"Surviving College" Booklets Can Help Freshman, Adults

"Surviving College," a guide that helps college freshmen succeed during their first year on campus, is available free from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA).

"The transition to higher education can be a stressful time for students and parents. Students who are more aware of the changes they face when entering college have a better chance of making a successful transition, which translates to a greater chance of finishing their studies," said Gov. Andy Beshear. "Students, especially those who are the first in their family to attend college, will find a wealth of helpful information in this booklet, as will parents who are sending their oldest child off to college."

The booklets provide graduating seniors with a way to better prepare themselves for their first semester of college.

The 36-page booklet includes sections about:

- * Staying healthy and safe on campus;
- * Learning styles and study tips;
- * Campus life; and
- * Financial basics.

KHEAA also provides a free guide called "Surviving College for Adults," which is geared toward nontraditional students.

To order a free copy of these guides, email publications@kheaa.com and be sure to include your mailing address. Online versions of both publications are available at kheaa.com.

KHEAA is the state agency that administers the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES), need-based grants and other programs to help students pay their higher education expenses. It also disburses low-cost Advantage Education Loans for its sister agency, the Kentucky Higher Education Student Loan Corporation (KHESLC). For more information about Advantage Education Loans, visit advantageeducationloan.com.

For more information about Kentucky scholarships and grants, visit kheaa.com; write KHEAA at P.O. Box 798, Frankfort, KY 40602; or call 800-928-8926.

Trustworthy Guidance For Growing Older

Q: When I was young, I didn't have good role models. Nor, did I receive the best counsel. Now, that I am an adult I want to live good life. What advice would you give on growing older?

A: I posed your question to the men in our Sunday school class and here is their council:

1. Live diligently for God. A half-hearted commitment to God produces emptiness, but a whole hearted commitment to Him is fully satisfying (Ps. 119:2).

2. Take the time each day to read the Bible and pray. God loves you and really wants to have an intimate fellowship with you. A good place to start reading is the Gospel of John. Before you read, ask God to speak to you. Prayer is talking to God and listening for Him to speak back to your spirit.

3. Maintain your health. Without eating wholesome foods and exercising regularly, your body will not continue to work properly. Without good health, retirement with plenty of money is of little value.

4. Listen to solid advice. Some advice is good and some is bad. Ask God for wisdom to discern the difference (James 1:5). Follow the good council and reject the bad.

5. Maintain high integrity. Keep your word. Pay your bills. Keep your promises. Help people. A good reputation is invaluable. "A good name is more desirable than great riches" (Pro. 22:1).
