omnibus Plan provides for awards to employees and non-employee directors of incentive and nonqualified stock options, stock appreciation rights, restricted stock and restricted stock units, performance shares, performance units, cash-based awards and other stock-based awards. The Omnibus Plan provides that the number of shares of common stock of NiSource available for awards is 8,000,000 plus the number of shares subject to outstanding awards granted under either the 1994 Plan or the Director Plan (described below) that expire or terminate for any reason. No further awards are permitted to be granted under the 1994 Plan or the Director Plan. At March 31, 2014, there were 6,162,981 shares reserved for future awards under the Omnibus Plan.

Prior to May 11, 2010, NiSource issued long-term equity incentive grants to key management employees under a long-term incentive plan approved by stockholders on April 13, 1994 (“1994 Plan”). The types of equity awards previously authorized under the 1994 Plan did not significantly differ from those permitted under the Omnibus Plan.

NiSource recognized stock-based employee compensation expense of $5.3 million and $4.2 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, respectively, as well as related tax benefits of $2.0 million and $1.5 million, respectively.

As of March 31, 2014, the total remaining unrecognized compensation cost related to nonvested awards amounted to $31.8 million, which will be amortized over the weighted-average remaining requisite service period of 2.3 years.

Stock Options. As of March 31, 2014, approximately 0.2 million options were outstanding and exercisable with a weighted average strike price of $22.62. No options were granted during the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013. As of March 31, 2014, the aggregate intrinsic value for the options outstanding and exercisable was $3.1 million. During the three months ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, cash received from the exercise of options was $3.9 million and $13.1 million, respectively.

Restricted Stock Units and Restricted Stock. During the three months ended March 31, 2014, NiSource granted 67,594 restricted stock units and shares of restricted stock, subject to service conditions. The total grant date fair value of restricted stock units and shares of restricted stock was $2.1 million, based on the average market price of NiSource’s common stock at the date of each grant less the present value of any dividends not received during the vesting period, which will be expensed, net of forfeitures, over the vesting period which is generally three years. If the employee terminates employment before the service conditions lapse due to (1) Retirement or Disability (as defined in the award agreement), or (2) death, the employment conditions will lapse with respect to a pro rata portion of the shares of restricted stock and restricted stock units on the date of termination. In the event of a Change-in-Control (as defined in the award agreement), all unvested shares of restricted stock and restricted stock units granted during the three months ended March 31, 2014 will vest upon termination of employment in connection with a Change-in-Control. Termination due to any other reason will result in all unvested shares of restricted stock and restricted stock units awarded being forfeited effective on the employee’s date of termination. As of March 31, 2014, 324,585 nonvested (all of which are expected to vest) restricted stock units and shares of restricted stock were granted and outstanding.

Performance Shares. During the three months ended March 31, 2014, NiSource granted 525,173 performance shares subject to service and performance conditions. The grant date fair value of the awards was $16.3 million, based on the average market price of NiSource’s common stock at the date of each grant less the present value of dividends not received during the vesting period which will be expensed, net of forfeitures, over the three year requisite service period. The performance conditions are based on achievement of cumulative net operating earnings per share, a non-GAAP financial measure that NiSource defines as income from continuing operations adjusted for certain items; and relative total shareholder return, a non-GAAP market measure that NiSource defines as the annualized growth in the dividends and share price of a share of NiSource’s common stock (calculated using a 20 trading day average of NiSource’s closing price, over a period beginning December 31, 2013 and ending on December 31, 2016) compared to the total shareholder return performance of a predetermined peer group of companies. The service conditions lapse on February 28, 2017 when the shares vest provided the performance criteria are satisfied. In general, if the employee terminates employment before February 28, 2017 due to (1) Retirement or Disability (as defined in the award agreement), or (2) death, the employment conditions will lapse with respect to a pro rata portion of the performance shares payable at target on the date of termination provided the performance criteria are met. In the event of a Change-in-Control (as defined in the award agreement), all unvested performance shares will immediately vest. Termination due to any other reason will result in all performance shares awarded being forfeited effective on the employee’s date of termination. As of March 31, 2014, 1,878,558 nonvested performance shares were granted and outstanding.

Non-employee Director Awards. As of May 11, 2010, awards to non-employee directors may be made only under the Omnibus Plan. Currently, restricted stock units are granted annually to non-employee directors, subject to a non-employee director's election to defer receipt of such restricted stock unit award. The non-employee director's restricted stock units vest on the last day of the non-employee director's annual term corresponding to the year the restricted stock units were awarded subject to special pro-rata vesting rules in the event of Retirement or Disability (as defined in the award agreement), or death. The vested restricted stock units are payable as soon as practicable following vesting except as otherwise provided pursuant to the non-employee director's election to defer. As of March 31, 2014, 144,578 restricted stock units were outstanding to non-employee directors under the Omnibus Plan.

Only restricted stock units remain outstanding under the prior plan for non-employee directors, the Amended and Restated Non-employee Director Stock Incentive Plan (the "Director Plan"). All such awards are fully vested and shall be distributed to the directors upon their separation from the Board. As of March 31, 2014, 147,845 restricted stock units remained outstanding under the Director Plan and as noted above no further shares may be awarded under the Director Plan.

401(k) Match, Profit Sharing and Company Contribution. NiSource has a voluntary 401(k) savings plan covering eligible employees that allows for periodic discretionary matches as a percentage of each participant's contributions payable in shares of common stock. NiSource also has a retirement savings plan that provides for discretionary profit sharing contributions payable in shares of common stock to eligible employees based on earnings results; and eligible exempt employees hired after January 1, 2010, receive a non-elective company contribution of three percent of eligible pay payable in shares of common stock. For the quarters ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, NiSource recognized 401(k) match, profit sharing and non-elective contribution expense of $8.5 million and $6.4 million, respectively.

17. Other Commitments and Contingencies

A. Guarantees and Indemnities. As a part of normal business, NiSource and certain subsidiaries enter into various agreements providing financial or performance assurance to third parties on behalf of certain subsidiaries. Such agreements include guarantees and stand-by letters of credit. These agreements are entered into primarily to support or enhance the creditworthiness otherwise attributed to a subsidiary on a stand-alone basis, thereby facilitating the extension of sufficient credit to accomplish the subsidiaries' intended commercial purposes. The total guarantees and indemnities in existence at March 31, 2014 and the years in which they expire were:

(in millions)	Total	2014	2015	2016	2017	2018	After
Guarantees of subsidiaries debt	$ 7,710.5	$ 500.0	$ 230.0	$ 616.5	$ 507.0	$ 800.0	$ 5,057.0
Accounts receivable securitization	515.0	515.0	—	—	—	—	—
Lines of credit	297.5	297.5	—	—	—	—	—
Letters of credit	30.5	12.6	17.9	—	—	—	—
Other guarantees	142.4	45.4	35.3	—	—	—	61.7
Total commercial commitments	$ 8,695.9	$ 1,370.5	$ 283.2	$ 616.5	$ 507.0	$ 800.0	$ 5,118.7

Guarantees of Subsidiaries Debt. NiSource has guaranteed the payment of $7.7 billion of debt for various wholly-owned subsidiaries including NiSource Finance and Columbia of Massachusetts, and through a support agreement, Capital Markets, which is reflected on NiSource's Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited). The subsidiaries are required to comply with certain covenants under the debt indenture and in the event of default, NiSource would be obligated to pay the debt's principal and related interest. NiSource does not anticipate its subsidiaries will have any difficulty maintaining compliance. On October 3, 2011, NiSource executed a Second Supplemental Indenture to the original Columbia of Massachusetts Indenture dated April 1, 1991, for the specific purpose of guaranteeing Columbia of Massachusetts' outstanding medium-term notes.

Lines and Letters of Credit and Accounts Receivable Advances. On September 30, 2013, NiSource Finance amended its existing revolving credit facility with a syndicate of banks led by Barclays Capital to expand capacity to $2.0 billion and extend the termination date to September 28, 2018. The purpose of the facility is to fund ongoing working capital requirements including the provision of liquidity support for NiSource's $1.5 billion commercial paper program, provide for the issuance of letters of credit, and also for general corporate purposes. At March 31, 2014, NiSource had no borrowings under its five-year revolving credit facility, $297.5 million in commercial paper outstanding and $515.0 million outstanding under its accounts receivable securitization agreements. At March 31, 2014, NiSource issued stand-by letters of credit of approximately $30.5 million for the benefit of third parties. See Note 15, "Short-Term Borrowings," for additional information.

Other Guarantees or Obligations. NiSource has additional purchase and sales agreement guarantees totaling $73.5 million, which guarantee performance of the seller's covenants, agreements, obligations, liabilities, representations and warranties under the agreements. No amounts related to the purchase and sales agreement guarantees are reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited). Management believes that the likelihood NiSource would be required to perform or otherwise incur any significant losses associated with any of the aforementioned guarantees is remote.

NiSource has on deposit a letter of credit with Union Bank, N.A., Collateral Agent, in a debt service reserve account in association with Millennium's notes as required under the Deposit and Disbursement Agreement that governs the Millennium notes. This account is to be drawn upon by the note holders in the event that Millennium is delinquent on its principal and interest payments. The value of NiSource's letter of credit represents 47.5% (NiSource's ownership percentage in Millennium) of the debt service reserve account requirement, or $16.2 million. The total exposure for NiSource is $16.2 million. NiSource has an accrued liability of $1.5 million related to the inception date fair value of this guarantee as of March 31, 2014.

NiSource has issued other guarantees supporting derivative related payments associated with interest rate swap agreements issued by NiSource Finance, operating leases for many of its subsidiaries and for other agreements entered into by its current and former subsidiaries.

B. Other Legal Proceedings. In the normal course of its business, NiSource and its subsidiaries have been named as defendants in various legal proceedings. In the opinion of management, the ultimate disposition of these currently asserted claims will not have a material impact on NiSource's consolidated financial statements.

C. Environmental Matters. NiSource operations are subject to environmental statutes and regulations related to air quality, water quality, hazardous waste and solid waste. NiSource believes that it is in substantial compliance with those environmental regulations currently applicable to its operations and believes that it has all necessary permits to conduct its operations.

It is management's continued intent to address environmental issues in cooperation with regulatory authorities in such a manner as to achieve mutually acceptable compliance plans. However, there can be no assurance that fines and penalties will not be incurred. Management expects a significant portion of environmental assessment and remediation costs to be recoverable through rates for certain NiSource companies.

As of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, NiSource had recorded an accrual of approximately $135.1 million and $143.9 million, respectively, to cover environmental remediation at various sites. The current portion of this accrual is included in "Legal and environmental" in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited). The noncurrent portion is included in "Other noncurrent liabilities" in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited). NiSource accrues for costs associated with environmental remediation obligations when the incurrence of such costs is probable and the amounts can be reasonably estimated. The original estimates for cleanup can differ materially from the amount ultimately expended. The actual future expenditures depend on many factors, including currently enacted laws and regulations, the nature and extent of contamination, the method of cleanup, and the availability of cost recovery from customers. These expenditures are not currently estimable at some sites. NiSource periodically adjusts its accrual as information is collected and estimates become more refined.

Air

The actions listed below could require further reductions in emissions from various emission sources. NiSource will continue to closely monitor developments in these matters.

Climate Change. Future legislative and regulatory programs could significantly restrict emissions of GHGs or could impose a cost or tax on GHG emissions.

In the first quarter of 2012, the EPA proposed an output-based carbon standard for new power plants. On September 20, 2013, the EPA announced withdrawal of the proposed standard and released a new proposal. The newly proposed standard would, for the first time, set national limits on the amount of carbon emissions allowed from new power plants. Compliance for new coal-fired plants may need to include capture and sequestration of carbon dioxide at coal-fired power plants. In addition, the EPA stated that it intends to regulate existing sources with a proposed rule in 2014.

If the EPA develops a GHG new source performance standard for existing units or if a federal or state comprehensive climate change bill were to be enacted into law, the impact on NiSource's financial performance would depend on a number of factors, including the overall level of required GHG reductions, the degree to which offsets may be used for compliance, and the amount of recovery allowed from customers. Comprehensive federal or state GHG regulation could result in additional expense or compliance costs that may not be fully recoverable from customers and could materially impact NiSource's financial results.

National Ambient Air Quality Standards . The CAA requires the EPA to set national air quality standards (the NAAQS) for particulate matter and five other pollutants considered harmful to public health and the environment. Periodically the EPA imposes new or modifies existing NAAQS. States that contain areas that do not meet the new or revised standards must take steps to maintain or achieve compliance with the standards. These steps could include additional pollution controls on boilers, engines, turbines, and other facilities owned by electric generation, gas distribution, and gas transmission operations.

The following NAAQS were recently added or modified:

Particulate Matter: In December 2009, the EPA issued area designations for the 2006 24-hour PM_{2.5} standard, and several counties in which NiSource operates were designated as non-attainment. In addition, a final rule was promulgated in December 2012 that lowered the annual PM_{2.5} standard from 15 to 12 µg/m³. NiSource will continue to monitor these matters and cannot estimate their impact at this time.

Ozone (eight hour): On September 2, 2011, the EPA announced it would implement its 2008 eight-hour ozone NAAQS rather than tightening the standard in 2012. The EPA will review, and possibly propose a new standard in 2014. In addition, the EPA has designated the Chicago metropolitan area, including the area in which NIPSCO operates one of its electric generation facilities, as non-attainment for ozone. NiSource will continue to monitor this matter and cannot estimate the impact of any new rules at this time.

Nitrogen Dioxide (NO₂): The EPA revised the NO₂ NAAQS by adding a one-hour standard while retaining the annual standard. The new standard could impact some NiSource combustion sources. The EPA designated all areas of the country as unclassifiable/attainment in January 2012. After the establishment of a new monitoring network and possible modeling implementation, areas will potentially be re-designated sometime in 2016. States with areas that do not meet the standard will be required to develop rules to bring areas into compliance within five years of designation. Additionally, under certain permitting circumstances emissions from some existing NiSource combustion sources may need to be assessed and mitigated. NiSource will continue to monitor this matter and cannot estimate the impact of these rules at this time.

Waste

NiSource subsidiaries are potentially responsible parties at waste disposal sites under the CERCLA (commonly known as Superfund) and similar state laws. Additionally, a program has been instituted to identify and investigate former MGP sites where Gas Distribution Operations subsidiaries or predecessors may have liability. The program has identified 67 such sites where liability is probable. Remedial actions at many of these sites are being overseen by state or federal environmental agencies through consent agreements or voluntary remediation agreements.

NiSource utilizes a probabilistic model to estimate its future remediation costs related to its MGP sites. The model was prepared with the assistance of a third party and incorporates NiSource and general industry experience with remediating MGP sites. NiSource completes an annual refresh of the model in the second quarter of each fiscal year. No material changes to the estimated liability were noted as a result of the refresh completed as of June 30, 2013. The total estimated liability at NiSource related to the facilities subject to remediation was $123.2 million and $129.5 million at March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively. The liability represents NiSource's best estimate of the probable cost to remediate the facilities. NiSource believes that it is reasonably possible that remediation costs could vary by as much as $25 million in addition to the costs noted above. Remediation costs are estimated based on the best available information, applicable remediation standards at the balance sheet date, and experience with similar facilities.

Additional Issues Related to Individual Business Segments

The sections below describe various regulatory actions that affect Columbia Pipeline Group Operations and Electric Operations.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations.

Waste

Columbia Transmission continues to conduct characterization and remediation activities at specific sites under a 1995 AOC (subsequently modified in 1996 and 2007). NiSource utilizes a probabilistic model to estimate its future remediation costs related to the 1995 AOC. The model was prepared with the assistance of a third party and incorporates NiSource and general industry experience with remediating sites. NiSource completes an annual refresh of the model in the second quarter of each fiscal year. No material changes to the liability were noted as a result of the refresh completed as of June 30, 2013. The total remaining liability at Columbia Transmission related to the facilities subject to remediation was $6.4 million and $8.7 million at March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively. The liability represents Columbia Transmission's best estimate of the cost to remediate the facilities or manage the sites. Remediation costs are estimated based on the information available, applicable remediation standards, and experience with similar facilities. Columbia Transmission expects that the remediation for these facilities will be substantially completed in 2015.

Electric Operations.

Air

NIPSCO is subject to a number of new air-quality mandates in the next several years. These mandates require NIPSCO to make capital improvements to its electric generating stations. The cost of capital improvements is estimated to be $860 million, of which approximately $240.0 million remains to be spent. This figure includes additional capital improvements associated with the New Source Review Consent Decree and the Utility Mercury and Air Toxics Standards Rule. NIPSCO believes that the capital costs will likely be recoverable from ratepayers.

EPA Cross-State Air Pollution Rule / Clean Air Interstate Rule (CAIR) / Transport Rule: On July 6, 2011, the EPA announced its replacement for the 2005 CAIR to reduce the interstate transport of fine particulate matter and ozone. The CSAPR reduces overall emissions of SO₂ and NO_x by setting state-wide caps on power plant emissions. The CSAPR limits emissions, including NIPSCO's, and restricted emission allowance trading programs were scheduled to begin in 2012. In a decision issued on August 21, 2012 the D.C. Circuit Court vacated the CSAPR leaving the CAIR trading program provisions and requirements in place. The EPA subsequently petitioned for a writ of certiorari, and the United States Supreme Court granted this writ. Oral arguments were held on December 10, 2013, and a decision is expected in 2014. These developments do not significantly impact NIPSCO's current emissions control plans. NIPSCO utilizes the inventory model in accounting for emission allowances issued under the CAIR program whereby these allowances were recognized at zero cost upon receipt from the EPA. NIPSCO believes its current multi-pollutant compliance plan and New Source Review Consent Decree capital investments will allow NIPSCO to meet the emission requirements of CAIR, while a replacement for CSAPR is developed to address the court's decision.

Utility Mercury and Air Toxics Standards Rule: On December 16, 2011, the EPA finalized the MATS rule establishing new emissions limits for mercury and other air toxics. Compliance for NIPSCO's affected units is required by April 2016. NIPSCO is implementing an IURC-approved plan for environmental controls to comply with MATS.

New Source Review: On September 29, 2004, the EPA issued an NOV to NIPSCO for alleged violations of the CAA and the Indiana SIP. The NOV alleged that modifications were made to certain boiler units at three of NIPSCO's generating stations between the years 1985 and 1995 without obtaining appropriate air permits for the modifications. NIPSCO, the EPA, the Department of Justice, and IDEM have settled the matter through a consent decree, entered on July 22, 2011.

Water

The Phase II Rule of the Clean Water Act Section 316(b), which requires all large existing steam electric generating stations to meet certain performance standards to reduce the effects on aquatic organisms at their cooling water intake structures, became effective on September 7, 2004. Under this rule, stations will either have to demonstrate that the performance of their existing fish protection systems meet the new standards or develop new systems, such as a closed-cycle cooling tower. Various court challenges and EPA responses ensued. A final rule is expected to be issued in May 2014. NIPSCO will continue to monitor this matter but cannot estimate the cost of compliance at this time.

On June 7, 2013, the EPA published a proposed rule to amend the effluent limitations guidelines and standards for the Steam Electric Power Generating category. These proposed regulations could impose new water treatment requirements on NIPSCO's electric generating facilities. NIPSCO will continue to monitor developments in this matter and cannot estimate the cost of compliance at this time.

Waste

On June 21, 2010, the EPA published a proposed rule for regulation of CCRs. The proposal outlines multiple regulatory approaches that the EPA is considering. These proposed regulations could negatively affect NIPSCO's ongoing byproduct reuse programs and would impose additional requirements on its management of coal combustion residuals. NIPSCO will continue to monitor developments in this matter and cannot estimate the cost of compliance at this time.

D. Other Matters. On November 23, 2012, while Columbia of Massachusetts was investigating the source of an odor of gas at a service location in Springfield, Massachusetts, a gas service line was pierced and an explosion occurred. While this explosion impacted multiple buildings and resulted in several injuries, no life threatening injuries or fatalities have been reported. Columbia of Massachusetts is fully cooperating with both the Massachusetts DPU and the Occupational Safety & Health Administration in their investigations of this incident. Columbia of Massachusetts believes any costs associated with damages, injuries, and other losses related to this incident are substantially covered by insurance. Any amounts not covered by insurance are not expected to have a material impact on NiSource's consolidated financial statements. In accordance with GAAP, NiSource recorded any accruals and the related insurance recoveries resulting from this incident on a gross basis within the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited).

Equity Investment

As Millennium is an equity method investment, NiSource is required to recognize a proportional share of Millennium's OCI. The remaining unrecognized loss at March 31, 2014 of $17.4 million, net of tax, related to terminated interest rate swaps is being amortized over the period ending June 2025 into earnings using the effective interest method through interest expense as interest payments are made by Millennium. The unrecognized loss of $17.4 million and $17.7 million at March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, respectively, is included in gains and losses on cash flow hedges above.

Operating segments are components of an enterprise for which separate financial information is available and evaluated regularly by the chief operating decision maker in deciding how to allocate resources and assess performance. NiSource's Chief Executive Officer is the chief operating decision maker.

At March 31, 2014, NiSource's operations are divided into three primary business segments. The Gas Distribution Operations segment provides natural gas service and transportation for residential, commercial and industrial customers in Ohio, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland, Indiana and Massachusetts. The Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment offers gas transportation and storage services for LDCs, marketers and industrial and commercial customers located in northeastern, mid-Atlantic, midwestern and southern states along with unregulated businesses that include midstream services and development of mineral rights positions. The Electric Operations segment provides electric service in 20 counties in the northern part of Indiana.

The following table provides information about business segments. NiSource uses operating income as its primary measurement for each of the reported segments and makes decisions on finance, dividends and taxes at the corporate level on a consolidated basis. Segment revenues include intersegment sales to affiliated subsidiaries, which are eliminated in consolidation. Affiliated sales are recognized on the basis of prevailing market, regulated prices or at levels provided for under contractual agreements. Operating income is derived from revenues and expenses directly associated with each segment.

Note regarding forward-looking statements

The Management's Discussion and Analysis, including statements regarding market risk sensitive instruments, contains "forward-looking statements," within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Investors and prospective investors should understand that many factors govern whether any forward-looking statement contained herein will be or can be realized. Any one of those factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those projected. These forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, statements concerning NiSource's plans, objectives, expected performance, expenditures and recovery of expenditures through rates, stated on either a consolidated or segment basis, and any and all underlying assumptions and other statements that are other than statements of historical fact. From time to time, NiSource may publish or otherwise make available forward-looking statements of this nature. All such subsequent forward-looking statements, whether written or oral and whether made by or on behalf of NiSource, are also expressly qualified by these cautionary statements. All forward-looking statements are based on assumptions that management believes to be reasonable; however, there can be no assurance that actual results will not differ materially.

Realization of NiSource's objectives and expected performance is subject to a wide range of risks and can be adversely affected by, among other things, weather, fluctuations in supply and demand for energy commodities, growth opportunities for NiSource's businesses, increased competition in deregulated energy markets, the success of regulatory and commercial initiatives, dealings with third parties over whom NiSource has no control, actual operating experience of NiSource's assets, the regulatory process, regulatory and legislative changes, the impact of potential new environmental laws or regulations, the results of material litigation, changes in pension funding requirements, changes in general economic, capital and commodity market conditions, counterparty credit risk, and the matters set forth in the "Risk Factors" section of NiSource's 2013 Form 10-K, many of which are beyond the control of NiSource. In addition, the relative contributions to profitability by each segment, and the assumptions underlying the forward-looking statements relating thereto, may change over time. NiSource expressly disclaims a duty to update any of the forward-looking statements contained in this report.

The following Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Conditions and Results of Operations should be read in conjunction with NiSource's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013 .

CONSOLIDATED REVIEW

Executive Summary

NiSource (the "Company") is an energy holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 2005 whose subsidiaries are engaged in the transmission, storage and distribution of natural gas in the high-demand energy corridor stretching from the Gulf Coast through the Midwest to New England and the generation, transmission and distribution of electricity in Indiana. NiSource generates virtually 100% of its operating income through these rate-regulated businesses. A significant portion of NiSource's operations is subject to seasonal fluctuations in sales. During the heating season, which is primarily from November through March, net revenues from gas sales are more significant, and during the cooling season, which is primarily from June through September, net revenues from electric sales and transportation services are more significant, than in other months.

For the three months ended March 31, 2014 , NiSource reported income from continuing operations of $266.4 million , or $0.85 per basic share, compared to $216.0 million , or $0.69 per basic share reported for the same period in 2013.

The increase in income from continuing operations was due primarily to the following items:

- Regulatory and service programs at Gas Distributions Operations increased net revenues by $40.1 million primarily due to the impacts of the rate settlement in 2013 at Columbia of Pennsylvania and the implementation of rates under Columbia of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program. Refer to Note 8, "Regulatory Matters," to the Consolidated Financial Statements included in NiSource's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013 for more information.
- Colder weather in 2014 resulted in an increase in income from continuing operations of $25.4 million compared to the prior year. Weather statistics are provided in the Gas Distribution Operations' segment discussion.
- The recognition of previously deferred gains of $17.5 million from the conveyances of mineral interests at Columbia Pipeline Group Operations.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITIONS AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

NiSource Inc.

These increases to income from continuing operations were partially offset by the following:

- Employee and administrative expense increased by $15.5 million due primarily to the timing of outages and maintenance, greater labor expense due to a growing workforce and reduced payroll capitalization, and IT support and enhancement projects.

These factors and other impacts to the financial results are discussed in more detail within the following discussions of "Results of Operations" and "Results and Discussion of Segment Operations."

Platform for Growth

NiSource's business plan will continue to center on commercial and regulatory initiatives; commercial growth and expansion of the gas transmission and storage business; financial management of the balance sheet; and cost and process excellence.

Commercial and Regulatory Initiatives

NiSource is moving forward on regulatory initiatives across several distribution company markets. Whether through full rate case filings or other approaches, NiSource's goal is to develop strategies that benefit all stakeholders as it addresses changing customer conservation patterns, develops more contemporary pricing structures, and embarks on long-term investment programs to enhance its infrastructure.

NIPSCO continued to focus on customer service, reliability and long-term growth and modernization initiatives during the first quarter, while executing on significant environmental investments.

- Two remaining FGD projects at NIPSCO's coal-fired electric generating facilities remain on schedule and on budget. The FGD investments are part of approximately $860 million in environmental investments, including water quality and emission-control projects, recently completed and planned at NIPSCO's electric generating facilities. One project is expected to be completed by the end of 2014 and the other by the end of 2015.
- NIPSCO also has initiated the first year of investments under the company's electric system modernization program, referred to as TDSIC, approved in February 2014 by the IURC. The $1.1 billion, seven-year program, provides for the replacement and upgrade of underground circuits, transformers and poles, helping increase system reliability and deliver economic development benefits to the region. NIPSCO also has filed a complementary seven-year, $710 million natural gas modernization program, with a decision from the IURC expected by the second quarter of 2014.
- Progress also continued on two major NIPSCO electric transmission projects designed to enhance system flexibility and reliability. The Reynolds-Topeka project, a 100-mile, 345-kV line, remains on schedule with right-of-way acquisition in process. The Greentown-Reynolds project, a 66-mile, 765-kV line, is a joint project with Pioneer Transmission. Public outreach on the Greentown-Reynolds line continues, with the anticipated route selection, and subsequent right-of-way acquisition, beginning later this year. The projects involve a NIPSCO investment of approximately $500 million and are anticipated to be in service by the end of 2018.

NiSource's Gas Distribution companies continue to deliver strong results from their strategy of aligning long-term infrastructure replacement and enhancement programs with a variety of complementary customer programs and regulatory initiatives.

- On April 23, 2014, Columbia of Ohio received approval of its annual IRP and DSM rider request from the PUCO. The program supports the company's accelerated pipeline replacement program that began approximately six years ago. New rates are effective April 30, 2014.
- On February 28, 2014, the Massachusetts DPU issued an order on the Columbia of Massachusetts base rate case. The order provides for an annual revenue increase of approximately $19.3 million.
- On March 21, 2014, Columbia of Pennsylvania filed a rate case with the Pennsylvania PUC to support continuation of Columbia of Pennsylvania's ongoing infrastructure modernization program. If approved, the case would increase annual revenues by approximately $54.1 million. A decision is expected in the fourth quarter of 2014.

Refer to Note 7, "Regulatory Matters," in the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for a complete discussion of regulatory and commercial matters.

Modernization, Commercial Growth and Expansion of the Columbia Pipeline Group Operations

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations continues to make progress on its long-term infrastructure modernization program, as well as a series of midstream and core growth initiatives tied to NiSource's asset position in the Utica and Marcellus Shale production regions.

- Columbia Transmission is on track with the second year of its long-term system modernization program. Under the program, Columbia Transmission will invest approximately $300 million annually in improvements to system reliability, safety and flexibility. Columbia Transmission and its customers have agreed to the initial five years of the comprehensive modernization program, with an opportunity to mutually extend the agreement. The overall program is expected to last 10 years or more and involves an aggregate investment in excess of $4 billion.
- NiSource Midstream will construct a field gathering system in Pennsylvania that will gather well pad production of primarily dry gas from a third party producer. Pipeline laterals will be built to connect well pads as drilling is developed. The $120 million investment will include approximately 25 miles miles of gathering pipelines of varying diameter, a compressor station and dehydration unit. The gas gathering agreement has an initial 15-year term with the option to extend. Construction is expected to begin in late 2014, with an in service date during the fourth quarter of 2015.
- Millennium completed a new approximately $40 million compressor facility in Delaware County, New York, which went into service in March 2014. NiSource owns a 47.5% interest in Millennium.
- Columbia Pipeline Group Operations also remains on track with the execution of significant new supply-driven and market-driven growth projects, including the previously announced Warren County, West Side Expansion, Giles County and Line 1570 projects. These projects, which will provide total additional pipeline capacity of approximately 900 MMcf per day, are scheduled to be in service by the end of 2014. The approximately $275 million East Side project remains on budget and on schedule for completion in the third quarter of 2015.

Financial Management of the Balance Sheet

On January 31, 2014, Moody's Investors Service upgraded the senior unsecured rating for NiSource to Baa2 from Baa3 and NiSource's commercial paper rating to P-2 from P-3. Additionally, the rating for NIPSCO was upgraded to Baa1 from Baa2.

Ethics and Controls

NiSource has had a long-term commitment to providing accurate and complete financial reporting as well as high standards for ethical behavior by its employees. NiSource's senior management takes an active role in the development of this Form 10-Q and the monitoring of the company's internal control structure and performance. In addition, NiSource will continue its mandatory ethics training program for all employees.

Refer to "Controls and Procedures" included in Item 4.

Results of Operations

Quarter Ended March 31, 2014

Net Income

NiSource reported net income of $266.2 million , or $0.85 per basic share, for the three months ended March 31, 2014 , compared to net income of $260.5 million , or $0.84 per basic share, for the first quarter of 2013 . Income from continuing operations was $266.4 million , or $0.85 per basic share, for the three months ended March 31, 2014 , compared to income from continuing operations of $216.0 million , or $0.69 per basic share, for the first quarter of 2013 . Operating income was $533.7 million , an increase of $104.8 million from the same period in 2013 . All per share amounts are basic earnings per share. Basic average shares of common stock outstanding at March 31, 2014 were 314.2 million compared to 311.1 million at March 31, 2013 .

Comparability of line item operating results between quarterly periods is impacted by regulatory and tax trackers that allow for the recovery in rates of certain costs such as bad debt expenses. Therefore, increases in these tracked operating expenses are offset by increases in net revenues and have essentially no impact on income from continuing operations.

NiSource Inc.

Net Revenues

Total consolidated net revenues (gross revenues less cost of sales) for the quarter ended March 31, 2014, were $1,259.2 million, a $153.0 million increase from the same period last year. This increase in net revenues was primarily due to increased Gas Distribution Operations' net revenues of $91.3 million, higher Columbia Pipeline Group Operations' net revenues of $44.2 million and increased Electric Operations' net revenues of $17.3 million.

- Columbia Pipeline Group Operations' net revenues increased primarily due to higher regulatory trackers, which are offset in expense, of $24.5 million, increased demand and commodity revenue of $9.9 million as a result of growth projects placed in service and an increase in mineral rights royalty revenue of $7.1 million.
- Gas Distribution Operations' net revenues increased primarily due to an increase of $40.1 million for regulatory and service programs, including the impacts of the rate settlement in 2013 at Columbia of Pennsylvania and the implementation of rates under Columbia of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program, the effects of colder weather of $21.0 million, increased regulatory and tax trackers, which are offset in expense, of $16.3 million, higher residential and commercial usage of $5.9 million, an increase in off-system sales of $3.4 million, higher revenue of $3.0 million due to an increase in residential and commercial customers and an increase in large customer revenue of $2.2 million. These increases were partially offset by a decrease of $4.8 million resulting from NIPSCO's GCIM.
- Electric Operations' net revenues increased primarily due to an increase in off-system sales of $9.5 million, higher industrial usage of $8.6 million, an increase in the return on the environmental capital investment recovery of $8.1 million due to an increased plant balance eligible for recovery, and the effects of colder weather of $4.4 million. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in transmission upgrade revenue of $6.3 million, decreased trackers, which are offset in expense, of $5.1 million and lower residential and commercial usage of $2.2 million.

Operating Expenses

Operating expenses for the first quarter of 2014 were $735.3 million, an increase of $50.9 million from the 2013 period. This increase was primarily due to higher operation and maintenance expenses of $46.9 million, increased other taxes of $14.4 million and higher depreciation and amortization of $5.1 million. These increases were partially offset by an increase in the gain on sale of assets of $15.5 million. The increase in operation and maintenance expenses was primarily due to increased regulatory trackers, which are offset in net revenue, of $33.2 million and higher employee and administrative costs of $15.5 million. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in outside service costs of $5.1 million. The increase in other taxes is primarily due to higher property and other taxes of $8.4 million and increased tax trackers, which are offset in net revenue, of $6.0 million. The increase in depreciation and amortization is primarily due to higher capital expenditures placed in service. The increase in gain on sale of assets primarily relates to recognized gains of $17.5 million resulting from conveyances of mineral interests at Columbia Pipeline Group Operations.

Equity Earnings in Unconsolidated Affiliates

Equity Earnings in Unconsolidated Affiliates were $9.8 million during the first quarter of 2014 compared to $7.1 million for the first quarter of 2013. Equity Earnings in Unconsolidated Affiliates includes investments in Millennium, Hardy Storage and Pennant, which are integral to the Columbia Pipeline Group Operations' business. Equity earnings increased primarily from increased earnings at Millennium.

Other Income (Deductions)

Other Income (Deductions) reduced income by $104.6 million in the first quarter of 2014 compared to a reduction in income of $94.5 million in the prior year. The increase in deductions is primarily due to an increase in interest expense of $10.5 million resulting from the issuance of $500.0 million of long-term debt in October 2013 and the issuance of $750.0 million of long-term debt in April 2013, partially offset by the maturity of $420.3 million of long-term debt in March 2013.

Income Taxes

Income tax expense for the quarter ended March 31, 2014 was $162.7 million compared to $118.4 million in the prior year. NiSource's interim effective tax rates reflect the estimated annual effective tax rates for 2014 and 2013, adjusted for tax expense associated with certain discrete items. The effective tax rates for the quarters ended March 31, 2014 and 2013 were 37.9% and 35.4%, respectively. These effective tax rates differ from the Federal tax rate of 35% primarily due to the effects of tax credits, state income taxes, utility rate-making, and other permanent book-to-tax differences. The 2.5% increase from 2013 to 2014 is primarily due to the impact of the Indiana rate change. Refer to Note 12, "Income Taxes," in the Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for further discussion of income taxes.

NiSource Inc.

Discontinued Operations

There was a net loss of $0.2 million in the first quarter of 2014 from discontinued operations compared to net income of $8.1 million in the first quarter of 2013 . The net income in 2013 relates primarily to a settlement at NiSource's former exploration and production subsidiary, CER. A gain on the disposition of discontinued operations of $36.4 million was recorded in the first quarter of 2013 as a result of a gain on the sale of the service plan and leasing business lines of NiSource's Retail Services business.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

A significant portion of NiSource's operations, most notably in the gas distribution, gas transportation and electric businesses, are subject to seasonal fluctuations in cash flow. During the heating season, which is primarily from November through March, cash receipts from gas sales and transportation services typically exceed cash requirements. During the summer months, cash on hand, together with the seasonal increase in cash flows from the electric business during the summer cooling season and external short-term and long-term financing, is used to purchase gas to place in storage for heating season deliveries and perform necessary maintenance of facilities. NiSource believes that through income generated from operating activities, amounts available under its short-term revolver, commercial paper program and long-term debt agreements and NiSource's ability to access the capital markets, there is adequate capital available to fund its operating activities and capital expenditures in 2014 .

Operating Activities

Net cash from operating activities for the three months ended March 31, 2014 was $394.0 million , a decrease of $55.1 million compared to the three months ended March 31, 2013 . The decrease in net cash from operating activities was primarily attributable to an income tax refund received in 2013. No income tax refunds were received in 2014.

Pension and Other Postretirement Plan Funding. NiSource expects to make contributions of approximately $38.3 million to its pension plans and approximately $39.1 million to its other postretirement benefit plans in 2014 , which could change depending on market conditions. For the three months ended March 31, 2014 , NiSource has contributed $0.7 million to its pension plans and $9.2 million to its other postretirement benefit plans.

Investing Activities

NiSource's capital expenditures for the three months ended March 31, 2014 were $386.3 million , compared to $369.3 million for the comparable period in 2013 . This increased spending is mainly due to continued spending on infrastructure replacement programs in the Gas Distributions Operations segment, higher spending in the Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment for various growth projects primarily in the Marcellus and Utica Shale areas and for expenditures under its modernization program and increased expenditures in the Electric Operations segment due to TDSIC and other tracker program spend. NiSource projects 2014 capital expenditures to be approximately $2.2 billion .

Restricted cash was $10.9 million and $8.0 million as of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 , respectively.

Contributions to equity investees increased $13.9 million due to higher contributions made by NiSource Midstream to Pennant. Refer to the Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment discussion in the Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Conditions and Results of Operations for information on these contributions.

Financing Activities

Credit Facilities. On September 30, 2013, NiSource Finance amended its existing revolving credit facility with a syndicate of banks led by Barclays Capital to expand its borrowing capacity to $2.0 billion and extend the termination date to September 28, 2018. The purpose of the facility is to fund ongoing working capital requirements including the provision of liquidity support for NiSource's $1.5 billion commercial paper program, provide for issuance of letters of credit, and also for general corporate purposes.

NiSource Finance's commercial paper program has a program limit of up to $1.5 billion with a dealer group comprised of Barclays, Citigroup, Credit Suisse, RBS and Wells Fargo. Commercial paper issuances are supported by available capacity under NiSource's $2.0 billion unsecured revolving credit facility.

NiSource Finance had no borrowings outstanding under its revolving credit facility at March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013 . In addition, NiSource Finance had $297.5 million in commercial paper outstanding at March 31, 2014 , at a weighted average interest rate of 0.55% and $433.6 million in commercial paper outstanding at December 31, 2013 , at a weighted average interest rate of 0.70% .

NiSource Inc.

As of March 31, 2014 and December 31, 2013, NiSource had $515.0 million and $265.1 million, respectively, of short-term borrowings recorded on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited) and cash from financing activities in the same amount relating to its accounts receivable securitization facilities. See Note 10, "Transfers of Financial Assets," to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited).

As of March 31, 2014, NiSource had $30.5 million of stand-by letters of credit outstanding of which $14.3 million were under the revolving credit facility. At December 31, 2013, NiSource had $31.6 million of stand-by letters of credit outstanding of which $14.3 million were under the revolving credit facility.

As of March 31, 2014, an aggregate of $1,688.2 million of credit was available under the credit facility.

Debt Covenants. NiSource is subject to a financial covenant under its revolving credit facility and its three-year term loan issued April 5, 2012, which requires NiSource to maintain a debt to capitalization ratio that does not exceed 70%. A similar covenant in a 2005 private placement note purchase agreement requires NiSource to maintain a debt to capitalization ratio that does not exceed 75%. As of March 31, 2014, the ratio was 59.9%.

NiSource is also subject to certain other non-financial covenants under the revolving credit facility. Such covenants include a limitation on the creation or existence of new liens on NiSource's assets, generally exempting liens on utility assets, purchase money security interests, preexisting security interests and an additional subset of assets equal to $150 million. An asset sale covenant generally restricts the sale, lease and/or transfer of NiSource's assets to no more than 10% of its consolidated total assets and dispositions for a price not materially less than the fair market value of the assets disposed of that do not impair the ability of NiSource and NiSource Finance to perform obligations under the revolving credit facility, and that, together with all other such dispositions, would not have a material adverse effect. The revolving credit facility also includes a cross-default provision, which triggers an event of default under the credit facility in the event of an uncured payment default relating to any indebtedness of NiSource or any of its subsidiaries in a principal amount of $50 million or more.

NiSource's indentures generally do not contain any financial maintenance covenants. However, NiSource's indentures are generally subject to cross-default provisions ranging from uncured payment defaults of $5 million to $50 million, and limitations on the incurrence of liens on NiSource's assets, generally exempting liens on utility assets, purchase money security interests, preexisting security interests and an additional subset of assets capped at 10% of NiSource's consolidated net tangible assets.

Sale of Trade Accounts Receivables. Refer to Note 10, "Transfers of Financial Assets," in the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for information on the sale of accounts receivable.

All accounts receivable sold to the commercial paper conduits are valued at face value, which approximates fair value due to their short-term nature. The amount of the undivided percentage ownership interest in the accounts receivables sold is determined, in part, by required loss reserves under the agreements.

Credit Ratings. On March 14, 2014, Standard & Poor's affirmed the senior unsecured ratings for NiSource and its subsidiaries at BBB-. Standard & Poor's outlook for NiSource and all of its subsidiaries is stable. On January 31, 2014, Moody's Investors Service upgraded the senior unsecured rating for NiSource to Baa2 from Baa3 and NiSource's commercial paper rating to P-2 from P-3. Additionally, the rating for NIPSCO was upgraded to Baa1 from Baa2 and the rating for Columbia of Massachusetts was affirmed at Baa2. Moody's outlook for NiSource and all of its subsidiaries is stable. On December 9, 2013, Fitch affirmed the senior unsecured ratings for NiSource at BBB-, and the existing ratings of all other subsidiaries. Fitch's outlook for NiSource and all of its subsidiaries is stable. Although all ratings continue to be investment grade, a downgrade by Standard & Poor's or Fitch would result in a rating that is below investment grade.

Certain NiSource affiliates have agreements that contain "ratings triggers" that require increased collateral if the credit ratings of NiSource or certain of its subsidiaries are rated below BBB- by Standard & Poor's or Baa3 by Moody's. These agreements are primarily for insurance purposes and for the physical purchase or sale of power. The collateral requirement that would be required in the event of a downgrade below the ratings trigger levels would amount to approximately $37.0 million. In addition to agreements with ratings triggers, there are other agreements that contain "adequate assurance" or "material adverse change" provisions that could necessitate additional credit support such as letters of credit and cash collateral to transact business.

Contractual Obligations. There were no material changes recorded during the three months ended March 31, 2014 to NiSource's contractual obligations as of December 31, 2013.

ITEM 2. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITIONS AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

NiSource Inc.

Market Risk Disclosures

Risk is an inherent part of NiSource's energy businesses. The extent to which NiSource properly and effectively identifies, assesses, monitors and manages each of the various types of risk involved in its businesses is critical to its profitability. NiSource seeks to identify, assess, monitor and manage, in accordance with defined policies and procedures, the following principal market risks that are involved in NiSource's energy businesses: commodity price risk, interest rate risk and credit risk. Risk management at NiSource is a multi-faceted process with oversight by the Risk Management Committee that requires constant communication, judgment and knowledge of specialized products and markets. NiSource's senior management takes an active role in the risk management process and has developed policies and procedures that require specific administrative and business functions to assist in the identification, assessment and control of various risks. These include but are not limited to market, operational, financial, compliance and strategic risk types. In recognition of the increasingly varied and complex nature of the energy business, NiSource's risk management process, policies and procedures continue to evolve and are subject to ongoing review and modification.

Commodity Price Risk

NiSource is exposed to commodity price risk as a result of its subsidiaries' operations involving natural gas and power. To manage this market risk, NiSource's subsidiaries use derivatives, including commodity futures contracts, swaps and options. NiSource is not involved in speculative energy trading activity.

Commodity price risk resulting from derivative activities at NiSource's rate-regulated subsidiaries is limited, since regulations allow recovery of prudently incurred purchased power, fuel and gas costs through the rate-making process, including gains or losses on these derivative instruments. If states should explore additional regulatory reform, these subsidiaries may begin providing services without the benefit of the traditional rate-making process and may be more exposed to commodity price risk. Some of NiSource's rate-regulated utility subsidiaries offer commodity price risk products to its customers for which derivatives are used to hedge forecasted customer usage under such products. These subsidiaries do not have regulatory recovery orders for these products and are subject to gains and losses recognized in earnings due to hedge ineffectiveness.

Interest Rate Risk

NiSource is exposed to interest rate risk as a result of changes in interest rates on borrowings under its revolving credit agreement, term loan, commercial paper program and accounts receivable programs, which have interest rates that are indexed to short-term market interest rates. NiSource is also exposed to interest rate risk due to changes in interest rates on fixed-to-variable interest rate swaps that hedge the fair value of long-term debt. Based upon average borrowings and debt obligations subject to fluctuations in short-term market interest rates, an increase (or decrease) in short-term interest rates of 100 basis points (1%) would have increased (or decreased) interest expense by $3.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2014 and $4.0 million for the three months ended March 31, 2013 .

Credit Risk

Due to the nature of the industry, credit risk is embedded in many of NiSource's business activities. NiSource's extension of credit is governed by a Corporate Credit Risk Policy. In addition, Risk Management Committee guidelines are in place which document management approval levels for credit limits, evaluation of creditworthiness, and credit risk mitigation efforts. Exposures to credit risks are monitored by the Corporate Credit Risk function which is independent of commercial operations. Credit risk arises due to the possibility that a customer, supplier or counterparty will not be able or willing to fulfill its obligations on a transaction on or before the settlement date. For derivative related contracts, credit risk arises when counterparties are obligated to deliver or purchase defined commodity units of gas or power to NiSource at a future date per execution of contractual terms and conditions. Exposure to credit risk is measured in terms of both current obligations and the market value of forward positions net of any posted collateral such as cash, letters of credit and qualified guarantees of support.

NiSource closely monitors the financial status of its banking credit providers and interest rate swap counterparties. NiSource evaluates the financial status of its banking partners through the use of market-based metrics such as credit default swap pricing levels, and also through traditional credit ratings provided by major credit rating agencies.

Fair Value Measurement

NiSource measures certain financial assets and liabilities at fair value. The level of the fair value hierarchy disclosed is based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. NiSource's financial assets and liabilities include price risk assets and liabilities, available-for-sale securities and a deferred compensation plan obligation.

NiSource Inc.

Exchange-traded derivative contracts are generally based on unadjusted quoted prices in active markets and are classified within Level 1. These financial assets and liabilities are secured with cash on deposit with the exchange; therefore nonperformance risk has not been incorporated into these valuations. Certain non-exchange-traded derivatives are valued using broker or over-the-counter, on-line exchanges. In such cases, these non-exchange-traded derivatives are classified within Level 2. Non-exchange-based derivative instruments include swaps, forwards, and options. In certain instances, NiSource may utilize models to measure fair value. Valuation models utilize various inputs that include quoted prices for similar assets or liabilities in active markets, quoted prices for identical or similar assets or liabilities in markets that are not active, other observable inputs for the asset or liability, and market-corroborated inputs, i.e., inputs derived principally from or corroborated by observable market data by correlation or other means. Where observable inputs are available for substantially the full term of the asset or liability, the instrument is categorized in Level 2. Certain derivatives trade in less active markets with a lower availability of pricing information and models may be utilized in the valuation. When such inputs have a significant impact on the measurement of fair value, the instrument is categorized in Level 3. Credit risk is considered in the fair value calculation of derivative instruments that are not exchange-traded. Credit exposures are adjusted to reflect collateral agreements which reduce exposures.

Price risk management assets also include fixed-to-floating interest-rate swaps, which are designated as fair value hedges, as a means to achieve its targeted level of variable-rate debt as a percent of total debt. NiSource uses a calculation of future cash inflows and estimated future outflows related to the swap agreements, which are discounted and netted to determine the current fair value. Additional inputs to the present value calculation include the contract terms, as well as market parameters such as current and projected interest rates and volatility. As they are based on observable data and valuations of similar instruments, the interest-rate swaps are categorized in Level 2 in the fair value hierarchy. Credit risk is considered in the fair value calculation of the interest rate swap.

Refer to Note 9, "Fair Value" in the Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for additional information on NiSource's fair value measurements.

Off Balance Sheet Arrangements

As a part of normal business, NiSource and certain subsidiaries enter into various agreements providing financial or performance assurance to third parties on behalf of certain subsidiaries. Such agreements include guarantees and stand-by letters of credit.

NiSource has purchase and sales agreement guarantees totaling $73.5 million, which guarantee performance of the seller's covenants, agreements, obligations, liabilities, representations and warranties under the agreements. No amounts related to the purchase and sales agreement guarantees are reflected in the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited). Management believes that the likelihood NiSource would be required to perform or otherwise incur any significant losses associated with any of the aforementioned guarantees is remote.

NiSource has other guarantees outstanding. Refer to Note 17-A, "Guarantees and Indemnities," in the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for additional information about NiSource's off balance sheet arrangements.

Other Information

Critical Accounting Policies

There were no significant changes to critical accounting policies for the period ended March 31, 2014.

Recently Issued Accounting Pronouncements

In April 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-08, Presentation of Financial Statements (Topic 205) and Property, Plant, and Equipment (Topic 360): Reporting Discontinued Operations and Disclosures of Disposals of Components of an Entity. ASU 2014-08 changes the criteria for reporting a discontinued operation. Under the new pronouncement, a disposal of a part of an organization that has a major effect on its operations and financial results is a discontinued operation. NiSource is required to adopt ASU 2014-08 prospectively for all disposals or components of its business classified as held for sale during fiscal periods beginning after December 15, 2014. NiSource is currently evaluating what impact, if any, adoption of ASU 2014-08 will have on its Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) and Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited).

NiSource's Gas Distribution Operations serve approximately 3.4 million customers in seven states: Ohio, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Virginia, Kentucky and Maryland. The regulated subsidiaries offer both traditional bundled services as well as transportation only for customers that purchase gas from alternative suppliers. The operating results reflect the temperature-sensitive nature of customer demand with 74% of annual residential and commercial throughput affected by seasonality. As a result, segment operating income is higher in the first and fourth quarters reflecting the heating demand during the winter season.

Regulatory Matters

Refer to Note 7, "Regulatory Matters," in the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for information on significant rate developments and cost recovery and trackers for the Gas Distribution Operations segment.

Customer Usage. Increased efficiency of natural gas appliances and improvements in home building codes and standards has contributed to a long-term trend of declining average use per customer. Usage for the three months ended March 31, 2014 increased from the same period last year primarily due to colder weather compared to the prior year. While historically, rate design at the distribution level has been structured such that a large portion of cost recovery is based upon throughput, rather than in a fixed charge, operating costs are largely incurred on a fixed basis, and do not fluctuate due to changes in customer usage. As a result, the NiSource LDCs have pursued changes in rate design to more effectively match recoveries with costs incurred. Each of the states in which the NiSource LDCs operate has different requirements regarding the procedure for establishing changes to rate design. Columbia of Ohio restructured its rate design through a base rate proceeding and has adopted a "de-coupled" rate design which more closely links the recovery of fixed costs with fixed charges. Columbia of Massachusetts and Columbia of Virginia received regulatory approval of decoupling mechanisms which adjust revenues to an approved benchmark level through a volumetric adjustment factor. Columbia of Maryland has received regulatory approval to implement a residential class revenue normalization adjustment, a decoupling mechanism whereby monthly revenues that exceed or fall short of approved levels are reconciled in subsequent months. In a prior base rate proceeding, Columbia of Pennsylvania implemented a residential weather normalization adjustment charge. In a prior base rate proceeding, NIPSCO implemented a higher fixed customer charge for residential and small customer classes moving toward full straight fixed variable rate design.

NiSource Inc.

Gas Distribution Operations

Environmental Matters

Various environmental matters occasionally impact the Gas Distribution Operations segment. As of March 31, 2014, a reserve has been recorded to cover probable and estimable environmental response actions. Refer to Note 17-C, "Environmental Matters," in the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for additional information regarding environmental matters for the Gas Distribution Operations segment.

Weather

In general, NiSource calculates the weather related revenue variance based on changing customer demand driven by weather variance from normal heating degree-days. Normal is evaluated using heating degree days across the NiSource distribution region. While the temperature base for measuring heating degree days (i.e. the estimated average daily temperature at which heating load begins) varies slightly across the region, the NiSource composite measurement is based on 65 degrees. NiSource composite heating degree days reported do not directly correlate to the weather related dollar impact on the results of Gas Distribution Operations. Heating degree days experienced during different times of the year or in different operating locations may have more or less impact on volume and dollars depending on when and where they occur. When the detailed results are combined for reporting, there may be weather related dollar impacts on operations when there is not an apparent or significant change in the aggregated NiSource composite heating degree-day comparison.

Weather in the Gas Distribution Operations' territories for the first quarter of 2014 was 19% colder than normal and 18% colder than the first quarter in 2013.

Throughput

Total volumes sold and transported of 397.9 MMDth for the first quarter of 2014 increased by 35.4 MMDth from the same period last year. This 9.8% increase in volume was primarily attributable to colder weather.

Net Revenues

Net revenues for the first quarter of 2014 were $642.6 million, an increase of $91.3 million from the same period in 2013. The increase in net revenues is due primarily to an increase of $40.1 million for regulatory and service programs, including the impacts of the rate settlement in 2013 at Columbia of Pennsylvania and the implementation of rates under Columbia of Ohio's approved infrastructure replacement program, the effects of colder weather of $21.0 million, increased regulatory and tax trackers, which are offset in expense, of $16.3 million, higher residential and commercial usage of $5.9 million, an increase in off-system sales of $3.4 million, higher revenue of $3.0 million due to an increase in customer count and an increase in large customer revenue of $2.2 million. These increases were partially offset by a decrease of $4.8 million resulting from NIPSCO's GCIM.

At NIPSCO, sales revenues and customer billings are adjusted for amounts related to under and over-recovered purchased gas costs from prior periods per regulatory order. These amounts are primarily reflected in the "Other" gross revenues statistic provided at the beginning of this segment discussion. The adjustment to Other gross revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2014 was a revenue increase of $31.5 million compared to a decrease of $24.7 million for the three months ended March 31, 2013.

Operating Income

For the first quarter of 2014 , Gas Distribution Operations reported operating income of $301.8 million , an increase of $67.7 million from the comparable 2013 period. Operating income increased as a result of higher net revenues, as described above, partially offset by increased operating expenses. Operating expenses were $23.6 million higher than the comparable period reflecting increased regulatory and tax trackers, which are offset in net revenue, of $16.3 million, an increase of $3.7 million in depreciation due to higher capital expenditures, increased employee and administrative expenses of $3.6 million and higher other taxes of $3.5 million. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in outside service costs of $5.6 million.

NiSource's Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment primarily consists of the operations of Columbia Transmission, Columbia Gulf, NiSource Midstream, NEVCO, Crossroads Pipeline, and the equity investments in Pennant, Millennium and Hardy Storage. In total, NiSource owns a pipeline network of approximately 15,000 miles extending from the Gulf of Mexico to New York and the eastern seaboard. The pipeline network serves customers in 16 northeastern, mid-Atlantic, midwestern and southern states, as well as the District of Columbia. In addition, the Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment operates one of the nation's largest underground natural gas storage systems.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations' most significant projects are as follows:

Warren County. The Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment is spending approximately $37 million on an expansion project, which includes new pipeline and modifications to existing compression assets, with Virginia Power Services Energy Corporation, Inc., the energy manager for Virginia Electric and Power Company. This project will expand the Columbia Transmission system in order to provide up to nearly 250,000 Dth per day of transportation capacity under a long-term, firm contract. The project is expected to be ready for commercial operations by mid-2014.

West Side Expansion. The Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment is investing approximately $200 million in new pipeline and compression to increase supply origination from the Smithfield and Waynesburg areas on the Columbia Transmission system and provide a backhaul transportation path to Gulf Coast markets on the Columbia Gulf system. This investment will increase capacity up to 444,000 Dth per day from the Smithfield and Waynesburg areas and up to 540,000 Dth per day from Leach to Rayne transporting Marcellus production under long-term, firm contracts. Limited interim service is being provided throughout 2014 with the project fully in service by the fourth quarter of 2014.

Giles County. The Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment is spending approximately $25 million to construct nearly thirteen miles of pipeline to provide 45,000 Dth per day of firm service to a third party off of its Line KA system into Columbia of Virginia's system. Columbia of Virginia will expand pipeline facilities and an existing direct connection with the third party's plant in Giles County, Virginia. The project is planned to be in service by the fourth quarter of 2014.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations

Line 1570 Expansion . The Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment is replacing 18.7 miles of 20-inch bare steel pipe with 24-inch pipe from Waynesburg, Pennsylvania to Redd Farm, Pennsylvania at an approximate cost of $20 million. The project also includes the installation of two compressors at Redd Farm and an uprate in horsepower at Waynesburg, increasing capacity by nearly 100,000 Dth per day. The project is expected to be in service by the end of 2014.

East Side Expansion. The Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment plans to invest approximately $275 million in developing its East Side Expansion project, which will provide access for Marcellus supplies to the northeastern and mid-Atlantic markets. Backed by binding precedent agreements, the project will add up to 312,000 Dth per day of capacity, which is expected to be placed in service by the end of the third quarter of 2015.

Washington County Gathering. The Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment will construct a field gathering system in Pennsylvania that will gather well pad production of primarily dry gas from a third party producer. Pipeline laterals will be built to connect well pads as drilling is developed. The $120 million investment will include approximately 25 miles of gathering pipelines of varying diameter, a compressor station and dehydration unit. The gas gathering agreement has an initial 15-year term with the option to extend. Construction is expected to begin in late 2014, with an in service date during the fourth quarter of 2015.

Cameron Access. The Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment has entered into binding precedent agreements for the construction of new pipeline facilities along the Columbia Gulf system to connect with the Cameron LNG Terminal in southern Louisiana. The approximately $310 million project will transport supplies from numerous supply basins, including Marcellus, Utica, Haynesville, Fayetteville, Gulf Coast, East Texas, Granite Wash and Barnett, to the planned LNG export facility, which received Department of Energy approval late in 2013. The project will offer an initial capacity of up to 800,000 Dth per day and is expected to be placed into service by the end of 2017.

Equity Investments

Pennant. NiSource Midstream entered into a 50:50 joint venture in 2012 with affiliates of Hilcorp to construct new wet natural gas gathering pipeline infrastructure and NGL processing facilities to support natural gas production in the Utica Shale region of northeastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania. NiSource Midstream and Hilcorp jointly own Pennant with NiSource Midstream serving as the operator of Pennant and the facilities. NiSource accounts for the joint venture under the equity method of accounting.

Pennant is investing in the construction of 20-24 inch wet gas gathering pipeline facilities with a capacity of approximately 600 MMcf per day. In addition, Pennant is installing a gas processing facility in New Middletown, Ohio that will have an initial capacity of 200 MMcf per day and an NGL pipeline with an initial capacity of 45,000 barrels per day that can be expanded to 90,000 barrels per day. Consistent with the terms of the joint venture, NiSource Midstream will operate the gas processing facility, NGL pipeline and associated wet gas gathering system. The joint venture is designed and anticipated to serve other producers with significant acreage development in the area with an interest in obtaining capacity on the system. The construction of the facilities will allow Pennant to become a full-service solution for providers in the northern Utica shale region, offering access to wet gas gathering and processing as well as residue gas and NGL takeaway to attractive market destinations. NiSource Midstream's initial investment in this area, including the gathering pipeline, related laterals, NGL pipeline and the processing plant, will be approximately $185 million. A portion of the facilities were placed in service in the fourth quarter of 2013 and the remainder will be in service in the second and third quarters of 2014.

During the first quarter of 2014, NiSource Midstream made cash contributions to Pennant totaling $28.4 million. A cash contribution of $10.5 million was made during the same period last year.

In a separate agreement with Hilcorp, test wells were drilled in 2012 and continued in 2013 to support the development of the hydrocarbon potential on more than 100,000 combined acres in the Utica/Point Pleasant Shale formation. Production wells were drilled in 2013, with the full production program in development. NiSource is investing alongside Hilcorp in the development of the acreage, with NiSource owning both a working and overriding royalty interest. All of the Hilcorp/NiSource acreage is dedicated to Pennant.

Millennium. Millennium operates approximately 250 miles of pipeline under the jurisdictional authority of the FERC. The Millennium pipeline has the capability to transport natural gas to markets along its route, which lies between Corning, New York and Ramapo, New York, as well as to the New York City market through its pipeline interconnections. NiSource Inc.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations

owns a 47.5% interest in Millennium and acts as operator for the pipeline in partnership with DTE Millennium Company and National Grid Millennium LLC, which each own an equal remaining share of the company.

During the first quarters of 2014 and 2013, Columbia Transmission made contributions to Millennium to fund its share of capital projects of $2.6 million and $6.7 million, respectively. For the same respective periods, Columbia Transmission received distributions of earnings of $7.1 million and $6.7 million.

Millennium began two projects in 2012 that will add nearly 30,000 hp of compression to its system. The first project went into service on June 1, 2013 and increased capacity at its interconnections with Algonquin Gas Transmission, with a total investment of approximately $50 million. The second project included a total investment of approximately $40 million that increased capacity with interconnections to other third-party facilities. The second project was placed into service on March 31, 2014. Columbia Transmission's share of the above investments is limited to its 47.5% interest in Millennium.

Hardy Storage. Hardy Storage is a 50:50 joint venture between subsidiaries of Columbia Transmission and Piedmont that manages an underground storage field in Hardy and Hampshire counties in West Virginia. Columbia Transmission serves as operator of the company, which is regulated by the FERC. Hardy Storage has a working storage capacity of 12 Bcf and the ability to deliver 176,000 Dth of natural gas per day.

During the first quarters of 2014 and 2013, NiSource received $0.5 million and $0.4 million of available accumulated earnings, respectively. NiSource made no contributions during 2014 or 2013.

Nature of Sales

Columbia Transmission and Columbia Gulf compete for transportation customers based on the type of service a customer needs, operating flexibility, available capacity and price. Columbia Gulf and Columbia Transmission provide a significant portion of total transportation services under firm contracts and derive a smaller portion of revenues through interruptible contracts, with management seeking to maximize the portion of physical capacity sold under firm contracts.

Firm service contracts require pipeline capacity to be reserved for a given customer between certain receipt and delivery points. Firm customers generally pay a "capacity reservation" fee based on the amount of capacity being reserved regardless of whether the capacity is used, plus an incremental usage fee when the capacity is used. Annual capacity reservation revenues derived from firm service contracts generally remain constant over the life of the contract because the revenues are based upon capacity reserved and not whether the capacity is actually used. The high percentage of revenue derived from capacity reservation fees mitigates the risk of revenue fluctuations within the Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment due to changes in near-term supply and demand conditions. The following percentages exclude the impact of intrasegment revenues and over / under collections of tracker-related revenues. For the quarter ended March 31, 2014, approximately 92.6% of the transportation revenues were derived from capacity reservation fees paid under firm contracts and 5.2% of the transportation revenues were derived from usage fees under firm contracts compared to approximately 92.1% and 6.5%, respectively, for the quarter ended March 31, 2013.

Interruptible transportation service is typically short term in nature and is generally used by customers that either do not need firm service or have been unable to contract for firm service. These customers pay a usage fee only for the volume of gas actually transported. The ability to provide this service is limited to available capacity not otherwise used by firm customers, and customers receiving services under interruptible contracts are not assured capacity in the pipeline facilities. Columbia Pipeline Group Operations provides interruptible service at competitive prices in order to capture short term market opportunities as they occur and interruptible service is viewed by management as an important strategy to optimize revenues from the gas transmission assets. For the quarters ended March 31, 2014 and 2013, approximately 2.2% and 1.4%, respectively, of the transportation revenues were derived from interruptible contracts.

Environmental Matters

Various environmental matters occasionally impact the Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment. As of March 31, 2014, a reserve has been recorded to cover probable and estimable environmental response actions. Refer to Note 17-C, "Environmental Matters," in the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for additional information regarding environmental matters for the Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment.

Throughput

Columbia Transmission's throughput consists of gas transportation service deliveries to LDC city gates, to gas fired power plants, other industrial customers, or other interstate pipelines in its market area. Columbia Transmission's market area covers portions of northeastern, mid-Atlantic, midwestern, and southern states as well as the District of Columbia. Gas delivered via transportation services to storage is not accounted for as throughput until it is withdrawn from storage and delivered to one of the aforementioned locations via a transportation service. Throughput for Columbia Gulf traditionally consists of gas delivered to Columbia Transmission at Leach, Kentucky as well as gas delivered south of Leach to other interstate pipelines or to an LDC's city gate. Recent changes in market conditions have resulted in more non-traditional throughput such as backhaul transportation services that originate in Leach that flow southward. Columbia Gulf has begun to flow gas in a southerly direction from its Louisiana interconnects to markets in the southeastern United States. Crossroads Pipeline serves customers in northern Indiana and Ohio via gas flowing west to east originating from outside the Chicago area to Cygnet, Ohio where it interconnects with Columbia Transmission. Intra-segment eliminations represent gas delivered to an affiliated pipeline within the segment.

Throughput for the Columbia Pipeline Group Operations segment totaled 588.5 MMDth for the first quarter of 2014, compared to 537.1 MMDth for the same period in 2013. The increase of 51.4 MMDth was primarily attributable to colder weather, which drove a majority of the increase on the Columbia Transmission system.

Net Revenues

Net revenues were $345.5 million for the first quarter of 2014, an increase of $44.2 million from the same period in 2013. The increase in net revenues is due primarily to higher regulatory trackers, which are offset in expense, of $24.5 million, increased demand and commodity revenue of $9.9 million as a result of growth projects placed in service and an increase in mineral rights royalty revenue of $7.1 million.

Operating Income

Operating income was $158.9 million for the first quarter of 2014, an increase of $25.4 million from the first quarter of 2013. Operating income increased as a result of higher net revenues, as described above, and higher equity earnings partially offset by increased operating expenses. Equity earnings increased $2.7 million due to higher earnings at Millennium. Operating expenses were $21.5 million higher than the comparable period primarily as a result of increased regulatory trackers, which are offset in net revenue, of $24.5 million, higher employee and administrative expenses of $6.5 million, increased depreciation of $4.0 million and higher property taxes of $1.5 million. These increases were partially offset by gains on the sale of assets of $17.5 million resulting from conveyances of mineral interests.

NiSource generates and distributes electricity, through its subsidiary NIPSCO, to approximately 460 thousand customers in 20 counties in the northern part of Indiana. The operating results reflect the temperature-sensitive nature of customer demand with annual sales affected by temperatures in the northern part of Indiana. As a result, segment operating income is generally higher in the second and third quarters, reflecting cooling demand during the summer season.

Electric Supply

On October 28, 2011, NIPSCO filed its 2011 Integrated Resource Plan with the IURC. The plan evaluates demand-side and supply-side resource alternatives to reliably and cost-effectively meet NIPSCO customers' future energy requirements over the next twenty years. Existing resources are expected to be sufficient, assuming favorable outcomes for environmental upgrades, to meet customers' needs for the next decade. NIPSCO continues to monitor and assess economic, regulatory and legislative activity, and will update its resource plan as appropriate.

Regulatory Matters

Refer to Note 7, "Regulatory Matters," in the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for information on significant rate developments and cost recovery and trackers for the Electric Operations segment.

Environmental Matters

Various environmental matters occasionally impact the Electric Operations segment. As of March 31, 2014 , a reserve has been recorded to cover probable and estimable environmental response actions. Refer to Note 17-C, "Environmental Matters," in the Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for additional information regarding environmental matters for the Electric Operations segment.

Sales

Electric Operations sales quantities for the first quarter 2014 were 4,784.0 gwh, an increase of 584.6 gwh compared to the first quarter of 2013 . The 13.9% increase is primarily attributable to increases in industrial usage and sales for resale. The increase in industrial usage was primarily attributable to lower internal generation from large industrial customers. The increase in sales for resale was primarily attributable to increased opportunities for off-system sales due to the cold weather that occurred during the first quarter of 2014.

Net Revenues

Net revenues were $270.0 million for the first quarter of 2014 , an increase of $17.3 million from the same period in 2013 . The increase in net revenues is due primarily to an increase in off-system sales of $9.5 million, higher industrial usage of $8.6 million, an increase in the return on the environmental capital investment recovery of $8.1 million due to an increased plant balance eligible for recovery, and the effects of colder weather of $4.4 million. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in transmission upgrade revenue of $6.3 million, decreased trackers, which are offset in expense, of $5.1 million and lower residential and commercial usage of $2.2 million.

At NIPSCO, sales revenues and customer billings are adjusted for amounts related to under and over-recovered purchased fuel costs from prior periods per regulatory order. These amounts are primarily reflected in the "Other" gross revenues statistic provided at the beginning of this segment discussion. The adjustment to Other gross revenues for the three months ended March 31, 2014 was a revenue increase of $20.3 million compared to a revenue decrease of $7.2 million for three months ended March 31, 2013 .

Operating Income

For the first quarter of 2014 , Electric Operations reported operating income of $78.9 million , an increase of $13.7 million from the comparable 2013 period. Operating income increased as a result of higher net revenues, as described above, partially offset by increased operating expenses. Operating expenses increased $3.6 million due primarily to higher employee and administrative expenses of $6.6 million and increased other taxes of $1.8 million. These increases were partially offset by a decrease in trackers, which are offset in net revenue, of $5.1 million.

Performance Share Award Agreement

This Performance Share Award Agreement (the “Agreement”), is made and entered into as of DATE (the “Date of Grant”), by and between NiSource Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Company”), and _____, an Employee of the Company (the “Grantee”).

Section 1. Performance Share Award. The Company hereby grants to the Grantee, on the terms and conditions hereinafter set forth, an Award of _____ Performance Shares. The Performance Shares will be represented by a bookkeeping entry (the “Performance Share Account”) of the Company, and each Performance Share will be settled with one share of the Company’s common stock to the extent provided under this Agreement and the Plan.

Section 2. Grantee Accounts. The number of Performance Shares granted pursuant to this Agreement shall be credited to the Grantee’s Performance Share Account. Each Performance Share Account shall be maintained on the books of the Company until full payment of the balance thereof has been made to the Grantee (or the Grantee’s beneficiaries or estate if the Grantee is deceased) in accordance with Section 1 above. No funds shall be set aside or earmarked for any Performance Share Account, which shall be purely a bookkeeping device.

Section 3. Performance Period. The “Performance Period” is the period beginning on January 1, 2014, and ending on December 31, 2016.

Section 4. Vesting and Lapse of Performance Restrictions.

- (a) Performance Restrictions. The Performance Restrictions shall lapse only upon both the Grantee’s continued employment through February 28, 2017 and the date the Committee certifies the following results (including interpolation between the results, expressed as a percentage of the target except as otherwise noted below):
- (i) The Performance Restrictions of fifty percent of the Award shall lapse based on achievement of cumulative “net operating earnings” per Share for the Performance Period in accordance with the following schedule:

Cumulative Net Operating Earnings Per Share	Percentage of Award Granted
<$5.11	0%
$5.11	50%
$5.26	100%
≥ $5.63	200%

- (ii) The Performance Restrictions of fifty percent of the Award shall lapse based on the Company's positive Relative Total Shareholder Return ("RTSR") as of the last day of the Performance Period in accordance with the following schedule:

RTSR* Percent Ranking	Percentage of Award Granted
<40th	0%
≥ 40th and <50th	50%
50th	100%
100th	200%

*Relative Total Shareholder Return (RTSR) is the annualized growth in the dividends and share price of a share of the Company's common stock, calculated using a 20 day trading average of the Company's closing price beginning December 31, 2013 and ending December 31, 2016 compared to the TSR performance of a peer group of companies determined by the Committee at its meeting on January 30, 2014.

Negative TSR for the Performance Period will result in a maximum payout at target regardless of relative performance.

 There is no interpolation between goals below the 50th percentile for the RTSR metric.

- (b) Committee Certification. As soon as practicable after the end of the Performance Period, the Committee will certify in writing whether the Performance Restrictions have been met for the Performance Period and determine the number of Shares, if any, that will be payable to the Grantee; provided, however, that if the Committee certifies that the Performance Restrictions have been met, the Committee may, in its sole discretion, adjust the number of Shares payable to the Grantee with respect to the Award to reflect the effect of extraordinary events upon the Performance Restrictions, as provided under the Plan. The date of the Committee's certification under this Section shall hereinafter be referred to as the "Certification Date." The Company will notify the Grantee (or the executors or administrators of the Grantee's estate, if appropriate) of the Committee's certification following the Certification Date (such notice being the "Determination Notice"). The Determination Notice shall specify (i) the Company's cumulative net operating earnings per share and Relative Total Shareholder Return for the Performance Period and (ii) the number of Shares payable in accordance with the Committee's certification.
- (c) Effect of Termination of Service Before February 28, 2017. Except as set forth below, if Grantee's Service is terminated for any reason prior to February 28, 2017 or prior to the occurrence of any otherwise applicable vesting event provided in this Section, the Grantee shall forfeit the Performance Shares credited to the Grantee's Performance Share Account. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event that Grantee's Service terminates prior to February 28, 2017 as a result of (i) Grantee's Retirement; or (ii) Grantee's Disability; or (iii) Grantee's death and such death occurs with less than or equal to twelve months remaining in the Performance Period, the Grantee shall receive a pro rata distribution of Shares after the certification date described in part (a) above; provided that the Committee actually certifies that the Performance Restrictions for the Performance Period have been met. Such pro rata grant of Shares shall be determined using a fraction, where the numerator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months elapsed between the Date of Grant and the date the Grantee terminates Service, and the denominator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months elapsed between the Date of Grant and February 28, 2017. Additionally, if the Grantee terminates Service due to death prior to February 28, 2017 with more than 12 months remaining in the Performance Period, the Grantee shall receive, as soon as practicable after the date of termination, a pro rata distribution of Shares equal to the number of Shares that the Grantee otherwise would have received had the Performance Restrictions been met at target for the Performance Period. Such pro rata grant of Shares shall be determined using a fraction, where the numerator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months elapsed between the Date of Grant and the date the Grantee terminates Service, and the denominator shall be the number of full or partial calendar months elapsed between the Date of Grant and February 28, 2017. For purposes of this Agreement, "Retirement" means the Grantee's attainment of age 55 and 10 years of Service.

- (d) Change in Control. Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, all Performance Shares shall become fully and immediately vested, and all restrictions shall lapse, on the fifth business day before the date of consummation of a Change in Control of the Company.
- (e) Code Section 162(m) Limitation. Notwithstanding the previous provisions of this Section, during any calendar year with respect to which the Grantee is a Covered Officer (for purposes of Internal Revenue Code ("Code") Section 162 (m)), if the Grantee otherwise would vest in a number of Performance Shares under this Section, the Grantee instead may vest only with respect to a sufficient number of Performance Shares whose aggregate Fair Market Value on the date such restrictions would, when added to the Grantee's "applicable employee remuneration" (as defined in Code Section 162(m)) for the applicable calendar year that does not constitute "qualified performance-based compensation" (as defined in Code Section 162(m)), not exceed the aggregate amount of $999,999.00 for the applicable calendar year (the "Limitation").

To the extent the restrictions on any Performance Shares do not lapse due to the application of this Section, the restrictions on such Performance Shares shall lapse on the first to occur of:

- (i) the last business day of any subsequent calendar year or years to the extent that the Limitation is not exceeded for such year or years;
- (ii) the date next following the Grantee's termination of Service for any reason other than for Cause, or
- (iii) the first business day of the year next following the year with respect to which the Grantee ceases to be a Covered Officer.

The Company will make all determinations as to whether the lapse of restrictions on any Performance Shares is delayed in accordance with this Section. Such determinations will be made on a uniform and non-discriminatory basis consistent with the requirements under Code Section 409A.

Section 5. Delivery of Shares. Once Performance Shares have vested under this Agreement, the Company will convert the Performance Shares in the Grantee's Performance Share Account into Shares and deliver the total number of Shares due to the Grantee as soon as administratively possible after such date, but no later than March 15, 2017. The delivery of the Shares shall be subject to payment of the applicable withholding tax liability and the forfeiture provisions of this Agreement. If the Grantee dies before the Company has distributed any portion of the vested Performance Shares, the Company will transfer any Shares with respect to the vested Performance Shares in accordance with the Grantee's written beneficiary designation or to the Grantee's estate if no written beneficiary designation is provided.

Section 6. Withholding of Taxes. The Company shall have the power and the right to deduct or withhold, or require the Grantee to remit to the Company, an amount sufficient to satisfy federal, state, and local taxes, domestic or foreign, required by law or regulation to be withheld with respect to any taxable event arising as a result of this Agreement.

Section 7. Securities Law Compliance. The delivery of all or any Shares that relate to the Performance Shares shall only be effective at such time that the issuance of such Shares will not violate any state or federal securities or other laws. The Company is under no obligation to effect any registration of Shares under the Securities Act of 1933 or to effect any state registration or qualification of the Shares that may be issued under this Agreement. The Company may, in its sole discretion, delay the delivery of Shares or place restrictive legends on Shares in order to ensure that the issuance of any Shares will be in compliance with federal or state securities laws and the rules of any exchange upon which the Company's Shares are traded. If the Company delays the delivery of Shares in order to ensure compliance with any state or federal securities or other laws, the Company shall deliver the Shares at the earliest date at which the Company reasonably believes that such delivery will not cause such violation, or at such later date that may be permitted under Code Section 409A.

Section 8. Restriction on Transferability. Except as otherwise provided under the Plan, until the Performance Shares have vested under this Agreement, the Performance Shares granted herein and the rights and privileges conferred hereby may not be sold, transferred, pledged, assigned, or otherwise alienated or hypothecated (by operation of law or otherwise), other than by will or the laws of descent and distribution. Any attempted transfer in violation of the provisions of this paragraph shall be void, and the purported transferee shall obtain no rights with respect to such Performance Shares.

Section 9. Grantee's Rights Unsecured. The right of the Grantee or his or her beneficiary to receive a distribution hereunder shall be an unsecured claim against the general assets of the Company, and neither the Grantee nor his or her beneficiary shall have any rights in or against any amounts credited to the Grantee's Performance Share Account or any other specific assets of the Company. All amounts credited to the Grantee's Performance Share Account shall constitute general assets of the Company and may be disposed of by the Company at such time and for such purposes, as it may deem appropriate.

Section 10. No Rights as Stockholder or Employee.

- (a) The Grantee shall not have any privileges of a stockholder of the Company with respect to any Performance Shares subject to this Agreement, nor shall the Company have any obligation to issue any dividends or otherwise afford any rights to which Shares are entitled with respect to any such Performance Shares.
 - (b) Nothing in this Agreement or the Award shall confer upon the Grantee any right to continue as an Employee of the Company or any Affiliate or to interfere in any way with the right of the Company or any Affiliate to terminate the Grantee's Service at any time.

Section 11. Adjustments. If at any time while the Award is outstanding, the number of outstanding Performance Shares is changed by reason of a reorganization, recapitalization, stock split or any of the other events described in the Plan, the number and kind of Performance Shares shall be adjusted in accordance with the provisions of the Plan. In the event of certain corporate events specified in Article XVI of the Plan, any unvested Performance Shares may be replaced by substituted Awards or forfeited in exchange for payment of cash in accordance with the procedures and provisions of Article XVI of the Plan.

Section 12. Notices. Any notice hereunder by the Grantee shall be given to the Company in writing and such notice shall be deemed duly given only upon receipt thereof at the following address: Corporate Secretary, NiSource Inc., 801 East 86th Avenue, Merrillville, IN 46410-6271, or at such other address as the Company may designate by notice to the Grantee.

Any notice hereunder by the Company shall be given to the Grantee in writing and such notice shall be deemed duly given only upon receipt thereof at such address as the Grantee may have on file with the Company.

Section 13. Administration. The administration of this Agreement, including the interpretation and amendment or termination of this Agreement, will be performed in accordance with the Plan. All determinations and decisions made by the Committee, the Board, or any delegate of the Committee as to the provisions of this Agreement shall be conclusive, final, and binding on all persons. This Agreement at all times shall be governed by the Plan and in no way alter or modify the Plan. To the extent a conflict exists between this Agreement and the Plan, the provisions of the Plan shall govern. Notwithstanding the foregoing, if subsequent guidance is issued under Code Section 409A that would impose additional taxes, penalties, or interest to either the Company or the grantee, the Company may administer this Agreement in accordance with such guidance and amend this Agreement without the Consent of the Grantee to the extent such actions, in the reasonable judgment of the Company, are considered necessary to avoid the imposition of such additional taxes, penalties, or interest.

Section 14. Governing Law. This Agreement shall be construed and enforced in accordance with the laws of the State of Indiana, without giving effect to the choice of law principles thereof.

Section 15. Government Regulations. Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, the Company's obligation to issue or deliver certificates evidencing the Performance Shares shall be subject to all applicable laws, rules and regulations, and to such approvals by any governmental agencies or national securities exchanges as may be required.

Section 16. Entire Agreement; Code Section 409A Compliance. This Agreement and the Plan contain the terms and conditions with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersede any previous agreements, written or oral, relating to the subject matter hereof. This Agreement is pursuant to the terms of the Company's 2010 Omnibus Incentive Plan (the "Plan"). The applicable terms of the Plan are incorporated herein by reference, including the definition of capitalized terms contained in the Plan, and including the Code Section 409A provisions of Section XIX of the Plan. This Agreement shall be interpreted in accordance with Code Section 409A including the rules related to payment timing for specified employees. This Agreement shall be deemed to be modified to the maximum extent necessary to be in compliance with Code Section 409A's rules. If the Grantee is unexpectedly required to include in the Grantee's current year's income any amount of compensation relating to the Performance Shares because of a failure to meet the requirements of Code Section 409A, then to the extent permitted by Code Section 409A, the Grantee may receive a distribution of Shares in an amount not to exceed the amount required to be included in income as a result of the failure to comply with Code Section 409A.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Company has caused this Award to be granted, and the Grantee has accepted this Award, as of the date first above written.

Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited)

1. Basis of Accounting Presentation

The accompanying Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) for NiSource (the “Company”) reflect all normal recurring adjustments that are necessary, in the opinion of management, to present fairly the results of operations in accordance with GAAP in the United States of America.

The accompanying financial statements should be read in conjunction with the consolidated financial statements and notes thereto included in NiSource’s Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2013 . Income for interim periods may not be indicative of results for the calendar year due to weather variations and other factors.

The Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) have been prepared pursuant to the rules and regulations of the SEC. Certain information and note disclosures normally included in annual financial statements prepared in accordance with GAAP have been condensed or omitted pursuant to those rules and regulations, although NiSource believes that the disclosures made are adequate to make the information not misleading.

2. Recent Accounting Pronouncements

In June 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-12, Compensation - Stock Compensation (Topic 718): Accounting for Share-Based Payments When the Terms of an Award Provide That a Performance Target Could Be Achieved after the Requisite Service Period . ASU 2014-12 clarifies that entities should treat performance targets that can be met after the requisite service period of a share-based payment award as performance conditions that affect vesting. NiSource is required to adopt ASU 2014-12 for periods beginning after December 15, 2015, including interim periods, and the guidance is to be applied prospectively, with early adoption permitted. Retroactive application would apply to awards with performance targets outstanding after the beginning of the first annual period presented. The adoption of this guidance will not have a material impact on the Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) or Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited).

In May 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-09, Revenue from Contracts with Customers (Topic 606) . ASU 2014-09 outlines a single, comprehensive model for entities to use in accounting for revenue arising from contracts with customers and supersedes most current revenue recognition guidance. The core principle of the new standard is that an entity should recognize revenue to depict the transfer of goods or services to customers in an amount that reflects the consideration to which the entity expects to be entitled in exchange for those goods or services. NiSource is required to adopt ASU 2014-09 for periods beginning after December 15, 2016, including interim periods, and the new standard is to be applied retrospectively with early adoption not permitted. NiSource is currently evaluating the impact the adoption of ASU 2014-09 will have on its Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) and Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited).

In April 2014, the FASB issued ASU 2014-08, Presentation of Financial Statements (Topic 205) and Property, Plant, and Equipment (Topic 360): Reporting Discontinued Operations and Disclosures of Disposals of Components of an Entity. ASU 2014-08 changes the criteria for reporting a discontinued operation. Under the new pronouncement, a disposal of a part of an organization that has a major effect on its operations and financial results is a discontinued operation. NiSource is required to adopt ASU 2014-08 prospectively for all disposals or components of its business classified as held for sale during fiscal periods beginning after December 15, 2014. NiSource is currently evaluating what impact, if any, adoption of ASU 2014-08 will have on its Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited) and Notes to Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements (unaudited).

Basic EPS is computed by dividing income available to common stockholders by the weighted-average number of shares of common stock outstanding for the period. The weighted average shares outstanding for diluted EPS includes the incremental effects of the various long-term incentive compensation plans. The numerator in calculating both basic and diluted EPS for each period is reported net income. The computation of diluted average common shares follows:

6. Regulatory MattersGas Distribution Operations Regulatory Matters

Significant Rate Developments . On April 30, 2013, Indiana Governor Pence signed Senate Enrolled Act 560 into law. Among other provisions, this legislation provides for cost recovery outside of a base rate proceeding for new or replacement electric and gas transmission, distribution, and storage projects that a public utility undertakes for the purposes of safety, reliability, system modernization, or economic development. Provisions of the TDSIC statute require that, among other things, requests for recovery include a seven-year plan of eligible investments. Once the plan is approved by the IURC, 80 percent of eligible costs can be recovered using a periodic rate adjustment mechanism. The cost recovery mechanism is referred to as a TDSIC mechanism. Recoverable costs include a return on, and of, the investment, including AFUDC, post in service carrying charges, operation and maintenance expenses, depreciation, and property taxes. The remaining 20 percent of recoverable costs are to be deferred for future recovery in the public utility's next general rate case. The periodic rate adjustment mechanism is capped at an annual increase of no more than two percent of total retail revenues. On October 3, 2013, NIPSCO filed its gas TDSIC seven-year plan of eligible investments for a total of approximately $710 million with the IURC. On April 30, 2014, the IURC issued an order approving NIPSCO's gas TDSIC seven-year plan. NIPSCO anticipates filing its request with the IURC for ratemaking and accounting relief associated with the eligible investments in the third quarter of 2014. On May 29, 2014, the NIPSCO Industrial Group filed a Notice of Appeal with the Indiana Court of Appeals in response to the IURC's April 30, 2014 ruling.

On November 25, 2013, Columbia of Ohio filed a Notice of Intent to file an application to adjust rates associated with its IRP and DSM Riders. Columbia of Ohio filed its Application on February 28, 2014, requesting authority to increase revenues by approximately $25.5 million . The parties have settled all issues, and on April 7, 2014 filed a stipulation providing for a revenue increase of approximately $25.5 million . On April 23, 2014, Columbia of Ohio received approval of its annual infrastructure replacement and demand-side management rider request from the PUCO. New rates became effective April 30, 2014.

On April 16, 2013, Columbia of Massachusetts submitted a filing with the Massachusetts DPU requesting an annual revenue requirement increase of $30.1 million . Pursuant to the procedural schedule for this case, on September 3, 2013, Columbia of Massachusetts filed its updated revenue requirement of $29.5 million and on October 16, 2013, filed an updated cost of service for $30.0 million . A final revenue requirement update of $29.9 million was filed on December 16, 2013. On February 28, 2014, the Massachusetts DPU issued an order granting an annual revenue requirement increase of $19.3 million effective March 1, 2014, and the compliance filing associated with the order has been approved. Columbia of Massachusetts currently has two Motions for Reconsideration and Clarification pending before the Massachusetts DPU with regard to specific findings in the order.

On September 16, 2013, Columbia of Massachusetts filed its Peak Period GAF for the period November 1, 2013 through April 30 2014, and its Peak Period 2012-2013 GAF Reconciliation. On January 17, 2014, Columbia of Massachusetts filed a revision to the GAF effective February 1, 2014, and on February 18, 2014, Columbia of Massachusetts filed its second revision to the GAF effective March 1, 2014, to eliminate Columbia of Massachusetts's projected Peak Period under-collection of $50.0 million . On February 28, 2014, the Massachusetts DPU approved a revised GAF subject to further review and reconciliation to recover approximately $25 million of the anticipated under-collection and defer recovery of the remaining $25 million to November 2014 through April 2015, and thus, this deferred amount will be incorporated into the proposed GAF to be submitted in September 2014 in Columbia of Massachusetts's 2014-2015 Peak Period GAF filing.

On March 21, 2014, Columbia of Pennsylvania filed a base rate case with the Pennsylvania PUC, seeking a revenue increase of approximately $54.1 million annually. The case is driven by Columbia of Pennsylvania's capital investment program which exceeds $180 million in both 2014 and 2015 as well as new pipeline safety-related operation and maintenance expenditures. Columbia of Pennsylvania seeks Pennsylvania PUC approval to implement additional rates to recover costs that are projected to be incurred after the implementation of those new rates, as authorized by the Pennsylvania General Assembly with the passage of Act 11 of 2012. Columbia of Pennsylvania's filing seeks to implement rates in December 2014 under which Columbia of Pennsylvania would immediately begin to recover costs that are projected for the twelve-month period ending December 31, 2015. The case is currently in discovery, and a final order from the Pennsylvania PUC is expected in the fourth quarter of 2014.

On April 30, 2014, Columbia of Virginia filed a base rate case with the VSCC seeking an annual revenue increase of $31.8 million, which includes $6.9 million in annual revenues currently collected as a separate infrastructure replacement rider on customers' bills under the Virginia SAVE Plan Act. The SAVE rider will be reset to zero and these revenues will be moved into non-gas base rates, resulting in a proposed net revenue increase of $24.9 million per year. Columbia of Virginia also seeks to recover costs related to its implementation of pipeline safety programs and forward looking adjustments to its capital investments and changes in operating costs projected to occur during the rate year ending September 30, 2015. In addition, Columbia of Virginia is proposing a change from volumetric based (Mcf) billing to thermal based (Btu) billing. The VSCC issued a procedural order in the case on May 28, 2014 which scheduled the case for hearing on December 9, 2014. New rates are subject to refund and are scheduled to become effective October 1, 2014.

Cost Recovery and Trackers. A significant portion of the distribution companies' revenue is related to the recovery of gas costs, the review and recovery of which occurs via standard regulatory proceedings. All states require periodic review of actual gas procurement activity to determine prudence and to permit the recovery of prudently incurred costs related to the supply of gas for customers. NiSource distribution companies have historically been found prudent in the procurement of gas supplies to serve customers.

Certain operating costs of the NiSource distribution companies are significant, recurring in nature, and generally outside the control of the distribution companies. Some states allow the recovery of such costs via cost tracking mechanisms. Such tracking mechanisms allow for abbreviated regulatory proceedings in order for the distribution companies to implement charges and recover appropriate costs. Tracking mechanisms allow for more timely recovery of such costs as compared with more traditional cost recovery mechanisms. Examples of such mechanisms include GCR adjustment mechanisms, tax riders, gas energy efficiency programs, and bad debt recovery mechanisms.

Comparability of Gas Distribution Operations line item operating results is impacted by regulatory trackers that allow for the recovery in rates of certain costs such as bad debt expenses. Increases in the expenses that are subject to trackers result in a corresponding increase in net revenues and therefore have essentially no impact on total operating income results.

Certain of the NiSource distribution companies have completed rate proceedings involving infrastructure replacement or are embarking upon regulatory initiatives to replace significant portions of their operating systems that are nearing the end of their useful lives. Each LDC's approach to cost recovery may be unique, given the different laws, regulations and precedent that exist in each jurisdiction.

Columbia Pipeline Group Operations Regulatory Matters

Significant Rate Developments. On January 30, 2014, Columbia Transmission received FERC approval of its December 2013 filing to recover costs associated with the first year of its comprehensive system modernization program. During 2013, Columbia Transmission completed more than 30 individual projects representing a total investment of about $300 million. The program includes replacement of aging pipeline and compressor facilities, enhancements to system inspection capabilities, and improvements in real-time analytics and control systems. Recovery of the 2013 investments began on February 1, 2014.

The second year of the program includes planned modernization investments of approximately $300 million. Columbia Transmission and its customers have agreed to the initial five years of the comprehensive modernization program, with an opportunity to mutually extend the agreement.

Cost Recovery Trackers. A significant portion of the regulated transmission and storage companies' revenue is related to the recovery of their operating costs, the review and recovery of which occurs via standard regulatory proceedings with the FERC under section 4 of the Natural Gas Act. However, certain operating costs of the NiSource regulated transmission and storage companies are significant and recurring in nature, such as fuel for compression and lost and unaccounted for gas. The FERC allows for the recovery of such costs via cost tracking mechanisms. These tracking mechanisms allow the transmission and storage companies' rates to fluctuate in response to changes in certain operating costs or conditions as they occur to facilitate the timely recovery of its costs incurred. The tracking mechanisms involve a rate adjustment that is filed at a predetermined frequency, typically annually, with the FERC and is subject to regulatory review before new rates go into effect. Other such costs under regulatory tracking mechanisms include third-party pipeline transportation, electric compression, certain environmental, and certain operational purchases and sales of natural gas.

Electric Operations Regulatory Matters

Significant Rate Developments . On July 19, 2013, NIPSCO filed its electric TDSIC, further discussed above, with the IURC. The filing included the seven-year plan of eligible investments for a total of approximately $1.1 billion with the majority of the spend occurring in years 2016 through 2020. On February 17, 2014, the IURC issued an order approving NIPSCO's seven-year plan of eligible investments. The Order also granted NIPSCO ratemaking relief associated with the eligible investments through a rate adjustment mechanism. NIPSCO anticipates filing its first semi-annual tracker petition in the third quarter of 2014. On March 10, 2014, the OUCC filed a Petition for Reconsideration with the IURC, and the IURC denied that Petition for Reconsideration on May 7, 2014. In addition, the NIPSCO Industrial Group and the OUCC have filed Notices of Appeal with the Indiana Court of Appeals in response to the IURC's ruling, which are still pending.

On November 12, 2013, several industrial customers, including INDIEC, filed a complaint at the FERC regarding the 12.38% base ROE used to set the MISO Transmission Owners' transmission rates and requesting a reduction in the base ROE to 9.15% . The complaint further requests that FERC limit the capital structure of MISO Transmission Owners to no more than 50% common equity for ratemaking purposes and that FERC eliminate incentive adders for membership in a RTO. NIPSCO joined in an answer defending the 12.38% base ROE and motion to dismiss the complaint filed on behalf of a group of MISO Transmission Owners on January 6, 2014. NIPSCO is unable to estimate the impact of this complaint or the timing of any potential impact at this time.

Cost Recovery and Trackers . A significant portion of NIPSCO's revenue is related to the recovery of fuel costs to generate power and purchased power. These costs are recovered through a FAC, a standard, quarterly, "summary" regulatory proceeding in Indiana.

Certain operating costs of the Electric Operations are significant, recurring in nature, and generally outside the control of NIPSCO. The IURC allows for recovery of such costs via cost tracking mechanisms. Such tracking mechanisms allow for abbreviated regulatory proceedings in order for NIPSCO to implement charges and recover appropriate costs. Tracking mechanisms allow for more timely recovery of such costs as compared with more traditional cost recovery mechanisms. Examples of such mechanisms include electric energy efficiency programs, MISO non-fuel costs and revenues, federally mandated costs, resource capacity charges, and environmental related costs.

NIPSCO has approval from the IURC to recover certain environmental related costs through an ECT. Under the ECT, NIPSCO is permitted to recover (1) AFUDC and a return on the capital investment expended by NIPSCO to implement environmental compliance plan projects through an ECRM and (2) related operation and maintenance and depreciation expenses once the environmental facilities become operational through an EERM. On April 30, 2014, the IURC issued an order on ECR-23 approving NIPSCO's request to begin earning a return on $583.5 million of net capital expenditures.

7. Risk Management Activities

NiSource is exposed to certain risks relating to its ongoing business operations. The primary risks managed by using derivative instruments are commodity price risk and interest rate risk. Derivative natural gas contracts are entered into to manage the price risk associated with natural gas price volatility and to secure forward natural gas prices. Interest rate swaps are entered into to manage interest rate risk or fair value risk associated with NiSource's borrowings. NiSource designates some of its commodity forward contracts as cash flow hedges of forecasted purchases of commodities and designates its interest rate swaps as fair value hedges of fixed-rate borrowings.

Accounting Policy for Derivative Instruments. Unrealized and realized gains and losses are recognized each period as components of AOCI, regulatory assets and liabilities or earnings depending on the designation of the derivative instrument and regulatory accounting treatment. For subsidiaries that utilize derivatives for cash flow hedges, the effective portions of the gains and losses are recorded to AOCI and are recognized in earnings concurrent with the disposition of the hedged risks. If a forecasted transaction corresponding to a cash flow hedge is no longer probable to occur, the accumulated gains or losses on the derivative are recognized currently in earnings. For fair value hedges, the gains and losses are recorded in earnings each period together with the change in the fair value of the hedged item. As a result of the ratemaking process, the rate-regulated subsidiaries generally record gains and losses as regulatory liabilities or assets and recognize such gains or losses in earnings when both the contracts settle and the physical commodity flows. These gains and losses recognized in earnings are then subsequently recovered or passed back to customers in revenues through rates. When gains and losses are recognized in earnings, they are recognized in revenues or cost of sales for derivatives that correspond to commodity risk activities and are recognized in interest expense for derivatives that correspond to interest rate risk activities.

For its commodity price risk programs, NiSource has elected not to net the fair value amounts of its derivative instruments or the fair value amounts recognized for its right to receive or obligation to pay cash collateral arising from those derivative instruments recognized at fair value, which are executed with the same counterparty under a master netting arrangement. NiSource discloses amounts recognized for the right to reclaim cash collateral within "Restricted cash" and amounts recognized for the obligation to return cash collateral within "Other accruals" on the Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheets (unaudited).

Commodity Price Risk Programs . Commodity price risk program derivatives consist of NYMEX gas options, NYMEX gas futures and FTRs. Contracted gross volumes are as follows:

	June 30, 2014	December 31, 2013
Commodity Price Risk Program:
Gas price volatility program derivatives (MMDth)	16.7	17.0
Price Protection Service program derivatives (MMDth)	0.2	0.7
DependaBill program derivatives (MMDth)	0.2	0.2
Electric hedging program (mwh)	0.1	—
Electric energy program FTR derivatives (mw)	4,700.0	1,248.0

Interest Rate Risk Activities . NiSource recognizes that the prudent and selective use of derivatives may help it to lower its cost of debt capital and manage its interest rate exposure. NiSource Finance has entered into various "receive fixed" and "pay floating" interest rate swap agreements which modify the interest rate characteristics of a portion of its outstanding long-term debt from fixed to variable rate. These interest rate swaps also serve to hedge the fair market value of NiSource Finance's outstanding debt portfolio. As of June 30, 2014 , NiSource had $7.7 billion of outstanding fixed rate debt, of which $500 million is subject to fluctuations in interest rates as a result of the fixed-to-variable interest rate swap transactions. These interest rate swaps are designated as fair value hedges. NiSource had no net gain or loss recognized in earnings due to hedging ineffectiveness for the six months ended June 30, 2014 and 2013 .

On July 22, 2003, NiSource Finance entered into fixed-to-variable interest rate swap agreements in a notional amount of $500 million with four counterparties which expired on July 15, 2014 . NiSource Finance received payments based upon a fixed 5.40% interest rate and paid a floating interest amount based on U.S. 6-month BBA LIBOR plus an average of 0.78% per annum. There was no exchange of premium at the initial date of the swaps.

Contemporaneously with the issuance on September 16, 2005 of $1.0 billion of its 5.25% and 5.45% notes, maturing September 15, 2017 and 2020, respectively, NiSource Finance settled $900 million of forward starting interest rate swap agreements with six counterparties. NiSource paid an aggregate settlement payment of $35.5 million which is being amortized from AOCI to interest expense over the term of the underlying debt, resulting in an effective interest rate of 5.67% and 5.88% , respectively. As of June 30, 2014 , AOCI includes $7.4 million related to forward starting interest rate swap settlement, net of tax. These derivative contracts are accounted for as a cash flow hedge.

As of June 30, 2014 , NiSource holds a 47.5% interest in Millennium. As NiSource reports Millennium as an equity method investment, NiSource is required to recognize a proportional share of Millennium's OCI. NiSource's proportionate share of the remaining unrecognized loss associated with settled interest rate swaps was $17.1 million and $17.7 million , net of tax, as of June 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013 , respectively. Millennium is amortizing the losses related to these terminated interest rate swaps into earnings using the effective interest method through interest expense as interest payments are made. NiSource records its proportionate share of the amortization as Equity Earnings in Unconsolidated Affiliates in the Condensed Statements of Consolidated Income (unaudited).

⁽²⁾ For the amounts of realized/unrealized gain (loss) recognized in income on derivatives disclosed in the table above, gains of $11.1 million and $1.0 million for the six months ended June 30, 2014 and 2013, respectively, were deferred as allowed per regulatory orders. These amounts will be amortized to income over future periods of up to twelve months as specified in a regulatory order.

NiSource's derivative instruments measured at fair value as of June 30, 2014 and December 31, 2013 do not contain any credit-risk-related contingent features.

Certain NiSource affiliates have physical commodity purchase agreements that contain "ratings triggers" that require increases in collateral if the credit rating of NiSource or certain of its affiliates are rated below BBB- by Standard & Poor's or below Baa3 by Moody's. These agreements are primarily for the physical purchase or sale of natural gas and electricity. The collateral requirement from a downgrade below the ratings trigger levels would amount to approximately $0.7 million. In addition to agreements with ratings triggers, there are some agreements that contain "adequate assurance" or "material adverse change" provisions that could result in additional credit support such as letters of credit and cash collateral to transact business.
