4. In response to Commission's request #7, counsel states as follows:

In consultation with the District's Certified Public Accountant, a thorough review of the District's financial conditional and a review of the increase of operational costs, an across-the-board increase of 10% was determined to be sufficient to provide financial stability for the District for the future while representing a fair increase since the last rate increase in 2008.

The District considered a cost of water rate study be completed but the cost of the study was prohibitive.

No other methods were considered.

Respectfully submitted,
