Comes now Citipower, LLC (“Citipower” or the “Company”), pursuant to the Commission’s September 27, 2019 Order (“Order”), and hereby gives notice to the Commission that Citipower does not intend to place its proposed rates into effect subject to refund upon the end of the suspension period if the Commission has not entered a final order by that date. However, Citipower does plan to place the proposed rates into effect subject to refund in the month the acquisition is completed. For example, if the acquisition will be finalized in December, Citipower plans to place the proposed rates into effect December 1, 2019 so that two billing rates are not used for the same month.
