Re: Please join us for an open house to learn about a proposed solar energy project!

Dear neighbor,

EDP Renewables North America is proposing to develop, construct, and operate a utility-scale solar park near your community in Breckinridge County, Kentucky. The proposed solar park is an up to 200-megawatt project which will be located in the vicinity of U.S. Highway 60 and KY Highway 992, as shown in the enclosed map.

We are writing today to invite you, as a landowner of property near the proposed project site, to attend an informational open house about the project.

Learn more at the informational meeting:

DATE: Wednesday, October 12, 2022

TIME: This event will be open house format. Please feel free to join anytime between 4:00 pm – 8:00 pm.

LOCATION: Hardinsburg Main Library
308 Old Highway 60, Hardinsburg, KY 40143

RSVPs appreciated at surveymonkey.com/r/breckinridge or by calling 713-364-3079.

During the open house, we will introduce the EDP Renewables team and provide more information about the proposed solar park, including what to expect during the development, construction, and operation of the project. We are eager to meet you, receive your comments, answer your questions, and foster ongoing dialogue.

EDP Renewables North America develops, constructs, owns, and operates solar, wind, and battery storage projects across the continent. We're proud to be a renewable energy leader in several nearby states including Indiana, Ohio, and Illinois, where we operate 20 wind farms and 4 solar parks. After working in this region for more than a decade, we take pride in the relationships we've built and look forward to being a part of your community for the long haul.

Inside this packet, we have included more information about our company and about the proposed solar park. The preliminary name for the project is the Clover Creek Solar Park, however, we would like to choose a permanent name for this project that is chosen by the community. We look forward to hearing your ideas for naming the project at the upcoming open house!

We're looking forward to meeting you and introducing the project. In the meantime, please do not hesitate to contact me with any questions or concerns. We value your input and are excited to become a member of your community.

All the best,

Bridget Chia | Project Manager

Clover Creek Solar Park

Breckinridge County, KY

Clover Creek Solar Park will be located in Breckinridge County, KY, just outside the town limits of Hardinsburg. The area is mostly agricultural, used for both crops and ranching. This solar park project would mark our first solar park located in the state of Kentucky.

ABOUT EDP RENEWABLES NORTH AMERICA

EDP Renewables North America LLC (EDPR NA), its affiliates, and its subsidiaries develop, construct, own, and operate wind farms and solar parks throughout North America. Headquartered in Houston, Texas, with 58 wind farms, nine solar parks, and eight regional offices across North America, EDPR NA has developed more than 8,800 megawatts (MW) and operates more than 8,200 MW of onshore utility-scale renewable energy projects. With more than 950 employees, EDPR NA's highly qualified team has a proven capacity to execute projects across the continent.

EDPR NA is a wholly owned subsidiary of EDP Renewables (Euronext: EDPR), a global leader in the renewable energy sector. EDPR is the fourth largest renewable energy producer worldwide with a presence in 28 markets across Europe, North America, South America, and Asia Pacific. Based in Madrid and with main regional offices in Houston, São Paulo, and Singapore, EDPR has a robust development portfolio with first-class assets and a market-leading operational capability in renewables. These include wind onshore, utility scale and distributed solar, wind offshore (through its 50/50 JV - OW) and technologies complementary to renewables such as batteries and green hydrogen.

EDPR's employee-centered policies resulted in its recognition as a Top Workplace 2022 in the United States, Top Employer 2022 in Europe (Spain, Italy, France, Romania, Portugal, and Poland) and Brazil, as well as its inclusion in the Bloomberg Gender-Equality Index.

EDPR is a division of EDP (Euronext: EDP), a leader in the energy transition with a focus on decarbonization. Besides its strong presence in renewables (with EDPR and hydro operations), EDP has an integrated utility presence in Portugal, Spain, and Brazil including electricity networks, client solutions, and energy management. EDP - EDPR's main shareholder - has been listed on the Dow Jones Index for 14 consecutive years, recently being named the most sustainable electricity company on the Index.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT

EDPR NA conducts the majority of its business in rural communities across the U.S., Canada, and Mexico. Obtaining and maintaining credibility and the trust of landowners, town officials, and other stakeholders is a crucial aspect of building successful projects. At EDPR NA, our community relationships represent more than business transactions. We value strong relationships with landowners and communities who see the possibilities of conscientious land stewardship, rural economic development, and contributing to a clean energy future.

The property taxes generated by EDPR NA's projects provide economic support for schools, local roads, police, fire protection, and other essential services. Additionally, EDPR NA's projects yield economic benefits to communities in the form of direct and indirect jobs, payments to landowners, and increased local spending. EDPR NA purchases many materials and services locally, and employee wages and landowner royalty payments are spent in local communities.

Project Status

We are early in the development stage of the proposed project. Many aspects are still under development and community input is valued as we move forward.

We would love to speak with you at our open house event on October 12 at the Hardinsburg Main Library to introduce ourselves, answer any questions you might have, and hear your feedback. This event will be open house format so please feel free to stop by anytime between 4:00 pm and 8:00 pm.

POTENTIAL PROJECT LOCATION

The purple boundary is the general area that we are currently exploring for the project.

We are still in the process of determining the project layout through discussions with participating landowners.

We pay careful attention to the locations of homes and other community features to ensure solar panels are properly set back and/or screened with vegetation to reduce any impacts.

Many areas will also be excluded due to biological, cultural, or environmental constraints.

HIGH-LEVEL PROJECT SCHEDULE

The project timeline is also an approximation. We are currently exploring paths forward that would have us on track to be producing power as early as September 2024, but we will communicate a more precise timeline once more factors are confirmed.

In progress, ongoing	Environmental & Engineering Studies
Fall 2022 - Summer 2023	Kentucky Siting Board Permitting Process

Clover Creek Solar Park

Breckinridge County, KY

The solar park will be located in Breckinridge County, KY, just outside the town limits of Hardinsburg. The area is mostly agricultural, used for both crops and ranching. This solar park project would mark our first solar park located in the state of Kentucky.

CURRENTLY SEEKING PERMITTING FOR UP TO 200 MW
OF SOLAR ENERGY CAPACITY

ESTIMATED COMMERCIAL OPERATION DATE AS EARLY AS 2024

This project's generation would be equivalent to the average consumption of 36,000 Kentucky homes.¹

This solar park would save more than 355 million gallons of water each year and would prevent the air pollution that causes smog, acid rain, and climate change.²

ECONOMIC BENEFITS

All economic data reflects the estimated amount throughout the life of the project and is based on a 200 MW project. A smaller capacity project would yield smaller economic benefits.

CAPITAL INVESTMENT
Approximately $310 million

Approximately $9 million⁴
 WOULD BE PAID TO LOCAL & STATE GOVERNMENTS

Approximately $56 million
 WOULD BE PAID TO LANDOWNERS

Millions of dollars
 WOULD BE SPENT LOCALLY

Multiple permanent jobs
 WOULD BE CREATED

CONSTRUCTION JOBS
600+ jobs would be created

Over the 30-year life of the project, we will pay:

$3.2 million to the Breckinridge County School District.⁴

$2 million to Breckinridge County.⁴

After just one year in operation, the solar park will pay $150,000 in additional revenue to the local taxing jurisdictions to support infrastructure residents rely on, such as schools, roads, and first responders.

¹Power generation calculated using a 25% capacity factor. Household consumption based on the 2020 EIA Household Data on monthly average consumption by state.

²Assumes 0.88 gallons of water consumed per kWh of conventional electricity from Lee, Han, & Elgowany, 2016.

³Based on 2020 SEIA U.S. Solar Market Insight.

⁴The number is an estimation based on a 200 MW project size.

HIGH-LEVEL PROJECT SCHEDULE

The project timeline is an approximation. We are currently projecting to produce power as early as September 2024, but we will communicate a more precise timeline once more factors are confirmed.

In progress, ongoing	Environmental & Engineering Studies
Winter 2022 - Summer 2023	Kentucky Siting Board Permitting Process
Fall 2023	Start of construction
Fall 2024	Commercially operational

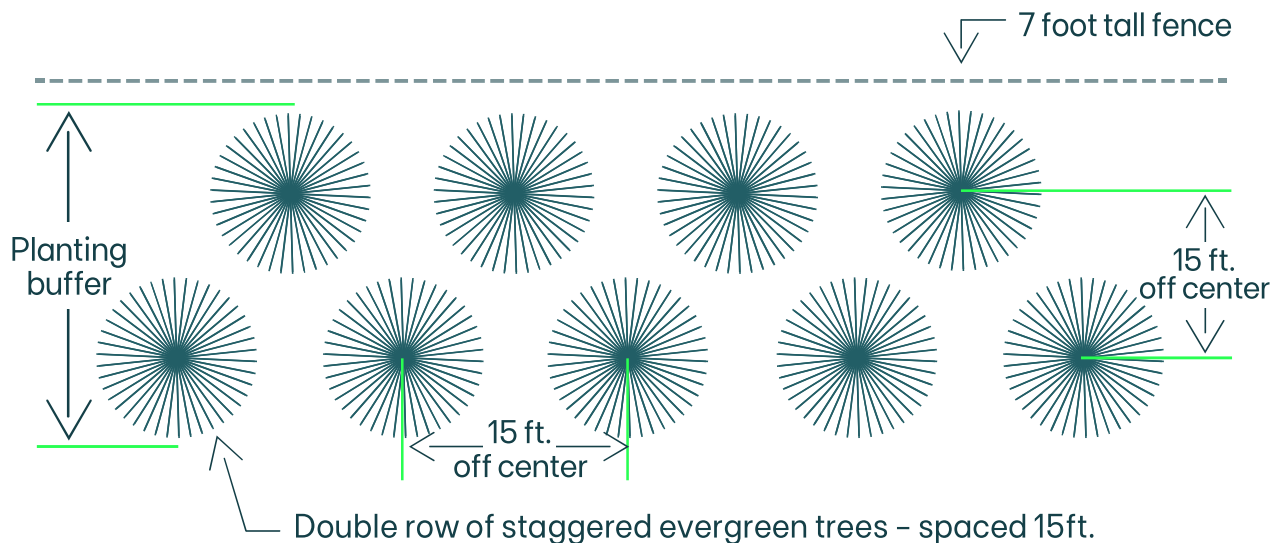

We are early in the development stage of the proposed project. Many aspects, including final project size and panel placement, are still under development and community input is valued as we move forward.

How will the project look?

Screening planting (elevation view)

not to scale

Screening planting (aerial view)

not to scale

Visual simulation of future project from the adjacent public roadway. It is expected that the trees will fully cover the fence and fill in all gaps by the fifth year.

Preserving the natural ecology and beauty of Breckinridge County is a priority for this project.

Where possible, EDPR will maintain natural vegetation and tree stands to protect ecological environments and provide visual screening between homeowners and the project. In other areas, EDPR will work with a landscaper to plant and maintain regional species of vegetation around the project. This vegetation will be planted to create a natural visual buffer in areas where the project is close to residences. EDPR plans to work closely with landowners and the County to ensure that visual impacts of the project are minimized.

About Solar Technology

Solar is a critical and rapidly growing part of America’s electric grid, producing enough energy to power more than 23 million homes nationwide and counting.¹

Solar projects are safe, clean, and have minimal impact on the land while providing a valuable economic boost to the rural economies that host them.

It would take less than 0.6% of total U.S. landmass to power the entire country with solar PV.² This represents half as much land as is currently being used to grow corn for ethanol production.³

Land area needed to power the entire U.S. with solar PV.

Solar is affordable to build and maintain, helping boost America’s energy independence in the process. The price of solar has been falling for years, dropping by about 70% since 2010. Average operation and maintenance costs have fallen nearly 60% since 2011. In many cases, solar energy is cheaper than traditional forms of generation,⁴ giving utilities and corporate off-takers access to reliable, cheap energy at a fixed price. These guaranteed rates help keep consumer costs low and stable.

Requiring no water to generate power, solar energy saves 136 billion gallons of water each year that would otherwise be consumed by the traditional power industry.⁵

U.S. solar also avoids 81 million metric tons of carbon pollution annually, which is the equivalent of removing 17.2 million cars from the road.⁶

HOW A SOLAR PARK GENERATES ENERGY

The solar panels absorb sunlight and generate direct current (DC) electricity. Many have trackers installed to tilt toward the sun as it moves across the sky.

The electricity goes through an inverter, converting it to alternating current (AC) electricity.

Then it flows into the grid, supporting the region’s energy needs.

Solar Projects & the Land

EDPR works with landowners who recognize the environmental and economic benefits of generating solar power on their land. This project will be sited entirely on private land.

Preserving the Land for the Next Generation

In order to host a solar park, a section of a participating landowner's property will be fenced off and planted with an environmentally-friendly seed mix designed for the local climate and soil type. During the 30 year lifespan of the project, the land is able to rest and replenish.

A solar park gives the land hosting it a rest and a chance to recover. This rest period can help boost soil quality and increase local biodiversity, leaving the land recovered and ready to serve future generations after the solar park's life.¹

Returning to Production After the Solar Park's Life

At the end of the project's useful life, the project will be decommissioned. The equipment will be removed and the land can return to its original use, including farming, ranching or wildlife habitat.

Through the project leases, EDP Renewables (EDPR) has provided financial assurances for the decommissioning of the project and will also pursue a decommissioning agreement with the County. Together, these agreements will require EDPR to return the site to a condition suitable for the land's use prior to construction.

Safeguarding the Environment

As with all utility-scale solar parks in the U.S., the project will undergo extensive studies and approval processes through local, state, and federal channels regarding natural resources, habitat conservation, and wildlife impacts. Through careful site selection and thoughtful project design, impacts to the land and nearby wildlife can be mitigated or entirely avoided.

Silicon-based PV panels are made of safe, well-tested materials commonly used in building and household products. The panels are fully sealed and do not contain any liquids.

¹2 Department of Energy. Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy. "A Farmer's Guide to Going Solar."

"My land is very important to me.

EDPR hasn't done anything that can't be removed off the land.

They've planted grass on it to keep it from eroding. They really respect the land and the landowners."

- Walt P., South Carolina landowner

Protecting Wildlife & the Environment

As a company committed to a clean energy future, we take our impacts on the environment extremely seriously and devote significant resources to ensuring proper permitting, siting, and mitigation steps are taken.

The following measures have been or will be taken to protect the environment that will host the project:

FIELD SURVEYS COMPLETED:

- Bat Habitat Assessment
- Hydrologic and Hydraulic Study
- Phase I Environmental Site Assessment
- Geotechnical (Soil Sampling) Study
- Wetlands & Waters Delineation
- Cultural Resources Survey (ongoing)

AGENCIES WORKED WITH:

- U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service
- U.S. Army Corps of Engineers
- Breckinridge County
- Kentucky Public Service Commission
Electric Generation & Transmission
Siting Board

SITE DESIGN CONSIDERATIONS:

The project will be designed to minimize or avoid:

- Impacts to wetlands
- Impacts to natural vegetation
- Impacts to bat habitats

DECOMMISSIONING COMMITMENTS:

- Project leases obligate this project to remove all equipment after the project life and restore the land to as close to its pre-construction condition as possible.
- The project will also post a bond to cover decommissioning costs if lease obligations were not fulfilled.
- The project and EDP Renewables are committed to being good neighbors and ensuring that no equipment is left in Breckinridge County after the project life.

“When we build a solar project, we make sure our impact on the land is as minimal as possible.”

Solar Park Construction

Building a solar park is a major construction project that takes approximately a year to complete and employs hundreds of people. Here are some of the goods and services we can source locally:

TECHNICAL & CONSTRUCTION EMPLOYMENT

- Civil contractors
- Concrete supply and delivery
- General laborers
- Safety staff
- Excavation and restoration
- Gravel supply and delivery
- Heavy equipment operators

SERVICES

- Accommodations and catering
- Vehicle and equipment maintenance
- Vehicle and equipment rentals
- Security
- Fuel supply

Throughout the construction process, we work closely with local stakeholders and officials to ensure everyone is informed and construction activities are minimally disruptive.

1 SITE PREPARATION

To prepare a site for a new solar project, vegetation and large rocks are first removed. In some cases, a grading technique is employed to provide a level foundation for the construction of the solar modules. Great care is taken to salvage topsoil, prevent erosion, and maintain natural drainage patterns.

2 SECURITY FENCE

To protect the public during construction activities, as well as to prevent trespassing and vandalism, a chain link fence is erected around the perimeter of the project location.

3 DRIVING & DRILLING PILES

Following site preparation, metal beams (typically steel or aluminum) are spaced out and inserted into the ground using pile-drivers to serve as the foundation for the solar modules.

4 INSTALLING TABLES, TRACKERS, & PANELS

A typical solar park is comprised of thousands of photovoltaic (PV) panels that are mounted to tables and affixed to the foundation to form a solar array. In most cases, trackers are installed to aim the panels toward the sun and increase power production throughout the day.

5 LAYING UNDERGROUND CABLES

Buried electrical collection cables are installed to connect the solar arrays, inverters, and transformer. The buried lines are contained within the project location and buried to a minimum depth of three feet.

6 INSTALLING INVERTERS & TRANSFORMERS

The electricity generated by the PV panels is in the form of direct current (DC). Inverters are installed to convert the DC output of the PV cells into alternating current (AC) suitable for supplying the electrical grid. The AC power then goes through a transformer to increase the voltage before connecting to the electrical grid.

7 INTERCONNECTION

The power then passes from the project substation, where the voltage was increased, to a substation owned by the utility. From the utility's substation, the renewable electricity will be sent to homes, businesses, and utilities.

8 FULLY OPERATIONAL

Once the solar project is complete, it will be monitored on a continuing basis to ensure all components of the system are operating properly. Vegetation within the project area will be maintained, and the solar panels will be washed on a regular basis.

HELP NAME THE SOLAR PARK

We are using Clover Creek Solar Park as our temporary name for permitting purposes, but we want your help in choosing a new name that honors the local area.

Vote for a name—one of our three suggestions or one from a sticky note—by sticking a sticker next to it.

BEAR RUN SOLAR PARK

The Bear Run Creek flows through the area we are looking to site the project.

PENNYROYAL SOLAR PARK

Inspired by the Pennyroyal summer wildflower that grows in the area and is the namesake for the Pennyrile Region of Kentucky.

NEW FRONTIERS SOLAR PARK

A nod to Kentucky's history of exploration, discovery, and innovation. Kentucky is also a new frontier for EDPR, as this is our first project in the state.
