Kansas City Chiefs win Super Bowl LVIII!!!

By Michael Clary KyNewsGroup

Super Bowl LVIII was this past Sunday, Feb. 12, 2023, at the State Farm Stadium in Glendale, Arizona. The Kansas City Chiefs, led by QB Patrick Mahomes, faced off against the Philadelphia Eagles, led by QB Jalen Hurts. This year's Super Bowl was significant because it featured brothers Tim and Jason Kelce facing off against one another on opposing teams.

The pre-game festivities included R&B singer Babyface performing "America The Beautiful", actress Sheryl Lee Ralph performing "Lift Every Voice And Sing" and Ky. native Chris Stapleton singing a spectacular performance of the national anthem. Each song was also interpreted in American Sign Language by 2022 Oscar winner Troy Kotsur.

The game began with Kansas City winning the coin toss and deferring to the Eagles. Both teams were pretty well stacked against one another, with each team scoring well during the first half. The Eagles had the momentum going into halftime with a ten-point lead, with a score of 24-14, and Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes aggravating a previously injured high ankle sprain during the final minutes of the half. R&B singer Rihanna performed a pretty lackeruster set during the Halftime Show featuring a floating stage setup where she performed a plethora of her hit songs, which included "Work", "Umbrella", "Run This Town" and more. The set featured no special guests, a few racy dance moves, and her debut of a baby bump, which she publicly revealed the next day that she was expecting her second child with rapper ASAP Rocky, which explains why the pregnant singer pretty much performed the Super Bowl set without a lot of physical movement.

The second half began with a TD drive from the Chiefs, led by Mahomes, who showed no signs of the ankle sprain bothering him. Both teams were tied at 35-35 in the final few minutes of the game, when a defensive holding penalty was called on the Eagles, giving the Chiefs a new set of downs and putting them in field goal range. The Chiefs then kneeled a few times to wind the clock down to less than a minute and kicked the game-winning field goal to end the Super Bowl with a score of 38-35 and their third overall Super Bowl win. The first being at Super Bowl 4 in 1970 against the Vikings, the second at Super Bowl 54 in 2020 against the 49ers, and this year against the Eagles.

KC Chiefs QB Patrick Mahomes was subsequently named the Super Bowl MVP.

Wisely use your tax refund

It's that time of year when we get excited about our tax refunds. By responsibly using this one-time infusion of cash, you can improve your financial standing.

You could wisely use your tax refund to add to your emergency savings account. Most of us do not have enough money saved in the event of job loss, illness or another unexpected event that prevents us from working. Most financial experts recommend having at least six months of income saved to help you work through financial hardship. This fund can also help cover unexpected or emergency household repairs.

You could also choose to reduce your debt with your tax refund. Paying off high-interest debt as quickly as possible is a financial win-win because it reduces the principal on your loan and lowers future interest payments.

Make an extra mortgage payment toward the principal. Much of a mortgage loan goes toward interest and not the principal itself.

Investing in your family's future is always a wise move as it will continue to guarantee future financial stability. You could use your return to start or add a college savings fund
