Kelsey rewarded for U of L's season with $1 million raise

BY RUSS BROWN
KENTUCKY TODAY

In gratitude to coach Pat Kelsey for leading Louisville out of the college basketball wilderness, back to national relevance in his first season, the U of L Athletic Association awarded Kelsey with a pay raise of $1 million.

Kelsey's original deal was for five years and $2.3 million per year. He later earned a one-year extension for guiding the Cards to the NCAA Tournament.

His salary now is $3.63 million with a contract that runs through 2030 and increases incentives he would earn for reaching the Sweet Sixteen, Elite Eight and Final Four.

This season Kelsey, 49, earned a $25,000 bonus by being named the ACC Coach of the Year and a $50,000 bonus for playing in the NCAA Tournament.

"I think we landed in a really good spot, I really do," athletics director Josh Heird said ULA's board meeting last Thursday. "... This is not a knee-jerk reaction — like, 'Oh, this is a one-hit wonder.' Pat's won almost every year anywhere that he's been, if you look at his success at Winthrop and his success at the College of Charleston and now his success at the University of Louisville. We expect him to continue to win — and win in big ways here."

Prior to Kelsey's arrival from College of Charleston in March, 2024 U of L was 12-52 in two years under Kenny Payne. The Cards' 28 wins were two more than the previous three teams combined (25-71). Kelsey's built-from-scratch team also advanced to the championship game of the ACC Tournament for the first time since joining the league for the 2014-15 season and ended a drought in the Big Dance dating to 2019.

Expectations are high for Kelsey's second season. Louisville has been ranked in the way-to-early polls for next year by The Athletic, ESPN, FOX Sports, On3 and Sports Illustrated.

Brohm remains an advocate of spring game

BY RUSS BROWN
KENTUCKY TODAY

Louisville football coach Jeff Brohm is bucking a trend of doing away with spring football games. He doesn't agree with many of his peers on the subject.

As far as he is concerned, the Cardinals' Red-White game is here to stay.

Asked about the future following last Friday's 2025 edition of the game, in which the White offensive team defeated the Red defensive team 32-24, Brohm called spring games an "invaluable" resource for both the coaching staff and the players.

"Anytime you get into a team setting and have to find ways to move the ball, create stops ...," Brohm said. "For guys to recognize it, find ways to execute in the red zone, long yardage situations, you've got to do it. So to waste a spring game and not do that, to me you're hurting yourself."

"Of course you don't want to get guys injured. And I think some (coaches) are scared that other (coaches) are going to watch and steal their players. In my opinion, people already know who we have, and teams already know who the other teams have."

In Friday's game in L&N Stadium, quarterback Miller Moss and wide receiver Caulin Lacy were the offensive standouts.

Moss, the Southern Cal transfer, completed 18 of 26 passes for 208 yards and a touchdown, while Lacy had 99 receiving yards with a TD. Halfback Duke Watson scored on a 60-yard run.

"I think Miller's had a really good camp," Brohm said. "He's a good leader, he works really hard, he can throw an accurate ball. He's got good poise, he's been battle-tested, he can handle adversity. He knows who our weapons are."

No defensive stats were kept, but Brohm said he likes his defensive line, where he has to replace stalwarts Ashton Gilotte and Ramon Puryear.

"I think we have possibly three deep at a lot of positions," he said. "Now, some don't have much experience, so that's a concern, but they have talent without question."

U of L will open the season on Aug. 30 against Eastern Kentucky, the first of three straight home games.

COLLINS TO ENTER PORTAL. Guard/center Austin Collins, who has been a solid part of the offensive line the past two seasons, has filed the paperwork necessary to enter the portal as a grad transfer, his representative told On2's Pete Nakos. Collins is the second Cardinal to enter the portal this spring, following edge rusher Demon Clowney.

While the 6-foot-3, 300-pound Collins had to miss all of this spring because of offseason shoulder surgery, he had long since established himself as one of Louisville's best offensive linemen. He played in 12 games last year and allowed no sacks and only eight pressures in 311 pass blocking snaps and 542 snaps overall.

Of Louisville's six main offensive linemen in 2024, Collins had the highest Pro Football Focus pass blocking grade at 85.1, while he gave up the second-fewest total pressures, behind Monroe Mills' seven.

UK football made 'a lot of strides' this spring

BY JOSEPH RUSSELL
PAXTON MEDIA GROUP

Following 15 practices this spring, capped by Kentucky football's Spring Showcase on Saturday at Kroger Field, the Wildcats feel good about their chances for 2025 — but the work isn't done yet.

"It was good to get out there, get in the stadium on a beautiful day," said UK head coach Mark Stoops, whose squad ran through a shortened scrimmage, "and let the fans see a little bit about the upcoming team. Throughout the spring, I was very proud of this group. We definitely got better. We made a lot of strides."

"The downside of coming out here and splitting it up and playing everybody on your roster, you tend to get sloppy from time to time, but we got better throughout the spring."

Even with the spring practice window closing, UK coaches stressed the importance of the next few weeks — highlighting the need to focus on the offseason strength and conditioning program while also working on the roster for when the NCAA transfer portal opens Wednesday. Amid the uncertainty surrounding the NCAA's House settlement regarding scholarships and roster limits, the SEC has opted to leave each team's roster size at 85 players this fall.

Stoops expects a few players to leave through the portal before the 2025 season kicks off, but he doesn't anticipate any major changes from what the Cats fielded during the spring.

"I feel good about the roster. There's a few areas where I'd love to get a couple guys," Stoops noted. "Again, you have to have the depth, you need to be able to function in practice. We're still working through roster limitation and what that number's going to be next year. There's still some moving pieces, but I think I'd like to keep intact the nucleus we have here."

"There will be some people that go in the portal — there has to be — and depending on that, we'll work through bringing some guys in, too."

Though the Cats had to operate without a few players due to injury, most notably the wide receivers, Stoops pointed to his team's overall depth as a positive.

"I felt like, going into today, we got the work done throughout the previous 14 practices, things we weren't able to do a year ago," he said. "You go back to last spring and even through fall camp, we were short some numbers, and it hurts you with the way you practice, and it carried over into the games last year."

"It really takes away from the whole team, the way you operate, the way you practice, the way you scrimmage and so on. With that being said, I'm happy with the way things went. Today was a very bland, very vanilla scrimmage, but it's still football. ... It was, overall, a very productive spring."

According to wide receiver Ja'Mori Maclin, the Cats' top returning pass-catcher, a key to a successful summer is to continue the work they've been putting in.

"We just had a lot of the guys getting comfortable with each other in the locker room," he said. "I think that's the biggest thing, and I think that's where it starts. You can't really have a good team on the field if you don't have a good team off the field."

"I think we'll surprise a lot of people. We've just got to work on what we've got to work on and just focus on what we've got to do. A lot of people are probably counting us out. They don't know much about us, but that's what we like — just going out there and working."

Croatian standout commits to play for UK

BY KEITH TAYLOR
KENTUCKY TODAY

LEXINGTON — Kentucky added another player to next year's roster on Saturday.

Andrija Jelavic of Croatia, one of the top players on the European circuit, committed to play for the Wildcats next season. Jelavic, a 6-foot-11 forward, will arrive in Lexington.

Andrija Jelavic

Jelavic played for Mega Superbit, a team from Belgrade Serbia, and was in 53 games in the past two seasons and averaged 10.8 points and 7.3 rebounds per game. He also made 52 3-pointers during the past two years.

Kentucky added four players through the transfer portal with the official addition of Jayden Quaintance, Jaland Lowe, Mouhamed Dioubate and Kam Williams. Also added to the roster are Class of 2025 standouts Jasper Johnson and Malachi Moreno.

Also on Saturday night, big man Brandon Garrison put an end to speculation over his basketball future with a simple post on his Instagram account.

"I'm back," said the post, which included a series of video highlights from his first season at Kentucky.

TRUMP

gender equity in athletics and preventing sexual harassment on campuses.

Given the push-pull of how recent presidencies view Title IX, it has created a whiplash effect.

Joe Biden signed an executive order on his first day in office that interpreted sex as "gender identity" under Title IX, a move that protected transgender athletes from being discriminated against if they wanted to participate in a sport that aligned with their gender identity, not their sex assigned at birth.

Yet it took more than three years for Title IX regulations saying that to be finalized. And when they were, they lacked specifics sports and were put on hold by courts.

Trump's order explicitly states that sex means the "immutable biological classification as either male or female." 'Sex' is not a synonym for and does not include the concept of "gender identity." The order adds that "sexes are not changeable and are grounded in fundamental and incontrovertible reality."

The decision marks a significant shift in the way Title IX is viewed and more explicitly, how it will be enforced.

HOW MANY TRANSGENDER ATHLETES WILL BE AFFECTED?

That number is hard to pin down.

The NCAA, for example, does not track data on transgender athletes among the 544,000 currently competing on 19,000 teams at various levels across the country, though NCAA President Charlie Baker testified in Congress in December that he was aware of fewer than 10 active NCAA athletes who identified as transgender.

A 2019 survey of high school students by the Gay, Lesbian and Straight Education Network (GLSEN) noted just 5% of respondents said they participated in a sport that aligned with their gender identity. A 2022 report by the Williams Institute estimated about 300,000 high school-age students (ages 13-17) identified as transgender. How many of those young people participate in sports is unknown, but it is likely a tiny fraction.

Attorney General Pam Bondi speaks during a news conference at the Department of Justice headquarters in Washington on Wednesday.

both of whom must issue permits," the attorney stated. "If we bring 300 new families into Anderson County, there could mean 1,200 people if they average four per household... it would mean 600 students in a new school building... and influx like that could be very expensive," said Jones. Also noting that such rapid growth could cause problems with health related services, police and fire protection, Jones said the public hearing was needed.

Some good news came out of Friday's Fiscal Court meeting for the residents of Hammonds Creek Road area. Jim Catlett, Anderson's judge executive, announced a new bridge over Hammonds Creek was going to be given top priority, largely because of a petition signed by some 80 persons asking for improvements. Catlett pointed out that the Hammonds Creek bridge, which has a 6 ton weight limit, was causing complications for the school system. presently as the bus must cross the bridge empty and backtracking to be necessary to complete the route. "I want to start on the bridge right away. I want to get it done before another school year," said the judge. In other business, Judge Catlett appointed magistrate Ralph Dennis and Ron Madden to work with him on setting salaries for County employees and determining the number each office may have. Catlett noted that Dennis and Madden were chosen because they are not running for anything and have nothing to gain. Salaries will be set for Sheriff's deputies, secretary to the judge, county clerk deputies, coroner deputies, County attorney, jailer and deputies in magistrates. The court agreed to help with a county-wide cleanup effort tentatively set for next month by allowing bags of trash picked off those roadsides to be brought to the county barn. The trash will most likely be brought in over the weekend and County Employees will haul it off to the landfill on Monday.

April 20, 2000

Due to the continued population growth in Anderson County, the Anderson County board of education has approved the creation of three new teaching positions. A special education teacher will be hired to work with students at Emma B Ward Elementary and Saffell Street Elementary schools. A kindergarten teaching position will be created at the Early Childhood Center. Also at the Early Childhood center, a preschool teaching Position will be added. teaching assistance will also be hard to support the new Early Childhood Center positions. LaVerne Brumley, Community Education director, spoke to the board at its regular monthly meeting Monday night regarding the development of service learning projects within the Anderson County School System. Brumley described service learning as a method of engaging students in community problem-solving. Teachers, Guided by core content requirements, incorporate the projects into lesson plans. Teachers then facilitate the projects in an effort to develop students' Community involvement skills.

Elaine Duncan, a Lawrenceburg native who played an important role in the development of JARVIK-7 artificial heart and later founded her own consulting company for a new medical technology, has been inducted into the University of Kentucky College of Engineering Hall of Distinction. The

She also holds a master's degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Minnesota. While attending UK, Duncan worked at the Wenner-Gren biomedical research laboratory, world famous for training chimpanzees for the Mercury space program prior to manned space travel, giving direction to our entire engineering career. In 1992, she received medical alleys outstanding contribution to the healthcare industry award in a 1999 the society for biomaterials William Hall award. Baseball honors Robinson on 78th anniversary of breaking color barrier

BY BETH HARRIS
AP SPORTS WRITER

LOS ANGELES — Jackie Robinson was the first to break baseball's color barrier with the Brooklyn Dodgers 78 years ago Tuesday. His legacy continues to inspire people inside the major leagues — and outside, too.

Players and staff from the Dodgers, including Shohei Ohtani, Mookie Betts and rookie Roki Sasaki, and the Colorado Rockies surrounded Robinson's statue in Centerfield Plaza hours before game time in Los Angeles on Jackie Robinson Day around the major leagues.

They were joined by Basketball Hall of Fame player Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, who turns 78 on Wednesday. He recalled wearing a Brooklyn baseball cap while growing up in the neighboring borough of Manhattan.

"I'd get in fights with people from the Giants, the Yankees, pretty often," he said, "but I kept my cap on and nobody was able to knock it off. I was so tall."

Abdul-Jabbar, then known as Lew Alcindor, followed in Robinson's footsteps as a sports star at UCLA, where he won three national championships under Hall of Fame coach John Wooden.

Robinson has continued to be a lifelong inspiration for Abdul-Jabbar.

"He meant excellence, giving your all, giving your best," Abdul-Jabbar said, "and for all the detractors that are out there, just ignore them and keep on."

Every team playing Monday wore No. 42 jerseys. It's the only number universally retired in the majors.

"It's not just a one-off day," Dodgers manager Dave Roberts said. "We understand what this man did for our world, our country. This is how you go about life. This is something for me, keeping his legacy burning." Roberts, Ron Washington of the Los Angeles Angels and Will Venable of the Chicago White Sox are only Black managers currently in the majors.

"One of the things Jackie obviously nailed is he realized from an early time that life was going to be hard," Roberts said. "He was special and he was put in this certain position to rise above and know that it's not just about the game of baseball. It's bigger than him."

The Dodgers and Rockies were joined by Sonya Pankey Robinson, the oldest grandchild of Jackie and Rachel Robinson and the only child of Jackie Jr., who was killed in a car accident in 1971 at age 24. Granddaughter Ayo Robinson, whose father is David Robinson, was on hand, too.

"He was so progressive in so many ways," Pankey Robinson said of her grandfather. "When I think about him fondly,

I just think about all of his contributions to society and to us as a family. I feel a real responsibility to uphold his values and I take that job very seriously."

Robinson's 102-year-old widow marked the anniversary at the Jackie Robinson Museum in Brooklyn with Commissioner Rob Manfred.

"She is out looking great and greeting everyone," Pankey Robinson said. "Not only did she instill the values that she knows my grandfather would expect us to uphold, but she had her own values and her own expectations of us early on to set goals for ourselves in life."

Pankey Robinson lives near her grandmother in New York, saying, "We keep it close and tight."

Robinson was in the news last month when a Defense Department page describing his military service was restored after it briefly went missing. The department has been removing content highlighting contributions by women and minority groups as part of a directive for President Donald Trump's administration to delete material promoting diversity, equity and inclusion.

"Disheartening but not discouraged because I think what he's done is etched in history and it's not anyone else's place to remove that," Pankey Robinson said after the ceremony. "His impact is large and we feel good knowing, that while disappointed, what he did mattered."

The Angels' Washington learned about Robinson when he bought a book about him during a bus stop in Waterloo, Iowa, on a minor league trip in 1972.

"It impacted me tremendously to find out what he had to go through just to play the game of baseball," Washington said, "and then you look back and say, 'Wow, in this period could I have done that?' I want to think I could, but I don't know if I could."

New York Yankees manager Aaron Boone called Robinson "one of the most important figures in American history."

"Obviously, he was part of integrating our sport, but part of further integrating America, and other sports. It's so cool what we get to do today, and everyone wearing 42, bringing attention to it and just honoring what's an amazing legacy."

collect the save, striking out one in a perfect inning of relief.

MNHHS got on the board early after an Ohio County error in the first inning, but the Eagles responded quickly. Landon Hiner's two-run single and a Nolan Baize RBI double in the second gave the hosts a 3-1 lead. Owen McConnell added an RBI single in the third to extend it to 4-1.

The Maroons responded in the fourth, tying the game at 4-4 thanks to RBI contributions from Gauge Clark, Latham, and Wilson. The game remained scoreless through five tense innings before Madisonville broke through in the ninth.

Offensively, Madisonville collected nine hits. Ryder Sandidge, Wilson, and Clark tallied two hits apiece, while Latham and Wilson drove in two runs each. Sandidge also swiped two bases.

Ohio County was led by Hiner, who drove in two runs and recorded two hits along with Parker Westfield. Baize took the loss for the Eagles, allowing three runs (one earned) in 3-1/3 innings of relief.

The following night, the Maroons' defensive miscues caught up with them in an 11-4 loss at Elmer Kelley Stadium to Caldwell County, despite out hitting the Tigers, 8-7. Madisonville committed multiple throwing errors, which helped the Tigers pull away in a rematch of last season's 7th District championship game.

After taking a 2-1 lead in the bottom of the first on an Alex Richards sacrifice fly and a Lane Faulk RBI single, the Maroons allowed the Tigers to even the score in the second and take control in the third. Three runs came across on a dropped third strike, an error, and a double by Westin King.

Caldwell County added insurance in the later innings, taking advantage of three Madisonville pitchers.

Faulk took the loss, surrendering five runs (three earned) in three innings. Evan Lear provided four innings of relief, giving up six runs (two earned) while striking out six.

Brantley Harris led the Maroons with a 3-for-4 night at the plate. Richards drove in two runs, while Lear added an RBI.

Ethan Ramage earned the win for Caldwell County, striking out five over six innings while allowing six hits and three runs (two earned). King and Luke Parker each drove in a run and collected two hits for the Tigers, who had six different players record RBIs.

The two teams are set to meet again today in Princeton for the second of their scheduled matchups this week.

the Humanities and poured every dime back into places that were devastated by flood waters because it is our mission to help Kentucky communities thrive.

We wanted then, and want now, to be part of the rebuilding of Kentucky's communities ravaged by flooding, but we can't. Why? Because at the federal level, DOGE has targeted the NEH and terminated Kentucky Humanities' operating grant and any emergency funding sources that previously allowed us to provide aid in the Commonwealth.

We are sorry, but most of all we are angry because you and us — we — are the ones looking out for Kentucky and all Kentuckians.

If you're angry, too, please contact our elected officials and insist they support continued funding of the NEH and Kentucky Humanities. Together, our voices can make a difference.

JESUS

general population mocked Him and eventually agreed to publicly execute Him on the grounds of blasphemy. For what? Simply and truthfully admitting He was the Son of God. Sadly, things have not really changed that much as He is still considered a heretic and His followers are persecuted. As Christians we know He is The way, The truth, and The life, and Him resurrecting from the dead proves He is the light of the world, The bread of life, and no one can convince us otherwise.

Jesus was constantly approached by those in desperate need and is His nature and character to be concerned and compassionate. Nothing has changed, He is still the same. The world has always been filled with human suffering and He is always ready to respond with love, grace, and mercy. He sees and hears everything, especially when someone calls upon Him to forgive and save them. Two thousand years later He is still pouring out His grace and forgiveness to anyone that will call upon His name. "You, Lord, are forgiving and good, abounding in love to all who call to you" Psalm 86:5. "But God demonstrates his own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us" Romans 5:8. "And so we know and rely on the love God has for us. God is love. Whoever lives in love lives in God, and God in them" I John 4:16.

There is only one reason Jesus allowed Himself to be crucified. He loved us. One of the core truths about our responsibility as His followers is that we allow His love to saturate and overflow within us. We seldom think about it, but He commands us to take up our cross and to die to self so that we can be resurrected as a new creation in Christ. As we meditate on His victorious mission, we are given a deeper understanding of who He is, and how He desires to live through us. Beyond the new clothes, the feasting, and the Easter festivities and customs, may we give honor and worship to our Creator who rescued us from our hopelessness. Dear friend, without being forgiven for our sins, we are carrying the weights and chains of misery in this life and the punishment of sin in the next. Come to Jesus today and He will save you and change your life forever.

Cougars secure 5th straight win against Springfield

BY WES ELROD
NEWS-DEMOCRAT & LEADER

Last Wednesday marked the fifth straight victory for the Logan County Cougars baseball program as they hosted the Springfield Yellow Jackets. A solid all-around performance for the Cougars as they took home the 5-3 victory. The Cougars have gotten off to a strong start this season as they look to secure the top spot in the district standings, with their victory over Franklin-Simpson earlier this season.

Falling early 1-0 after a solo home run in the top of the first inning, the Cougars had an opportunity to take the lead with two in scoring position, as a double from Drew McLellan put runners at second and third, but the Yellow Jackets would escape with no points given up. After a three-up and three-down half-inning on the defense, the Cougars were back in the batter's box. A big double from Noah Mosley would prove crucial, as a wild pitch would score the tying run and push Mosley across.

The Cougars offense came alive in the bottom of the third, as freshman Tysean Thomeczek earned the walk to kick off the half-inning surge. Senior Tripp Wadlington singled, and after a Thomeczek steal at second, the base hit advanced him to third. McLellan would earn the RBI, driving Thomeczek across for the lead. McLellan finished the day a perfect 3-for-3 at bat, missing only a home run to bat for the cycle. Mosley got the sacrifice fly to get Wadlington across for their third run of the game. McLellan would earn his first run of the day as the Cougars took a commanding 4-1 lead.

Facing the top of the seventh, with two down and a dangerous hitter with the tying run on base, after a quick talk at the mound, the Cougars starting pitcher, Tate McLean, and the defense behind him were cool as ice as they closed out the game with the ground out to first, sealing the victory. McLean finished out the game, pitching all seven innings, allowing nine hits and three runs, walking one and striking out three, earning his fourth victory of the season.

Talking with the Cougars head coach, Ethan Meguiar, he gave props to his pitcher: "Tate did a really good job today, staying around the plate, throwing strikes; the pitching was really solid." Adding to his analysis on the team's performance as a whole, "We left a few out there on base a couple of times. I would've liked to see us get some more offense going. Defense: We left a few plays out there, but for the most part I thought the defense was solid, and it helped keep Tate's pitch count down. The offense put up the runs to get us the win, as I felt our attitude was really great and our Cox continued his hot streak at the plate, going 3-for-4 with a double and an RBI. Trey Floden and Whitworth also notched multi-hit games, with Floden driving in a pair.

Collins took a 4-2 lead in the fifth inning after Cox and Morris delivered clutch singles, but Woodford County responded with a six-run surge in the bottom of the sixth. Despite the Titans' late efforts to rally, the deficit proved too large to overcome.

On the mound, Brady Gaither took the loss after allowing five runs (three earned) in 3.1 innings. Starter Carter Poole allowed two runs in two innings, while Jacob Stover closed out the game. The Titans stranded several base runners in key situations, and Woodford County capitalized on timely hits to seal the win.

Collins closed out the week with a hard-fought 3-0 loss to Christian Academy-Louisville on April 12.

Preston Miller pitched four innings, allowing three runs on four hits and striking out four. CAL scored all three runs in the opening frame, and their pitching staff held the Titans in check the rest of the way.

Titan infielder Alston Whitworth fires a throw across the diamond.

Despite being held scoreless, Collins scattered four hits, with Whitworth, Faulkner, Wooten, and Shafer each recording one. The Titans were unable to string hits together against CAL's pitching duo, who combined to strike out eight and allow just four baserunners across seven innings.

allowing seven hits and three earned runs while walking just two. Though she didn't record a strikeout, her ability to limit damage and stay composed proved vital in a high-pressure outing.

The Lady Titans produced eight hits from eight different players, with England, Renfro, Williams, and Bermudez each collecting an RBI. Collins also showed aggression on the base paths, swiping seven total bags, including multiple steals from both England and Renfro. The defense stood tall, playing error-free softball and recording six putouts from Williams alone.

JESSICA K. DANIEL, CPA PSC
CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANT
INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT.

Honorable Mayor Greg Greene and Members of the City Council
 City of Eddyville, Kentucky
 Eddyville, Kentucky

Report on the Financial Statements

Opinions
 We have audited the accompanying financial statements of the governmental activities, the business-type activities, each major fund, and the aggregate remaining fund information of the City of Eddyville, Kentucky, as of and for the year ended June 30, 2024, and the related notes to the financial statements, which collectively comprise the City's basic financial statements as listed in the table of contents.

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the respective financial position of the business-type activities of the City of Eddyville, Kentucky, as of June 30, 2024, and the respective changes in financial position, and, where applicable, cash flows thereof for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinions

We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are required to be independent of the City of Eddyville, Kentucky and to meet other ethical responsibilities, in accordance with the relevant ethical requirements relating to our audit. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinions.

Responsibilities of Management for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America, and for the design, implementation and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error. In preparing the financial statements, management is required to evaluate whether there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the City of Eddyville, Kentucky's ability to continue as a going concern for twelve months beyond the financial statement date, including any currently known information that may raise substantial doubt shortly thereafter.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinions. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance but is not absolute assurance and therefore is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control. Misstatements are considered material if there is a substantial likelihood that, individually or in the aggregate, they would influence the judgment made by a reasonable user based on the financial statements.

In performing an audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards and Government Auditing Standards, we:

- Exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit.
- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, and design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks. Such procedures include examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the City's internal control. Accordingly, no such opinion is expressed.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluate the overall presentation of the financial statements.
- Conclude whether, in our judgment, there are conditions or events, considered in the aggregate, that raise substantial doubt about the City's ability to continue as a going concern for a reasonable period of time.

We are required to communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit, significant audit findings, and certain internal control-related matters that we identified during the audit.

Required Supplementary Information

Accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America require that the management's discussion and analysis, budgetary comparison information, schedule of proportionate share of the net pension liability, schedule of contributions to the net pension liability, schedule of proportionate share of the net OPEB liability, and schedule of contributions to the net OPEB liability on pages 4-9 and 46-55 be presented to supplement the basic financial statements. Such information, although not part of the basic financial statements, is required by the Governmental Accounting Standards Board, who considers it to be an essential part of financial reporting for placing the basic financial statements in an appropriate operational, economic, or historical context. We have applied certain limited procedures to the required supplementary information in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, which consisted of inquiries of management about the methods of preparing the information and comparing the information for consistency with management's responses to our inquiries, the basic financial statements, and other knowledge we obtained during our audit of the basic financial statements. We do not express an opinion or provide any assurance on the information because the limited procedures do not provide us with sufficient evidence to express an opinion or provide any assurance.

Supplementary Information

Our audit was conducted for the purpose of forming opinions on the financial statements that collectively comprise the City of Eddyville, Kentucky's basic financial statements. The accompanying combining and individual nonmajor fund financial statements are presented for purposes of additional analysis and are not a required part of the basic financial statements. Such information is the responsibility of management and was derived from and relates directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the basic financial statements. The information has been subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the basic financial statements and certain additional procedures, including comparing and reconciling such information directly to the underlying accounting and other records used to prepare the basic financial statements or to the basic financial statements themselves, and other additional procedures in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. In our opinion, the combining and individual nonmajor fund financial statements are fairly stated, in all material respects, in relation to the basic financial statements as a whole.

Other Reporting Required by Government Auditing Standards

In accordance with Government Auditing Standards, we have also issued a report dated February 7, 2025, on our consideration of the City of Eddyville, Kentucky's internal control over financial reporting and our tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, grant agreements, and other matters. The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the City of Eddyville, Kentucky's internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering the City of Eddyville, Kentucky's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.
