NOTICE

On December 29, 2022 Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc. tendered an application with the Kentucky Public Service Commission Case No. 2022-00049. Columbia proposes to adopt a five-year pilot for a voluntary program whereby eligible residential and commercial customers may opt-in to a volumetric rate, the collections of which are used to offset the carbon emissions generated by customer usage. Only customers that sign up for this voluntary program will be impacted by the proposed Rider rates. There is no impact on the existing rates of any customer. Florence hired as new library director

BY BECKY BARNES
EDITOR
BBARNES@CYNTHIANADEMOCRAT.COM

Rhonda Florence has wanted to come home for some time, but she couldn't find work that suited her talents. However, with the resignation of former librarian Kinzie Gaunce, the opportunity was there.

Florence was hired to replace Gaunce as the Cynthia-Harrison County Public Library's director.

"I feel very lucky to be here," Florence said. "I'm just excited for new things."

Florence was retired from a North Carolina school district for exactly one week, when she realized that retirement wasn't something that held her interest.

She worked as a school librarian in an elementary school, but also has been a community college librarian as well as served a couple of public libraries.

Florence said that she contacted Gaunce about a possible position and asked that she be contacted if anything came available in her hometown. She said she wasn't expecting the director's position to be open.

She began in her new position on April 10.

She said her first plan is to get settled in and working on the new budget. She said one of the most exciting things for the library is a new bookmobile coming this summer. The Summer Reading Program will also be returning this year.

"I've got to figure out what the community needs," Florence said, adding that there could be some grants available that could help with special programs to get people involved.

Florence is a 1980 graduate of Harrison County High School. She earned her bachelor's in economics and English then went on to get her master's degree in library science at the University of North Carolina at Greensboro.

She is the daughter of Ron and Carol Florence of Cynthia. She has two adult children: a daughter who lives in North Carolina and a son and his wife who live in Bardstown, Ky. She also has two dogs, a Feist and a beagle/dachshund/lab mix.

Zumwalt out as Recreation Director

BY LEE KENDALL
NEWS WRITER
LKENDALL@CYNTHIANA
DEMOCRAT.COM

Barry Zumwalt tendered his resignation as the Cynthia-Harrison County Recreation Director, rather than accept a demotion to assistant director, on Thursday, April 20, following a Recreation Department Board Meeting.

The nine-person board recommended to County Judge-Executive Jason Marshall that Zumwalt be terminated now, rather than wait until the coming summer season begins for outdoor sports.

"When I was campaigning, about a year ago, there was a lot of dissatisfaction with the recreation department," said Marshall, who ultimately let Zumwalt know of his termination. "I offered Barry the opportunity to stay on as the assistant director, but he turned that down and submitted his resignation."

The nine-member board that met in executive session last Thursday to discuss Zumwalt's future included chairperson H.D. Batson, city commissioners Lourena Judy and David Conner, magistrates Brad Yearsley and Charlie Garnett, city at-large members Fonze Custard and Jay Brown and county at-large members Michael Meyer and Noelle Currans. Brown was not present at Thursday night's meeting.

In a telephone interview, on Monday, Conner said the board was not satisfied with the progress the Recreation Department was making.

"It wasn't really one big thing that led to this, it was a lot of little things," he said. "A lot of the things that were supposed to get finished were not getting finished."

Marshall agreed with what Conner said and added, "We're looking for more efficiency, a strong work ethic, someone who is energetic and just the right person for the job."

Both the city and county governments chip in to fund the Recreation Department, but it is the county that is responsible for writing payroll checks and it is the county that is responsible for hiring and firing personnel.

Marshall said that he would like to hire that 'right person' within the next two months. In the meantime, former recreation director Rick Chasteen has been hired to fill Zumwalt's position, on an interim basis.

Attempts to contact Zumwalt and Chasteen were unsuccessful.

NOTICE

On December 29, 2022 Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc. tendered an application with the Kentucky Public Service Commission Case No. 2022-00049. Columbia proposes to adopt a five-year pilot for a voluntary program whereby eligible residential and commercial customers may opt-in to a volumetric rate, the collections of which are used to offset the carbon emissions generated by customer usage. The rider will be called the "Green Path" Rider, proposed to be effective after July 1, 2023. The text of the proposed tariff is shown below. Only customers that sign up for this voluntary program will be impacted by the proposed Rider rates. There is no impact on the existing rates of any customer. Because it is a new tariff, there is no present rate for this proposed rider. If a customer elects to participate in this voluntary pilot, the estimated bill impact is outlined in the table below:

Customer Type	Average Monthly Usage	Bill Impact - 50% Option	Bill Impact - Net Zero Option
Residential	5.6 Mcf	$10.02	$20.03
Commercial	27.3 Mcf	$48.82	$97.64

A person may examine this tariff filing at the offices of Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc., located at 2001 Mercer Road, Lexington, KY 40511 (800) 432-9345 or its website <https://www.columbiagasky.com/>. Comments regarding the application may be submitted to the Public Service Commission through its Web site or by mail to Public Service Commission, Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602.

The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc. but the Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from the proposed rates contained in this notice. Tre Johnson, the No. 1-ranked prospect in the class of 2024, plays for Houston Hoops on the Nike EYBL circuit. He took an official visit to UK in January.

offer in small forward Amier Ali.

(On Monday afternoon, Ali included Kentucky among his top eight schools under consideration).

Johnson was a combined 22-for-60 (36.67%) from the field over the weekend, while making nearly 42% of his three-point shots. He scored in double figures in all four games.

Johnson was an active distributor, dishing out at least four assists in each of his games, which fit well with his stated goal to display more of a true point guard ability.

As the No. 1 player nationally in the class, Johnson already has an impressive body of work: He led his Lake Highlands High School team to a Texas state championship in March.

Johnson took an official junior year visit to UK in January for Kentucky's home game against Kansas. Johnson will visit the Jayhawks in May, and he also took junior year officials to Baylor (where his father played) and Texas.

One of the assistant coaches at Baylor when Johnson's father played at the school was Rodney Terry, the newly minted permanent head coach at Texas.

Across four games with the PSA Cardinals (2-2), the 6-3 Fland largely struggled to score, aside from one outlier performance. Fland had 31 points on 9-for-16 shooting from the field (including 5-for-9 from three-point range) in a Saturday afternoon loss.

Fland had nine or fewer points in the other three games he played last weekend, but recorded at least four assists in two of those games.

The charismatic and dynamic ball handler from New York has already taken an official visit to North Carolina, the school that edged out Kentucky for another top backcourt prospect in the 2024 class in Ian Jackson.

Fland is a five-star recruit who is ranked as the No. 7 overall player in the 2024 class by the 247Sports Composite. He's expected to strongly consider Kentucky for an official visit.

UK LEGACY RECRUIT STARS IN ATLANTA

No player at the Nike EYBL session in Atlanta was more impressive as a raw scorer than class of 2024 small forward Karter Knox, the younger brother of former UK player Kevin Knox.

The 6-6 Knox is fourth in the EYBL in points per game after a weekend in which he had scoring outputs of 20, 27, 21 and 17 points for his Florida Rebels (2-2) team. Knox shot the ball at a blistering 60.8% clip from the field and had the same three-point success (10-for-24) as Johnson, the top-ranked recruit in the 2024 class.

Knox's average of 1.8 steals per contest is also among the leaders in EYBL play thus far.

His recruitment has largely been framed as a Kentucky vs. Louisville battle, given his close connections to both schools.

Knox's older brother was on hand to watch him play at the Nike EYBL session, as was Louisville head coach Kenny Payne.

KENTUCKY OFFERS SCHOLARSHIPS TO AHMAD NOWELL, KOA PEAT, DARIUS ACUFF JR.

It is exceedingly rare for a top high school prospect to announce his college commitment at a grassroots basketball event, especially one that isn't the Nike EYBL season-ending Peach Jam in July.

Therefore, most of the meaningful moments that come from these events, especially during recruiting live periods, are the extension of scholarship offers to players after a final in-person assessment.

Kentucky did this three times in recent days.

In Atlanta during the Nike EYBL session, UK offered a scholarship to class of 2024 combo guard Ahmad Nowell of Team Final.

Nowell is four-star recruit who is ranked as the No. 33 overall player in his class, per the 247Sports Composite. In four games with Team Final (3-1), Nowell averaged five assists per game with an assists-to-turnover ratio of nearly 7-to-1.

The 6-foot, 180-pound Nowell made a scintillating 66.7% of his shots from the field, and 52.9% of his three-pointers. He scored double-digit points on three occasions.

UK has had plenty of chances to watch Nowell play: He was a high school teammate of incoming Kentucky Wildcat Justin Edwards at Imhotep Institute in Philadelphia.

The other player to earn a Kentucky scholarship offer over the weekend was five-star power forward Koa Peat, a member of the 2025 recruiting class from Arizona.

Peat plays on the Adidas 3SSB circuit with Compton Magic.

The 6-8 Peat was scheduled for a recruiting visit to Nebraska at the end of last weekend, and has family ties to the Big Ten school: His brother played football for the Cornhuskers.

Peat's offer list already features a who's who of college basketball blue bloods: Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, North Carolina and UCLA among them.

Prior to receiving the scholarship offer from Kentucky, Calipari was courtside to watch Peat score 29 points in a win.

On Monday afternoon, Darius Acuff Jr. also reported a scholarship offer from Kentucky.

Acuff is a member of the 2025 recruiting class, which means he is one of just three players in the 2025 class to have a UK scholarship offer, joining Peat and Ohio-based shooting guard Darryn Peterson.

Acuff is a Michigan-based prospect who doesn't yet have a ranking according to the 247Sports Composite.

Other scholarship offers for the 6-1, 165-pound point guard include Michigan and Pittsburgh.

Acuff plays for The Family on the Nike EYBL circuit and he averaged more than 18 points per game across The Family's four games (2-2) in Atlanta last weekend.

He shot 60% from the field (30-for-50) and 46.7% on three-point shots (7-for-15) during the opening weekend of Nike EYBL play.

NIKE SHIFTS TO PHOENIX, ADIDAS TO TEXAS THIS WEEKEND

With grassroots basketball action now in full swing, the sessions will start coming thick and fast, including this weekend.

The Nike EYBL circuit will be in Phoenix from Friday through Sunday, while the Adidas 3SSB circuit will be in Bryan, Texas, during the same period.

This upcoming weekend is another recruiting live period, so you can expect college coaches to again make good use of their frequent-flyer miles.

Louisville City FC resumes its journey in the 2023 Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup on Wednesday night when it visits Major League Soccer's FC Cincinnati.

Louisville City, a perennial power at the USL Championship Level, won its opening match in the U.S. Open Cup on April 5 when it defeated USL League One expansion franchise Lexington Sporting Club, 1-0.

Clubs from USL Championship and USL League

One begin play in the tournament in the second round, which included the Lexington vs. Louisville match. Teams from the MLS enter the event in the third round, so this will be FC Cincinnati's first match in this year's U.S. Open Cup.

Louisville City and FC Cincinnati maintained the USL Championship's fiercest rivalry from 2016-2018 until Cincinnati made its move to the MLS. Louisville City held the edge in league meetings with a 4-3-2 record, while FC Cincinnati won both prior U.S. Open Cup contests in 2017 (third round) and 2019 (fourth round).

Wednesday's 7 p.m. meeting at TQL Stadium, which will be streamed on YouTube, will be the first since a preseason match in 2021 and the first that counted since their 2019 game in the U.S. Open Cup.

Louisville City's best finish in a U.S. Open Cup came in 2018 when it advanced to the quarterfinals. While lower-level teams often create excitement in the single-elimination tournament, ultimately it is won by a team from the MLS. Since Major League Soccer debuted in 1996, MLS clubs have won the U.S. Open Cup every year but one.

The winner of the 2023 U.S. Open Cup will receive $300,000 in prize money, with the runner-up getting $100,000. The team that advances the furthest from each lower division will take home $25,000.

NOTICE

On December 29, 2022 Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc. tendered an application with the Kentucky Public Service Commission Case No. 2022-00049. Columbia proposes to adopt a five-year pilot for a voluntary program whereby eligible residential and commercial customers may opt-in to a volumetric rate, the collections of which are used to offset the carbon emissions generated by customer usage. The rider will be called the "Green Path" Rider, proposed to be effective after July 1, 2023. The text of the proposed tariff is shown below. Only customers that sign up for this voluntary program will be impacted by the proposed Rider rates. There is no impact on the existing rates of any customer. Because it is a new tariff, there is no present rate for this proposed rider. If a customer elects to participate in this voluntary pilot, the estimated bill impact is outlined in the table below:

Customer Type	Average Monthly Usage	Bill Impact – 50% Option	Bill Impact – Net Zero Option
Residential	5.6 Mcf	$10.02	$20.03
Commercial	27.3 Mcf	$48.82	$97.64

A person may examine this tariff filing at the offices of Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc., located at 2001 Mercer Road, Lexington, KY 40511 (800) 432-9345 or its website <https://www.columbiagas.com/>. A person may examine the tariff filing at the Commission's offices located at 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601, Monday through Friday, 8:00a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or through the Commission's website at <http://psc.ky.gov>. Comments regarding the application may be submitted to the Public Service Commission through its Web site or by mail to Public Service Commission, Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602.

The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc. but the Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from the proposed rates contained in this notice. Any person may submit a timely written request to intervene to the Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, establishing the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. If the Commission does not receive a request to intervene within thirty (30) days of the initial publication of this notice, the Commission may take final action on the tariff filing.

NOTICE
 On December 29, 2022 Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc. tendered an application with the Kentucky Public Service Commission Case No. 2022-00049. Columbia proposes to adopt a five-year pilot for a voluntary program whereby eligible residential and commercial customers may opt-in to a volumetric rate, the collections of which are used to offset the carbon emissions generated by customer usage. The rider will be called the "Green Path" Rider, proposed to be effective after July 1, 2023. The text of the proposed tariff is shown below. Only customers that sign up for this voluntary program will be impacted by the proposed Rider rates. There is no impact on the existing rates of any customer. Because it is a new tariff, there is no present rate for this proposed rider. If a customer elects to participate in this voluntary pilot, the estimated bill impact is outlined in the table below:

Customer Type	Average Monthly Usage	Bill Impact - 50% Option	Bill Impact - Net Zero Option
Residential	5.6 Mcf	$10.02	$20.03
Commercial	27.3 Mcf	$48.82	$97.64

A person may examine this tariff filing at the offices of Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc., located at 2001 Mercer Road, Lexington, KY 40511 (800) 432-9345 or its website <https://www.columbiagasky.com/>. A person may examine the tariff filing at the Commission's offices located at 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601, Monday through Friday, 8:00a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or through the Commission's website at <http://psc.ky.gov>. Comments regarding the application may be submitted to the Public Service Commission through its Web site or by mail to Public Service Commission, Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602.
 The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc. but the Commission may order rates to be charged that differ from the proposed rates contained in this notice. Any person may submit a timely written request to intervene to the Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, establishing the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. If the Commission does not receive a request to intervene within thirty (30) days of the initial publication of this notice, the Commission may take final action on the tariff filing.

GREEN PATH RIDER

APPLICABILITY
 Applicable to all electing residential sales service customers and commercial sales service customers throughout the entire service territory of Columbia Gas of Kentucky. See Sheet No. 8 for a list of communities.

PURPOSE
 The Green Path Rider is a voluntary, volumetric rider available to residential and commercial sales service customers who are focused on their carbon footprint and would like the option to decarbonize some of, or all of, their emissions related to their natural gas consumption. Collections from the Green Path Rider will be used to purchase the environmental attributes of renewable natural gas ("RNG") and carbon offsets to provide customers a two-tiered option to reduce their emissions by 50% or to 100% ("Net Zero"). The Green Path Rider charge will be updated annually to align with the variable costs associated with the RNG and Carbon Offsets procured as well as the costs associated with implementing the rider.

AVAILABILITY
 Available to any customer which receives service under the GS Rate Schedule and meets the following requirements:
 (1) Customer agrees to enroll in the program with the Company for a minimum term of one month.
 (2) Customer is current on their natural gas bill and does not have an outstanding balance,
 (3) Customer selects either the Net Zero Option or the 50% Option by contacting Columbia's call center

GREEN GAS PROGRAM RATES
 Company shall file an annual report with the Commission which shall contain an updated Green Path Rider rate and shall be filed at least ninety (90) days prior to the beginning of each annual period. The Green Path Rider will follow the rider surcharge schedule as set forth below:
 Green Path Rider 50% Option 1.7883 per Mcf
 Green Path Rider Net Zero Option 3.5766 per Mcf

NOTICE

On December 29, 2022 Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc. tendered an application with the Kentucky Public Service Commission Case No. 2022-00010. Columbia proposes to adopt a five-year pilot for a voluntary program whereby eligible residential and commercial customers may opt-in to a volumetric rate, the collections of which are used to offset the carbon emissions generated by customer usage. The rider will be called the "Green Path" Rider, proposed to be effective after July 1, 2023. The text of the proposed tariff is shown below. Only customers that sign up for this voluntary program will be impacted by the proposed rider rates. There is no impact on the existing rates of any customer. Because it is a new tariff, there is no present rate for this proposed rider. If a customer elects to participate in this voluntary pilot, the estimated bill impact is outlined in the table below:

Customer Type	Average Monthly Usage	Bill Impact - 50% Option	Bill Impact - Net Zero Option
Residential	5.6 Mcf	$10.02	$20.03
Commercial	27.3 Mcf	$40.82	$97.64

A person may examine this tariff filing at the offices of Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc., located at 2001 Mercer Road, Lexington, KY 40511 (800) 432-9345 or its website <https://www.columbiagas.com>. A person may examine the tariff filing at the Commission's offices located at 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or through the Commission's website at <http://psc.ky.gov>. Comments regarding the application may be submitted to the Public Service Commission through its Web site or by mail to Public Service Commission, Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602.

The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc. but the Commission may order rates to be changed that differ from the proposed rates contained in this notice. Any person may submit a timely written request to intervene to the Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, establishing the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. If the Commission does not receive a request to intervene within thirty (30) days of the initial publication of this notice, the Commission may take final action on the tariff filing.

The York Bee Farm is abuzz

By Morgan Hall
The Greenup Beacon

The York family is bringing something sweet to the table. Grant, Brandy and their son Connor, age 11, who's a 5th grader at Summit Elementary. They reside in Boyd County, where they manage a growing apiary just outside of town, and they are now in year four of beekeeping.

Brandy York shares the differences in Bee keeping and how its evolved since last year. "Last year we came out of winter with one active colony. We purchased a package of bees and caught a swarm, which brought us up to three colonies by mid spring.

All of those hives survived this past winter, and we're adding two additional colonies that we just purchased. We're also trying to catch additional swarms."

Bee behavior can change from one season to another, York elaborates on those changes.

"Swarming is the main behavior change in the spring. Swarming is how colonies replicate. Approximately half of the bees will leave the hive with the old queen in search of a new home, while the remaining half stay with the new queen."

Preparation is key to making a successful colony, York explains the duties of the beekeeper to their respective hive. In late winter/early spring, colonies are prone to starvation. New bees are being born, and the nectar flow hasn't started yet. The main task for the beekeeper is to make sure the colonies have enough food to make it until nectar is available and feed the bees sugar water if necessary."

Inquiring minds would like to know when the honey will be available, York sheds some light on the honey production. "It varies from year to year, but honey is produced when the nectar flow begins. This year our bees were bringing in nectar in March. We're already busy checking our honey boxes. It's difficult for first year colonies to produce extra honey, there's just so much other stuff for them to do. As we only had one overwintered colony last year, we were only able to harvest from it. This year we expect to harvest from three colonies, so we do expect to have more honey this year."

The York's Bee Farm has three active colonies, York explains roughly how many bees that would be. "Somewhere between 100,000 to 150,000 between our three active colonies."

The average bee keeper has several responsibilities to their bees. York describes the responsibilities of a beekeeper. "The health of the bees is the main responsibility. Making sure the colony is in a safe location, regularly checking to make sure the bees have room to expand in their boxes."

Bees like to eat. "Protein, in the form of pollen and carbohydrates in the form of nectar. The honey produced by them is their winter food supply and they typically don't consume it when nectar is available.

York shared the honey supply is all determined by the bees. "We'd love to be able to say how much we plan to sell, but it depends on the bees and it's still early in the spring. Keep an eye on our Facebook page for updates on availability."

In conclusion, the York family encourage others to get into bee keeping and share one of their beekeeping resources with our readers. "Grant York serves as the treasurer of the Northeast Kentucky Beekeepers Association, which meets the second Monday of each month at 6pm at the Boyd County Fairgrounds, and is open to all who are actively beekeeping or simply have an interest in beekeeping, and is a great resource to those who may want to get into beekeeping themselves!"

CITY OF VERSAILLES
ORDINANCE NO. 2023-4
TITLE: AN ORDINANCE AUTHORIZING THE CITY TO MAINTAIN COMMON AREAS AND STORMWATER FACILITIES ON PRIVATE PROPERTY AND CHARGE THE HOMEOWNERS BENEFITTING FROM THIS SERVICE WITH THE COST OF MAINTENANCE.

Whereas, stormwater detention and retention facilities located on private property within the City of Versailles perform an important function in stormwater management that directly affects the health, safety and welfare of the citizens; and

Whereas, there are frequently open and undeveloped areas within subdivisions not associated with any occupied lot or parcel that will quickly become an unsightly nuisance without regular maintenance;

Whereas, these facilities and open areas are often designated on the plats of subdivisions as HOA, or Homeowners Association property, with the intention that the lot owners within the subdivision will form a Homeowners Association that will undertake the maintenance and management of these facilities and open areas; and

Whereas, it has been the experience of the City of Versailles that lot owners within subdivisions are often reluctant to form a Homeowners Association leaving maintenance and management of these important facilities and areas to the better natures of their neighbors while neglecting individual responsibility for the maintenance and management of these structures and areas; and

Whereas, it is very important to the City of Versailles that stormwater detention facilities be properly maintained and that open and undeveloped areas be properly mowed and maintained; and

Whereas, it is appropriate that the costs of such maintenance be allocated to the persons benefitting from the service,
 NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED IN THE CITY OF VERSAILLES, KENTUCKY as follows:

Section 1. The City of Versailles is hereby authorized to undertake maintenance and management of stormwater detention, retention and management facilities located within the City when the property owners benefitted by the stormwater facilities fail to provide adequate maintenance of the stormwater facilities.

A. Such maintenance shall include:
 1. Mowing and weedeating to the standards for stormwater retention areas established in the Subdivision Regulations or on the recorded plat for the subdivision; and
 2. Clearing the retention area of leaves, litter, silt, dirt, tree limbs, or any debris that may obstruct the flow of water through such facilities.

B. Such maintenance shall not include:
 1. Landscaping or replacing landscaping;

What's happening at the Library?

BY JAMES GARDNER
Clark County Public Library

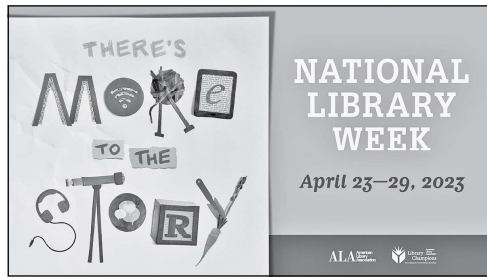

I lived in a town that didn't have a library, and it was terrible. Of course, I didn't know how awful it was then. Growing up, I was content with Saturday morning cartoons and Sunday afternoon movies, trips to larger towns for cassettes by bands like Bon Jovi and Def Leppard, and to comic book stores to stock up on the multiple holographic covers of X-Men #1. I savored those chances to absorb other media, but I didn't realize what I was really missing until later in life. I even had to get a BA and then a Master's in English before really discovering what libraries are and what they mean to the community. Now that I work in one, and since National Library Week is this week, I think it's time to make known what I've discovered and what people can still discover about libraries.

I like many people who haven't frequented a library, thought it was just a place to get books. In my defense, look at how librarians are portrayed on television, sitting behind a desk, stamping books, and shushing people. A lot has changed. At the very least, we scan books now thanks to the barcode technology used in many fine retail establishments like Kroger. I also learned the many ways that libraries could help communities.

Sure, we have books, but we also have movies. Patrons can get up to twenty DVDs on their card, and we have one of the widest selections of movies anywhere, from scary to sentimental dramas to documentaries. If waiting for a movie to come on a streaming service is too much hassle, check the library to see what can make your movie night.

I used to go to many Waldenbooks and comic book stores back in the day, but the library has made those sojourns obsolete. Why buy all the books I want to read when the library can get them at no cost to the patron? And as a fan of graphic novels (stories told in a comic format), the library has a plethora to choose from and subscription services like Hoopla mean I can get my Spider-Man or Hulk fix on my phone. All I need is an internet connection or a library card.

But there's so much more. Need a hotspot to get online? Check out the library. Need seeds for your garden? Check out your library. Need some bakeware to make the perfect cake? Check. I could go on and on, and it feels like I may have. But one of my biggest regrets in life (besides not investing in Microsoft) is not getting to a library sooner. People might attack the library as just a place to get books and possibly be silenced, but it is a place that is there to help its patrons find any information and ideas they need. It is a place to share stories and ideas, to improve lives and build community. I came to the information party late, but I'm thankful that my home county now has a library. I hope it continues to grow because I know how libraries can benefit communities. I might be a late convert, but the library has had nothing to do with my paycheck and everything to do with seeing firsthand how a strong library makes a strong community. Something else the library has? Movies! On Wednesday, April 26th, at 2 p.m., join the Kentucky Picture Show for a trip back to the last day of summer vacation in 1962, where friends Curt (Richard Dreyfuss), Steve (Ronny Howard), Terry (Charles Martin Smith) and John (Paul Le Mat) cruise the streets of small-town California while a mysterious disc jockey (Wollman Jack) spins classic rock 'n' roll tunes that serve as a soundtrack for one wild night.

On Wednesday, April 26th, at 6 p.m., the KY Picture Show at Night will introduce viewers to Otto Anderson (Tom Hanks), a grumpy widower whose only joy comes from criticizing and judging his exasperated neighbors. When a lively young family moves in next door, he meets his match in quick-witted and very pregnant Marisol, leading to an unexpected friendship that will turn his world upside-down.

Study puts Kentucky in top 10 for road quality

BY STEVE BITTENBENDER
The Center Square

Kentucky earned high marks in a study released Thursday examining the conditions of roads and the cost-effectiveness of maintaining them.

The Bluegrass State came in seventh overall nationally in Reason Foundation's Annual Highway Report. The study, which uses 2020 data, is based on 13 metrics, and Kentucky ranked 30th or higher in 11 of those.

The report found Kentucky was the best state regarding administrative disbursements, which covers the share of bureaucratic costs in maintaining state highways. The state's disbursement per mile is $552, 11% of the expected cost per mile of $4,871.

Arkansas was the second most-efficient state, with its administrative costs at 19% of expectations.

With nearly 62,350 miles of highways in its system, Kentucky has the nation's eighth-largest network of state-controlled roads.

Kentucky also came in sixth nationally regarding the condition of its urban highways. The study found that less than 3.6% of its four- to eight-lane highways are considered in poor condition. That's compared to 14.2% nationally. The state did rank low in two categories related to fatalities. On urban highways, Kentucky had 1.26 deaths per 100 million miles driven. That was 40th nationally and higher than the national average of 1.04.

On other roadways, including local streets, Kentucky's rate of 2.14 deaths per 100 million miles driven was 48th nationally and ahead of only Mississippi (2.16) and West Virginia (2.28). The national average for fatalities on minor and local streets was 1.54.

"To improve in the rankings, Kentucky needs to reduce its other fatality rate and urban fatality rate," said Barbara Feigenbaum, the report's lead author and senior managing director of transportation policy at Reason Foundation. "While it may be challenging for Kentucky to have fatality rates as low as (other states), the state can improve from its bottom 15 rankings in both categories."

Two of Kentucky's neighbors finished with higher rankings. Virginia was the top state in the foundation's report, and Tennessee finished third. Missouri just missed a top 10 listing, as it was 11th overall. Ohio came in 17th, six spots higher than Indiana. Illinois was ranked 29th, and West Virginia was 39th.

Alaska was ranked last in the study.

NOTICE

On December 29, 2022 Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc. tendered an application with the Kentucky Public Service Commission Case No. 2022-00049. Columbia proposes to adopt a five-year pilot for a voluntary program whereby eligible residential and commercial customers may opt-in to a volumetric rate, the collections of which are used to offset the carbon emissions generated by customer usage. The rider will be called the "Green Path" Rider, proposed to be effective after July 1, 2023. The text of the proposed tariff is shown below. Only customers that sign up for this voluntary program will be impacted by the proposed Rider rates. There is no impact on the existing rates of any customer. Because it is a new tariff, there is no present rate for this proposed rider. If a customer elects to participate in this voluntary pilot, the estimated bill impact is outlined in the table below:

Customer Type	Average Monthly Usage	Bill Impact - 50% Option	Bill Impact - Net Zero Option
Residential	5.6 Mcf	$10.02	$20.03
Commercial	27.3 Mcf	$48.82	$97.64

A person may examine this tariff filing at the offices of Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc., located at 2001 Mercer Road, Lexington, KY 40511 (800) 452-9303 (<https://www.columbiagas.com>). A person may submit a timely written request to intervene to the Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601, Monday through Friday, 8:00am, to 4:30 pm, or through the Commission's website at <http://psc.ky.gov>. Comments regarding the application may be submitted to the Public Service Commission through its Web site or by mail to Public Service Commission, Post Office Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602.

The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Columbia Gas of Kentucky, Inc., but the Commission may order rates to be changed that differ from the proposed rates contained in this notice. Any person may submit a timely written request to intervene to the Commission, 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, establishing the grounds for the request including the status and interest of the party. If the Commission does not receive a request to intervene within thirty (30) days of the initial publication of this notice, the Commission may take final action on the tariff filing.

APPLICABILITY
Applicable to all electing residential sales service customers and commercial sales service customers throughout the entire service territory of Columbia Gas of Kentucky. See Sheet No. 8 for a list of communities.

PURPOSE

The Green Path Rider charge will be updated annually to align with the variable costs associated with the RNG and Carbon Offsets procured as well as the costs associated with implementing the rider.

AVAILABILITY

- Customer agrees to enroll in the program with the Company for a minimum term of one month.
- Customer is current on their natural gas bill and does not have an outstanding balance.
