2023 IN REVIEW

By Jerry Redden

Nancy, Jaybird and I are a small family doing very well given the human condition. Jaybird is our cat/kid. You would not believe how well he has Nancy and I trained. We love him deeply!

AGING: I turned 82 years old in 2023. As we age, we slowly lose our strength, endurance and athletic ability. But, on the other hand, we old folks have gained knowledge and wisdom.

GARDENING: In 2023, one of my biggest joys was gardening. I'm right proud of what I call my "Going Wild Backyard". Most of the time when you see me in my garden, I'm barefooted and working with human powered tools.

There are so many positives for gardening. Gardening is great for physical fitness and mental wellbeing. Honey Bees, Bumble Bees, and especially birds really like my "Going Wild Garden". My favorite plant this year was Poke. I grew some ten footers this year and we called them Poke Trees. Poke is a beautiful plant. Poke is one of the first plants to come shooting out of the ground in the spring. When the sprouts reach eight inches or so, I cut them at ground level and cook them in boiling water for seven or eight minutes. They are delicious, they look and taste similar to asparagus. Later, when the big plump berries get ripe, it is happy time for me and the birds.

Some say poke is poison! While grazing in my garden I eat a few of the berries almost every day and have lived to tell about it. This year I made a gallon or so of Poke Berry wine. Even if I have to say so myself it is quiet delicious. I like it best when it is young.

PICKLEBALL: During 2023, I played pickleball a couple or three times a week. Pickleball is good. It offers up plenty of exercise, a time to socialize and establish some community. Be it good or bad, pickleball awakens my completive spirit. I have pickled some opponents and I have been pickled. (Pickled is another word for being skunked.)

VOLUNTEERING: It has been said that the shortest path to happiness is to lose yourself in giving to others. I feel incredibly blessed to be a member of the Red River Gorge Trail Crew and a member of the trail crew at Lower Howards Creek Heritage and Nature Preserve.

COW PASTURE POOL: That's the nickname that my dad gave golf. This past year a friend and I decided to try a round of golf. It was a disaster! It was suggested that we didn't belong on the golf course. I walked off the golf course thinking to myself, this may be a bit sophisticated to suit me. So, I had read that if one walks barefooted on the bare earth the body has the ability to absorb free electrons from the earth and can have several therapeutic effects. The process is called grounding or earthing. I realized that there are several parks here in Lexington that have acres and acres of wide open space that is mowed close to the ground making it suitable for hitting nerf balls.

What could be better than picking a nice sunny day, kicking off your shoes, picking up a couple golf clubs, a pocket full of nerf balls and heading out for some Cow Pasture Pool?
