Mike Strickland retires after 30 years at HCTC
Mike Strickland is retiring after 30 years of teaching history at Hazard Community and Technical College. Strickland's students said his classes were entertaining and educational. "He is fun and inspiring, really draws you into the class," noted one student. Strickland moved to the mountains from Louisville and has been happy to make the mountains his home. He looks forward his retirement, growing more hosta at Bear Moon Hosta, which is the name of his Perry County home, and doing some traveling.
