Senior Samantha Baker Named Hyden Citizens Bank Cheerleader of the Week

The coaching staff at LCHS have selected Senior Samantha Baker as the Hyden Citizens Bank Cheerleader of the Week. For Samantha, she says she loves to cheer, even if it can be more difficult than people think. "Cheerleading is pretty hard, I'm not gonna lie. It takes a lot of dedication." On the squad, Samantha says that she likes to help the underclassmen become better cheerleaders. "I'm kind of a leader. I'm a senior, so I have to help with the younger girls." And this year has seen some changes, which Samantha says has been challenging in a good way. "We had another coaching change this year, which took some getting used to. But I love my coaches!" As her time at LCHS winds down, Samantha says she's already looking forward to her time in college. "I plan to attend either HCTC or Galen and become an RN like my mom!"

Joel Brashear from Hyden Citizens Bank was on hand to deliver Samantha her award. "Samantha was such a joy to talk with today. She is an engaging young lady with a good head on her shoulders. I have always been so impressed with our cheerleading program here at LCHS. We have a strong history of great squads who put in countless hours and usually don't get the credit they deserve. These ladies are athletes! Congrats to Samantha and good luck to her and the rest of the squad for the rest of the season."

Meyers Named Hyden Citizens Bank Female

Basketball Hyden Citizens Bank Player of the Week

Senior Guard Lexy Meyers has been selected by the LCHS coaching staff as the Hyden Citizens Bank Player of the Week.

Lexy says she is very pleased with how the season has started and hopes that the team's early success will continue. "It's going really good and we've gotten off to a really good start." A skilled shooter, Lexy has been lighting up the scoreboard all season long and started out the season with a record breaking performance. "I broke my 3-point record during our first game of the season. I went 11-15. I just felt like I couldn't miss. Everything I threw up just went in." As one of the few upperclassmen on the squad, she says that it is important to act as a leader for the younger ladies. "I'm just trying to set a good example. I'm working really hard at practice and stuff like that." And with her days as an Eagle winding down, Lexy is looking ahead to her time after high school. "I hope to play ball somewhere and maybe go into nursing or education."

Hyden Citizens Bank's Joel Brashear was on hand to deliver Lexy her honorary game ball. "Lexy is a fantastic young lady besides being a gifted athlete. I know that she's already getting offers from colleges to play at the next level and that is wonderful. I can't wait to see how far she and the rest of the Lady Eagles can go this season!"

One Home Destroyed; Another Receives Major Damage in Fire

from front

Thousandsticks, Hazard, Avawam and other local volunteer fire fighters fought hard and helped save further damage.

Jason Lindon, a Hazard fire fighter suffered a non-life threatening head and neck injury, when the ceiling gave way and collapsed on him. A beloved family pet of Eugenia's was lost in the catastrophe but thankfully there was no loss of human life. The first responders are to be commended for their efforts and the family has had tremendous support from this tight knit town and county.

Positive Perspective: Whatever It Takes

occupied with other things to actually put time into. That thing, surprisingly, was join a gym and get into weight training. While I'm sure that surprises some of you who know me, I've actually done well with it. In fact, I hit a new max weight last week of 195 lbs in deadlifting. If all goes well, I plan on competing in powerlifting in July.

I tell you all of that, to tell you this: always do whatever it takes, to achieve your goals and dreams. I never in a million years thought I'd be able to lift just shy of 200 lbs, or more than that, if I'm lucky. I never thought I'd pass the bar exam and be able to practice law. But the key, is to always do whatever it takes. What does it take? Everything. It takes hard work. It takes long hours. It takes sacrifice. It takes will power. It takes inner strength. It takes giving everything you've got, and never giving up, no matter how much you feel like it. And the way you feel when you finally reach that goal or achieve that dream, is worth everything. However, even with giving all of that and then some, patience is still a huge part. Great things take time and virtually nothing will happen overnight. But as long as you are willing to keep going, you will reap the rewards of the seeds you've sown. Just lay down your excuses, and get to work.

Nothing is impossible, if you give the time and effort to achieving it. I always hear, "I'm too old for that now." No, you're not. I'm 32 and I never much more than picked up a few lightweight dumbbells before two months ago and here I am thinking about going up against the strongest women in the sport. I went to law school with both men and women in their 40s, 50s and even their 60s. People who had already accomplished medical school and a medical career. You are never too old, or too anything, to get where you want to be. You just have to be determined.

You want a new career? You want to find a new hobby? You want to do something you've never done? Be determined. Determined to do whatever it takes to make it happen. And you will be so proud of yourself when you do. I have faith in you. And you should too. Don't let fear hold you back, just go for it. But do nothing short of whatever it takes.
