NOTICE

Please take notice that Duke Energy Kentucky, Inc. has applied to the Kentucky Public Service Commission for approval to revise its Demand Side Management (DSM) rate for gas service and electric service for residential and commercial customers. Duke Energy Kentucky's current monthly DSM rate for residential gas customers is ($0.012250) per hundred cubic feet and for non-residential gas customers is $0.000000 per hundred cubic feet. Duke Energy Kentucky's current monthly DSM rate for residential electric customers is ($0.003120) per kilowatt-hour and for non-residential customers is $0.005024 per kilowatt-hour for distribution service and $0.000637 per kilowatt-hour for transmission service.

Duke Energy Kentucky seeks approval to revise these rates as follows: Duke Energy Kentucky's monthly DSM rate for residential gas customers would increase to $0.030735 per hundred cubic feet and for non-residential gas customers would remain at $0.000000 per hundred cubic feet. Duke Energy Kentucky's monthly DSM rate for residential electric customers would decrease to ($0.003143) per kilowatt-hour and for non-residential customers would decrease to $0.001768 per kilowatt-hour for distribution service and would decrease to $0.000537 per kilowatt-hour for transmission service.

The rate contained in this notice is the rate proposed by Duke Energy Kentucky. However, the Public Service Commission may order a rate to be charged that differs from this proposed rate. Such action may result in a rate for consumers other than the rate in this notice. The foregoing rates reflect a proposed decrease in electric revenues of approximately ($7.56) million or (2.13%) over current total electric revenues and an increase in gas revenues of approximately $2.67 million or 2.60% over current total gas revenues.

A typical residential gas customer using 70 ccf in a month will see an increase of $3.01 or 4.4%. A typical residential electric customer using 1000 kWh in a month will see a decrease of $0.03 or (0.03%). A typical non-residential electric customer using 40 kilowatts and 14,000 kWh will see a decrease of $17.49 or (1.4%). A non-residential customer served at transmission voltage using 10,000 kilowatts and 4,000,000 kWh will see a decrease of $400.00 or (0.1%). Non-residential gas customers will see no change in their bills from this application.

Any corporation, association, body politic or person may by motion within thirty (30) days after publication or mailing of notice of the proposed rate changes, submit a written request to intervene to the Public Service Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, and shall set forth the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. The intervention may be granted beyond the thirty (30) day period for good cause shown. Written comments regarding the proposed rate may be submitted to the Public Service Commission by mail or through the Public Service Commission's website. A copy of this application filed with the Public Service Commission is available for public inspection at Duke Energy Kentucky's office at 1262 Cox Road, Erlanger, Kentucky 41018 and on its website at <http://www.duke-energy.com>. This filing and any other related documents can be found on the Public Service Commission's website at <http://psc.ky.gov>.

Shooting probed as domestic terrorism

Charles Stille and John Bacon
USA TODAY

JERSEY CITY, N.J. — The rampage by two shooters who killed a police officer before opening fire on a kosher supermarket, fueling a three-hour gunfight involving hundreds of rounds of ammunition, is being investigated as domestic terrorism, authorities said Thursday.

"We believe the suspects held views that reflected hatred of the Jewish people as well as law enforcement," state Attorney General Gurbir Grewal said at a news conference.

A note was found inside the gunmen's U-Haul van at the scene, but authorities are not labeling it a manifesto, Grewal said. Grewal said investigators are working to determine why Officer Joseph Seals and the JC Kosher Supermarket were targeted by suspects David Anderson, 47, and Francine Graham, 50.

Evidence thus far indicates they acted alone, Grewal said. The duo are also prime suspects in the slaying of a man found beaten to death in a car trunk in Bayonne on Saturday, three days before the carnage at the kosher market, authorities said.

Grewal previously had cautioned against making an anti-Semitic link to Tuesday's bloodshed, which began about noon when police say the duo killed officer Joseph Seals at Bayview Cemetery. The shooters then drove a mile to JC Kosher Supermarket, where they opened fire on the store, killing three people inside.

When the shooting stopped, Anderson and Graham were also dead. Grewal said evidence indicates the three people in the store were killed "within minutes" of the shooters entering the building.

An AR-15-style rifle, a 12-gauge Mossberg shotgun and two other guns were found in the store, Grewal said. Another gun was found in the van.

Surveillance video, recorded down the street from the supermarket, shows the van parking across from the store and the duo exiting, long guns drawn. Guns pointed at the market, the rampage begins as bystanders flee for cover. USA TODAY has not been able to independently verify the authenticity of the video.

Grewal said both shooters had "expressed interest" in the Black Hebrew Israelite group. The group includes factions that have been designated as "hate groups" by the Southern Poverty Law Center and the Anti-Defamation League.

Group members, who believe they are descendants of the ancient Israelites, have been known to shout anti-Semitic rhetoric while congregating on the streets of New York City and elsewhere. But Grewal said no actual links to the Black Israelites had been established.

The leaders of the Israelite Church of God in Jesus Christ in New York, which is among groups connected to the Black Hebrew Israelite movement, said through an attorney Wednesday that they have no connection to the shooting and do not know the suspects.

"There's no relationship to the events in Jersey City," said Gerald Lefcourt, the attorney. "There is no connection whatsoever, no knowledge of the individuals" who were named as suspects.

Thousands gathered Wednesday for the funerals of victims Leah Minda Ferencz, 32, in Jersey City and her cousin Moshe Hirsch Deutsch, 24, in Brooklyn. Also killed in the store was Miguel Douglas, 49.

NOTICE

Please take notice that Duke Energy Kentucky, Inc. has applied to the Kentucky Public Service Commission for approval to revise its Demand Side Management (DSM) rate for gas service and electric service for residential and commercial customers. Duke Energy Kentucky's current monthly DSM rate for residential gas customers is ($0.012250) per hundred cubic feet and for non-residential gas customers is $0.000000 per hundred cubic feet. Duke Energy Kentucky's current monthly DSM rate for residential electric customers is ($0.003120) per kilowatt-hour and for non-residential customers is $0.005024 per kilowatt-hour for distribution service and $0.000637 per kilowatt-hour for transmission service.

Duke Energy Kentucky seeks approval to revise these rates as follows: Duke Energy Kentucky's monthly DSM rate for residential gas customers would increase to $0.030735 per hundred cubic feet and for non-residential gas customers would remain at $0.000000 per hundred cubic feet. Duke Energy Kentucky's monthly DSM rate for residential electric customers would decrease to ($0.003143) per kilowatt-hour and for non-residential customers would decrease to $0.001768 per kilowatt-hour for distribution service and would decrease to $0.000537 per kilowatt-hour for transmission service.

The rate contained in this notice is the rate proposed by Duke Energy Kentucky. However, the Public Service Commission may order a rate to be charged that differs from this proposed rate. Such action may result in a rate for consumers other than the rate in this notice. The foregoing rates reflect a proposed decrease in electric revenues of approximately ($7.56) million or (2.13%) over current total electric revenues and an increase in gas revenues of approximately $2.67 million or 2.60% over current total gas revenues.

A typical residential gas customer using 70 ccf in a month will see an increase of $3.01 or 4.4%. A typical residential electric customer using 1000 kWh in a month will see a decrease of $0.03 or (0.03%). A typical non-residential electric customer using 40 kilowatts and 14,000 kWh will see a decrease of $17.49 or (1.4%). A non-residential customer served at transmission voltage using 10,000 kilowatts and 4,000,000 kWh will see a decrease of $400.00 or (0.1%). Non-residential gas customers will see no change in their bills from this application.

Any corporation, association, body politic or person may by motion within thirty (30) days after publication or mailing of notice of the proposed rate changes, submit a written request to intervene to the Public Service Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, and shall set forth the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. The intervention may be granted beyond the thirty (30) day period for good cause shown. Written comments regarding the proposed rate may be submitted to the Public Service Commission by mail or through the Public Service Commission's website. A copy of this application filed with the Public Service Commission is available for public inspection at Duke Energy Kentucky's office at 1262 Cox Road, Erlanger, Kentucky 41018 and on its website at <http://www.duke-energy.com>. This filing and any other related documents can be found on the Public Service Commission's website at <http://psc.ky.gov>.
