Kentucky is Vested in Work Zone Safety

Submitted by:
Kentucky Transportation Cabinet

National Work Zone Awareness Week is April 15-19, 2024. Every year, Departments of Transportation nationwide participate in daily events to promote safer work zones. Whether behind a barrel or the wheel, we all have a vested interest to keep work zones safe. In 2023, Kentucky had 1,251 crashes, 247 resulting injuries, and 17 fatalities. Did you know motorists and their passengers are the primary victims of work zone related crashes, injuries and deaths? 14 of the 17 fatalities in 2023 were motorists/passengers. Farmers market draws big crowd

Perfect weather on opening day

BY SCOTT HAGERMAN
MESSENGER-INQUIRER

Perfect weather and a wide variety of products led to a big turnout Saturday morning for the opening day of the Owensboro Regional Farmers Market.

Shoppers mingled among booths that offered everything from baked goods to plants to meat to wine and about everything in between, with the aroma from the food trucks, live music and short-sleeve temperatures creating a perfect environment.

"I am overjoyed," said Mary Beth Alexander, market manager. "Our turnout, weather, vendor participation — it's just wonderful today."

Alexander said the market has more than 60 vendors signed up, with some of the produce vendors coming in soon. There are also new items available.

"We have a number of vendors offering products that we have not had in the past," Alexander said. "We have several hot sauce vendors who are growing peppers and using those to make hot sauce."

Redeemed Heritage Farms is a first-time vendor this year. The Philpot farm, owned by Amanda and Jourdan Lamar, offers a wide variety of products, including plants, Kentucky Proud candles sourced from wax purchased from Owensboro Grain, baked goods and handmade soap.

"I've shopped here more than once and loved it," Amanda Lamar said. "We've got a little storefront on our farm that I've built up over the last couple of years, so this year it just made sense for us to get out into the community, since we're kind of tucked away out in the county."

Lamar said their first time selling at the market has been "wonderful."

Robert and Jamie Ford's

Knotheads Custom Engraving of Owensboro is back for a third year as a vendor. The company specializes in woodworking while also offering magnets, ornaments and metal garden flags, among many other items.

The company also specializes in custom orders, which fits in perfectly at the market.

"For us it's been great, because it helps us really get out there so people recognize what kind of stuff we make and we get to find out what people really want," said Jamie Ford, who also likes the social aspect. "We've made some friends with other vendors, and we get to see our friends coming through."

"It's a great way to spend a Saturday morning."

Martha Boucherie, owner of Boucherie Winery in Henderson County, has been a vendor for several years and was pleased with the opening day crowd. "It's been great," she said.

Kent Estep, from Santa Claus, Indiana, said there are several reasons he keeps coming back to shop.

"The weather, the variety of stuff and how it changes through the year," he said. "Right now there's not many fresh fruits, but you can buy all the plants. So if I want to plant my plants, they've got it too."

Estep was shopping with his sister, Kathy Wilcockson of Owensboro, who said the market offers not only variety, but a wonderful family atmosphere.

"I bring the grandkids down here and they have kids activities," she said. "This is just a fun thing to do on Saturday morning."

MCLEAN COUNTY HAS BEEN AWARDED FEDERAL FUNDS MADE AVAILABLE THROUGH THE DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY (DHS)/FEDERAL EMERGENCY MANAGEMENT AGENCY UNDER THE EMERGENCY FOOD AND SHELTER NATIONAL BOARD PHASE 41.

McLean County has been chosen to receive $3,050 to supplement emergency food and shelter programs in the county. The selection was made by a National Board that is chaired by the U.S. Department of Homeland Security's Federal Emergency Management Agency and consists of representatives from American Red Cross; Catholic Charities, USA; National Council of the Churches of Christ in the USA; The Jewish Federations of North America, The Salvation Army; and, United Way Worldwide. The Local Board was charged to distribute funds appropriated by Congress to help expand the capacity of food and shelter programs in high-need areas around the country.

A Local Board made up of the Judge Executive, United Way Representatives, Community Coalition representatives, and various church organizations located in the McLean County will determine how the funds will be distributed among the emergency food and shelter programs run by local service agencies in the area. The Local Board is responsible for recommending agencies to receive these funds and any additional funds made available under this phase of the program.

Under the terms of the grant from the National Board, local agencies chosen to receive funds must: 1) be private voluntary non-profits or units of government, 2) be eligible to receive Federal funds, 3) have an accounting system, 4) practice nondiscrimination, 5) have demonstrated the capability to deliver emergency food and/or shelter programs, and 6) if they are a private voluntary organization, have a voluntary board. Qualifying agencies are urged to apply. McLean County has distributed Emergency Food and Shelter funds previously to the Society of St. Vincent DePaul, St. Sebastian Conference. They were responsible for assisting 60 families with their rent or mortgage and helping 100 families with their utilities.

Public or private voluntary agencies interested in applying for Emergency Food and Shelter Program funds must contact Wendy Troutman at the McLean County Judge's Office, P.O. Box 127, Calhoun, Kentucky 42327, or call 270-273-3213; or email wmclark@mcleanky.com for an application. Curry wins 'Dugan's Got Talent' with vocal percussion skills

BY FREDDIE BOURNE
MESSENGER-INQUIRER

When 16-year-old Jakovie Curry took center stage at the Dugan Best Recreation Center for Owensboro Parks and Recreation Department and Independence Bank's "Dugan's Got Talent" competition Friday night, he was simply looking to bring the world of beatboxing to the masses. But after all 11 contestants performed and the six-person judging panel's scores were tallied, the Owensboro High School junior came out at the top of the leaderboard as the first-place winner and the recipient of a $5,000 college scholarship.

"It was amazing," Curry said of his win during an interview Monday. "... I wasn't 100% sure if they were gonna rock with beatboxing. I didn't know if they would understand and feel the same way I feel about it, so it really was a good feeling to know that they understood as well as I (do) that this is amazing and really cool."

For Curry, beatboxing and vocal percussion has been something he's been into for nearly a decade.

"When I was younger, about 6 or 7, I would be in the living room with my family and we would have miniature beatboxing battles," he said. "... Me, my sister and my brother would just beatbox in the living room and I was like, 'This is really fun. I want to do more with this.'"

Curry began researching more about the artform online and found there to be a "whole world of beatboxing."

"There's something called the GBB — the Grand Beatbox Battle — and I was introduced to beatboxers from around the world doing a lot of crazy things, and I was like, 'I want to learn that,'" he said. "So I spend a lot of my time, thousands of hours of practice, learning what they do (to where) I could do it myself...."

It was around the age of 12 when Curry decided to take his talent more seriously before performing in more public settings within the last two years.

"I wasn't very good compared to this year," Curry said with a laugh. "... I've improved a lot in the last year."

Curry said he would take time watching videos of other beatboxers and watching their performances, while also viewing tutorials on how to emulate specific sounds.

Alan Warren, Messenger-Inquirer | awarren@messenger-inquirer.com
JAKOVIE CURRY

One of Curry's influences includes English artist D-low, real name Dan Lowes, who has earned numerous wins at the UK Beatbox Championships and recently won the "Solo" category at the GBB in Warsaw, Poland, in 2019.

Curry said that his own style of beatboxing is a mixture of creating melodies and sound effects.

"I can do the typical fast beatbox (where someone's like), 'Oh my god, he's doing crazy stuff,' and I can do a little musical thing," he said. "It's just amazing what (you can do) with (beatboxing)...."

Showing off his skills in a show setting seemed to be part of a plan Curry had in mind.

"This (was) my first time doing anything beatboxing in (a show capacity)," Curry said of the contest. "(At) the start of sophomore year or end of freshman year, I set a goal (where) I was like, 'I am going to practice beatboxing so hard that I'm ready to (put on a show) my junior year.'"

His composition for "Dugan's Got Talent" was set into three parts — an original song, a rendition of Snoop Dogg and Pharrell Williams' No. 1 song "Drop It Like It's Hot" and a section where he integrated seven different sounds together such as inward bass, humming, inward yodeling, falsetto singing and a drum beat before adding in two surprises elements.

Curry hopes to find a way to make his talent more profitable in the future, though he said his main objective is to continue introducing his passion of beatboxing to others.

"... I love beatboxing. I could listen to it for days and hours on end. ... I do it every day of my life," he said. "... I want to let (people) in on what I feel just a little bit. I want them to understand that this is amazing, this is cool, this is awesome. I want them to feel that too."

Bowman walked Chase Price and Zak Spurrier to load the bases, before being replaced by Destini McAllister, who walked Mason Gardner to score Brandenburg for a 4-2 lead.

Sander Lucas then provided a crushing blow, smashing a double into the left-field gap to clear the bases for a 7-2 advantage.

"We had a plan today, stuck with it and it worked well," Central Hardin coach Steve Delabar said. "We didn't try to do too much. Offensively, we just had good hard contact and didn't do anything to where we would beat ourselves."

On the mound, junior right-hander Mason Smith took care of business after the two-run first inning.

Smith went to 2-0 on the season, allowing the two runs on a hit and two walks. He retired the last seven batters he faced, recording four strikeouts.

"Mason did a great job out there today," Delabar said. "He worked ahead. John did some good things there in the first inning, but Mason was able to lock in and make the pitches when he needed to."

Central Hardin gave Smith all the runs he needed, adding two in the second inning and scoring seven in the third after the first batters were retired by freshman reliever Ean Woodard.

Cowley started the damage with a walk and scored on a triple from Thompson. Brandenburg's third single of the game scored Thompson for a 12-2 lead.

Price singled Brandenburg to third, before walks to Spurrier and Gardner allowed Brandenburg to score.

With the bases load, Lucas finished a productive game with a two-run double, before a double by Caleb Irwin scored the final two runs.

"It feels good, because I've been in a little slump lately," Lucas said. "The key was seeing a lot of pitches and then swinging at the best one you see. We stayed with that approach and were able to hit the ball all around the outfield."

Gardner had a double and single, while Cowley had two singles to add to the hit parade. Brandenburg and Price scored three runs each, while Cowley, Thompson, Spurrier and Gardner scored two apiece.

McKnight doubled to score Bryce Bradshaw and then scored on a passed ball for the two first-inning runs for John Hardin.

John Hardin's Dawson Hill gets a hit early in a Monday loss to Central Hardin in 17th District action.

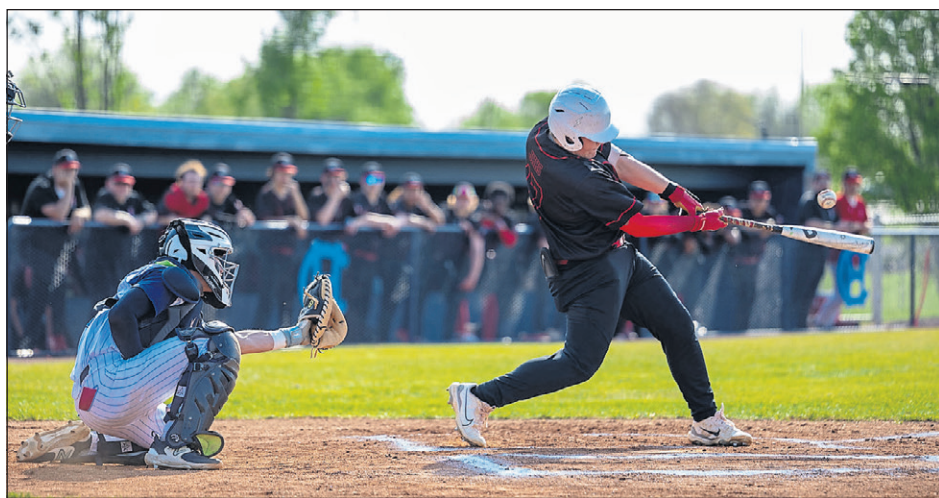

JOE MEISCHKE/
For The News-Enterprise

Paulk said one bright spot came from Woodward in the second inning when he struck out Spurrier, who leads the state in home runs with nine.

"Our little freshman did strike out Spurrier, which was something that was pretty exciting for him," Paulk said.

Central Hardin went to 14-5 overall and 3-0 district. John Hardin fell to 5-10 and 1-2.

Tim Cecil new county fair board president

By Hancock County Fair Board Co-Secretary Debby Hurst

We are non-profit and everything we make goes right back into the Hancock County Fair. The Fair Board Members are all volunteers. We use any monies collected and put in the bank for the work needed on the grounds, water bill, electric bill, insurance for the grounds, gas and any supplies needed for the buildings and for ribbons, trophies and things of that nature.

We apply for grants when we can to build new things, or maintenance for any existing buildings. If needed, we have to hire plumbers, contractors, etc., to fix what we can't. They usually give us a discount or offer free labor, but hardly ever is it totally free.

New Fair Board Officers Voted-in at HC Fair Board April Meeting

The Hancock County Fair Board Members would like to announce the change of officers, effective immediately. Tim Cecil was successfully voted in as HC Fair Board President during April's meeting. Greg Wettstain, former President, will step down from the position, however, will remain an active member.

After accepting the resignation of Scott Basham, Kyle Hodskins was voted in as Vice-President. Both Cecil and Hodskins have been active members for many years. They have a great reputation for working well together, making this combination a successful one!

Paula Powers will remain as Treasurer of the Board, as well as Karen Colbert, Secretary. Debby Hurst will take on a new role as Co-Secretary, becoming the advocate for the public concerning fair issues.

The Officers and Board Members have a close bond and work well together as a team, making it a strong beginning for a great 2024 Fair Year! We look forward to serving the residents of Hancock County and call it an Honor to be a small part of this great community! -See 'Ya at the Fair!

2024 HC Fair

The 2024 Hancock County Fair, held at the HC Fairgrounds in Hawesville, will be Wednesday, July 31st-Saturday, August 3rd. More details will be provided about this year's events in The Clarion as the date gets closer.

"These investments into our roadways are also investments into our communities," Lewis said. "This funding will not only give more peace of mind to our drivers, but also provide a path to future opportunities for our district."

Lawmakers continued their efforts to ensure taxpayer dollars are invested in the best manner possible, changing the way the state provides funding for local road projects to ensure projects are awarded based on priority, rather than politics. House Joint Resolution 92 includes $193,000 for Hancock County.

- $22K in FY25 to resurface Old Mill Rd
- $171K in FY25 to resurface Crowe Rd

"Representative Scott Lewis is an incredible advocate for his constituents," said House Speaker David Osborne. "Scott has worked tirelessly throughout the budget process to ensure that his district receives the funding it needs, all the while supporting our commonwealth's need for fiscal responsibility."

It's a wonderful life

It was a rare honor to wish our friend Wayne Hayes a happy 103rd birthday on April 13. Wayne has lived a rich and full life, touching many people with a wonderful witness for Christ and high moral standards. When I think of Wayne, I remember what God said to Abram in Genesis 12, "I will bless you and make you a blessing to others." God blessed Wayne, and Wayne certainly has blessed others.

GEORGE SMITH FOR THE LIVING OF THESE DAYS

Jesus said, "I am come that you might have life and have it more abundantly" (John 10:10). He wants us to have a full and well-rounded life.

Methuselah lived 969 years — the oldest man who ever lived. It seems that was his only virtue — living a long time. He lived, he bore children and he died — that was it. Do you know anything he did worthwhile? But isn't that the story of many people today — they live, they have children, and they die?

Now it is great to live a long time — that is a goal we all desire. A lot of time, energy and money go into helping us achieve this goal. Dr. Herschel Hobbs, who was heard for many years on The Baptist Hour Radio program, said once, "Birthdays are good for you. People who have many birthdays usually live a long time."

But there must be more to life. Would you not agree that it is what we do with our years that really counts? We recognize and honor those who live a long time, but there is also something to be said for the quality of one's life. An example would be Jesus Christ — He lived on earth 33 years, but His life made an eternal difference.

Paul in Ephesians 3 prays for the Christians that the fullness of Christ may dwell in their hearts, and they may be able to comprehend what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ in all of its fullness (3:18-19).

Paul in Ephesians 3 prays for the Christians that the fullness of Christ may dwell in their hearts, and they may be able to comprehend what is the breadth and length and height and depth, and to know the love of Christ in all of its fullness (3:18-19). This makes a full life: breadth, length, height, and depth.

Our lives need depth. I am fearful that there is no depth of commitment today — to marriage, to work, to morality, to church, to Christ. We lack commitment in so many areas of life.

Do you see the breadth of compassion? There is a need for a love that causes us to reach out to others. This is the "me generation" — a life centered on self.

Someone said, "There is no life so empty as a self-centered life." We all need a purpose beyond ourselves. Jesus summed up our purpose in Matthew 22:37-39 when He said we were to love God with everything we have and to love our neighbor as ourselves. Actually, the more we love God the more we will love each other. There will be a breadth to our lives.

Every life needs the height of hope. The spiritual dimension of life is very important. Jesus said, "What shall it profit a man if he gains the world and in the end loses his soul?"

I think this is the life Jesus wants for us — length of years, depth of dedication, breadth of compassion and height of hope. It is a different kind of life than that of Methuselah — just living, having children and dying. This is a life that will honor God and bless our fellow man. There will be a quality as well as quantity to our lives.

Methuselah's father was Enoch and his grandson was Noah. How interesting! Enoch walked with God (Genesis 5:24). Noah was a preacher of righteousness. Methuselah was right in the middle. But while it is said that his father walked with God and his grandson was a preacher, nothing is said of Methuselah other than he lived, he had children and he died.

Let's give our lives to Jesus, follow Him in commitment and then maybe we will know that abundant life He wants us to have. The decision is ours.

Mother Teresa

DALE DEVOYSTER WHY CATHOLIC?

Mother Teresa speaks of deep inner prayer. What does she mean by this?

In her book, Mother Teresa's Secret Fire, she explains it this way: "Engaging in deep prayer is much like diving for pearls. Some minimal effort is required for a pearl diver to overcome his natural buoyancy, to arrive at the depths where the treasure lies and to remain there for the duration. In prayer as well, there is a kind of natural buoyancy at work, drawing us back to the surface. Like the diver, we need some simple, persevering effort to remain there in the depths, where all is quiet and peace in God's presence." The storms and crashing waves going on above us will not distract us from deep inner prayer where God is present within.

Mother Teresa says, whenever we experience distracted occurring around us or thoughts bombarding our minds, we are returning to the surface. Like the diver, we need to take a couple of strokes and return to our inner selves. All the distractions of the world will soon be above us and no longer a barrier to deep contemplative prayer in the depths of our soul. God's presence is beyond thoughts, words, noise, and all manner of hurdles that plague our prayers. Mother Teresa invites us to "endeavor to live alone with Jesus in the sanctuary of our inmost heart."

In 1999, Pope John Paul II waived the five-year waiting period for the process of beatification to sainthood for Mother Teresa, who died in 1997. On Oct. 19, 2003, he beatified her, which allows the opening of her canonization cause! JMJ!

Do you have a godly testimony?

Take time to read the amazing story of Phillip's testimony to the Ethiopian eunuch. Acts 8:26-40

There are some biblical words we use far too freely — and amazingly — too loosely. Testimony is one of those words. Many Christians define the word testimony too narrowly. Sharing Jesus is much more than just telling our story or talking about God's work in our lives, although those things are important. We need to be prepared to meet unbelievers at the point of their spiritual need, even if our own story is very different. Each person coming toward God is not coming from the same background, they are not coming from the same bed of sin, nor from the same knowledge level about God.

We can learn a lot from Phillip's encounter with the Ethiopian eunuch. While this young Israelite had friends and family to disciple him in his faith, a foreign convert often had to work alone to discern the meaning of the Scriptures. So, by asking, "Do you understand what you are reading?" Phillip was acknowledging that he understood the Ethiopian's disadvantage. That one question enabled him to discover that the man had a genuine thirst for God's truth but did not know of the Messiah.

Phillip used that information to tailor fit a gospel testimony for this Ethiopian listener.

Consider how easily the man could have become confused or frustrated if Phillip—whose Jewish background was so different from the Ethiopian's—had told only his own conversion story. Phillip wisely relied on the text at hand and allowed the power of God's Word to introduce the man to Jesus Christ. Remember, the gospel is "the power of God to salvation."

Phillip's testimony began with the passage the Ethiopian was reading. He effectively spoke to the man's spiritual interest in general terms while specifically answering his questions about Isaiah 53. We, too, must be sensitive to unbelievers' concerns so we can explain how God will meet their needs.

LEGAL NOTICE

On or about April 1, 2024, Ohio County Water District ("the District") will file a revised tariff with the Kentucky Public Service Commission that will establish new charges and revised conditions for its provision of water service. In this filing, the District proposes to establish the following charges:

It also proposes to delete its existing Field Collection Charge and Leak Adjustment Rate and to raise its required deposit from $90 to $104.

The revised conditions of service will among other things:

- Revise the formula for calculating the amount of a leak adjustment and limit requests for leak adjustments to commercial and residential customers;

The District proposes to place the revised tariff into effect on May 1, 2024.

Any person may examine the proposed tariff at the District's office at 124 East Washington Street, Hartford, Kentucky 42347, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m., or at the Public Service Commission's offices located at 211 Sower Boulevard, Frankfort, Kentucky, Monday through Friday, 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., or through the Public Service Commission's Web site at <https://psc.ky.gov/trf4/TRFListFilings.aspx?Mode=1>.

The proposed tariff revisions are the rates and conditions of service proposed by the District. However, the Public Service Commission may order rates to be charged and conditions of service to be observed that differ from those proposed. Such action may result in rates and conditions of service for consumers other than those set forth in this notice.

A person may submit a timely written request for intervention to the Public Service Commission, P.O. Box 615, Frankfort, Kentucky 40602, establishing the grounds for the request including the person's status and interest. If the Public Service Commission does not receive a written request for intervention within thirty (30) days of the initial publication of notice, it may take final action on the tariff filing.

way, things like that take care of themselves," Hopkins Central coach Austin Starks said. "The ball that Cameron (White) got a glove on and then a face on at first base, Brody's right there covering.

"Good night for Brody at the plate. Gaige struck out seven of the nine, the other two assists were from Brody Smith."

Kolby Crook grounded out to Smith for the first out of the game and Jared Jones for the final out.

Brasher took care of the seven outs in between.

"He works hard every day," Smith said of Brasher. "He comes in, he comes to compete. I think he took it a little personal at practice the other day, he got a little home run hit off of him. I think he came in with a little edge on him tonight, and he wanted to show what he can do."

The seven Ks on the night gave him 34 on the season, inching him closer to a return to the state leaderboard with 38 strikeouts, rounding out the top 50.

Catcher Sawyer Allen and designated hitter Andrew Knowles both added a pair of hits for the Storm, each finishing 2-for-2 with a pair of runs and two RBIs. Central centerfielder Tristan Schmaltz went 1-for-1, driving in a run and scoring a pair.

Hopkins Central's Gaige Brasher fires a pitch to the plate during their game against Dawson Springs Monday. Brasher struck out seven of nine batters faced as the Storm won 15-0 in three innings.

Brasher was 1-for-2 with two runs.

"The ball has been coming in in practice," Smith said. "We've been working hard on the new machine we got. It just came in right where I wanted it, right down the middle. And I saw the ball and hit the ball and went right where I wanted it. Just things fell right tonight."

Central shortstop Eli Earl didn't have an official at bat but drew a pair of walks and scored twice, adding a team-high three steals. Daniel Brady added a pair of steals, with one apiece for Brasher, Knowles, and Levi Stanley as the Storm were aggressive on the base paths.

"Anytime we see a chance to take a bag, we take that," Smith said. "We take it as fast as possible. That's what puts the runs up on the board and makes it 15 zero in the third inning. So it gives us a little advantage."

The Storm evened their record at 6-6 with the win and face the Panthers (2-10) again Thursday in Dawson Springs.

McCracken County was helped by Madisonville errors in the first two innings as they jumped out to the 6-0 lead. The Lady Mustangs got 10 hits off Stoltz in seven innings. She walked three and struck out four.

"Stoltz pitched well enough to win," Patterson said. "We just did not come with the mindset. We weren't there defensively. We picked it up after the second or third inning and made it kind of interesting."

Kirk picked up the win Monday as the Lady Maroons beat Caldwell County, 6-1, finishing with 11 strikeouts and allowing just two hits and walking two.

Stoltz went 2-for-3 with two RBIs and a run. Kirk was 1-for-3 with a run, and Addy Prow went 1-for-2 with two runs and an RBI.

Madisonville first baseman Navaeh Lindle was 1-for-3 with a run, while Bryanna Harris was 1-for-2 with an RBI, and Katelyn Rodgers was 1-for-3, driving in two runs.

Riverboat captain, woman in Paducah each win $150,000 Powerball prizes

BY SUN STAFF

Two Powerball tickets worth $150,000 were sold at the same store in Paducah.

The Kentucky Lottery said Jimmy Sharp, a riverboat captain from Paducah, and a Paducah woman who wished to remain anonymous were two lucky players who matched four white balls and the Powerball to win the game's $150,000 prize.

Sharp has worked as a captain on a riverboat for nearly 50 years, and he had just returned home from a 28-day shift, a news release from the Kentucky Lottery said. Sharp said he was leaving the boat when he saw a sign for the upcoming Powerball jackpot.

Sharp stopped at Quick Shop on Bridge Street to buy his tickets. He said he will usually buy tickets once the jackpot reaches $100 million. This time, he opted to have the lottery terminal choose his numbers for him.

Sharp's grandson suggested he add Powerball Play when buying his tickets, the Kentucky Lottery said. Because of that decision, Sharp's prize was tripled when the numbers were drawn on April 6.

He took his tickets to the store the morning after the drawing to have them checked by the clerk.

"I had six tickets, and when I gave her the fifth one, that's when it lit the machine up. She said, 'Oh, you've got a big winner,'" Sharp told the Kentucky Lottery. Because the prize was too big for the store to pay, the payout information from the terminal was printed so they could find out how much he won.

"That's when I knew, and she told me to sign the ticket. I felt pretty good," said Sharp.

After taxes, Sharp and his grandson walked away from the lottery headquarters with a check for $108,000.

Sharp said he plans to put the winnings in the bank and help his family.

The other winner, the Paducah woman who asked to remain anonymous, also bought her winning ticket at Quick Shop in Paducah.

According to the Kentucky Lottery, the woman said she picked her own numbers based on numbers she noticed showing up more often. She's been playing the same sets of numbers for the past several weeks.

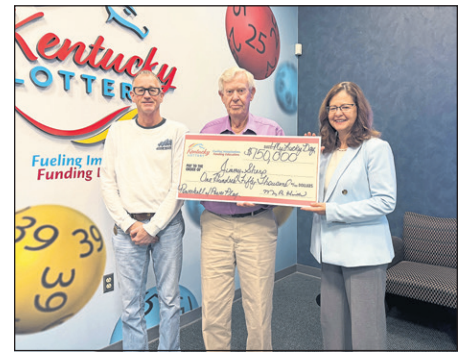

Those favorite numbers ended up matching four white balls and the Powerball to win $150,000. The woman told lottery officials she doesn't usually add the Powerball Play, but had played it in the last three drawings.

The woman said she pulled the winning numbers up on her phone to check her tickets.

"I was circling the numbers to see how I won. I was like, 'Wait a minute,' and it just kept going down the line. I really didn't know how much I'd even won," she said.

"That's good! I don't know what it is, but that's good," her husband said.

"I can't believe I was just one number away from becoming a billionaire. I'm very thankful though and content with what I have," she said.

After taxes, the woman and her husband walked away with a check for $108,000. She told the Kentucky Lottery she plans to pay off her debt and invest some of the winnings.

Quick Shop will receive $3,000 for selling both of the winning tickets.

It's back to work for Scheffler following Masters celebration

BY DOUG FERGUSON
AP GOLF WRITER

HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. — Masters champion Scottie Scheffler would be the first to lament he doesn't spend enough time celebrating his achievements, which are piling up at an alarming pace. He made an exception after winning his second green jacket in three years.

He flew home to Dallas with his four close friends, manager and coach. And on a whim, with his wife's blessing when she picked them up, they all went to the Inwood Tavern to celebrate, Scheffler still in his green jacket.

They stayed 20 minutes and then it was closing time. Scheffler technically can say they closed down the bar.

"Took a few photos, had a drink and then went home and went to bed," Scheffler said Wednesday at the RBC Heritage on idyllic Hilton Head Island, a tournament known as the perfect place for a big post-Masters exhale.

His wife Meredith is not due with the couple's first child for about two more weeks. Scheffler had planned all along to play in the $20 million signature event and he never gave a thought to anything but honoring his commitment.

That doesn't mean the other 68 players at Harbour Town Golf Links are playing for second this week. It only seems that way.

Max Homa, speaking of his own reflections at Augusta National, made a passing reference to Scheffler as "the best player in the world and one of the best players I think we'll ever see."

"The gap seems to be quite large," said Homa, who tied for third at the Masters. "He's gone first, first, second, first. Three of those events are the best fields we've got. One of them is another good field on a really difficult golf course. I think we've seen people do this over the years as far as excellence over a little bit of time."

"His seems to be sustained a bit longer than I can remember from a lot of people."

The RBC Heritage is nothing like the Masters on so many levels, and Scheffler was reminded of that during the nine holes of his pro-am. He stood on the tee at the par-3 14th and was amazed at how small the green appeared. Harbour Town is tight, tree-lined and has some of the smallest greens on the PGA Tour.

And history is not on Scheffler's side this week. The last Masters champion to win at Harbour Town the following week was Bernhard Langer in 1985. Known for his meticulous preparations, Scheffler spent Monday decompressing. He played the back nine during the pro-am and will see the front nine Thursday when he plays the opening round with Jordan Spieth.

Much was made of Scheffler saying he would leave the Masters if his wife went into labor, though he was simply answering a question. "No signs of early labor," he said.

So many others found Harbour Town a good place to reflect on the first major. That includes Ludwig Aberg, the runner-up at the Masters who already is among the top 10 in the world ranking without having played a major until Augusta.

He was tied for the lead until a shot into the water left of the 11th green that led to double bogey, and Scheffler never gave him a chance to catch up.

"You don't really know what it's going to be like to play your first major until you really play it," Aberg said. "I felt like we handled that really well, and it makes us really excited about the next one."

Homa also was tied for the lead on Sunday and was one behind when his tee shot on the par-3 12th took a wicked hop over the green and into the ivy, leading to a penalty drop and eventually a double bogey.

The loud ovation he received walking to the 12th tee is a moment he won't forget. Homa said he came away realizing anew that his game is good enough.

"I did absolutely nothing special on the weekend and had a very good chance, minus a bad bounce on the 12th. So that's kind of what I've taken going into the other ones, that I didn't have any magic on the weekend," he said.

The conversations all eventually made it back to Scheffler, the talk of golf. He said he would rest Wednesday afternoon, but not before spending an hour on the putting green with his putting coach, Phil Kenyon, and still taking time for a few laughs and plenty of players wanting to congratulate him and his caddie, Ted Scott.

"I can't do anything about Scottie. He's an unbelievable player and a person, and I respect him so much," Aberg said. "I think it's good to have him here because he's pushing everyone else to get a little bit better, as well."

Wyndham Clark was runner-up to Scheffler two weeks in a row, at Bay Hill and The Players Championship. He wasn't around for the weekend at Augusta, but the U.S. Open champion has seen enough of Scheffler to know who he's facing.

"I think everyone looks at themselves in the mirror and goes, 'What do I need to get better?' Because you feel like you're playing good golf and you're not beating him."

AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Independent Auditor's Report
To the People of Kentucky
The Honorable Andy Beshear, Governor
Holly M. Johnson, Secretary
Finance and Administration Cabinet
The Honorable Craig Z. Clymer, McCracken County Judge/Executive
Members of the McCracken County Fiscal Court

Report on the Audit of the Financial Statement
Opinions

We have audited the accompanying Statement of Receipts, Disbursements, and Changes in Fund Balances – Regulatory Basis of the McCracken County Fiscal Court, for the year ended June 30, 2023, and the related notes to the financial statement, which collectively comprise the McCracken County Fiscal Court's financial statement as listed in the table of contents.

Unmodified Opinion on Regulatory Basis of Accounting

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the receipts, disbursements, and changes in fund balances – regulatory basis of the McCracken County Fiscal Court, for the year ended June 30, 2023, in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Commonwealth of Kentucky as described in Note 1.

Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

In our opinion, because of the significance of the matter discussed in the Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles section of our report, the financial statements do not present fairly, in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, the financial position of each fund of the McCracken County Fiscal Court, for the year ended June 30, 2023, or the changes in financial position and cash flows thereof for the year then ended.

Basis for Opinions

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America (GAAS), the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States, and the Fiscal Court Audit Guide issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statement section of our report. We are required to be independent of McCracken County Fiscal Court and to meet our other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinions.

Basis for Adverse Opinion on U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles

As described in Note 1 of the financial statement, the financial statement is prepared by the McCracken County Fiscal Court on the basis of the accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Department for Local Government to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting and budget laws, which is a basis of accounting other than accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. The effects on the financial statement of the variances between the regulatory basis of accounting described in Note 1 and accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, although not reasonably determinable, are presumed to be material and pervasive.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statement

McCracken County Fiscal Court's management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statement in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Department for Local Government to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting and budget laws. This includes determining that the regulatory basis of accounting is an acceptable basis for the preparation of the financial statement in the circumstances. Management is also responsible for the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of a financial statement that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statement

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinions. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with GAAS and Government Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statement. In performing an audit in accordance with GAAS and Government Auditing Standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statement, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the McCracken County Fiscal Court's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statement.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the McCracken County Fiscal Court's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Other Matters

Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming an opinion on the financial statement taken as a whole of the McCracken County Fiscal Court. The Budgetary Comparison Schedules and the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards, as required by Title 2 U.S. Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 200, Uniform Administrative Requirements, Cost Principles, and Audit Requirements for Federal Awards (Uniform Guidance) are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the financial statement; however, they are required to be presented in accordance with accounting practices prescribed or permitted by the Department for Local Government to demonstrate compliance with the Commonwealth of Kentucky's regulatory basis of accounting and budget laws.

The accompanying Budgetary Comparison Schedules and Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards are the responsibility of management and were derived from and relate directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statement. Such information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statement and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the financial statement or to the financial statement itself, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the Budgetary Comparison Schedules and the Schedule of Expenditures of Federal Awards are fairly stated in all material respects in relation to the financial statement as a whole.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information included in this report. The other information is comprised of the schedule of capital assets but does not include the financial statement and our auditor's report thereon. Our opinions on the financial statement do not cover the other information, and we do not express an opinion or any form of assurance thereon. In connection with our audit of the financial statement, our responsibility is to read the other information and consider whether a material inconsistency exists between the other information and the financial statement, or the other information otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work performed, we conclude that an uncorrected material misstatement of the other information exists, we are required to describe it in our report.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued our report dated March 18, 2024 on our consideration of the McCracken County Fiscal Court's internal control over financial reporting and on our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements and other matters. The purpose of that report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the McCracken County Fiscal Court's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

Based on the results of our audit, we present the accompanying Schedule of Findings and Questioned Costs included herein, which discusses the following report findings:

- 2023-001 The McCracken County Fiscal Court Lacks Adequate Internal Controls Over The Schedule Of Expenditures Of Federal Awards
- 2023-002 The McCracken County Fiscal Court Failed To Implement Internal Controls Over Disbursements

Respectfully submitted,

Allison Ball

including poor physical and mental health, substance use, and risky behaviors. The more ACEs experienced, the greater the risk for these outcomes. By definition, children involved with the child welfare system have suffered at least one ACE. Understanding the impact of ACEs and how to build resilience in children and families can lead to more trauma-informed interventions that help mitigate negative outcomes.

CHILD MALTREATMENT DATA

Approximately 1.8 million children received prevention services in fiscal year 2021.

Approximately two-thirds (58.0%) of victims received post-response services (such as family preservation, family support, or foster care) because of needs discovered during an investigation or alternative response.

During fiscal year 2021, fewer than one-quarter (20.2%) of confirmed maltreatment victims were removed from their homes because of an investigation or alternative response

These data include only services provided or funded by State and local CPS agencies. We also recognize the critical work of the thousands of community-based agencies that offer additional services to these and other families to help keep children safe and help their families thrive.

Olympic gold is great, but athletes say some cash to go with it is even better

BY HOWARD FENDRICH AND EDDIE PELLIS
AP NATIONAL WRITERS

NEW YORK — They compete for a trophy, a ring, the chance to be called a champion and, sometimes, a place in history. Most of the world's best athletes in all sorts of sports compete for cold, hard cash, too.

After more than 100 years of striving to earn Olympic gold — but nothing else from the folks organizing the event — track and field athletes at the Paris Games will join that money-making club thanks to the sport's governing body, World Athletics.

In a first-of-its-kind development, the runners, throwers and jumpers lining up at the Stade de France in August will be trying to win a $50,000 check to go with the gold. It's a novel — some might say overdue — concept that has athletes in other sports wondering if they can get a piece of that action.

"I mean, who would want to turn down money, you know?" said artistic swimmer Daniella Ramirez, who is a junior at UCLA.

The news last week grabbed attention, not so much because anyone is going to get rich, but because it marked the first instance of someone in charge — someone running the show — dipping into their coffers for the prizes, something the International Olympic Committee continues to resist.

That hasn't stopped individual countries from paying medal winners across all sports for years. For instance, the U.S. Olympic and Paralympic Committee runs "Project Gold," which doles out $37,500 for gold, $22,500 for silver and $15,000 for bronze.

And this year's host country will give France's gold medalists around $85,000 apiece.

Those kinds of payments, along with the endorsement deals that have become commonplace for the upper-echelon sports, long ago undercut the old notion the Olympics were founded upon: That athletes should be true amateurs playing strictly for the love of sport.

That has been a relic for at least 40 years.

Not surprisingly, athletes at the Team USA media summit this week in New York followed the latest development with interest.

"I wouldn't say that I'm jealous," said diver Andrew Capobianco, a silver medalist three years ago in Tokyo. "But I'm hopeful that, kind of, can move into all other sports, as well — that they're the trailblazers for that. More money for Olympic athletes, especially the smaller sports, would be great."

When he made the announcement, World Athletics president Sebastian Coe portrayed the move as one of simple fairness — the Olympics are a multibillion-dollar business; the athletes should get their share.

Sprinter Gabby Thomas said she appreciated the gesture.

"This is really just done off of hopes and dreams and effort and a lot of people don't have the same opportunity," Thomas said of the mission to compete at the Olympics. "So, to see track and field making a difference in that way is remarkable. I can't wait to see other sports follow suit."

But some in Coe's world saw the announcement as a calculated play to boost his profile for a potential IOC presidency bid. Others said they were blindsided by the move.

"If we concentrate the money on only top athletes, only gold (medalists), then of course a lot of opportunities will disappear for athletes all over the world," said David Lappartient, the president of cycling's international federation, who attended the Olympic flame-lighting ceremony in Ancient Olympia on Tuesday.

Jean-Christophe Roland, president of World Rowing, said any available funds should instead be spent on developing and promoting Olympic sports.

"Obviously, we need the athletes," he said. "But we also need to ensure that we will have athletes tomorrow and the day after tomorrow."

Providence City Council Fills Vacant Seat

Providence City Council met Monday evening with only three council members—Mike Syers, Mark Turner and Shannon Layton—attending the meeting in person. Councilmember Scott Frederick joined the meeting by telephone.

Following an 18-minute closed session that Mayor Butch Hackney called for the purpose of reviewing letters of interest from individuals wishing to fill the vacant council seat, the council returned to open session and voted to appoint Jeff Marshall to the position. Marshall was scheduled to be sworn into office Tuesday morning at the city building.

The council also heard the FY 2023 audit report presented by ATA accountant Quinten Stone. Stone reviewed the risk management process and finances of the city noting that the city's net position decreased by $970,000 in 2023. The audit reflects an income of $9.3 million for the city with an outflow of $8.2 million. Stone told the council that the revenue from utilities was down eight percent but personnel costs were up by 22 percent.

The audit also reflects a $92,000 operating loss in the utility fund with a $150,000 change in net position. Stone reported that the city's tax revenue is consistent with previous years. The report also shows that 41 percent of general fund expenditures are for general expenses and administration.

The audit also shows that the expenditure trend from 2017 to 2023 shows an increase in personnel costs. The city's audit numbers show that based on the cash balance, the city could meet expenses for 25 days.

The audit also shows a need for segregation of duties, something Stone says is an issue for all small communities and the auditor reported that the city went over budget with transfers out in 2023. Initially, the audit showed that tourism had failed to register as a special government entity, but that has already been taken care of. The audit also shows that the city dropped from 17 findings to three in 2023; thus, a "clean" opinion was received.

Other reports to come before the council were the police, public works, fire and code enforcement monthly reports.

Police Chief Ray Agent reported that his department made 183 total responses including answering 85 complaints, conducting 29 traffic stops, writing 15 citations, making eight arrests, conducting 16 building checks, 39 special details, three hours in court and undergoing 53 training hours.

According to Terry Rice, public works employees picked up tons of trash during spring clean-up, laid gas lines on Baptist Hill, replaced 20 street lights and completed one sewer hook-up in addition to performing other work throughout the city.

Fire Chief Cameron Brown reported 285 9-1-1 calls; 18 fire runs; 56 EMS runs and two state fire trainings in his department.

In other business, the council opened one bid for a property on West Main Street. The council agreed to accept James and Lana Martin's $1000 bid.

The council also heard first reading of amendment to a 1988 ordinance related to unlawful parking of vehicles on sidewalks, pedestrian pathways and city owned utility meters. The ordinance changes will go into effect upon adoption following the second reading.

Councilman Mark Turner raised questions about paving of city streets, something he says has not been done in three years. Turner cited the poor condition of many streets in the city as a reason to move forward with making repairs. The councilman also asked about the sidewalk project that has recently been completed and then turned to inoperable fire hydrants. Turner urged the city to make the necessary repairs on hydrants to ensure the safety of the community. The councilman identified at least seven hydrants that are not operating correctly, but public works directors Rice said there are at least 29 hydrants in the community that need work. He told the council that the cost is about $3000 per hydrant for repairs plus the cost of the hydrant.

In response to the hydrant issue, Mayor Hackney noted, "We're going to start on that pretty quick and get those fixed."

Councilmember Shannon

Layton asked for a park update. Hackney reported that Blake Fisher has been hired to take care of the park this season.

The council also heard from a number of citizens regarding taxes, the need for street repairs, a vacant lot, dilapidate houses and a four-way stop with signs that cannot be seen.

The city clerk will reimburse one resident for charges that were not listed on his tax bill, and the city will address the issue of the four-way stop and get new signs up this week. Hackney said he will work with Ralph Walters who says he has taken care of a vacant lot for eight years and would like to buy it. Betty Thomas raised questions about why the city can't tear down several dilapidated houses on Wall Street where vagrants are sometimes spending the night. Attorney Bobby Murray addressed the process the city must go through to take possession of unkempt, unsafe properties, noting it is a lengthy legal process.

The next meeting of the Providence City Council is scheduled for Monday, May 6, at 6:00 p.m.

Clay Council Holds Annexation First Reading, Approves Resolution

Clay City Council met April 9, in a regular session with a number of items on the agenda for discussion and approval. All council members and Mayor Jack Edens were present to conduct the city's business.

Following the approval of the minutes of the previous meeting, the clerk's report and accounts payable, Jack Merrill of Health First provided an update on the construction for a new clinic in Clay.

Merrill told the council that the site engineering has been completed and the architect and engineer have completed their plans. Bids were sent to seven companies, Merrill said with three submitting bids. Downey Professional Construction of Madisonville will be the general contractor for the project and Merrill noted that a number of local companies will have subcontracts on the project. "We expect work to begin next week," Merrill told the council, adding that Associate Engineers has been retained to oversee the project. By winter, the project is expected to be completed. A ground breaking ceremony is expected to take place in the coming days, and once completed, Health First hopes to double the number of providers at the facility that will also feature a mental health clinic.

At the conclusion of Merrill's presentation, the council heard a brief report on public appeals. As they discussed new business, the council opted to forego increasing their or the mayor's monthly salary. Presently council members make $200 a month and the mayor receives $700 monthly. It was the consensus to the council that they are "compensated sufficiently."

Clerk Christy Freeman presented a resolution for a land/water grant for the council's approval. Freeman told the council that currently the pickle ball courts are being completed and the city is ready to apply for another grant to help offset the cost of lights for the park. The resolution calls for up to $62,100 to be spent on the project which will be funded by a 50/50 grant. The council gave Mayor Edens the okay to sign the necessary documents to make application for the funding.

The council briefly discussed a list of equipment/vehicles they plan to surplus, but took no action to declare the items surplus or set the method of sale. The group will do further research on the value of the items so they can set a reserve.

Clay Council members also heard a report regarding the city's sewer plant. Freeman told the group that the "numbers have been out of whack for some time and the city has been under an agreed order for a year or so." She added that "Tyler (Gentry) knows someone, a consultant, who can help the city work through the sewer issues." That individual has been working for the city for about six months, Freeman said, adding that he is looking at changing the pump in the lagoon to a land system and making upgrades.

In other business the council approved first reading of an annexation ordinance that will allow the Billy G. Mitchell American Legion Post 289 to become part of the city. The annexation includes 3.16 acres. Second reading of the annexation ordinance is expected to be included on the May meeting agenda.

Other updates included an announcement that work on the city's water project is expected to begin April 29.

The meeting date for the council's May meeting has been changed to May 7, at 6:00 p.m. That will be a special called meeting due to the change of date.

Slaughters Commission Hears Appeal; Approves First Reading Of Ordinance

The Slaughters Commission met April 9, with three board members present along with Mayor Chris Winstead, Attorney Bobby Murray and Clerk Sherri Crowley. There were several community residents present as well.

Following the call to order, the commissioners approved minutes for both the regular March meeting and a special called meeting the group held in March. The financial report was also approved.

During the public appeals portion of the meeting, Stacy Binkley addressed the commissioners concerning the zoning ordinance requirements for the height of fences and property lines between properties. Ms. Binkley asked if the city could help determine the property lines. Mayor Winstead responded that the city has no jurisdiction on property and advised that Binkley contact a surveyor to have her property surveyed. The mayor also noted that the height of the fence was addressed in a March special called meeting and any decision made at that time would not be rescinded.

In other business, the clerk reported that a house on KY 138 has been torn down but the debris has not been cleaned up. The board requested that a letter be sent to other properties with dilapidated buildings/structures.

City Attorney Murray reported that the foreclosure on the Whitsell Street property was not filed due to the need for more information on the heir's addresses.

The commissioners also learned that installation of the remaining water meters has begun with the upgrades scheduled to be completed in June.

Commissioners also approved first reading of the elected officials' ordinance and heard the presentation of a draft of the city's street ordinance. During the discussion concerning the street ordinance, information was added; a new draft of the street ordinance will be presented at the commission's May meeting.

A discussion about one-call was tabled until the commission receives more information. The commission did discuss annexation and requested that the city attorney send letters to those who will be affected by annexation.

The commission went into closed session per KRS 61.810 (1)(f) to discuss personnel matters. When the group returned to open session, they reported not action would be taken, and the meeting adjourned.

The next meeting of the Slaughters Commission is scheduled for May 7, at 6:00 p.m.

Basketball Official of the Year announced

Staff Report

LEXINGTON — Each year, the Kentucky High School Athletic Association (KHSAA) honors the top officials for the 10 sports in which it licenses officials. Finalists in each sport are selected through a combination of not only on-field performance but local association activity and leadership, training efforts and the mentoring of newer officials.

One official in each sport is named "Outstanding Official of the Year" for their sport in appreciation of their dedication and service to schools and student-athletes across the state. Winners are selected following consultation with local assigning secretaries, veteran officials' observers, coaches throughout the state and additional staff review.

The Outstanding Official of the Year for the 2023-24 Basketball season is Tyrone Fields. Each finalist will receive a commemorative watch and certificate courtesy of the Officials Trust Fund, with the Official of the Year receiving an additional recognition award.

With officiating numbers declining at the national level, the KHSAA is always accepting applications from individuals interested in giving back to their community. Officiating remains a great avenue to stay active, earn extra spending money and ensure that high school athletics are preserved for the current and future generations.
