Refer to the Direct Testimony of Shannon A. Caldwell ("Caldwell Testimony") at 4. Ms. Caldwell states that Duke Energy has 276,213 employees, and Duke Kentucky has 141 employees, comprising of 10 exempt employees and 131 non-exempt employees. Further, Ms. Caldwell states that DEBS has 6,737 employees, comprised of 5,152 exempt employees and 1,585 non-exempt employees. Explain all the differences and similarities between the exempt and non-exempt employee designations, and designate whether only non-exempt employees are union members.

RESPONSE:

Caldwell Testimony at 4, Ms. Caldwell states that Duke Energy has 26,213 employees not 276,213 employees.

Exempt, or salaried employees, are generally administrative, executive, professional, or computer-related employees such as executive leadership, department directors and managers, engineers, cyber security analysts, and accountants. Non-exempt, or hourly employees, are eligible for overtime pay under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and include employees such as plant operators, line workers, field service and call center associates. All union employees are non-exempt employees.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Caldwell Testimony generally.

a. Provide a copy of all formal wage and benefit studies conducted by or on behalf of Duke Kentucky.

b. Provide copies of all formal wage and benefit studies conducted by or on behalf of Duke Kentucky that compares wage and benefit information to the local wage and benefit information for the geographic area in which Duke Kentucky operates, and not only to other utilities, per prior Commission precedent.[1]

RESPONSE:

a. While Duke Energy does not conduct actual surveys or studies, we participate in and utilize a variety of salary and benefit surveys and ad hoc analyses conducted by third parties on an annual basis. Please refer to the direct testimony of Company witness Shannon A. Caldwell as Attachment SAC-1 contains a list of surveys utilized in 2024. The documents are voluminous in nature and are considered to be proprietary by the vendor and subject to licensing agreements. As a result, to the extent permitted by these vendors, the Company will make available for the Commission's review, any of the surveys at a time and place that is convenient to the Commission and the Company.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Caldwell Testimony at 9 – 15.

a. Confirm that Ms. Caldwell is aware of the extensive precedent, in which the Commission has, "consistently disallowed recovery of the cost of employee incentive compensation plans that are tied to financial measures because such plans benefit shareholders while ratepayers receive little benefit."[1]

b. Provide the monetary amount that is associated with both short-term (including the Union Employee Incentive Plan ("UEIP")), and long-term incentive compensation tied to financial measures that Duke Kentucky included in the revenue requirement, if any.

RESPONSE:

a. Based on prior precedent and as noted in the testimony of Shannon A. Caldwell under "What Incentive Pay Expense Does Duke Energy Kentucky Propose to Recover in this Proceeding" beginning on page 26, Duke Energy Kentucky has removed incentive pay expense tied to financial measures from the revenue requirement.

RESPONSE:

CONFIDENTIAL PROPRIETARY TRADE SECRET (As to subpart (k) only)

a. Duke Energy does not use Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) data as a benchmark for benefit plans. As discussed on page 33 of Shannon A. Caldwell's testimony under "How Does Duke Energy Determine that the Employee Benefit Programs that it Offers are Reasonable and Necessary," Duke Energy benchmarks its programs against other large employers from both the utility industry and general industry so that it is positioned to attract and retain qualified employees needed to support customers. Duke Energy leverages its consultants, vendor partners, and nationally recognized surveys to evaluate the competitiveness of its benefits and costs. Examples of surveys include Willis Towers Watson's Financial Benchmarks Survey, Best Practices in Health Care Survey, Emerging Trends in Healthcare Survey, and Benefits Data Source.

b. The average percentage share of premiums paid by Duke Energy Kentucky for single coverage employee health insurance for all employees is 72%.

c. Please see response to (a) above.

d. The average percentage share of premiums paid by Duke Energy Kentucky for family coverage employee health insurance for all employees is 68%.

e. Duke Energy Kentucky did not make any adjustments to Health Benefits Expense based on health insurance benefit contributions in excess of the BLS average for single and family coverage. As the responses to parts b and d demonstrate, the average percentage share of premiums paid by Duke Energy Kentucky is less than or equal to the most recent BLS data for single and family coverage in private industry, respectively.

f. To encourage enrollment to the HDHP medical options, Duke Energy provides a "seed" contribution in January of each year for employees electing individual or family coverage. The seed contribution is $850 per year for individual coverage and $1,700 per year for family coverage for most employees. Employees can also make payroll contributions to their HSA, but do not have to elect to make a payroll contribution to receive the seed contribution.

AG-DR-01-021

REQUEST:

Refer to the Direct Testimony of Grady "Tripp" S. Carpenter ("Carpenter Testimony") at 9.

a. Provide a list of all entities that direct charge or allocate costs to Duke Kentucky, and include the total amount of costs that are direct charged and/or allocated to the Company in the test year.

b. Explain who is responsible to review the allocated costs to Duke Kentucky, and whether any allocated costs have been rejected for any reason in the past five years. Provide specific examples of all rejected allocated costs in the past five years.

c. Identify all of the non-utility companies that are affiliates of Duke Kentucky.

d. Identify all of the non-utility companies that are affiliates of and provide services to Duke Kentucky.

RESPONSE:

a. The entities that charge or allocate costs to Duke Energy Kentucky and the associated costs in the test year are as follows:

Duke Energy Kentucky	52,250,785
Duke Energy Ohio	2,948,659
Duke Energy Business Services	81,022,131
Duke Energy Carolinas	8,385,549

Duke Energy Florida	185,417
Duke Energy Indiana	1,431,942
Duke Energy Progress	748,514
Piedmont Natural Gas	16,185
Grand Total	$ 146,989,182

Duke Energy Business Services (DEBS) falls under the Service Company to Utility service agreement. The other entities fall under the Operating Company (utility to utility) service agreement.

b. Please see the testimony of Rebekah E. Buck, page 17, where the allocated cost process is described. Also, per the Duke Energy Kentucky Cost Allocation Manual (CAM), page 32, filed in this case, the approval for cost allocation ratios is described. On a periodic basis, but no less than annually, DEBS conducts a cost study, applying the applicable data to the allocation ratios as described in Appendix A to the DEBS Service Agreement. From these cost studies, DEBS updates the allocation percentages of each allocable operating unit (OU) to reflect the current underlying foundation of the allocation ratios. For example, annually, the OU based on the number of employees, which is primarily utilized by the human resources function within DEBS, is updated to reflect the number of employees of each of DEBS' affiliate companies. Given the volume of charges, no one individual can review all the allocated costs. Areas for the respective functions of the business review their budget costs and the monthly review process exists to identify anomalies. While the business functions have asked questions about allocated costs, no allocated costs have ever been rejected.

c. Please see Appendix N of the Duke Energy Kentucky CAM filed in this proceeding.

d. Please see STAFF-DR-01-012 Attachment.

AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-022

REQUEST:

Refer to the Carpenter Testimony at 9 – 10. Mr. Carpenter states that the union labor cost increases were assumed to be between 2.5% – 3.6%, depending on the agreements, while non-union labor cost increases were assumed to be 3.5% (including both merit increases of 3% and an allowance for salary increases for promotions of 0.5%).

a. Provide an update on the union labor agreements as well as the union labor cost increases. Consider this an ongoing request.

b. Explain whether Duke Kentucky awards the same cost increase to non-union employees that the union employees receive. If not, explain how Duke Kentucky negotiates with the union versus non-union employees on wage/benefit increases.

c. Explain what employees are eligible to join a union at Duke Kentucky.

RESPONSE:

a. The most recent labor documents were provided in the testimony of Shannon A. Caldwell. Attachment SAC-2(a) is the labor document currently in effect between Duke Energy Kentucky and the Utility Workers Union of America (UWUA) Local No. 600 effective April 1, 2023, through March 31, 2027. Attachment SAC-2(b) is the labor document currently in effect between Duke Energy Kentucky and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers Local No. 1347 (IBEW 1347) effective April 1, 2022, through March 31, 2026. See STAFF-DR-01-039 for union annual wage increases.

b. No, the same annual wage increase is not awarded to non-union and union employees. For non-union employees, market data is reviewed and used to determine annual wage increase recommendations. Employees' individual increases may vary relative to the budget to allow for differences in individual performance rating, performance relative to peers, the position of salary within the salary range, and the size of the merit budget.

For union employees, annual wage increases are just one component of union negotiations. These are negotiated in the larger context of work-related topics, such as benefits, work rules and overtime. These general increases are expressed as percentages of current base pay rates and are consistent with market trends. Duke Energy bases its positions in these negotiations on survey projections for market increases and also utilize survey market data to ensure pay is competitive to the market.

c. Employees who hold positions represented by a specific union labor agreement are eligible to join the applicable union.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Carpenter Testimony at 10. Explain what the fringe benefit loading rate of 25.61% for 2024 and 2025 represents.

RESPONSE:

Fringe benefits are employee benefits such as retirement, and medical and dental insurance. These costs are allocated via a loading factor that is based on labor. This allows for the proper distribution of fringe benefits between operating and capital projects as well as among affiliates.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Direct Testimony of Thomas K. Christie ("Christie Testimony") at 3 – 4. Mr. Christie states that Duke Kentucky's vegetation management goal is to balance the need for reliable electric service with cost-effective vegetation management practices.

a. Provide a copy of Duke Kentucky's Vegetation Management Program.

b. Explain whether any Duke Kentucky employees work on vegetation management, or if it is handled exclusively by contractors.

c. Explain whether Duke Kentucky issues request for proposals ("RFPs") in order to obtain the most cost-effective contract price for vegetation management. If not, explain why not.

d. Provide the names of all contract firms that Duke Kentucky works with on its vegetation management.

e. Mr. Christie states that a five-year vegetation management cycle equates to approximately 286 miles per year that Duke Kentucky needs to manage. Provide the number of miles that Duke Kentucky has actually completed vegetation management upon for the years 2020 – 2025.

f. Provide the monetary amount associated with the five-year vegetation management plan for each of the years 2020 – 2025.

RESPONSE:

a. Duke Energy's Vegetation Management Program document was filed May 1, 2024, and included as an attachment to the Direct Testimony of Thomas "TK" K. Christie labeled Attachment TKC-1.

b. Duke Energy employees oversee contract resources that execute Duke Energy Kentucky's Vegetation Management Program.

c. Competitive request for proposals ("RFPs") are typically opened to award work in the Midwest market every 3-4 years. Multiple vendors are given the opportunity to provide pricing on various types of vegetation work. During these events, the Duke Energy Kentucky service area is one of multiple small geographical areas identified to receive separate pricing and award work.

d. The contract firms that Duke Energy Kentucky works with on its Distribution vegetation management include Lakeside Environmental Consultants LLC, ACRT INC, Asplundh Tree Expert LLC, EDKO LLC.

e. See the table below for the number of miles that Duke Kentucky has actually completed vegetation management for 2020 and 2024 and forecasted for 2025.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Colley Testimony at 18 – 20.

a. Provide the monetary amount that Duke Kentucky included in the test year revenue requirement for payment processing fees, with a breakdown between each payment type.

b. If Duke Kentucky included credit card fees in the revenue requirement then provide the Commission case number and Order that approved these specific fees to be included in rates.

c. Provide all payment processing fees that Duke Kentucky has paid for in the years 2020 – 2025, and provide a breakdown for each type of payment processing fee.

d. Identify the type of payments Duke Kentucky accepts from a customer without assessing a fee.

e. Identify the type of payments Duke Kentucky accepts only with a fee assessment.

f. Explain in full detail whether Duke Kentucky requires a convenience fee to be added to all credit card transactions in order for other customers to not subsidize the credit card payments. If not, explain in full detail why not.

g. Provide the type of credit cards that Duke Kentucky accepts as payment (e.g. Visa, MasterCard, American Express, etc.), the fee that the Company pays to process each type of credit card, and the associated fee to the customer.

h. Provide all other forms of payment that Duke Kentucky accepts from customers to pay the utility bill, the corresponding fees that the Company pays to process each payment type, as well as all fees assessed to the customers for each payment type.

i. Provide a list of all investor-owned utilities in Kentucky, if any, that do not charge a fee to customers who pay the bill using a credit card, and citations to the Commission Order(s) approving of the inclusion of the fees in the revenue requirement.

RESPONSE:

a. The Company can only approximate the monetary amount for processing fees for one-time electronic bank draft payments and Auto Pay payments as discussed in the response to (c) below. The estimated amount of one-time electronic bank draft payments and Auto Pay payment processing fees included in the test year revenue requirement is based on historical trends and would therefore be approximately $25,000 based on those trends.

The Company is also proposing expanding its fee-free payment options as discussed in the Direct Testimony of Jacob Colley and in response to (b) below included an additional $319,314 in the forecasted test year.

b. Per the Direct Testimony of Jacob Colley, the Company is proposing to expand its fee free payment options for residential customers to include its Card Payment channel. This channel is utilized by customers to pay with debit, credit, and prepaid cards as well as electronic checks. The fees for Card Payments are included in this proceeding for the Commission's approval. The revenue requirement includes an estimate of these fees per Schedule D-2.26.

c. Currently, two payment types available to customers have associated payment processing fees paid by the Company: one-time electronic bank draft payments and Auto Pay. Both methods require the customer to have a traditional bank account. The one-time electronic bank draft payment processing fee is approximately 10 cents per each transaction, and the payment processing fee for Auto Pay is approximately 1.5 cents per transaction.

The approximate total payment processing fees that the Company paid from April 2022 through December 2024 are shown in the table below. In April 2022, the Company deployed its new billing system, and payment data before this is not readily available. The Company has not paid any processing fees for 2025.

	2022*	2023	2024	Total
Auto Pay	$2,700	$4,000	$4,500	$11,200
One Time Electronic Bank Draft	$13,700	$20,000	$21,500	$55,200

*April 2022 – December 2022

Available through the Company's website and/or mobile app

d. See Direct testimony of Jacob Colley testimony, page 18, for a description of the types of payments Duke Energy accepts from a customer without assessing a fee.

e. The card payment channel (debit, credit, prepaid cards, and electronic check) and some walk-in payment locations are the payment channels where a customer is assessed an incremental payment processing fee at the time of transaction.

f. For the Company to offer the card payment channel to customers, a payment processing vendor is necessary. The vendor costs are covered through a convenience fee charged to customers who utilize the card payment channel. The convenience fee is paid directly to the card payment vendor. The Company is proposing that the costs for card payments to be built into the cost of service, paid for by all customers, and not recovered exclusively from those specific customers that use this method of payment as are the costs associated with payments through check, money order, cash (via some walk-in payment locations), Auto Pay, and one-time electronic bank drafts.

g. The Company's card payment channel is a convenient way for customers to pay their bills utilizing American Express, Discover, Mastercard, and Visa debit cards, credit cards, and prepaid cards, as well as electronic checks. Customers pay a $1.25 convenience fee to Speedpay to use this channel. The Company does not pay a processing fee.

h. Refer to the Direct Testimony of Jacob Colley, page 18 lines 8 through 16, which describes the payment methods that are built into the cost of service. The payment types in which the Company pays a processing fee are detailed in the previous response to (c). Additionally, refer to the response to (e) which details the payment methods in which a customer is assessed a payment processing fee at the time of the transaction.

i. Objection. The is request is overbroad, unduly burdensome, and seeks information that is not maintained by the Company in its ordinary course of business and moreover, would be publicly available to the Attorney General by examining each and every rate case filed by each Kentucky utility. As such, this request is further objectionable insofar as it seeks information that is obtainable and accessible to the Attorney General and thus is interpreted as intending to harass and force the Company to engage in unnecessary and unreasonable busy work. Without waiving said objection, the Company has not performed this analysis.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Colley Testimony at 19.

a. Provide a list of all fee-free payment locations that are available to Duke Kentucky's customers to walk in a pay their electric bills since Duke Kentucky does not have an office in Kentucky for customers to do so. Ensure to include the fee that Duke Kentucky pays, if any, in order to provide the fee-free payment locations.

b. Provide a list of all payment locations in which Duke Kentucky customers must pay a fee to pay their electric bills, as well as the corresponding fee that both Duke Kentucky and the customers must pay.

c. Explain in detail whether the aforementioned payment locations (fee-free or fee payment locations) have access to the customers' accounts, and know the amount of the bill that needs to be paid, and by what date the bill is required to be paid. If not, explain what information the payment locations have concerning Duke Kentucky customer accounts.

RESPONSE:

a. Refer to AG-DR-01-026 Attachment for a list of fee-free Kroger payment locations in Kentucky. The Company does not pay a fee to the agent network for collection of payments.

b. Refer to AG-DR-01-026 Attachment for a list of authorized payment locations in Kentucky. As of January 15th, 2025, there are currently thirty-nine authorized payment locations in the Northern Kentucky area where customers must pay a $2.00 fee per transaction. The Company does not pay a fee to the agent network for collection of payments.

c. Customers must provide the bill stub with account information in order to process a payment. The agent is provided information such as the amount due on the bill and the due date.

Duke Energy Kentucky
Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-027

REQUEST:

Refer to the Direct Testimony of Thomas Heath, Jr. ("Heath Testimony") at 5 – 6. Mr. Heath states that the Company is proposing a capital structure of 52.728% equity and 47.272% debt in the pending case. However, equity capital is a more expensive form of capital than debt capital. Thus, explain why Duke Kentucky is proposing a higher percentage of equity than debt if the equity portion represents a higher cost to the customers.

RESPONSE:

The proposed capital structure represents the average of the 13-month forecast period. The Company manages to a balanced capital structure over the long-run and targets an overall capital structure that supports the current credit rating, while minimizing its overall cost of capital. Duke Energy Kentucky's current senior unsecured credit rating of Baa1/BBB+ provides access to the capital markets on reasonable terms and keeps debt financing costs low which provides a benefit to customer rates. A lower equity percentage reduces cash flow, negatively impacting the Company's credit metrics that are needed to maintain the current credit profile of the utility.

PERSON RESPONSIBLE: Thomas J. Heath, Jr.

AG-DR-01-028

REQUEST:

Refer to the Heath Testimony at 15. Mr. Heath states that the credit rating agencies believe that Duke Kentucky's reliance on coal-fired generation is a constraint and causes it to be poorly positioned for the carbon transition, and considers this a credit challenge.

a. Explain whether Duke Kentucky is aware of KRS 41.470 – 41.480,[1] regarding divestment of holdings in financial companies participating in energy company boycotts.

b. Explain whether Duke Kentucky knows whether the credit rating agencies cited by Mr. Heath are aware of KRS 41.470 – 41.480, regarding divestment of holdings in financial companies participating in energy company boycotts.

RESPONSE:

a. Objection. Irrelevant. Without waiving said objection, and to the extent discoverable, yes, Duke Energy Kentucky is aware of KRS 41.470-41.480. This statue applies to the Commonwealth of Kentucky and not Duke Energy Kentucky. KRS 41.480 says that no government entity can enter into a contract with a company unless it verifies that the company does not engage in energy company boycotts.

b. Objection. Calls for speculation. Without waiving said objection, and to the extent discoverable, Duke Energy Kentucky does not know if the rating agencies are aware of KRS 41.470-41.480. That said, credit rating agencies consider the regulatory and legislative environment for the states in which utilities operate as part of their rating methodology framework, which includes evaluating legislation impacting the utility. For example, a utility operating in a stable, reliable and highly predictable regulatory environment typically receives a higher score for this sub-factor than a utility operating in a less developed regulatory environment or one characterized by a high level of political intervention.

AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-029

REQUEST:

Refer to the Direct Testimony of Matthew Kalemba ("Kalemba Testimony") at 4 – 5. Mr. Kalemba states that Duke Kentucky's 2024 IRP includes updated policies at both the state and federal level including the Inflation Reduction Act ("IRA"); the Environmental Protection Agency ("EPA") Clean Air Act, Section 111, April 2024 Updates regulating existing coal and new natural gas generation facilities; and, updates to Effluent Limitation Guidelines ("ELG") and tightened Mercury and Air Toxics Standards ("MATS").

a. Confirm that due to a new presidential administration taking office on January 20, 2025, as well as pending litigation, it is possible, if not probable, that the aforementioned cited laws and regulations will be modified or overturned altogether.

b. Explain in detail whether East Bend could continue to provide safe and reliable electricity past December 31, 2038, if the aforementioned laws and EPA regulations are overturned through the pending legal challenges and/or rolled back by the new presidential administration taking office on January 20, 2025.

c. If the aforementioned laws and regulations are modified and/or overturned, will Duke Kentucky modify its proposed plan to close the East Bend station no later than December 31, 2038? Explain the response in detail.

d. If the aforementioned laws and regulations are modified and/or overturned, will Duke Kentucky continue with its plan to convert the East Bend station from 100% coal generation to coal generation with natural gas co-firing capabilities? Explain the response in detail.

RESPONSE:

a. Objection. Calls for speculation. Without waiving said objection, and to the extent discoverable, regardless of the change of administration, it is possible that existing regulations that are currently being litigated could be modified or overturned. It is also possible that they would not.

b. Notwithstanding whether or not the CAA 111 Update withstands legal challenges, there will likely be additional restrictions to the operation and/or economics of coal necessitating East Bend's retirement prior to 2041. Disregarding the regulatory and economic challenges, it is possible that East Bend could continue to provide safe and reliable electricity past December 31, 2038, with adequate investments. There is a risk that as this asset ages, OEM and replacement part obsolescence will impact the ability to provide safe and reliable electricity beyond a date uncertain.

c. The Company believes that the deprecation rates it has proposed in this proceeding are reasonable. The end of East Bend's useful life is approaching, and it is prudent for customers that the Company attempt to align the depreciation rates as closely as possible to the end of its useful life. As outlined in the Company's IRP, if the EPA regulations are rolled back and/or overturned, the Company's estimated retirement date for East Bend is December 31, 2035. The Company still believes that depreciation rates reflecting a December 31, 2038, retirement date in this case is reasonable and prudent in that scenario as it has the effect of gradually adjusting customer rates to the best estimate of the approximate retirement date of East Bend.

d. As explained in part c, if the EPA regulations are rolled back and/or overturned, the Company's estimated retirement date for East Bend is December 31, 2035, as detailed in the Company's preferred portfolio without EPA CAA Section 111 Updates "East Bend Retirement by 2036 and Accelerated Renewables."

Duke Energy Kentucky
Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-030

REQUEST:

Refer to the Direct Testimony of Sarah E. Lawler ("Lawler Testimony") at 7. Ms. Lawler states that Duke Kentucky has proven the rebuttal presumption as required by KRS 278.264 to allow it to include various costs, including terminal net salvage costs, associated with the East Bend and Woodsdale generating units.

a. KRS 278.264(2)(b) states, "[t]he retirement will not harm the utility's ratepayers by causing the utility to incur any net incremental costs to be recovered from ratepayers that could be avoided by continuing to operate the electric generating unit proposed for retirement…" Explain in detail how the Company's proposal to shutter the East Bend coal generating unit and replace it with a new generation unit will not cause harm to the utility's ratepayers, or create incremental costs, since the customers will be forced to pay for all of the costs associated with East Bend as well as the cost of the new generation unit replacement, instead of only paying the cost for East Bend to continue to operate and provide electricity.

b. KRS 278.264(2)(d) states, "[t]he utility shall not commence retirement or decommissioning of the electric generating unit until the replacement generating capacity meeting the requirements of paragraph (a) of this subsection is fully constructed, permitted, and in operation, unless the utility can demonstrate that it is necessary under the circumstances to commence retirement or decommissioning of the existing unit earlier." Based upon KRS 278.264(2)(d) explain in detail why

Duke Kentucky should be allowed to collect retirement and/or decommissioning costs associated with East Bend of Woodsdale until the future replacement generating capacity is fully constructed, permitted, and operational.

RESPONSE:

a. Objection. This request misstates facts and mischaracterizes the Company's testimony. Without waiving said objection, and to the extent discoverable, the Company is not seeking to "shutter East Bend" in this proceeding. The Company is proving the rebuttable position to support why including terminal net salvage in depreciation expense is reasonable and appropriate. As stated in Ms. Lawler's direct testimony, the inclusion of terminal net salvage costs in depreciation expense will not result in any net incremental costs that could be avoided by continuing to operate East Bend. The costs to decommission East Bend exists regardless of when the unit is retired and including these costs in depreciation rates today does not result in incremental net costs to the customer. The Company's request in this proceeding is intended to avoid the precise problem identified by the Attorney General in its question, in that failing to properly recover the costs of East Bend through depreciation rates, including terminal net salvage in rates now, when the asset is in use and providing benefits to customers will absolutely result in a situation where future customers are forced to pay for the unrecovered/undepreciated costs of the unit at the same time as paying for the new generation.

b. If Duke Energy Kentucky is not allowed to collect any retirement and/or decommissioning costs associated with East Bend or Woodsdale until the future replacement generating capacity is fully constructed, permitted and operational, future customers will be strapped with the costs of paying for the old assets from which they gain no benefit and the new generating assets. This goes against decades of fundamental ratemaking principles and will create significant intergenerational inequity in customer rates.

AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-031

REQUEST:

Refer to the Direct Testimony of William Luke ("Luke Testimony") at 3 – 10.

a. Mr. Luke asserts that East Bend is a 600 MW net summer rating coal-fired steam unit located along the Ohio River in Boone County, Kentucky, which was commissioned in 1981.

    i. Provide the capacity factor for East Bend for the years 2020 – 2025.

    ii. Explain whether East Bend provides reliable and continuous electricity to customers.

b. Mr. Luke states that Woodsdale is a six-unit, simple cycle, combustion turbine ("CT") station located in Butler County, Ohio, just north of Cincinnati, with a collective net winter rating of 564 MW and a net summer rating of 476 MW, designed to provide peaking service and has a black start and dual fuel capability.

    i. Provide the capacity factor for the Woodsdale generating units for the years 2020 – 2025.

    ii. Explain whether the Woodsdale generating units provide reliable and continuous electricity to customers.

c. Mr. Luke asserts that Duke Kentucky owns four solar facilities with a total nameplate rating of 8.8 MW: Walton 1 Solar Plant (2 MW) located in Walton, KY; Walton 2 Solar Plan (2 MW) also located in Walton, KY; Crittenden Solar Plant (2.8 MW) located in Dry Ridge, KY; and Aero Solar Plant (2 MW) located in Burlington, KY. These four plants combined provide 3.7 MW of firm summer capacity.

i. Provide the capacity factor for each of the four solar facilities.

ii. Explain whether Duke Kentucky has battery storage for the solar farms.

iii. Explain whether the solar farms provide electricity to customers when the sun is not shining. If not, explain which of Duke Kentucky's generation resources will provide electricity during that time.

iv. Explain whether the solar farms provide reliable and continuous electricity to customers.

v. Discuss how often solar panels need to be replaced, and the costs associated with each replacement.

vi. Explain in detail whether Duke Kentucky's solar farms have had any unexpected inverter tripping, which can happen during normal grid disturbances, and causes the solar energy capacity to unexpectedly go offline.

OBJECTION:

Duke Energy Kentuckey objects to this request to the extent that it is vague, ambiguous, and overbroad, particularly this request is vague and ambiguous as to the intended meaning of the reference to "reliable and continuous electricity to customers." Duke Energy Kentucky further objects to providing data for a time period of 2025 which is not yet available.

RESPONSE:

a) East Bend

i. See AG-DR-01-031 Attachment

ii. See Objection. East Bend Station has been a reliable generation asset for customers. As stated in Luke's Direct Testimony at pages 6-7, one useful measure of reliable performance of coal-fired generating stations is the Equivilent Forced Outage Rate (EFOR). East Bend has significantly outperformed the average EFOR reported to the North American Electric Reliablity Corportation (NERC) for similarly sized coal-fired units every year but one since 2015.

b) Woodsdale

i. See AG-DR-01-031 Attachment

ii. See Objection. Woodsdale units have been reliable generating assets for customers. One useful measure of reliability for peaking natural gas CT units is starting reliability. Woodsdale CT units have consistently performed near or above NERC average for starting reliability.

c) Solar Facilities

i. See AG-DR-01-031Attachment

ii. No. Duke Kentucky does not have battery storage for the solar farms.

iii. Duke Energy Kentucky's solar facility electrical output is variable based on solar energy penetration. During periods where solar facility output is reduced or not available, Duke Energy Kentucky would rely on output from East Bend and/or Woodsdale stations and the PJM market to serve required load using the least cost resource according to the dispatch system.

iv. See Objection. Duke Energy Kentucky's solar facilities are reliable generating assets for customers. While NERC does not currently provide utility statistical averages for comparison, Duke Energy Kentucky's solar facilties have consistently generated electricity for customers.

v. At Duke Energy Kentucky's solar facilities, panel replacement is infrequent. The approximate cost to replace a panel is $1,000 in today's dollars. Failure rates and associated costs could be expected to increase as the asset ages.

vi. Duke Energy Kentucky's solar facilities have not experience unexpected inverter tripping. Inverters shut down and startup daily automatically as designed based on system conditions. If there is a grid disturbance, the distribution system is isolated from the solar facility automatically in the event of a disturbance.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Luke Testimony at 6 – 7. Mr. Luke states that the East Bend generating unit has significantly outperformed the North American Electric Reliability Corporation's ("NERC") average Equivalent Forced Outage Rate ("EFOR"), in eight of the past nine years.

a. Explain why the Company is proposing to close a highly efficient coal-fired generating unit by 2038.

b. Provide the EFOR percentage for the East Bend generating unit for the years 2015 – 2025.

RESPONSE:

a. Although East Bend has historically been a highly efficient generating unit, it is nearing the end of its useful life. As explained in the IRP, assuming EPA CAA Section 111 Update remains in place, the most prudent pathway to complying with the regulation is to convert East Bend to DFO by 1/1/2030 and to retire the unit by 1/1/2039 as required by the regulation. Notwithstanding the EPA CAA Section 111 Update, other factors that are evaluated when determining the most prudent retirement date of the asset are the cost to maintain the reliability of the unit, the availability of OEM parts in order to maintain the reliability of the unit, the cost of fuel for the unit, and the cost and benefits of the replacement generation for the unit.

b. Please see AG-DR-01-032 Attachment for the EFOR percentage for East Bend generating unit for years 2015 - 2024. Actual data is not available for 2025.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Luke Testimony at 11. Mr. Luke states that, "Duke Energy Kentucky is anticipating that East Bend will retire no later than December 31, 2038, as a result of environmental regulations, namely the United States Environmental Protection Agency's (US EPA) Clean Air Act 111 Update (CAA 111 Update) that limits the operation of existing coal-fired generation." Mr. Luke further asserts, "notwithstanding whether or not the CAA 11 Update withstands legal challenges, the rule is in effect today, and there will likely be additional restrictions to the operation and/or economics of coal necessitating East Bend's retirement prior to 2041."

a. Explain in detail whether East Bend could continue to provide safe and reliable electricity past December 31, 2038, if the aforementioned laws and EPA regulations are overturned through the pending legal challenges and/or rolled back by the new presidential administration taking office on January 20, 2025.

b. If the aforementioned EPA regulations are rolled back and/or overturned will Duke Kentucky modify its request to set East Bend's depreciation rates for December 31, 2038? Explain the response in detail.

RESPONSE:

a. As stated in testimony, notwithstanding whether or not the CAA 111 Update withstands legal challenges, there will likely be additional restrictions to the operation and/or economics of coal necessitating East Bend's retirement prior to 2041. Disregarding the regulatory and economic challenges, it is possible that East Bend could continue to provide safe and reliable electricity past December 31, 2038, with adequate investments and if economic to do so. There is a risk that as this asset ages, OEM and replacement part obsolescence will impact the ability to provide safe and reliable electricity beyond a date uncertain.

b. The Company believes that the deprecation rates it has proposed in this proceeding are reasonable. The end of East Bend's useful life is approaching, and it is prudent for customers that the Company attempt to align the deprecation rates as closely as possible to the end of its useful life. As outlined in the Company's IRP, if the EPA regulations are rolled back and/or overturned, the Company's estimated retirement date for East Bend is December 31, 2035. The Company still believes that deprecation rates reflecting a December 31, 2038, retirement date in this case is still reasonable and prudent in that scenario as it has the effect of gradually adjusting customer rates to the best estimate of the approximate retirement date of East Bend.

PUBLIC AG-DR-01-034
(As to subpart (a) only)

REQUEST:

Refer to the Luke Testimony at 17. Mr. Luke asserts that based upon the Company's 2024 IRP, East Bend should be replaced with a 664 MW 1x1 natural gas combined cycle ("CC") unit.

a. Provide the estimated cost for a completed 664 MW 1x1 natural gas CC unit.

b. Provide the estimated time that it is projected to take to build and have a CC unit operational.

c. Provide the capacity factor for the CC unit.

d. Provide an overview of what variables could cause the East Bend plant to continue being economic to the customers past 2038. Include in this discussion any potential for PJM Interconnection ("PJM") to request East Bend to stay open for reliability purposes.

e. Provide the net plant balance not yet depreciated on the East Bend generating unit as of January 2025.

f. Confirm that Duke Kentucky will include the undepreciated monetary amounts associated with the East Bend generating unit in the customers' rates if it is retired early.

g. Explain whether Duke Kentucky includes the undepreciated monetary amounts that customers will have to pay for in rates if the East Bend generating unit is retired early when conducting its modeling of economic value to customers.

RESPONSE:

CONFIDENTIAL PROPRIETARY TRADE SECRET (As to subpart (a) only)

a. The estimated cost for the completed 664 MW 1x1 natural gas CC unit as modeled in the 2024 IRP was [redacted] in 2039 dollars.

b. The estimated time from the start of site selection to when the unit is placed in-service is approximately 8 years.

c. See the table below for the capacity factors for the CC unit in the preferred portfolio with the EPA CAA Section 111 Updated and the preferred portfolio without the EPA CAA Section 111 Update.

Capacity Factor (%)	2036	2037	2038	2039	2040
With 111 - East Bend DFO Conversion with CC Replacement by 2039 and Accelerated Renewables				39%	39%
No 111 - East Bend Retirement by 2036 and Accelerated Renewables	85%	83%	82%	82%	78%

d. Notwithstanding the requirement to retire a coal facility that has been converted to DFO by 1/1/2039 under the EPA CAA Section 111 Update, factors that may influence the decision to operate East Bend beyond 2038 include many of the same factors utilized by the IRP analysis, including the cost of fuel, the cost to maintain the reliability of the unit, the availability of OEM parts to be able to maintain reliability of the unit, operation of the unit in the PJM Energy and Capacity Market, and environmental compliance. In addition to Commission approval and implications of KRS 278.264, as part of the process used to retire a generator, written notification to PJM must be made in advance of the desired deactivation date. Please refer to section 9.1.1 of PJM Manual 14D for the notification requirement:

https://learn.pjm.com/-/media/DotCom/documents/manuals/m14d.pdf

After notification, PJM will perform a reliability analysis for future operation without the generating unit in question. If a reliability issue is present and no other solution is identified, PJM may facilitate a Reliability Must Run (RMR) agreement and corresponding payments needed to keep the power plant operating past its planned retirement date in order to prevent a reliability issue until a solution such as a generator, demand response, or transmission solution is developed. This compensation is designed to keep the generator whole to operating costs after revenues received.

e. The net plant balance not yet depreciated on the East bend generating unit as of December 31, 2024, is $492,979,677. January 2025 plant details are not available.

f. The Company will seek to recover the entire cost of East Bend. That is why it is so imperative that the depreciation rates are aligned with its estimated useful life such that the costs of East Bend are recovered from the customers who are benefiting from the asset and not being pushed to future customers who will be paying for the replacement generation at that time.

g. The Present Value of Revenue Requirements (PVRR) calculations in the IRP do not include the undepreciated amounts associated with differing retirement dates of East Bend. In an IRP, PVRR is used to compare the cost of portfolios against each other. If Duke Energy Kentucky were to include the undepreciated amounts in the PVRR calculation, the "present value" of those amounts would be the same regardless of retirement date and therefore would not impact the relative cost of one portfolio versus another portfolio.

(As to Attachment (a) only)

REQUEST:

Refer to the Luke Testimony at 20. Mr. Luke states that, "as coal prices increase, plants like East Bend will become more unfavorable in the competitive market."

a. Provide documentation supporting Mr. Luke's assertion that coal prices are increasing or projected to increase.

b. Explain in detail Duke Kentucky's coal procurement policy.

c. Provide the monetary amount and volume of coal that Duke Kentucky has purchased for each of the years 2020 – 2025.

d. If coal prices decrease in the future, explain whether this would increase the value of the East Bend unit to customers and PJM.

e. Explain whether the reliability and resiliency of East Bend is valuable to customers.

f. If PJM requested for East Bend to stay open for reliability purposes, explain whether this would increase the value of the unit to customers.

RESPONSE:

CONFIDENTIAL PROPRIETARY TRADE SECRET (As to Attachment (a) only)

a. Third party provided forward market curves utilized by the Company to project generation demands currently indicate a year over year increase in coal prices over the next several years. Please see AG-DR-01-035(a) Confidential Attachment. Additionally, the Energy Information Administration (EIA), in its most recent Short Term Energy Outlook is forecasting that coal production will fall to 472 MMst in 2025, down by 7% from 2024 while also forecasting an increase in retirements of coal-fired generating capacity of 11 GW in 2025. As domestic coal generating capacity is expected to continue to retire over the next several years, the Company anticipates coal supply will continue to follow a similar downward trend in response to lower domestic demand. The Company believes that a downward trend in coal supply could reduce the number of possible coal suppliers for East Bend Station, resulting in the potential for upward pressure on coal prices.

b. Duke Energy Kentucky's coal procurement policy is designed to assure a reliable and consistent supply of appropriate quality coal for East Bend is procured at an economic price. Coal is generally purchased under long-term contracts of one to three years in length. The Company secures both its spot (one year or less) and long-term coal supply from producers through competitive bid processes that are evaluated thoroughly, taking into account coal quality, quantity, transportation alternatives and price, among other factors. The producer (or producers) whose coal offers the best value, particularly with regard to overall utilization costs, is selected for further negotiations to produce contracts. The Company's long-term contracts may contain provisions for periodic price adjustments or a mechanism to adjust prices based upon published market price indices. The Company has established guidelines for the amounts of coal to be placed under contract during a specific period of time, and the Coal Procurement Group follows these guidelines. The Company's Coal Procurement Group stays continually informed as to the current market for spot and contract coal and strategic opportunities for the purchase of such coal. Coal supply needs are determined by an ongoing review of generating station stockpiles, consumption projections, and current coal supply quantities already contracted. In addition, Duke Energy's Coal Procurement personnel maintain frequent communication with the coal producers and visit mining operations as needed which assists in the Company's analysis of external coal market conditions. This information, coupled with constant monitoring of pricing information published in various places (e.g. industry newsletters, trade publications, regulatory filings, etc.), as well as a close review of the weekly spot market pricing indices published by brokers and traders provides a thorough understanding of the various spot and long-term alternatives for coal supply.

c. Please see AG-DR-01-035(c) Attachment.

d. The energy value of East Bend to customers likely increases if coal prices drop in the future since; 1. lower costs of coal purchased means that when the unit is operated, a lower fuel cost is recovered from customers, lowering customer bills, and 2. lower costs of market coal prices mean that East Bend could be committed more often and dispatched at higher amounts, creating potentially higher PJM energy margins for customers. Note that a lower market coal price may not always mean that East Bend will be committed more often, since the unit may have already been committed at the existing coal price. Additionally, a lower market coal price may not always mean that East Bed will be dispatched at a higher amount, since dispatch is dependent on additional variables such as unit availability and PJM energy market prices. Finally, note that there is no change to the unit's value in the capacity market from a decrease in coal prices in the future.

e. The reliability and resilience of East Bend, as a fossil generating unit in the PJM Energy Market, is valuable to customers because it provides a dispatchable source of power that can be quickly adjusted to meet fluctuating demand, particularly during peak usage times when renewable energy sources like solar and wind may not be sufficient, ensuring a stable electricity supply to help maintain grid stability.

f. If PJM requested East Bend to stay open for reliability purposes and become a Reliability Must Run (RMR) unit, since the PJM RMR process is designed to at least keep the generator financially whole and assuming the Company receives full recovery from PJM for its actual costs to continue to operate the unit, being designated an RMR would either maintain the units value to customers or could increase the units value to customers depending actual circumstances.

Duke Energy Kentucky
Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-036

REQUEST:

Refer to the Luke Testimony at 21 and the Direct Testimony of John D. Swez ("Swez Testimony") at 29.

a. Confirm that the replacement of Woodsdale was not evaluated as part of the 2024 IRP.

b. Confirm that Duke Kentucky does not provide a specific type of generation replacement for the Woodsdale generating units.

RESPONSE:

a. The replacement of Woodsdale was not evaluated as part of the 2024 IRP as the retirement was outside of the planning window.

b. The specific type of generation replacement for the Woodsdale generating units is not identified. However, as explained in Witness Kalemba's testimony, it cannot be assumed the Woodsdale CTs will never retire. The Company anticipates replacing Woodsdale with similarly dispatchable firm capacity that will be compliant with all Kentucky legislation or statutes in place at that time. Future IRPs will more precisely identify which replacement technologies provide the best solution for customers. Prior to seeking Commission approval to retire Woodsdale and replace it with a new facility, Duke Energy Kentucky will thoroughly evaluate the market and available technologies, and bring those solutions to the Commission well in advance of the proposed retirement to ensure there is a seamless transition for customers.

PERSON RESPONSIBLE: Matthew Kalemba

REQUEST:

Refer to the Application generally. Provide a brief summary for each of Duke Kentucky's Demand Side Management ("DSM") programs.

RESPONSE:

Residential Smart $aver® Energy Efficient Residences and Products Programs: The purpose of the Residential Smart $aver® Energy Efficient Residences portion of the Residential Smart $aver® Program is to offer customers prescriptive incentives for a variety of energy conservation measures designed to target the largest energy consumption equipment and increase energy efficiency in their homes. The program utilizes a network of participating contractors to encourage the installation of high efficiency equipment and the implementation of energy efficient home improvements with eligible customers. Equipment and services to be incentivized include:

- Installation of high efficiency air conditioning (AC) and heat pump (HP) systems;
- Implementation of attic insulation and air sealing services;
- Implementation of duct sealing services; and
- Installation of efficient heat pump water heaters.

The purpose of the Residential Smart $aver® Energy Efficient Products portion of the Residential Smart $aver® Program is to provide high efficiency options through various channels, along with other high efficiency products in new or existing residences, including pool pumps, water measures for single family, and water measures for multifamily.

Residential Energy Assessments Program: The primary goal for Home Energy House Call (HEHC) is to empower customers to better manage their energy usage and cost. Duke Energy Kentucky partners with several key vendors to administer the program in which an energy specialist completes a 60 to 90-minute walk through assessment of the home and analyzes energy usage to identify energy savings opportunities. The program offers additional measures that included a blower door test, handheld low-flow showerheads, smart thermostats, specialty globes and candelabras, and recessed LED bulbs.

Income Qualified Services Program Weatherization: The Weatherization program portion of Income Qualified Services is designed to help income-qualified customers that are below 200 percent of the federal poverty level to reduce their energy consumption and lower their energy cost. The program works with local weatherization agencies using Federal DOE/LIHEAP funds as well as other community outreach initiatives for participation. The program provides the agencies incentives for installing energy efficient measures in qualified customers' homes. Agencies also educate customers on their energy usage and other opportunities that can help reduce energy consumption and lower energy costs.

Refrigerator replacement is also a component of this program. To determine replacement, the program weatherization provider performs a two-hour meter test of the existing refrigerator unit. If it is a high-energy consuming refrigerator, as determined by this test, the unit is replaced. Replacing with a new Energy Star® qualified refrigerator, with an estimated annual usage of 400 kWh, results in an overall savings to the average customer typically more than 1,000 kWh per year.

The Payment Plus portion of Low-Income Services program is designed to impact participants' behavior (e.g., encourages utility bill payment and reducing arrearages) and to generate energy conservation impacts.

The program is made up of three components:

- Energy Education & Budget Counseling – to help customers understand how to control their energy usage and how to manage their household bills, a combined education/counseling approach is used;
- Weatherization – to increase the energy efficiency in customers' homes, participants are required to have their homes weatherized as part of the normal Residential Conservation and Energy Education (low-income weatherization) program unless weatherized in past program years; and,
- Bill Assistance – to provide an incentive for these customers to participate in the education and weatherization, and to help them get control of their bills. Payment assistance credits are provided to each customer once they complete each aspect of the program. The credits are: $200 for participating in the EE counseling, $150 for participating in the budgeting counseling, and $150 for participating in the Residential Conservation and Energy Education program (weatherization services). If all the requirements are completed, a household could receive up to a total of $500 towards their arrearage. Some customers do not complete all three steps or may have already had weatherization services completed prior to the program.

Power Manager® Program: The purpose of the Power Manager® program is to reduce demand by controlling residential air conditioning usage during periods of peak demand, high wholesale price conditions and/or generation emergency conditions during the summer months. It is available to residential customers with central air conditioning. Duke Energy Kentucky attaches a load control device to the outdoor unit of a customer's air conditioner. This enables Duke Energy Kentucky to cycle the customer's air conditioner off and on under appropriate conditions.

The Company enhanced the program by introducing Bring Your Own Thermostat (BYOT). BYOT is a residential Demand Response (DR) program leveraging customers "Smart" two-way communicating thermostats instead of traditional load control switches that are installed by the utility. It is intended for customers who have already purchased, installed, and registered a smart thermostat in their home, allowing the utility to avoid the hardware and installation costs associated with traditional direct load control programs. The utility can verify how many thermostats are operable and online at any given time, and determine which thermostats are participating in DR events as opposed to opting out. Duke Energy has partnered with a third-party vendor who has contracts with multiple thermostat manufacturers to offer demand response through aggregation of the different thermostat models.

Non-Residential Smart $aver® Program: The Smart $aver® Non-residential Incentive Program provides incentives to commercial and industrial consumers for installation of high efficiency equipment in applications involving new construction, retrofit, and replacement of failed equipment. Incentives are provided based on Duke Energy Kentucky's cost effectiveness modeling to assure cost effectiveness over the life of the measure.

Commercial and industrial consumers can have significant energy consumption but may lack knowledge and understanding of the benefits of high efficiency alternatives. The program provides financial incentives to help reduce the cost differential between standard and high efficiency equipment, offer a quicker return on investment, save money on customers' utility bills that can be reinvested in their business, and foster a cleaner environment. In addition, the program encourages dealers, manufacturers and distributors (or market providers) to stock and provide these high efficiency alternatives to meet increased demand for the products. The Program provides incentives through prescriptive measures, custom measures, assessment/technical assistance and energy-saving certifications.

Prescriptive Measures: The program promotes prescriptive incentives for the following technologies – lighting, HVAC, pumps, variable frequency drives, food services, and process equipment. The eligible measures, incentives, and requirements for both equipment and customer eligibility are listed in the applications posted on Duke Energy's website.

Custom Measures: The Smart $aver® Custom Program is designed for customers with electrical energy-saving projects involving more complicated, emerging, or alternative technologies or measures not covered by the Non-Residential Smart $aver® Prescriptive Program. The intent of the Program is to encourage the implementation of energy efficiency projects that would not otherwise be completed without the Company's technical or financial assistance. Unlike the Non-Residential Smart $aver Prescriptive Program, the Program requires pre-approval prior to the project initiation.

PowerShare® Program: PowerShare® is the brand name given to Duke Energy Kentucky's Peak Load Management Program (Rider PLM, Peak Load Management Program KY.P.S.C. Electric No. 2, Sheet No. 77). Rider PLM was approved pursuant as part of the settlement agreement in Case No. 2006-00172. In the Commission's Order in Case No. 2006-00426, approval was given to include the PowerShare® program within the DSM programs. The PLM program is voluntary and offers customers the opportunity to reduce their electric costs by managing their electric usage during the Company's peak load periods. Customers and the Company will enter into a service agreement under Rider PLM, specifying the terms and conditions under which the customer agrees to reduce usage. There are two product options offered for PowerShare® - CallOption® and QuoteOption®:

- CallOption®:
  - A customer served under a CallOption® product agrees, upon notification by the Company, to reduce its demand;
  - Each time the Company exercises its option under the agreement, the Company will provide the customer a credit for the energy reduced;
  - In addition to the energy credit, customers on the CallOption® will receive an option premium credit;

- Only customers able to provide a minimum of 100 kW load response qualify for CallOption®.

- QuoteOption®:
  - Under the QuoteOption® products, the customer and the Company agree that when the average wholesale market price for energy during the notification period is greater than a pre-determined strike price, the Company may notify the customer of a QuoteOption® event and provide a price quote to the customer for each event hour;
  - The customer will decide whether to reduce demand during the event period. If they decide to do so, the customer will notify the Company and provide an estimate of the customer's projected load reduction;
  - Each time the Company exercises the option, the Company will provide the participating customer who reduces load an energy credit;
  - There is no option premium for the QuoteOption® product since customer load reductions are voluntary; and
  - Only customers able to provide a minimum of 100 kW load response qualify for QuoteOption®.

Income Qualified Neighborhood Program: The Duke Energy Kentucky Neighborhood Energy Saver (NES) Program takes a non-traditional approach to serve income-qualified areas of the Duke Energy Kentucky service territory through the direct installation of energy efficiency measures in customer homes. This customer-facing program allows for the direct engagement in a familiar setting to reduce energy consumption with the installation of energy efficient measures. In addition, Duke Energy Kentucky uses this opportunity to educate and work with customers to efficiently manage and lower their energy bills. Examples of direct installed measures include energy efficient light bulbs, water heater and pipe wrap, low flow shower heads/faucet aerators, window and door air sealing and a year supply of HVAC filter replacements.

As income qualified neighborhoods are identified for the program, if at least 50 percent of the households are at or below 200 percent of the federal poverty guidelines. Duke Energy Kentucky analyzes census and internal data to select and prioritize neighborhoods that have the greatest need and propensity to participate. While the goal is to serve neighborhoods where most residents are income qualified, the program is available to all Duke Energy Kentucky customers within the selected boundary. This program is available to both homeowners and renters occupying single family and multi-family dwellings in the target neighborhoods that have electric service provided by Duke Energy Kentucky.

Home Energy Report Program: The Home Energy Report (HER) compares household electric usage to similar, neighboring homes, and provides recommendations and actionable tips to lower energy consumption. The report also informs a customer of the Company's other energy efficiency programs when applicable. These normative comparisons are intended to induce customers to adopt more efficient energy consumption behavior. HER is delivered in printed and email form. The reports are distributed up to 12 times per year (2 printed reports and 12 electronic reports if the customer provides their email address). Currently, to qualify to receive the report, customers must be living in a single metered, single-family home with 13 months usage history.

Business Energy Saver Program: The purpose of Duke Energy Kentucky's Business Energy Saver program (BES) is to reduce energy usage through the direct installation of energy efficiency measures within qualifying non-residential Duke Energy Kentucky customer facilities. BES consist of two Program options, Small Business Energy Saver (SBES) and SmartPath. The BES Program measures address major end-uses in lighting, refrigeration, process, and HVAC applications.

All aspects of the BES option are administered by a single Company-authorized vendor. The BES participants receive a free, no-obligation energy assessment of their facility followed by a recommendation of energy efficiency measures to be installed in their facility along with the projected energy savings, costs of all materials and installation, and up-front incentive amount from Duke Energy Kentucky. Upon receiving the results of the energy assessment, if the customer decides to move forward with the proposed energy efficiency project, the customer makes the final determination of which measures will be installed. The energy efficiency measure installation is then scheduled at a convenient time for the customer and the measures are installed by electrical subcontractors of the Duke Energy Kentucky-authorized vendor.

The BES option is designed as a pay-for-performance offering, meaning that the Duke Energy Kentucky-authorized vendor administering the BES option is compensated for kWh energy savings produced through the installation of energy efficiency measures.

The BES option is available to existing Duke Energy Kentucky non-residential customer accounts with an actual average annual electric demand of 180 kW or less.

The SmartPath option is available to all eligible non-residential customer accounts. SmartPath is built upon the traditional Small Business Energy Saver option by minimizing financial barriers to customer participation by allowing customers to finance and implement energy efficiency upgrades at little to no upfront costs. The program is implemented by a qualified Trade Ally network who complete energy assessments, develops proposals, and implements the turnkey projects on the SmartPath option's behalf. SmartPath offers customers financing through a partnership with the National Energy Improvement Fund (NEIF). All financing is between the customer and NEIF and is offered by the Trade Allies.

Smart $aver® Performance: The purpose of this program is to encourage the installation of high efficiency equipment in new and existing non-residential establishments. The program will provide incentive payments to offset a portion of the higher cost of energy efficient installations that are not offered under either the Smart $aver® Non-Residential programs. The types of measures covered by the program include retro-commissioning and projects with some combination of unknown building conditions or system constraints, coupled with uncertain operating, occupancy, or production schedules. The specific type of measures is included in the contract with the Customer.

Peak Time Rebate (PTR) Pilot Program: The PTR pilot program offers participating customers the opportunity to lower their electric bill by reducing their electric usage during Company-designated peak load periods known as Critical Peak Events (CPE). The Company has branded the program to customers under the name Peak Time Credits and describes CPEs to participants as Peak Day events.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Application generally. In Case No. 2022-00372, Duke Kentucky asserted that the self-optimizing grid implementation was about 15% complete, and at the deployment rate at that time, a fully self-optimizing distribution grid capability would take about a decade to achieve.

a. Explain in detail which part of the grid already has the self-optimizing grid implementation completed, and provide a map illustrating the same if available.

b. Explain in detail how Duke Kentucky made the determination of where to begin implementing the self-optimizing grid.

c. Provide a detailed plan of how Duke Kentucky will continue deploying the self-optimizing grid over the next decade, and provide a map illustrating the same if available.

d. Provide an update as to the percentage completion of the self-optimizing grid implementation.

e. Provide an update as to when the fully self-optimizing grid will be completed.

RESPONSE:

a. See AG-DR-01-038 Attachment for a list of each Duke Energy Kentucky circuit and their self-optimizing grid (SOG) status. A map of the SOG status for each circuit does not exist. SOG breaks circuits into segments that have no more than 400 customers, 3 miles of overhead line exposure, and 2 MW of load. Some circuits are all underground or only have a single circuit, so cannot be broken into smaller segments based on this criteria, so they are considered "not eligible" for SOG. 37% (58/155 = 37%) of circuits meet the SOG criteria of being segmented into 400 customers/3 miles/2 MWs. But if the 23 ineligible circuits are removed from the calculation, 44% (58/132 = 44%) of circuits meet the SOG criteria now.

b. Implementation of SOG considers several factors, including circuit reliability, circuit customer count, other planned work on a circuit, and the circuit's physical characteristics. An example of a physical characteristic consideration is if the circuit is all or mostly underground, it does not get SOG since faults are not likely. And if a circuit is underbuilt on a Transmission line (shares poles with a Transmission line) it is cost prohibitive to replace the Transmission poles to install the reclosers required for SOG. Other physical characteristics such as too few adjacent circuits to implement SOG, and inaccessibility from the roadside to maintain SOG reclosers are also considered.

c. See AG-DR-01-038 Attachment for a list of eachDuke Energy Kentucky circuit and their SOG status. A map of the SOG status for each circuit does not exist.

d. See response to part a.

e. See AG-DR-01-038 Attachment for a list of each Duke Energy Kentucky circuit and their SOG status. SOG implementation is currently planned to finish in 2029.

Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-039

REQUEST:

Refer to the Application generally.

a. Provide the total capital expenditures for transmission and distribution projects from 2015 - 2025.

b. Provide the forecasted total capital expenditures for transmission and distribution projects that are included in the base period and the forecasted test period in the pending case.

c. Explain in detail whether any of the increased spending on transmission and/or distribution projects is related to being a member of PJM.

RESPONSE:

a. See Table 1 below for capital expenditures from 2015 to 2021. For capital expenditures 2022 through 2024 see AG-DR-01-085 Attachment 1 and for forecasted 2025 see AG-DR-01-085 CONF Attachment 2. Please note that numbers represented actual capital expenditures booked to Construction Work in Progress (Account 107), not plant in service additions.

Case No. 2024-00354
Attorney General's First Set Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-040

REQUEST:

Refer to the John R. Panizza Direct Testimony ("Panizza Testimony"), at 5. Mr. Panizza states that in his opinion, Duke Kentucky should use the statutory Kentucky income tax rate instead of the effective Kentucky income tax rate to calculate Duke Kentucky's income tax expense. Explain why Duke Kentucky's customers should be required to pay a higher tax through rates than what Duke Kentucky is actually required to pay.

RESPONSE:

Objection. Duke Energy Kentucky objects to this request to the extent that it misstates facts in evidence. Without waiving said objection, the effective tax rate does not reflect the taxes that Duke Energy Kentucky is actually required to pay. For example, the effective tax rate is lower than the statutory tax rate due to the amortization of excess deferred income taxes (EDIT) being returned to customers. The reduction to the effective tax rate rate from EDIT is not a reduction to the tax rate that Duke Energy Kentucky pays to taxing jurisdictions.

PERSON RESPONSIBLE: As to objection, Legal
As to response, John R. Panizza

AG-DR-01-041

REQUEST:

Refer to the Direct Testimony of Bruce L. Sailers ("Sailers Testimony") at 8.

a. As required, provide the monthly dollar amount and percentage increase for the customers using the average amount of electricity for each customer classification to which the proposed increased rates will apply. If Duke Kentucky refers to the application for the response, and specifically the customer notice as contained in Volume 1, Tab 12, provide the specific citation to where this information can be found.

b. Based upon the proposed rate increase, provide the monthly dollar amount and percentage increase for the residential customer using the average amount of electricity, as well as the total bill for the average customer before the rate increase and after the rate increase.

RESPONSE:

a. See the Company's Application, Volume 1, page 55 of 618 in the PDF file. This page is labeled as "KyPSC Case No. 2024-00354, FR 16(1)(b)(5) Attachment - Exhibit A, Page 17 of 17."

b. The value for Rate RS found in the reference in Part a above shows the average kWh/Bill (i.e., monthly) equal to 904 with the Monthly Increase of $21.47 and the Percent Increase of $16.1%. These increase values were erroneously sourced from a residential customer using 1000 kWh. Correcting the increase values for the average residential customer using 904 kWh/month and the current and proposed rates including riders in the test period Schedule M results in the table below.

Rate RS bill (904 kWh) – proposed rates with riders:	$141.03
Rate RS bill (904 kWh) – current rates with riders:	$121.34
Bill Increase:	$19.69
Percentage Increase:	16.2%

In addition, the following line items in the table referenced above in Part a are revised below as the values in the referenced table used values erroneously from Schedule N instead of the average customer kWh/Bill.

Rate	Average kWh/Bill	Monthly Increase	Percent Increase
Rate RS	904	$19.69	16.2%
Rate DS	7,079	$146.41	14.2%
Rate DT	611,498	$7,074.32	13.5%
Rate EH	19,031	$270.42	13.9%
Rate SP	1,971	$45.59	15.2%
Rate GS-FL	537	$10.78	15.3%
Rate DP	64,391	$805.25	6.2%
Rate TT	1,188,866	$9,398.23	8.0%

Duke Energy Kentucky
Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-042

REQUEST:

Refer to the Sailers Testimony at 9. Mr. Sailers states that the Class Cost of Service Study ("COSS") indicates that a monthly customer charge of $18.97 is supported for the residential class. Duke Kentucky further asserts that it is proposing to increase the monthly customer charge from $13 to $16 based upon the concept of gradualism and being mindful of the impact to the customers.

a. Explain how seeking to increase the monthly residential customer charge from $13.00 to $16.00, which is an increase of approximately 23.08%, is in line with the principle of gradualism.

b. Provide a list of all electric gas utilities in Kentucky, with the corresponding monthly residential customer charge, residential volumetric charge, average bill, and rank the utilities from lowest to highest average bill. Ensure to include Duke Kentucky's proposed residential customer charge, residential volumetric charge, average bill, and rank based upon its proposed revenue requirement.

RESPONSE:

a. Objection. Duke Energy Kentucky objects to this request to the extent it seeks legal analysis or conclusions. While an increase of $3 is equal to a 23.08% increase in the current $13.00 customer charge, it is not equal to a 23.08% increase in the customer's bill. For a typical customer using 1,000 kWh per month, the current $13.00 customer charge represents approximately 10% of the customer's total bill including riders, $132.82. Increasing the customer charge by $3 equates to a 2.3% increase in the customer bill. While the COSS supports a nearly $6 increase in the customer charge, the Company only proposes a $3 increase which is a reasonable proposal incorporating both the concept of gradualism while also making reasonable movement in the customer charge towards the supported COSS value.

b. Objection. This request is overbroad, unduly burdensome, and seeks information that is publicly available and equally accessible to the Attorney General. Duke Energy Kentucky further objects to this request to the extent that it seeks information about gas utilities as beyond the scope of reasonable discovery and not likely to lead to the discovery of admissible or relevant evidence. Without waiving said objection, the Company reviewed a list of Kentucky electric utility residential customer charges sourced from the Commission's website in August 2024. The table is provided below.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Direct Testimony of John J. Spanos ("Spanos Testimony') at 11 – 19.

a. Confirm that net salvage costs (i.e. decommissioning costs) for the electric fossil fuel fired generating units (i.e. East Bend and Woodsdale) were included in the proposed depreciation rates in the pending case. If not confirmed, explain why not.

b. Confirm that including net salvage costs for the electric fossil fuel generating units in the depreciation rates in the pending case is in violation of the Commission's findings in the Final Order and Rehearing Orders in Case No. 2022-00372.[1] If not confirmed, explain why not.

RESPONSE:

a. Net salvage costs for the East Bend and Woodsdale units, which include estimated decommissioning costs, have been included in the proposed depreciation rates for the current case.

b. Including net salvage costs which relates to more than decommissioning costs, for these units is the appropriate handling of depreciation for these units and why the Depreciation Study in this case proposes them. The order in the previous case (2022-00372) ruled to exclude decommissioning costs from depreciation rates for these units because the Commission found the Company did not meet the rebuttable presumption that was newly created under Kentucky law. REQUEST:

Refer to the Steinkuhl Testimony at 8, in which she asserts that Duke Kentucky is requesting the rate case expense to be allowed recovery in the rates, and amortized over a five-year period.

a. Provide the total rate case expense that has been accrued thus far in the pending case. Consider this a continuing request.

b. Provide a breakdown of the total rate case expense that has been accrued thus far by category. Consider this a continuing request.

c. Provide copies of invoices supporting the level of incurred rate case costs to date and supply such new invoices as they become available.

d. Provide the estimated total rate case expense.

e. Provide a breakdown of the estimated total rate case expense.

RESPONSE:

a. Please see STAFF-DR-01-014 Attachment 1 for the amount of total rate case expense that has been accrued through November 2024. Regarding the continuing request, please see the updates to STAFF-DR-01-014 request which will be filed monthly.

b. Please see STAFF-DR-01-014 Attachment 1 for the breakdown of the total rate case expense that has been accrued through November 2024. Regarding the continuing request, please see the updates to STAFF-DR-01-014 request which will be filed monthly.

c. Please see STAFF-DR-01-014 Attachment 2 and Attachment 3 for the invoices and contracts for the total rate case expense that has been accrued through November 2024. Regarding the continuing request, please see the updates to STAFF-DR-01-014 request which will be filed monthly.

d. See Schedule F-6 in the Application and STAFF-DR-01-014 Attachment 1 for estimated total rate case expense of $880,333.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Direct Testimony of Jame E. Ziolkowski ("Ziolkowski Testimony") at 9, and the COSS. Mr. Ziolkowski asserts that certain analyses and decisions are objective and not subjective.

a. Confirm that certain analyses and decisions when creating a COSS are subjective and not objective. If not confirmed, explain in detail why not.

b. Provie a detailed list of all subjective analyses and decisions that Mr. Ziolkowksi made in the COSS in the pending case.

RESPONSE:

Lines 4 through 5 on page 9 of the Ziolkowski Testimony states: "These analyses are objective and do not require subjective judgements." This sentence describes one of the reasons for selecting 12 CP, A&E, and Production Stacking as potential production allocation methods. The sentence was not intended to apply to the entire COSS analysis. The 12 CP, A&E, and Production Stacking allocation methods are described as objective because they are based on numbers (kWh, kW, and dollars) that are already contained within the filing.

a. Certain decisions that are made when creating a COSS are subjective. Specifically, the selection of the most appropriate allocation method can be subjective (i.e., subject to the judgement of the analyst). The fact that the NARUC

Electric Utility Cost Allocation Manual contains many production allocation methods illustrates this point.

b. The only subjective decisions that were made in preparing the COSS were related to the selection of various allocation methodologies and the decision to use the results of the minimum size study in lieu of zero intercept calculations as discussed in the Ziolkowski Testimony.

AG-DR-01-046

REQUEST:

Refer to the Application generally. In Case No. 2022-00372, Duke Kentucky stated that it was contemplating installing a Distributed Energy Resources Management System ("DERMS").

a. Explain whether Duke Kentucky has installed a DERMS.

b. If a DERMS was installed, explain in detail how the Company justifies such an expenditure. Also, provide all estimates for the amount of distributed resources that the Company projects will be brought onto its distribution system from now through 2030.

RESPONSE:

a. No, Duke Energy Kentucky has not installed a DERMS.

b. While a DERMS was not installed, Duke Energy is currently developing both behind-the-meter and front-of-the-meter process/control programs to enable active control of real and reactive power supply and demand response resources. The applications for these programs are planned to be implemented between 2025 through 2030 though we are still working through the specifics of how that would relate to Kentucky given the market dynamics with PJM, FERC Order 2222, and the need for DER controllability at the distribution level. Currently, there are no plans to support any non-reliability DER controllability at the transmission level in the Midwest. The DER Dispatch project will be developing tools to enhance the DER awareness and forecast capability for grid-scale DERs and improve reliability and DER response capabilities, which will be deployed in 2025. Additionally, Duke Energy Kentucky is planning to add 50MW front-of-the-meter DER generation capacity in 2029 per the 2024 IRP. This could be in the form of a single or multiple generators on the transmission or distribution system. As an assumption within the load forecast in the 2024 IRP, Duk Energy Kentucky is also projecting 1-2 MW per year of behind-the-meter solar generation.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Application generally. Identify fully any and all organizations to which Duke Kentucky pays dues and/or membership fees of any type or sort (hereinafter referred to as "Dues Requiring Organizations"), including but not limited to Edison Electric Institute and Electric Power Research Institute, which engage in any one or more of the following activities (hereinafter "covered activities"):

i. legislative advocacy, regulatory advocacy, and/or public relations;
ii. advertising;
iii. marketing;
iv. legislative policy research; and/or,
v. regulatory policy research.

a. If so confirmed with regard to any one or more of these organizations, identify that organization and provide the amount of Duke Kentucky dues which that organization applies to covered activities, both in dollar terms and percentages of total dues.
b. Explain whether all or any portion of said dues are excluded in Schedule D-2.23, and if so identify fully the precise line in which the dues are excluded in that Schedule, together with the amount(s) thereof.

RESPONSE:

a. See Schedule F-1 for the dues and/or membership fees included in the base period and test period. The organizations are listed for the actual months. Projected months are not budgeted at that detail.

b. All of these dues are included on the D-2.23 for exclusion from the revenue requirement. The total dues on Schedule F-1 of $161,841 in the forecast period are included on WPD-2.23a on line 45 – Schedule F-1 dues of $148,671 and the remaining amount of $13,170 is included in the above lines which eliminate specific responsibility centers.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Application generally. Explain whether Duke Kentucky pays any dues or membership fees to law firms or trade groups which maintain an affiliate engaged in any of the covered activities identified in the preceding question.

a. If so, identify fully the law firm or trade group by name, the name of the affiliate engaged in any such activities, and the amounts Duke Kentucky paid to the law firm, trade group, or affiliate thereof for those activities.

b. Explain whether Duke Kentucky is seeking recovery from ratepayers for any such sums identified in subpart (a) of this question.

RESPONSE:

See response to AG-DR-01-047. As explained in response to AG-DR-01-047, the amounts are eliminated on Schedule D-2.23 and therefore the Company is not seeking recovery from rate payers for these items.

REQUEST:

Refer to the Application generally. For all expenses associated in any manner with any Dues Requiring Organization and for which the Company seeks reimbursement from ratepayers:

a. Provide a complete copy of all invoices received from each such Dues Requiring Organization since the conclusion of the Company's last electric rate case;

b. Provide any and all documents in the Company's possession that depict how each such Dues Requiring Organization spends the dues it collects from the Company, including the percentage that applies to all covered activities.

c. Provide a detailed description of the services and benefits each Dues Requiring Organization provided to the Company since the conclusion of its most recent electric rate case. Of these services and benefits, identify which ones accrue directly to ratepayers, and explain fully how.

d. Explain whether Duke Kentucky included in operating expenses any amounts for: (i) EEI Media Communications, and/or (ii) any similar division of any other Dues Requiring Organization. If so, state the amount, indicate in which account this has been recorded, and provide a citation to any and all Commission Orders or other authority upon which the Company is relying for the inclusion of such expense in the test period.

e. State whether the Company is aware whether any portion of the dues it pays to any Dues Requiring Organization are utilized to pay for any of the following expenditures, and if so, provide complete details:

   i. Influencing federal or Kentucky legislation;

   ii. Any media advertising campaigns backing the Company's or the Dues Requiring Organization's position(s) on net metering;

   iii. Documents associated with EEI programs "We Stand For Energy," or "Defend My Dividend," public relations, advocacy efforts or other covered activities;

   iv. Contributions from EEI, EPRI, or other Dues Requiring Organizations to third-party organizations and contractors including any of the expenditures identified in this question and its subparts.

f. Provide EEI's most recent IRS Form 990.

g. Explain whether the Company's EEI dues contribute to the salary, benefits, and expenses of the EEI Executive Vice President for Public Policy and External Affairs, or any other EEI officer or employee who has led an effort EEI undertook to rebrand the utility industry.

h. Explain whether any Company personnel actively participate on committees and/or perform any other work for any Dues Requiring Organizations or any other industry organization to which the Company belongs, including but not limited to EEI. If so:

   i. State specifically which employees participate, how they are compensated for their time (amount and source of compensation), and the purpose and accomplishments of any such association related work; and,

ii. List any and all reimbursements received from industry associations, for work performed for such organizations by the Company's employees.

Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-052

REQUEST:

Provide a trial balance for DEBS at December 31, 2021, December 31, 2022, December 31, 2023, and the most recent month for which the accounting books have been closed in 2024. This should be updated as soon as possible after the Company closes its accounting books for December 2024. In addition, provide a chart of accounts and subaccounts and the related descriptions that matches the accounts used in the trial balance.

RESPONSE:

Please refer to the following:

- AG-DR-01-052 Attachment 1 for December 31, 2021, and December 31, 2022, trial balances.
- AG-DR-01-052 Attachment 2 for December 31, 2022, and December 31, 2023, trial balances.
- AG-DR-01-052 Attachment 3 for September 30, 2023, and September 30, 2024, trial balances.
- Data for the entire 2024 year will be provided once the books are closed.
- AG-DR-01-052 Attachment 4 provided the Chart of Accounts for DEBS.

PERSON RESPONSIBLE: Danielle L. Weatherston

Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-054

REQUEST:

Refer to the Adams Testimony and Attachment MJA-2 at page 4, regarding the lead/lag study he performed.

a. Indicate the source of the test period annual expense amounts for each expense category and explain why those amounts differ from the amounts included on Schedules C-1 and C-2.

b. If the test period annual revenue and expense amounts were not synchronized with the as-filed amounts provided elsewhere in the application schedules, provide a corrected CWC calculation.

c. Indicate why there are zero test period annual expenses reflected for each of the following even though there are calculated (lead)lag days for each:

Line 6 – Natural Gas

Line 7 – Oil

Line 25 – Franchise Tax

Line 28 – Federal Unemployment Taxes

Line 29 – State Unemployment Taxes

Line 30 – Gross Receipts License Tax

Line 31 – Sales & Use Tax

b. While responding to this request, it was determined that the Miscellaneous Expense Adjustment and the Federal and State Income Taxes are not synchronized with the as-filed amounts provided elsewhere in the application schedules.

The Miscellaneous Expense Adjustment of ($1,067,028), on line 13 of the O&M reconciliation table in response a., is not the final adjustment included in the revenue requirement. The final Miscellaneous Expense Adjustment included in the revenue requirement is ($912,585), WPC-2e, Adjustment D-2.23.

The Federal and State Income Taxes of $4,850,656 and $368,613, respectively, presented in the response to a. are not representative of the final Federal and State Income Tax amounts included in the final schedules. The current Federal and State Income Taxes included on Schedule C-2 are $3,532,523 and $40,444, respectively.

The Cash Working Capital analysis has been updated, and a revised calculation can be found in AG-DR-01-054 Attachment. Further, the overall impact of the updates to the Company's Forecasted Period Cash Working Capital requirement has been quantified in the table below.

Forecasted Period CWC Requirement - As Filed	$ 4,507,797
Update Miscellaneous Expenses	$ (14,985)
Update Federal and State Income Taxes	$ (36,193)
Updated CWC Requirement	$ 4,456,619

c. The Company did not include any expenses in the forecasted test year for the categories in question; therefore, no test period annual expenses are reflected in these expense categories.

Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-055

REQUEST:

Provide a copy of each of Duke Energy's most recent Cash Working Capital ("CWC") studies from each of its jurisdictions that use the lead/lag study approach. If a lead/lag study was not performed for some or all its jurisdictions, so state and explain why not.

RESPONSE:

Objection. This request is overbroad and seeks information that is beyond the scope of this proceeding, otherwise irrelevant, and does not seek information that is likely to lead to the discovery of relevant or admissible evidence. Moreover, this request is harassing in nature as the information requested is publicly available and accessible to the Attorney General. Without waiving said objection, and to the extent discoverable:

Duke Energy Kentucky
Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-056

REQUEST:

Refer to the Direct Testimony of Michael J. Adams in Kentucky Power Company Case No. 2023-00159,[1] wherein he addressed cash working capital using the lead lag approach.

a. Refer to pages 12 and 14 of his testimony in that case wherein Witness Adams addresses the interest expense payment lags and his Exhibit MJA-2 Summary of Lead Lag Days wherein he shows the interest expense lag days of 82.05. Confirm that in the Kentucky Power Company rate case, Kentucky Power Company included the interest expense as a cash expense using the 82.05 days in its cash working capital calculations based on Witness Adams' analysis and testimony. If not confirmed, explain in detail why not.

b. Calculate the interest expense lag days for Duke Kentucky using the same methodology Witness Adams used in the Kentucky Power Company rate case, Case No. 2023-00159. Provide all supporting assumptions and workpapers in an Excel workbook in live format with all formulas intact.

c. Indicate whether it was Witness Adams or Duke Kentucky that made the decision to exclude interest expense from the calculation of cash working capital in this proceeding. If Duke Kentucky, then identify the person(s), along with their position and employer who made this decision for this proceeding.

[1] Case No. 2023-00159, Electronic Application of Kentucky Power Company for 1) A General Adjustment of its Rates for Electric Service; 2) Approval of Tariffs and Riders; 3) Approval of Accounting Practices to Establish Regulatory Assets and Liabilities; 4) A Securitization Financing Order; and 5) All Other Required Approvals and Relief (Ky. PSC Jan. 19, 2024).

RESPONSE:

a. In Kentucky Power Company Case No. 2023-00159 Kentucky Power Company included the interest expense as a cash expense using the 82.05 days in its cash working capital calculations.

b. The interest expense lag days for Duke Kentucky have been calculated using the same methodology used in Kentucky Power Company Case No. 2023-00159 and the calculation is presented in AG-DR-01-056 Attachment. Utilizing the same methodology, the interest expense lead is 84.00 days.

c. The decision to exclude interest expense in this proceeding was made by Witness Adams in collaboration and consultation with the Company. Mr. Adams' approach to cash working capital studies is to follow the Company's previous lead lag study practices to ensure consistency in the approach and to provide the Commission and parties to the proceeding a consistent methodology by which to evaluate the Company's Cash Working Capital results. The Company's last lead lag study approved by this Commission in Case No. 2022-00372 excluded interest expense. As such, the decision was made by Mr. Adams to omit interest expense when calculating Duke Kentucky's cash working capital requirement.

AG-DR-01-057

REQUEST:

Refer to the Steinkuhl Testimony at page 10, regarding the proforma adjustment performed on Schedule D-2.21 to increase uncollectible expense by $1.785 million. Refer also to the electronic model STAFF-DR-01-054_Attachment_KPSC_Electric_SFRs-2024 provided in response to Staff discovery. Refer further to the tab SCH_H and to the monthly detail on WPH-a in regards to charge-offs and their percentages of revenues to determine the 0.921% uncollectible expense percentage.

a. In the same format as the month data provided for 2023 on WPH-a, provide the monthly gross charge offs, recoveries, net charge-offs, revenues, and percentage of revenues for each month during 2022 and for each month during 2024 for the electric division.

b. Confirm that all of the data provided on WPH-a applies to the electric division only. If not confirmed, explain why not.

c. Provide the amount of expense recorded in account 904 for uncollectible expense for the electric division for each month during 2022, 2023, and 2024.

RESPONSE:

a. Please see AG-DR-01-057 Attachment 1 for the monthly gross charge offs, recoveries, net charge-offs, revenues, and percentage of revenues for each month during 2022 through 2024 for the total Company. The Company did not track this data by gas and electric before 2024 because the Company sold its receivables to Cinergy Receivables Corporation. The arrangement was terminated in March 2024. The Company now owns the retail receivables and needs to track the actual write-offs by the gas and electric division. Please see AG-DR-01-057 for the monthly gross charge offs, recoveries, net charge-offs, revenues, and percentage of revenues for each month during 2024 for the electric division.

b. The data provided on WPH-a does not apply to the electric division only. The Company did not track this data by gas and electric before 2024. The data on WPH-a was for total Company since sufficient historical data by gas and electric was not available to use in this application.

c. For years 2022 and 2023 as well as January and February 2024, Duke Energy Kentucky sold its receivables to Cinergy Receivables Corporation. Since the Company did not own the retail receivables, it recorded a loss on Sale of Receivables to FERC account 426 instead of recording an uncollectible expense to FERC account 904 related to is retail receivables. Please see AG-DR-01-057 Attachment 2 for the expense recorded in account 904 for uncollectible expense for the electric division for each month of 2024.

Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-058

REQUEST:

Provide a schedule showing the beginning balance of the uncollectible accounts reserve, bad debt expense accruals, direct gross charge-offs, bad debt recoveries (recapture), and ending balance uncollectible accounts reserve for each month during the years 2022 through 2024 applicable to the electric division.

RESPONSE:

For the periods in years 2022 and 2023 as well as January and February 2024, Duke Energy Kentucky sold their receivables to Cinergy Receivables Corporation. That arrangement was terminated in March 2024, and since Duke Energy Kentucky no longer sells their receivables, an uncollectible reserve was established.

Please refer to AG-DR-01-058 Attachment 1 for the beginning balance of the uncollectible reserve and the balance through 2024.

Please refer to AG-DR-01-057 Attachment 1 for a schedule of gross write-offs, recoveries, and net charge offs by month for the 10 months of 2024. Please note that systematically we record write offs to the 904 accounts.

REQUEST:

For each reserve balance sheet reserve account other than the uncollectible accounts reserve, provide the beginning balance, expense accruals, charge-offs, and ending balance for each month during the years 2022 through 2024 applicable to the electric division.

RESPONSE:

Objection as to the term "Reserve", which is ambiguous and can have differing interpretations and has not been defined in this request.

For this request, we have defined reserves to mean accumulated provisions and including FERC accounts 228.1, 228.2 228.3 228.4 and 229 accounts.

AG-DR-01-060

REQUEST:

Refer to the Steinkuhl Testimony at page 8, regarding the ESM proforma adjustments performed on Schedule D-2.18. Provide the calculations of the increase in the depreciation expense of $1,665,492 and property taxes of 163,314 in electronic format with all formulas intact and explain how each should be reflected as increases to expense.

RESPONSE:

As approved in Case No. 2023-00374 (two-year review), $22,535,632 of Environmental Surcharge Mechanism (ESM) revenues were rolled-into base rates. This amount included the return on and of the Environmental Compliance Assets which included depreciation expense of these assets of $1,665,492 and property taxes of $855,261.

The gross plant for the Environmental Compliance Assets has been eliminated on Schedule B-2.2 – Adjustments to Plant In Service which carries to Schedule B-2.1 – Plant In Service by Accounts and Subaccounts to determine the 13-month average adjusted jurisdiction plant in service included in the forecasted test year. The 13-month average adjusted jurisdiction plant in service carries to Schedule B-2.23 and is used to calculate the depreciation expense included in the forecasted test year. The calculated depreciation expense for the forecasted test period on Schedule B-2.3 and Schedule D-2.24 of $86,243,042 does not included any depreciation expense associated with the Environmental Compliance Assets because the gross plant was eliminated in the 13-month adjusted jurisdiction plant in service. Based on the previous discussion that there is not any depreciation expense included in the forecasted test year, Schedule D-2.18 is increasing the depreciation expense for the amount of depreciation expense rolled into base rates for the Environmental Compliance Assets approved in Case No. 2023-00374.

See AG-DR-01-060 Attachment for the calculation of the increase in property taxes. The property tax proforma is positive since the property taxes for environmental compliance assets rolled into bases rates is $855,261 and environmental compliance assets property taxes included in the test year is $691,947. Therefore, the property taxes needed to be increased to be in sync with the ESM revenues included in base rates.

AG-DR-01-061

REQUEST:

Provide a schedule of the amortization expense and remaining balance associated with each regulatory asset and regulatory liability for each month for the years 2021 through 2024, and for each month projected for 2025 and continuing through the end of the test year. In addition, provide the amortization period and the case number in which the Commission approved the recovery and the amortization period, if any. This request is applicable to all regulatory assets and liabilities except for the regulatory asset balances related to the Planned Outage O&M and the Forced Outage Purchased Power.

RESPONSE:

Please see AG-DR-01-061 Attachment.

The Company has included a proposed amortization schedule for the East Bend Depreciation Deferral to update for the retirement date of East Bend.

DEK Kentucky Retail Non-AMI Meter Reg Asset

The purpose of this schedule is to show the amortization of the DEK Non-AMI regulatory Asset. The DEK AMI rollout was complete as of Q1 2019. As such, Asset Accounting will no longer track meter retirement activity as was done before (through June 2019). Tab B represents the last tracking file that was used for DEK Non-AMI Meters through June 2019. This agrees to the G/L as of June 2019. The balance in this account consists of the NBV of the Non-AMI Meters as well as the impairment that was recognized given that DEK is not allowed a return on these assets. DEK began recovery of this reg asset starting in May 2018. Amortization of $38K a month was approved in the rate case. As such, this amortization table continues the amortization at the approved amount until the amount is zero. DEK also needs to accrete the impairment recorded. Technically this should have began in May 2018 when amortization of the reg asset began. However, given materiality, DEK will accrete this impairment over the remaining recovery period of the regulatory asset. The difference between what should have been recorded from May 2018 - August 2019 is approximately $80K (roughly $1,160,000/15 years) which is considered immaterial so no prior period adjustment is needed.

East Bend Depreciation Deferral - Account 0182493

Below is a summary of the East Bend Deferred Depreciation Proforma included in the 2017 DEK Electric Rate Case. The annual amortization of $490,618 was approved as part of the rate case. The original amortization table included with the rate case assumed rates would go into effect 4/1/2018; however, rates did not go into effect until 5/1/2018. As such, Asset Accounting adjusted the amortization table to record only $22,320 for the month of April 2018 and to start the approved monthly Amortization in May 2018. The Amortization table below shows the amortization through the remaining period of recovery for this regulatory asset.

This regulatory asset is a related to the purchaseof DP&L's share of East Bend in 2015. Case 2015-120 gave DEK Authority to establish the regulatory asset. Amortization of the regulatory asset was approved as part of the 2017 Rate Case (# Cited below)

East Bend Depreciation Deferral - Account 0182493

Below is a summary of the East Bend Deferred Depreciation Proforma included in the 2017 DEK Electric Rate Case. The annual amortization of $490,618 was approved as part of the rate case. The original amortization table included with the rate case assumed rates would go into effect 4/1/2018; however, rates did not go into effect until 5/1/2018. As such, Asset Accounting adjusted the amortization table to record only $22,320 for the month of April 2018 and to start the approved monthly Amortization in May 2018. The Amortization table below shows the amortization through the remaining period of recovery for this regulatory asset.

This regulatory asset is a related to the purchaseof DP&L's share of East Bend in 2015. Case 2015-120 gave DEK Authority to establish the regulatory asset. Amortization of the regulatory asset was approved as part of the 2017 Rate Case (# Cited below)

AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-063

REQUEST:

Refer to the Spanos Testimony generally. For each generating unit, provide the date of installation, the probable retirement date reflected in the present depreciation rates and the probable retirement date reflected in the Gannett Fleming depreciation study in this proceeding. In addition, provide a copy of all studies and all other source documents relied on for the proposed probable retirement dates reflected in the Gannett Fleming depreciation study in this proceeding.

RESPONSE:

The initial major installation date and probable retirement year for each generating unit used in the Depreciation Study are presented on page III-6 of Exhibit JJS-1. The probable retirement dates used in development of the presently approved depreciation rates are provided below.

Generating Unit	Major In-Service Year	Probable Retirement Date
East Bend	1981	December 31, 2041
Woodsdale	1992, 2017	June 30, 2040
Crittenden	2017	June 30, 2047
Walton	2017	June 30, 2047

The probable retirement dates reflected in the depreciation study used in this proceeding are provided below.

Generating Unit	Major In-Service Year	Probable Retirement Date
East Bend	1981	December 31, 2038
Woodsdale	1992, 2017	June 30, 2040
Crittenden	2017	June 30, 2047
Walton	2017	June 30, 2047
Aero	2023	June 30, 2053

There are no studies that have been performed for each of the units, however, there are Company plans that support the proposed retirement dates. Additionally, there are many other life spans of similar units in the industry that were compared to establish an expected industry range as well as recent retirements of units that support the life spans for these facilities. AG-DR-01-063 Attachments 1 through 3 set forth the industry ranges for Other Production, Solar and Steam, however, it is important to understand the type of assets in the attachments to understand the circumstance of their life span.

Case No. 2024-00354
AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-064

REQUEST:

Refer to the Lawler Testimony at 7 wherein she refers to "the decision to retire."

a. Confirm the term "the decision to retire" was used by Witness Lawler to intentionally match the use of the term in KRS 278.264(2)(c), which states: "The decision to retire the fossil fuel-fired electric generating unit is not the result of any financial incentives or benefits offered by any federal agency." If this is not correct, then so state.

b. Duke Kentucky Witness Luke refers to an "anticipated retirement" and an "estimated retirement date" in his direct testimony at 11, and states "the unit will retire eventually" at 13. Duke Kentucky witness Kalemba states that "East Bend will retire eventually" in his direct testimony at 14. Duke Kentucky Witness Swez states that "it is inevitable that the Company's generating units will eventually retire" in his direct testimony at 24. All of these witnesses refer to a conceptual retirement construct, subject to future analyses and a future request for authorization to retire, as opposed to "the decision" to retire, which implies an actual decision to retire on a specific date. Confirm there has been no "decision to retire" East Bend 2 and the Woodsdale CTs and confirm there have been no actions taken to actually retire East Bend 2 on December 31, 2038, and the Woodsdale CTs on December 31, 2040, the specific dates requested as the "probable retirement dates" in the calculation of the proposed East Bend 2 and Woodsdale CTs depreciation rates.

c. Refer to KRS 278.264 Commission's approval or denial of retirement of electric generating unit - - Rebuttable presumption against retiring fossil fuel-fired generating unit -- Evidence of costs -- Report – Definitions, which states as follows:

(1) Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the commission shall have the authority to approve or deny the retirement of an electric generating unit owned by a utility. Prior to retiring an electric generating unit, a utility shall apply to the commission for an order approving the retirement, and shall give the commission thirty (30) days' notice of the application. The application shall include a statement certifying the applicant's compliance with the requirements of KRS 164.2807. The commission shall enter an order approving, approving with conditions, or denying the application within one hundred eighty (180) days of receiving an administratively complete application.

i. Confirm that Duke Kentucky's application in this proceeding is not and does not include a request for an order approving the retirement of East Bend 2 or the Woodsdale CTs. If this is not correct, then provide a citation to the relevant provisions of the application which sets forth such a request. If Duke Kentucky's application includes no such request, then so state.

ii. Confirm that the rebuttal presumptions set forth in KRS 278.264 address a utility's application to the commission for an order approving the retirement of an electric generating unit owned by a utility. If not confirmed, then explain in detail why not, and authoritative bases relied on in the response.

RESPONSE:

a. Confirm.

b. Confirm. There has been no decision to retire nor any actions taken to actually retire East Bend 2 or the Woodsdale CTs. When a decision to retire these units is made, Duke Energy Kentucky shall comply with all applicable statutes in place at that time.

i. Confirm. Duke Energy Kentucky's application in this proceeding is not and does not include a request for an order approving the retirement of East Bend 2 or the Woodsdale CTs.

ii. Objection. This request seeks a legal opinion. Without waiving said objection, and to the extent discoverable, KRS 278.264 established a threshold of criteria that a utility must demonstrate to the Commission prior to receiving an approved order to retire a fossil fueled generating asset. While the Company here is not requesting to retire its East Bend Unit, nonetheless, the unit will eventually retire due to its age or, if CAA 111d is not repealed, by law. Moreover, in its Order in Case No. 2022-00372, the Commission itself applied the rebuttable presumption under KRS 278.264 as justification to not change East Bend's depreciation rates (although it did do so for Woodsdale) and removed terminal net salvage from the Company's base rates finding: "…Duke Kentucky must rebut the presumption in KRS 278.264(2) to incur and recover these costs in subsequent proceedings…,"[1] and "Duke Kentucky has the burden to overcome the presumption established in KRS 278.264 and without sufficient evidence for the rebuttal, the Commission cannot allow recovery of costs for the retirement of the electric generating units…"[2]Accordingly, the Commission applied the rebuttable presumption in a base rate proceeding finding that the Company did not meet the burden. In this Case, the Company has addressed the rebuttable presumption issue through its Direct Testimony.

AG's First Set of Data Requests
Date Received: January 8, 2025

AG-DR-01-069

REQUEST:

Confirm there is a reduction in non-fuel variable O&M expense when East Bend 2 or any of the Woodsdale CTs are on forced outage that is not otherwise reflected in the expense recovered through the environmental surcharge. Describe these reductions and how they are tracked and/or otherwise accounted for (e.g., not tracked and simply reflected as a reduction in the variable O&M expense accounts) or tracked in some manner (describe) and reflected as a reduction in the variable O&M expense accounts. In addition, describe whether these expense reductions can be quantified, if not tracked, e.g., in an after the fact hypothetical dispatch based on the assumptions/parameters used for the costs in the dispatch cost curves.

RESPONSE:

Objection. This request is vague and ambiguous and calls for speculation and guesswork. Without waiving said objection and to the extent discoverable, non-fuel variable O&M expense is not defined. To answer this question, non-fuel variable O&M expense was assumed to mean non-fuel and non-consumable variable O&M expense, or the change in plant O&M related to generating, operating, or starting/stopping a unit and not related to fuel consumption nor other consumable items.

The Company denies there is a reduction in non-fuel variable O&M expense when East Bend 2 or any of the Woodsdale CTs are on a forced, maintenance, or planned outage. The Company does include variable O&M expenses in the dispatch and commitment costs of its generating units. For East Bend, variable O&M is expressed as a component per generation produced ($/MWh), per hour operated ($/hour), or per unit shutdown ($/shutdown), and for Woodsdale, variable O&M is expressed as a component per unit start-up ($/start-up). The Company performs an annual analysis to best quantify the relationship between operation of a generating facility and its corresponding impact to long term O&M costs (variable O&M). This process establishes the non-fuel variable O&M expenses included in the Company's supply offers to PJM. The Company does not track variable O&M in general ledger expense accounts and is unable to split out actual O&M costs between fixed and variable costs. Thus, when East Bend or Woodsdale are on a forced, maintenance, or planned outage, there is no immediate reduction in O&M spend.

REQUEST:

Describe in detail how the Company calculates the fuel expense related to forced outages disallowed from FAC recovery and provide an example. If not evident from the description and/or the example, then indicate whether the non-fuel non-environmental variable O&M is included in the calculation of the expense disallowed from FAC recovery.

RESPONSE:

The Company follows 807 KAR 5:056 and prior Commission Orders. The fuel expense related to forced outages disallowed from FAC recovery is equal to the cost of fuel for the replacement energy less what the cost of fuel for the generation forced out would have been.

For example, suppose East Bend is forced out in a given hour and the fuel cost for East Bend would have been $30/MWh. Now, suppose that Duke Energy Kentucky load in that hour is 500 MW and that one Woodsdale unit, at a fuel cost of $40/MWh, operated at 50 MW and the remaining 450 MW of Duke Energy Kentucky load was purchased from PJM at a cost $50/MWh. The total cost of fuel for the hour would be 50 MWh * $40/MWh + 450 MWh * $50/MWh = $24,500. If East Bend had not been forced out, then the cost of fuel in that hour would have been 500 MWh * $30/MWh = $15,000. In this example $24,500 - $15,000 = $9,500 would be disallowed from FAC recovery. In other words, fuel recovered in the FAC would be $15,000.

Non-fuel non-environmental variable O&M is not included in the calculation of the expense allowed or disallowed from FAC recovery.

Indicate whether the Company has ever proposed and/or the Commission has ever adopted an adjustment to the Company's test year base revenues, such as annualization of base revenues for customer growth through the end of a historic test year with an offsetting adjustment for non-fuel variable O&M expense? If so, identify and provide the relevant cites to the most recent case in which the Commission adopted such an adjustment for non-fuel variable O&M expense.

RESPONSE:

Objection. This request is overly broad and unduly burdensome and further seeks information that is publicly available and otherwise locatable by the Attorney General. Without waiving said objection, and to the extent discoverable, the Company is not aware of any cases where the Commission has authorized such adjustments. Answering further, were a mechanism to be put in place, it should be symmetrical as to both customer load growth and declines similar to the decoupling mechanism the Company has in other jurisdictions.

AG-DR-01-073

REQUEST:

Refer to the Lawler Testimony at 9 – 12.

a. Define planned maintenance outage expenses and describe how the Company records and tracks these expenses. Address the accounts in which the expenses are recorded, how payroll and payroll related expenses (straight time, overtime, employer payroll taxes, pension and OPEB, and other employee welfare expenses) are determined for this purpose, how materials and supplies expenses are determined for this purpose, and how contractor and other expenses are determined for this purpose.

b. Explain whether straight time payroll expenses are variable and, if so, how these expenses change if there is a planned maintenance outage compared to no planned maintenance outage (i.e., if the Company considers the entirety of the straight time payroll expenses as variable or only some incremental amount caused by the planned maintenance outage.)

c. Explain whether overtime payroll expenses are variable and, if so, how these expense change if there is a planned maintenance outage compared to no planned maintenance outage (i.e., if the Company considers the entirety of the overtime payroll expenses as variable or only some incremental amount caused by the planned maintenance outage.)

d. Explain whether pension and OPEB expenses are variable and, if so, how these expenses change if there is a planned maintenance outage compared to no planned maintenance outage (i.e., if the Company considers the entirety of the pension and OPEB expenses as variable or only some incremental amount caused by the planned maintenance outage.)

e. Explain whether other employee welfare benefits expenses are variable and, if so, how these expenses change if there is a planned maintenance outage compared to no planned maintenance outage (i.e., if the Company considers the entirety of the other employee welfare benefits expenses as variable or only some incremental amount caused by the planned maintenance outage.)

f. Explain whether there are other non-fuel, non-environmental O&M expense savings when East Bend 2 or the Woodsdale CTs are on planned maintenance. If so, provide a detailed description of these savings and the accounts where these savings will be reflected in the form of reduced expenses. To the extent there are other non-fuel non-environmental O&M expense savings when East Bend 2 or the Woodsdale CTs are on planned maintenance, explain whether the Company does, or if it does not, whether it is able to track these savings.

RESPONSE:

a. For every planned maintenance outage a project is created in Power Plan for every station and respective unit based on the fuel type (steam or combustion turbine). The project allows us to track and record all expenses pertaining to the outage. Project Managers are provided project accounting prior to the outage to ensure all outage related internal labor (employees), external labor (contractors), materials and any other related expenses are recorded appropriately. Please see AG-DR-01-076 Attachments (c)3 through (c)5 for the accounts the expenses are recorded.

b. Duke Energy does not identify costs as either variable or fixed. Employees have specific accounting for their labor costs based on work performed throughout the year. However, we do track costs of maintenance outages between planned and not planned maintenance outages using different process accounting codes. In addition, when there is a planned or unplanned maintenance outage, internal labor (includes employees' straight time, overtime, pension, OPEB, and benefits), and external labor (contractors), materials and any other miscellaneous expenses are all charged to the specific project established in advance of the outage.

c. Please see response to (b) above.
