DATA REQUEST

JL_1_001 Question 1-1 As of the Historical Test Year ending date, March 31, 2020, Mountain Association has supported with financing and/or technical assistance eight (8) clients taking Net Metering Service (“N.M.S.”) that are General Service (“G.S.”) KPC customers. These eight General Service rate class clients all received bills that show “Dlvd” kWh and “Rcvd” kWh, showing that they are taking service under N.M.S.

On Page 166 of the Section III Testimony Vol. 1 KPC states, “As of the end of the test year, the Company has 44 net metering customers, all of whom are using solar generation systems. Forty two of these are residential installations with an average installed capacity of 9.35 kW per system.”

Please provide the following information regarding KPC’s N.M.S. customer generators, for the test year and each of the years 2015 through 2019:

- a. How many kWh of excess generation were supplied back to KPC from all N.M.S. customers in each month and year? How many kWh did N.M.S. customers receive in each month and year? For customers receiving N.M.S., list the cumulative generation for each month of each year that N.M.S. customer meter reads fall within, the total delivered “Dlvd” kWh and received “Rcvd” kWh by rate class.
- b. List the number of residential and commercial customers taking N.M.S. within each specific rate class.
- c. List the total installed generation capacity (AC and DC) for customers receiving N.M.S. within each specific rate class tariff.
- d. For a non N.M.S. that began taking N.M.S., did that require replacing the meter or was N.M.S. achieved with reprogramming the existing meter? Does that answer depend on the existing rate class of customer-generator taking N.M.S. service?
- e. What was the capacity (system size in KW AC) of each N.M.S. customer for each year?

f. What was the total combined capacity by class of all N.M.S. customers, residential N.M.S. customers, and commercial N.M.S. customers for each year?

g. What percentage of KPC's single hour peak load for the previous year did N.M.S. represent for each year?

h. Please provide any additional data concerning net metering for the years 2015 through 2019 which KPC has reported to the US Energy Information Administration, FERC, the Kentucky Energy and Environment Cabinet, or any other regulatory agency.

RESPONSE

The Company objects to this request for information outside of the test year as overly broad, unduly burdensome, and because it is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. The Company further objects to this request to the extent it seeks information that is not maintained in the manner requested. Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Company states, with respect to the requested information during the test year:

a) Please refer to the Company's response to Staff 4-82.

b) Please refer to the Company's response to Staff 4-82.

c) Please refer to the Company's response to Staff 4-82 for AC capacity ratings; DC capacity ratings are not maintained for customer-generators.

d) The existing meter is replaced with a dual register meter for all customers when they begin taking N.M.S.

e) Please refer to the Company's response to Staff 4-82.

f) See the Company's response to part e and the Company's response to Staff 4-82. No other capacity measure exists in the Company's records for these systems.

g) The Company's peak from the previous calendar year (2019) was 1,297 MW. 1% of that would be 12,970 kW, the Company's test year NMS installations represent 579.6 kW of installed capacity. Current tariff NMS installed capacity represents 0.04% of the Company's 2019 peak load.

h) Kentucky Power is not aware of any information that would be responsive to this request, but any such information, to the extent it exists, is publicly available.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_003 Will N.M.S. II (the tariff that KPC proposes to replace the current N.M.S. tariff), with the introduction of time blocks, require replacing the meter with one capable of reading time blocks or will reprogramming existing meter suffice? Does that answer depend on the rate class of customer-generator that will be taking the N.M.S. II? What cost will be incurred by the customer for replacement of the meter, and how will that charge be expressed?

RESPONSE

Please refer to proposed tariff NMS II generally. All new net metering installations will require a time of use meter.

Please refer to the Company's response to Joint Intervenors 1-22 for the cost estimate. The cost of metering NMS II customers is included in the standard tariff rates. There will be no out of pocket cost for metering.

JI_1_005 Explain how the N.M.S. II time blocks hours were selected?

Specifically, will the compensatory rate for fed-in electricity from the customer-generator be changed, and if so, will that change affect all existing capacity or only that fraction attributable to the expanded capacity?

RESPONSE

A customer-generator seeking to increase generation capacity must receive approval from Kentucky Power and submit a new “Application for Interconnection and Net Metering Service.” After approval, all exported generation as determined by the Kentucky Power meter will be credited at the new N.M.S II tariff rate.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_012 The Final Net Metering-Interconnection Guidelines that came out of PSC Administrative Case 2008-0169 addressed aspects that utilities raised at the time concerning cost-recovery. In those very detailed 23-page Guidelines, is included (condition 2—generation capacity will not exceed transformer nameplate rating on shared secondary and condition 1—on a distribution circuit, the aggregated generation on that circuit, including the proposed will not exceed 15 percent of the Line Section’s most recent annual one hour load).

Do you agree that Condition 1 was included to prevent a distributed net metering service generator from supplying transmission through a substation and limiting the resource to within the line section distribution circuit only?

Based on this, will KPC reconsider its inclusion of avoided generation and transmission fixed costs?

RESPONSE

The Company objects to this request as seeking a legal conclusion, calling for speculation, and because it is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Company states that it cannot speculate regarding the reasons why the Commission may have included Condition 1 in the Final Net Metering Interconnection Guidelines. No. Reduced load at the distribution level can produce certain avoided generation and transmission costs, as the Company witness Vaughan describes in his Direct Testimony at pages 26-27.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_015 On Page 166 of the Section III Testimony Vol. 1 KPC states: "The Company is proposing to... institute a new N.M.S.S tariff ("N.M.S.S II") that aligns with the changes in Kentucky law occasioned by SB 100 ("the Net Metering Act") that was enacted in 2019. The Net Metering Act ... provides for the end of, or at least a drastic reduction in, the intra class subsidies the previous net metering statute produced. In order to accomplish those priorities of the Net Metering Act, the Company is proposing the ... changes in its N.M.S.S II tariff."

Does KPC characterize this as an accurate interpretation of the Net Metering Act? Specifically, can KPC point towards language in the statute that establishes as evidence-based fact that the existing net metering tariff or net metering statutes produced intra-class subsidies?

RESPONSE

Kentucky Power objects to this request because it seeks information that is not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. With respect to net metering, the purpose of these proceedings is to implement the plain language of the Net Metering Act, not to debate the purpose for the legislation's passage or the state of net metering compensation under prior law. Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Company states: Yes, it reflects the expert opinion of Company Witness Vaughan. The elimination of the one-to-one netting for all usage in the statute is evidence of this. The one-to-one netting concept by definition creates intra-class subsidies by netting out materially all of the costs of utility service (generation, transmission, distribution and associated administrative and general costs) while continuing to use the service every day. Thus, a material portion of net metering customers' utility cost of service is being paid by other customers, and by definition is a subsidy.

How will these costs be allocated, and what percentage of these costs will be allocated to N.M.S. II customers and to non-participating customers in each rate class? What is the cost-per-N.M.S. II customer of implementing the new metering/billing system each year through 2025?

RESPONSE

The Company's request for an increase in its general rates in this case does not include any amount of lobbying or legislative expenses associated with SB 100. Further, the requested costs are irrelevant and not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. SB 100 was enacted into law and governs net metering in the Commonwealth.

JI_1_026 Over the past decade the solar industry has been one of the fastest growing sectors of the U.S. economy. The job of solar installer has been one of the fastest growing jobs in the U.S. In light of this, why does KPC believe it is justified in shifting costs between customers to provide an Economic Development Rider yet it is not justifiable to shift alleged costs in order to support economic development via support of expansion of the solar industry, which assists families to increase their financial security? What is the potential cost shift of the Economic Development Rider within and among classes of customers?

How does this compare to the alleged cost shift caused by net metering customers?

RESPONSE

There is no cost shift resulting from the Company's economic development rider. The Company's Tariff E.D.R. is only available to incremental loads that contribute incremental revenues to be used to offset existing fixed costs and thereby produce lower rates for all other customers. Please also refer to Company Witness Vaughan's Exhibit AEV-9 Economic Development Rider Customer Analysis.

The current NMS Tariff increases costs for nonparticipating customers by reducing fixed cost collection for service and infrastructure being used by participating customers, thus increasing costs for all other customers.

RESPONSE

The Company objects to this request on the grounds that it is overly broad, unduly burdensome, and seeks information that is neither relevant nor reasonably calculated to lead the discovery of admissible evidence. The Company further objects on the basis that this request seeks to impose obligations beyond those set forth in the Commission's administrative regulations. Subject to and without waiving this objection, the Company states as follows:

The requested hourly cost of service analysis does not exist. Furthermore, The Company's fixed cost of service does not vary hourly or seasonally. From a capacity standpoint the Company's PJM load obligation is served by the capacity resources of the Company and its affiliates Appalachian Power Company, Wheeling Power Company and Indiana Michigan Power Company in those Companies' joint FRR (fixed resource requirement) plan. The Company's PJM capacity obligation is based on its loads' contribution to the PJM summer 5 coincident peaks (CPs).

Variable generation costs (fuel and purchased power expense) are adjusted monthly through the Company's fuel adjustment clause. Regarding variable generation costs, Customers pay the lower of the Company's variable cost of generation or PJM LMP. The Company's marginal cost of energy is the PJM LMP for the Kentucky Power residual load aggregate. The hourly LMPs are publicly available at www.pjm.com. PJM LSE OATT transmission costs are based upon the PJM 1 CP and the Company's 12CPs per the FERC approved AEP transmission agreement.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_030 On Page 353 – under Terms & Conditions for Interconnection, it states:
“(1) The Company shall provide the customer net metering services, without charge for standard metering equipment, through a standard kilowatt hour metering system capable of measuring the flow of electricity in two (2) directions. If the customer requests any additional meter or meters or distribution upgrades are needed to monitor the flow in each direction, such installations shall be at the customer's expense.”

KPC’s proposed tariff requires the use of a TOU meter, which is not a “standard meter.” Is the company stating that Level 2 Applications would NOT require TOU metering and would therefore be under a different, non-TOU billing structure? Or will KPC provide a standard meter at no cost but charge the Level 2 customer for the necessary TOU meter? Or does KPC intend to provide a TOU meter to both Level 1 and Level 2 customers at no charge but overlooked changing this provision in the tariff?

RESPONSE

That section of tariff should reference a TOU meter as all net metering customers under proposed Tariff NMS II will be required to utilize a TOU meter. Please refer to KPCO_R_JI_1_30_Attachment1 for the corrected redline tariff sheet.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_033 Please produce utility-specific data that substantiates any claim of non-negligible cost shifting from the 44 current net metered customers (who have used one-to-one net metering) to non-net metered rate payers. Please provide the dollar amount that KPC believes a non-participating net metered customer pays, on a monthly and yearly basis, due to service being provided to the N.M.S. customers under the current tariff. Assuming that the number of N.M.S. customers under the current tariff rose to the 1% statutory cap, what would be the dollar amount that a non-participating net metered customer pays, on a monthly and yearly basis, due to service being provided to the N.M.S. customers under the current tariff.

RESPONSE

The Company objects to this requested hypothetical analysis on the grounds that it is irrelevant and not reasonably calculated to lead the discovery of admissible evidence. SB 100 ended one to one net metering compensation. The requested hypothetical analysis does not exist.

RESPONSE

The Company’s Residential billing format historically has presented the energy and the service charge as a single charge. Although the service charge and the energy charge are combined as a single line item amount on the monthly bill, Residential customers are also provided their kWh usage for the billing period, as well as a comparison of the billing month’s kWh usage with the kWh usage for prior month, and a comparison of the billing month’s kWh usage with the kWh usage for same month the prior year. In addition, the Residential billing format also separately provides a comparison of the billing month’s kWh usage with the kWh usage for the prior 12 months. The applicable monthly Residential service charge is available on the Company’s website and on the Commission’s website. In addition, Residential customers can obtain electric usage and billing history, including 36 months of usage information, at KentuckyPower.com. JI_1_036 For General Service, why is the Monthly Service Charge, Energy Charge and Demand charge combined into “Rate Billing” on the bill, rather than being reported separately in order for the customer to know what they are paying for service, volumetric energy (kWh) and monthly billing demand (kW)?

RESPONSE

The Company’s General Service billing format historically has presented the energy, the demand charge, and service charge as a single charge. Although the service charge, the demand charge (if demand exceeds 10 kW), and the energy charge are combined as a single line item amount on the monthly bill, the billing statement also provides the prior 12 months monthly energy usage, as well as a comparison of the billing month’s kWh usage with the kWh usage for prior month and a comparison of the billing month’s kWh usage with the kWh usage for same month the prior year.

RESPONSE

The Company’s Large General Service billing format historically has presented the energy, the demand charge, and service charge as a single charge. Although the service charge, the demand charge, kilo volt amperes reactive hours, and the energy charge are combined as a single line item amount on the monthly bill, Large General Service customers are provided their energy (kWh) usage, demand (kW), and kilo volt amperes reactive hours (kvarh) readings for the billing period. DATA REQUEST

JI_1_038 Since 2015, there has been a significant increase in demand charges, rising 366 percent since 2015 for Medium General Service, which is now General Service, and going from $1.64 per kW-mo. to $6.00 per kW-mo. This is burdensome to all small and medium commercial customers, but especially for churches and community centers with sporadic usage. What consideration if any has been given to users of this type with the proposed further increase from $6.00 to $8.65, taking the aggregate increase from 2015 for demand up to 527 percent? Please provide a breakdown of the basis and justification for the increase in demand charges by class.

RESPONSE

The Company's General Service tariff rate design mitigates the demand charge rate impact on smaller customers by not applying it to the first 10 kW of monthly billing demand. This serves to recognize the wide range of customers taking service under the GS tariff.

Please refer to Company witness Vaughan's direct testimony at page 9, line 15 through page 10, line 10 for the basis and justification of the Company's rate design. The Company strives to provide rate structures that reflect the underlying costs of service and the rate design principle of cost-causation.

JI_1_039 In the 2017 rate case, KPC asserted that it would be contacting former Small General Service customers to help assist them in finding ways to mitigate the impact of their new demand charges as a result of them being merged with Medium General Service Customers into a new rate class “General Service.” Describe all actions taken by KPC to help those customers mitigate the new charge imposed on them?

RESPONSE

Please see KPCO_R_JI_1_39_Attachment1 which was filed with the Commission on December 20, 2018 in accordance with the January 18, 2018 Order in Case No. 2017-00179 under post-case correspondence. The Commission directed Kentucky Power to identify and contact G.S. customers with an average monthly demand of 25 kW or greater and, once identified, meet to discuss the impacts of the rate case on those customer’s bills and analyze other tariff options that may provide relief.

KPCO_R_JI_1_39_Attachment1 details the accounts identified and the results of each meeting.

Planning for contacting customers for the General Service Tariff Order began in February, 2018 shortly after the Order was issued by the Kentucky Public Service Commission in Case No. 2017-00179. Below is a brief recap of actions taken to comply with the Order:

- A spreadsheet was created listing customers with average demands of over 25 KW and on the General Service tariff.
- In mid-March 2018, personnel at the Company call center were briefed on the requirement and some of their personnel were used to contact customers. Contacts by call center staff began in mid-year after procedures and processes such as a new contact phone lines were established for customer questions.
- Customers were advised of their tariff options such as a time-of-day tariff to assist them in making a decision for electric service.

- Letters were mailed to all customers on the General Service tariff that had average demands over 25 KW around June, 2018. Customer service representatives and call center personnel also began contacting customers by phone, and in some cases by a personal visit, around this time.
- The Company continued to re-contact customers through mid-October. A total of 1,016 customers were contacted. The remainder were contacted again by an additional letter to further inform them of the changes.

Kentucky Power Company
KPSC Case No. 2020-00174
Joint Intervenors First Set of Data Requests
Dated August 12, 2020

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_040 Ratepayers in KPC's service territory, and across the Commonwealth, are in a moment of unprecedented economic crisis due to the COVID-19 pandemic. Explain why KPC should be entitled to such a high rate of return on investment when the risks are relatively low due to the regulated business environment, and in a moment when so many Kentuckians are already struggling to make ends meet under their current bills?

RESPONSE

Kentucky Power recognizes the unprecedented economic challenges that customers in its service territory are facing due to the COVID-19 pandemic. The Company has taken multiple actions to assist customers during this time. In this proceeding, the Company is proposing a suite of measures to mitigate customer rate impacts totaling approximately $73.6 million, as detailed in the Direct Testimony of Company Witness Mattison at pages 12 and 13. The Company has also proposed in Case No. 2020-00176 to utilize approximately $10.8 million of its current unprotected retail generation and distribution excess accumulated deferred federal income tax balance to issue a one-time bill credit to customers to help relieve the financial hardship that exists due to COVID-19.

The cost of equity capital is determined by investors in the capital markets and is a function of the opportunities available from comparable risk investments and their assessment of the investment risks associated with Kentucky Power. While the unprecedented crisis due to COVID-19 has negatively impacted customers and the economy in Kentucky Power's service territory, volatility in the capital markets has also increased the risks to which equity investors are exposed. Common shareholders in AEP have lost approximately 20% of their capital investment since February 2020, which has mirrored the experience in the broader market for electric utility common stocks. Kentucky Power disagrees with the characterization of its requested 10.0% ROE as "such a high rate of return" and avers that 10% is a reasonable ROE that would provide Kentucky Power an opportunity to earn a fair return on the value of the property it employs in providing retail electric service, as required by controlling precedent. In fact, as supported in the Direct Testimony of Company Witness McKenzie, an analysis of market data indicates that the 10.0% ROE requested by Kentucky Power understates investors' required rate of return for the Company.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_041 On page 161 of the Section III Testimony Vol. 1, KPC discusses their proposed declining block rate for residential rates. The company states, "Because electric heating and lower income customers on average use more kWh than the class average, the reduction of the intra-class subsidy being paid through the volumetric energy charge will benefit them. To put a fine point on it, under the Company's proposed rate design electric heating and lower income customers are better off than they would be on the current rate design at any level of increase." Provide substantiation of that claim with respect to both electric heating and lower income customers consuming electricity at low, average, and high usage.

RESPONSE

The statement made by Company witness Vaughan in his Direct Testimony at page 18, lines 10-17 is supported by math and test year data that shows the average electric heating and lower income customer uses more kWh than the class average residential customer does. Please also refer to the Company's response to KPSC Staff 4-69 part b.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_042 On p. 171 of the Section III Testimony Vol. 1, KPC states that externalities (which would include job creation from Kentucky’s budding solar industry) from distributed solar are excluded from their calculation of costs avoided by solar, “because these do not pertain to KPs cost of electric service, which is what Kentucky’s jurisdictional rates are based on.”

Explain whether the incentivizing of new economic development is considered an externality for purposes of rate setting within any Industrial Class of ratepayers, and reconcile such an approach with their emphasis throughout the proposal on the “externality” of economic development in the case of the solar industry?

RESPONSE

Yes, incentivizing economic development activities that do not create additional fixed cost recovery, as the Company’s Economic Development Rider does, is not part of the Company’s cost of service, rates or tariffs.

Cost competitiveness of certain classes, such as the Industrial (Tariff IGS) customers, is considered when analyzing what level of inter-class subsidy the Company proposes to eliminate in a rate case. Those customers are not being subsidized in this process, they are simply paying a smaller subsidy to other customers based on cost of service.

JI_1_043 On p. 171 of the Section III Testimony Vol. 1, KPC states that societal costs of carbon are excluded from their calculation of costs avoided by solar, “because these do not pertain to KPs cost of electric service, which is what Kentucky’s jurisdictional rates are based on.” However, KPC also extensively discusses in their application how increased service interruptions due to vegetation such as “danger trees” falling on lines have contributed to the company’s costs and challenges. KPC attributes the increase in vegetation fall to “significantly above average rainfall, root disease, insects, and pathogens” (p 61). Since all of these factors have been found to be consequences of carbon emissions fueling climate change, explain how KPC still maintains that “externalities” such as the environmental consequences of pollution-induced climate change do not pertain to their cost of service? Provide a reference to any application for a CPCN or for cost recovery through a surcharge or other mechanism, in which KPC has relied in any part on climate change as a basis for Commission approval of utility-constructed or utility-purchased solar capacity.

RESPONSE

The Company objects to this request on the grounds that it misstates and mischaracterizes Company Witness Vaughan's testimony and because it is compound. Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Company states that the referenced portion of Mr. Vaughan's testimony, at page 27, does not "maintain[ ] that 'externalities' such as the environmental consequences of pollution-induced climate change do not pertain to [Kentucky Power's] cost of service." Mr. Vaughan's cited testimony relates to the Company's determination of the dollar-denominated avoided cost rate for excess net metering customer generation, not to the Company's cost of service generally.

JL_1_044 On the KPC website, it is stated that “If approved, residential customers using around 1,250 kilowatt-hours per month would see an estimated increase of about 77 cents per day” with the rate adjustment proposal. Please confirm that the rate increase would be $23.16 more per month for such customers. Provide the justification, for framing their rate increase as 77 more cents per day—rather than $23.16 more per month, and explain how this framing of the rate increase in cost-per-day rather than monthly, aligns with witness Mattison’s representation that KPC is committed to “ensure customers are engaged, informed, and understand their 20 electric bill and the services and program”? Does KPC agree that framing the rate increase on a per-day basis without including the monthly aggregate increase serves to obscure or diminish the impact of the rate increase on customers, who pay utility bills on a monthly, rather than daily, basis?

RESPONSE

The Company objects to this request to the extent it mischaracterizes the information regarding the Company's rate adjustment proposal that is available on the Company's website. Subject to and without waiving the foregoing objections, the Company does not agree that its communication of its proposed residential rate increase obscures or diminishes the impact of the rate increase on customers.

First, the Company has not framed its requested rate adjustment only on a per-day basis, as this request alleges; rather, Kentucky Power has presented that information on both a daily and a monthly basis. In addition to providing a per-day estimate, the referenced page of the Company's website provides a complete copy of the Company's Commission-approved notice, which states that the average residential customer's bill increase would be $23.16 per month if the Company's application is approved as proposed. This information, presented on a monthly basis, has also been communicated to customers through several other channels, including through newspaper publication, via posting in libraries within the Company's service territory, and in the Customer Notice of Rate Adjustment docketed in this proceeding on June 29, 2020.

By presenting the same information in two ways, the Company has provided more information for customers to use to help them understand the impact of the Company's proposals on the cost of their electric service. Reviewing an estimate of the Company's proposed average residential rate increase on a per-day basis may be helpful, for example, to a residential customer that would be interested in enrolling in the Company's proposed Flex Pay Program, which presents bill information to participants on a daily basis. The Company's approach fully aligns, and is consistent, with the Company's commitment to customer engagement and understanding of the Company's services and bills.

DATA REQUEST

JL_1_045 When the account balance of a residential customer enrolled in KPC's proposed Flex Pay program hits zero, the customer has until the beginning of the next business day to make a payment to re-establish a positive balance— or their service will be disconnected. Given this extremely short deadline for ratepayers to remedy their zero-balance before facing disconnection, what level of regular customer disconnections does KPC anticipate through the Flex Pay system, relative to the current level of disconnections? What challenges to customers, particularly during a pandemic, would frequent service disconnection associated with Flex Pay pose? What options are available to Flex Pay-enrolled customers who cannot afford to contribute to their account balance immediately after a disconnection?

RESPONSE

Given this extremely short deadline for ratepayers to remedy their zero-balance before facing disconnection, what level of regular customer disconnections does KPC anticipate through the Flex Pay system, relative to the current level of disconnections?

Kentucky Power has not performed any studies regarding the effect, if any, that implementation of Flex Pay might have on the incidence of disconnections of Flex Pay. Flex Pay is a voluntary program that provides customers greater control over their billings and payments. Customers remain free to remain as post-pay customers. Flex Pay makes bills more manageable by daily billing thereby ensuring large balances are not being accumulated. As discussed by Company Witness West at page 22 of his direct testimony, the daily cost for an average residential customer is approximately $5.00.

Participants also will be provided education to help them understand how to avoid disconnections. Company Witness Wiseman discusses these efforts in her direct testimony at page 20. Customers on Flex Pay will receive greater notice of impending disconnection through the frequent communication element of the program, such as alert notifications discussed by Company Witness Wiseman at page 18 of her direct testimony. This communication will be via the customers preferred channel (e-mail, text, or both). In addition to each customer's selected communication method, they will be able to check their account balance by calling the customer operations center, calling an Interactive Voice Response, logging into their account at www.kentuckypower.com, or by using the Company's mobile app. Participants must also select a low-balance amount of at least $25 for notification purposes. This notifies the customer when the account balance reaches the customer-selected low-balance notification amount. This notice will be sent daily until the account is restored above the low-balance amount.

Flex Pay participants will also have access to the customer engagement platform. This tool provides access to energy usage and cost information during the billing period, allowing customers to take action during the month to manage energy costs. This tool is discussed further by Company Witness Wiseman in her direct testimony at page 15.

A similar program (“Power Pay”) when implemented by Public Service Oklahoma saw an increase in disconnections of customers electing the Flex Pay-like option. Because prepay customers need only to establish a positive balance to be reconnected, and thus can re-establish service more readily than post-pay customers, PSO’s Power Pay participants were able to re-establish service more quickly (on average within 4.5 hours) than post-pay customers.

What challenges to customers, particularly during a pandemic, would frequent service disconnection associated with Flex Pay pose?

Flex Pay customers face the same challenges as post-pay customers. In the case of the COVID-19 pandemic, the Company remains committed to minimizing hardship. To that end, Kentucky Power voluntarily suspended service terminations on March 13, 2020, and suspended the collection of late payment fees effective March 17, 2020. Kentucky Power also has proposed in Case No. 2020-00176 to provide a one-time bill credit to customers using a portion of its unprotected excess ADFIT balance in order to eliminate customer delinquencies that were 30 or more days past due as of May 28, 2020. Had the Company’s Tariff F.P. been in effect during the COVID-19 pandemic, customers taking service under the program would have also been subject to the suspended service terminations and eligible for the one-time bill credit being proposed in Case No. 2020-00176. Tariff F.P. numbered paragraph 4 addresses moratoriums:

4. Should a customer’s balance reach zero, the customer will be notified via the customer’s chosen communication method. The customer will have until the beginning of the next business day to reestablish a positive balance or the customer’s meter will automatically be disconnected during normal business hours regardless of weather or temperature as the customer is responsible for ensuring that the Flex Pay account is adequately funded. Normal business hours are 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. ET, Monday through Friday, excluding Company observed holidays and moratoriums. (Emphasis added) Customers will be required to pay in full any accrued balance for usage during weekends, holidays and moratoriums before service will be restored. Once the customer’s payment is received and accepted, and the customer's Flex Pay account balance is greater than zero, service will be restored by the Company in a timely manner.

What options are available to Flex Pay-enrolled customers who cannot afford to contribute to their account balance immediately after a disconnection?

Customers would have the same options as post-pay customers. They could seek help from the Federal LIHEAP programs and/or the Company's Home Energy Assistance programs (HEART and THAW). Should a customer wish to utilize the Company's Average Monthly Payment Plan or Budget Plan, or seek a Payment Arrangement or reconnection via a Winter Hardship Reconnection, they would be able to do so; however, would be required to cease participation in the Flex Pay Program.

A Flex Pay customer, unlike a post-pay customer, need only pay an amount sufficient to create a positive balance to restore service. A post-pay customer, by comparison, must pay the entire past due balance, plus a reconnection fee, and, under certain circumstances, a deposit.

JI_1_046 Based on past bill and usage data, please offer a tabulation summary of the number of residential customers who in recent years have used over 1,100 kWh/month from December to February, the number of residential customers who in recent years have not met this winter threshold, and the average monthly bill of each group, calculated both under current rates and under the proposed declining block rate structure.

RESPONSE

During the test year, there were 265,972 bills with a total of 243,427,590 kWh over 1,100 kWh/month during the months of December, January and February. The remaining bills during those months did not use in excess of 1,100 kWh. The monthly number of bills data is included in the Company's response to KPSC Staff 2-16. The Company has not performed the specific requested analysis. A similar analysis is included the Company's response to KPSC Staff 3-1, specifically in KPCO_R_KPSC_3_1_Attachment21.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_047 On p. 156 of the Section III Testimony Vol 1, KPC justifies increasing its basic charge: “Because less of the fixed costs will be recovered through the usage-related energy charge, the average customer will see less volatility in bills in high usage months,” which will thus reduce monthly bill volatility. However, KPC still intends to increase its usage-related energy charge. Explain how an increased service charge and energy charge reduce bill volatility, other than by ensuring that bills are consistently higher year-round?

RESPONSE

The Company objects to the request as argumentative. The quoted portion of Company Witness Vaughan's testimony already fully addresses how the Company's proposed winter heating block change to residential rate design will reduce bill volatility.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_048 Given KPC's stated concern with assisting electric heating customers who tend to experience very high usage months in the winter to heat their homes, what plans does KPC have to address such usage by re-offering or creating new energy efficiency programs—including but not limited to button up repairs, on-bill financing, or other home weatherization assistance—that could help these high winter usage customers better control their bills?

RESPONSE

The Company currently offers the Targeted Energy Efficiency ("TEE") program, which is a weatherization program for low-income customers administered by the Community Action Agencies in the Company's service territory. In Case No. 2017-00097, all energy efficiency programs, except for the TEE program, were terminated because of the Company's "significant excess capacity position" and "lack of an immediate and near-term need for capacity and energy." That excess capacity position has continued. Nonetheless, the Company regularly encourages and promotes energy efficiency to its customers through Kentucky Power's website, social media, bill inserts and emails.

The Flex Pay program proposed in the instant case provides customers with a way to help them manage their electric bills. In the direct testimony of Company Witness West at pages 20 through 30, the Flex Pay program is described in detail and explains that customers, if they choose to sign up for this voluntary payment option, will have greater control over the frequency and timing of their payments and can gain a better understanding of their consumption during all times of the year.

The Company intends to deploy a Home Energy Management system (referred to as the Customer Engagement Platform) in 2020. The Customer Engagement Platform is a tool that provides residential customers with energy usage data and cost information during the billing period that they do not have access to today. See the Direct Testimony of Cynthia G. Wiseman pg. 9, lines 14-19 and pg. 15-16. The Customer Engagement Platform will allow residential customers to download energy usage information into an Excel format that is easily transferrable by the customers to third parties assisting the customer to manage the customer's energy usage. Interval data generated by the AMI meter will make the customer's energy data and the platform's benefits more robust by providing access to 15-minute interval energy usage data. There are no conditions, limitations, or fees for providing this standard information.

Dated August 12, 2020

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_049 On p. 160 of the Section III Testimony Vol. 1, KPC argues that a higher kWh charge would not contribute to long-term conservation from customers, for the following reason: “Customers expect that when they use less energy, the usage-related portion of their bills will decrease. However, to the extent that the usage related portion of rates are designed to include a portion of the fixed costs as well, it is likely that as those fixed cost collections diminish because the cost savings from reduced usage are less than the loss in fixed cost collection, the Company will need to increase the usage-related portion of rates. When that happens, customers will see the usage-related portion of their bills increase even though they have conserved energy.” Confirm that this is a choice on KPC’s part to increase the usage-related portion of rates when customers begin to conserve energy. If KPC refrained from doing so, would the higher kWh charge contribute to any, more, or less, long-term conservation measures?

RESPONSE

The Company denies the Joint Intervenors’ assertion. The quoted portion of Company Witness Vaughan’s direct testimony describes basic cost of service and rate math. Fixed costs are named as such because they are fixed and do not decline simply through reduced kWh usage. Please also refer to Company witness Vaughan’s direct testimony at page 16, line 1 through page 17, line 17.

KPSC Case No. 2020-00174
Joint Intervenors First Set of Data Requests
Dated August 12, 2020

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_050 KPC frames its proposed residential rate structure as “a reduction in the intra-class subsidy (over-collection of fixed costs)” that it claims high-usage customers are currently paying to subsidize low-usage customers. Justify and explain this framing? Could another way of framing the company’s proposed rate structure be that the current rate structure does not incorporate intra-class residential subsidies, and that KPC wants to shift towards low usage customers subsidizing high usage customers?

RESPONSE

The Company’s rate design proposals are justified and supported by the various filing schedules in this case and Company Witness Vaughan’s Direct Testimony. No, the Joint Intervenors’ assertion is incorrect from both a cost of service and a math perspective; the Company’s proposal cannot truthfully be framed as such.

Joint Intervenors First Set of Data Requests
Dated August 12, 2020

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_051 How many residential customers, low-income customers, and electric-heating customers average more than 1,100 kWh/month from March to November and from December to February? What are KPC's total number of customers in each rate class?

RESPONSE

There were 491,305 residential customer bills with usage greater than 1,100 kWh/month during the months of March to November during the test year. This information is not available in the requested further delineated format.

The remaining requested information is included in the Company's response to Joint Intervenors 1-46.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_052 Provide the analysis demonstrating that there is an intra-class subsidy between residential customers under the current Service Charge. Demonstrate how and why higher usage and lower-income customers are disadvantaged by the current service charge and how the proposed service charge corrects this. (see Section III, Vol. 1, p.154)

RESPONSE

This analysis has already been provided in Company Witness Vaughan's Direct Testimony, pages 10-18 and the associated exhibits.

JI_1_054 What are the demographics of customers according to their monthly kWh usage? Provide data showing monthly usage based on income bracket. Within each income bracket, what is the distribution of monthly kWh usage?

RESPONSE

The Company does not track usage by income bracket. Please also refer to the Company's response to KYSEIA 1-9.

Joint Intervenors First Set of Data Requests
Dated August 12, 2020

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_055 If the proposed rates are designed to reduce costs for electric heating and higher usage customers while allowing KPC to increase revenue, then is it correct that the additional revenue must be derived from lower-usage customers and non-electric heating customers? What is the proposed amount of cost-shifting that would occur? Explain how KPC justifies this shift as fair, just and reasonable?

RESPONSE

The Company is not proposing any “cost shifting,” it is proposing to reduce the residential intra-class subsidy paid by higher usage customers due to the current rate design, as explained in Company witness Vaughan’s testimony at pages 10-18. The Company’s proposed rate designs are based on its cost of service and cost causation principles. The impacts of the Company’s rate designs at various usage levels is included in the Company’s response to KPSC Staff 3-1, specifically in KPCO_R_KPSC_3_1_Attachment21.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_056 KPC is arguing that customers who use more of their product should pay less for it while those who conserve or have invested in EE and RE, should pay proportionately more. Explain how this is fair, just, and reasonable? See Sec III, Vol. 1, p 158

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_057 With reference to Sec III, Vol 1, p. 158, provide the evidence or analysis that supports the position that declining block rates will not discourage conservation? Provide the evidence showing that reducing volumetric rates by 50% for usage above 1,100 kwh/month will not impact customer's choices about investments in conservation and efficiency.

Dated August 12, 2020

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_058 With reference to Sec II, Vol 2, Exhibit E, p. 290 – Cogeneration / Small Power Producer, provide the justification for crediting on-peak customer generation at $0.0306/kWh when KPC on-peak charges range from $0.157/kwh to $0.1958/kWh? Why is customer-generation on-peak valued about 1 cent/kWh more than generation off-peak; whereas the difference between on-peak and off-peak consumption charges ranges from 7 to 9 cents/kWh?

RESPONSE

The avoided on and off-peak energy rates under the Company's Cogen/SPP tariff are priced at the Company's avoided cost of energy, which the Company would pay a qualifying PURPA generation resource for its output.

The Company's on- and off-peak TOU rates are not priced at the avoided cost of energy. They are priced based upon the Company's cost of service which besides generation energy and capacity costs, includes the cost of the Company's transmission and distribution infrastructure and associated utility operations expense. The two rates are not directly comparable as this request wishes to make them.

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_059 With reference to Sec II, Vol 2, Ex E, p.301, Program TEE, what is the budget for Program TEE and what is the source of funds for Program TEE?

RESPONSE

The approved 2020 budget for the Targeted Energy Efficiency (“TEE”) program is $326,800, as approved by the Commission in Case No. 2019-00410, Order dated December 12, 2019. The TEE program is funded through the Company’s Demand-Side Management rider.

Dated August 12, 2020

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_060      What are the goals in terms of number of customers served and energy savings per customer and for the Program TEE? What are the funding limits per household? Does the program offer services and products for free or at discounted rates?

RESPONSE

The TEE program has a 2020 goal of 120 all-electric home audits and 14 baseload (non-electric heat) home audits. Included in these goals are 58 electric furnace to heat pump change outs and 11 heat pump to heat pump replacements. The 2020 gross energy savings target per customer is 3,005 kWh annually and the 2020 total gross energy savings for the TEE program is 402,670 kWh.

The TEE program funds are provided to Community Action Agencies (“CAAs”) as supplemental funding for the U.S. Department of Energy (“DOE”) Weatherization Assistance Program (“WAP”). The TEE program funding guidelines allow for approximately $1,250 per all-electric home and $150 for a baseload home. The funding limit for an electric furnace to heat pump change out is $2,600 and $1,600 for a heat pump replacement. The funding level for each home varies depending on the needs of each home. The CAAs utilize the National Energy Audit Tool and the Manufactured Home Energy Audit (NEAT/MHEA) software to determine the cost effectiveness of each measure installed in the home. The installation of the measures are free to the customer, but in rare cases, some measures may be offered at a discount.

Joint Intervenors First Set of Data Requests
Dated August 12, 2020

DATA REQUEST

JI_1_061      The Program TEE tariff states that eligible customers use an average 700 kWh/month. Is that the minimum or maximum for eligibility? Why was 700 kWh/month chosen? Explain why the program is restricted to customers with electric heating or electric water heating? Does the “electric heating” restriction mean electric resistance heaters only or would homes with heat pumps also be eligible?

RESPONSE

The 700 kWh per month average is a minimum eligibility requirement. The usage level was placed into effect upon program inception in 1996 and is the minimum usage deemed for the program to be cost effective. In 2015, the Company filed a ten-year Demand Side Management (“DSM”) Program Plan as part of its DSM Filing in Case No. 2015-00271. In the 2015 Program Plan, the third-party evaluator re-affirmed the 700kWh eligibility requirement.

The TEE program is available to residential customers utilizing electric heating with a usage of at least 700 kWh per month. Residential customers with usage of at least 700 kWh per month who utilize non-electric heating and have an electric water heater are also eligible. Since Kentucky Power is a winter peaking utility, the Company wanted to ensure customers who utilize the most electricity for heating would receive the most weatherization benefits. Non-electric heating customers receive limited weatherization measures. The electric heating restrictions mean a customer whose main home heating source is electric resistance heat, electric baseboard heat, or electric heat pump is eligible.
